CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

Dear Shareholders,

India continued to show a deceleration in growth in the year 2013-14 with the GDP growth rate at lower than 5 percent. The macroeconomic scenario was difficult with a slowdown in the investment cycle, high inflation and a volatile currency and interest rates.

With the stable government at the Centre for next five years there has been a significant sentiment change and it is expected that during this financial year we will see some definitive measures to bring back confidence and restart investment cycle and job creation.

The telecom sector, which has suffered in the past due to regulatory uncertainties, is showing signs of rising investor confidence owing to easing of regulatory uncertainties and an improving competitive environment in the sector. As perceived earlier, there is an insatiable demand for broadband and as people become use to it, they need more of it. With the roll out of NOFN project and telecom operators foray into providing 4G services, the demand of broadband has significantly increased, which is a good sign, as it promises more business for Aksh.

Information Technology can ensure hassle free availability of common services to the people of this country. Aksh has successfully demonstrated this through its innovative the e-mitra services '1 STOP AKSH', which the company is running successfully in Rajasthan for the last 12 years. This year should see a major thrust to this initiative with a manifold increase in contribution.

Fibre has not only connected big cities, but mid size cities and towns as well. With the Government ensuring to convert India into 'Digital India' by ensuing broadband connectivity at village level also. Fibre- to- the-Home (FTTH) is soon going to become a reality, with Government going for mandatory FTTH infrastructure in every high rise tower / building, paving the way for robust demand of optical fibre cable. With these developments we perceive that next 3-5 years would be golden period for optical fibre industry.

Aksh has now forayed into international market by setting up its FIRST manufacturing facility outside India following export to almost 56 countries. In the coming years, the Company will strive to use its expertise developed over the years in service industry to take it internationally.

We once again thank you for your confidence reposed in Aksh.

The Company is working on the motto of 'Going Global...Connecting Villages...'.

The Company remains the World Leader in FRP manufacturing and is a proud exporter to almost 56 countries and is aggressively marketing itself in order to cover more international markets to create its footprint across the globe. To further strengthen its market position, it has set up its FRP manufacturing facility outside India.

The Company initiated its e-mitra services and is running the same successfully for the last 12 years in the rural areas of Jaipur and adjoining districts. It is the endeavor of the Company to connect all gram panchayats of Rajasthan through its e- mitra services in the coming years.

In the year ahead, your company foresees exciting times. The Government's ambitious National Optical Fibre Network (NOFN) project to bring connectivity to 250,000 gram panchayats in the Country is the biggest growth driver for the OFC market in India. In addition to same, the Government has activated the process of building an alternative communication network- Network for Spectrum (NFS) – for the defense forces in order to free up spectrum for the Department of Telecommunications.

With the Government making high rise towers to be mandatorily FTTH infrastructure compliant, the requirement of OFC is set to rise to cater the growing demand. The rollout of NOFN project and telecom operators readying themselves to provide 4G services, the development of 100 smart cities by the Government, has raised the demand of fibre optic cables which is a good sign, as it promises more business for Aksh.

Our biggest assets are our employees. During the year the Company continued to make significant progress on strengthening people practices and processes to attract talent. Several measure including flexible work hours were put in place. Your Company is providing safe and healthy working environment for female employees and as safeguard, has implemented policy against sexual harassment.

FUTURE OUTLOOK

While in 2012-13 there was a surge in demand of OFC, largely fuelled by introduction of next generation technologies and up gradation of existing 2G networks to make them 3G and 4 G compatible was witnessed, a trend which is set to increase further in the coming year, with several Greenfield sites are being rolled out and more in the pipeline with operators preparing to launch 4G services, OFC network deployment is likely to gain momentum over the next few years making India one of the fastest growing markets in this segment.

Due to its compatibility with other technologies, growing cost-effectiveness, and nearly unlimited bandwidth, optical fiber has the capacity to grow and adapt to future consumer demands for voice, data, and video capability. In other words, optical fiber is here to stay.

In last few years, the use of broadband and perpetually increased use of internet driven application has exploded the demand for optical fiber. This demand for a faster, more affordable delivery system of communications with universal access is a principal driver of the need for increased bandwidth across the Globe.

