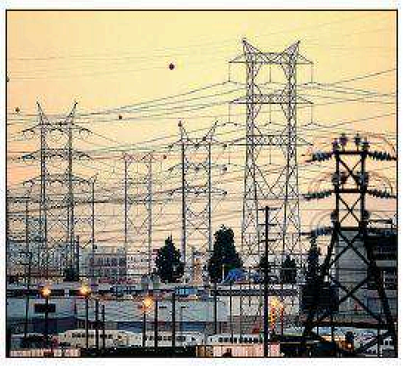
CABINET CALL

Public Sector Enterprises Get Power to Close, Divest Units

Move will help the PSE boards to take timely and speedy decisions



Ethanol Blending Target Advanced

NEW DELHI: The union cabinet has approved export of biofuels, expansion of the pool of feedstock that can be used for its production, and advancing the target of blending 20% ethanol in petrol by five years to 2025-26. The cabinet approved amendments to the national policy on biofuels that will help reduce reliance on imported oil. The updated policy promotes the production of biofuels in the country under the Make in India programme by SEZ units or export-oriented units. — Our Bureau

Our Bureau

New Delhi: The union cabinet on Wednesday approved a decision to provide more autonomy to public sector entities (PSEs) by empowering their boards to decide on the closure and divestment of units or subsidiaries.

The cabinet also delegated additional powers to the alternative mechanism to accord 'in principle' approval for disinvestment and minority stake sale in Maharatna PSUs.

The decision is aimed at reforming the functioning of PSEs, allowing them greater autonomy and helping the boards to take timely and speedy financial decisions, an official statement said.

This proposal will allow them to timely exit their investments in subsidiaries, units or joint ventures (JVs), enabling them to monetise their investment at an opportune time or close their loss-making and inefficient units at the right time. "This will result in expeditious decision making and saving of wasteful operational/financial expenditure by the PSEs," it said.

Currently, the board of directors of holding or parent PSEs have the powers to decide on equity investments for setting up JVs and wholly owned subsidiaries and undertaking mergers or acquisitions, subject to a net worth threshold. However, they do not have the powers to decide on disinvestment or closure of their subsidiaries or units or stake in JVs. An exception are Maharatna PSEs that have some limited powers to decide minority stake disinvestment in their subsidiaries.

Therefore, the Cabinet's approval is required for both strategic disinvestment and minority stake sale or closure of the subsidiaries/units or sale of their stakes in a JV, irrespective of the size of operations or capital deployed at such subsidiaries.

The process for undertaking the strategic disinvestment transactions/closures to be followed by the PSEs should be based on the principles of competitive bidding and consistent with the guiding principles to be laid down, it said.

"For strategic disinvestment, such guiding principles will be laid down by DIPAM. For closure, DPE shall issue guiding principles," the statement added.

Heavy Industries Min, NRDC Ink Pact for Capital Goods Sector Scheme

NEW DELHI The Ministry of Heavy Industries on Wednesday signed an agreement with the National Research Development Corporation (NRDC) for undertaking various activities for smooth implementation of the Scheme for Enhancement of Competitiveness in the Indian Capital Goods Sector. Mahendra Nath Pandey, Union Minister of Heavy Industries, said with a vision and mission to put Indian economy on the wheel of high growth, Prime Minister Narendra Modi gave a mantra of Atmanirbhar Bharat and this MoU will surely be able to help us to achieve that.

He further stated that the vision of this MoU is to make India a global hub for the manufacturing of capital goods.

The ministry on January 25, 2022, notified the Scheme on Enhancement of Competitiveness in the Indian Capital Goods Sector — Phase-II for providing assistance to Common Technology Development and Services Infrastructure. — PTI

Colgate to Bet on Natural, Whitening Products Here in Premiumisation Push

Big opportunity in India as about 65% of addressable population lives in markets where avg people brush less than once a day, says top exec

Sagar.Malviya@timesgroup.com

Mumbai: Tooth paste maker Colgate-Palmolive said people brush their teeth less than one time a day on average in several markets, including India, where it plans to premiumise its portfolio with natural and whitening products.

