Our actual results could differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of many factors, including the considerations described below and elsewhere in the Red Herring Prospectus. These risks are not the only ones that our Company faces. Our business operations could also be affected by additional factors that are not presently known to us or that we currently consider to be immaterial to our operations. Unless specified or quantified in the relevant risk factors below, we are not in a position to quantify financial or other implication of any risks mentioned herein.

Unless otherwise indicated or the context otherwise requires, in this section, references to “we”, “us” and “our” are to Aastha Spintex Limited.

INTERNAL RISK FACTORS

- One of the Objects of the Issue is to utilise a portion of the Issue Proceeds towards part payment of the purchase consideration for the acquisition of equity shares of Falcon Yarns Private Limited (“Falcon” or the “Target Company”) by our Company, Our Company proposes to utilise ₹11,151.00 lakhs from the Issue Proceeds towards part payment of the purchase consideration for acquisition of 33,453,508 equity shares of Falcon at an acquisition price of ₹33.33 per equity share which is higher than the buyback price of ₹14.46 per share undertaken by Falcon on September 13, 2024.

In September 2024, Falcon had undertaken a buyback of equity shares from its existing equity shareholders. Under the said buyback, Falcon repurchased 11,546,400 equity shares (representing approximately 22.64% of its outstanding equity share capital prior to the buyback) at a price of ₹14.46 per equity share, aggregating to a total buyback consideration of ₹1,669.61 lakhs.

The difference between the acquisition price and the buyback price arises due to the distinct nature, objectives and timing of the two transactions. The buyback undertaken by Falcon on September 13, 2024, was an internal transaction aimed at enabling its existing shareholders to realise a portion of accumulated reserves. All eligible shareholders participated in the buyback in proportion to their respective shareholding, and accordingly, there was no change in the shareholding pattern or control of Falcon pursuant to the buyback. The transaction was also approved by the Board and Shareholders of Falcon vide their meetings dated August 19, 2024, and September 3, 2024, respectively. The buyback price was determined to strike a balance between rewarding shareholders while ensuring that adequate capital remained available for Falcon's ongoing operations.

In contrast, the proposed acquisition of Falcon by our Company constitutes a third-party transaction involving the transfer of the entire equity shareholding and controlling interest of Falcon to our Company. The fair value per share of Falcon was Rs. 33.38 as per the independent valuation report dated September 15, 2025, issued by CA Rohit Maloo, Registered Valuer. However, the acquisition price has been determined at Rs. 33.33 per share (based on aggregate negotiated purchase consideration of Rs. 13,151 lakhs) as disclosed in the share purchase agreement dated September 22, 2025, entered into between Falcon, the shareholders of Falcon (collectively, the "Sellers") and our Company. The acquisition price was negotiated to strike a balance between the return on their investment acceptable to existing shareholders of Falcon while ensuring that acquisition cost can be consummated by our Company.

While the management of our Company believes that the acquisition price is fair and reasonable and is supported by the independent valuation report, there can be no assurance that the acquisition price represents the most favourable valuation or that similar acquisition opportunities at lower valuations may not be available. Any perception that our Company has paid a premium valuation for the acquisition of Falcon, or any adverse market reaction to the difference between the acquisition price and Falcon's earlier buyback price, may adversely affect investor confidence in our Company and the market price of our Equity Shares.

2. We have filed compounding applications in respect of certain past non-compliances under the Companies Act, 2013, and may be subject to penalties or adverse regulatory action in connection therewith.

Our Company is required to comply with various provisions of the Companies Act and the rules made thereunder. In the past, certain lapses occurred in respect of statutory compliances, for which our Company has filed applications for adjudication and compounding before the Registrar of Companies under Section 454 of Companies Act, 2013, respectively. A summary of such past non-compliances is set out below:

- a. Contravention of Section 49 of the Companies Act (Uniform call on shares): In Financial Year 2014–15, our Company contravened Section 49 of the Companies Act by requesting call money from shareholders on an uneven basis and also accepting part payments after the due date of the call. - b. Contravention of Section 161 of the Companies Act (Appointment of Directors): In Financial Year 2014–15, our Company contravened Section 161 of the Companies Act with respect to the appointment of certain directors. Specifically, Jashvant Valjibhai Patel and Sanjaybhai Pranivanbhai Saidva were appointed as Directors in the Board Meeting held on January 15, 2014, and Chintan Dharamshibhai Sitapara was appointed as a Director on April 15, 2014, instead of being appointed as Additional Directors as required under law. The Company filed Form No. GNL-1 on September 27, 2025, bearing SRN No. AB7640904 with the RoC, Gujarat at Ahmedabad, for a suo moto adjudication application under Section 454 of the Companies Act, 2013, in respect of non-compliance under Section 161 of the Companies Act, 2013. As on date of this Red Herring Prospectus, the compounding application has been approved by the RoC, but no notices have been issued.
- c. Contravention of Section 203 of the Companies Act (Appointment of Whole-Time Company Secretary): For Financial Years 2014–15 and 2015–16, our Company was required to appoint a whole-time Company Secretary, but the appointment was not made within the prescribed timeline. Our Company subsequently appointed Ms. Anita Lalwani as Company Secretary with effect from June 1, 2016. The Company filed Form No. GNL-1 on September 27, 2025, bearing SRN No. AB7629058 with the RoC, Gujarat at Ahmedabad, for a suo moto adjudication application under Section 454 of the Companies Act, 2013, in respect of non-compliance under Section 203 of the Companies Act, 2013. As on date of this Red Herring Prospectus, the compounding application has been approved by the RoC, but no notices have been issued.
- d. Contravention of Section 135 of the Companies Act (Corporate Social Responsibility): For Financial Years 2017–18 to 2022–23, although the provisions relating to Corporate Social Responsibility ("CSR") were applicable to our Company, the prescribed CSR expenditure was not made during this period. The Company filed Form No. GNL-1 on September 27, 2025, bearing SRN No. AB7645125 with the RoC, Gujarat at Ahmedabad, for a suo moto adjudication application under Section 454 of the Companies Act, 2013, in respect of non-compliance under Section 135 of the Companies Act, 2013. As on date of this Red Herring Prospectus, the compounding application has been approved by the RoC, but no notices have been issued.

As on the date of this Red Herring Prospectus, no penalties have yet been imposed in respect of the above matters. However, we cannot assure you that the Registrar of Companies or other competent authorities will not levy fines, impose penalties, or initiate other regulatory or adjudicatory proceedings in connection with such defaults. While our Company has taken steps to strengthen its compliance and governance framework, there can be no assurance that similar lapses will not occur in the future or that such non-compliances, if they arise, will be addressed in a timely manner. Any adverse regulatory orders, monetary penalties, or recurrence of non-compliance could have an adverse effect on our business, reputation, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows.

3. Our Company has, in the past, not complied with the requirements of Section 138 of the Companies Act, 2013 relating to the appointment of an internal auditor, which may expose us to regulatory actions and could adversely affect our business, financial condition and reputation

During the Financial Years 2021–22 to 2023–24, the Company did not appoint an internal auditor as required under Section 138 of the Companies Act, 2013 read with the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014, upon meeting the prescribed thresholds in relation to turnover and borrowings. Such non-compliance occurred due to an inadvertent oversight. The Company has since rectified this lapse by appointing Zapda & Associates as its internal auditor for Financial Year 2023–24.

In connection with the aforesaid non-compliance, the Company has filed Form GNL-1 on September 27, 2025, bearing SRN No. AB7636358, with the Registrar of Companies, Gujarat at Ahmedabad, seeking suo moto adjudication under Section 454 of the Companies Act, 2013. As on date of this Red Herring Prospectus, the compounding application has been approved by the RoC, but no notices have been issued.

While no regulatory action or penalty has been imposed on the Company to date in relation to such non-compliance, there can be no assurance that no regulatory action or penalty will be initiated or levied in the future. Any such action, penalty or adverse finding may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and reputation. Further, there can be no assurance that similar non-compliances will not occur in the future, which could subject us to additional regulatory scrutiny or enforcement actions.

4. We are significantly dependent on 7 Seas Impex for majority of our sales outside Gujarat and exports, and any adverse development in this arrangement could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We sell our products in domestic markets directly as well as through resellers. While our sales within Gujarat are undertaken directly by Company with Customers, whereas majority of our sales of cotton yarns outside Gujarat are effected through our reseller, 7 Seas Impex. The details of our revenue from operations from our sales in Gujarat and other states are set out in “Our Business” on page 165 of this Red Herring Prospectus. Our sales to the reseller are booked as part of our sales in Gujarat but the onward sales by this reseller are primarily to the customers outside the state of Gujarat and in export markets. This reseller possesses experience in global and national trade practices, export documentation, and destination-specific compliance requirements. For the nine-month period ended December 31, 2025, and the last three fiscals, a significant portion of our revenue from operations has been derived through this reseller, which accounted 22.99%, 33.88%, 54.73% and 66.61% of our revenue from products (domestic sale), respectively. The table below sets forth the product-wise bifurcation of sales made to this reseller, together with the percentage of such sales out of the total revenue from operations for the nine-month period ended December 31, 2025, and for Fiscal 2025, Fiscal 2024 and Fiscal 2023:

*Represent % of total products sales made to 7 Seas Impex to total domestic sales of our Company.

According to terms of our reseller agreement, 7 Seas Impex is restricted from purchasing yarn from any other manufacturer and has to sale the products to customers outside Gujarat and export market. In circumstances where the demand placed by 7 Seas Impex exceeds our production capacity, we are required to source the additional demand from third-party manufacturers and provide the same to the reseller. Such instances have occurred in the nine months period ended December 31, 2025, and as at last 3 financials years amounting to trade of 1256.22 lakhs during the nine-month period ended December 31, 2025, ₹ 464.67 lakhs in FY 2024-25, ₹ 1,310.81 lakhs in FY 2023-24 and ₹ 99.80 lakhs in FY 2022-23. While this arrangement has worked effectively for over a decade, our reliance on a single reseller for majority of sales outside Gujarat and exports amplifies our dependency risk. Any change in the terms of engagement with 7 Seas Impex or operational or financial difficulties faced by this reseller could materially constrain our ability to access important domestic and international markets. 7 seas Impex is not directly or indirectly related to the Company / promoter / members forming part of the promoter group / directors of the Company.

In order to mitigate this risk, we intend to pursue organic growth by broadening our supply channels over time. We have diversified our customer base for cotton yarn sales by onboarding new customers and expanding into other regions. This diversification is demonstrated by the decrease in the percentage of specific revenue from sale of cotton yarn to 7 Seas Impex, which has reduced from 76.57% in FY 2022-23 to 66.57% in FY 2023-24 and further to 58.23% in FY 2024-25 of the total sale of cotton yarn, which has resulted in decrease in the percentage of total revenues from sale of products to 7 Seas Impex from 66.61% in FY 2022-23 to 54.73% in FY 2023-24 and further to 33.88% in FY 2024-25. These steps are expected to diversify our revenue sources and reduce dependence on the existing reseller, thereby enabling more balanced and sustainable growth in the long term.

Although we have not experienced any disruption in sales under this arrangement, there can be no assurance that such stability will continue in the future. Any adverse development relating to 7 Seas Impex or its ability to perform its obligations under the exclusivity agreement could materially and adversely affect our revenues, cash flows, business operations, and financial performance.

5. Our continued operations are dependent on a single Manufacturing Facility and are critical to our business, and any disruption could materially and adversely affect our results of operations, cash flows, and financial condition.

We operate through our semi-automated and integrated ginning and spinning manufacturing facility located at Halvad, Morbi, Gujarat. Our Manufacturing Facility is central to our operations, and any disruption may have a direct adverse impact on our ability to procure cotton bales, produce yarn, and deliver products to our customers on time. For details of our facility, see “Our Business – Our Manufacturing Facility” on page 177 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

The facility is subject to a number of operating risks, including breakdown or failure of critical equipment, interruptions in power supply, labour disputes, natural disasters, industrial accidents, fire hazards, or the need to comply with directives of governmental and regulatory authorities. Any significant malfunction or breakdown of machinery could entail substantial repair or replacement costs, lead to suspension or slowdown of operations, and result in underutilization of installed capacity. Further, delays in addressing such disruptions could cause us to miss delivery schedules, adversely affecting our customer relationships and reputation in the market.

Although we have not experienced any material disruption at our Manufacturing Facility in last three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that such events will not occur in the future. Any prolonged or repeated disruption at our Manufacturing Facility may materially and adversely affect our business, revenues, results of operations, cash flows, and overall financial condition.

6. We have entered into, and may in the future continue to enter into, transactions with related parties, which may potentially involve conflicts of interest.

We have entered into transactions with our related parties, including our Promoters, members of our Promoter Group, and their relatives. These transactions, as disclosed in the section titled “Related Party Transactions” on page 301, include, among others, availing of unsecured loans and the acquisition of certain immovable properties.

While all such transactions have been conducted to meet our business requirement and on an arm’s length basis, we cannot assure you that we will be able to maintain this in the future or that all future transactions with our related parties will be on terms comparable to those that could be obtained in transactions with unaffiliated third parties.

Our related parties may have interests that conflict with the interests of our Company. Any such conflicts of interest could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows. We cannot assure you that such transactions, individually or in the aggregate, will not have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations. For further details, please see “Financial Indebtedness” on page 303 and “Related Party Transactions” on page 301.

7. Any downgrade of our credit ratings of outstanding borrowings could adversely affect our business.

The cost and availability of capital and/or debt funds, among other factors, depend on our credit ratings. Our credit ratings are influenced by various parameters, including but not limited to our operational track record, the experience of our promoters, our financial performance such as scale of operations, profitability and capital structure, the volatility in raw material availability and prices, industry conditions and overall industry outlook. As per the covenant stipulated by our existing bank for our credit exposure, we have to obtain external credit rating from at least one credit rating agency.

Set out below are the credit ratings received for our fund based and non-fund based facilities in each of the previous three fiscal years, which are recognized by our banks/lenders:

Fiscal year	Name of Rating Agency/ Date of Rating Report	Instrument/facility
		Fund based Limits	Non-fund based limits
Fiscal 2026	Infomerics / February 13, 2026*	IVR BBB+/Stable	IVR A2
Fiscal 2025	Infomerics / February 14, 2025*	IVR BBB/Stable	IVR A3
Fiscal 2024	India Ratings / July 10, 2024 [#]	IND BB+/Positive	IND A4+
Fiscal 2023	India Ratings / May 02, 2023 [#]	IND BB+/Stable	IND A4+

* Infomerics Valuation and Rating Private Limited

[#] India Rating and Research Private Limited

These ratings assess our overall financial capacity to pay our obligations and are reflective of our ability to meet financial commitments as they become due. There can be no assurance that these ratings will not be revised or changed by the rating agency due to various factors mentioned above. Any downgrade in our credit rating may lead to increase in interest rates for our outstanding debts and/or its refinancing, which would increase our financing costs, and adversely affect our future issuances of debt and our ability to raise new capital on a competitive basis.

Further, we have changed our rating agencies multiple times during the annual renewal process in the past without first obtaining the No Objection Certificate/No Due Certificate (NOC) from our bank, as required by the Rating Agencies under the applicable guidelines. Consequently, the previous rating agencies classified our rating as “Issuer Not Co-operating”. These ratings were subsequently withdrawn after we submitted the requisite NOC issued by our bank. While we do not anticipate frequent changes in rating agencies, there is no assurance that such changes will not occur in the future. If we are unable to obtain the necessary NOC from our bank at that time, our rating may be adversely impacted.

Additionally, on one occasion, we did not submit the required data to the rating agency within the stipulated timeline at the time of renewal of the rating, as a result of which our rating was placed under the “Non-Cooperating Category”. This classification was revoked once we furnished the requisite information. Although we have strengthened our internal processes to ensure timely and regular data submissions, there can be no assurance that such lapses will not recur. Any delay or failure in sharing information on time may adversely affect our credit rating.

8. The valuation report obtained for the acquisition of Falcon Yarns Private Limited is based on certain assumptions and methods adopted by the valuer which may not adequately indicate its actual or future value.

In connection with our acquisition of Falcon Yarns Private Limited (“Falcon”), CA Rohit Maloo (the “Valuer”), a registered independent valuer, has issued a valuation report dated September 15, 2025 (the “Valuation Report”) setting out its opinion on the value of Falcon as of August 31, 2025. The purchase consideration agreed under the Falcon SPA has been determined with reference to this Valuation Report. The valuation report was placed before the Independent Directors in a meeting held on December 20, 2025. The Independent Directors recommended that (i) the valuation has been undertaken by an independent professional valuer; (ii) the valuation methodology adopted is appropriate and reasonable; and (iii) the valuation report is fair and is not prejudicial to the interests of the shareholders of the Company.

The Valuation Report is subject to a number of assumptions regarding Falcon’s revenues, expenses, market conditions, and industry trends, which may not hold true in the future. Valuations are inherently estimates, and actual business performance or market developments may differ significantly from those assumed. The table below sets out the key assumptions undertaken for the Valuation Report dated September 15, 2025, issued by CA Rohit Maloo:

Assumptions	Particulars
Risk Free Rate (Rf)	6.78%
Equity Risk Premium	8.70%
Market Return (Rm)	15.48%
Beta Coefficient	0.40
Business Risk	2.00%
Cost of Equity (Ke)	12.24%
Pre Tax Debt Cost (Kd)	8.50%
Effective Tax Rate	25.20%
Post Tax Cost of Debt	6.36%
Debt Weightage	31.90%
Equity Weightage	68.10%
Debt/Equity Ratio	0.47
Weighted Average Cost of Capital (WACC)	10.36%
Discount For Lack of Marketability (DLOM)	0.00%
Terminal Growth rate	5.00%

In addition, the Valuer applied specific valuation methodologies as outlined below; other methodologies may have produced a different result.

a. CCM under Market Approach:

The valuer has considered enterprise value of peer companies namely Ambika Cotton Mills Ltd, Lagnam Spintex Ltd, Pashupati Cotspin Ltd employing valuation multiples like EV/Revenue multiple, EV/EBITDA multiple and PE multiple.

Under this approach Enterprise Value worked out to be ₹ 16,395.25 lakhs and Equity Value to be ₹ 14,318.24 lakhs

b. DCF under Income Approach:

The valuer has considered weighted average cost of capital as discount rate to arrive at present values of cash flow.

Under this approach Enterprise Value worked out to be ₹ 14,101.52 lakhs and Equity Value to be ₹ 12,024.51 lakhs

The Valuation Report has not been updated since its issue and does not account for subsequent changes in Falcon’s operations, financial position, or external market factors. The valuer assigned both approach equal weight (50%) and the weighted average final Enterprise Value and Equity Value worked out to be ₹ 15,248.01 lakhs and ₹ 13,171.00 lakhs, respectively.

Further, the Valuation Report is an opinion and does not provide any guarantee of Falcon’s actual or realizable value. The price at which Falcon or its assets could be sold in the future may be materially different from the value set out in the Valuation Report. Accordingly, investors should not place over reliance on the Valuation Report in making an investment decision to subscribe to our Equity Shares, and any divergence between the assumptions used and actual results may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

9. We have issued equity shares during the one year preceding the date of the Draft Red Herring Prospectus at a price that may be lower than the Offer Price.

During the one year preceding the date of the Draft Red Herring Prospectus dated September 30, 2025, we have issued equity shares, including the conversion of Compulsory Convertible Preference Shares (CCPS) issued in March 2025, at a price predetermined at the time of issuance of CCPS that may be lower than the Issue Price. For details, see “Capital Structure” beginning on page 81 of this Red Herring Prospectus. The price at which the equity shares of our Company have been issued in the immediately preceding year is not indicative of the price at which the equity shares will be issued pursuant to the Issue or the price at which they may trade following the Issue.

For further information regarding details of allotments made by the Company in the past 1 year, see “Capital Structure- Notes to Capital Structure- Share Capital history of our Company” beginning on page 82 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

10. We have experienced negative cash flows in the past. Any such negative cash flows in the future could affect our business, results of operations and prospects.

Our Company had reported certain negative cash flows from our operating, investing activities and financing activities in the previous years as per the Restated Financial Statements and the same are summarized as under:

(in ₹ lakhs)

Particulars	For the nine month period ended December 31, 2025	For the year ended March 31, 2025	For the year ended March 31, 2024	For the year ended March 31, 2023
Cash flow from Operating Activities	(1,355.28)	(1,813.41)	1,293.13	1,547.49
Cash flow from Investing Activities	(33.19)	(35.97)	(393.83)	(2,783.89)
Cash flow from Financing Activities	1,248.69	2,312.62	(865.56)	1,422.14

Cash flow from the operating activity of a company is a key indicator to show the extent of cash generated from operations to meet capital expenditure, pay dividends, repay loans and make new investments without raising finance from external resources. Our inability to generate and sustain adequate cash flows in the future could adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition. For further please refer chapter titled “Restated Financial Information” beginning on page 239 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

11. Our Company have made delays in compliance with certain statutory provisions of the Companies Act, 2013. Such non-compliances/ delayed filings may attract penalties and prosecution against the Company and its directors which could impact the financial position of the Company to that extent

We monitor compliances with applicable laws and regulations by implementing stringent internal checks and controls. Although we have generally been in compliance with applicable laws, there have been certain instances of discrepancies/ errors in statutory filings. Although no regulatory action has been taken against us with respect to the aforesaid non-compliances/errors, there can be no assurance that regulatory action shall not be taken by the relevant authorities against us in the future. In an event, such an action is taken, we may be subject to penalties and other consequences that may adversely impact our business, reputation, and results of operation and there can be no assurance that we shall be able to successfully defend any action/allegation raised by such regulatory authorities. Our team meticulously follow a compliance calendar providing for compliances under various applicable laws, including but not limited to the Companies Act. As we continue to grow, there can be no assurance that deficiencies in our internal controls shall not arise, or that we shall be able to implement, and continue to maintain, adequate measures to rectify or mitigate any such deficiencies in our internal controls, in a timely manner or at all. There may be recurrences of similar discrepancies/errors in the future that could subject our Company to penal consequences under applicable laws. Any such action could adversely impact our business, reputation, and results of operation.

There may be recurrences of similar discrepancies in the future that could subject our company to penal consequences under applicable laws. Any such action may adversely impact our business, reputation, and results of operation.

Further there has been delays in filing of forms on the Ministry of Corporate Affairs portal. The additional fees paid by the Company on account of such delays in the last three financial years amount to approximately ₹60,000/-. The Company has paid the said monetary penalties. While no show-cause notices have been received by the Company in connection with these delays, we cannot assure you that such regulatory actions will not be initiated against our Company in future and we cannot assure you that we will not be subject to penalties imposed by concerned regulatory authorities in this respect. Also, certain challans for said period filings are not traceable. Please see the table below, which sets for the list of challans which are no traceable:

We have filed a letter with RoC, Ahmedabad at Gujarat dated December 30, 2025, with respect to the non-compliances, which are procedural or minor in nature and do not have a material adverse impact on the Company's operations, financial condition, or regulatory standing detailing out such discrepancies. As of the date of this Red Herring Prospectus, no penalty has been imposed by the relevant authorities. However, if the authorities were to impose monetary penalties or initiate any punitive action against our Company in relation to such matters in the future, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected.

To ensure that Company does not faces similar situations of delay, the company has taken following steps to address such delays:

1. Appointment of additional staff as required to ensure timely compliance.
2. Prior planning and preparing compliance calendar
3. Collaboration with professionals, where required.

12. Our proposed utilisation of a portion of the Net Proceeds towards payment of the purchase consideration for the acquisition of Falcon Yarns Private Limited exposes us to funding, timing, and integration risks.

Pursuant to a Share Purchase Agreement dated September 22, 2025 (the "Falcon SPA"), our Company has agreed to acquire 100% of the equity share capital of Falcon Yarns Private Limited ("Falcon") from its existing shareholders for an aggregate cash consideration of up to ₹ 13,151 lakhs. As set out in the Falcon SPA, the consideration is payable in three parts: (i) ₹ 1,000 lakhs payable by September 20, 2025 or such other date as mutually agreed between Falcon and our Company, which has already been paid by our Company as on the date of this Red Herring Prospectus; (ii) ₹1,000 lakhs was payable prior to January 1, 2026 or such other date as may be mutually agreed between Falcon and our Company. Pursuant to mutual agreement between the parties, as recorded in the letter dated December 30, 2025, the due date for payment of the second tranche was extended to on or before March 17, 2026. The aforesaid amount has been duly paid by our Company as on the said revised due date; and (iii) the balance consideration of up to ₹ 11,151 lakhs payable within 30 days post completion of our proposed initial public offering. We propose to utilise a portion of the Net Proceeds of the Issue for the payment of this balance consideration.

In the event of a delay or shortfall in raising funds from the Issue, we may face challenges in discharging the balance purchase consideration payable under the Falcon SPA within the stipulated timelines. In such circumstances, we would be required to arrange alternate funding through internal accruals, additional debt, or further equity issuance, which may not be available on favourable terms or within the required timeframe. Any failure or delay in making the required payments could constitute a default under the Falcon SPA, expose us to legal and financial consequences, and adversely impact our acquisition strategy.

Further, while we believe the acquisition of Falcon will provide synergies with our existing operations and expand our scope of business, there can be no assurance that the anticipated benefits will be realised in the expected time frame, or at all. Integration of Falcon's operations with our own may involve unforeseen risks, costs, and liabilities, and our consolidated financial results will also be exposed to the operational performance of Falcon. The Falcon SPA provides only limited representations and warranties from the sellers, which may limit our recourse in the event of undisclosed liabilities or operational issues.

Accordingly, any delay in completing the payment of consideration, inability to arrange alternative funding, or failure to integrate Falcon effectively may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, and growth prospects. For further details, see the chapters titled "Objects of the Issue – Payment of Purchase Consideration for the Acquisition of Falcon Yarns Private Limited" and "Our Business" on pages 109 and 165 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

13. We are dependent on a limited number of suppliers for procurement of raw cotton and cotton bales, our principal raw material, and any disruption in supply or adverse movement in cotton prices may materially affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Raw cotton and cotton bales are the principal raw material used in our manufacturing operations and constitute the single largest component of our production costs. Our ability to remain cost competitive and operationally efficient is closely linked to the procurement of raw cotton and cotton bales in adequate quantities, of consistent quality, and at commercially viable terms. Our factory is located within major cotton growing area of Gujarat and hence, we procure raw cotton from farmers and traders for processing at our ginning unit for production of cotton bales. In addition, we source cotton bales for our spinning unit from other ginning mills and traders across Gujarat, which helps reduce transportation costs, shorten lead times, and support timely production. Over the years, we have built relationships with the farmers and a network of reliable suppliers; during the nine-month period ended December 31, 2025 and the last three Fiscals, we procured cotton bales from more than 51 Suppliers out of which 6 suppliers are in top 10 suppliers where 4 Suppliers are associated with us over 5 years and top 10 suppliers contribute 71.30%, 73.05 %, 79.62 % and 44.30% of the total purchase during the last three fiscals.

Consumption of cotton bales in spinning unit is higher in value term than raw cotton in ginning unit and purchase of raw cotton is relatively scattered among large numbers of farmers and traders and hence, all of our Top 10 suppliers are involved in supplying of cotton bales to us. The details of our top 05 (five) and top 10 (ten) raw material suppliers vis-à-vis our total purchases as per our Restated Financial Statements are set out below:

[^] The names of the suppliers have not been included herein, as consent for their inclusion in the offer document has not been obtained from the suppliers of the Company.

The above concentration of suppliers exposes us to supply-side risks in the event of any disruption due to financial distress, insolvency, logistical bottlenecks, weather disruptions, or regulatory actions affecting these suppliers. We typically procure raw materials on the basis of short-term arrangements or purchase orders and do not enter into long-term supply contracts. While this approach provides flexibility, it limits stability in terms of pricing and assured volumes. Further, cotton prices are inherently volatile and are influenced by multiple factors such as agricultural yield, Minimum Support Prices (MSP), government procurement policies, export-import regulations, and global commodity markets. Sharp price fluctuations during the off-season, or changes in government policy, could lead to increased procurement costs and margin pressures.

To mitigate these risks, we strategically maintain a buffer stock of cotton bales during the peak harvest season (October to March), when availability is higher and prices are comparatively favourable. These stocks are stored at our manufacturing facility in designated storage facilities. While this strategy allows us to secure raw material at optimal prices, it exposes us to risks of inaccurate demand forecasting, higher carrying costs, potential deterioration in cotton quality, or obsolescence during storage. Further, we hedge our position of stock through physical purchase of cotton bales for spinning unit i.e. against for each inquiry of order for yarn, we quote the price based on prevailing cotton bales price and once the yarn order is confirmed, we place order for purchase of equivalent quantity of cotton bales thereby maintaining margin for each order. This helps us to maintain buffer stock at the same time protect our margin as well.

Although we have not faced any material supply disruptions in last 3 Fiscals. There can be no assurance that future disruptions in supply, adverse movements in cotton prices, or deterioration in the quality of cotton procured will not materially and adversely affect our business operations, financial condition, cash flows, and results of operations.

14. Our Company had acquired properties from our Promoters and members forming part of our Promoter Group. Our Promoters and members forming part of our Promoter Group shall be deemed to be interested in the purchase of these properties.

Out of seven land parcels of the properties owned by the company as disclosed in chapter titled “Our Business - Owned Properties” on page 183, Our Company had purchased the property (land parcels) as set out in the table below from our Promoters and members forming part of the Promoter Group. The details in respect of such property and the purchase consideration have been disclosed below:

As of date of this Red Herring Prospectus, there are no material conflicts, any such present and future conflicts could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. For further details see “Our Business - Property” on page 183 of this Red Herring Prospectus. For details of interest of our directors and interest of our Promoters in the purchase of the Property, see “Our Management – Interest of Director” and “Our Promoter – Interest of Promoters” on page 209 and 228, respectively of this Red Herring Prospectus.

15. A major portion of our revenue from sale of products is dependent upon a limited number of customers, and the loss of one or more of these customers or a significant reduction in their orders could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

A significant portion of our revenue is derived from a limited number of customers. For the nine-month period ended December 31, 2025 and for the Fiscal 2025, Fiscal 2024 and Fiscal 2023, our top ten customers together contributed more than 57.27%, 59.94%, 84.71% and 80.88% of our total revenue from sale of products respectively, with the top five customers accounting for over 46.49%, 51.66 %, 79.05 % and 75.47 % of our total revenue from sale of products in each of these periods. In particular, our largest customer, 7 Seas Impex (a reseller for domestic sales outside Gujarat and export sales), accounted for 22.99%, 33.88%, 54.73% and 66.61% of our total revenue from sale of products in Fiscal 2025, Fiscal 2024 and Fiscal 2023, respectively. For further details, please see “Our Business” on page 165 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

The table below sets forth the revenue from our top five and top ten customers in the last three fiscals:

Particulars	December 31, 2025		Fiscal 2025		Fiscal 2024		Fiscal 2023
	Revenue from sale of products (₹ in Lakhs)	% of Revenue from sale of products	Revenue from sale of products (₹ in Lakhs)	% of Revenue from sale of products	Revenue from sale of products (₹ in Lakhs)	% of Revenue from sale of products	Revenue from sale of products (₹ in Lakhs)	% of Revenue from sale of products

Total sales of products	31,063.77		34,369.50		29,602.37		23,492.83

Computed based on Top 10 customers certified by S.N. Shah & Associates, Chartered Accountants, Statutory Auditors, pursuant to their certificate dated June 16, 2026, bearing UDIN 26144892UUVOJT8928.

Except for 7 Seas Impex, we do not enter into long-term contracts with our customers, and our sales are primarily conducted through individual purchase orders that set out terms, volumes and delivery schedules. The absence of long-term commitments exposes us to the risk of customer retention and creates uncertainty in production planning. If one or more of our key customers reduce their orders, cease to source from us, or are unable to perform their obligations due to financial distress, insolvency, business restructuring, regulatory actions, or shifts in procurement policies, our revenue and profitability could be materially impacted.

