Stainless Steel Division

Aaron's SS Division transforms raw stainless-steel coils into value-added, finished stainless-steel sheets through in-house processing.

Vertical integration = cost optimization + consistent quality + timely production.

The Process

- 01 Sourcing
Premium coils procured from established suppliers
- 02 Processing
Cutting, polishing, embossing & finishing under strict quality control
- 03 Value Addition
Customized surface finishes and designs per client specification
- 04 Internal Use
Majority feeds Aaron's own Elevator Division
- 05 External Sales
Balance sold to other elevator makers, for application like interior decoration and industrial use providing a diversified revenue stream

COMPETITIVE NOTE

-  Processes raw coil in-house and consumes the majority in its own elevator division
-  Retains the processing margin on the sheet it consumes, and earns a second margin on sheet sold externally
-  The integration applies to ongoing production rather than to a single order.
-  BIS certification reinforces product quality and compliance.

Manufacturing Facilities Highlights

Manufacturing Facilities

Production Units

Three production units in Surat, Gujarat, spanning 1.5 lakh sq. ft. anchoring Aaron's elevator and stainless-steel operations in one of India's key industrial belts.

Technology

Salvagnini Automatic Line for Elevators, Multiple CNC Machines for Elevator Parts, Various Polishing Machines for SS Sheets, Embossing Machine for Embossed Sheets, PVD Machine for Colour Sheets

Capacity

Total capacity now exceeds 5,000 Auto Door Systems per month and 400+ Cabins per month. Utilization is projected to reach 3,500 Auto Door Systems per month over the next 1-2 years, leaving meaningful headroom for growth without further capex.

Integration

Fully vertically integrated from elevator doors, cabins, and components to in-house steel polishing - supporting margin control and consistent supply.

Unit 3 Impact (SALVAGNINI Line)

Enhanced Productivity

Automation has enhanced output levels and reduced production cycle times, improving overall manufacturing efficiency.

Portfolio Expansion

New elevator product lines have broadened the Company's offerings and addressable customer base.

Operational Efficiency

Reduced reliance on manual processes has strengthened quality consistency and cost discipline.

Growth Outlook

Higher production capacity, combined with an expanded product portfolio, is expected to support sustained revenue growth going forward.

Growth Drivers

While demand for elevators and stainless-steel sheets is rising across India, translating it into steady, long-term growth remains a challenge limited by distribution reach, brand recall, and short-term customer relationships.

Addressing these gaps is key to unlocking scalable growth.

Distribution Expansion

Adding more distributors and channel partners across both the Elevator and Stainless-Steel Sheet businesses, to deepen penetration in domestic and export markets.

Event Participation

Increasing presence at national and international trade fairs and exhibitions to enhance visibility, strengthen brand equity, and explore new global opportunities.

Marketing Strengthening

Combining traditional print media with digital platforms to widen customer reach, build brand visibility, and drive demand generation.

Strategic Tie-ups

Pursuing long-term partnerships with leading elevator manufacturers both as a consistent SS sheet supplier and as a trusted contract manufacturer to build sustainable, recurring revenue streams.

Aaron Industries - "Aaron: Be Creative" App Launch

Aaron Industries has launched its own proprietary app a step that reflects the Company's continued focus on blending engineering with design.

What the App Brings

Modern & Luxury Cabin Collections
Premium interiors for spaces demanding more than the standard

Special SS Designer Sheet
Customized finishes for interior and architectural applications

Smart, Intuitive Interface
Real-time visualization and configuration no catalogues, no back-and-forth

Fully Customized Solutions
Tailored to each space's unique requirements

Why It Matters

Most of the elevator industry still relies on dealers and printed catalogues. By putting its entire product universe directly into buyers' hands, Aaron is signaling a shift beyond the transaction creating a direct customer channel, a design showcase, and a scalable foundation for future growth.