Today's customers would want to have triple-play services, with voice, video, and data all provided to us by a single connection instead of multiple connections. Applications such as file-sharing, on-line gaming, video on demand and HDTV all require bandwidth capacity that is pushing the limits of traditional access transmission technologies such as digital subscriber lines (DSL), cable, and wireless. Only optical fiber has the capacity to reliably and simultaneously deliver all of the services flowing through the information highways.

The world's fiber shipments for the Q1 of 2014 experienced an increase of 13% over the Q1 shipments of 2013. With China's telcos starting 4G network constructions, the demand of optical fibre in china is set to increase. OF exports to Middle East & Saudi Arabia continue to increase and was up by 47%. New Optical Fibre manufacturing facilities are being set up in South America and Spain to cater the increasing demand of Optical fibre across the globe. China is also setting up new manufacturing facilities of Optical fibre, to meet its own demand.

Optical Fibre Cable

Global prospects for fiber optics appear optimistic. The growth is expected in the global market for fiber optics through 2017. It is noteworthy that data traffic through optical fiber cables offer advantages in terms of high reliability, security, capacity and cost-effectiveness. Thus, it does not come as a surprise that enterprise markets have rushed to secure fiber optics for their network needs.

The growing usage of data services is triggering a radical transformation in the World's telecom sector. Wireless services, which have long been the dominant platform and were responsible for World's unprecedented telecom growth, have become less effective as a channel for delivering high-bandwidth applications. Spectrum available with telecom operators is proving to be highly inadequate as they are recording a massive uptake of data services on their networks. The situation will deteriorate with 3G services gaining further momentum and the launch of 4G services by all operators.

In such a scenario, optical fiber cables (OFCs), with its unlimited bandwidth capacity, are emerging as the key technology for catering to the surging data demand in the Globe.

With the world now looking towards the African continent to explore new opportunities, it is imperative that the African nations catch up with the new global information technology involving Optical fibre cables. With this in mind, there is a growing surge towards the African continent for future developments. Optical fibre cables is to play a vital role in the same due to their high bandwidth, high reliability, high signal quality, long lifetime, better security and low service cost, fiber optic networks are suited for inter and intra continental backbone network infrastructure

With a global population that's both growing and living longer, the world's healthcare providers are increasingly looking to advanced biomedical instrumentation to enable more efficient patient diagnosis, monitoring, and treatment. In this context, biomedical sensing applications of optical fiber are of growing importance, since optical fibers are immune to electromagnetic interference (EMI), chemically inert, nontoxic, and intrinsically safe.

With the rise of the Internet, education has been completely transformed. Distance learning, for example, used to be largely a lonely experience. In today's information age, students do not only overcome difficulties interacting with the tutor, but can now easily overcome the nightmare of waiting for tutorials in the mail for long periods of time. In addition, the Internet constitutes a virtual classroom in which interaction can take place between students anywhere in the world. The information age has seen the acceleration of research at educational and other institutions because of the abundance of scientific data on the Internet and the advent of electronic journals. The cost of electronic technical Information is negligible compared to traditional research journals. In this area lies an ample opportunity for the growth of optical fibre networks, giving an upward thrust to the increase in demand of Optical Fibre cable

Indian Industry Scenario

India finally gets on track in deploying nationwide broadband network. With the government announcing its ambitious national optical fibre network to provide connectivity to all the 2,50,000 Gram Panchayats (GPs) to ensure broadband connectivity with adequate bandwidth.

Furthermore, the Indian railways and Indian defence is also deploying their own optical fibre cable network, deployment of 4G network and increase in FTTH deployments has given a boost to the increased demand of the optical fibre cable in India. In the budget of 2014-15, it is proposed to give boost to infrastructure projects, and to make e-filings and having the e-compliances done. For this purpose, it is incremental that the broadband network should grow at a rapid pace.

High speed high bandwidth backhaul is required for increasing data usage on the 3G platform and introduction of 4G services. The demand for Telecom Cables will gain a fillip as service providers upgrade this backhaul in their networks to accommodate and cater increasing smartphone and tablet penetration and thereby increase in demand of bandwidth to handle the increase in data traffic.

Domestic Market

The Indian domestic Optical fibre market, during the past fiscal has grown tremendously and it is expected to be a $ 290.8 Mn by 2018, registering a growth at a CAGR of 12.5 %. The demand for optical fibre cables is poised to ride an upward growth curve with the emergence of next generation technologies, and government initiatives under the National Telecom Policy 2012. High speed high bandwidth backhaul is required for increasing data usage on the 3G platform and introduction of 4G services. The demand for Telecom Cables will gain a fillip as service providers upgrade this backhaul in their networks to accommodate and cater increasing smartphone and tablet penetration and thereby increase in demand of bandwidth to handle the increase in data traffic.