Moreover, as we expand our customer base, the composition of our revenue may change. Any adverse development involving one or more of our major customers including reduction in order volumes, disputes, discontinuation of business, or adoption of alternative suppliers could have a significant effect on our revenues, cash flows and liquidity. Our reliance on our reseller, 7 Seas Impex, for facilitating sales outside Gujarat and exports further amplifies this dependency risk. If this reseller were to change the terms of our engagement or face operational or financial difficulties, our access to key domestic and international markets could be adversely affected.

Although we have not experienced a material loss of a key customer in the nine-month period ended December 31, 2025 and the last 3 Fiscals, we cannot assure you that we will be able to retain our existing customers, secure equivalent replacement customers on comparable terms, or continue to maintain the current level of revenues. Any such event could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

16. A significant portion of our revenue is derived from cotton yarns, particularly carded, combed, and compact combed varieties, and cotton bales, and any adverse development in demand, pricing, or industry conditions could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We are engaged in the business of manufacturing and trading of carded, combed and compact combed cotton yarns and cotton bales. Our product portfolio includes 100% cotton yarns in counts ranging from Ne 26 to Ne 40, cotton bales, cotton waste by-products such as comber, licker-in, and hard waste and cotton seeds, which is by-product during the ginning process for production of cotton bales. These yarns are used across knitting and weaving applications and cater to a wide range of end-use industries including denim, terry towels, shirting, sheeting, sweaters, socks, bottom wear, home textiles and industrial fabrics. While we also generate revenue from cotton bales, cotton seeds and cotton waste by-products, a significant portion of our total revenue is concentrated in cotton yarn sales, specifically carded, combed and compact combed yarns. For further details, see “Our Business – Our Products” on page 175 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

Further, the table below sets forth the revenue breakdown from the trading and manufacturing of carded, combed, and compact combed cotton yarns, as well as cotton bales, for the nine-month period ended December 31, 2025, and for the financial years ended March 31, 2025, March 31, 2024, and March 31, 2023:

Operation	For nine-month period ended December 31, 2025		For financial year ended March 31, 2025		For financial year ended March 31, 2024		For financial year ended March 31, 2023

Cotton Bales	15254.47	49.11	11529.26	33.55	5812.14	19.63	1308.74	5.57
Sale of Products (Trading)
Cotton Yarn	2047.82	6.59	1723.53	5.01	4011.62	13.55	876.03	3.73
Cotton Bales	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-
Sale of Cotton waste
Cotton Seeds by-product in Ginning unit	1724.00	5.55	2183.69	6.35	279.48	0.94	47.63	0.20
Cotton Waste by-products in Spinning unit	1434.44	4.62	2272.71	6.61	2627.36	8.88	2692.79	11.46
Total	31063.77	100.00%	34,369.50	100.00%	29,602.37	100.00%	23,492.83	100.00%

Given this concentration, our financial performance is highly sensitive to the performance of these yarn categories. Any contraction in demand for cotton yarns, change in consumer preference toward synthetic or blended fibres, or decline in downstream industries such as weaving, knitting, or garment manufacturing could significantly affect our sales volumes and margins. In addition, oversupply in the cotton yarn industry, intensifying competition from domestic and international players, or pricing pressure from large buyers may adversely impact our ability to maintain profitability.

Our business is also exposed to external risks such as volatility in cotton prices, climatic fluctuations affecting cotton availability, policy changes relating to Minimum Support Prices (MSP), and restrictions on textile exports. These factors can directly impact our input costs, inventory planning, and overall product competitiveness. Although we diversify revenues through cotton bales, cotton seeds and cotton waste sales, such streams represent a smaller proportion of our total revenues and are not sufficient to offset significant volatility in yarn demand.

While we strive to strengthen our customer base, focus on quality, and expand our product mix, our ability to mitigate adverse movements in supply & demand, pricing, or input costs is limited. There can be no assurance that negative developments affecting carded, combed, or compact combed cotton yarns will not occur in the future, and any such developments may materially and adversely affect our revenues, margins, cash flows, and overall financial condition.

17. Any non-compliance with the Legal Metrology Act, 2009 and the Gujarat Legal Metrology (Enforcement) Rules, 2011 may expose us to penalties and regulatory actions, which could adversely affect our business and operations.

Our operations include procuring raw cotton and cotton bales, processing them into yarn, and selling the finished yarn to domestic and international customers. In the course of business, we use weighing equipment and measuring instruments in 100% of our operations. This reliance is critical at every stage of our value chain, including the procurement of raw cotton, in-process monitoring, and the final weighing and dispatch of finished cotton bales and yarn. Such activities are governed by the Legal Metrology Act, 2009 and the Gujarat Legal Metrology (Enforcement) Rules, 2011, which prescribe standards for weights and measures, licensing requirements for their use in trade, and mandatory verification and stamping by the Office of the Controller of Legal Metrology, Gujarat.

Our primary internal control to ensure compliance is the mandatory periodical verification, calibration, and stamping of all weighing and measuring instruments by the Legal Metrology authorities, as required under the Act. We maintain valid verification certificates for our instruments, as disclosed in the section "Government and Other Statutory Approvals - Material approvals obtained in relation to the business and operations of our Company" on page 334 of this Red Herring Prospectus. However, any lapse in compliance with the above requirements including but not limited to usage of non-verified weighing equipment, expired verification certificates, or failure to obtain or renew the requisite licenses may attract monetary penalties, suspension or cancellation of licenses, and even seizure of goods being weighed or measured. Such actions could disrupt our procurement or sales processes, delay delivery schedules, and adversely affect our reputation with suppliers and customers.

While we endeavour to comply with all applicable provisions of the Legal Metrology framework, given the ongoing reliance on weighing equipment across our operations, we cannot assure you that inadvertent non-compliances will not occur in the future. Any such violations may materially and adversely impact our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

18. Our business is dependent on our Manufacturing Facility situated at Halvad, Morbi, Gujarat, and we are subject to certain risks due to our single location manufacturing facility. Any slowdown or shutdown in our manufacturing operations or supply disruption, strikes, lockouts, work stoppages that could interfere with our operations, could have an adverse effect on our business, financial conditions and results of operations.

We operate our operations through our Manufacturing Facility, which is located at Halvad, Morbi, Gujarat which is spread across an aggregate parcel of land admeasuring about 65,672 sq. mt. Our Manufacturing Facility also includes our registered office.

Our business is dependent upon our ability to manage our manufacturing facilities, which are subject to operational risks. We may encounter manufacturing problems or experience difficulties or delays in production as a result of occurrence of the following events or any other events beyond our control:

- forced or voluntary closure of manufacturing plant, including as a result of regulatory actions or comply with the directives of relevant government authorities;
- problems with supply chain continuity, including as a result of natural or man-made disasters at any of our Manufacturing Facility;
- manufacturing shutdowns, breakdown or failure of equipment, equipment performance below expected levels of efficiency, obsolescence of our equipment and production facility, industrial accidents and the need to;
- labour disputes, strikes, lockouts that may result in temporary shutdowns or manufacturing disruptions;
- any changes in the availability of power or water availability which impacts the entire region; and
- failure of a supplier to provide us with the critical raw materials or components for an extended period of time, which could impact continuous supply.

There has been an instance of temporary shutdown of our Manufacturing Facility for approximately 10 days during the lockdown imposed in the year 2020, on account of Covid-19 pandemic. There has not been any other instance of material disruptions in the preceding three Fiscals, which had an adverse effect on our business, financial conditions, cash flows and results of operations. We cannot assure you that our business and financial results may not be adversely affected by any disruption of operations at our Manufacturing Facility, including as a result of any of the factors mentioned above. Disruption in our operations may result in reduced production and reduced sales or higher costs to arrange for alternative arrangements to meet our customer obligations.

19. Our acquisition-driven growth strategy, including the acquisition of Falcon Yarns Private Limited, exposes us to risks of integration, hidden liabilities, and increased financial commitments.

As part of our growth strategy, we seek to expand our business through acquisitions that complement our operations, enlarge our value chain, and provide access to new customers, products, and markets. In line with this strategy, we have agreed to acquire Falcon Yarns Private Limited. While acquisitions present opportunities for growth and diversification, they also expose us to a number of risks, including:

- unforeseen or undisclosed liabilities in the acquired entity, due to the limited scope of representations and warranties;
- challenges in integrating operations, systems, controls, and personnel of the acquired company with our own;
- diversion of management time and resources from existing business operations;
- potential cultural differences or operational inefficiencies during consolidation; and
- increased financial commitments arising from acquisition-related payments or additional debt.

There can be no assurance that we will be able to consummate acquisitions on favourable terms or achieve the expected benefits and synergies within the anticipated timeframe. If we fail to integrate Falcon Yarns or any future acquisition effectively, or if the acquired business does not perform in line with expectations, our business, financial condition, and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected.

20. Our Debt Service Coverage Ratio (DSCR) is a key indicator of our ability to service debt obligations, and any weakening of this ratio may adversely affect our financial flexibility and overall business performance.

Our DSCR reflects the extent to which our internal accruals are sufficient to meet scheduled debt servicing obligations. A DSCR below 1.00x indicates that internal cash accruals from operations are insufficient to fully cover scheduled debt obligations, necessitating reliance on refinancing, improved operating performance, or alternative funding arrangements.

Set forth below is a summary of our DSCR analysis for the nine months period ended December 31, 2025 and last three Fiscals:

Particulars	Nine-month period ended December 31, 2025	Fiscal 2025	Fiscal 2024	Fiscal 2023
Debt Service Coverage Ratio	2.14	2.34	1.35	0.65

As reflected above, our DSCR has improved in Fiscal 2025 to 2.34x, compared to 1.35x in Fiscal 2024 and 0.65x in Fiscal 2023, primarily due to higher internal accruals resulted from improvement in profitability as compared to debt obligations due for payment during the corresponding financial year. This demonstrates a positive trend; however, there can be no assurance that such improvement will be sustained in the future.

A sustained DSCR at or below 1.00x will require us to raise alternate source of funds to meet our debt obligation and funds for operations at the same time may constrain our financial flexibility, restrict our ability to raise incremental borrowings on favourable terms, and adversely affect our credit profile. In such circumstances, we may be required to provide additional collateral, accept more stringent covenants, or bear higher borrowing costs. Further, any increase in raw material costs, higher interest expenses, or decline in revenue could exert additional pressure on our DSCR.

If we are unable to maintain or further improve our DSCR through operational efficiencies, cost optimization, or capital structure adjustments, we may be exposed to risks of delayed repayments, penal interest, or enforcement of security by lenders. Any such development may materially and adversely affect our cash flows, business operations, financial condition, and results of operations.

21. Cotton is a highly flammable commodity, and any fire, accident, or mishap at our facilities could result in significant property damage, business interruption, and financial loss.

Cotton is highly flammable, combustible and susceptible to ignition at almost every stage of handling, including procurement, storage, processing, transportation, and trading. The risk of fire is particularly acute in areas such as the ginning unit, blow room and carding section, where fine cotton dust accumulates and increase the likelihood of sparks or short circuits leading to an outbreak. With the use of high-volume air circulation and semi-automated material-handling systems for handling large volumes of cotton, the probability of fire or a small incident in one section can rapidly spread across machines and production lines.

An outbreak of fire or similar accident at our manufacturing facility could result in extensive damage to raw material inventory, finished goods, plant, and machinery. Such an event may also cause injury to workers, attract compensation claims, and lead to regulatory scrutiny or suspension of operations. Beyond the immediate property loss, prolonged business interruption may impair our ability to service customer orders, erode trust and materially reduce our revenues and profitability.

Although we have not experienced any major fire incident in the past and have taken adequate insurance policies for raw material, stock in process and finished stock covering fire-related losses, coverage may not be adequate to offset all damages, loss of profits, or third-party liabilities. Delays in settlement of claims may further strain our liquidity. There can be no assurance that our facilities will not face such incidents in the future or that any resulting losses will not materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, and results of operations. For further details of our insurance policy, please refer to the chapter titled 'Our Business' beginning on page 165 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

22. Our ginning operations are seasonal in nature, which may result in variability in production, inventory management challenges, and lower in-house consumption of cotton bales, thereby exposing us to operational and financial risks.

Raw cotton, the primary raw material for our ginning operations, is a seasonal crop available largely between October and March each year. Consequently, our ginning unit typically operates only for a period of approximately six to seven months during the cotton season, commencing in mid-September or October and continuing until March. During this period, we procure cotton in bulk from a large number of farmers and traders to meet both our in-season production requirements and to maintain stock for off-season sales.

The seasonal concentration of ginning operations creates several risks. First, we are required to make significant procurement commitments during the harvest period, which increases our dependence on availability of working capital and exposes us to fluctuations in cotton prices. Second, storing large inventories of cotton bales for off-season sales involves costs, requires robust storage infrastructure, and exposes us to risks of quality deterioration, pest infestation, or obsolescence during prolonged holding. Third, variations in the quality of raw cotton procured directly affect the grade of cotton bales produced. While superior quality cotton enables us to produce higher-grade cotton bales, such quality may not always align with the specifications required by our spinning unit, where consumption depends on yarn count and technical parameters. As a result, in-house utilization of cotton bales produced by our ginning unit is relatively lower, and a significant portion of the bales are sold in the market.

This seasonality and quality mismatch may lead to variability in production planning, reduced efficiency in vertical integration between our ginning and spinning operations, and reliance on external sales for monetization of cotton bales. Any disruption in the cotton season, whether due to adverse weather conditions, government policy interventions, or pricing volatility, may impair our ability to procure raw cotton, operate our ginning unit efficiently, or monetize the output. Such developments could adversely affect our operational performance, working capital cycle, cash flows, and overall financial condition.

23. We procure our raw materials primarily from farmers, traders and other ginning mills located across Gujarat, and any disruption in this supply region could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our operations depend on the uninterrupted procurement of raw cotton (for ginning unit during cotton season period from October to March) and cotton bales (for spinning unit throughout the year), which are primarily sourced from farmers, traders and other ginning mills located across Gujarat. While this regional concentration allows us to reduce transportation costs and lead times, it also exposes us to supply chain risks in the event of adverse developments affecting the cotton market in Gujarat.

Factors such as fluctuations in cotton production due to climatic conditions, pest infestations, changes in Minimum Support Prices (MSPs), government procurement or export restrictions, and regional labour unrest could materially affect the availability, pricing, or quality of cotton supplied from this region. Further, any disruption in logistics, regulatory interventions, or socio-political unrest within Gujarat may adversely impact our ability to source raw materials in a timely and cost-efficient manner.

As we do not maintain long-term contracts with our suppliers and generally procure raw materials through purchase orders, we may have limited ability to secure alternative sourcing arrangements on short notice if supply in Gujarat is constrained. Any prolonged disruption or adverse development in cotton availability in Gujarat could lead to increased procurement costs, production delays, underutilization of installed capacity, and ultimately, a material adverse effect on our business, cash flows, and financial performance.

24. Any shortfall or delay in funding the working capital requirements of our proposed Subsidiary, or inability to effectively utilise such funds, may adversely affect its business operations, financial condition and results of operations

Our proposed Subsidiary namely Falcon Yarns Private Limited requires adequate and timely working capital to support its day-to-day operations, including procurement of raw materials, payment to suppliers and employees, and maintenance of inventory levels. Any shortfall in, or delay in arranging, such working capital whether due to internal constraints, limited access to external financing, adverse market conditions, or regulatory restrictions may disrupt its operational efficiency.

Further, any inability to effectively deploy or utilise the working capital funds, including due to inefficient cash flow management, unforeseen expenses, or sub-optimal allocation of resources, may adversely impact the Subsidiary's productivity and profitability. This may result in delays in execution of orders, strained relationships with customers and suppliers, and increased operational costs.

Any such disruptions in the Subsidiary's operations may, in turn, have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. For further details see "Objects of the Issue- Inter-Corporate deposits for funding working capital requirement of Falcon Yarns Private Limited" on page 114.

25. Our business is subject to seasonal volatility on account of the nature of main raw material i.e. raw cotton as an agricultural commodity, and such seasonality may cause significant fluctuations in our revenue, results of operations, and financial condition.

Our business is primarily dependent on cotton, while raw cotton is available only during specific harvest period in India i.e. from October to March. The procurement cycle is concentrated during the harvest season, when cotton and cotton bales can be purchased in bulk and generally at more favorable terms. In contrast, during the off-season, the supply raw cotton is not possible and that of cotton bales becomes constrained, and prices are subject to significant fluctuations. This seasonality affects our procurement strategy and results in varying stocking requirements, which in turn impacts our working capital cycle and cost structure.

As a result, our revenues and profitability may be higher in certain quarters and lower in others, and the results of any one period may not accurately indicate the overall performance of our Company for a full financial year. Adverse weather conditions or unexpected disruptions in the cotton supply chain may further intensify these seasonal variations. While we adopt diligent procurement and inventory practices to mitigate such volatility, there can be no assurance that we will be able to manage these seasonal fluctuations effectively or that such factors will not have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

26. Our dependence on cotton exposes us to risks of price volatility, supply chain disruptions, and changes in government policies on cotton, which may materially affect our cost structure and margins.

Raw cotton and cotton bales constitute a major portion of our input costs. The price and availability of raw cotton and cotton bales are influenced by factors beyond our control, including crop yields, climatic conditions, pest infestations, government policies such as minimum support price (MSP), restrictions on exports or imports, and global demand-supply imbalances. Any increase in cotton prices or shortage in supply could materially raise our cost of production and compress our operating margins, especially in a competitive industry where increase in cost cannot always be passed on to customers. Our procurement arrangements are primarily short-term, and we do not have long-term supply contracts that guarantee fixed pricing or assured availability. This leaves us exposed to spot market fluctuations.

Although we maintain good relationships with multiple vendors and brokers and adopt procurement planning practices, there can be no assurance that such measures will insulate us from supply-side disruptions or price volatility, which may have a material adverse impact on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

27. We have certain contingent liabilities which, if materialized, may adversely affect our financial condition.

As of December 31, 2025, our contingent liabilities is as under:

(₹ in Lakhs)
Contingent Liabilities and Commitments	As at December 31, 2025

Bank Guarantee given to PGVCL	239.31
Total	239.31

As certified by S.N. Shah & Associates, Chartered Accountants, our Statutory Auditors, pursuant to their certificate dated June 4, 2026, bearing UDIN 26144892VXKVDP6282.

In the event any such contingencies mentioned above were to materialize or if our contingent liabilities were to increase in the future, our financial condition could be adversely affected. For further details, see the section entitled “Summary of contingent liabilities” and “Restated Financial Statements” on page 69 and page 239 of this Red Herring Prospectus respectively.

28. Delays or defaults in payments by our customers could increase our working capital requirements, impact our cash flows, and adversely affect our financial performance and condition.

We are engaged in the business of manufacturing and trading of carded, combed, and compact combed cotton yarns as well as cotton bales. Our sales are primarily undertaken on a credit basis, and we are exposed to the risk of delays or defaults in customer payments. Our ability to maintain a stable cash flow and liquidity position depends on the creditworthiness and timely payment behaviour of our customers. Any delay or default in payments, particularly where we have already deployed resources for fulfilling orders, can increase receivables, extend our working capital cycle, and adversely affect our operating cash flows.

Trade Receivables (in ₹ lakhs)	4,533.79	3,907.27	7,269.44	1,488.63
Trade Receivables Ratio	7.42	6.28	6.96	18.00

An increase in receivable days can lead to higher working capital requirements, dependence on external borrowings, and increased finance costs. For details, see “Restated Financial Information – Trade Receivables” on page 239 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

We currently do not have a formal written credit policy, which may expose us to inconsistent recovery practices and heightened credit risk. Factors such as financial stress of our customers, downturn in the textile or garmenting sectors, global economic volatility, or concentration of credit exposure to key customers may further aggravate payment delays or defaults. Any significant rise in bad debts would directly impact our profitability and financial stability.

Although we have not written off significant receivables in last three Fiscals, there can be no assurance that such delays or defaults will not occur in the future. Any adverse change in payment cycle could materially and adversely affect our cash flows, liquidity, ability to fund operations, and overall financial performance.

29. Outstanding dues to creditors may adversely affect our business, reputation, and financial condition

We have certain dues outstanding to our trade and other creditors. Delays or failure in settling these outstanding amounts in a timely manner may lead to strained relationships with suppliers and service providers, disruption in the supply chain, or withdrawal of credit support. Persistent or significant delays in payments could negatively impact our reputation, business operations, and creditworthiness. It may also result in legal claims, increased borrowing costs, or penalties, all of which could materially and adversely affect our financial condition and operational performance.

We actively manage our payables and maintain regular communication with creditors to ensure timely settlements. We align payment schedules with our cash flow planning to sustain healthy supplier relationships, ensuring supply chain stability and supporting our operational and financial performance.

Trade Payables (in ₹ lakhs)	5,515.88	3,946.57	6,507.06	2,215.74
Trade Payables Ratio	6.00	6.19	4.97	8.31

30. Our dependence on procuring raw cotton from farmers and traders directly and cotton bales from other ginning units and traders, without formal arrangements, exposes us to supply and price risks that may materially impact our operations, revenues, and financial performance.

While cotton bales are the principal raw material for our manufacturing of cotton yarn, we procure raw cotton from farmers and traders, which is then ginned and converted into cotton bales for further processing in-house or trading in the market. Additionally, we procure cotton bales from other ginning units and traders. We do not have any formal arrangements or long-term agreements with farmers or traders for the supply of such raw cotton and cotton bales. As a result, our procurement is subject to prevailing market conditions and availability at the time of purchase. This dependence increases our exposure to risks relating to timely supply, consistency of quality, and fluctuations in pricing.

The availability and pricing of raw cotton and cotton bales depend on several factors beyond our control, including crop yields, weather conditions, pest infestations, government procurement policies, global demand-supply dynamics and availability and pricing of cotton bales. Since our procurement relies on spot market purchases directly from farmers, traders and other ginning units, any adverse developments in these factors may lead to shortages, higher procurement costs, or delays in supply. Such disruptions could reduce our capacity utilization, increase our cost of production, and impair our ability to meet customer demand on time. If we are unable to pass on such increased costs to customers, our margins and profitability may be adversely affected.

While we maintain relationships with multiple traders and adopt procurement planning strategies, there can be no assurance that such measures will always be effective. Any inability to secure adequate quantities of raw cotton and cotton bales at competitive prices, or within the required timeframe, may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, and results of operations. For further details on our procurement operations and cost structure, refer to the chapters titled “Our Business” and “Restated Financial Information” beginning on page 165 and 239 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

31. We rely on third-party transportation and logistics service providers for procurement of raw materials and supply of our products, and any disruption or inefficiency in such services may materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

We do not maintain an in-house transportation fleet and depend entirely on third-party service providers for the movement of raw materials to our ginning and spinning facility at Halvad, Morbi, Gujarat, as well as for the delivery of our products to our customers. These services are typically engaged on a transactional, needs-based basis, and we do not generally enter into long-term contractual arrangements with such logistics providers.

This reliance exposes us to risks such as limited availability of vehicles during peak cotton procurement season, rising fuel and freight costs, delays in transit, accidents, strikes, natural calamities, regulatory restrictions, and congestion at ports or warehouses. Moreover, the value of cotton bales and yarn transported is significantly higher than the freight charges paid, making it difficult to recover adequate compensation in the event of loss, damage, or delay of goods in transit.

Any disruption in transportation services or delays in delivery of raw materials or products could impact our production schedules, lead to order cancellations, contractual penalties, or rejection of consignments, and damage customer relationships. Such events may materially and adversely affect our revenues, profitability, and overall business operations.

32. Any change in government policies relating to the textile or cotton sector, including Minimum Support Prices (MSPs), subsidies, or incentive schemes, may adversely affect our cost structure, supply chain, or customer demand, thereby impacting our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our business performance is closely linked to agricultural and textile sector policies formulated by the Central and State Governments. Cotton is an agricultural commodity and is significantly affected by government interventions such as MSPs, procurement programs, input subsidies to farmers, and restrictions on cotton imports or exports. Any change in such measures may materially impact the availability, pricing, and quality of cotton in the domestic market, thereby affecting our procurement planning and cost structure.

Additionally, several government schemes and incentives, including the Textile PLI (Production Linked Incentive) scheme, the Technology Upgradation Fund Scheme (TUFS), National Textile Policy, 2000 and Gujarat Textile Policy, 2024, are critical for maintaining competitiveness in the spinning and textile value chain. A rollback, reduction, delay, or uncertainty in the implementation of such schemes could increase operating costs or reduce profitability across the industry. Conversely, the introduction of new subsidy schemes could intensify competition, as existing and new players may undertake fresh capital investments, thereby increasing overall industry capacity and putting pressure on margins.

Beyond cotton pricing and textile-specific incentives, the industry is also vulnerable to wider regulatory and policy shifts. Labour law reforms, changes in environmental compliance norms, and disruptions arising from political or social unrest in key cotton-growing or textile-manufacturing states could lead to volatility in raw material supply chains or demand patterns.

We cannot assure that current levels of government support or favourable policy frameworks will continue. Any future adverse change in MSPs, subsidies, export-import regulations, or incentive schemes may materially and adversely impact our business operations, revenues, margins, and financial performance.

33. We have not made any alternate arrangements for meeting our capital requirements for the Objects of the Issue. Further we have not identified any alternate source of financing the “Objects of the Issue”. Any shortfall in raising / meeting the same could adversely affect our growth plans, operations, and financial performance.

As on date, we have not made any alternate arrangements for meeting our capital requirements for the objects of the Issue. We meet our capital requirements through our bank finance, owned funds and internal accruals. Any shortfall in our net owned funds, internal accruals and our inability to raise debt in future would result in us being unable to meet our capital requirements, which in turn will negatively affect our financial condition and the results of operations. Further we have not identified any alternate source of funding and hence any failure or delay on our part to raise money from this issue or any shortfall in the issue proceeds may delay the implementation schedule and could adversely affect our growth plans. For further details please refer to the chapter titled “Objects of the Issue” beginning on page 107 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

34. We have a limited operating history as a company, and our past performance may not be a reliable indicator of our future results or prospects.

Our Company was originally incorporated as Aastha Spintex Private Limited, a private limited company under the Companies Act, 1956, pursuant to a certificate of incorporation dated August 12, 2013, issued by the Registrar of Companies, Gujarat, Dadra and Nagar Haveli and we started setting up the plant in 2014, which commenced commercial operations in March, 2015. Subsequently, upon conversion into a public limited company, the name of our Company was changed to Aastha Spintex Limited, vide a fresh Certificate of Incorporation dated February 12, 2025. Given our Company’s limited operating history, we may not have sufficient experience to address the risks frequently encountered by early-stage companies, including our ability to successfully procure raw materials i.e. raw cotton and cotton bales, complete our orders or maintain adequate control of our costs and expenses.

This makes it difficult for investors to evaluate our past performance, long-term business model, or future growth prospects solely on the basis of our historical financial results. Accordingly, our financial results for prior periods should not be relied upon as indicators of future performance. While we continue to expand our operations and build scale, there can be no assurance that we will be able to successfully address the risks associated with our limited operating history, achieve consistent profitability, or meet investor expectations, and any inability to do so may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, and results of operations. For further details, see the sections titled “History and Certain Corporate Matters” and “Restated Financial Information” on pages 199 and 239 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

35. Our Manufacturing Facility and Registered Office are located in Gujarat, and a significant portion of our revenue is also derived from this state. As a result, we are exposed to geographic concentration risks that may adversely affect our operations, financial condition, and results of operations.

Our Manufacturing Facility and Registered Office are located in Halvad, Morbi, in the state of Gujarat, India. In addition, Gujarat contributes a major share of our operational revenue. For the nine-month period ended December 31, 2025, revenue from sales in Gujarat amounted to ₹ 30,073.20 lakhs, representing approximately 96.69% of our total revenue from sale of products. For further details, see “Restated Financial Information” on page 239 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

This operational and commercial concentration in Gujarat exposes us to significant geographic concentration risks. Any local or regional disruptions such as changes in state regulations, labour unrest, natural calamities such as floods, droughts, or earthquakes, industrial accidents, political or social unrest, or public health emergencies, could have a direct and adverse impact on both our production and sales functions.

While we have not experienced any material operational disruptions at our Manufacturing Facility in preceding three Fiscal years. Any significant disruption at our Manufacturing Facility could delay production, result in inventory build-up, impair our ability to meet customer orders, and disrupt our supply chain. These factors could lead to order cancellations, contractual penalties, customer attrition, and reputational harm, thereby adversely affecting our revenue and profitability. Given the absence of geographic diversification in both our operations and customer base, any adverse event impacting the state of Gujarat may have a material and disproportionate effect on our overall business, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows.

36. Our business is dependent on the adequate and uninterrupted supply of power and water at a reasonable cost, and any shortage or increase in cost may adversely impact our operations and profitability.

Our manufacturing operations are power-intensive and require continuous and reliable electricity to run our machinery at optimal capacity. We have access to the necessary utilities such as air, electricity, and water at our manufacturing facility in Halvad, Morbi, Gujarat. Our power requirements are met partly through renewable energy and partly through grid supply. Specifically, our facility is supported by an installed 1 MW rooftop solar power unit, a 4 MW ground-mounted solar power plant, and a 2.7 MW wind power plant, in addition to power drawn from our connection with PGVCL (Paschim Gujarat Vij Company Limited). During the nine-month period ended December 31, 2025, solar and wind power together constituted 60.00% of our total power consumption.

Despite these measures, we remain exposed to risks relating to fluctuations in power availability, grid outages, variability in renewable energy generation, and increases in per-unit power costs. Any material increase in tariffs or reduction in renewable energy benefits may raise our operating expenses, and we may not always be able to pass such increases on to our customers, which could impact our margins.

Our operations also depend on the adequate supply of water, which is typically met through borewells and third-party sources, supported by storage tanks within our facility. Any shortage in water availability, deterioration in quality, or increase in associated costs may disrupt production schedules, impair product quality, or necessitate additional expenditure on alternative sourcing.

While we have invested in renewable energy assets and water storage facilities to minimize such risks, there can be no assurance that we will always have access to adequate and cost-effective power and water. Any disruption or material increase in costs of these critical inputs may adversely affect our capacity utilization, business operations, financial condition, and results of operations.

37. Our investments in renewable energy assets such as wind turbines and solar plants involve significant capital costs, ongoing maintenance, and lifecycle risks, which may reduce the expected benefits of such projects.

We have made substantial investments in renewable energy infrastructure, including wind turbines, ground-mounted solar plants, and rooftop solar panels, to cater to our captive power requirements. These assets involve high upfront capital expenditure, regular maintenance, and periodic replacement of key components such as solar panels and inverters of solar plants, and blades and turbine parts of wind mills. Over time, efficiency levels may also decline due to degradation of solar modules or wear and tear in wind turbine equipment.

If these assets underperform, require unexpected repair, or face delays in procurement of spare parts, the anticipated cost savings from captive power generation may not materialize as planned. In such circumstances, we may have to incur additional operating expenses to maintain stable production, which could adversely impact our margins. Furthermore, if regulatory requirements relating to renewable energy installations tighten in the future, we may be required to incur further capital expenditure to remain compliant.

While we seek to maintain and operate our renewable assets efficiently through specialized agencies, there can be no assurance that such projects will continue to deliver the expected benefits, or that unforeseen costs and performance issues will not adversely affect our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

38. The generation of electricity from our solar and wind captive power plants depends on climatic conditions, and unfavorable weather or environmental factors may reduce output, increase costs, and adversely impact our business.

Our reliance on captive solar and wind energy for our business operations exposes us to risks arising from climatic conditions and operational factors, which may affect our ability to meet power requirements at optimal cost. We meet a significant part of our power needs through these captive renewable energy assets, including wind turbines, ground-mounted solar plants, and rooftop solar panels installed at our premises. While this reduces dependence on external suppliers, the performance of these assets depends heavily on climatic and environmental conditions such as wind speed, solar irradiation, temperature, and dust levels. Periods of low wind or reduced sunlight may lower generation, requiring us to manage production schedules around available power or incur higher operating costs by supplementing with alternate arrangements.

