MEDIA STATEMENT

Adani's investment in Queensland one step closer to generating economic benefits for Australia

Today's approval announcement by the Minister for the Environment, Greg Hunt, marks another significant milestone for Adani's Carmichael Coal Mine and Rail Project, after having received approval from the Queensland Coordinator General on the 7th May 2014.

Adani Chairman, Gautam Adani said today: "We welcome the Minister's approval of the Carmichael Mine and Rail project, which takes us another step closer to delivering our mine, rail and port development".

Together with the North Galillee Basin Rail and the company's port operations at Abbot Point, Adani's planned investments in Queensland will deliver more than 10,000 direct and indirect jobs in Australia, and vital opportunities for local suppliers.

"Adani's commitment to contribute towards providing energy security to India and other Asian countries goes hand-in-hand with its commitment to providing sustainable employment opportunities for local workers and suppliers, not just through our rail infrastructure, but also our longer-term investments in ports and mining", Mr. Adani said.

"Development of the Galilee Basin is vital for the regional and economic growth of both Queensland and Australia, and Adani's projects play an important role in realising this growth", said Mr. Adani.

Minister Hunt's approval follows Adani's recent announcement of Korean firm POSCO E&C as the company's rail partner for the vital 388km North Gallilee Basin Rail (NGBR).

Adani is fully committed to adhering to the strict regulatory and environmental approval processes that apply to all of its planned projects.