"About 65% of our addressable population lives in markets where average people brush their teeth less than one time a day. In China it is about 0.6, India is below 0.5 and most of Africa is lower than that. So, there is a big opportunity there," John Faucher, chief investor relations officer at Colgate, said at the Goldman Sachs Global Staples Forum 2022. "India is a market where the premium innovation, not just by us but the entire category, has happened sort of market or below. So, I think there's a big opportunity longer term in terms of that premiumisation strategy."

In India, the naturals segment is about 32% of the toothpaste market and Colgate lost market share over the past many quarters mainly because of its weak presence in the segment where Dabur is by far the market leader. With an unfavourable high category penetration, marginal presence in naturals and no visible improvement in consumer habit of twice brushing, Colgate's stock performance has also underperformed the benchmark index Sensex for nearly a decade, said analysts.

Colgate said the Indian market has followed a different strategy of launching innovations at mass price tags, unlike several other countries

"We believe that even if the naturals segment has to gain some share from here, the pace may be a lot slower. Also, Colgate is trying to strengthen its presence in the naturals segment — though, the confidence in a material success is low," said a recent ICICI Securities report.

Colgate controls about half the oral care market but was losing share as consumers shifted to natural products. While Colgate has been selling herbal variants such as neem and clove in the country, it has been betting on the Vedshakti ayurvedic toothpaste for the past few quarters to regain the lost market share.

"Syndicated data shows a decline in the oral care category by around 5%. So looking at the category decline of 5%, we registered a growth of around 2.5%, and this growth is not bad. We have inched up around 20 basis point market share," Dabur CEO Mohit Malhotra said on an earnings call.

Unlike several other countries where the company is launching value-added products at significantly higher prices, Colgate said the Indian market has followed a different strategy of launching innovations at mass price tags.

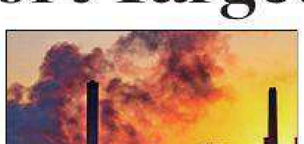
"India has been sort of interesting because of a lot of the Ayurvedic innovation that's happened, at the market level or below. So, you are competing in Ayurvedic at those prices, and then also introducing new segments like whitening. So, you have to work really all ends of the spectrum from that standpoint, in India," said Faucher.

PowerMin Warns of Raising Coal Import Target to 15%

Our Bureau

New Delhi: The power ministry said on Wednesday that it would increase the coal import target to 15% for power generating plants that were not following its directive to meet 10% of their fuel requirement with imported coal.

The ministry's warning came even as Rajasthan chief minister Ashok Gehlot alleged on Tuesday that the Centre was forcing states to purchase imported coal, which costs three times the fuel produced in the country, for blending. He urged the Centre to remove the requirement of purchasing imported coal. Rajasthan may have to bear a burden of ₹1,736 crore if it purchases imported coal, he said.



The All India Power Engineers Federation, meanwhile, said since the coal crisis was not the fault of state power generating houses, the Centre should bear the additional cost.

The power ministry said on Wednesday if the orders for the import of coal for blending were not placed by electricity generation companies by the end of this month, and if the imported coal for blending did not start arriving at power plants by June 15, then the defaulters would have to import 15% of their coal requirement up to October 31.

"Not much blending has taken place in the months of April and May 2022, the power plants (who have not yet started blending by imported coal) will ensure that they blend coal at the rate of 15% up to October 2022 and thereafter at the rate of 10% from November 2022 to March 2023," the statement said.

The ministry in a letter written to state, principal secretaries and all gencos said keeping in view the likely less materialisation of coal supply from domestic sources compared with the requirement to meet power demand, domestic coal would be allocated proportionately to all gencos based on the availability from June 2022 and the balance requirement would need to be met from imported coal.

Textiles Ministry Pushes for Duty-free Imports of Cotton

Kirtika.Suneja
@timesgroup.com

New Delhi: The textiles ministry has asked the revenue department to remove duty on cotton imports that reach Indian shores by September 30. It has, however, ruled out any ban on the export of the commodity, said an official. "Textiles ministry has not suggested any ban or restrictions on the export of cotton as of now," said an official. "The only request to the revenue department is to consider allowing duty-free import of cotton that reaches Indian shores by September 30."

According to another official, the commerce and industry ministry has also not received any request on export curbs.