Our renewable energy systems are also exposed to risks such as equipment failure, panel degradation, inverter malfunction, or damage caused by severe weather or environmental conditions. Ground-mounted and rooftop installations may further be affected by shading from nearby structures, dust accumulation, or construction activity in the surrounding areas. Any significant reduction in generation capacity or prolonged downtime in these assets could affect our ability to run operations efficiently and increase our production costs.

While we maintain and monitor our renewable energy infrastructure, there can be no assurance that these assets will always perform at expected levels, or that unfavorable climatic conditions or technical issues will not adversely affect our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

39. Our raw materials and finished products are susceptible to deterioration and colour fading during storage, which may result in losses, reduced realizations, and adverse impact on our profitability.

We store both raw materials and finished products at warehouses located within our factory premises. Cotton is naturally prone to deterioration and discoloration over time due to factors such as exposure to air, humidity, or prolonged storage. In particular, raw cotton may lose its whiteness and finished yarn may experience colour fading if not consumed or sold within a reasonable period. If raw materials remain unused or finished products remain unsold for extended durations, they may become unsuitable for processing or fail to meet customer quality expectations. In such cases, we may be required to either scrap the affected inventory, reprocess or sell it at discounted prices. This would not only lead to direct financial loss but may also disrupt our production schedule if replacement material is not available on time.

Furthermore, accumulation of deteriorated stock may increase storage costs and working capital pressures. However, we adopt inventory management practices to minimize such risks, there can be no assurance that our raw materials or finished goods will not be subject to deterioration or colour fading during storage, and any such occurrence may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

40. Some of our Promoters do not possess formal higher education, which may be perceived as a limitation.

Some of our Promoters, namely Mr. Divyang Jashvantbhai Patel, Mr. Jashvant Valjibhai Patel, and Mr. Rasiklal Valjibhai Patel, do not possess formal higher education qualifications. While this may be perceived as a limitation, our Promoters have acquired extensive practical experience, industry knowledge, and business acumen over the years, which have contributed significantly to the operations and growth of our Company.

We believe that their experience in the textile sector provides them with the skills required to manage our business effectively. However, there can be no assurance that the absence of formal higher education will not be viewed unfavourably by certain stakeholders, or that it will not have any impact on our ability to adopt evolving corporate practices.

41. Our Company, Promoters, Directors, KMPs, SMPs, and Group Entities are parties to certain legal proceedings. Any adverse decision in such proceedings may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our Promoters, Directors, KMPs, SMPs, and Group Entities are party to certain legal proceedings. These legal proceedings are pending at different levels of adjudication before various courts. A summary of outstanding litigation proceedings involving Our Promoters, Directors, KMPs, SMPs, and Group Entities, as on the date of this Red Herring Prospectus as disclosed in “Outstanding Litigations and Material Developments” on page 328, and in terms of the SEBI (ICDR) Regulations and the Materiality Policy is provided below:

Name	By/ Against	Civil Proceedings	Criminal Proceedings	Tax Proceedings	Actions by Regulatory Authorities	Amount Involved

There can be no assurance that ongoing litigations involving our Promoters, Directors, KMPs, SMPs, and Group Entities will be resolved in their favour. These proceedings may divert management’s attention, consume corporate resources, and lead to significant legal expenses. An adverse outcome in such cases could materially impact our reputation, business, financial condition, and results of operations, potentially affecting the trading price of our Equity Shares. Even if we are successful in defending these matters, the legal and related costs may still be substantial. Furthermore, we cannot guarantee that similar proceedings will not arise in the future, which could further adversely affect our business, cash flows, financial condition, and results of operations.

42. Majority of our Directors, including our entire executive management team, do not have prior experience as directors of a listed company, which could pose governance and compliance risks.

Our Company has historically operated as a private limited company. Following the listing of our Equity Shares, we will be subject to the comprehensive compliance and disclosure requirements of the SEBI (LODR) Regulations and other regulations applicable to listed entities in India.

As of the date of this Red Herring Prospectus, seven of our eight Directors do not have prior experience serving on the board of a listed company in India. This includes our Chairman and Managing Director, our Whole-Time Director, our Executive Director, and our Non-Executive Director, as well as three of our four Independent Directors whose prior listed entity experience was in executive or compliance roles, not as directors. Only one of our Independent Directors has prior experience serving as a director on the board of a listed company.

The lack of prior board-level experience among the majority of our Directors, particularly our entire executive management team, may pose challenges in navigating these complex regulatory requirements. These risks include, but are not limited to, potential difficulties in ensuring timely and accurate financial reporting, adhering to strict corporate governance norms, and managing investor relations and material event disclosures as required by SEBI. Any failure or delay in compliance could subject our Company to fines, penalties, or other regulatory actions, which may strain our resources, divert management's attention, and adversely affect our business, reputation, and financial condition.

43. Our Company may incur penalties or liabilities for non-compliances with certain provisions of the GST Act, Income Tax Act, and other applicable laws.

Our Company has made non-compliances with certain provisions including lapsed/ made delay in certain filings and/or erroneous filing/ non-filing of e-forms under applicable acts to it in the last 5 years. However, we have paid the due amount along with interest to comply with the provisions of the law. Such non-compliances/delay Compliances/ erroneous filing/ non-registration may incur the penalties or liabilities which may affect the results of operations and financial conditions of the company in near future. The details of late filings in past years are given below:

Particulars	Financial period from April 2025 to December 2025	Financial Year 2025	Financial Year 2024	Financial Year 2023

The reasons for such delay were attributable to the operational issue, such as website glitch or change in respective online portal. Further, the Company is taking mitigation steps to address and reduce these delays such as:

1. Training and development sessions for the staff.
2. Prior planning and preparing compliance calendar.
3. Collaboration with professionals, wherever required.

Although the company has implemented such measures, we cannot assure you that we will not face any such similar situations in near future. Further, there can be situations where such delays are beyond the control of the company. In that case, even the mitigation steps mentioned above may not be effective and Company might have to face any notice or legal action and leading to fines and penalties.

44. Unsecured loans taken by our Company can be recalled by the lenders at any time.

As on December 31, 2025, our Company has outstanding unsecured loans amounting to ₹ 472.44 Lakhs raised from Related Parties. These loans are repayable on demand and there is no fixed repayment schedule for repayment of the loan and may be recalled by the lenders at any time. In the event that any lender demands repayment of any such loan, our Company would need to find alternative sources of financing, which may not be available on commercially reasonable terms, or at all. This could affect our company's liquidity.

If we are unable to procure such financing, we may not have adequate working capital to maintain the desired inventory level. As a result, any such demand could materially and adversely affect our business, cash flows, financial condition, and results of operations. Further, we cannot assure you that our Company will not convert all or part of the outstanding unsecured loans advanced to our Company into Equity Shares which may lead to the dilution of investors' shareholdings in our Company. Any such future equity issuances by us to such unsecured loan holders may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares, which may lead to other adverse consequences including difficulty in raising capital through offering of the Equity Shares or incurring additional debt. In addition, any perception by investors that such issuances might occur may also affect the market price of the Equity Shares. For further details on financing arrangements entered into by our company, please refer to "Financial Indebtedness" on page 303 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

45. Certain borrowings availed by our Company are secured by personal guarantees and personal properties of our Promoters, and enforcement of such collateral and personal guarantees by lenders could adversely affect our Promoters' ability to support our business and may have reputational, financial, or operational consequences.

In connection with borrowings availed by our Company, our Promoters, including Vivek Rasiklal Gothi, Jashvant Valjibhai Patel, and Rasiklal Valjibhai Patel, have provided personal guarantees and personal properties as collateral security. While this arrangement has enabled us to access financing on competitive terms, it creates a reliance on the personal assets of our Promoters for maintaining such credit facilities.

The continued pledge of personal properties by our Promoters may give rise to potential conflicts of interest in certain circumstances. In the event of any default by our Company, lenders may initiate enforcement action against the collateral and personal guarantees provided by our Promoters. Such action could materially affect our Promoters' financial flexibility and impair their ability to continue supporting our business, whether through additional capital infusion, strategic guidance, or personal guarantees.

Further, reliance on Promoters' personal properties as collateral may also have reputational implications and could affect the perception of our creditworthiness in the market. There can be no assurance that continued dependence on Promoter-provided collateral will not have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, and prospects.

46. Our lenders have created security interests over our movable and immovable properties in connection with the financing facilities availed by us, and any enforcement of such security could adversely affect our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

We have availed secured borrowing facilities from banks and financial institutions, and in connection therewith, we have created charges over certain of our movable and immovable properties, including plant and machinery, inventories, receivables, and other current assets. As on December 31, 2025, an aggregate of ₹ 6,102.25 lakhs was outstanding towards such secured borrowings. For further details, see "Financial Indebtedness" on page 303 of the Red Herring Prospectus.

In the event of any default in repayment of principal or interest obligations, or breach of any term of the financing agreements, our lenders may enforce their security interests and initiate recovery proceedings, including seizure and sale of secured assets. Any such enforcement could disrupt our operations, impair our ability to utilize critical assets, and materially affect our liquidity and cash flows.

Although we have not experienced any material delays or defaults in repayment of our borrowings during preceding three Fiscals, there can be no assurance that such instances will not occur in the future. Any enforcement action by lenders could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, and prospects.

47. We are subject to restrictive covenants under our financing agreements that may limit our operational and financial flexibility. Any default or breach of these covenants could lead to acceleration of repayment obligations, enforcement of security interests, cross-defaults, or termination of financing arrangements, which may materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

We have availed secured short-term and long-term borrowings from banks and financial institutions. As on December 31, 2025, an aggregate of ₹ 6,102.25 lakhs was outstanding towards secured loans. These borrowings are secured by way of mortgage over certain of our fixed assets, hypothecation of our current assets (both present and future), and personal properties of our Promoters provided as collateral. For further details, see "Financial Indebtedness" on page 303 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

In the event of non-compliance with financial or non-financial covenants, or failure to make timely payments, such breaches may constitute events of default. Consequences of such defaults may include termination of the relevant facility, imposition of penal interest, acceleration of repayment obligations, enforcement of security over our assets or Promoters' collateral, and restrictions on our ability to raise further borrowings. Certain of our agreements also contain cross-default provisions, which may trigger simultaneous enforcement action by multiple lenders.

Further, our lenders reserve the discretion to renew, enhance, reduce, suspend, or cancel our credit facilities, or to modify the terms and conditions of such facilities. Any adverse action by lenders whether refusal to renew, reduction in sanctioned limits, or enforcement of security may significantly impact our liquidity, cash flows, and operational continuity.

While we believe we are in compliance with the terms of our financing agreements, there can be no assurance that we will continue to do so in the future, or that lenders will waive any breach or grant requisite consents in a timely manner. Any failure to comply with these covenants, or any enforcement action initiated by lenders, could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, and prospects.

48. Our business operations rely on the availability of labour, and any shortage or unavailability of labour could disrupt our operations and adversely impact our performance.

Our business operations depend on the availability and retention of labour and daily wage workers, with whom we have long-term working relationships. If we are unable to retain or recruit such labour, our business could be adversely affected. While our employees are not currently unionized, there is no guarantee they will not seek unionization in the future. Any such action could disrupt our flexible labour policies, increase costs, and negatively impact our operations.

Additionally, amendments to labour laws, including those related to wages, social security, and occupational safety, may lead to higher employee costs and compliance expenses, which could affect our margins. Furthermore, challenges in recruiting and retaining skilled workers could have a material adverse effect on our business. We cannot assure that such disruptions will not occur in the future, potentially impacting our profitability and financial condition.

49. Our growth and financial performance are dependent on factors influencing the demand for cotton yarns and any adverse changes in such factors may materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

The demand for our products such as carded, combed and compact combed cotton yarns and cotton bales is closely linked to trends in the domestic and international textile industries. Our yarns are used in both weaving and knitting applications, catering to a broad range of end-use segments including denim, shirting, home textiles, terry towels, sweaters, socks, and industrial fabrics. The consumption of cotton yarn is influenced by macroeconomic conditions, growth in apparel and home textile industries, urbanisation, household income levels, and export demand from global buyers. Any slowdown in economic growth, reduction in disposable incomes, or contraction in consumer spending could adversely affect demand for downstream textile products, which in turn may reduce demand for our yarns and bales.

The demand for cotton yarn is also sensitive to government interventions such as changes in Minimum Support Prices (MSPs), procurement policies, export restrictions, or modifications in import duties on cotton. Unfavourable changes in such policies could affect both the cost and availability of raw cotton and the competitiveness of cotton yarn compared to synthetic or blended yarn alternatives. In addition, the continuation or withdrawal of industry schemes and incentives, such as the Textile PLI (Production Linked Incentive) scheme, the Technology Upgradation Fund Scheme (TUFS), may impact sectoral competitiveness and demand.

In international markets, our sales are exposed to factors such as global cotton price movements, exchange rate fluctuations, changes in trade policies of importing countries, tariff or non-tariff barriers, and shifting customer preferences toward man-made fibres. Geopolitical tensions, regulatory restrictions, or global trade disruptions could also impact export volumes routed through our reseller.

Given the concentration of our revenues in cotton yarn and bales, any sustained downturn in demand whether due to economic slowdown, consumer preference shifts, policy changes, or adverse global trade developments may materially and adversely affect our growth prospects, revenues, profitability, cash flows, and overall financial condition.

50. Our growth is directly linked to the performance of the textile and apparel industry, and any slowdown or shift in demand within these segments may adversely impact our revenues and profitability.

We are engaged in the manufacture of cotton yarn, which serves as an intermediate product in the textile value chain. Our yarn is primarily used by fabric manufacturers and subsequently in the production of apparel, garments, home textiles, and other end uses. Accordingly, the demand for our products is closely tied to the growth, consumption patterns, and competitiveness of the textile and apparel sectors, both in domestic and export markets.

The cotton yarn industry faces intense competition from man-made and synthetic yarns, which have gained wider acceptance due to evolving fashion trends, cost advantages, and government incentives for man-made fiber-based textiles. Any shift in consumer preference from cotton to synthetics, or prolonged downturn in the domestic or international apparel markets, could directly affect the demand for our products. In such circumstances, our sales volumes, pricing power, and profitability may come under pressure. There can be no assurance that growth in the textile and apparel industry will remain robust, or that demand for cotton yarn will not decline in favor of substitutes. Any such slowdown or shift in demand may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

51. Our inability to maintain an optimal level of inventory may adversely affect our operations, working capital, and ability to meet customer demand.

Our operations are heavily dependent on maintaining adequate inventory levels of raw materials and finished goods, which in turn are determined by projected sales and seasonal procurement cycles. Maintaining optimal inventory is critical to ensuring timely production, meeting customer orders, and sustaining consistent sales.

If we overstock inventory, our working capital requirements increase, and we are exposed to risks of higher storage costs, deterioration or obsolescence of stock, and pressure on liquidity. Conversely, if we understock inventory, we may not be able to respond to customer demand on time, resulting in potential loss of sales, strained customer relationships, and reduced market share. Further, any mismatch between our demand forecasts and the actual offtake by customers could disrupt production planning and adversely affect our operating performance. However, we adopt inventory monitoring practices, there can be no assurance that our inventory levels will always remain optimal, and any such imbalance may materially and adversely impact our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

52. We may not be able to adequately protect our intellectual property, including our trademarks, and any failure to do so may adversely affect our business, reputation, and goodwill.

Building recognition for our brand and maintaining its distinctiveness is critical to our business, as it enables us to compete effectively in domestic and export markets. Our brand name and logo are important in establishing trust with customers, suppliers, and other stakeholders. As on the date of this Red Herring Prospectus, our Company has registered the following trademark with the Registrar of Trademarks under the Trademarks Act, 1999:

Sr. No.	Name of the IPR registration/ license	Type of Trademark	Registration Number	Date of registration/ application	Class	Status
1.	AASTHA Spintex* 	Device	2937732	April 9, 2015	23	Registered

As on the date of this RHP, the online records of the Trademarks Registry reflect the proprietor's name as 'Aastha Spintex Private Limited'. An application dated July 10, 2025, has been submitted to record the change of name from 'Private Limited' to 'Public Limited' with the Trademarks Registry, and approval is awaited. The trademark proprietor details will be updated to reflect the new name upon approval.*

Our rights to use this registered trademark are subject to renewal at periodic intervals. Any failure to renew such registration may impair our right to use the mark in future. Further, while we have made efforts to protect our intellectual property, there can be no assurance that our measures will be adequate. Unregistered or unprotected elements of our intellectual property may be vulnerable to third-party claims, which could result in erosion of our business value and reputation.

Third parties may attempt to infringe, imitate, or misuse our registered trademark, brand name, or logo. We may not always be able to detect such unauthorised use or take timely and effective legal action to prevent it. The use of deceptively similar or identical marks by competitors or other parties could mislead customers, dilute our brand equity, and result in loss of reputation or business opportunities.

Although we have not encountered any unauthorised use or infringement of our intellectual property during the last three Fiscals, there can be no assurance that we will be able to protect our intellectual property in the future. Any failure to adequately enforce our intellectual property rights, or defend against third-party claims, may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, and goodwill. For further details, see the section titled "Government and Other Statutory Approvals" on page 333 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

53. Our business depends on our ability to consistently maintain stringent quality standards. Any failure to meet customer-prescribed specifications may result in product rejections, order cancellations, reputational harm, and adverse impact on our financial performance.

We are engaged in the manufacturing and trading of carded, combed and compact combed cotton yarns and cotton bales, which are primarily supplied to textile manufacturers, yarn exporters, bulk purchasers, and fabric processors in the B2B segment. These buyers often operate under strict technical parameters driven by both domestic and export market requirements. Our customers prescribe benchmarks relating to strength, uniformity, twist, elongation, and appearance. Consistent adherence to these specifications is critical to sustaining long-term relationships and repeat orders.

Our spinning operations at Halvad, Morbi, Gujarat involve multiple interdependent processes including opening, cleaning, carding, combing, spinning, winding, and final packaging. Each stage requires precision, skilled manpower, and continuous monitoring. Variations in raw cotton quality, equipment malfunction, operator error, or deviation from prescribed process norms may result in defects such as unevenness, excessive hairiness, or low tensile strength. Such defects could lead to rejection of consignments, customer complaints, cancellation of orders, or erosion of our reputation in the textile value chain.

Our reputation in both domestic and export-linked markets is closely tied to our ability to deliver cotton yarns that meet consistent and reliable quality standards. Customers may conduct internal testing or engage accredited third-party laboratories before accepting shipments, and in many cases, we are required to provide samples for technical evaluation before bulk orders. Any failure to meet these benchmarks at the sample stage, during pre-dispatch testing, or post-delivery inspection may result in loss of sales and impair our standing with existing and potential customers.

While we have an in-house laboratory and Quality Team at our Manufacturing Facility that conducts testing at various stages of production, supported by semi-automated machinery and standard operating procedures designed to maintain uniformity, there can be no assurance that defects will not arise. Any deterioration in customer confidence could adversely affect our order pipeline, revenue visibility, and overall competitiveness.

Although we have not faced any material product rejections or quality-related order cancellations during the nine-month period ended December 31, 2025, and for Fiscal 2025, Fiscal 2024 or Fiscal 2023, there can be no assurance that such issues will not occur in the future. Despite continued investments in preventive maintenance, workforce training, and quality assurance systems, any inability to maintain or upgrade these measures in line with evolving customer requirements may constrain our ability to sustain quality performance and could negatively affect our long-term customer relationships and financial results.

54. If we are unable to accurately forecast customer demand and maintain optimal inventory levels of cotton bales and finished yarn, our business, results of operations, and financial condition may be adversely affected.

Our operations are critically dependent on our ability to anticipate demand accurately and align procurement of raw cotton, production schedules, and inventory management. Cotton bales, our primary raw material, are seasonally procured between October and March, when availability is higher and procurement costs are relatively lower. To ensure uninterrupted production throughout the year, we build buffer stocks of cotton bales and also maintain finished yarn inventory to service customers who often operate with short lead times and fluctuating order volumes.

Our current order book at times exceeds our installed production capacity, and to cater to this growing demand we have proposed the acquisition of Falcon Yarns Private Limited, which is expected to enhance our spindle capacity and broaden our production base. Until such capacity addition is fully integrated and operational, we may face challenges in timely meeting customer requirements, which could strain relationships and impact our ability to capitalize on demand opportunities.

Any misjudgment in demand forecasting may further expose us to risks of under-stocking or over-stocking. Under-stocking of cotton bales or finished yarn could impair our ability to fulfil customer orders in a timely manner, resulting in loss of business opportunities, weakened customer relationships, and suboptimal utilization of our Manufacturing Facility. Conversely, excess stocking of cotton or finished goods may increase storage and financing costs, strain our working capital cycle, and expose us to risks of deterioration in raw cotton quality, which is sensitive to moisture and storage conditions.

For the nine-month period ended December 31, 2025, and for Fiscal 2025, Fiscal 2024, and Fiscal 2023, our inventory turnover ratio was 1.74 times, 3.15 times, and 4.31 times, and 4.01 times, respectively, and inventory constituted 64.59%, 61.59%, 37.11%, and 54.08% of our total current assets for the respective periods. While we have not experienced any material inventory obsolescence or disposal during these periods, there can be no assurance that such issues will not arise in the future.

Any sustained mismatch between forecasted demand and actual consumption could adversely affect our ability to manage costs, meet customer expectations, and maintain profitability. If we are unable to optimize inventory levels on an ongoing basis, it could materially impact our cash flows, working capital cycle, and overall financial condition.

55. We may not be successful in implementing our business and growth strategies.

The success of our business is largely dependent on our ability to effectively implement our business and growth strategies. While we have been able to execute our strategies successfully in the past, there is no assurance that we will be able to implement them on time, within the estimated budget, or meet the expectations of our targeted customers or projects in the future. Changes in applicable regulations could also pose challenges to the implementation of our strategies. Additionally, our growth strategies may place substantial demands on our management team and resources, requiring ongoing development and improvement of our operational, financial, and other controls, none of which can be guaranteed. Failure to effectively implement our business and growth strategies may have a significant negative impact on our business, results of operations, and overall financial performance.

56. We operate in a highly competitive industry and face competition from both domestic and international yarn manufacturers as well as from the increasing use of synthetic fibres. Our inability to effectively respond to these challenges could adversely affect our business, profitability, and market position.

The Indian textile industry is fragmented and characterized by the presence of large integrated manufacturers, medium-sized regional players, and international suppliers. We compete primarily on the basis of product quality, consistency, customization, customer relationships, pricing, and timely delivery. Our competitors include established domestic mills with larger installed capacities, vertically integrated textile groups that enjoy downstream access to fabric and garment production, and international manufacturers from lower-cost jurisdictions.

Many of these competitors benefit from longer operating histories, greater brand recognition, access to cheaper raw materials or capital, better distribution networks, and larger economies of scale. These advantages may enable them to absorb raw material price fluctuations more effectively or extend more favourable commercial terms to customers, thereby placing pressure on our pricing and margins. Additionally, consolidation within the textile sector and the potential entry of well-capitalized global players may intensify competitive pressures.

Our competitors may also invest more aggressively in advanced spinning technologies, automation, or backward integration into cotton procurement and ginning, enhancing their operational efficiencies and product offerings. Failure on our part to match such investments or to continuously upgrade our product mix could create barriers to sustaining growth and erode our relative competitiveness.

Further, the global and domestic textile industry is experiencing a gradual shift in demand from cotton yarns to synthetic alternatives such as polyester, nylon, and elastane. These synthetic fibres offer cost efficiency, durability, wrinkle resistance, and faster drying times, and are particularly suited to the requirements of the fast-fashion segment. The increasing adoption of such fibres by fabric and apparel manufacturers could reduce demand for cotton yarns and impact our ability to expand sales volumes.

Given our exclusive focus on cotton-based yarns and bales, aggressive competition or structural shifts in customer preferences could result in pricing pressure, loss of customers, underutilization of capacity, and reduced profitability. While we believe our focus on quality, customization, and long-standing relationships with buyers in Gujarat and through our reseller network provides us with a competitive edge, there can be no assurance that we will be able to continue to compete successfully against existing or future competitors.

57. Certain agreements, deeds or licenses, statutory approvals and certificates may be in the previous name of the company, we have to update the name of our company in all the statutory approvals and certificates due to the conversion of our Company.

Our Company was originally incorporated as Aastha Spintex Private Limited and was subsequently converted into a public limited company and renamed Aastha Spintex Limited. Pursuant to this change, certain agreements, deeds, licences, statutory approvals, and certificates obtained in the name of our erstwhile private limited company continue to remain in the previous name.

Following certificates is in the previous name of the company:

Sr. No.	Nature of Registration / License/ Agreement/ Certification	Issuing Authority/ Party	Purpose	Date of Application
1.	Registration of trademark 'AASTHA Spintex' (device mark), bearing registration number 2937732 under class 23, dated April 09, 2015.	Controller General of Patents, Designs and Trade Marks (Trade Marks Registry), India	Protection of brand identity in respect of yarns and threads by securing exclusive statutory rights to use the 'AASTHA Spintex' device mark in Class 23 and to restrain unauthorized use by third parties.	July 10, 2025

We have initiated the process of updating such documents with the relevant counterparties and authorities. However, there can be no assurance that all such changes will be completed in a timely manner, or at all. Any delay or failure in updating these documents to reflect our current name may result in difficulties in relying on such approvals, complications in enforcing contractual rights, increased compliance costs, and potential regulatory or legal challenges. These factors may, individually or in the aggregate, have a material adverse effect on our business, operations, financial condition, and results of operations.

58. Under-utilization of our manufacturing capacities, or our inability to effectively utilize our installed capacities, could adversely affect our business, prospects, and financial performance.

As on the date of this Red Herring Prospectus, our Manufacturing Facility at Halvad, Morbi, Gujarat has an installed capacity of 25,920 spindles across 15 compact ring spinning machines, a cotton yarn production capacity of 7,700 MT per annum, and an annual ginning capacity of 12,000 MT of cotton bales.

The following table sets forth the capacity utilization of the Company's products at our Manufacturing Facility for the specified periods:

Product Segment	December 31, 2025			Fiscal 2025			Fiscal 2024			Fiscal 2023
	Installed Capacity (Mt) [#]	Production (Mt)	Capacity Utilisation (%)	Installed Capacity (Mt)	Production (Mt)	Capacity Utilisation (%)	Installed Capacity (Mt)	Production (Mt)	Capacity Utilisation (%)	Installed Capacity (Mt)	Production (Mt)	Capacity Utilisation (%)
Cotton Yarns	5,800	5134	88.52%	7,700	7,436	97.01%	7,700	7,361	95.60%	6,400	6,137	95.89%
Cotton Bales	9,000	6797	75.52%	12,000	9,897	82.48%	12,000	9,526	79.38%	12,000	8,531	71.09%

[#] Not annualised

Note: As certified by S.K Patel, Independent Chartered Engineer, pursuant to his certificate dated March 23, 2026

Capacity utilization is calculated on the basis of installed production capacity and actual production for the respective financial periods. For further details, see "Our Business – Capacity Utilization" on page 178.

Our capacity utilization is subject to fluctuations depending on factors such as market demand, seasonality in cotton procurement, availability and pricing of raw cotton, customer order visibility, competitive pricing dynamics, availability of skilled labour, maintenance shutdowns, and external disruptions. Prolonged under-utilization may result in sub-optimal usage of assets, lower economies of scale, and an increase in per unit production costs.

Although we have historically maintained near-optimal capacity utilization, there can be no assurance that we will be able to continue to operate at similar levels in the future. Any significant reduction in demand for cotton yarn or cotton bales, inability to procure cotton at viable prices, or failure to secure sufficient sales orders could lead to lower utilization of our Manufacturing Facility. This may affect our ability to absorb fixed overheads, erode margins, and impact our profitability. In the event of sustained under-utilization, we may also be unable to recover the investments made in our plant and machinery, while incurring increased maintenance and holding costs.

59. Our insurance coverage may not adequately protect us against all risks associated with our business and operations, and any uninsured, underinsured, or excluded losses could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, and cash flows.

We have obtained adequate insurance policies to mitigate risks typically associated with the operation of our integrated manufacturing facility and related activities. These include industrial risk policies covering damage to buildings, plant and machinery, and furniture and fixtures, motor insurance, raw material and finished stocks related policy and employee compensation insurance. For further details, see “Our Business – Insurance” on page 182 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

While we believe that the insurance coverage we have obtained is consistent with industry practice, it may not be adequate to cover all risks or the full extent of potential losses. Certain events may be excluded from coverage, may not be insurable on commercially reasonable terms, or may be subject to limitations, deductibles, or other conditions. For example, losses arising from extraordinary natural disasters, pandemics such as COVID-19, accidents or breakdowns not falling within the scope of standard policies, or damages exceeding applicable policy limits may not be recoverable.

Our policies are subject to periodic renewal, and there can be no assurance that such renewals will always be granted on a timely basis, on terms favourable to us, or at premium levels consistent with current terms. Any delay in renewal, non-renewal, or significant increase in premiums could increase our operational risks and costs. Although we have not experienced any material instance of insurance non-renewal, rejected claims, or shortfall in coverage during the nine-month period ended December 31, 2025, and for the Fiscal 2025, Fiscal 2024, or Fiscal 2023, there can be no assurance that such issues will not arise in the future.

To the extent that we suffer loss, damage, or liability for which we are uninsured, underinsured, or where recovery is delayed or denied by insurers, we would be required to bear such costs ourselves. This could materially and adversely affect our operations, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows.

60. Technological changes in the textile industry may render our manufacturing facility and machinery less competitive or obsolete, which could adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Our competitiveness and future success depend, in part, on our ability to adopt and respond to technological advancements and evolving industry practices in the textile sector. Continuous modernization and upgradation of machinery are essential in our spinning operations to improve quality, enhance productivity, and reduce costs. If our existing machinery and technology are not upgraded on a timely basis, they may become less efficient or obsolete, which could impair our ability to meet customer requirements and reduce our competitive edge.

The textile industry is witnessing increasing automation and adoption of advanced spinning technologies, which often involve significant capital expenditure. Implementation of such upgrades carries technical and business risks, and there is no assurance that we will be able to adapt to such changes cost-effectively. Further, failure to upgrade our machinery in line with emerging industry standards may result in reduced operating efficiency, higher production costs, or an inability to meet evolving product specifications of customers.

We cannot assure you that we will always be able to successfully implement new technologies, procure advanced machinery at competitive prices, or adapt our processes to changing customer requirements. If we are unable, for technical, financial, or other reasons, to adapt in a timely manner to technological changes, our manufacturing operations, revenues, and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

61. The Contracts in our order book may be adjusted, cancelled, or suspended by our clients at their discretion, and therefore our order book is not necessarily indicative of future revenues or earnings.

Our order book reflects anticipated revenue from awarded contracts based on the assumption that they will proceed as scheduled. However, there can be no assurance that the contracts included in our order book will be realized as revenue or, if realized, will result in profit. During periods of economic slowdown or market instability, the likelihood of contract adjustments, cancellations, or suspensions may increase. Any such delays or cancellations could adversely impact our cash flows, revenues, and profitability.

62. The average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares by our Promoters is lower than the issue price of the Equity Shares offered through the present Issue.

The average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares of our Promoters as on the date of this Red Herring Prospectus is as follows:

Name of Promoter	Number of Equity Shares Held	Average cost per Equity Share (in ₹)
Patel Divyang Jashwantbhai	56,66,355	12.14
Rasiklal Valjibhai Patel	52,78,247	12.48
Gothi Vivek Rasiklal	51,25,541	13.12
Jashvant Valjibhai Patel	45,66,880	15.60

 As certified by S.N. Shah & Associates, Chartered Accountants, our Statutory Auditors, pursuant to their certificate dated June 16, 2026, bearing UDIN 26144892ZWGLB6605.*

For further details regarding the average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares by our Promoters in our Company and build-up of Equity Shares of our Promoter in our Company, see “Capital Structure” on page 81 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

63. We may be unable to attract and retain skilled and experienced personnel, and any shortage of such manpower may adversely affect our operations, business growth, and financial performance.

