Bolsonaro may be planning military coup amid rallies in Brazil: Report

Brazilian President Jair Bolsonaro and his allies could be preparing to mount a military coup in Brazil, as per an influential group of former presidents, prime ministers and leading public figures on the left, the Guardian reported. An open letter claims rallies Bolsonaro followers are staging on Tuesday represent a danger to democracy and amount to an insurrection modelled on Trump supporters' attack on the US Capitol on January 6.

China mum on Taliban invite for govt inauguration

Kabul has invited China, Pak, Russia, Turkey, Iran & Qatar to take part in new govt formation ceremony: Report

Students attend their class after private universities reopened in Kabul on Monday. Women attending private Afghan universities must wear an abaya robe and niqab covering most of the face and classes must be segregated by sex — or at least divided by a curtain. —AFP

The Chinese Foreign Ministry on Monday did not respond to a media report claiming the Taliban has invited China, Pakistan, Russia, Turkey, Iran and Qatar to attend the new government formation ceremony in Afghanistan.

China is already coordinating its evolving policy on Afghanistan with its "all-weather ally" Pakistan and Russia which also share borders with Afghanistan.

Beijing, which has kept its Embassy open in Kabul along with Pakistan and Russia, is awaiting the formation of a government by the Taliban to decide on recognising it amid firm indications by the US, the UK and other western countries that they will not be in a hurry to endorse the new government in Kabul.

About a media report the Taliban have invited China and 5 other countries — Pakistan, Russia, Turkey, Iran and Qatar — to take part in the new government formation ceremony in Afghanistan, Chinese Foreign Ministry spokesman Wang Wenbin said: "I have no information to offer at this moment."

He reiterated China supports "Afghanistan forming an open, inclusive, broadly-based govt upholding moderate and prudent domestic and foreign policies and live in good terms with the neighbouring countries."

China is keeping a watch on the Panjshir fight between the Taliban and the militias of Ahmad Massoud-led NRF, which has reportedly delayed the formation of the new govt in Afghanistan.

TRADE ALONG PAK-AFGHAN TORKHAM BORDER GUSHES

ISLAMABAD: The Pakistan-Afghanistan Torkham border, the main trade route between the two countries, that also caters as transit trade route for other nations, has seen a major surge in trade activities since the Taliban have taken control of the border operations on the Afghan side. The trade activities along the border have increased as hundreds of trucks now, cross the border on a daily basis for trade purposes.

"Before the Taliban took control of the border, we used to have many issues. We had to go through a wait for hours with loaded trucks of supplies for clearance to cross into Afghanistan. We had to pay Rs16,000 to Afghan security forces as bribe to cross the border. And then had to pay more bribes on every check post from Torkham till Mazar-i-Sharif," said Gul Agha, a truck driver whose daily routine of movement is to carry, tomatoes, fruits, vegetables and other supplies from Afghanistan into Pakistan. "But now the Taliban are there, we do not have to give many documents for clearance nor do we have to pay any money. They give us a piece of paper at the border and that is our legal permission to move freely in Afghanistan till Mazar-i-Sharif," he added.

Another trader said business has doubled since the Taliban have taken over control at the borders. Earlier, 70-80 vehicles would get custom clearance in 24 hours. Now, over 300 vehicles come daily.

After messy pullout, Blinken to intensify Af diplomacy

WASHINGTON: A week after declaring America's "new chapter" of engagement with Afghanistan, US Secretary of State Antony Blinken will aim to form a united front with allies this week on how to tackle the Taliban and ensure continued support for US bid to help evacuate Americans and at-risk Afghans who remained behind. In a trip to Qatar and Germany, Blinken will be overlapping with Defence Secretary Lloyd Austin who also departed on Sunday for a wider Gulf visit covering Saudi Arabia, Qatar, Bahrain and Kuwait. The visit by top US national security officials comes as the Biden administration still grapples with the fallout from what is widely seen as a messy US withdrawal from Afghanistan, criticised by President Joe Biden's fellow Democrats, as well as Republicans. Meanwhile, the Taliban are preventing around 1,000 people including dozens of US citizens and Afghans holding visas to the US or other countries, from leaving Afghanistan, US media reports has said. Multiple planes are waiting for clearance for the departure from the group, The New York Times reported and added the holdup is caused due to ongoing negotiations between the US and Taliban.

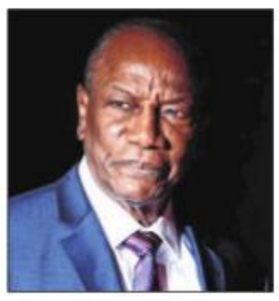
Army coup leaders summon Guinea ministers after Prez Conde's ouster

AGENCIES
Conakry

Soldiers who ousted Guinean President Alpha Conde summoned his ministers and top government officials to a meeting on Monday, a day after a coup which drew international condemnation.