Data growth in the Indian telecom market has reduced the prominence of traditional wireline broadband technologies such as digital subscriber line and cable modem. These technologies are not efficient enough to meet the customers' demand for high-bandwidth applications such as high speed internet access, video-on-demand, high definition TV, IPTV and online gaming. In this scenario, fibre-to-the-home (FTTH) technology, which offers advantages like high bandwidth capacity and the delivery of high speed, high quality and multi-play services (data, voice and video) through a single channel, presents a strong business opportunity for telecom operators.

The demand for OFC consumption in India primarily comes from telecom operators and multiple-system operators (MSOs), followed by data centers and other PSUs. During 2012-13, telecom operators accounted for 60 per cent of the overall OFC demand in India, requiring fiber across core, middle mile and access networks. The roll-out of the 4G long term evolution (LTE) mobile network is also driving the demand for high fiber-count OFC, as operators use fiber in tower verticals instead of co-axial cable that runs between the ratio heads and ground level base stations.

MSOs are also driving the current demand for fiber, with most of them upgrading their middle and last mile networks to provide high-speed broadband services to consumers and enterprises. Going forward, cable broadband players (especially those offering Ethernet-based cable broadband) will lay out last-mile aerial fiber to provide high-speed broadband.

FTTH networks' ability to deliver high bandwidth has made investments in this infrastructure very important for operators. They are increasingly deploying FTTH technology to complement their wireless networks. Spectrum crunch is another major factor that has led operators to look for viable alternative mediums. Also, to achieve the broadband targets set by the government under the National Telecom Policy, it will be important to drive FTTH growth along with other technologies.

IPTV Services Scenario

Internet Protocol Television (IPTV) is widely adopted and accepted as a viable solution to deliver HDTV, Video on Demand (VoD) and time-shifted TV, making the entire experience more interactive and personalized. IPTV services can be delivered by telecom service providers or Internet service providers.

FTTH has now emerged as a mainstream business preposition with tremendous growth potential as users are increasingly looking for high-speed broadband, high-definition videos, unlimited anywhere telephony and real-time surveillance.

The Company has a defined organization structure, authority levels delegated powers, internal procedures, rules and guidelines for conducting the Company's business. These business control procedures ensure efficient use and protection of the resources and also compliance with the policies, procedures and statutory requirements. The Company also carries out internal audit through an external agency. The prime objective of such audit is to test the adequacy and effectiveness of all internal controls laid down by the management and to suggest improvements.

Human Resources

The Success of any organization depends largely on its human resources, its management and good industrial relations. Your Company has always viewed human resource development as a critical activity for achieving its business goals. In the ever changing business scenario, we recognize the need for training and retaining the talent pool of the Company. Employees after being inducted in the Company are required to undergo technical trainings to enhance/polish their existing skills as well as developing their industry specific skills. The management believes in maintaining cordial and harmonious relations with its employees. The Company works with a Key Responsibility Area based review and recognition strategy that aligns efforts, while rewarding results. During the year the Company emphasised on building on quality team and conducted various management and team building trainings keeping in mind the growth aspirations of all the employees.

Future Outlook

The OFC market is set to grow with the implementation of National Optical Fibre Network (NOFN), which aims to increase internet usage and improve connectivity in suburban and rural areas. Continuing expansion of existing networks by Railways and Defence will also help fuel the demand, apart from private players who want to build project with OFC as key component. Also the cable digitalization policy plans to have a complete analog sunset by the end of 2014 in India, this will further boost the optical fibre cable growth in the country.

The market is expected to reach Rs 15 billion by 2017-18, registering a compound annual growth rate of 15 per cent. The Indian market constituted about 7 per cent of global fiber shipments worth 278.5 million fiber km during 2013-14, translating into a fiber shipment of about 19.50 million fiber km, recording a year-on-year growth of about 30 per cent.