Our operations depend on the skills and expertise of our workforce, particularly machine operators, maintenance technicians, and quality control staff. The textile industry in Gujarat and across India faces high competition for experienced manpower, and attrition levels are generally elevated. If our employees leave prematurely, we may not be able to replace them with equally skilled personnel on a timely basis. This could disrupt our production, increase recruitment and training costs, reduce productivity, and adversely affect our profitability.

Further, if attrition levels in our company is high, it may impact our ability to expand capacity, meet customer orders on schedule, or maintain consistent product quality. Any significant increase in labour costs required to attract or retain talent could also affect our margins.

The following table sets forth the attrition rates in our Company for the periods indicated:

Particulars	Financial Period ended December 31, 2025	Financial Year ended March 31, 2025	Financial Year ended March 31, 2024	Financial Year ended March 31, 2023
No of employee's left during the year / period (A)	18	29	65	27
No of employees at the beginning of the year / period + No of employees joined during the year / period (B)	223	232	271	242
Employee attrition ratio (A/B) (%)	8.07%	12.50%	23.99%	11.16%

As certified by S.N. Shah & Associates, Chartered Accountants, our Statutory Auditors, pursuant to their certificate dated June 16, 2026, bearing UDIN 26144892WQMUOT1882.

While we provide on-the-job training and seek to maintain competitive compensation structures, there can be no assurance that our efforts will be sufficient to reduce attrition. Any inability to retain skilled workers or manage high attrition levels may materially and adversely impact our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

64. Fraud, mismanagement, or improper conduct could adversely impact project execution and our business operations

Any instance of fraud, mismanagement, or improper conduct by our employees, vendors, contractors, or other stakeholders involved in our operations or projects could result in significant delays, cost overruns, or even project cancellations. Such incidents may lead to legal or regulatory consequences, financial losses, and disruptions in project timelines. In addition, any such conduct may damage our reputation, erode stakeholder trust, and divert management's attention from core business activities. There can be no assurance that all instances of misconduct will be detected in a timely manner or fully prevented through internal controls, and any such event could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

We have established internal controls, monitoring systems, and vendor due diligence processes to detect and prevent fraud or misconduct. We also conduct regular audits and employee training to uphold ethical standards, ensuring smooth project execution and protecting our business operations.

65. Operational risks arising from wind and solar power machinery breakdown may adversely affect our business, financial condition, and sustainability goals.

We rely on renewable energy assets, including our 2.7 MW wind power plant, 4 MW ground-mounted solar power plant, and 1 MW rooftop solar installation, to partly meet our power requirements, reduce operational costs, and support our sustainability initiatives. Any underperformance or malfunction of the wind and solar power plant due to irregular wind or solar conditions, grid connectivity issues, equipment failures, inadequate maintenance, or natural calamities may lead to increased dependence on grid electricity at higher tariffs. Delays in repairs, non-availability of spare parts, or reliance on third-party service providers for maintenance may further prolong downtime and impact our ability to achieve projected cost savings and internal sustainability targets.

In addition, our business operations are heavily dependent on the efficient functioning of critical spinning and auxiliary machinery. Any obsolescence, damage, theft, or unexpected breakdown of equipment could disrupt production, increase capital expenditure for replacements, and reduce operating efficiency. Procuring new or specialized machinery, particularly those sourced from original equipment manufacturers, may involve significant lead times and higher costs, exacerbated by inflationary pressures, supply chain disruptions, or shortages of components.

While we conduct regular maintenance and performance monitoring of our renewable energy assets and plant machinery, and maintain contingency plans to minimize downtime, there can be no assurance that such measures will fully prevent operational disruptions. Any prolonged underperformance of renewable assets or breakdown of machinery may materially and adversely affect our operations, cash flows, financial condition, and overall business performance.

66. If we fail to maintain an effective system of internal controls, we may not be able to successfully manage or accurately report our financial risk.

Internal controls are checks and measures providing reasonable assurance about the achievement of objectives set by the board of the company, ensuring integrity of financial and other reporting and helping in detection and prevention of frauds. There are chances of circumventing such controls due to collusion or human error. Even though our company has not encountered any instances of failure of the internal control system during the preceding three financial years, we cannot provide assurance that such instances will not occur in the near future. We also cannot be assured that efficiency and effectiveness of internal control will be always maintained, or we will be able to implement adequate measures to rectify or mitigate any such deficiencies in internal control. If internal control weaknesses are not identified or necessary changes are not carried out, it may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

67. Any variation in the utilization of the Net Proceeds as disclosed in this Red Herring Prospectus shall be subject to certain compliance requirements, including prior approval of the shareholders of our Company.

Our management will have broad discretion in using the Net Proceeds, and investors will rely on our management's judgment regarding their application. However, we cannot make any significant changes in the utilization of the Net Proceeds as disclosed in this Red Herring Prospectus without obtaining approval from our shareholders through a special resolution. Our Company may need to revise its management estimates periodically due to factors outside our control, such as market conditions, competition, commodity prices, and fluctuations in interest or exchange rates, which may affect our requirements. Additionally, various risks and uncertainties, including those mentioned in this section, may limit or delay our ability to use the Net Proceeds to achieve profitable growth.

Any change or variation in the utilisation of the Net Proceeds will require compliance with certain requirements, including prior shareholder approval. We plan to use the Net Proceeds as outlined under “Objects of the Issue” on page 107 of Red Herring Prospectus. However, these funding requirements and the deployment of the Net Proceeds are based on management estimates and have not been independently appraised. As per Section 27 of the Companies Act, any variation in the utilization of the Net Proceeds from the Issue, as disclosed in this Red Herring Prospectus, can only be made after obtaining approval from shareholders through a special resolution. If our Company wishes to change the intended use of the Net Proceeds, there is a possibility that we may not obtain shareholder approval in a timely manner, or at all. Any delay or inability to obtain this approval may negatively impact our business or operations. Therefore, we may not be able to change the utilisation of the Net Proceeds or use any unutilised funds, even if such changes would benefit the Company. This could limit our ability to respond to changes in our business or financial condition, potentially affecting our results of operations.

68. Our business operations are subject to extensive environmental, health, and safety regulations, and any failure to comply with such regulations could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

Our manufacturing processes involve handling of raw cotton, cotton bales, and other by-products that are subject to various environmental, health, and safety laws and regulations. These include requirements relating to air quality, dust emissions, solid waste disposal, effluent discharge, water consumption, noise levels, and fire safety. Accordingly, we are required to obtain and maintain approvals such as Consents and Authorizations from the Gujarat Pollution Control Board, as well as other permits and clearances relating to storage, disposal of by-products, and compliance with workplace safety standards.

Environmental regulations in India, including those applicable to the textile sector, are evolving and are expected to become more stringent with the government’s increased emphasis on sustainable manufacturing, energy efficiency, and resource conservation. Any tightening of norms relating to effluent treatment, dust emissions, or disposal of cotton waste and by-products may require us to incur significant capital expenditure for new pollution control equipment, modifications to existing processes, or adoption of new technologies.

Further, our operations depend on natural resources such as water and power, both of which are subject to usage restrictions and regulatory oversight. Any adverse changes in regulations, stricter enforcement, or failure to obtain or renew the required approvals could result in higher compliance costs, penalties, reputational harm, suspension of approvals, or even temporary shutdown of our manufacturing facility.

While we endeavour to comply with applicable environmental, health, and safety laws, we cannot assure you that inadvertent non-compliances will not occur in the future. Any failure to comply with such regulations may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, and growth prospects.

69. Compliance with stringent environmental, health, and safety laws may lead to higher capital expenditures.

Our business operations are subject to a comprehensive framework of Central and State environmental laws and regulations in India, which govern pollution control and environmental protection. These regulations address the discharge of chemicals, dust, and other pollutants into the air, soil, or water. Any non-compliance with these regulations, including emissions exceeding prescribed limits, may result in liability for environmental damage and require us to implement remedial measures, potentially leading to increased costs.

Given the evolving nature of environmental regulations in India, compliance requirements may become more stringent over time. Amendments introducing more rigorous standards, stricter enforcement mechanisms, or enhanced regulatory scrutiny could necessitate significant capital expenditures for pollution control measures and compliance-related infrastructure. Such developments could impact our operational efficiency, increase costs, and adversely affect our financial condition and business prospects.

While we are currently not involved in any environmental legal proceedings, there is no assurance that we will remain unaffected in the future. Any potential litigation or regulatory action concerning environmental compliance could lead to financial liabilities, diversion of management attention, and operational disruptions. We cannot guarantee that we will successfully resolve all such matters in our favor, which could have an adverse impact on our business and financial performance.

70. Our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend upon our future earnings, financial condition, cash flows, working capital requirements, capital expenditure, and restrictive covenants in our financing arrangements.

We may retain all our future earnings, if any, for use in the operations and expansion of our business. As a result, we may not declare dividends in the foreseeable future. Any future determination regarding the declaration and payment of dividends will be at the discretion of our Board of Directors and will depend on factors that the Board of Directors deem relevant, including, among others, our results of operations, financial condition, cash requirements, business prospects, and any other financing arrangements. For details of our dividend history, please refer to the Chapter titled “Dividend Policy” on page 238 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

71. Our future fund requirements, in the form of the issue of capital or securities and/or loans taken by us, may be prejudicial to the interests of the shareholders depending upon the terms on which they are eventually raised.

We may require additional capital from time to time based on our business needs. Any issuance of shares could lead to the dilution of the shareholding of existing shareholders, and such issuances may occur on terms and conditions that may not be favorable to the current shareholders. If such funds are raised in the form of loans or debt, it could substantially increase our interest burden, thereby reducing our cash flows. This may adversely affect our profitability and our ability to pay dividends to our shareholders.

72. Our future operating results are difficult to predict and may fluctuate significantly or deviate adversely from our past performance.

Our operating results may vary significantly in the future and may not align with past performance due to several factors, many of which are beyond our control. These factors include, but are not limited to, changes in demand for our products, shifts in market conditions, challenges in maintaining strategic alliances, and unforeseen operational or economic disruptions. Consequently, our business, financial condition, and results of operations may be adversely affected, particularly if growth in product demand declines or if strategic partnerships fail to yield expected benefits or become unprofitable. As a result, our future performance may exhibit fluctuations or deviate materially from past trends, making it inherently unpredictable.

73. This Red Herring Prospectus contains information from third parties, including an industry report prepared by an independent third-party research agency, Infomerics Analytics & Research Private Limited (“Infomerics Analytics & Research”), which we have commissioned and paid for purposes of confirming our understanding of the industry exclusively in connection with the Issue.

This Red Herring Prospectus includes industry and market information sourced from third-party sources, including an industry report dated March 25, 2026, prepared by Infomerics Analytics & Research Private Limited (“Infomerics Report”), which we have commissioned to support and confirm our understanding of the textile industry solely in connection with this Issue. The Infomerics Report provides an overview and analysis of the textile sector, including demand drivers, market size estimates, industry growth trends, consumption patterns, end-user dynamics, and key performance indicators relevant to our business.

The information and data in the Infomerics Report are based on specific methodologies for primary and secondary research, forecasting, and analysis, which may differ from our internal assessments or operational data. Due to the extensive nature of the industry report, only selected excerpts and summaries have been included in this Red Herring Prospectus. The full report has not been reproduced herein. Investors should consider the industry information disclosed in this context and be aware that such information is subject to inherent limitations. Industry data generally reflects conditions as of specific cut-off dates and may include estimates, projections, or assumptions that are subject to significant risks and uncertainties. Differences in research methods, data sources, and market definitions may result in inconsistencies or non-comparability with data from other public or private sources.

Additionally, the market and industry information presented in this Red Herring Prospectus may not necessarily reflect actual market conditions or performance and should not be regarded as definitive. Actual outcomes may differ materially from those described. Accordingly, investors are cautioned not to place undue reliance on such third-party industry data and market information when making investment decisions related to this Issue. Neither our Company nor the Book Running Lead Manager(s) has any financial or commercial relationship with Infomerics Analytics & Research other than in connection with the commissioning of the aforementioned industry report. For further details, please refer to the chapter titled “Industry Overview” on page 138 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

74. Our Promoters and members of the Promoter Group will continue jointly to retain majority control over our Company after the Issue, which will allow them to determine the outcome of matters submitted to shareholders for approval.

After the completion of the Issue, our Promoters and Promoter Group will collectively own [●] % of the Equity Shares. As a result, our Promoters, together with the members of the Promoter Group, will have significant influence over the company and will be able to control the outcome of any proposal that can be approved by a majority shareholder vote, including the election of members to our Board, in accordance with the Companies Act and our Articles of Association. This concentration of ownership may also delay, prevent, or deter a change in control of our Company.

Furthermore, our Promoters will continue to have the ability to influence our decisions, which may not align with the interests of the Company or the interests of some or all of our creditors or minority shareholders. We cannot assure you that such actions will not have an adverse effect on our future financial performance or the price of our equity shares.

75. Any IT system failures or lapses on the part of any of our employees may lead to operational interruption, liabilities, or reputational harm.

The success of our business depends, in part, on our ability to effectively deploy, implement, and use information technology systems and advanced technology initiatives in a cost-effective and timely manner. Our computer networks may be vulnerable to unauthorized access, computer hacking, viruses, worms, malicious applications, and other security issues caused by unauthorized access to, or improper use of, systems by our employees, subcontractors, or third-party vendors.

In the past three fiscal years, our company has not experienced any IT system failures. However, in the future, any system failure, security breach, or lapse on our part, or by our employees and other ecosystem participants, that results in the release of user data could damage our reputation and brand, thereby negatively impacting our business. This could also expose us to potential legal liability. Any such legal proceedings or actions may subject us to significant penalties and negative publicity, require changes in our business practices, increase our costs, and severely disrupt our operations.

76. Holders of Equity Shares may be restricted in their ability to exercise pre-emptive rights under Indian law and thereby may suffer future dilution of their ownership position.

Under the Companies Act, 2013, a company having share capital and incorporated in India must offer its holders of equity shares pre-emptive rights to subscribe for and pay for a proportionate number of equity shares to maintain their existing ownership percentage, prior to the issuance of any new equity shares, unless such pre-emptive rights have been waived by way of a special resolution. However, if the laws of the jurisdiction in which an investor is located do not permit such investor to exercise pre-emptive rights without our filing of an offering document or registration statement with the applicable authority in that jurisdiction, such investor will be unable to exercise its pre-emptive rights unless we make such a filing. If we elect not to make such a filing, the new securities may be issued to a custodian, who may then sell the securities for the benefit of the investor. The value realised by the custodian from such a sale, as well as the related transaction costs, cannot be predicted. To the extent that investors are unable to exercise pre-emptive rights granted in respect of the Equity Shares held by them, their proportionate interest in our Company may be reduced.

77. Rights of shareholders of companies under Indian law may be less extensive than under the laws of other jurisdictions.

Our Articles of Association, composition of our Board, Indian laws governing our corporate affairs, the validity of corporate procedures, directors’ fiduciary duties, responsibilities and liabilities, and shareholders’ rights may differ from those that would apply to a company in another jurisdiction. Shareholders’ rights under Indian law may not be as extensive and widespread as shareholders’ rights under the laws of other countries or jurisdictions. Investors may face challenges in asserting their rights as shareholder in an Indian company than as a shareholder of an entity in another jurisdiction.

78. The requirements of being a listed company may strain our resources.

We are not a listed company and have not, historically, been subjected to the increased scrutiny of our affairs by shareholders, regulators and the public at large that is associated with being a listed company. As a listed company, we will incur significant legal, accounting, corporate governance and other expenses that we did not incur as an unlisted company. We will be subject to the SEBI (LODR) Regulations which will require us to file audited annual and limited reviewed half yearly reports with respect to our business and financial condition. If we experience any delays, we may fail to satisfy our reporting obligations and/or we may not be able to readily determine and accordingly report any changes in our results of operations as promptly as other listed companies. Further, as a listed company, we will need to maintain and improve the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting, including keeping adequate records of daily transactions.

In order to maintain and improve the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting, significant resources and management attention will be required. As a result, our management's attention may be diverted from our business concerns, which may adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, we may need to hire additional legal and accounting staff with appropriate experience and technical accounting knowledge, but we cannot assure you that we will be able to do so in a timely and efficient manner.

EXTERNAL RISK FACTORS

79. Significant differences exist between Ind AS and other accounting principles, such as U.S. GAAP and IFRS, which may be material to the financial statements prepared and presented in accordance with SEBI ICDR Regulations contained in this Prospectus

Our restated financial statements included in this Red Herring Prospectus are based on financial information that is based on the audited financial statements that are prepared and presented in conformity with Ind AS and restated in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations, and no attempt has been made to reconcile any of the information given in this Red Herring Prospectus to any other principles or to base it on any other standards. Ind AS differs from accounting principles and auditing standards with which prospective investors may be familiar in other countries, such as U.S. GAAP and IFRS. Significant differences exist between Ind AS and U.S. GAAP and IFRS, which may be material to the financial information prepared and presented in accordance with Ind AS contained in this Red Herring Prospectus. Accordingly, the degree to which the financial information included will provide meaningful information is dependent on familiarity with Ind AS, the Companies Act and the SEBI ICDR Regulations. Any reliance by persons not familiar with Ind AS on the financial disclosures presented in this Red Herring Prospectus should accordingly be limited.

80. In this Red Herring Prospectus, we have included certain Non-GAAP ("Generally Accepted Accounting Principles") financial measures and certain other industry measures related to our operations and financial performance.

These Non-GAAP measures and industry measures may vary from any standard methodology applicable across the industry and therefore may not be comparable with financial or industry related statistical information of similar nomenclature computed and presented by other companies. Certain Non-GAAP financial measures such as EBITDA, EBITDA Margin, Net worth and Net Asset Value per equity share, etc. and certain other industry measures related to our operations and financial performance have been included in this Red Herring Prospectus. We compute and disclose such Non-GAAP financial measures and such other industry related statistical information relating to our operations and financial performance, as we consider such information to be useful measures of our business and financial performance and because such measures are frequently used by securities analysts, investors and others to evaluate the operational performance of industry. Such supplemental financial and operational information is therefore of limited utility as an analytical tool and investors are cautioned against considering such information either in isolation or as a substitute for an analysis of our audited financial statements as reported under applicable accounting standards disclosed in this Red Herring Prospectus. For further details, see "Other Financial Information" on page 291. These Non-GAAP financial measures and such other industry related statistical and other information relating to our operations and financial performance may not be computed on the basis of any standard methodology that is applicable across the industry and therefore may not be comparable to financial measures and industry related statistical information of similar nomenclature that may be computed and presented by other companies. Accordingly, investors should not place undue reliance on the Non-

GAAP financial information included in the Red Herring Prospectus. For further information, see “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Non-GAAP Measures” on page 316.

81. You may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of capital gains on the sale of the Equity Shares

Under the Income-tax Act, 1961, capital gains arising from the sale of equity shares in an Indian company are generally taxable in India except any gain realised on the sale of shares on a stock exchange held for more than 12 months will not be subject to capital gains tax in India if the STT has been paid on the transaction. The STT will be levied on and collected by an Indian stock exchange on which equity shares are sold. Any gain realised on the sale of shares held for more than 12 months to an Indian resident, which are sold other than on a recognised stock exchange and as a result of which no STT has been paid, will be subject to long term capital gains tax in India. Further, any gain realised on the sale of shares on a stock exchange held for a period of 12 months or less will be subject to short term capital gains tax. Further, any gain realised on the sale of listed equity shares held for a period of 12 months or less which are sold other than on a recognised stock exchange and on which no STT has been paid, will be subject to short term capital gains tax at a relatively higher rate as compared to the transaction where STT has been paid in India.

Capital gains arising from the sale of shares will be exempt from taxation in India in cases where an exemption is provided under a tax treaty between India and the country of which the seller is a resident. Generally, Indian tax treaties do not limit India’s ability to impose tax on capital gains. As a result, residents of other countries may be liable for tax in India as well as in their own jurisdictions on gains arising from a sale of the shares subject to relief available under the applicable tax treaty or under the laws of their own jurisdiction.

82. Changing laws, rules and regulations and legal uncertainties, including adverse application of tax laws, may adversely affect our business and financial performance

Our business and financial performance could be adversely affected by unfavourable changes in or interpretations of existing, or the promulgation of new laws, rules and regulations applicable to us and our business. Please refer to “Key Regulations and Policies” on page 184 for details of the laws currently applicable on us. There can be no assurance that the Government of India may not implement new regulations and policies which will require us to obtain approvals and licenses from the Government of India and other regulatory bodies or impose onerous requirements and conditions on our operations. Any such changes and the related uncertainties with respect to the applicability, interpretation and implementation of any amendment to, or change to governing laws, regulation or policy in the jurisdictions in which we operate may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, we may have to incur expenditures to comply with the requirements of any new regulations, which may also materially harm our results of operations. Any unfavourable changes to the laws and regulations applicable to us could also subject us to additional liabilities.

GST has been implemented with effect from July 1, 2017, and has replaced the indirect taxes on goods and services such as central excise duty, service tax, central sales tax, state VAT and surcharge currently being collected by the central and state governments. The GST is expected to increase tax incidence and administrative compliance. Given the limited availability of information in the public domain concerning the GST, we are unable to provide any assurance as to the tax regime following implementation of the GST. The implementation of this new structure may be affected by any disagreement between certain state Governments, which could create uncertainty. Any future amendments may affect our overall tax efficiency and may result in significant additional taxes becoming payable.

Further, the General Anti Avoidance Rules (“GAAR”) provisions have been made effective from assessment year 2018-19 onwards, i.e.; financial Year 2017-18 onwards and the same may get triggered once transactions are undertaken to avoid tax. The consequences of the GAAR provisions being applied to an arrangement could result in denial of tax benefit amongst other consequences. In the absence of any precedents on the subject, the application of these provisions is uncertain.

The application of various Indian tax laws, rules and regulations to our business, currently or in the future, is subject to interpretation by the applicable taxation authorities. If such tax laws, rules and regulations are amended, new adverse laws, rules or regulations are adopted or current laws are interpreted adversely to our interests, the results could increase our tax payments (prospectively or retrospectively) and/or subject us to penalties. Further, changes in capital gains tax or tax on capital market transactions or sale of shares could affect investor returns. As a result, any such changes or interpretations could have an adverse effect on our business and financial performance.

83. Financial instability in Indian financial markets could adversely affect Our Company's results of operations and financial condition

In this globalized world, the Indian economy and financial markets are significantly influenced by worldwide economic, financial and market conditions. Any financial turmoil, say in the United States of America, Europe, China or other emerging economies, may have a negative impact on the Indian economy. Although economic conditions differ in each country, investors' reactions to any significant developments in one country can have adverse effects on the financial and market conditions in other countries. A loss in investor confidence in the financial systems, particularly in other emerging markets, may cause increased volatility in Indian financial markets. Indian financial markets have also experienced the contagion effect of the global financial turmoil. Any prolonged financial crisis may have an adverse impact on the Indian economy, thereby resulting in a material and adverse effect on our Company's business, operations, financial condition, profitability and price of its Shares. Stock exchanges in India have in the past experienced substantial fluctuations in the prices of listed securities.

84. Limitations on change in control as a result of applicable takeover laws and regulations may delay, deter or prevent a third-party from acquiring control of the Company.

As a listed Indian company, our Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Substantial Acquisition of Shares and Takeovers) Regulations, 2011 (the "Takeover Regulations") and other applicable laws that govern acquisition of shares, voting rights and change in control. Under these provisions, an acquirer may be required to make an open offer upon acquisition of shares or voting rights above prescribed thresholds or upon acquisition of "control", as defined under applicable law. These provisions, although intended to protect shareholders, could operate to delay, deter or prevent a takeover or other change in control of the Company even where such a transaction might otherwise offer a premium to shareholders.

As a result, a potential takeover or change in control of the Company may not be attempted or consummated, or may be subject to conditions or delays, which could affect the market price of the Equity Shares, restrict strategic transactions or otherwise adversely affect liquidity and the ability of shareholders to realise a takeover premium.

85. Political instability or a change in economic liberalization and deregulation policies could seriously harm business and economic conditions in India generally and our business in particular

The GoI has traditionally exercised and continues to exercise influence over many aspects of the economy. Our business and the market price and liquidity of our Equity Shares may be affected by interest rates, changes in Government policy, taxation, social and civil unrest and other political, economic or other developments in or affecting India. The rate of economic liberalization could change, and specific laws and policies affecting the information technology sector, foreign investment and other matters affecting investment in our securities could change as well. Any significant change in such liberalization and deregulation policies could adversely affect business and economic conditions in India, generally, and our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations, in particular.

86. Global economic, political and social conditions may harm our ability to do business, increase our costs and negatively affect our stock price

Global economic and political factors that are beyond our control, influence forecasts and directly affect performance. These factors include interest rates, rates of economic growth, fiscal and monetary policies of governments, inflation, deflation, foreign exchange fluctuations, consumer credit availability, fluctuations in commodities markets, consumer debt levels, unemployment trends and other matters that influence consumer confidence, spending and tourism. Increasing volatility in financial markets may cause these factors to change with a greater degree of frequency and magnitude, which may negatively affect our stock prices.

87. Foreign investors are subject to foreign investment restrictions under Indian law that limits our ability to attract foreign investors, which may adversely impact the market price of the Equity Shares

Under the foreign exchange regulations currently in force in India, transfers of shares between non-residents and residents are freely permitted (subject to certain exceptions) if they comply with the pricing guidelines and reporting requirements specified by the RBI. If the transfer of shares, which are sought to be transferred, is not in compliance with such pricing guidelines or reporting requirements or fall under any of the exceptions referred to above, then the prior approval of the RBI will be required. Additionally, shareholders who seek to convert the Rupee proceeds from a sale of shares in India into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India will require a no objection/ tax clearance certificate from the income tax authority. There can be no assurance that any approval required from the RBI or any other government agency can be obtained on any particular terms or at all.

88. The extent and reliability of Indian infrastructure could adversely affect our Company's results of operations and financial condition

India's physical infrastructure is in developing phase compared to that of many developed nations. Any congestion or disruption in its port, rail and road networks, electricity grid, communication systems or any other public facility could disrupt our Company's normal business activity. Any deterioration of India's physical infrastructure would harm the national economy, disrupt the transportation of goods and supplies, and add costs to doing business in India. These problems could interrupt our Company's business operations, which could have an adverse effect on its results of operations and financial condition.

89. Any downgrading of India's sovereign rating by an independent agency may harm our ability to raise financing

Any adverse revisions to India's credit ratings for domestic and international debt by international rating agencies may adversely impact our ability to raise additional financing, and the interest rates and other commercial terms at which such additional financing may be available. This could have an adverse effect on our business and future financial performance, our ability to obtain financing for capital expenditures and the trading price of our Equity Shares.

90. Natural calamities could have a negative impact on the Indian economy and cause our Company's business to suffer

India has experienced natural calamities such as earthquakes, tsunami, floods etc. in recent years. The extent and severity of these natural disasters determine their impact on the Indian economy. Prolonged spells of abnormal rainfall or other natural calamities could have a negative impact on the Indian economy, which could adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations as well as the price of the Equity Shares.

91. Terrorist attacks, civil unrests and other acts of violence or war involving India or other countries could adversely affect the financial markets, our business, financial condition and the price of our Equity Shares

Any major hostilities involving India or other acts of violence, including civil unrest or similar events that are beyond our control, could have a material adverse effect on India's economy and our business. Incidents such as the terrorist attacks, other incidents such as those in US, Indonesia, Madrid and London, and other acts of violence may adversely affect the Indian stock markets where our Equity Shares will trade the global equity markets as well generally. Such acts could negatively impact business sentiment as well as trade between countries, which could adversely affect our Company's business and profitability. Additionally, such events could have a material adverse effect on the market for securities of Indian companies, including the Equity Shares.

92. We cannot guarantee the accuracy or completeness of facts and other statistics with respect to India, the Indian economy and the Textile sector contained in the Red Herring Prospectus

While facts and other statistics in the Red Herring Prospectus relating to India, the Indian economy and the Textile sector has been based on various government publications and reports from government agencies that we believe are reliable, we cannot guarantee the quality or reliability of such materials. While we have taken reasonable care in the reproduction of such information, industry facts and other statistics have not been prepared or independently verified by us or any of our respective affiliates or advisors and, therefore we make no representation as to their accuracy or completeness. These facts and other statistics include the facts and statistics included in the chapter titled 'Industry Overview' beginning on page 138 of the Red Herring Prospectus. Due to possibly flawed or ineffective data collection methods or discrepancies between published information and market practice and other problems, the statistics herein may be inaccurate or may not be comparable to statistics produced elsewhere and should not be unduly relied upon. Further, there is no assurance that they are stated or compiled on the same basis or with the same degree of accuracy, as the case may be, elsewhere.

93. If certain labour laws become applicable to us, our profitability may be adversely affected

India has stringent labour legislations that protect the interests of workers, including legislation that sets forth detailed procedures for dispute resolution and employee removal and legislation that imposes certain financial obligations on employers upon retrenchment. Any change or modification in the existing labour laws may affect our flexibility in formulating labour related policies.

94. Investors may not be able to enforce a judgment of a foreign court against us, our Directors, the BRLMs or any of their directors and executive officers in India respectively, except by way of a lawsuit in India

Our Company is incorporated under the laws of India, with its Directors, key managerial personnel, officers, and majority of assets located in India. As a result, it may not be possible for investors to effect service of process upon our Company or such persons in jurisdictions outside India, or to enforce judgments obtained against such parties outside India. Furthermore, it is unlikely that an Indian court would enforce foreign judgments if that court was of the view that the amount of damages awarded was excessive or inconsistent with public policy, or if judgments are in breach or contrary to Indian law. In addition, a party seeking to enforce a foreign judgment in India is required to obtain approval from the RBI to execute such a judgment or to repatriate outside India any amounts recovered. Recognition and enforcement of foreign judgments is provided for under Section 13 and Section 44A of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 ("CPC").

India is not party to any international treaty in relation to the recognition or enforcement of foreign judgments. India has reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgments in civil and commercial matters with only a limited number of jurisdictions, such as the United Kingdom, United Arab Emirates, Singapore and Hong Kong. In order to be enforceable, a judgment from a jurisdiction with reciprocity must meet certain requirements established in the Indian CPC. The CPC only permits the enforcement and execution of monetary decrees in the reciprocating jurisdiction, not being in the nature of any amounts payable in respect of taxes, other charges, fines or penalties. Judgments or decrees from jurisdictions which do not have reciprocal recognition with India, including the United States, cannot be enforced by proceedings in execution in India. Therefore, a final judgment for the payment of money rendered by any court in a non-reciprocating territory for civil liability, whether or not predicated solely upon the general laws of the non-reciprocating territory, would not be directly enforceable in India.

The party in whose favour a final foreign judgment in a non-reciprocating territory is rendered may bring a fresh suit in a competent court in India based on the final judgment within three years of obtaining such final judgment. However, it is unlikely that a court in India would award damages on the same basis as a foreign court if an action were brought in India or that an Indian court would enforce foreign judgments if it viewed the amount of damages as excessive or inconsistent with the public policy in India. Further, there is no assurance that a suit brought in an Indian court in relation to a foreign judgment will be disposed of in a timely manner.

In addition, any person seeking to enforce a foreign judgment in India is required to obtain the prior approval of the RBI to repatriate any amount recovered, and we cannot assure that such approval will be forthcoming within a reasonable period of time, or at all, or that conditions of such approval would be acceptable. Such amount may also be subject to income tax in accordance with applicable law. Our ability to raise foreign capital may be constrained by Indian law which provides investment restrictions on foreign investors, which may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

Under foreign exchange regulations currently in force in India, transfer of shares between non-residents and residents are freely permitted (subject to certain exceptions), if they comply with the valuation and reporting requirements specified by the RBI. If a transfer of shares is not in compliance with such requirements and fall under any of the exceptions specified by the RBI, then the RBI's prior approval is required. Additionally, shareholders who seek to convert Rupee proceeds from a sale of shares in India into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India require a no-objection or a tax clearance certificate from the Indian income tax authorities. We cannot assure you that any required approval from the RBI or any other governmental agency can be obtained on any particular terms, or at all. In terms of the FEMA Non-debt Instruments Rules, a person resident outside India may make investments into India, subject to certain terms and conditions, and provided that an entity of a country, which shares land border with India or the beneficial owner of an investment into India who is situated in or is a citizen of any such country, shall invest only with government approval.

