"In a dynamic business environment, our clients count on us to help them build new products efficiently. Our positioning in the leadership zone for the fifth consecutive year is testament to our strong Product Engineering capabilities. We are focused on strengthening these capabilities continuously to stay on top of the curve"said Rostow Ravanan CEO of Mindtree.

"Mindtree has been recognized as an established and expansive service provider in the Engineering Services space with an innovative culture, a host of mature offerings and industry specialization. Its strong portfolio of intellectual property around short range wireless technology, industry specific frameworks and solutions increases its reach and value among R&D spenders. Mindtree clients have called out its innovation ecosystem and investments in cross-vertical engineering development labs across multiple geo-locations as a key differentiator. Co-investment with its clients through challenging business models has been a unique feature of Mindtree which has enabled it to co-create with some of the largest R&D spenders," said Sidhant Rastogi, Partner & Practice Head at Zinnov.