Cotton prices have crossed ₹1 lakh per candy from ₹55,000 two quarters ago, pushing up input costs for textile and garment manufacturers.

The government has already done away with 11% import duty on cotton till September 30. Now, ministry wants duty exemption for shipments where the bill of lading is issued up to September 30 this year and not based on the bill of entry at Indian ports. Till now, the duty is zero for imports that reach till September 30. The issues that also came up at a meeting that textiles and commerce and industry minister Piyush Goyal had with the textile industry on Tuesday were flexibility in import of cotton, export incentives and allocation of more yarn for the domestic market.

Local 5G Test Bed to Help Digitise Economy, Boost Startups: Goyal

Communications minister Vaishnaw says country's own 5G stack would be ready by Sept-Oct

Our Bureau

New Delhi: The PM Gati Shakti initiative will help in planning infrastructure projects in a smarter and efficient way besides reducing costs and timeline, commerce and industry minister Piyush Goyal said Wednesday.

Speaking on the second day of the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India's silver jubilee celebrations Wednesday, Goyal added that indigenous 5G test bed launched a day before would help the country in digitising the economy, boosting startup ecosystem, improving governance, ease of living and facilitating ease of doing business.

More than 200 industry executives, government and regulatory officials from various countries attended the event.

"PM Gati Shakti can help create common utility corridors for different sectors like gas, electricity, water, optical fibre and telecommunications. We will be able to locate our economic activities smarter with PM Gati Shakti," the minister said, adding the data compiled in this is robust, contemporary and vibrant.

The PM Gati Shakti is a digital platform that aims to bring 16 ministries, including railways and roadways, together for integrated planning and coordinated implementation of infrastructure connectivity programmes. It was launched in October 2021.

On Tuesday, Prime Minister Narendra Modi inaugurated India's first 5G test bed. The facility would be available at five different locations at IIT campuses.

Communications minister Ashwini Vaishnaw, also speaking at the same event, said that the country's own 5G stack would be readied by September-October, and added that bridging the digital divide has become even more crucial in a world where technology is playing a key role in economic development. "5G stack is also very much in a good and advanced stage. By somewhere in September-October, India's own 5G stack will be ready."

"The core to bringing indigenous 5G is to shun dependence on foreign companies, and the prime minister has a vision that we should develop our own 5G technology, and that it can be deployed worldwide," Vaishnaw said. I

PM GATI SHAKTI

It can help create common utility corridors for sectors like gas, electricity and telecom. We will be able to locate our economic activities smarter

India has developed its own standard, called 5Gi, which is now being under evaluation at the global standards forum.

The minister also called upon international delegates attending the Trai event to look actively at Indian 4G and 5G technology stacks, and added that these would be performing well on cost and quality.

"It will be really a great contribution to your telecom consumers in your countries. I am talking about a big fundamental technological advancement, which is in the Indian 4G stack. Please use it," the minister added.

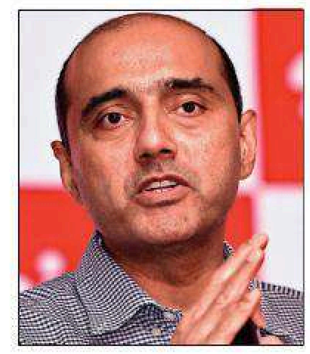
On the occasion of its silver jubilee, Trai also organised a multi country regulators' round table to discuss common challenges and regulatory approaches to address issues related to next generation technologies.

Trai had invited regulatory bodies from Bangladesh, Botswana, Cambodia, Turkey and the UAE, as well as representatives from the Asia Pacific Telecommunity and GSMA.

Cos Expected Steeper Cut in Trai's 5G Pricing: Vittal

Says co likely to push through another tariff hike in CY22

Kalyan Parbat & Danish Khan



Kolkata | New Delhi: Bharti Airtel is disappointed with the telecom regulator's recommended base prices for 5G airwaves, saying the industry had hoped for a much larger reduction that hasn't come, managing director Gopal Vittal said. He added that Airtel is likely to push through another tariff hike in calendar 2022 as it looks to boost average revenue per user (ARPU) to ₹200, with the market ready to "easily absorb" another hike.