95. Inflation in India could have an adverse effect on our profitability and if significant, on our financial condition

Inflation rates in India have been volatile in recent years, and such volatility may continue. India has experienced high inflation relative to developed countries in the recent past. Continued high rates of inflation may increase our expenses related to costs of raw material, rent, salaries or wages payable to our employees or any other expenses.

There can be no assurance that we will be able to pass on any additional expenses to our customers or that our revenue will increase proportionately corresponding to such inflation. Accordingly, high rates of inflation in India could have an adverse effect on our profitability and, if significant, on our financial condition.

96. Our ability to raise foreign capital may be constrained by Indian law

As an Indian company, we are subject to exchange controls that regulate borrowing in foreign currencies. Such regulatory restrictions limit our financing sources and could constrain our ability to obtain financings on competitive terms and refinance existing indebtedness. In addition, we cannot assure you that any required regulatory approvals for borrowing in foreign currencies will be granted to us without onerous conditions, or at all. Limitations on foreign debt may have an adverse effect on our business growth, financial condition and results of operations.

2. Inter-Corporate deposits for funding working capital requirement of Falcon Yarns Private Limited

The business operations of Cotton Spinning Unit are working capital intensive. Further working capital requirement is also seasonal in nature due to dependency on only raw material cotton, which is agriculture produce available during October to March (cotton season). Since cotton bales are available during the cotton season in abundance working capital requirement during the season remains high due to storage of cotton bales stock as buffer for managing operations during off-season. Cotton bales are available during off-season domestically from the large traders, central/ state cotton corporations as well as through import but the prices may be higher or volatile depending on the supply and demand scenario.

Falcon Yarns Private limited funds the majority of working capital requirements in the ordinary course of business from long term own funds and working capital financing from Banks. As on December 31, 2025, the aggregate amount sanctioned by the Bank to Falcon under the fund-based cash credit facility is ₹ 2,000.00 lakh.

In view of the above, our Company proposes to utilise a portion of the Net Proceeds for onward lending to Falcon (our proposed Subsidiary) towards funding of its working capital requirements. The proposed infusion of funds as unsecured loans is intended to support the Subsidiary's operational requirements, including procurement of raw materials, maintenance of inventory levels, and meeting day-to-day operational expenses, particularly in light of the seasonal nature of the cotton spinning business. See "Risk Factors – Risk Factor 24 - Any shortfall or delay in funding the working capital requirements of our Subsidiary, or inability to effectively utilise such funds, may adversely affect its business operations, financial condition and results of operations" on page no 37 of the Red Herring Prospectus.

The details of the working capital requirements of Falcon as at March 31, 2023, March 31, 2024, March 31, 2025, and December 31, 2025, as derived from its audited financial statements, along with the sources of funding thereof, are set out in the table below:

	Total	2,882.93	3,228.19	3,716.62	2,993.13

To manage the increased funds requirement during the peak season and the seasonal fluctuations, Falcon maintains sizable portion as long terms funds from own sources (i.e. Capital Funds/ Internal Accruals/ unsecured long-term borrowings from related parties) in addition to regular working capital limits from the bank. It is evident from the table above that out of total Net working capital requirement sizable portion was being met through own long-term sources.

The Net working capital for the period ended December 31, 2025, is lower as Falcon temporarily stretched the payables to meet the working capital requirements which will be normalized going forward.

With the new management taking over, we estimate the management of net current assets will undergo a change to bring it in line with Aastha Spintex Limited.

The details of the estimated/projected working capital requirements of Falcon for Financial Years 2026 and 2027, along with the proposed sources of funding thereof, are set out in the table below:

Thus, Aastha Spintex Limited proposes to utilize ₹ 1,000.00 lakh from the Net Proceeds to fund the working capital requirements of Falcon in Financial Years 2027. Aastha Spintex Limited will infuse funds as unsecured loan (Inter-Corporate Deposit) of ₹ 1,000.00 lakh in Falcon, which would be utilizing the funds for working capital purposes. Key assumptions and justification for Holding Period Levels:

Particulars	Assumptions and justifications
Inventory	Falcon's total inventory holding period has remained between 25 to 40 days during past 3 financial years and 9 months period ended on December 31, 2025 and for FY 2026 and FY 2027, the inventory holding period is estimated to be 44 days. Raw Material Inventory - Main raw material inventory of the Falcon is cotton bales, which constitutes almost entire portion of its raw material inventory.

	Falcon's total raw material inventory holding period has remained between 18 to 26 days during past 3 financial years and 9 months period ended on December 31, 2025. As explained earlier in the section, cotton being the seasonal agriculture produce, cotton bales (processed cotton) is available in abundance during cotton season from October to March. April onwards, cotton bales are available domestically from traders and state cotton corporations, who store the bales in large quantity during the season or through imports, but the prices may be higher or volatile depending on the supply and demand scenario. Hence, the stock of cotton bales remain higher during the cotton season, which gradually declines as the material is consumed for the production of cotton yarn in spinning unit. During off-season the stock procured against the availability of yarn orders and hence raw material stock remains lower depending upon the orders in hand. For FY 2026 and FY 2027, the raw material inventory holding period is estimated to be 25 days, which is in line with the past actual trend. Finished Goods Inventory: Finished stock inventories mainly include cotton yarn, which is usually produced against the orders and also cotton waste in smaller quantity. The stock of finished stock remained 7 to 14 days depending upon the dispatch schedules to the customers during the past 3 financial years and 9 months period ended on December 31, 2025, and the same are estimated to be 19 days during FY 2026 and FY 2027.
Trade receivables	In the past 3 financial years, outstanding trade receivables at the end of the year were much lower and the same was 8 days for the 9 months period ended on December 31, 2025. Falcon under the existing management has a policy to collect the receivables prior to end of cotton season, which coincide with the financial year end. Under new management Falcon is expected to allow credit period of 16 days and accordingly has estimated outstanding trade receivables for FY 2026 and FY 2027.

GLOBAL ECONOMIC OUTLOOK

At the midpoint of the year, so far in 2025 the global economy continues to exhibit mixed performance, with divergence in outcomes across regions due to differences in economic growth, inflation dynamics, and policy responses. The global GDP growth is projected at 2.8% in CY 2025, down from an estimated 3.3% in CY 2024. While short-term prospects have improved since early 2024 due to easing inflation and gradual loosening of monetary policy in several regions, the broader environment remains challenging. Structural headwinds—such as tighter credit conditions, supply-side bottlenecks, and lingering geopolitical risks—are keeping global growth below historical averages.

GDP Growth Across Major Regions

GDP growth across major global regions including Europe, Latin America & the Caribbean, Middle East & Central Asia, and Sub-Saharan Africa continue to display varied trajectories. While some regions are stabilizing post-pandemic, others remain challenged by structural and cyclical issues. The global outlook presents a mixed scenario, with emerging economies continuing to outperform advanced economies.

Global and India Growth Outlook Projections (Real GDP Growth)

The global economy continues to face persistent challenges, including the lingering effects of the COVID-19 pandemic, heightened geopolitical tensions, and climate-related disruptions that have affected energy and food supply chains. Global growth is expected to remain steady at 3.3% in CY 2025-2026 and at 3.2% in CY2027, indicating combination of domestic challenges, external geopolitical tensions, and fluctuating commodity prices. In contrast, India's real GDP is projected to grow at 7.4% in FY 2025-2026, improving from a growth rate of 6.5% in FY 2024-25. This momentum is also evident on a quarterly basis, with real GDP recording a robust growth of 8.2% in Q2 of FY 2025-26 compared to the growth rate of 5.6% during Q2 of FY25, whereas nominal GDP has witnessed a growth rate of 8.7% in Q2 of FY 2025-26 continuing its trend of significantly outpacing global averages and reaffirming its position as the fastest-growing major economy. This implies that India is expected to grow at more than twice the pace of global GDP, supported by strong domestic demand, structural reforms, and increased infrastructure investment. India's resilience among the G20 economies further strengthens its role as a key driver of global economic growth in the coming years.

India's Economic Growth Outlook

India and Top 5 Global Economies GDP Growth Forecast

In September 2024, India achieved a significant milestone by overtaking Japan to become the third most powerful nation in the Asia-Pacific region, as per the Asia Power Index 2024. India's overall score rose to 39.1, reflecting a 2.8-point increase from the previous year, driven by growing influence across economic, military, and diplomatic dimensions.

Key factors behind India's rise include its strong economic performance, expanding and youthful workforce, and increasing strategic engagement across the region. India's Economic Capability improved significantly, supported by its position as the world's third-largest economy in terms of purchasing power parity (PPP). Additionally, a notable increase in its Future Resources score highlights the demographic advantage that is expected to sustain its growth trajectory in the coming years.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW – GLOBAL AND INDIAN OUTLOOK OF THE TEXTILE INDUSTRY

Some perceive textiles as flowing silks adorning high-fashion runways, while others view them as durable fabrics for backpacks or advanced fibres for performance wear. Today, the textile industry encompasses a vast spectrum of fibres, designs, technologies, and applications—creating a vibrant, multifaceted sector that permeates nearly every aspect of modern life.

It represents far more than cloth; it is a dynamic force integrated with fashion, agriculture, healthcare, technology, and sustainability. Traditional handlooms coexist with advanced machinery; natural dyes are complemented by biotechnological pigments; and recycled polyester derived from plastic bottles is driving a transition toward a circular economy. This diversity underpins the industry's global competitiveness and creative potential. Across India's rural landscapes, artisans are reviving age-old practices—such as cultivating kala cotton in Kutch or extracting organic dyes from Odisha's aul trees—thus reconnecting with sustainability and cultural heritage. These traditions increasingly collaborate with urban enterprises to create garments infused with storytelling and purpose.

Simultaneously, large-scale manufacturers operating in industrial hubs are integrating automation with eco-innovation. Initiatives such as blockchain-enabled cotton traceability, zero liquid discharge systems, waterless dyeing processes, and solar-powered mills align closely with national programmes like PM-MITRA and Switch-

Asia. Startups are advancing this transformation further by developing spider silk–inspired fibres, microbe-based dyes, algae-derived leather, and yarns spun from industrial and agricultural waste. Social enterprises are fostering circular ecosystems—upcycling fabric scraps, weaving plastic waste in communities such as Dharavi, and creating sustainable livelihood opportunities for women. India’s textile sector is no longer defined solely by production; it is evolving into a continuum of innovation, inclusivity, and impact.

Segmentation of Textile Industry

The textile industry is a sprawling ecosystem that threads together fibres, fashion, function, and innovation. It spans the entire value chain from fibre and yarn to fabrics and finished goods—serving diverse applications in apparel, home décor, technical uses, and beyond.

Segmentation Criteria	Sub-segments	Description
1. Product Type	Fibre & Yarn Fabric/Greige Finished Goods	Segmentation based on the stage of processing in the textile value chain. Fibre and yarn form the raw material base, fabrics are semi-finished inputs, and finished goods include ready-to-use textile products such as garments, home furnishings, and industrial textiles.
2. Raw Material	Natural Fibres (cotton, silk, wool, jute) Man-made Fibres (Polyester, nylon, viscose, blends)	Classified by source of origin. Natural fibres are plant or animal-based and preferred for their comfort and biodegradability, while man-made fibres offer durability, performance, and cost efficiency across multiple applications.
3. Application	Apparel & Fashion Home Textiles (bedding, towels, curtains) Technical & Industrial Textiles (medical, automotive, agricultural, construction, protective)	Based on end-use industry. Apparel dominates consumer demand, home textiles cater to interior and lifestyle segments, and technical textiles serve specialised functional needs in industrial and infrastructure sectors.
4. Distribution Channel	Offline Retail (traditional stores, wholesalers) Modern Retail (department stores, multi brand outlets) E-commerce & Direct-to Consumer (online platforms, brand websites)	Differentiates market access routes. Offline channels remain strong in tier-2/3 cities, while modern retail and digital platforms are witnessing rapid growth, driven by changing consumer preferences and digital penetration.

Value Chain Overview – Textile Industry

The textile industry value chain is a comprehensive and interconnected system that transforms raw materials into finished textile products. It encompasses several key stages, each adding value through various processes, technologies, and services. Here's a breakdown of the main components:

Process Stage	Description
Raw Material Supply	This stage involves the cultivation and sourcing of natural fibres such as cotton, wool, jute, and silk, as well as the manufacturing of man-made fibres like polyester, viscose, and acrylic. India plays a prominent role globally, particularly as a leading producer of cotton and jute, offering a strong foundation for its textile industry.
Spinning	This stage involves transforming raw fibres into yarn through methods such as ring spinning or open-end spinning. India holds the distinction of having the second-largest installed spinning capacity globally, supporting both domestic fabric manufacturing and international export demand.

Weaving/ Knitting	In this stage, yarns are converted into fabrics through interlacing methods such as weaving (loom-based) or knitting (needle-based). The industry comprises both organized textile mills and a widespread decentralized network of power looms and handlooms, with key hubs in regions like Surat, Bhiwandi, and Erode.
Wet Processing (Dyeing & Finishing)	This stage focuses on processing grey fabric through bleaching, dyeing, printing, and finishing to enhance its appearance, texture, and functional characteristics. It plays a crucial role in defining the final look and performance of the textile. Given its high-water usage and chemical intensity, strict adherence to environmental regulations is essential at this stage.
Garmenting / Made ups	At this stage, fabric is transformed into finished products like garments, home furnishings, and technical textiles. Key activities include cutting, stitching, embroidery, and packaging. India holds a competitive edge in this segment due to its skilled, cost-effective labour force and rich heritage of traditional craftsmanship.
Distribution & Retail	Finished textile products are distributed to both domestic and international markets via wholesale, retail, and e-commerce channels. The rise of digitalization and the growth of organized retail are significantly boosting consumption, particularly in Tier II and Tier III cities as well as key export centres.

Global Textile Industry – Market Size

The Global Textile Market is estimated at USD 1244.83 billion in CY 2025 and is expected to reach USD 1,316.4 billion in CY 2026, growing further to USD 2,058.88 billion by CY 2034 at a CAGR of 5.75% during the forecast period. This growth is driven by rising global demand for apparel, increasing urbanization, expansion of technical textiles in industries like automotive and healthcare, and a shift towards sustainable and eco-friendly materials. Asia-Pacific remains the dominant market due to cost advantages and high production capacity, while developed markets like North America and Europe focus on innovation and sustainability.

Global Textile Industry – Key Growth Drivers

The global textile industry is undergoing rapid transformation, driven by rising consumer demand, the expansion of e-commerce, and an accelerating shift toward sustainability. Key trends shaping this evolution include supply chain diversification under the “China+1” strategy, adoption of digital technologies, and increasing consumer preference for ethical and eco-friendly textiles. These developments, supported by government initiatives and innovation in technical textiles, are redefining the future of the global textile landscape.

1. Rising Population and Urbanization

- The growing global population, particularly in emerging economies, is fuelling demand for textiles across fashion, home furnishings, and industrial applications.
- Urbanization is contributing to the rising adoption of fast fashion and branded apparel.

2. Expansion of E-commerce and Omni-channel Retail

- Online platforms are reshaping textile distribution and enhancing consumer accessibility.
- Global brands are increasingly leveraging direct-to-consumer (D2C) and omni-channel strategies to achieve rapid market expansion.

3. Shift in Global Sourcing – “China+1” Strategy

- In response to geopolitical tensions, rising costs, and overdependence on China, global buyers are diversifying their sourcing bases.
- Countries such as India, Vietnam, and Bangladesh are emerging as key beneficiaries, gaining a larger share of global textile exports.

4. Demand for Sustainable and Ethical Textiles

- Heightened consumer awareness is driving demand for organic cotton, recycled polyester, and circular fashion models.
- Compliance with certifications such as GOTS, and BCI has become essential for access to premium global markets.

5. Government Policy and Incentive Schemes

- Policy support, including export incentives (RoSCTL), Production Linked Incentive (PLI) schemes, and infrastructure investments (e.g., PM MITRA Parks in India and special economic zones in Vietnam), is enhancing global competitiveness.
- Trade agreements and FTAs are expanding market opportunities. Notably, India and the United Kingdom signed a landmark Free Trade Agreement (FTA) in 2025, aimed at doubling bilateral trade to over USD 100 billion by 2030, up from USD 56 billion at present. This Comprehensive Economic and Trade Agreement (CETA) is India’s 16th trade pact and eliminates duties on labour-intensive exports such as leather, footwear, and apparel in the UK market.
- At the state level, the Government of Gujarat has introduced multiple incentive schemes to strengthen the textile and allied sectors. These include a power tariff subsidy of ₹1 per unit for up to five years for eligible units engaged in spinning, weaving, dyeing, processing, and garmenting. The state also provides interest subsidies of up to 5% per annum (7% for spinning and garment/made-up units) for five years, promoting cost efficiency and competitiveness. Historically, benefits such as VAT remission and input tax set-offs have now transitioned into input tax credit under GST, further reducing the tax burden on raw materials and intermediate goods.

Overview of Global Textile Trade – India’s Position in Import and Export Segment

The global textile trade plays a vital role in connecting production hubs with consumer markets, forming a key pillar of international commerce. With rising demand for apparel, home furnishings, and technical textiles, global trade in this sector has grown steadily over the past decade. Countries such as China, Bangladesh, Vietnam, and India dominate the export landscape, leveraging their manufacturing strengths and cost advantages. India holds a strategic position as one of the world’s top textile exporters, supported by its vast raw material base, skilled workforce, and diversified product mix. As global supply chains evolve and trade agreements reshape market access, India’s performance in both exports and imports of textiles reflects its growing integration into international markets. Understanding this global positioning provides essential context for analysing opportunities, competitiveness, and future growth potential of India’s textile industry.

Global textile exports rose from USD 305,507 million in CY 2019 to USD 353,267 million in CY 2021, driven by post-pandemic demand recovery, restocking by global retailers, and the reopening of major economies. Exports remained largely stable in CY 2022 at USD 352,375 million, before declining to USD 322,708 million in CY 2023 due to inflationary pressures, subdued consumer demand in key markets such as the United States and Europe, and inventory rationalisation across global supply chains. In CY 2024, exports rebounded to USD 330,652 million, reflecting a gradual recovery in global textile demand. Global textile imports exhibited a similar trajectory, increasing from USD 335,429 million in CY 2019 to USD 388,594 million in CY 2021, indicative of a strong recovery in global consumption. Imports remained elevated at USD 387,613 million in CY 2022, before declining to USD 354,979 million in CY 2023 due to prevailing macroeconomic uncertainties and a moderation in discretionary spending. In CY 2024, imports registered a modest recovery to USD 363,718 million, reflecting an improvement in trade activity and stabilisation of demand conditions.

Overall, global textile trade continues to demonstrate structural resilience, supported by factors such as population growth, increasing apparel consumption in emerging markets, and ongoing supply chain diversification. However, short-term fluctuations persist, driven by macroeconomic cycles, inflationary pressures, and geopolitical developments, as evidenced by global trade data reported by the World Trade Organization

India's Global Export Standing in the Textile Industry

India holds the third-largest position in the global textile export market, reflecting its strong manufacturing capabilities and diverse product range. While China and the European Union lead by a significant margin, India's export base of USD 18764 Million in CY 2024 underscores its importance as a reliable supplier in the global textile value chain. India's strengths lie in its abundant raw material availability, skilled workforce, and competitive pricing, which allow it to serve a wide spectrum of international markets. However, compared to China's overwhelming dominance and the EU's integrated value-added supply network, India's share remains modest, indicating considerable room for growth. With ongoing policy support, trade agreements, and rising global demand for sustainable and value-added textiles, India is well-positioned to further consolidate and expand its standing in the global textile industry.

COTTON PRODUCTION AND CONSUMPTION ACROSS GLOBE

Cotton plays a pivotal role in the global textile industry, serving as one of the most widely produced and consumed natural fibres worldwide. As a key agricultural commodity, it supports the livelihoods of millions of farmers and contributes significantly to the economies of both developed and developing nations. The global cotton market is primarily dominated by a few major producers such as India, China, the United States, Brazil, and Pakistan, which together account for a substantial share of global output. Similarly, consumption patterns are influenced by large textile manufacturing hubs and emerging economies with growing apparel demand. Understanding global trends in cotton production and consumption is essential for assessing trade dynamics, pricing, and sustainability efforts across the value chain.

INDIAN TEXTILE INDUSTRY

India's textile sector holds a strategically vital position in the national economy, making significant contributions to GDP, industrial output, exports, and employment. Its strength lies in a robust, integrated value chain—from raw fibre production to finished garments—backed by a large domestic consumer base, a skilled labour force, and strong policy support from the Government of India.

Market Size

The Indian textile industry is valued at USD 195.4 billion in 2025 and is projected to reach USD 623.34 billion by 2035, at a CAGR of 12.3%, driven by strategic investments, policy support, and innovation. Initiatives like the PM MITRA textile parks and the Production Linked Incentive (PLI) scheme are strengthening the integrated textile value chain and boosting competitiveness. Rising adoption of sustainable practices, smart fabrics, and technological advancements is enhancing efficiency and aligning with global standards. Strong export potential, backed by a skilled workforce and abundant raw materials, further supports growth. However, the sector faces challenges such as trade barriers, environmental concerns, and cost pressures, which need careful management to achieve the projected expansion.

Indian T&A industry contributes 2% to the country’s GDP, accounts for 11% of manufacturing gross value added (GVA), and 8.63% to exports, underscoring its critical role in India’s economic architecture.

Break-up of Indian Textile Industry

1. Cotton Yarn: Cotton textiles form the largest segment of the Indian textile industry, accounting for approximately 38–40% of the total market. This segment includes cotton yarn, woven and knitted fabrics, as well as cotton-based garments, catering to both domestic and international demand. India is the world’s Second largest producer of cotton, and cotton remains the most widely used fibre in the country, comprising nearly 60% of the total fibre consumption. The Cotton Corporation of India (CCI) plays a vital role in supporting this segment by procuring cotton under the Minimum Support Price (MSP) scheme to ensure price stability for farmers.
2. Technical textiles: Technical textiles constitute around 5–7% of the Indian textile industry and represent one of its fastest-growing segments. This category includes specialised fabrics and products designed for specific functional uses across sectors such as healthcare (Meditech), agriculture (agrotech), geo-engineering (Geotech), and protective wear. The segment is witnessing robust growth, with an expected CAGR of approximately 11–12% over the coming years, driven by rising domestic demand, infrastructure development, and increased industrial applications. The Government of India has launched the National Technical Textiles Mission (NTTM) to promote research, innovation, and investments in this space. Furthermore, the mandatory enforcement of Quality Control

Orders (QCOs) for technical textiles has been a significant regulatory push, ensuring the production of high-quality, globally competitive products.

3. Man-Made Fibre (MMF) Textiles: Man-Made Fibre (MMF) textiles account for approximately 18–20% of the Indian textile industry and include a wide range of synthetic fibres such as polyester, viscose, nylon, and acrylic yarns and fabrics. This segment is experiencing rapid growth, primarily driven by rising global demand for fast fashion, functional wear, and performance-oriented textiles. MMF-based products are gaining preference over natural fibres due to their versatility, durability, and cost-effectiveness. The Government of India has identified MMF as a key focus area under the Production Linked Incentive (PLI) scheme, aiming to boost domestic manufacturing and exports.
4. Home Textiles: Home textiles constitute around 10–12% of the Indian textile industry, with cotton-based products forming the backbone of this segment. Key offerings include cotton bed linen, bath towels, curtains, and other furnishings, which are globally recognized for their superior quality, durability, and affordability. India has built a strong export footprint in home textiles, particularly in cotton bed and bath linen, with the United States, United Kingdom, and Europe as its leading markets. As of 2023–24, the Indian home textiles market was valued at approximately USD 10 billion, with cotton products contributing the largest share. The segment is projected to grow at a CAGR of 7–8%, reaching nearly USD 16 billion by 2030, driven by global demand for natural fibres, growing consumer preference for sustainable products, and innovations in cotton-based fabrics and designs.
5. Silk, Wool and Jute: Silk, wool, and jute textiles collectively account for about 3–4% of the Indian textile industry and represent some of the most traditional and culturally significant segments. These sectors are largely dominated by handloom-based and heritage-driven production methods, often involving skilled artisans and small-scale units. Jute and silk production receive targeted support through various central government schemes aimed at enhancing productivity, ensuring sustainability, and promoting exports. These textiles are regionally concentrated, with jute being predominant in West Bengal, silk production flourishing in parts of South India such as Karnataka and Tamil Nadu, and woollen and handcrafted textiles being prominent in the Northeastern states.
6. Handloom and Handicrafts: Handloom and handicrafts account for approximately 2–3% of the Indian textile industry and play a vital role in rural employment and cultural preservation. These segments are deeply rooted in India's artisanal traditions and are predominantly operated by small-scale weavers and craftspeople across the country. The government actively supports this sector through various marketing and skill development initiatives such as the India Handloom Brand and the SAMARTH scheme, which aim to enhance product quality, branding, and workforce capabilities. With growing consumer interest in sustainable and handmade products, there is an increasing focus on expanding domestic retail presence and tapping into international niche markets through dedicated e-commerce platforms and export facilitation.

Fibre-wise break up of Indian textile market

The textile industry relies on a broad range of fibres that serve as the fundamental raw materials for yarn and fabric production. These fibres are primarily classified into three categories: Natural Fibres, Man-made Fibres (including synthetic and regenerated fibres), and Blended Fibres. Each category offers distinct characteristics suited to different textile applications and end-user preferences.

Types of Fibre

Fibres are primarily classified into Natural, Man-made (Synthetic and Regenerated), and Blended categories. Each type offers unique physical, mechanical, and aesthetic properties suited for various end-use applications.

1. Natural Fibres

Natural fibres are derived from plant or animal sources and are widely appreciated for their comfort, breathability, and biodegradability. India has a rich tradition in natural fibre cultivation and processing, especially cotton, jute, silk, and wool.

Fibre Type	Source	Key Characteristics	Primary Applications
Cotton	Seed fibre from cotton plant	Soft, breathable, absorbent	Apparel, home textiles
Jute	Bast fibre from jute plant	Coarse, biodegradable, high tensile strength	Sacks, geotextiles, floor coverings
Wool	Hair from sheep and goats	Warm, resilient, moisture-wicking	Winterwear, knitwear
Silk	Cocoon of silkworms	Lustrous, lightweight, high tensile strength	Sarees, luxury garments, scarves
Flax (Linen)	Bast fibre from flax plant	Strong, breathable, wrinkle-prone	Shirts, home linen, summer wear
Hemp	Stalk of hemp plant	Durable, antimicrobial, eco-friendly	Sustainable apparel, industrial textiles
Coir	Outer husk of coconut	Coarse, water-resistant	Mattresses, mats, brushes

2. Man-made Fibres

Man-made fibres are manufactured through chemical processes and are divided into synthetic fibres (derived from petrochemicals) and regenerated fibres (from natural polymers such as cellulose). These fibres offer enhanced durability, strength, elasticity, and cost advantages.

(a) Synthetic Fibres

Fibre Type	Composition	Key Characteristics	Common Applications
Polyester	Petrochemical-based polymer	Strong, wrinkle-resistant, moisture-wicking	Apparel, industrial fabrics, home textiles
Nylon	Polyamide polymer	Elastic, abrasion-resistant, lightweight	Hosiery, outdoor wear, luggage
Acrylic	Synthetic polymer	Soft, wool-like, colourfast	Sweaters, blankets, knitwear
Spandex (Lycra)	Polyurethane-based fibre	Exceptional stretch, shape retention	Activewear, fitted garments

(b) Regenerated Fibres

Fibre Type	Source	Key Characteristics	Applications
Viscose (Rayon)	Cellulose from wood pulp	Soft, breathable, absorbent	Dresses, linings, kurtis
Modal	Cellulose from beechwood	Smooth, durable, retains colour	Innerwear, nightwear, casualwear
Lyocell (Tencel)	Sustainably sourced wood pulp	Eco-friendly, biodegradable, silky smooth	Premium apparel, eco-fashion, home linen

India is a key global player in the man-made fibre ecosystem, with strong capabilities in polyester and viscose production.

3. Blended Fibres

Blended fibres are created by combining two or more different fibre types to achieve a balanced set of properties, such as softness, strength, cost-efficiency, wrinkle resistance, and stretchability. These are widely used in both fashion and industrial applications.

Blend Type	Typical Ratio	Benefits	Typical Usage
Cotton-Polyester	65/35, 50/50	Comfort of cotton + durability and wrinkle-resistance of polyester	Casualwear, uniforms, workwear
Cotton-Viscose	60/40, 50/50	Improved softness, breathability, better drape	Shirts, kurtis, sportswear
Wool-Acrylic	50/50, 60/40	Warmth of wool + ease of care and cost-efficiency of acrylic	Sweaters, knitwear, winter garments
Cotton-Spandex	95/5, 98/2	Added elasticity and shape retention	Denim, leggings, activewear

Blended textiles also support design innovation and cost optimisation, making them increasingly important in both domestic and export markets.

The fibre ecosystem constitutes the foundation of India's textile value chain. With an abundant base of natural fibres, growing capacity in synthetic and regenerated fibres, and widespread use of blended materials, Indian textile players are strategically positioned to serve a diverse and evolving consumer base across global and domestic markets. Additionally, the growing focus on sustainability and eco-friendly fibres is expected to shape future investment and innovation in the industry.

Raw Material Support

1. Cotton

Cotton is one of the most important raw materials for the Indian textile industry and serves as the primary natural fibre supporting yarn, fabric, and garment production. India holds a leading position globally in cotton cultivation due to its large acreage and favourable agro-climatic conditions. The crop is cultivated across several major states, with a significant portion grown under rain-fed conditions, while the remainder is supported by irrigation infrastructure. India has established itself as a key producer, consumer, and exporter of cotton, ensuring strong raw material availability for the domestic textile sector. The Cotton Corporation of India plays a crucial role in ensuring price stability and farmer protection through procurement under the Minimum Support Price mechanism, thereby maintaining a stable supply chain for textile manufacturers.

2. Jute

India is the world's largest producer of raw jute, and the crop plays a vital role in supporting the textile industry, particularly in the eastern region of the country. The jute sector provides significant employment across farming, processing, and manufacturing activities, while also supporting the livelihoods of millions of farming families. Jute mills are largely concentrated in eastern India, forming an important industrial base for natural fibre processing. The government supports the sector through procurement operations undertaken by the Jute Corporation of India and through mandatory packaging norms under the Jute Packaging Material Act, which ensure consistent demand for jute products. This policy framework supports farmer incomes, sustains mill operations, and ensures continued availability of jute as a raw material.

3. Silk

Silk is a premium natural fibre known for its superior texture, durability, and cultural significance within the textile industry. India occupies a prominent position in global silk production and is unique in producing all major commercial varieties of silk. The sericulture sector plays an important role in rural employment and income generation, particularly in traditional silk-producing regions. The industry is characterised by low capital requirements and high labour intensity, making it an important contributor to inclusive growth. Continued focus on quality improvement, productivity enhancement, and diversification of silk varieties has strengthened the sector and ensured a stable raw material base for silk textile manufacturing .

4. Wool

To support the comprehensive development of the wool sector, the Ministry of Textiles has continued and rationalized the Integrated Wool Development Programme (IWDP) under the Central Sector Scheme, as approved by the Standing Finance Committee (SFC) in its meeting held on June 15, 2021. The IWDP aims to position India as a competitive and high-quality manufacturer and supplier of woollen products by introducing technological advancements and streamlining various segments of the wool value chain.