A spokesman for the unit told state television that failure to attend the 1100 GMT meeting would be considered a "rebellion", as per Reuters. The takeover in the West African nation that holds the world's largest bauxite reserves, an ore used to produce aluminium, sent prices of the metal skyrocketing to a 10-year high on Monday over fears of further supply disruption in the downstream market. There was no indication of such disruption yet.

Light traffic resumed, and some shops reopened around the main administrative district of Kaloum in which witnessed heavy gunfire throughout Sunday as the special forces battled soldiers loyal to Conde. A military spokesman said on television land air borders had also been reopened.



Guinean govt officials are barred from leaving the country until further notice and a curfew imposed in mining areas has been lifted, the leader of an army unit which ousted President Conde said.

However, uncertainty remains. While the elite unit appeared to have Conde in detention, telling the West African nation on state television that they had dissolved the government and constitution, other branches of the army are yet to publicly comment.

The special forces unit is led by former French foreign legionnaire officer, Colonel Mamady Doumbouya, who said on state television on Sunday "poverty and endemic corruption" had driven his forces to remove Conde from office.

The apparent coup has been met by condemnation from some of Guinea's strongest allies. The quickly denounced the takeover, and both the African Union and West Africa's regional bloc have threatened sanctions.

In an overnight statement, the US State Department said violence and extra-constitutional measures could erode Guinea's prospects for stability and prosperity.

"These actions could limit the ability of the United States and Guinea's other international partners to support the country," the statement said.

Regional experts say however unlike in landlocked where neighbours and partners were able to pressure a junta there after a coup, leverage on the military in Guinea could be limited because it is not landlocked, also because it is not a member of the West African currency union.

FLORIDA SHOOTING

MOTHER, BABY AMONG 4 DEAD

KELLI KENNEDY
Fort Lauderdale (US)

A man wearing full body armor fatally shot 4 people, including a mother and the 3-month-old baby she was cradling, and engaged in a massive gunfight with police and deputies before he was wounded and surrendered, a Florida sheriff said Sunday. A girl, 11, who was shot 7 times survived.

Polk County Sheriff Grady Judd said during a press conference even after 33-year-old Bryan Riley was arrested on Sunday morning, he was so aggressive he tried to wrestle a gun from police as he lay on his hospital gurney. Judd said Riley, a former Marine who served as a sharpshooter in both Iraq and Afghanistan, seemed to have targeted his victims at random and appeared to be suffering from mental health issues. Judd said Riley's girlfriend told authorities Riley had been slowly unraveling for weeks and repeatedly told her that he could communicate directly with God.

"They begged for their lives and I killed them anyway," Judd said Riley told them during a probe.

Investigators said preliminary evidence shows 40-year-old Justice Gleason just happened to be an unlucky stranger out mowing his lawn Saturday night when Riley drove by his home in Lakeland, about 48.28 km east of Tampa, saying God told him to stop because Gleason's daughter was going to commit suicide.

A second, unidentified person also confronted Riley, telling him story wasn't true and warned they'd call police if he didn't leave, Judd said. He referred to the person as a victim but declined to clarify which one. Authorities responded to the scene but never found Riley.

IAEA team to facilitate Fukushima water release

AGENCIES / Tokyo

An International Atomic Energy Agency mission arrived in Japan on Monday to help prepare for a decades-long release into the ocean of treated but still radioactive water from the wrecked Fukushima nuclear plant, officials said.

The 3-member team will meet with officials in Tokyo and travel to the Fukushima Daiichi plant to discuss technical details with experts until Friday, IAEA and Japanese officials said.

The team, headed by Lydie Evrard, head of the IAEA's Dept of Nuclear Safety and Security, is gathering information to prepare a review of the discharge plans.

The Japanese government and the plant's operator, Tokyo Electric Power Company Holdings, announced plans in April to start releasing the water in the spring of 2023 so hundreds of storage tanks at the plant can be removed to make room for other facilities needed for its decommissioning.

The idea has been fiercely opposed by fishermen, residents and Japan's neighbours, including China and South Korea.

The utility plans to send the water through an undersea tunnel and discharge it from a location about 1 kilometer (0.6 mile) away from the coastal power plant after further treating and diluting it with large amounts of seawater.

"The Agency is supporting Japan to ensure that the entire operation to discharge the water over the coming decades is conducted in a way that is consistent with international safety standards," IAEA Director General Rafael Mariano Grossi said in a statement. He said the team will discuss the timeline for IAEA reviews to ensure the water discharge is conducted "in a safe and transparent manner."

Vaccine chief Kono Japan's fave leader

TOKYO: Japan's outspoken Cabinet minister in charge of vaccinations, Taro Kono, has the most popular support to become the country's next leader, as per opinion polls released on Monday, as potential candidates jockey to replace outgoing PM Yoshihide Suga. Kono, 58, a graduate of Georgetown University and fluent in English, is a rarity in Japanese politics, dominated by elderly men. He has many fans among younger people, with whom he communicates via social media. He has also served as foreign and defense ministers.Suga's sudden announcement on Friday that he will not seek another term as head of the governing Liberal Democratic Party in a Sept. 29 vote opened the way for an array of candidates.