"The industry had hoped for a massive reduction in prices; while there has been a reduction, it has not been adequate and is in that sense, disappointing," Vittal said at Airtel's fiscal fourth quarter earnings call Wednesday.

He added that he would not comment on Airtel's (5G auction) "strategy and approach since it is dependent on the final reserve price finalised by the government".

Airtel's shares rose nearly 3% in early trade before giving up gains to end 1.6% lower at ₹696.05 on the BSE Wednesday.

Vittal's comments came a day after the Digital Communications Commission (DCC) stuck to Trai's recommended base prices for 5G airwaves, while backing a telecom department panel view of auctioning the airwaves for 20 years. The telecom department is slated to seek Cabinet approval next week for DCC's views.

Trai's recommendations are a blow for telcos who were pushing for 5G reserve prices to be lowered by 90%, against the average 39% cut on 2018 prices that the regulator suggested last month.

On tariffs, Vittal said: "We should see a tariff hike in the course of this year itself to move our ARPU to ₹200, though getting to ₹300 will happen over a period of time".

The Big 3 telcos had raised prepaid tariffs by up to 25% last November/December to boost APRUs.

DoT may Soon Seek Cabinet Nod for 5G Sale Modalities: Secy

Muntazir.Abbas@timesinternet.in

New Delhi: The Department of Telecommunications (DoT) is expected to approach the Cabinet for final clearance of the 5G spectrum auction modalities, including pricing and tenure of airwaves, in the next two to three days, telecom secretary K Rajaraman told ET.

In the first official comments on the auctions after the meeting of the Digital Communications Commission (DCC), Rajaraman said, "Trai (Telecom Regulatory Authority of India) has placed a fairly strong set of recommendations that will enable the market to participate very actively in the upcoming auction."

DCC, the highest-decision making body of the telecom department, on Tuesday stuck to the telecom regulator's recommended base prices for 5G airwaves, while backing a telecom department panel view of auctioning airwaves for 20 years aimed at limited a telco's financial outflow. The DCC, an inter-ministerial panel with the telecom secretary as its chairman, is also of the view that the millimetre wave spectrum in the 27.5-28.5 GHz range – which is also highly sought by satellite communication players – be kept out of the 5G spectrum auction. The DCC's views will now need to be approved by the cabinet.

An official familiar with the matter said that the DoT "has finalised the cabinet note today (Wednesday) and following the minister's authorisation or approval, it will be placed before the cabinet which will possibly take a decision next week".

The DCC's stance is a blow to the telcos who were pushing for a steep cut in the base price as well as a 30-year tenure for spectrum use. Operators have been clamouring for 5G base prices to be lowered by 90%, against the average 39% reduction on the 2018 prices that Trai recommended last month.

Patanjali to Sell Food Retail Unit to Ruchi Soya

New Delhi: Baba Ramdev-led Patanjali Ayurved will sell its food retail business to group firm Ruchi Soya Industries Ltd for ₹690 crore as part of its strategy to focus on non-food, traditional medicine and wellness business.

Patanjali Ayurved Ltd had acquired Ruchi Soya through an insolvency process.

In a regulatory filing, Ruchi Soya informed that it has entered into a "Business Transfer Agreement" with Patanjali Ayurved to acquire the food retail business of the latter as a going concern on a slump sale basis. The food retail business consists of manufacturing, packaging labelling and retail trading of certain food products along with manufacturing plants at Padartha, Haridwar, and Newasa, Maharashtra. – PTI

May 5th marks World Pulmonary Hypertension Day. While we have often heard about blood pressure, pulmonary hypertension (PH) is not discussed much. To educate the public and raise awareness about PH and its management, The Times of India in association with MSN Laboratories organised an online interaction with health experts that included Dr Sushil Azad, Dr Satbir Singh, Dr Saurabh Bagga, Dr Arun Kotaru, Dr Vikas Mittal, and Dr Pratibha Gogia.

When we talk about normal blood pressure, it is the pressure in our blood vessels. "In PH, blood pressure in the blood arteries that carry blood to the lungs is raised. Normal blood pressure can be measured with a BP instrument or sphygmomanometer, while PH requires specialised equipment. High blood pressure is detected during normal health examinations; but PH is not," explained Dr Singh.