The key objectives of the IWDP include:

- Enhancing backward and forward linkages in the wool supply chain by improving raw wool procurement capacities of State Governments.
- Establishing infrastructure to connect wool producers directly with the wool industry, thereby improving efficiency.
- Providing marketing platforms to small-scale woollen product manufacturers through exhibitions and expos.
- Expanding the coverage of machine shearing, which improves the quality and uniformity of raw wool.
- Upgrading the quality of finished woollen goods by setting up modern wool processing machinery.
- Boosting the availability of wool testing and bale forming facilities, along with providing tools for manufacturing.
- Promoting the utilization of coarse wool and encouraging R&D for the use of wool in technical textiles.
- Facilitating skill development and capacity building for artisans producing traditional, handmade woollen products.
- Supporting the branding of Pashmina and carpet-grade wool to enhance their market value.
- Advancing the development of the Pashmina wool sector specifically in the Himalayan region.

This integrated approach is intended to strengthen the entire wool ecosystem—from raw material procurement to finished product marketing—while supporting employment, innovation, and exports.

5. Man Made Fibre

Man-made fibre forms a critical component of the modern textile industry and supports the production of a wide range of apparel, home textiles, and technical textile products. India has developed a vertically integrated man-made fibre value chain, covering the entire spectrum from raw material production to finished goods manufacturing. With changing global consumption patterns favouring synthetic fibres, there is increasing emphasis on expanding domestic production capacity and improving quality standards. The government has introduced regulatory measures such as Quality Control Orders to ensure the availability of high-quality raw materials and protect domestic manufacturers. These initiatives are aimed at strengthening the man-made fibre ecosystem and enhancing India's competitiveness in global textile markets.

Cotton Production & Consumption Trends in India

Cotton plays a pivotal role in India's textile economy, serving as the backbone of the country's textile value chain. As the world's Second largest producer and second-largest consumer of cotton, India holds a dominant position in the global cotton landscape. With vast cultivation across major states and deep integration into spinning and fabric manufacturing, the performance of the cotton sector significantly influences the overall health of the textile industry. Understanding the trends in cotton production and consumption is essential to assess the raw material availability, price stability, export potential, and competitiveness of India's textile exports. This section outlines recent production and consumption patterns, key drivers, and policy interventions shaping the sector.

Source: ICAC Journal 'Cotton This Month' – 01.07.2025, India: COCPC Meeting dated 24.03.2025

The chart indicates fluctuating trends in India's cotton production and consumption over the period FY2020–21 to FY2024–25, reflecting the combined impact of acreage shifts, weather variability, and evolving domestic demand. Cotton production declined from 6.00 million metric tonnes in FY2020–21 to 5.29 million metric tonnes in FY2021–22, before recovering to 5.72 million metric tonnes in FY2022–23. However, production softened again to 5.53 million metric tonnes in FY2023–24 and is estimated to decline further to 5.00 million metric tonnes in FY2024–25, indicating supply-side pressures in recent years.

In contrast, cotton consumption has remained relatively stable to rising, increasing from 5.70 million metric tonnes in FY2020–21 to 5.48 million metric tonnes in FY2021–22, moderating slightly in FY2022–23, and then rising to 5.55 million metric tonnes in FY2023–24 and 5.41 million metric tonnes in FY2024–25. Notably, from FY2021–22 onwards, consumption consistently exceeds production, highlighting a tightening domestic supply-demand balance.

Overall, the widening gap between declining production and steady consumption suggests increased reliance on imports, drawdown of inventories, or pressure on domestic prices. These trends underline the importance of productivity improvements, stable acreage, and yield-enhancing measures to support India's cotton value chain and meet sustained domestic demand.

Expected Growth

Looking ahead, based on industry forecasts and current trends, India's cotton production is expected to see modest growth of around 1–2% annually over the next five years. This growth will likely be driven more by improvements in yield through technological adoption, better irrigation practices, and high-yield varieties, rather than expansion in cultivated area. However, factors such as competition for arable land from other crops, climate variability, and fragmented farm structures could constrain production growth, suggesting that the supply-demand gap may persist unless mitigated by strategic interventions in the cotton ecosystem.

Key threats and challenges

The Indian textile industry faces several structural and operational challenges that can constrain its expansion and global competitiveness. One of the most pressing issues is low productivity and yield in cotton cultivation. India's cotton yield remains significantly below the global average due to fragmented landholdings, rain-fed farming, limited adoption of advanced seeds, and pest infestations. This not only affects raw material availability but also leads to higher input costs for downstream processes.

1. High dependence on cotton: Dependence on cotton makes the industry vulnerable to fluctuations in cotton prices and weather conditions. While global demand is shifting towards man-made fibres (MMF), India's fibre mix continues to be cotton-heavy, and MMF production remains underdeveloped due to higher input costs and limited domestic manufacturing capacity.
2. Infrastructure bottlenecks: The industry faces significant infrastructure and capital investment challenges, including outdated machinery, limited adoption of modern technology, inadequate logistics, and inefficient port handling. These issues increase production costs and lead times, affecting competitiveness in exports. Although initiatives like PM MITRA parks aim to modernize infrastructure and promote advanced manufacturing, the pace of technology adoption and capital investment remains uneven across regions, limiting the sector's ability to fully leverage global demand opportunities.
3. Nature of the industry: A critical constraint is the fragmented nature of the industry, especially in the weaving and apparel sectors, which are dominated by small and medium enterprises (SMEs). These units often lack access to modern technology, finance, skilled labour, and global markets and non-availability of Capital limiting their ability to scale or compete internationally.
4. Skilled labour shortage: Skilled labour shortage is another concern, particularly in advanced manufacturing and technical textile segments. The industry experiences high attrition rates and low productivity in several labour-intensive hubs, exacerbated by the lack of formal training and certification programs.
5. Trade Policy: India's textile exports face a major setback following the U.S. decision in April 2025 to impose a 50% reciprocal tariff on Indian textile imports. As the U.S. is India's single largest export market, this steep tariff significantly undermines the sector's competitiveness, limits growth opportunities, and raises uncertainty for long-term sourcing commitments. Without favourable trade negotiations or policy interventions, Indian exporters may struggle to maintain market share and profitability in this critical destination.

Region-wise Dominance in the Indian Cotton Market

India's cotton market is highly diversified and regionally segmented, reflecting the country's vast agro-climatic zones and varied cropping patterns. As the world's largest cotton producer, India cultivates cotton across multiple states, each contributing differently in terms of acreage, yield, and output quality. The regional distribution of cotton production is influenced by factors such as irrigation availability, rainfall patterns, soil types, and the adoption of high-yielding varieties. Understanding the region-wise share of the cotton market is crucial for policymakers, traders, and industry stakeholders to identify production trends, address logistical needs, and plan procurement strategies effectively.

Source: Meeting of Committee on Cotton Production and Consumption (COCPC)

The chart titled “State-wise Comparison of Cotton Area, Production, and Yield in India (2024–2025E)” offers a comprehensive view of regional performance in India’s cotton sector for the estimated year 2024–25. It simultaneously presents three critical indicators: area under cultivation (blue bars), total cotton production (orange bars), and yield in kilograms per hectare (green dotted line with markers), enabling a comparative assessment of scale, output, and productivity across key states.

The data reveals that Maharashtra leads in both area and production, with 40.86 lakh hectares of cultivated land resulting in 89.09 lakh bales. However, its yield remains relatively low at 371 kg/hectare, highlighting scope for improving farming efficiency. Gujarat, on the other hand, strikes an optimal balance with 23.99 lakh hectares of cotton area, producing 74.41 lakh bales, and achieving the highest yield nationally at 527 kg/hectare. This makes Gujarat the most productive state on a per-hectare basis. Telangana also shows strong performance, ranking third in production with 50.27 lakh bales, driven by 18.1 lakh hectares of area and a healthy yield of 472 kg/hectare. Madhya Pradesh follows with high yield (514 kg/hectare) and a modest production volume (15.85 lakh bales), reflecting efficient cultivation despite limited land use.

In Northern India, Rajasthan achieves an impressive yield of 500 kg/hectare, but its area (6.27 lakh hectares) and production (18.45 lakh bales) are significantly lower than Western and Southern states. Punjab and Haryana contribute moderately in terms of both area and production, with yields of 462 and 420 kg/hectare respectively. Other states such as Andhra Pradesh, Karnataka, Orissa, and Tamil Nadu show smaller contributions. Tamil Nadu has a notably low yield of 351 kg/hectare, while the “Others” category reports the lowest yield at just 146 kg/hectare, suggesting either marginal cultivation zones or poor agronomic conditions.

Overview of Cotton Yarn Industry

Yarn is a long continuous length of interlocked fibres, primarily used in the production of textiles through weaving, knitting, or other fabric-making techniques. Yarns can be broadly classified into natural and man-made (synthetic) categories, and further subdivided based on fibre origin, spinning technology, and structural form.

Types of Yarn

1. Cotton Yarn

Cotton yarn is made from natural cotton fibres obtained from the seed hair of the cotton plant. India is one of the largest producers and exporters of cotton yarn globally. Cotton yarn is spun into various counts based on the thickness and strength of fibres and is commonly used in casual wear, innerwear, home textiles, and denim manufacturing.

Yarn Type	Characteristics	Applications	Market Insights
Carded Yarn	More short fibres and neps, rougher surface, cost effective, lower tensile strength.	Low- cost garments, towels and bed linen, workwear and industrial fabrics.	Carded yarn is widely used in domestic and export markets for low-to-mid range textile applications.
Combed Yarn	Higher tensile strength, smoother texture, less prone to piling and breakage, more lustrous and breathable	High-end t-shirts and shirts, bedsheets and pillows, babywear and skin sensitive apparel.	Indian spinners use combed yarn primarily for export-quality garments and value-added textile products. It is popular in international markets like the EU, USA, and Japan.
Compact Yarn	Very low hairiness, less lint and pilling, exceptional strength, abrasion resistance, improves weaving efficiency	Dress Shirts and business apparel, fine woven fabrics for fashion wear, performance wear.	India has increasingly adopted compact spinning machines to meet global quality benchmarks. Compact yarn fetches a premium in international markets and is used by brands requiring superior fabric performance.

The Indian textile industry is gradually shifting from carded to combed and compact yarns in response to rising demand for finer, value-added products—especially in export markets. Technological investments in compact spinning frames and automated combers are increasing, especially in Tamil Nadu, Gujarat, and Maharashtra textile clusters.

2. Man-Made Fibre (MMF) Yarn

Man-made yarns are produced from chemical processes, either from natural polymers (like cellulose) or synthetic polymers (like petroleum-based compounds). MMF yarns are classified into:

a) Spun MMF Yarn

This is produced by cutting continuous synthetic filaments into staple lengths (like natural fibres) and then spinning them using conventional methods like ring spinning or open-end spinning.

- Common materials: Polyester, viscose, acrylic, modal.
- Applications: Blended fabrics (e.g., poly-cotton), uniforms, sarees, knitwear.

b) Filament MMF Yarn

Filament yarns are made from continuous strands of fibre extruded through spinnerets. These yarns are smoother, shinier, and stronger compared to spun yarns.

- Types:
 - Monofilament (single continuous strand)
 - Multi-filament (group of continuous strands twisted together)
 - Textured filament yarn (bulkier, more stretch)
- Applications: Sportswear, leggings, lingerie, automotive fabrics, furnishings.

3. Silk Yarn

Silk yarn is obtained from the natural protein fibre secreted by silkworms during the formation of cocoons. India is the second-largest producer of silk globally. The yarn is fine, lustrous, and strong, with natural sheen and elasticity.

- Types: Mulberry (most common), Tussar, Eri, and Muga silk.
- Applications: Luxury garments, sarees, scarves, ties, home décor.

4. Wool Yarn

Wool yarn is made from animal fleece, predominantly sheep wool. The wool is carded, combed, and spun into yarn. Indian wool production is largely coarse wool, suitable for carpets and rougher textiles.

- Types:
 - Worsted yarn (fine and strong)
 - Woolen yarn (bulkier, warm)
- Applications: Sweaters, coats, shawls, carpets.

5. Jute Yarn

Jute yarn is a natural, eco-friendly fibre derived from the stalks of the jute plant. India is the largest producer of jute and jute products globally.

- Types: Fine jute yarn (hessian), coarse jute yarn (sacking, ropes)
- Applications: Gunny bags, carpets, upholstery, geo-textiles, decorative items.

WPI of cotton Yarn

Source - CMIE

The Wholesale Price Index (WPI) for cotton yarn in India has shown a dynamic and cyclical pattern over the years, reflecting the sector's sensitivity to both domestic and global factors. Starting from the base level of 100 in 2011–12, the index registered steady inflation in the early years, peaking at 116.8 in 2013–14. This growth phase was largely driven by rising input costs, increased domestic consumption, and robust export demand.

However, the subsequent period saw a mild correction, with the index softening through 2014–15 to 2016–17 due to oversupply of cotton, weakening export orders, and subdued fibre prices. Between 2017–18 and 2020–21, the index stabilized in the range of 113 to 116, indicating a relatively balanced supply-demand environment and price moderation across global textile markets.

A sharp surge occurred in 2021–22 and 2022–23, with the index reaching as high as 149.4. This increase was fuelled by post-COVID recovery, global raw material shortages, logistic disruptions, and a spike in international cotton prices. However, this price rally was short-lived, as the index witnessed a significant correction in 2023–24 to 130.1, before modestly increasing again in 2024–25 to 132.2, reflecting stabilizing market forces and improved supply chain efficiency.

Overall, the WPI trend highlights the vulnerability of cotton yarn pricing to external shocks, commodity cycles, and global textile trade flows, while also underlining periods of recovery and consolidation based on domestic production trends and policy interventions.

Production Trends of Cotton Yarn, Blended Yarn and Man-made Yarn

Source – CMIE, Infomerics Analytics & Research

Between 2019–20 and 2024–25, cotton yarn production in India ranged from 3,962 tonnes to 4,079 tonnes, 2021–22, remaining the largest segment despite fluctuations due to raw cotton availability and market conditions. Blended yarn showed steady performance, maintaining production between 952.8 tonnes and 1,110 tonnes, reflecting consistent demand for polyester-cotton and other blends. Man-made yarn exhibited volatility, rising sharply from 2,212 tonnes in 2019–20 to 2,730 tonnes in 2021–22 before stabilizing around 2,429 tonnes in 2023–24 and increasing to 2,633.10 in 2024–25, highlighting its sensitivity to fibre prices and export demand. Overall, cotton yarn dominates, blended yarn demonstrates stable growth, and man-made yarn shows cyclical trends, indicating a gradual shift in the yarn segment composition.

Export Performance of Cotton Yarn in India

The cotton yarn segment holds strategic importance in India’s textile value chain, acting as a critical link between raw cotton and finished textile products. India is one of the largest producers and exporters of cotton yarn globally, with a strong presence in key markets such as China, Bangladesh, and Vietnam. Over the years, the export performance of cotton yarn has been influenced by factors such as raw cotton availability, global demand fluctuations, and trade policies. In addition, domestic and international price trends have played a significant role in shaping the competitiveness of Indian cotton yarn in global markets.

Source: CMIE

The export trends of cotton yarn from India over the period 2020–21 to 2029–30, both in terms of quantity (in tonnes) and value (in USD million). The data reflects notable year-on-year fluctuations in both export volumes and earnings, with a particularly sharp spike in value observed in 2021–22. During this year, export value surged significantly despite only a moderate increase in quantity, indicating a sharp rise in global cotton yarn prices due to post-pandemic demand recovery, supply chain disruptions, and high raw cotton prices.

Following this peak, both export quantity and value dipped in 2022–23, suggesting normalization in global demand and price corrections. From 2023–24 onwards, a gradual and consistent upward trend is projected in both quantity and value, implying a stable recovery in export demand. The projected stabilization and moderate growth in export earnings from 2024–25 to 2029–30 indicate a balanced outlook, driven by steady global consumption, favourable trade conditions, and India’s competitive pricing. Overall, the chart reflects India’s resilient cotton yarn export performance and the potential for steady value growth in the coming years despite short-term volatilities.

Long term demand Outlook of Cotton Yarn

The long-term demand outlook for cotton yarn remains robust, underpinned by both domestic consumption growth and sustained export opportunities. India, being the Second largest producer of cotton and cotton yarn globally, is strategically positioned to cater to rising global and domestic textile demand. Over the coming decade, multiple structural and cyclical factors are expected to drive sustained growth in cotton yarn demand. At the production level, cotton yarn manufacturing in India is largely concentrated in key textile hubs such as Tamil Nadu, Gujarat, Maharashtra, Karnataka, Uttar Pradesh, Haryana, Rajasthan, and West Bengal, supported by strong spinning infrastructure, availability of raw cotton, and established industrial ecosystems.

On the domestic front, rising disposable incomes, urbanisation, increasing fashion consciousness, and a growing preference for natural and breathable fabrics are likely to support higher consumption of cotton-based textiles. The apparel segment, which consumes the bulk of cotton yarn, is poised for expansion with increasing penetration of branded garments, a shift towards formal and casual wear in rural and semi-urban regions, and the growth of e-commerce-driven retail. Additionally, government schemes such as the Production Linked Incentive (PLI) Scheme for Textiles, the National Technical Textiles Mission, and state-level textile policies are expected to enhance downstream capacity creation, leading to greater demand for cotton yarn as a key raw material.

On the export front, India's cotton yarn exports are expected to benefit from the gradual shift of global sourcing away from China due to rising costs and trade tensions, coupled with the strong positioning of Indian mills in terms of cost competitiveness, raw material availability, and spinning capacity. Demand from key export markets such as Bangladesh, China, Vietnam, and the European Union is expected to remain stable or grow, particularly as global fashion brands increasingly focus on diversifying their sourcing base. Furthermore, the signing of bilateral trade agreements (such as with UAE, Australia, and UK) is expected to improve market access and competitiveness for Indian cotton yarn exports.

However, the sector also faces long-term challenges including volatile raw cotton prices, dependence on monsoon patterns, and increasing competition from man-made fibres (MMF) due to their cost-efficiency and suitability for fast fashion. Nevertheless, with global consumers gradually shifting toward sustainable and eco-friendly textiles, cotton yarn is expected to retain strategic importance as a natural fibre. The push for sustainable fashion, especially in developed economies, will further reinforce long-term demand for organic and recycled cotton yarns.

Production of Fabrics in India

India is among the leading global producers of textile fabrics, supported by an abundant raw material base, skilled labour, and a vast network of power loom and processing clusters. Fabric production in the country is dominated by cotton woven fabrics and an increasing share of polyester/viscose blended fabrics, reflecting both traditional strengths and emerging trends in fibre preferences.

The table below provides year-wise production of cotton woven and polyester/viscose blended fabrics in India over the last five fiscal years:

Year	Production
	Cotton Woven Fabrics (in '000 run MT)	Polyester/ Viscose Blended Fabrics (in '000 run Mt)
2020-21	236,628.5	83,295.5
2021-22	377,209.2	104,494.7
2022-23	377,091.2	115,717.9
2023-24	384,343.3	123,342.5
2024-25	371,200.4	136,951.8

Source: CMIE (sourced from Central Statistics Office)

Production of cotton woven fabrics saw a sharp recovery in FY 2021–22 following the pandemic-induced disruptions, rising by approximately 59% over the previous year. This momentum was largely sustained in the following two years, with output reaching a peak of 384,343.3 million run metres in FY 2023–24. A marginal decline of 3.4% in FY 2024–25 to 371,200.4 million run metres may be attributed to demand normalization in key domestic and export markets.

Meanwhile, production of polyester/viscose blended fabrics has witnessed a consistent upward trajectory over the five-year period. From 83,295.5 million run metres in FY 2020–21, production increased to 136,951.8 million run metres in FY 2024–25, registering a CAGR of approximately 13.1%. The sustained rise reflects a growing preference for man-made fibres (MMF), driven by their durability, cost-effectiveness, and suitability for high-growth segments such as fast fashion, uniforms, and export apparel.

The rising share of blended fabrics in overall fabric production also aligns with government policy interventions, including the PLI Scheme for MMF Garments and Technical Textiles and the establishment of PM MITRA Parks, aimed at boosting India’s competitiveness in synthetic textiles and capturing a larger share of the global MMF trade.

Export and Import Trends of Fabric

India maintains a strong position as a net exporter of fabrics, with exports significantly exceeding imports over the past five years. However, the trade dynamics reflect cyclical fluctuations influenced by global demand, input costs, supply chain disruptions, and evolving sourcing patterns by international buyers.

The graph below illustrates India’s fabric export and imports values from 2020–21 to FY 2024–25:

Source: CMIE

India’s fabric exports registered strong growth in FY 2021–22, increasing from USD 2,738.9 million to USD 3,956.7 million, aided by post-pandemic global recovery, strong restocking demand, and stable export incentives. However, in the subsequent years, export values declined moderately to USD 3,401.4 million in FY 2023–24, before stabilizing at USD 3,405.5 million in FY 2024–25. The decline reflects price corrections in cotton and man-made fabrics, weakening demand in key geographies, and increasing competition from low-cost Asian exporters.

On the other hand, imports of fabric have remained relatively steady, rising gradually from USD 406.1 million in FY 2020–21 to USD 648.6 million in FY 2024–25. This growth is driven by increasing domestic consumption of high-end synthetic, technical, and specialty fabrics—especially for performance wear and industrial applications—where local manufacturing capabilities remain limited.

Despite the narrowing gap between export and import growth, India remains a net exporter of fabrics. The trade trend underscores the importance of strengthening domestic manufacturing capacities in advanced MMF and technical textiles, while leveraging Free Trade Agreements (FTAs) to remain competitive in key export markets.

Investments in textile industry and its growth in CAGR %

Source – Ministry of Textiles, Note: 2025-26 Data is upto June 2025

Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) inflows into the textile sector in India have exhibited a fluctuating trend over the period under review, reflecting changing global investment sentiment, policy developments, and cyclical dynamics within the textile industry. The sector witnessed moderate inflows during the early years, followed by a significant surge in the mid- period, and thereafter experienced volatility with intermittent recovery. FDI inflows increased substantially during the middle of the period, reaching a peak driven by increased investor interest, supportive government policies, and expansion of export-oriented manufacturing capacity. This surge was followed by a correction phase, as inflows moderated due to global economic uncertainties, supply chain disruptions, and shifting investment priorities.

In recent years, the sector has shown mixed trends, with certain years witnessing recovery supported by policy initiatives such as the Production Linked Incentive (PLI) Scheme, improving ease of doing business, and growing global interest in diversifying textile sourcing bases. However, the latest year reflects a sharp decline, which may be attributable to provisional data, global macroeconomic uncertainty, and cautious investor sentiment. Overall, between FY2011-12 and FY2024-25, FDI inflows in the textile sector increased from USD 164.19 million to USD 254.77 million, registering a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of approximately 3.44%. This indicates moderate long-term growth in foreign investment, despite year-to-year volatility. The overall trend reflects sustained foreign investor interest in India's textile sector, supported by structural advantages such as availability of raw materials, large labour base, integrated value chain, and government initiatives aimed at enhancing manufacturing competitiveness. Going forward, continued policy support, infrastructure development, and global supply chain realignment are expected to support steady growth in FDI inflows into the sector.

Market Opportunities – India owing to revision in tariff by US Government

Recent trade discussions between the United States and India have led to a reduction in reciprocal tariffs from 25% to 18%, improving India's relative tariff position in the U.S. market. This revision alters the competitive dynamics among Asian textile-exporting countries supplying to the U.S., the world's largest textile and apparel import market.

Tariff comparison with competitors:

- Vietnam: 20%
- Bangladesh: 20%
- Cambodia: 19%
- Pakistan: 19%
- China: 30%
- India: 18%

With the reduction to 18%, the tariff imposed by the U.S. on Indian exports is now broadly comparable to key Asian exporters and materially lower than China. This improvement enhances India's price competitiveness in the U.S. market and reduces the earlier disadvantage vis-à-vis countries such as Vietnam, Bangladesh, and Cambodia, which have historically benefited from preferential or lower-duty access. In addition to developments in the U.S. market, India has concluded negotiations on the India– European Union Free Trade Agreement on 27 January 2026, which is expected to be signed later in 2026 and become effective by early 2027. The agreement is considered transformational for India's textile and apparel sector, as it provides zero-duty access for textiles and clothing across all tariff lines in the European market, with tariff reductions of up to 12%. The agreement is expected to significantly expand India's textile and garment exports to the European market by improving duty conditions, particularly benefiting labour-intensive segments of the value chain such as garments, home textiles, and made ups. For the textile industry, the revised tariff structure is expected to support export order stability, particularly in value-added segments where price sensitivity is high. Improved competitiveness may help sustain capacity utilisation across major textile clusters such as Tiruppur, Surat, Ludhiana, and Bengaluru, while also supporting employment across the spinning, weaving, processing, and garmenting value chain. Over the medium term, the tariff rationalisation is likely to encourage incremental export-oriented investments, strengthen India's role in diversified global sourcing strategies, and partially offset demand pressures arising from geopolitical and macroeconomic uncertainties. While competition from other Asian exporters remains intense, the narrowing of tariff differentials reduces the risk of large-scale order diversion away from India.

Government Initiatives and Policy Support

The Government of India has launched a series of targeted policy measures to enhance the domestic textile and footwear manufacturing ecosystem. These initiatives focus on formalizing the supply chain, modernizing technology, building a skilled workforce, and raising quality standards. These efforts are particularly beneficial for niche segments like children's apparel and footwear, which gain from improved infrastructure, regulatory standards, and institutional capabilities. (PIB).

The Union Budget 2025-26 announced an outlay of ₹ 5272 crores (Budget Estimates) for the Ministry of Textiles for 2025-26. This is an increase of 19 percent over budget estimates of 2024-25 (₹ 4417.03 crore).

Union Budget 2025-26 has announced a five-year Cotton Mission to increase cotton productivity especially extra-long staple varieties. Science & Technology support will be provided to farmers under this Mission. The Mission is in keeping with the 5 F principle and will increase income of the farmers and augment a steady supply of quality cotton. By boosting domestic productivity, this initiative will stabilise raw material availability, reduce import dependence and enhance the global competitiveness of India's textile sector, where 80% of capacity is driven by MSMEs.

Production-Linked Incentive (PLI) Scheme for Textiles: The PLI Scheme is designed to boost domestic manufacturing of man-made fibre (MMF) garments, MMF fabrics, and technical textiles. In the Union Budget for FY2025–26, the Ministry of Textiles received an increased allocation of ₹5,272 crore (up from ₹4,417.03 crore in FY2024–25), with ₹1,148 crore earmarked specifically for the PLI scheme. The scheme carries a total outlay of ₹10,683 crore over five years.

PM MITRA Parks & Textile Cluster Development: To create world-class textile hubs, the government is developing PM Mega Integrated Textile Region and Apparel (PM MITRA) Parks, with an approved budget of ₹4,445 crore to be implemented by FY2027–28. These parks offer integrated infrastructure across the value chain—including spinning, weaving, dyeing, and garmenting—with plug-and-play facilities. Additionally, the Textile Cluster Development Scheme (TCDS) has a sanctioned budget of ₹853 crore and has already generated 1.22 lakh jobs as of March 2025.

National Technical Textiles Mission (NTTM): The NTTM aims to establish India as a global leader in technical textiles, focusing on:

- Research, innovation, and product development
- Market and promotional activities
- Skill development and workforce training
- Export promotion

This mission is vital for advancing high-performance textiles used in healthcare, infrastructure, defence, and automotive industries.

SAMARTH – Skill Development in Textiles: The SAMARTH scheme addresses the industry's need for skilled labour by providing demand-driven, placement-oriented training. It focuses on unemployed youth, women, and disadvantaged groups, bridging the skill gap and enhancing productivity throughout the value chain.

Amended Technology Upgradation Fund Scheme (ATUFS): ATUFS encourages modernization in the textile sector by offering capital investment subsidies for upgrading machinery. It promotes efficiency, cost reduction, and quality improvements, especially in spinning, weaving, and processing units.

Silk Samagra-2: This scheme promotes holistic development in the sericulture sector. It supports all stages—from research and silkworm rearing to cocoon production, yarn processing, and marketing—with the aim of boosting raw silk output and generating rural livelihoods.

National Handicrafts Development Programme (NHDP): The National Handicrafts Development Programme (NHDP) is designed to provide comprehensive and need-based support to artisans engaged in the handicrafts sector. The scheme focuses on strengthening livelihoods through skill upgradation, design development, technology support, and marketing assistance. Under NHDP, support is extended for organising domestic and international exhibitions, buyer–seller meets, branding initiatives, and e-commerce enablement to improve market access for handicraft products. The programme also facilitates training and capacity-building initiatives to enhance productivity, product quality, and income levels of artisans, while promoting preservation of traditional crafts.

Comprehensive Handicrafts Cluster Development Scheme (CHCDS): The Comprehensive Handicrafts Cluster Development Scheme (CHCDS) adopts a cluster-based approach to develop handicraft clusters with significant artisan concentration. The scheme aims to address structural gaps by providing integrated support for infrastructure development, common facility centres, raw material banks, technology upgradation, and design studios within identified clusters. CHCDS also promotes formation of producer groups and producer companies to improve collective bargaining power, operational efficiency, and sustainability of artisan communities. The scheme focuses on long-term development of clusters by improving scale, formalisation, and value addition, thereby enhancing competitiveness of handicraft products in domestic and export markets.

Cotton Sector reforms: The cotton sector supports 6 million farmers and 40–50 million people across value chains. To enhance transparency, the Kapas Kisan mobile app was launched, enabling farmer self-registration and slot booking. The 'Kasturi Cotton Bharat' Programme was launched, to enhance the global market acceptance of Indian cotton. Additionally, the Quality Control Order (QCO) 2023 for cotton bales has been deferred till August 2026.

Key Trends – Indian Cotton Industry

The Indian cotton spinning industry is evolving rapidly, influenced by global market shifts, technological advancements, sustainability imperatives, and changing domestic consumption patterns. Key consolidated trends shaping the industry include:

- 1. Shift towards value-added yarns and specialty fibres – While traditional cotton yarn continues to dominate, there is growing investment in blended yarns, compact and combed yarns, and technical fibres for functional textiles such as moisture-wicking, antimicrobial, and performance fabrics. Government initiatives like the PLI for Textiles support higher-value segments.
- 2. Increasing focus on sustainability – Indian spinning mills are adopting eco-friendly practices including organic cotton, recycled fibres, zero-liquid discharge (ZLD) systems, and energy-efficient machinery. Export buyers, particularly in Europe and North America, increasingly demand traceable, certified sustainable yarns, prompting mills to integrate ESG practices.
- 3. Digitalization and automation – Automation in spinning (e.g., ring, rotor, and compact spinning), ERP systems, AI-based inventory management, and predictive maintenance are improving production efficiency, reducing wastage, and enabling faster response to market demand. Digital B2B platforms also allow MSMEs to connect directly with domestic and global buyers.
- 4. Export orientation and market diversification – While the US, EU, and UK remain core markets, Indian spinners are exploring Latin America, Africa, and Asia-Pacific to reduce dependency risks. FTAs with UAE, Australia, and UK are expected to enhance India's global cotton yarn exports.
- 5. Industry consolidation and vertical integration – Larger mills are pursuing backward integration into cotton procurement and forward integration into fabric production to ensure quality control and cost efficiency. MSMEs are increasingly forming clusters or joint ventures to achieve scale and access shared resources.

Rising domestic consumption – Urbanization, higher disposable incomes, and the growth of organized retail and e-commerce are boosting domestic demand for cotton yarn-based apparel and home textiles. This trend is encouraging spinners to focus on branding, product differentiation, and direct-to-consumer (D2C) channels

Competitive landscape

The Indian textile industry is undergoing a strategic shift marked by rising domestic consumption, shifting global sourcing patterns, increasing digitisation, and growing demand for sustainable and value-added fabrics. The competitive environment features a wide spectrum of players including vertically integrated mills, regional MSME clusters, large-scale exporters, institutional suppliers, and digital-first B2B platforms. As the industry transitions from volume-driven commodity manufacturing to quality-driven, differentiated production, fabric manufacturers are increasingly leveraging technology, branding, and scale to build competitive advantage.