As the data demand in India hits new record levels, the OFC market is set to witness a period of strong growth. While the increasing usage of smartphones calls for the deployment of OFC across all components of telecom networks (backbone, metro, and access), the growth of OFC, at least in the short to medium term, would be driven by increasing deployments in the backbone network. Wireless, on the other hand, would continue to be the last-mile technology for service delivery. The booming OFC market may also result in the entry of global cable manufacturers into the Indian domain, further intensifying the competition in the market.

The Indian FTTH market will be more successful than its global counterparts due to large population density of the country. The rapid pace with which the landscape of the country is changing, with increased demand of houses, the builders while building new housing complexes, are making a conscious effort to lay fibre instead of copper for providing television and telephone services connectivity to each apartment. They are providing optical network terminals and optical line termination devices within the complex.

Aksh is today a global name and to broaden, it is planned to increase the exports and domestic sales, to establish manufacturing facilities outside India and to execute large numbers of turnkey projects both domestic and internationally.

The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the Company's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of the accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Sales of Goods and Services

Revenue is recognized when the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods have been passed to the buyer (usually at the point of dispatch to customers). Sales include excise duty, sale of scrap and net of sale tax and quantity discount.

Income from services is recognized on the completion of services. Period based services are accounted for proportionately over the period of service.

Income from Interest

Revenue is recognized on a time proportion basis taking into account the amount outstanding and the rate applicable.

Other Incomes

Other Incomes are accrued as earned except where the receipt of income is uncertain.

k) Retirement and other Employee Benefits

The Company has no other obligation other than the contribution payable.
- ii) Gratuity liability is a defined benefit obligation and is provided for on the basis of an actuarial valuation on Projected Unit Credit Method calculated at the end of each financial year. The liability with regard to gratuity in respect of any employee not covered under group gratuity scheme is provided on the basis of amount payable to such employees as if they were to retire on the last day of financial year.
- iii) Compensated Absences liability is provided for based on actuarial valuation done as per Projected Unit Credit Method calculated at the end of each financial year.
- iv) Actuarial gains / losses are immediately taken to Statement of Profit and Loss and are not deferred.

l) Export Incentives

Export Incentive in the form of advance licenses / credit earned under duty entitlement pass book scheme are treated as income in the year of export at the estimated realizable value / actual credit earned on exports made during the year.

m) Taxes on Income

Tax expense comprises of current and deferred tax. Current income tax is determined as the amount of tax payable in respect of taxable income for the year based on provisions of Income Tax Act, 1961. Deferred income tax reflects the impact of current year timing differences between taxable income and accounting income for the year and reversal of timing differences of earlier years.

Deferred tax is measured based on the tax rates and the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date. Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset, if legally and enforceable right exist to set off current tax asset against current tax liabilities and the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities relate to the taxes on income levied by same governing taxation laws. Deferred tax assets are recognized only to the extent that there is reasonable certainty that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realized. In case of unabsorbed depreciation and carry forward tax losses, all deferred tax assets are recognized only if there is virtual certainty supported by convincing evidence that they can be realized against future taxable profits.

At each balance sheet date the Company re-assesses unrecognized deferred tax assets. It recognizes unrecognized deferred tax assets to the extent that it has become reasonably certain or virtually certain, as the case may be that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realized.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets are reviewed at each balance sheet date. The Company writes-down the carrying amount of a deferred tax asset to the extent that it is no longer reasonably certain or virtually certain, as the case may be, that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which deferred tax asset can be realized. Any such write-down is reversed to the extent that it becomes reasonably certain or virtually certain, as the case may be, that sufficient future taxable income will be available.

Minimum Alternative Tax (MAT) credit is recognized as an asset only when and to the extent there is convincing evidence that the Company will pay normal income tax during the specified period. In the year in which the MAT credit becomes eligible to be recognized as an asset in accordance with the recommendations contained in Guidance Note issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India, the said asset is created by way of a credit to the Statement of Profit and Loss and shown as MAT Credit Entitlement. The Company reviews the same at each balance sheet date and writes down the carrying amount of MAT Credit Entitlement to the extent there is no longer convincing evidence to the effect that Company will pay normal Income Tax during the specified period.

n) Operating Leases

Assets given on operating leases are included in fixed assets. Lease income is recognized in the Profit and Loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Diluted earnings per share are computed by dividing the net profit or loss for the period by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. Both profit for the year and weighted average numbers of shares are adjusted for the effects of all diluted potential equity shares except where the results are anti-dilutive.

p) Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets

As per Notified AS 29 under the Companies (Accounting Standards) Rules, 2006, Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets, issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India, the Company recognizes provisions (without discounting to its present value) only when it has a present obligation as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation as and when a reliable estimate of the amount of the obligation can be made.

