MANPOWER SURVEY: INDIA OUTPACES US, COSTA RICA IN Q1 2025 JOB GROWTH

India outshines global peers in hiring trends, IT takes the lead

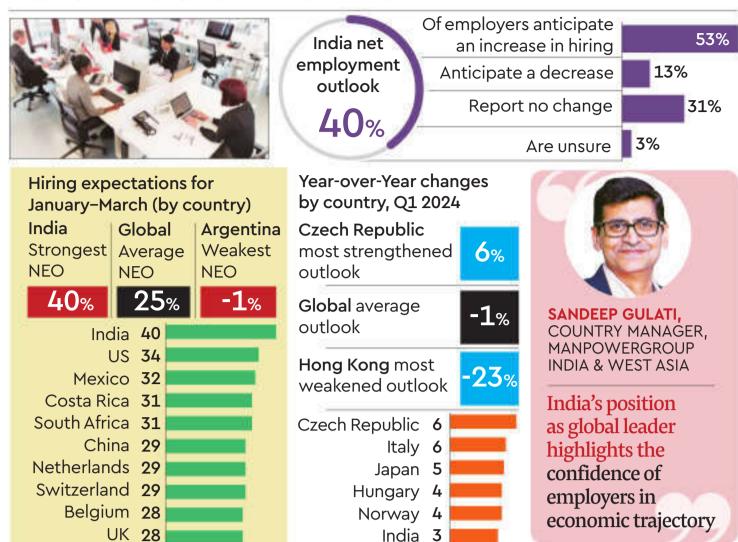

• 53% employers plan to expand their workforce

BISWAJIBAN SHARMA New Delhi, December 10

HIRING SENTIMENT IN India for the January-March 2025 quarter has risen by three percentage points compared to both the previous quarter and the same period last year, placing the country 15 points above the global average of 25% and ahead of the United States and Costa Rica, according to the latest ManpowerGroup Employment Outlook Survey.

Of the 3,150 Indian employers surveyed, 53% plan to expand their workforce, while 13% expect a decline in hiring or have no plans to backfill. The IT sector has regained its position as the strongest hiring driver with a net employment outlook (NEO) of 50%, followed by Financials & Real Estate (44%). Consumer Goods & Services (40%), Energy & Utilities (38%), and Healthcare & Life Sciences (38%) also rank among the top sectors.

"India remains one of the world's fastest-growing large economies, with its position as the global leader in employINVESTMENTS IN AI HAVE BENEFITED IT MARKET

ment outlook for Jan-March 2025, highlighting the confidence of employers in the country's economic trajectory," said Sandeep Gulati, country manager, ManpowerGroup India and West Asia.

He further added: "Significant investments in artificial intelligence (AI), along with public funding, have benefited the IT sector's employment market, resulting in the sector leading with an outlook of 50%. Investment from multinationals looking to reduce their operation costs appears to be benefitting India, and the outlook for 2025 looks more positive."

ment has improved in all four regions, with quarter-on-quarter growth in three of them. West India leads with a 43% outlook, up four points from the previous quarter, followed by east India at 41%, which saw an 11-point rise. The north (39%) recorded a slight dip, Year-on-year, hiring senti- while the south (38%) posted clarity and consistency.

Larger organisations continue to dominate hiring, with firms employing 250-999 and 5,000+ reporting the highest outlooks at 48%. The survey also highlighted growing gender equity efforts across industries. Nearly 66% of organisations reported being on track with pay equity initiatives, an 8-percentage-point improvement over last year. The IT sector leads with 78%, followed by Financials & Real Estate (69%), Consumer Goods & Services (67%), and Healthcare & Life Sciences (66%).

India's hiring momentum, fuelled by the IT sector's resurgence and widespread regional growth, coupled with advancing workplace equity, reinforces its standing as a global leader in employment optimism.

For the Q1 2025 report, the NEO data collection was digitised across 42 markets. From October 1-31, 2024, 40,413 employers worldwide were surveyed about their hiring plans.

The methodology, including the question and respondent profile, remains consistent, with organisation size and sector standardised for global comparison. All NEOs are seasonally adjusted for

Treesa-Gayatri duo aspires to impress at World Tour Finals

SHIVANI NAIK Mumbai, December 10

REAM IT

TREESA JOLLY GIGGLES and mock-clucks her disappointment recalling that she's not tried eating anything crazy, since relishing spiced crispy grasshoppers as a 16-year-old.

Now 21, the enforcer of the women's doubles team, with Gayatri Gopichand, bites back the mirth, seriously stating, "When you start travelling so much for competitions away from home, you learn to not fuss, and eat everything."

Treesa-Gayatri's badminton has been a tad like that. Gobble up every challenge for sustenance on the Tour, chew meaningfully on the losses in quiet stadium and hotel corners, smack lips at the hard-fought wins. And forget what home comfort food tastes like, while scrolling down critical comments on social media about their performance.

The duo are India's only representatives at the World Tour Finals in Hangzhou this week. And though they are the lowest ranked in their group at No.13 pooled with Chinese World No.1s Liu-Tan, Malaysian No.6 Pearly-Thinaah and Japanese No.4 Matsuyama-Shida, the one win each off all their opponents. All 3 wins have, however, come in Asian team events, making this Treesa-Gayatri's biggest individual outing, as they attempt punching above their weight in coming days. Gayatri says the duo have realised playing the biggest names on the circuit requires a mindset where you trick your mind into ignoring ranking gulfs. Like against Liu-Tan who they beat early in 2023, but have lost thrice to, since. "We can't focus on their No.1 ranking if we have to beat them. The mindset has to be, 'We must win' and play aggressively. Both Chinese are strong, allrounders, alternating from net or back unlike other pairs. They're all over the court and you need to be 100% all the time. It's about finding ways to win," she says.

"And of course, on court, there's no World No.1 or anything. No respect that way or fear of ranking. Everyone is a fighter that never gives up," Gayatri adds. 2024 yielded a title at Syed Modi Super 300, but it was also the year to lay the building bricks into a wall, even if fame wasn't on the horizon. Still the duo made semis at Singapore, to match their All Engpair of 21-year-olds have nicked land shows. They beat two Top 5

Koreans on consecutive days. and pinched wins off Japanese Top 10 pairings.

"The Korean wins were big," Treesa says. "We dropped a set and won 24-22 in decider, so it was a fighting win. Also we had never beaten then World No.2 Kim-Kong but beat them in 3 sets which added to our belief." Treesa, who loves to pulp the shuttle with her prodigious power game, has said she's grown patience in her bones. "Against rally players you always keep in mind that 20-30 shots for a point is the bare minimum. But you have to keep attacking more as the rally goes on."

Endurance the key

Gayatri explains that though endurance needs to be at 100% against Japanese and Koreans compulsive retrievers, the motivation to match their style is always high. "They just don't stop the toss-drop toss-drop. Strategy plays a huge role even if endurance wavers, you find other weapons to play smart on court," she says.

The year had started staggeringly well, "No one expected the Indian women to win the Bad minton Asia Team Championship. It was good to give crucial points to India."