Key Factors shaping competition

The textile industry operates in a highly competitive environment influenced by structural characteristics of the manufacturing ecosystem, availability and cost of raw materials, scale of operations, and ability to meet quality and compliance requirements of institutional buyers. Key factors shaping competition in the industry are:

Scale of integration of operations: Larger players with integrated manufacturing capabilities across spinning, processing, and finishing benefit from economies of scale, improved cost control, and greater flexibility in meeting customer requirements, thereby strengthening their competitive position.

Access to raw material and sourcing efficiency: Efficient procurement networks and long-term relationships with raw material suppliers enable better price negotiation, consistent quality, and reduced supply disruptions, which are critical in a raw-material-intensive industry.

Technology adoption and operational efficiency: Investment in modern machinery, automation, and process optimisation improves productivity, reduces wastage, and ensures uniform quality, providing a competitive advantage over less technologically advanced players.

Working capital management and financial strength: The ability to manage high inventory levels, longer operating cycles, and exposure to raw material price and currency volatility is a key differentiator, particularly in capital-intensive manufacturing segments.

Capability to process and handle premium wool: Expertise in handling fine and premium wool fibres, including advanced combing and spinning processes, enhances product quality and enables participation in higher-margin market segments.

Compliance, traceability and quality consistency: Ability to meet stringent quality standards, sustainability expectations, and traceability requirements of institutional and export customers influences long-term competitiveness and customer retention.

OVERVIEW

We are engaged in the business of manufacturing and trading of carded, combed and compact combed cotton yarns and cotton bales. In Fiscal 2025, our Company has achieved the highest ROCE and RONW amongst its selected peers. Our cotton bales are utilized both for captive production of cotton yarns and for supply to other spinning units and the cotton yarns produced are used in both knitting and weaving applications, catering to a wide spectrum of end-use segments and products including denim, terry towels, shirting, sheeting, sweaters, socks, bottom wear, home textiles, and industrial fabrics.

We have a semi-automated and integrated spinning and ginning Manufacturing Facility situated at Halvad, Morbi, Gujarat. We produce 100% cotton yarns in counts ranging from Ne 26 to Ne 40 which includes carded, combed and combed compact varieties (“Ne” refers to the English Cotton Count System, which is a standard way to measure the fineness or thickness of yarn. The higher the Ne, the finer the yarn).

The ginning process converts raw cotton into cotton bales through stages of cleaning and separation, during which cotton seeds and other by-products are generated. While the cleaned lint is pressed into bales for supply to spinning mills, the separated cotton seeds are sold to industries engaged in oil extraction, animal feed, and other applications, thereby providing an additional revenue stream for our Company. A nominal portion of raw cotton is lost as non-recoverable waste during the process.

The spinning of cotton into yarn involves several stages of cleaning, carding and drawing of cotton, during which by-products such as comber, licker-in, and hard waste (collectively, “cotton waste by-products”) are generated. These cotton waste by-products are sold to industries manufacturing non-woven fabrics and open-end yarns, providing an additional revenue stream for our Company. Nominal portion of cotton in the range of 0.1% to 0.3% of the total cotton yarn produced is non-sellable waste.

The product wise bifurcation of revenue from operations of our products/by-products for last three fiscals is set out below:

We have more than a decade of operational experience in the textile industry, we presently operate through our manufacturing facility which is strategically located at Halvad, Morbi (Gujarat) in proximity to high quality cotton growing area of Gujarat and spans a built-up area of approximately 30,397.11 sq. m (“Manufacturing Facility”). As on date of this Red Herring Prospectus, we have a spindle count capacity of 25,920 spindles through 15 compact ring spinning machines and an annual 12,000 MT production capacity of cotton bales through 28 ginning machines. We have a cotton yarn production capacity of 7,700 MT per annum. Our Manufacturing Facility operates 24 hours per day on a 3-shift basis to maximize output and ensure uninterrupted operations and usually operates for 365 days a year.

We have a quality control and product development team (“Quality Team”) at our Manufacturing Facility that undertakes testing of raw materials, unfinished product at different stages of production, and finished products before dispatch. We have set up an in-house laboratory to undertake such tests on the intermediate and finished products. Additionally, standard operating procedures are adopted for controlling each step of our manufacturing process to ensure compliance with the quality specifications provided by our customers. In order to ensure uniformity in our products and minimize errors, we have implemented a semi-automated manufacturing process that regulates key stages of production, thereby helping maintain consistent quality and standards while reducing the scope for error. We believe this quality measures improve the effectiveness of the manufacturing process, thereby improving the quality of our products.

The Indian textile industry is estimated at USD 195.4 billion in 2025 and is projected to reach USD 623.34 billion by 2035, at a CAGR of 12.3%, driven by strategic investments, policy support, and innovation.. The Union Budget 2026–27 introduces the National Fibre Scheme, aimed at promoting self-reliance and ensuring stable availability of natural, man-made, and specialised fibres, thereby strengthening raw material security and reducing input cost volatility. The Budget also emphasises the modernisation of textile clusters, development of integrated textile parks, and promotion of technical and value-added textiles to enhance scale efficiencies and productivity. Continued support for traditional segments such as handloom, handicrafts, and khadi is expected to drive employment generation and foster inclusive growth. Further, the government has reiterated its commitment to skill development through Samarth 2.0, an enhanced skilling initiative focused on improving workforce quality, productivity, and alignment with industry requirements. Cotton textiles form the largest segment of the Indian Textile Industry accounting for approximately 38-40% of the total market. Overall, the future of the textile industry and specifically the cotton spinning segment will be defined by a balance of tradition and innovation, leveraging India’s rich cotton heritage while adapting to global market dynamics and sustainability imperatives. Our direct presence in the region has enabled us to better understand local needs, streamline our operations, and efficiently meet their product requirements, thereby ensuring higher customer retention.

During the Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, we served 40, 32 and 42 repeat customers, and added 191, 46 and 43 new customers. Further during the preceding three Fiscals, we served more than 250 customers across textile industry, out of which 14 have been associated with us for a period of more than 5 years. During the Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, the top ten customers contributed to ₹ 20,601.96 lakhs, ₹ 25,076.98 lakhs and ₹ 19,002.16 lakhs towards our revenue from sale of products, during the Financial Years 2025, 2024 and 2023, respectively, constituting 59.94%, 84.71% and 80.88% of our revenue from sale of products, during the said period.

Our ginning unit operates seasonally for about 6 to 7 months each year, typically from mid-September/October to March, depending on the commencement of the cotton harvest. During this period, we procure raw cotton from farmers and traders and process it into cotton bales at our ginning unit. The cotton bales produced are primarily used for our captive consumption, while the surplus is sold to spinning mills, traders, and other customers.

In case of shortfall of cotton bales or after the end of cotton harvest season we procure our principal raw material, i.e. cotton bales, through suppliers, sourcing from ginning mills and traders located across Gujarat which enables us to reduce transportation costs and lead time, enhancing our operational efficiency. Over time, we have built relationships with a network of reliable suppliers, allowing us to secure consistent quality, maintain a steady supply of raw materials, and align procurement seamlessly with our production schedules. During the last three Fiscals, we procured cotton bales from more than 125 Suppliers out of which 8 suppliers are in top 10 suppliers where 6 Suppliers are associated with us over 5 years and top 10 suppliers contribute 73.05 %, 79.62 % and 44.30% of the total purchase during the last three fiscals. For details, see “Our Business –Raw Material and Our Suppliers” on page 180.

We follow a hedging-based procurement approach. For each yarn order inquiry, we determine and quote pricing based on the prevailing cotton bale rates. Upon confirmation of the yarn order, we procure corresponding quantity of cotton bales to align with the requirement. This approach enables us to safeguard and lock in price at the time of order confirmation while simultaneously maintaining sufficient stock levels to support continuous operations. This strategy helps us minimise exposure to raw material price fluctuations, maintain cost efficiency, and ensure consistent production output. As per this strategy, normal level of cotton bales inventory remains in line with the firm orders in-hand with the Company. However, to ensure uninterrupted production in our spinning unit during off-season, we procure additional cotton bales during the peak procurement season as buffer stock. This period generally coincides with the cotton harvest cycle in India (October to March), when raw cotton availability is higher and prices are comparatively lower. Hence, during the peak season when availability of cotton is abundant and the prices of cotton bales are favourable, we procure stock of cotton bales in excess of orders in-hand as buffer stock, which increases inventory level of cotton bales more than normal levels. The quantity of procurement of buffer stock depends on multiple factors such as availability of cotton bales during the particular cotton season and expected price movements based on Futures prices on commodity exchanges, availability of storage space and working capital funds as well as order book position for cotton yarn with the company. This buffer stock gradually comes down to normal levels during the off-season periods when our procurement of cotton bales from market remains lower depending on availability of cotton bales and prevailing prices in the market.

We are also an environmentally conscious organization committed to promoting the use of renewable energy. As part of our sustainability efforts, we installed a rooftop solar power plant, ground-mounted solar power plant and wind power plant, which became operational in 2023, 2023 and 2024 respectively to source captive power thereby substantial cost effectiveness on power cost. The installed capacity of this rooftop solar power plant, ground-mounted solar power plant and wind power plant stands at 1 MW, 4 MW and 2.7 MW respectively. This initiative supports our shift toward clean energy, contributing to our daily power requirements and resulting in a generation of average 37,692 units per day collectively during the period in between April 2024 to March 2025 resulting in reduction of monthly electricity expenses as detailed below. This green initiative not only helps reduce operational costs but also reinforces our commitment to eco-friendly and energy-efficient manufacturing practices by lowering our overall carbon footprint.

The details of power cost saving due to captive power generation from solar plant and windmill during the nine-month period ended December 31, 2025, and for the last three fiscals ended March 31, 2025, March 31, 2024, and March 31, 2023, is given as under:

Fiscal Year	Gross Billing for units consumed (without netting of captive power generation during the year/ period) (In ₹ lakh)	Net Billing paid during the year/ period as power expenses (in ₹ lakh)	Net amount adjusted in Gross Bill due to Captive Power Generation (in ₹ lakh)	No. of units for which we received credit for captive generation (in lakh Units)	% saving in total power expenses (%)	Revenues from Sale of Products (in ₹ lakh)	Net Billing as % of Revenues from Sale of Products

* Our company started generation of captive power from solar power plants from February-2023, however we started getting credit for captive power generation in the monthly electricity bills of April 2023 onwards. Credit for power generated during February 2023 and March 2023 were adjusted in the monthly electricity bill of April 2023 (i.e. bill dated May 2, 2023). Hence, actual netting from the electricity bill is shown Nil for FY 2022-23 though there was generation during the 2 months of FY 2022-23.

OUR STRENGTHS

1. The Company is focused on growth through a balanced strategy that includes inorganic growth via strategic acquisitions and organic growth by expanding its core operations and capabilities.

As part of our long-term business strategy, we intend to pursue a balanced growth approach comprising both inorganic expansion through strategic acquisitions and organic growth through operational scale-up, enhancement of capabilities and market penetration. In the past, we relied on organic growth with expansion of the installed capacity from 2 MT per day to 2.5 MT during the period financial year 2020 to financial year 2024 through upgradation in our machinery. We have also done major capex in FY 23 and FY24 for achieving sustainable operational efficiency by way of sourcing captive power through renewable sources, thereby achieving reduction in power cost and improving profitability. We continue to evaluate further growth strategy and identify acquisition opportunities that are synergistic to our existing business, to enable expansion of our product portfolio, strengthen our position across the value chain, and diversify our customer base and geographical presence. Our acquisition strategy is aimed at capability enhancement, value chain integration, product diversification and mitigation of business concentration risks.

In line with this strategy, we have entered into a Share Purchase Agreement (“SPA”) with Falcon Yarns Private Limited (“Falcon”) and its promoters (collectively, the “Sellers”) for the acquisition of 100% equity shareholding of Falcon. Falcon is engaged in the manufacturing of carded, combed and combed compact cotton yarn and operates a manufacturing facility at Survey No. 177/1, Village Bharudi, NH-27, near Bharudi Toll Plaza, Gondal, Rajkot-360 311, Gujarat, with an annual installed production capacity of 9,757 MT. Post completion of this acquisition, our total spinning capacity is expected to increase from 7,700 MT per annum to 17,457 MT per annum. Falcon has recorded revenue from operations of ₹24,944.39 lakhs, ₹22,035.14 lakhs, and ₹22,875.33 lakhs in the last three financial years. For further details, refer to the section titled “Objects of the Issue” on page 107.

This proposed acquisition is expected to contribute to our inorganic growth objectives, while the increased manufacturing scale, enhanced order-book visibility and broadened customer base are expected to support future organic growth, operational efficiencies and improved market positioning.

2. Long standing relationship with key customers

With more than a decade of experience in the textile industry, we have established relationships with key customers. We sell our products to our customers directly in the state of Gujarat and through our reseller for sales outside the state of Gujarat and International exports. A key factor that sets us apart from competitors is our customer-centric approach, focusing on delivering products that align precisely with customer specifications. This commitment to customization and quality has not only supported the growth of our business but also strengthened our market presence and reputation within the industry.

We have, over the years, established long-standing relationship with our customers such M/s 7 Seas Impex, Elkins Tradelink Ltd. and other customers. 3. Strategically located manufacturing facility with adequate storage facility and scope for future expansion

Our Manufacturing Facility is a strategically located facility with ample scope for expansion option available to us:

- Large land with ample scope for future expansion: Our Manufacturing Facility spans a total land area of approximately 65,762 sq. m, with built-up area covering 30,397.11 sq. m i.e. 46.22% of the total land, leaving substantial 35,364.89 sq. m. Vacant land portion for future growth & expansion. As of March 31, 2025, the facility has an installed capacity of 7,700 MT per annum.
- Strategic Location: Our manufacturing facility is strategically located at Halvad, District Morbi, Gujarat, in one of the state's major cotton-growing regions, providing direct access to a well-established network of raw material suppliers, logistics providers, and skilled labor. This geographic advantage streamlines procurement, production scheduling, and delivery timelines. Additionally, close proximity to local ginning and spinning units ensures a steady supply of raw cotton, enhancing operational flexibility and raw material management.

In addition to the same, our Manufacturing Facility enjoys infrastructure connectivity through well-developed road, rail, and port networks. The site is located near National Highway 27, offering direct highway access to major cities in Gujarat and Maharashtra and around 135 km from Kandla Port and 35 km from Navkar ICD in Gujarat to facilitate export sales through our reseller. This strategic location not only optimizes our supply chain logistics but also enhances our ability to scale operations, respond promptly to customer requirements, and maintain competitive turnaround times, both for domestic and export orders.

- Storage Infrastructure: Our Manufacturing Facility is supported by well-planned and adequately sized storage infrastructure that enables efficient handling of raw materials, semi-finished goods, and finished products. We have designated storage areas within our premises that are equipped to handle bulk inventory in an organized and secure manner. Raw materials such as cotton bales are stored to preserve quality and avoid contamination, with careful segregation based on quality parameters. The storage layout is designed to ensure smooth inward and outward movement of materials, with dedicated zones for loading, unloading, and short-term holding. This organized system contributes to effective inventory rotation and minimization of wastage.

- Finished goods are stored in clean, ventilated, and secure sections within our storage facility, allowing us to maintain product integrity until dispatch. We maintain sufficient buffer stock to meet customer orders in a timely manner and reduce the risk of supply disruptions. Our storage practices are aligned with our production schedule and sales commitments, ensuring that material handling is efficient and turnaround time is minimized. Inventory is managed through handling, proper documentation, enabling stock control and better decision-making regarding procurement, production, and dispatch. Overall, our robust storage infrastructure plays a critical role in maintaining product quality, ensuring operational efficiency, and supporting our ability to fulfil customer requirements consistently.

4. Renewable Energy Infrastructure Enabling Sustainable and Cost-Efficient Manufacturing

We have made investments in renewable energy infrastructure, enabling us to operate our manufacturing activities with minimal reliance on conventional grid electricity. As part of our long-term commitment to environmental sustainability, energy self-reliance, and operational efficiency, we have successfully commissioned and currently operate a 1 MW rooftop solar power unit, a 4 MW ground-mounted solar power plant, and a 2.7 MW wind power plant. These facilities collectively power a significant portion of our manufacturing operations and meet around 80 % of total power requirement of the plant, allowing us to meet the majority of our captive energy requirements through clean, renewable sources.

Please see the table below setting forth the capital expenditure incurred by the Company during the nine-month period ended December 31, 2025, and in the previous three Fiscals ended March 31, 2025, March 31, 2024, and March 31, 2023, towards establishment and commissioning of solar power project and wind power project (with electrification expenditure) for Company's captive utilisation:

Fiscal 2023	1345.67	1345.67	*-	*-	*-	23,492.83	5.73%

* Our company started generation of captive power from solar power plants from February-2023, however we started getting credit for captive power generation in the monthly electricity bills of April 2023 onwards. Credit for power generated during February 2023 and March 2023 were adjusted in the monthly electricity bill of April 2023 (i.e. bill dated May 2, 2023). Hence, actual netting from the electricity bill is shown Nil for FY 2022-23 though there was generation during the 2 months of FY 2022-23.

This integrated renewable energy strategy not only strengthens our energy security but also reduces our carbon footprint and contributes to long-term cost optimization.

Our transition to renewable energy is aligned with national climate action goals and reinforces our commitment to responsible resource utilization and sustainable industrial growth. This focus on green energy enhances the resilience and sustainability of our business model, provides insulation against energy price volatility, and positions us to potentially benefit from future regulatory and fiscal incentives related to renewable energy adoption. It also enhances our ESG (Environmental, Social, and Governance) profile, which is increasingly relevant to institutional investors and other stakeholders.

These acquisitions will help us to establish and expand our control on the value chain of energy transition & power technologies. Our emphasis on inorganic growth & acquisitions is targeted towards adding capabilities, value chain enlargement, spreading product bouquet and de-risking our business model.

We have recently entered into a Share Purchase Agreement (“SPA”) with Falcon Yarns Private Limited (“Falcon”) and its promoters (collectively, the “Sellers”) for the acquisition of 100 % equity stake in Falcon. Falcon is engaged in the manufacturing of carded, combed, and combed compact cotton yarn and operates a manufacturing facility located at Survey no. 177/1, Village- Bharudi, NH-27, near Bharudi Toll Plaza, Gondal, Rajkot- 360 311, Gujarat, India equipped with an annual production capacity of 9757 MT per annum.

Following this acquisition, while our annual spinning production capacity will rise from 7,700 MT per annum to 17,457 MT per annum. Over the last three financial years, Falcon has generated revenue from operations of ₹24,944.39 lakhs, ₹22,035.15 lakhs, and ₹22,875.33 lakhs. For further details, refer to “Objects of the Issue” on page 107.

This strategic acquisition will enhance our production capacity, broaden our customer base, and strengthen our order book, thereby driving revenue growth and improving operational efficiency.

Our strategic vision includes continued focus on organic and inorganic acquisitions that align with our core values and business objectives. These acquisitions will be targeted towards further enhancing our technological capabilities, expanding our global reach, and driving innovation in key sectors such as smart industries and sustainable energy solutions. Additionally, we aim to foster strategic partnerships and collaborations to accelerate our growth trajectory and strengthen our position in the evolving landscape of technology and energy sectors. These insights not only inform our strategic decisions but also enable us to innovate and adapt effectively, ensuring our competitiveness in the ever-evolving business landscape

2. To expand our customer base and geographical footprint

Currently, our sales operations are primarily concentrated in the state of Gujarat, with sales outside Gujarat and export sales being undertaken through a reseller. As part of our future strategy, we intend to expand our direct sales operations beyond Gujarat into other states across India as well as markets abroad, thereby strengthening our pan-India and overseas presence and capturing a wider customer base. We believe that expanding our market presence and distribution network across India and abroad will deliver multiple strategic benefits, including access to a larger customer base, increased sales volumes, diversification of market risks, enhanced brand recognition, economies of scale, and a strengthened competitive position.

Manufacturing Process

Ginning Process Steps:

Cotton ginning process flow involves receiving, drying, cleaning, ginning (separating fibers from seeds), and baling the cotton. In a flowchart, this would be represented by a sequence of boxes with arrows:

Ginning process Flow chart:

Cotton Ginning Process steps description:

1. Raw Cotton Reception: The process begins with the arrival of harvested cotton, which contains both fibers and seeds.
2. Pre-Cleaning: Raw cotton undergoes initial cleaning to remove large debris like leaves and twigs.
3. Drying: The raw cotton is dried using hot boxes to prepare it for ginning.
4. Ginning:
 - Saw Gin: This machine uses a large rotating saw cylinder to pull the fibers through a grid of narrow bars or ribs. The openings are too small for the seeds to pass through, separating them from the fibers.
 - Roller Gin: In a roller gin, a roller (often with a knife or other feature) pulls the cotton fibers through a screen. The roller's action separates the fibers from the seeds.
5. Fiber Collection: The separated cotton fibers are then collected.
6. Seed Collection: The separated seeds are collected separately.
7. Baling: The clean cotton fibers are compressed and pressed into large bales for transport to spinning mills.

This sequence represents the core mechanical process of separating cotton fibers from their seeds, which is the essential first step in producing cotton yarn and fabric.

Spinning Process

The steps involved in the cotton spinning process are explained below:

Step	Process description
Blow Room:	Blow room consists of sequence of machinery. The purpose of blow room is opening of tufts and then the material is shifted to cards through chute system.
Carding:	The purpose of carding is to individualize the fibers. The delivery is continuous strand of material in sliver form.
Precombing:	It prepares the material for combing. The feed is continuous strand of material in sliver form and the delivery is in lap form.
Comber:	The purpose of comber is to remove short fibers, neps and other trash particles. This process is required to manufacture combed cotton yarn. The feed is in lap form and the delivery is continuous strand in sliver form.
Draw Frame:	The purpose of draw frame is to make uniform sliver with more parallelization with the help of auto levelers. The feed is in sliver form and delivery also in sliver form which is more uniform.
Speed Frame:	The purpose of speed frame is to convert draw frame sliver form into package form by inserting less twist and draft to produce roving bobbins.
Ring Frame:	The purpose is to draft roving material through a set of top and bottom rollers and to introduce twist to convert roving sliver in to twisted yarn as per the product quality specification. Ring frame are fitted with auto doff mechanism.
Auto Coner:	The purpose of auto coner is to electronically sense all yarn defects and to remove it while winding to larger packages.
Yarn Conditioning:	The yarn delivered from auto coner section are put into steam controlled chamber to stabilize and set twist in the yarn.

The dominant theme of this policy is that while conservation of environmental resources is necessary to secure livelihoods and well-being of all, the most secure basis for conservation is to ensure that people dependent on particular resources obtain better livelihoods from the fact of conservation, than from degradation of the resource. Following are the objectives of the National Environmental Policy:

- Conservation of Critical Environmental Resources
- Intra-generational Equity: Livelihood Security for the Poor
- Inter-generational Equity
- Integration of Environmental Concerns in Economic and Social Development
- Efficiency in Environmental Resource Use
- Environmental Governance

a) Key accounting estimates and judgments

In the preparation of restated financial statements, the Company makes judgments in the application of accounting policies; and estimates and assumptions which affects the carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant.

Actual results may differ from these estimates.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised and future periods affected. In particular, information about significant areas of estimation uncertainty and critical judgments in applying accounting policies that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the restated financial statements are included in the following notes:

- i) Property, plant and equipment - useful life and impairment
- ii) Recoverability/recognition of deferred tax assets
- iii) Provision for expected credit losses of trade receivables
- iii) Assets and obligations relating to employee benefits
- iv) Provisions and contingent liabilities
- V) Fair value of financial instruments.

b) Current / Non-Current Classification

The Company presents assets and liabilities in the balance sheet based on current and non-current classification.

An asset is treated as current when it is:

- a) Expected to be realised or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle;
- b) Held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- c) Expected to be realised within twelve months after the reporting period; or
- d) Cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.
- e) All other assets are classified as non-current.

A liability is treated as current when it is:

- a) Expected to be settled in normal operating cycle;
- b) Held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- c) Due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period; or
- d) There is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

- e) All other liabilities are classified as non-current.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current assets and liabilities.

The operating cycle is the time between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realisation in cash and cash equivalents. The Company has determined its operating cycle, as explained in schedule III of the Companies Act, 2013, as twelve months, having regard to the nature of business being carried out by the Company. The same has been considered for classifying assets and liabilities as current and non-current while preparing the restated financial statements.

c) Property, Plant and Equipment

All the items of property, plant and equipment are stated at cost, or deemed cost applied on transition to Ind AS, net of recoverable taxes, trade discounts and rebates less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Such cost includes purchase price, borrowing cost and any cost directly attributable to bringing the assets to its working condition for its intended use. Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the entity and the cost can be measured reliably. All other expenses on existing fixed assets, including day-to-day repair and maintenance expenditure and cost of replacing parts, are charged to the statement of profit and loss for the period during which such expenses are incurred.

Property, Plant and Equipment which are significant to the total cost of that item of Property, Plant and Equipment and having different useful life are accounted separately. Material items such as spare parts, stand-by equipment and service equipment are classified as property, plant and equipment when they meet the definition of property, plant and equipment as specified in Ind AS 16 – Property, Plant and Equipment.

Depreciation on Property, Plant and Equipment is provided on the straight-line method over the useful lives of the assets estimated by the management. Depreciation is provided based on useful life of the assets as prescribed in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013.

The residual values, useful lives and methods of depreciation of property, plant and equipment are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

An item of property, plant and equipment and any significant part is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Gains or losses arising from derecognition of a Property, Plant and Equipment are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss when the asset is derecognized.

d) Capital work in progress and Capital advances

Cost of assets not ready for intended use, as on the end of the reporting period, is shown as capital work in progress.

Advances given towards acquisition of Property, Plant and Equipment outstanding at end of each reporting period are disclosed as other non-current assets.

e) Intangible Assets

Intangible assets are included in the balance sheet when it is probable that associated future economic benefits would flow to the Company. In this case they are measured initially at purchase cost and then amortised on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives. The estimated useful life and amortisation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis.

Gains or losses arising from de-recognition of an intangible asset are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognized in the Restated Statement of Profit and Loss when the asset is derecognized.

f) Impairment

At each balance sheet date, the Company reviews the carrying value of its property, plant and equipment and intangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that the carrying value of those assets may not be recoverable through continuing use. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is reviewed in order to determine the extent of impairment loss, if any. Where the asset does not generate cash flows that are independent from other assets, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the Cash Generating Unit (CGU) to which the asset belongs.

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs to sell or value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted. An impairment loss is recognised in the statement of profit and loss as and when the carrying value of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount.

Where an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying value of the asset (or cash generating unit) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount so that the increased carrying value does not exceed the carrying value that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset (or cash generating unit) in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognised in the statement of profit and loss immediately.

g) Leases

The Company determines whether an arrangement contains a lease by assessing whether the fulfillment of a transaction is dependent on the use of a specific asset and whether the transaction conveys the right to control the use of that asset to the Company in return for payment.

As a lessee

A lease is classified at the inception date as a finance lease or an operating lease. A lease that transfers substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership to the Company is classified as a finance lease. The Company does not have any arrangement during or at the reporting period that can be classified as finance lease. Operating lease payments are recognised as an expense in the statement of profit and loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term except in the case where incremental lease reflects inflationary effect in which case, lease expense is accounted by actual rent for the period.

As a lessor

Leases in which the Company does not transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of an asset are classified as operating leases. Rental income from operating lease is recognised on a straight-line basis over the term of the relevant lease. Initial direct costs incurred in negotiating and arranging an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the leased asset and recognised over the lease term on the same basis as rental income. Contingent rents are recognised as revenue in the period in which they are earned.

h) Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise of cash on hand, cash at banks, short-term deposits and short term, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

i) Provisions & Contingent Liabilities

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, when appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as a finance cost. Provisions are reviewed at each balance sheet and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.

Disclosure of contingent liability is made when there is a possible obligation arising from past events, the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Company or a present obligation that arises from past events is not recognized because it is not probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation. A contingent liability also arises in extremely rare cases where there is a liability that cannot be recognized because it cannot be measured reliably. The Company does not recognize a contingent liability but discloses its existence in the restated financial statements and also reviewed at each balance sheet date.

j) Inventories

Item of inventories are valued at lower of cost and net realisable value after providing for obsolescence, if any, except in case of by-product / scrap / wastage which are valued at net realisable value. However, materials and other items held for use in the production of finished goods are not valued below cost, if finished products in which they will be incorporated are expected to sold at or above cost.

Cost of inventories comprises or cost of purchase, duties and taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable), cost of conversion and other cost including manufacturing overheads net of recoverable taxes incurred in bring them to their respective location and condition.

Cost of raw materials, process materials, stores and spares, packing materials, trading and other products are determined on latest purchase price (FIFO) basis.

Work-in -progress and finished and semi-finished goods are valued at lower of cost or net realisable value. Provision of obsolescence on inventories is considered on market of the inventories.

Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated cost of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale. The comparison of cost and net realizable value is made on item by item basis.

k) Employee Benefit Expense• Short-term Employee Benefits

The undiscounted amount of short-term employee benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the services rendered by employees are recognised as an expense during the period when the employees render the services.

• Post-employment BenefitsDefined contribution plans

Contributions under defined contribution plans are recognised as expense for the period in which the employee has rendered service. If the contribution payable to the scheme for service received before the balance sheet date exceeds the contribution already paid, the deficit payable to the scheme is recognized as a liability after deducting the contribution already paid. If the contribution already paid exceeds the contribution due for services received before the balance sheet date, then excess is recognized as an asset to the extent that the pre-payment will lead to, for example, a reduction in future payment or a cash refund.

Defined benefit plans

For defined benefit retirement schemes, the cost of providing benefits is determined using the Projected Unit Credit Method, with actuarial valuation being carried out at each year-end balance sheet date. Remeasurement gains and losses of the net defined benefit liability/(asset) are recognised immediately in other comprehensive income. The service cost and net interest on the net defined benefit liability/(asset) are recognised as an expense within employee costs.

Past service cost is recognised as an expense when the plan amendment or curtailment occurs or when any related restructuring costs or termination benefits are recognised, whichever is earlier.

The retirement benefit obligations recognised in the balance sheet represents the present value of the defined benefit obligations as reduced by the fair value of plan assets, if any. Compensated absences which are not expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related service are recognized based on actuarial valuation at the present value of the obligation as on the reporting date.

I) Taxes

The tax expenses for the period comprises of current tax, MAT and deferred income tax.

Current Tax

Current income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities in accordance with the Income-tax Act, 1961. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted, at the reporting date.

Current income tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Current tax items are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in the tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate.

Minimum Alternate Tax

Minimum Alternative Tax (MAT) is recognized as an asset only when, and to the extent there is convincing evidence that the company will pay normal income tax during the specific period. If the MAT credit becomes eligible to be recognized as an asset in accordance the recommendations contained in the Guidance note issued by ICAI, the said is created by the way of credit to the statement of Profit & Loss & shown as MAT credit entitlement.

Deferred Tax

Deferred tax is the tax expected to be payable or recoverable on differences between the carrying value of assets and liabilities in the restated financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit and is accounted for using the balance sheet liability method. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences. In contrast, deferred tax assets are only recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised. The carrying value of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax is calculated at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period when the liability is settled or the asset is realised based on the tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantially enacted by the end of the reporting period. The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Company expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying value of its assets and liabilities.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset to the extent that they relate to taxes levied by the same tax authority and there are legally enforceable rights to set off current tax assets and current tax liabilities within that jurisdiction.

Current and deferred tax are recognised as an expense or income in the statement of profit and loss, except when they relate to items credited or debited either in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case the tax is also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity.

m) Financial Instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

Financial Assets

- Initial recognition and measurement

All financial assets, except investment in subsidiaries and associate, are recognised initially at fair value. Transaction costs that are attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets, which are not at Fair Value Through Profit or Loss, are adjusted to the fair value on initial recognition. Purchase and sale of Financial Assets are recognised using trade date accounting.