No provision is recognized for –

Any possible obligation that arises from past events and the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Company; or

Any present obligation that arises from past events but is not recognized because –

- It is not probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation; or
- A reliable estimate of the amount of obligation cannot be made.

Such obligations are disclosed as Contingent Liabilities. These are assessed continually and only that part of the obligation for which an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is probable, is provided for, except in the extremely rare circumstances where no reliable estimate can be made.

q) Miscellaneous Expenditure

i) Retirement benefits in the form of Provident Fund are a defined contribution scheme and the contributions are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss for the year when the contributions to the respective funds are due. The Company has no other obligation other than the contribution payable.

ii) Gratuity liability is a defined benefit obligation and is provided for on the basis of an actuarial valuation on Projected Unit Credit Method calculated at the end of each financial year. The liability with regard to gratuity in respect of any employee not covered under group gratuity scheme is provided on the basis of amount payable to such employees as if they were to retire on the last day of financial year.

iii) Compensated Absences liability is provided for based on actuarial valuation done as per Projected Unit Credit Method calculated at the end of each financial year.

iv) Actuarial gains / losses are immediately taken to the statement of profit and loss and are not deferred.

n) Export Incentives

Export Incentive in the form of advance licenses / credit earned under duty entitlement pass book scheme are treated as income in the year of export at the estimated realisable value / actual credit earned on exports made during the year.

o) Taxes on Income

Income taxes are computed using the tax effect accounting method where taxes are accrued in the same period, as the related revenue and expenses to which they relate. The differences that result between profit offered for income tax and the profit before tax as per financial statements are identified and deferred tax assets or deferred tax liabilities are recorded for timing differences, namely differences that originate in one accounting period and are capable of reversal in future. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using tax rates and tax laws enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date.

Deferred tax assets are recognized only if there is reasonable certainty that they will be realized. However, where the Company has unabsorbed depreciation or carried forward losses under taxation laws, a much stricter test, viz, virtual certainty of realization, is applied for recognition of deferred tax assets. Deferred tax assets are reviewed for the continuing appropriateness of their respective carrying values at each balance sheet date and written down or written up to reflect the amount that is reasonably/ virtually certain (as the case may be) of realisation.

Minimum Alternative Tax (MAT) credit is recognized as an asset only when and to the extent there is convincing evidence that the Company will pay normal income tax during the specified period. In the year in which the MAT credit becomes eligible to be recognized as an asset in accordance with the recommendations contained in Guidance Note issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India, the said asset is created by way of a credit to the statement of profit and loss and shown as MAT Credit Entitlement. The Company reviews the same at each balance sheet date and writes down the carrying amount of MAT Credit Entitlement to the extent there is no longer convincing evidence to the effect that Company will pay normal Income Tax during the specified period.

p) Operating Leases

Assets given on operating leases are included in fixed assets. Lease income is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Cost, including depreciation are recognised as an expense in the statement of Profit and Loss. Initial direct costs such as legal cost, brokerage cost, etc. are recognised immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

q) Earnings Per Share

Diluted earnings per share are computed by dividing the net profit or loss for the period by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. Both profit for the year and weighted average numbers of shares are adjusted for the effects of all diluted potential equity shares except where the results are anti-dilutive.

r) Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets

As per Notified AS 29 under the Companies (Accounting Standards) Rules, 2006, Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets, issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India, the Company recognizes provisions (without discounting to its present value) only when it has a present obligation as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation as and when a reliable estimate of the amount of the obligation can be made.

Any possible obligation that arises from past events and the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Company; or

Any present obligation that arises from past events but is not recognized because –

- It is not probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation; or
- A reliable estimate of the amount of obligation cannot be made.

Such obligations are disclosed as Contingent Liabilities. These are assessed continually and only that part of the obligation for which an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is probable, is provided for, except in the extremely rare circumstances where no reliable estimate can be made.

s) Project Development Expenditure

The Company measures EBITDA on the basis of profit / (loss) from continuing operations. In its measurement, the Company does not include depreciation and amortization expense, finance cost and tax expense.
