India's largest trading partner. The package is expected to focus on labour-intensive sectors such as textiles, leather, and engineering goods, which face the sharpest competitive pressures from higher duties.

AI Express Delhi-Indore...

An Air India Express spokesperson said in a statement. Earlier, on September 2, the Delhi-Indore Air India flight returned to Delhi shortly after take-off. Similarly, flight AI2913, operating from Delhi to Indore on 31 August, had returned to Delhi shortly after take-off, as the cockpit crew had received a fire indication in the right engine. Following standard procedure, the cockpit crew shut down the engine and returned to Delhi, where the flight landed safely.

Tanks to N-subs: India..

Similarly, the Navy will get a new aircraft carrier, 10 next-generation frigates, 7 advanced corvettes, and 4 landing dock platforms. "Nuclear propulsion for warships has been greenlit, as well as electromagnetic aircraft launch systems," the report said. The Air Force will also acquire 75 high-altitude pseudo-satellites, 150 stealth bomber drones, hundreds of precision-guided munitions, and over 100 remotely piloted aircraft. This roadmap is being seen as a major and bold step to enhance India's security warfare apparatus, which includes AI, space warfare and other critical domains which have become a necessary tool in the present context, given the lessons being learnt from the ongoing wars between Russia-Ukraine, Israel-Gaza and the concluded war between Israel-Iran-America.

Trump picks brains of...

In his place, Sam Altman, a rival in the AI space and head of OpenAI, joined the dinner. Another former Musk associate, Jared Isaacman, was also present despite having his NASA nomination withdrawn by Trump, who later described him as "totally a Democrat". The dinner followed a meeting of the White House's new artificial intelligence education task force, chaired by First Lady Melania Trump alongside tech leaders. Woman staffer made Investigators said the woman's statement. CCTV footage from inside the control room shows Tripathi interacting with staff, followed by the woman sniffing breath of male employees. SP Dial-112 Neetu Thakur recorded the woman's testimony and submitted a report, following which Tripathi was suspended and attached to police headquarters for further investigation. Tripathi has denied wrongdoing, claiming he was being framed. He insisted he only asked the woman to confirm who had consumed liquor, citing prior instances of men being caught drunk while on duty.

political scenario once again. With hardly two months left for the much-awaited Bihar Assembly polls, the (fractured?) bonhomie between the BJP and the Congress doesn't seem to be a tonic for the Bloc's two major partners when it comes to putting up a good show. And one wonders why these two major partners can't be consistent in putting up a relentless show without any hiccups.

After the mom abuse gate, which TV channels used to get substantial TRPs and it's needless to say how it took away a lot of air from the bloc's sails while it was making headlines across the nation regarding alleged vote manipulation and the subsequent and reported onslaughts following the SIR. As if this was not enough to put the bloc on a backfoot. Kerala Congress's social media post created another heartburn be-

Kerala Congress's post on X. "Bids and Bihar start with B. Cannot be considered sin anymore". The social media post Rajesh Ram accused BJP-JD (U) of spreading misleading propaganda, with ill will towards Congress.

NDA ATTACKS CONGRESS' THINKING

The Congress on Friday tendered an apology after its Kerala unit issued a controversial tweet which equated Bihar with 'bids' while commenting on the reduction of Goods and Services Tax on bids in the "next-gen" reforms announced by the Centre on Wednesday. In the post, the Kerala Congress wrote alongside a chart which depicted the increase of GST on cigars and cigarettes from 28 percent to 40 percent (as a 'sin tax') and the reduction of GST on bids from 28 percent to 18 percent that "Bids and Bihar start with B. Cannot be considered a sin anymore."

soon, BJP spokesperson Shehzad Poonawalla accused the Congress of crossing the line again while linking the remarks to the abuses which were hurled at Prime Minister Narendra Modi from a party platform during Rahul Gandhi's Voter Adhikar Yatra earlier this month. The issue was also flagged by BJP's Bihar leadership. Deputy chief minister Samrat Choudhary too posted that the Congress's remarks were an "insult to the entire state". Janata Dal (United) leader Sanjay Kumar Jha also attacked the Congress for the "extremely shameful act". He wrote in a post: "B doesn't just mean beedi, it also means Buddha, which you lack! B also means budget, which irritates you whenever Bihar receives special assistance."

TMC MP-LED MATUA BODY WRITES TO DIDI, SEEKS 'CENSURE' OF MAHUA

IAN S KOLKATA

A leading association of the Matua community in West Bengal, led by Trinamool Congress Rajya Sabha member, has written a letter to Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee, seeking 'censuring' of the party's MP Mahua Moitra, over her recent adverse comments about the community.

Moitra is Trinamool's Lok Sabha member from Krishnanagar constituency in Nadia district.

In the letter to the Chief Minister, All India Matua Mahasangh, led by Mamata Bala Thakur, also raised the demand that Moitra should publicly apologise for her comments, which had hurt the sentiments of the people from the Matua community. However, Mamata Bala Thakur, who herself hails from the community, had not directly written the letter to the Chief Minister. Instead, the letter was written by the Mahasangh General Secretary, Sukesh Chowdhury.

Earlier this week, the Mahasangh had issued a statement condemning Moitra for her anti-Matua comments and also demanded a public apology from her in the matter.

Smart blackboards, smart classrooms and other modern facilities have their own importance in schools and higher education institutions but the most important thing is smart teachers, President Droupadi Murmu said on Friday.

Recalling her time as a teacher, she described it to be a very meaningful period of her life.

Murmu was speaking at the National Teachers Awards ceremony at Vigyan Bhawan where she conferred the awards upon over 60 educators for their exemplary contribution to teaching learning.

"Smart blackboards, smart classrooms and other modern facilities have their own importance. But the most important thing is smart teachers. Smart teachers are teachers who understand the needs of their students' development. Smart teachers conduct studies interesting and creative with affection and sensitivity."

"Such teachers make students capable of fulfilling the needs of society and nation. Sensible teachers instill a sense of dignity and security in children," she