- Subsequent measurement

For purposes of subsequent measurement, financial assets are primarily classified in three categories:

a) Financial Assets measured at Amortised Cost

A Financial Asset is measured at Amortised Cost if it is held within a business model whose objective is to hold the asset in order to collect contractual cash flows and the contractual terms of the Financial Asset give rise to cash flows on specified dates that represent solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

After initial measurement, such financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method. Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included in other income in the Statement of Profit or Loss. The losses arising from impairment are recognised in the Statement of Profit or Loss.

b) Financial Assets measured at Fair Value Through Other Comprehensive Income (FVTOCI)

A Financial Asset is measured at FVTOCI if it is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling Financial Assets and the contractual terms of the Financial Asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that represents solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Debt instruments included within the FVTOCI category are measured initially as well as at each reporting date at fair value. Fair value movements are recognized in the other comprehensive income (OCI). However, the Company recognizes interest income, impairment losses and reversals in the Profit and Loss. On de-recognition of the asset, cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in OCI is reclassified from the equity to Profit and Loss. Interest earned whilst holding FVTOCI asset is reported as interest income using the EIR method.

Equity instruments, except for the ones held for trading, could also be classified as at FVTOCI, if the Company makes an irrevocable election to do so at the time of initial recognition. Such election is made on instrument-to-instrument basis. In case of equity instruments classified as at FVTOCI, all the fair value changes on the instrument, excluding dividends, are recognised in the OCI. There is no recycling of the amounts from OCI to statement of profit and loss, even on sale of investment. However, the Company may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity.

c) Financial Assets measured at Fair Value Through Profit or Loss (FVTPL)

A Financial Asset which is not classified in any of the above categories are measured at FVTPL. Financial assets are reclassified subsequent to their recognition, if the Company changes its business model for managing those financial assets. Changes in business model are made and applied prospectively from the reclassification date which is the first day of immediately next reporting period following the changes in business model in accordance with principles laid down under Ind AS 109 – Financial Instruments.

• Other Equity Investments

All other equity investments are measured at fair value, with value changes recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss. Dividend on such equity investments are recognised in Statement of Profit and loss when the Company's right to receive payment is established. However, investment in partnership firms are carried at cost/ deemed cost applied on transition to Ind AS, less accumulated impairment losses, if any.

• Impairment of Financial Assets

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Company uses 'Expected Credit Loss' (ECL) model, for evaluating impairment of Financial Assets other than those measured at Fair Value Through Profit and Loss (FVTPL).

Expected Credit Losses are measured through a loss allowance at an amount equal to:

- The 12-months expected credit losses (expected credit losses that result from those default events on the financial instrument that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date); or
- Full lifetime expected credit losses (expected credit losses that result from all possible default events over the life of the financial instrument).

For Trade Receivables the Company applies 'simplified approach' which requires expected lifetime losses to be recognized from initial recognition of the receivables. The Company uses historical default rates to determine impairment loss on the portfolio of trade receivables. At every reporting date these historical default rates are reviewed and changes in the forward looking estimates are analysed. For other assets, the Company uses 12 months ECL to provide for impairment loss where there is no significant increase in credit risk. If there is significant increase in credit risk full lifetime ECL is used.

Financial Liabilities

- Initial recognition and measurement

All Financial Liabilities are recognized at fair value and in case of borrowings, net of directly attributable cost. Fees of recurring nature are directly recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss as finance cost.

- Subsequent measurement

Financial Liabilities are carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method. For trade and other payables maturing within one year from the balance sheet date, the carrying amounts approximate fair value due to the short maturity of these instruments.

Derecognition of Financial Instruments

The Company derecognises a Financial Asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the Financial Asset expire or it transfers the Financial Asset and the transfer qualifies for derecognition under Ind AS 109. A Financial liability (or a part of a Financial liability) is derecognized from the Company's Balance Sheet when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged or cancelled or expires.

Offsetting

Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities are offset and the net amount is presented in the balance sheet when, and only when, the Company has a legally enforceable right to set off the amount and it intends, either to settle them on a net basis or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

n) Fair value measurement

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

The financial instruments are categorised into three levels based on the inputs used to arrive at fair value measurements as described below:

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;

Level 2: Inputs other than the quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and Level 3: Inputs based on unobservable market data.

When the fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded in the balance sheet cannot be measured based on quoted prices in active markets, their fair value is measured using valuation techniques including Discounted Cash Flow Model. The inputs to these models are taken from observable markets where possible, but where this is not feasible, a degree of judgement is required in establishing fair values. Judgements include considerations of inputs such as liquidity risks, credit risks and volatility. Changes in assumptions about these factors could affect the reported fair value of financial instruments.

o) Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognised to the extent it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the revenue can be reliably measured, regardless of when the payment is being made. Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable, taking into account contractually defined terms of payment and excluding taxes or duties collected on behalf of the government. The Company has concluded that it is the principal in all of its revenue arrangements since it is the primary obligor in all the revenue arrangements as it has pricing latitude and is also exposed to inventory and credit risks.

The specific recognition criteria described below must also be met before revenue is recognised.

Sale of products

Revenue from the sale of products is recognised when the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the products have passed to the buyer, usually on delivery of the products. Revenue from the sale of products is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable, net of returns and allowances, trade discounts and volume rebates.

Interest income

Interest Income from a Financial Assets is recognised using effective interest rate method.

Dividend Income

Dividend Income is recognised when the Company's right to receive the amount has been established.

q) Finance Costs

Borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or construction of qualifying assets are capitalised as part of the cost of such assets. A qualifying asset is one that necessarily takes substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use.

Interest income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation. All other borrowing costs are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss for the period for which they are incurred.

s) Earnings Per Share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing profit or loss for the year attributable to equity holders by the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the year. The average weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period and for all periods presented is adjusted for events, such as bonus shares, other than the conversion of potential equity shares that have changed the number of equity shares outstanding, without a corresponding change in resources. Partly paid up shares are included as fully paid equivalents according to the fraction paid up.

Diluted earnings per share is computed using the weighted average number of shares and dilutive potential shares except where the result would be anti-dilutive.

❖ Key Accounting Estimates & Judgements

1. Valuation of Deferred Tax Assets

The Company reviews the carrying amount of deferred tax assets at the end of each reporting period. The policy has been detailed in Note 2(l) and its further information are set out in Note 5.1.

2. Defined Benefit Plan

The cost of the defined benefit plans and other post-employment benefits and the present value of the obligation are determined using actuarial valuations. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. These include the determination of the discount rate, future salary increases, mortality rates and future pension increases. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date.

The parameter that is subject to change the most is the discount rate. In determining the appropriate discount rate, the management considers the interest rates of government bonds in currencies consistent with the currencies of the post-employment benefit obligation and extrapolated as needed along the yield curve to correspond with the expected term of the defined benefit obligation.

The mortality rate is based on publicly available mortality tables. Those mortality tables tend to change only at intervals in response to demographic changes. Future salary increases are after considering the expected future inflation rates for the country. Refer to Note 5.2 for further details.

3. Property, Plant and Equipments

The Company reviews the useful life of property, plant and equipments and intangible assets at the end of each reporting period. This reassessment may result in change in depreciation and amortisation expense in future periods. The policy has been detailed in Note 2(C) above.

4. Recoverability of Trade Receivables

Judgements are required in assessing the recoverability of overdue trade receivables and determining whether a provision against those receivables is required. Estimated irrecoverable amounts are derived based on a provision matrix, which takes into accounts various factors such as customer specific risks, geographical region, product type, customer rating, type of customer, the amount and timing of anticipated future payments and any possible actions that can be taken to mitigate the risk of non-payment.

Note 5.5 : Financial risk management

In course of its business, the Company is exposed to certain financial risks that could have significant influence on the Company's business and operational/ financial performance. These include market risk (including currency risk, interest rate risk and price risk), credit risk and liquidity risk.

The Board of Directors reviews and approves risk management framework and policies for managing these risks and monitors suitable mitigating actions taken by the management to minimise potential adverse effects and achieve greater predictability to earnings. In line with the overall risk management framework and policies, the management monitors and manages risk exposure through an analysis of degree and magnitude of risks.

Market Risk

Market risk is the risk that changes in market prices, liquidity and other factors that could have an adverse effect on realizable fair values or future cash flows to the Company. The Company's activities expose it primarily to the financial risks of changes in foreign currency exchange rates and interest rates as future specific market changes cannot be normally predicted with reasonable accuracy.

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Company's exposure to the risk of changes in market interest rates relates primarily to the Company's long-term debt obligations with floating interest rates.

Interest rate sensitivity

The following table demonstrates the sensitivity to a reasonably possible change in interest rates on loans and borrowings. With all other variables held constant, the Company's profit before tax is affected through the impact on floating rate borrowings, as follows:

	-50	21.52
March 31, 2025

	-50	20.77
March 31, 2023
Rupee borrowings	+50	(18.82)
	-50	18.82

The assumed movement in basis points for the interest rate sensitivity analysis is based on the currently observable market environment.

Foreign currency risk

The Company undertakes transactions denominated in foreign currencies and thus it is exposed to exchange rate fluctuations. The Company actively manages its currency rate exposures, arising from transactions entered and denominated in foreign currencies, and uses derivative instruments such as foreign currency forward contracts to mitigate the risks from such exposures. Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that counterparty will not meet its obligations under a financial instrument or customer contract, leading to a financial loss. The Company is exposed to credit risk from its operating activities (primarily trade receivables) and from its financing activities, including deposits with banks and financial institutions and foreign exchange transactions.

Trade receivables

Customer credit risk is managed by the Company's internal policies, procedures and control relating to customer credit risk management. Credit quality of a customer is assessed based on market feedback and credit limits are defined in accordance with this assessment. Outstanding customer receivables are regularly monitored.

The Company evaluates the concentration of risk with respect to trade receivables as low, as its customers are located in several jurisdictions and operate in independent markets.

Trade receivables are non-interest bearing and are generally on 14 days to 90 days credit term. Credit limits are established for all customers based on internal rating criteria. The Company has no concentration of credit risk as the customer base is widely distributed both economically and geographically.

Liquidity Risk

The Company monitors its risk of shortage of funds through using a liquidity planning process that encompasses an analysis of projected cash inflow and outflow.

The Company's objective is to maintain a balance between continuity of funding and flexibility largely through cashflow generation from its operating activities and the use of bank loans. The Company assessed the concentration of risk with respect to refinancing its debt and concluded it to be low. The Company has access to a sufficient variety of sources of funding.

The table below summarises the maturity profile remaining contractual maturity period at the balance sheet date for its financial liabilities based on the undiscounted cash flows.

As part of our sustainability efforts, we installed a rooftop solar power plant, ground-mounted solar power plant and wind power plant, which became operational in 2023, 2023 and 2024 respectively to source captive power thereby substantial cost effectiveness on power cost. The installed capacity of this rooftop solar power plant, ground-mounted solar power plant and wind power plant stands at 1 MW, 4 MW and 2.7 MW respectively. This initiative supports our shift toward clean energy, contributing to our daily power requirements and resulting in a generation of average 37,692 units per day collectively during the period in between April 2024 to March 2025 resulting in reduction of monthly electricity expenses. This green initiative not only helps reduce operational costs but also reinforces our commitment to eco-friendly and energy-efficient manufacturing practices by lowering our overall carbon footprint.

PRINCIPAL FACTORS AFFECTING OUR FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Our business, results of operations and financial condition are affected by a number of factors, including:

A. Macro-economic conditions affecting the textile market

The demand for our products such as carded, combed and compact combed cotton yarns and cotton bales is closely linked to trends in the domestic and international textile industries. Our yarns are used in both weaving and knitting applications, catering to a broad range of end-use segments including denim, shirting, home textiles, terry towels, sweaters, socks, and industrial fabrics. The consumption of cotton yarn is influenced by macroeconomic conditions, growth in apparel and home textile industries, urbanisation, household income levels, and export demand from global buyers. Any slowdown in economic growth, reduction in disposable incomes, or contraction in consumer spending could adversely affect demand for downstream textile products, which in turn may reduce demand for our yarns and bales.

In international markets, our sales are exposed to factors such as global cotton price movements, exchange rate fluctuations, changes in trade policies of importing countries, tariff or non-tariff barriers, and shifting customer preferences toward man-made fibres. Geopolitical tensions, regulatory restrictions, or global trade disruptions could also impact export volumes routed through our reseller.

Given the concentration of our revenues in cotton yarn and bales, any sustained downturn in demand whether due to economic slowdown, consumer preference shifts, policy changes, or adverse global trade developments may materially and adversely affect our growth prospects, revenues, profitability, cash flows, and overall financial condition.

B. Dependency on Suppliers and Customers

Raw cotton and cotton bales are the principal raw material used in our manufacturing operations and constitute the single largest component of our production costs. Our ability to remain cost competitive and operationally efficient is closely linked to the procurement of raw cotton and cotton bales in adequate quantities, of consistent quality, and at commercially viable terms. Our factory is located within major cotton growing area of Gujarat and hence, we procure raw cotton from farmers and traders for processing at our ginning unit into cotton bales. In addition, we source cotton bales for our spinning unit from other ginning mills and traders across Gujarat, which helps reduce transportation costs, shorten lead times, and support timely production. Over the years, we have built relationships with the farmers and a network of reliable suppliers; during the last three Fiscals, we procured cotton bales from more than 125 Suppliers out of which 8 suppliers are in top 10 suppliers where 6 Suppliers are associated with us over 5 years and top 10 suppliers contribute 73.05 %, 79.62 % and 44.30% of the total purchase during the last three fiscals.

Consumption of cotton bales in spinning unit is much higher in value term than raw cotton in ginning unit and purchase of raw cotton is relatively scattered among large numbers of farmers and traders and hence, all of our Top 10 suppliers are involved in supplying of cotton bales to us. The details of our top 05 (five) and top 10 (ten) raw material suppliers vis-à-vis our total purchases as per our Restated Financial Statements are set out below:

Purchase of Stock in Trade

Our Purchase of Stock in Trade decreased by 58.21% to ₹1,565.97 Lakhs in Fiscal 2025 from ₹ 3,747.43 Lakhs in Fiscal 2024 as we were able to fulfil orders from customers through own manufacturing due to better management of inventory as a result of which we were able to suffice needs of our customers. We also need to trade goods if we get orders for cotton yarns of different quality from customers. As a result, in order to fulfil the orders, we buy certain required finished products from other suppliers.

Changes in inventories

Our changes in inventories increased by 198.10% to ₹ 3,842.31 Lakhs in Fiscal 2025 from ₹ 1,291.62 Lakhs in Fiscal 2024, primarily due to higher purchases of cotton bales (or raw cotton as the case may be) in the 4th quarter of Fiscal 2025 due to higher volume of orders received from customers during the period. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

We are exposed to various types of market risks during the normal course of business. Market risk is the risk of loss related to adverse changes in market prices, including interest rate risk and commodity risk. We are exposed to commodity risk, interest rate risk and inflation risk in the normal course of our business.

Commodity risk

We are exposed to the price risk associated with purchasing our raw materials, which form the highest component of our expenses. We typically do not enter into formal arrangements and long-term contract with our suppliers. Therefore, fluctuations in the price and availability of raw materials may affect our business, cash flows and results of operations. We do not currently engage in any hedging activities against commodity price risk.

Interest rate risk

We are exposed to interest rate risk primarily as a result of term loans from banks. As at March 31, 2025, we had all of our loans that are subject to floating rates of interest, which exposes us to market risk as a result of changes in interest rates. Upward fluctuations in interest rates would increase the cost of new debt and interest cost of outstanding variable rate borrowings. In addition, any increase in interest rates could adversely affect our ability to service long-term debt, which would in turn adversely affect our results of operations. Interest rates are highly sensitive to many factors beyond our control, including the monetary policies of the RBI, domestic and international economic and political conditions, inflation and other factors. Upward fluctuations in interest rates increase the cost of servicing existing and new debts, which adversely affects our results of operations and cash flows.

Credit Risk

We are exposed to credit risk on amounts owed to us by our clients. If our clients do not pay us promptly, or at all, it may impact our working capital cycle, and/or we may have to make provisions for or write-off on such amounts.

Inflation

India has experienced high inflation in the recent past, which has contributed to an increase in interest rates. High fluctuation in inflation rates may make it more difficult for us to accurately estimate or control our costs.

Capital Expenditures

Our historical capital expenditures were, primarily for setting up additional operating facilities. For the Fiscal Years 2025, 2024 and 2023 and, our capital expenditures outflow (including Capital Work in Progress) were ₹131.98 lakhs, ₹ 2,051.50 lakhs and ₹2,226.61 lakhs, respectively as per our Restated Financial Information.

New products, Services or Business Segments

Seasonality of Business

For details, see “Risk Factor – Risk Factor 22 - Our ginning operations are seasonal in nature, which may result in variability in production, inventory management challenges, and lower in-house consumption of cotton bales, thereby exposing us to operational and financial risks.” on page 36.

Suppliers or Customer Concentration

For details, see “Risk Factor 13 - We are dependent on a limited number of suppliers for procurement of raw cotton and cotton bales, our principal raw material, and any disruption in supply or adverse movement in cotton prices may materially affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.” on page 29.

Where the nominee is a minor, the holder(s) may make a nomination to appoint, in the prescribed manner, any person to become entitled to Equity Share(s) in the event of his or her death during the minority. A nomination shall stand rescinded upon a sale/transfer/alienation of Equity Share(s) by the person nominating. A nomination may be cancelled or varied by the Shareholder by nominating any other person in place of the present nominee, by giving a notice of such cancellation. A buyer will be entitled to make a fresh nomination in the manner prescribed. Fresh nomination can be made only on the prescribed form available on request at our Registered Office or to the Registrar and Transfer Agents of our Company.

Further, any person who becomes a nominee by virtue of the provisions of Section 72 of the Companies Act, 2013 shall upon the production of such evidence as may be required by the Board, elect either:

- (a) to register himself or herself as the holder of the Equity Shares; or
- (b) to make such transfer of the Equity Shares, as the deceased holder could have made.

Further, our Board may at any time give notice requiring any nominee to choose either to be registered himself or herself or to transfer the Equity Shares, and if the notice is not complied with within a period of 90 days, our Board may thereafter withhold payment of all dividends, bonuses or other monies payable in respect of the Equity Shares, until the requirements of the notice have been complied with.

Since the Allotment of Equity Shares in the Issue will be made only in dematerialised mode, there is no need to make a separate nomination with our Company. If the Investor wants to change the nomination, they are requested to inform their respective Depository Participants.

Phased implementation of Unified Payments Interface

SEBI has issued the UPI Circulars in relation to streamlining the process of public issue of, inter alia, equity shares. Pursuant to the UPI Circulars, the UPI Mechanism has been introduced in a phased manner as a payment mechanism (in addition to mechanism of blocking funds in the account maintained with SCSBs under ASBA) for applications by UPI Bidders through Designated Intermediaries with the objective to reduce the time duration from public issue closure to listing from six Working Days to up to three Working Days. Considering the time required for making necessary changes to the systems and to ensure complete and smooth transition to the UPI payment mechanism, the UPI Circulars have introduced the UPI Mechanism in three phases in the following manner:

Phase I: This phase was applicable from January 1, 2019 until March 31, 2019 or floating of five main board public issues, whichever was later. Subsequently, the timeline for implementation of Phase I was extended till June 30, 2019. Under this phase, an RIB had the option to submit the ASBA Form with any of the Designated Intermediary and use his/ her UPI ID for the purpose of blocking of funds. The time duration from public issue closure to listing continued to be six Working Days.

Phase II: This phase was applicable from July 1, 2019 and was to initially continue for a period of three months or floating of five main board public issues, whichever is later. SEBI vide its circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DCR2/CIR/P/2019/133 dated November 8, 2019 had decided to extend the timeline for implementation of UPI Phase II until March 31, 2020. Subsequently, SEBI vide its circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2020/50 dated March 30, 2020 extended the timeline for implementation of UPI Phase II until further notice. Under this phase, submission of the ASBA Form by RIIs through Designated Intermediaries (other than SCSBs) to SCSBs for blocking of funds was discontinued and replaced by the UPI Mechanism. However, the time duration from public issue closure to listing continued to be six Working Days during this phase.

Phase III: This phase was become applicable on a voluntary basis for all public issues opening on or after September 1, 2023 and is now applicable on a mandatory basis for all public issues opening on or after December 1, 2023, vide SEBI circular bearing number SEBI/HO/CFD/TPD1/CIR/P/2023/140 dated August 9, 2023 (“T+3 Notification”). In this phase, the time duration from public issue closure to listing has been reduced to three Working Days. The Issue shall be undertaken pursuant to the processes and procedures as notified in the T+3 Notification as applicable, subject to any circulars, clarification or notification issued by SEBI from time to time, including any circular, clarification or notification which may be issued by SEBI.

The processing fees for applications made by UPI Bidders using the UPI Mechanism may be released to the SCSBs only after such banks provide a written confirmation, in compliance with the SEBI RTA Master Circular in a format as prescribed by SEBI, from time to time, and such payment of processing fees to the SCSBs shall be made in compliance with circulars prescribed by SEBI and applicable law.

All SCSBs offering facility of making application in public issues shall also provide facility to make application using UPI. Our Company will be required to appoint one of the SCSBs as the Sponsor Bank(s) to act as a conduit between the Stock Exchanges and National Payments Corporation of India (NPCI) in order to facilitate collection of requests and / or payment instructions of the UPI Bidders.

Individual investors bidding under the Non-Institutional Portion bidding for more than ₹ 2 lakhs and up to ₹ 5 lakhs, using the UPI Mechanism, shall provide their UPI ID in the Bid-cum-Application Form for Bidding through Syndicate, sub-syndicate members, Registered Brokers, RTAs or CDPs, or online using the facility of linked online trading, demat and bank account (3 in 1 type accounts), provided by certain brokers.

Pursuant to the SEBI ICDR Master Circular, SEBI has set out specific requirements for redressal of investor grievances for applications that have been made through the UPI Mechanism. The requirements of the UPI Streamlining Circular include, appointment of a nodal officer by the SCSB and submission of their details to SEBI, the requirement for SCSBs to send SMS alerts for the blocking and unblocking of UPI mandates, the requirement for the Registrar to submit details of cancelled, withdrawn or deleted applications, and the requirement for the bank accounts of unsuccessful Bidders to be unblocked no later than one Working Day from the date on which the Basis of Allotment is finalised. Failure to unblock the accounts within the timeline would result in the SCSBs being penalised under the relevant securities law. Further, in terms of the UPI Circulars, the payment of processing fees to the SCSBs shall be undertaken pursuant to an application made by the SCSBs to the BRLMs, and such application shall be made only after (i) unblocking of application amounts for each application received by the SCSB has been fully completed, and (ii) applicable compensation relating to investor complaints has been paid by the SCSB.

For further details, refer to the General Information Document available on the websites of the Stock Exchanges and the BRLMs. Additionally, if there is any delay in the redressal of investors’ complaints, the relevant SCSB as well as the BRLMs will be required to compensate the concerned investor.

Further, the total holdings of all FPIs put together, with effect from April 1, 2020, can be up to the sectoral cap applicable to the sector in which our Company operates (i.e., up to 100%).

The FEMA Non-Debt Instruments Rules was enacted on October 17, 2019 in supersession of the Foreign Exchange Management (Transfer or Issue of Security by a Person Resident Outside India) Regulations, 2017, except as respects things done or omitted to be done before such supersession. FPIs are permitted to participate in the Issue subject to compliance with conditions and restrictions which may be specified by the Government from time to time.

To ensure compliance with the above requirement, SEBI, pursuant to its circular dated July 13, 2018, has directed that at the time of finalisation of the Basis of Allotment, the Registrar shall (i) use the PAN issued by the Income Tax Department of India for checking compliance for a single FPI; and (ii) obtain validation from Depositories for the FPIs who have invested in the Issue to ensure there is no breach of the investment limit, within the timelines for issue procedure, as prescribed by SEBI from time to time.

Subject to compliance with all applicable Indian laws, rules, regulations, guidelines and approvals in terms of Regulation 21 of the SEBI FPI Regulations, an FPI, may issue, subscribe to or otherwise deal in offshore derivative instruments (as defined under the SEBI FPI Regulations as any instrument, by whatever name called, which is issued overseas by a FPI against securities held by it in India, as its underlying) directly or indirectly, only in the event (i) such offshore derivative instruments are issued only by persons registered as Category I FPIs; (ii) such offshore derivative instruments are issued only to persons eligible for registration as Category I FPIs; (iii) such offshore derivative instruments are issued after compliance with 'know your client' norms as specified by SEBI; and (iv) such other conditions as may be specified by SEBI from time to time.

Accordingly, it should be noted that multiple Bids received from FPIs, who do not utilize the MIM Structure, and bear the same PAN, are liable to be rejected. In order to ensure valid Bids, FPIs making multiple Bids using the same PAN, and with different beneficiary account numbers, Client IDs and DP IDs, are required to provide a confirmation along with each of their Bid cum Application Forms that the relevant FPIs making multiple Bids utilize the MIM Structure and indicate the name of their respective investment managers in such confirmation. In the absence of such confirmation from the relevant FPIs, such multiple Bids are liable to be rejected. Further, in the following cases, the bids by FPIs will not be considered as multiple Bids: involving (i) the MIM Structure and indicating the name of their respective investment managers in such confirmation; (ii) offshore derivative instruments ("ODI") which have obtained separate FPI registration for ODI and proprietary derivative investments; (iii) sub funds or separate class of investors with segregated portfolio who obtain separate FPI registration; (iv) FPI registrations granted at investment strategy level/sub fund level where a collective investment scheme or fund has multiple investment strategies/sub-funds with identifiable differences and managed by a single investment manager; (v) multiple branches in different jurisdictions of foreign bank registered as FPIs; (vi) Government and Government related investors registered as Category 1 FPIs; (vii) Entities registered as Collective Investment Scheme having multiple share classes; (viii) Multiple branches in different jurisdictions of foreign bank registered as FPIs; (ix) Government and Government related investors registered as Category 1 FPIs; and (x) Offshore derivative instruments which have obtained separate FPI registration for ODI and proprietary derivative investments.

To ensure compliance with the above requirement, SEBI, pursuant to its circular dated July 13, 2018, has directed that at the time of finalisation of the Basis of Allotment, the Registrar shall (i) use the PAN issued by the Income Tax Department of India for checking compliance for a single FPI; and (ii) obtain validation from Depositories for the FPIs who have invested in the Issue to ensure there is no breach of the investment limit, within the timelines for issue procedure, as prescribed by SEBI from time to time.

Subject to compliance with all applicable Indian laws, rules, regulations, guidelines and approvals in terms of Regulation 21 of the SEBI FPI Regulations, an FPI, may issue, subscribe to or otherwise deal in offshore derivative instruments (as defined under the SEBI FPI Regulations as any instrument, by whatever name called, which is issued overseas by a FPI against securities held by it in India, as its underlying) directly or indirectly, only in the event (i) such offshore derivative instruments are issued only by persons registered as Category I FPIs; (ii) such offshore derivative instruments are issued only to persons eligible for registration as Category I FPIs; (iii) such offshore derivative instruments are issued after compliance with 'know your client' norms; and (iv) such other conditions as may be specified by SEBI from time to time.

An FPI issuing offshore derivative instruments is also required to ensure that any transfer of offshore derivative instruments issued by or on its behalf, is carried out subject to inter alia the following conditions:

- (a) such offshore derivative instruments are transferred only to persons in accordance with Regulation 21(1) of the SEBI FPI Regulations; and
- (b) prior consent of the FPI is obtained for such transfer, except when the persons to whom the offshore derivative instruments are to be transferred to are pre-approved by the FPI.

Participation of FPIs in the Issue shall be subject to the FEMA Rules.

Please note that in terms of the General Information Document, the maximum Bid by any Bidder including QIB Bidder should not exceed the investment limits prescribed for them under applicable laws. Further, MIM Bids by an FPI Bidder utilising the MIM Structure shall be aggregated for determining the permissible maximum Bid.

For example, an FPI must ensure that any Bid by a single FPI and/ or an investor group (which means the same multiple entities having common ownership directly or indirectly of more than 50% or common control) (collective, the “FPI Group”) shall be below 10% of the total paid-up Equity Share capital of our Company on a fully diluted basis. Any Bids by FPIs and/ or the FPI Group (including but not limited to (a) FPIs Bidding through the MIM Structure; or (b) FPIs with separate registrations for offshore derivative instruments and proprietary derivative instruments) for 10% or more of our total paid-up post Issue Equity Share capital shall be liable to be rejected.

RESTRICTION ON FOREIGN OWNERSHIP OF INDIAN SECURITIES

Foreign investment in Indian securities is regulated through the Industrial Policy, 1991 of the Government of India and FEMA. While the Industrial Policy, 1991 prescribes the limits and the conditions subject to which foreign investment can be made in different sectors of the Indian economy, FEMA regulates the precise manner in which such investment may be made. Under the Industrial Policy, unless specifically restricted, foreign investment is freely permitted in all sectors of the Indian economy up to any extent and without any prior approvals, but the foreign investor is required to follow certain prescribed procedures for making such investment. The RBI and the concerned ministries/departments are responsible for granting approval for foreign investment. The Government of India has from time to time made policy pronouncements on foreign direct investment (“FDI”) through press notes and press releases.

The Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Government of India, earlier known as Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion (“DPIIT”) issued the Consolidated FDI Policy Circular of 2020 (“FDI Policy”) by way of circular bearing number DPIIT file number 5(2)/2020-FDIPolicy dated October 15, 2020, which with effect from October 15, 2020, consolidates and supersedes all previous press notes, press releases and clarifications on FDI issued by the DPIIT that were in force and effect as on October 15, 2020. The FDI Policy will be valid until the DPIIT issues an updated circular. FDI in companies engaged in sectors/ activities which are not listed in the FDI Policy is permitted up to 100% of the paid-up share capital of such company under the automatic route, subject to compliance with certain prescribed conditions.

As per the Consolidated FDI Policy, read with FEMA Rules, 100% foreign direct investment is permitted under the automatic route in the sector in which our Company operates, however, investments under the foreign direct investment route by entities of a country which shares land border with India or where the beneficial owner of an investment into India is situated in or is a citizen of any such country will require prior approval of the Government of India. Each Bidder should seek independent legal advice about its ability to participate in the Issue. In the event such prior approval of the Government of India is required, and such approval has been obtained, the Bidder shall intimate our Company and the Registrar to the Issue in writing about such approval along with a copy thereof within the Bid/Issue Period.

The transfer of shares between an Indian resident and a non-resident does not require the prior approval of the RBI, provided that (i) the activities of the investee company are under the automatic route under the FDI Policy and transfer does not attract the provisions of the SEBI Takeover Regulations; (ii) the non-resident shareholding is within the sectoral limits under the FDI Policy; and (iii) the pricing is in accordance with the guidelines prescribed by the SEBI/RBI. For further details of the aggregate limit for investments by NRIs and FPIs in our Company, please see “Issue Procedure” on page 359.

As per the existing policy of the Government of India, OCBs cannot participate in this Issue.

Further, in accordance with Press Note No. 3 (2020 Series), dated April 17, 2020 issued by the DPIIT and the FEMA Non-Debt Instruments Rules, any investment, subscription, purchase or sale of equity instruments by entities of a country which shares land border with India or where the beneficial owner of an investment into India is situated in or is a citizen of any such country, will require prior approval of the Government of India, as prescribed in the FDI Policy and the FEMA Non-Debt Instruments Rules. Further, in the event of transfer of ownership of any existing or future foreign direct investment in an entity in India, directly or indirectly, resulting in the beneficial ownership falling within the aforesaid restriction/ purview, such subsequent change in the beneficial ownership will also require approval of the Government of India. Furthermore, on April 22, 2020, the Ministry of Finance, Government of India has also made similar amendment to the FEMA Rules. Each Bidder should seek independent legal advice about its ability to participate in the Issue. In the event such prior approval of the Government of India is required, and such approval has been obtained, the Bidder shall intimate our Company and the Registrar to the Issue in writing about such approval along with a copy thereof within the Issue Period.