As for the symptoms of PH, breathlessness, low energy, oxygen decrease, and swelling of the legs and hands are some of the usual symptoms, said Dr Gogia. Dr Kotaru highlighted that there is a clear link between obesity, tobacco use, and an inactive lifestyle. "Other causes of PH, apart from lifestyle, can be hereditary, idiopathic, or due to an underlying disease. In PH, non-modifiable objects outnumber modifiable things."

Demographics of PH

Dr Mittal shared that PH is divided into five categories. The first category is commonly noticed in people between the ages of 30 and 50 years. Women have 60 -70% more chances of getting PH than men. It can develop at an older age in groups 3 and 4 and can develop at any age in cases with secondary PH.

"PH can also be found in children and new-borns with congenital heart defects or lung infections. The PH levels return to normal once the secondary condition is resolved. If the left heart fails due to high blood pressure, it can lead to PH in older persons," added Dr Azad. Unoxygenated blood from the right side of the heart travels to the lungs for oxygenation, then returns to the left side of the heart and travels throughout the body. Because the right side of the pump is weaker than the left, due to the rise in pressure for some reason, the right heart grows weaker and eventually fails.

According to Dr Bagga, if the PH level is mild, surgery is not a concern. However, in moderate and severe levels, the patient must undergo a thorough pre-operative examination and therapy, as well as be closely tracked following surgery, or risk death.

Can a PH patient lead a regular life? "Yes, but they must take their medications properly and have regular blood pressure checks. Medicines must be altered based on changes in blood pressure. Patients should not disregard routine check-ups," said Dr Singh.

Primary PH, explained Dr Gogia, requires lifelong care. "If the patient takes his prescribed medications, we can control PH and reduce the risk of death. As for hospitalization, it could be due to an infection, a lack of medication, failure to utilize a sleep apnea BiPAP, or excessive fluid consumption. So, doctors first must control the underlying condition to control the PH."

Tests for PH

Dr Mittal detailed the tests that can diagnose and classify PH after the clinical examination and symptoms history.

- 2D Echocardiography
- ECG
- Right heart catheterization
- Blood test
- Lung function test
- CTT pulmonary angio
- 6min walk test
- Sleep study

Dr Bagga pointed out that Covid has increased the number of PH patients; it can develop even after Covid. An infection in the lungs caused by the virus is also a cause of the rise in PH these days. He also stated that the blood thinners have prevented the onset of PH in many cases.

Dr Singh defined sleep apnea as a syndrome in which individuals snore or their blood oxygen levels drop while their carbon dioxide levels rise, causing their PH to rise. If correct sleep apnea therapy is administered and the patient takes sleep apnea BiPAP, the PH levels would likely remain stable.

PH patients with cardiac problems should keep their fluid levels up and limit their sodium and electrolyte intake (salt). People with lung diseases should eat a high-protein diet, while people with obesity and sleep apnea should lose weight.

Changes in lifestyle

According to Dr Azad, there are two types of lifestyles to keep in mind for PH patients: active and dietary. The activity aspect is entirely dependent on the PH level (mild, moderate, and severe). In terms of dietary adjustments, one should limit intake of excess fluids, salt, and alcohol, avoid stimulants, and supplement iron and vitamin C, if necessary.

While travelling by air, PH patients must carry enough medications, and a fitness certificate, and inform the aircraft team so that they can arrange for oxygen, if needed. One must take short walks on flight and take sufficient rest after reaching the destination.

अमरावतीत कांद्याचे भाव गडगडले, शेतकरी चिंतातुर

अमरावती, दि.१६ (हिंदुस्थान समाचार) : गेल्या काही दिवसांपूर्वी अमरावती जिल्ह्यात ३० ते ४० रुपये प्रती किलो भाव असलेला कांदा एकदम ८ ते १० रुपये किलोवर आला आहे. उत्पादन खर्चाही निघणे शक्य नसल्याने मेळघाटात कांद्याने शेतकऱ्यांच्या डोळ्यात पाणी आणले आहे. कांद्याला मिळणार्या माती मोल भावाने शेतकर्यांचे खरीप हंगामाच्या तयारीचे बजेट पूर्णपणे कोलमडले आहे.
