Dear Sir/Madam,

We are pleased to inform you that Aimtron Electronics has secured a pilot Box-Build Order from a leading global solutions company with business potential around $ 2.6 - -$3.4 million.

The pilot order is for box-build manufacturing of a next-generation intelligent fibre network test and certification platform. The scope includes precision electronics assembly, mechanical integration, system-level testing and final product integration.

This engagement is part of the customer's initiative to evaluate and qualify additional manufacturing partners to support supply chain resilience and future manufacturing flexibility. Aimtron's selection for the pilot program reflects its capabilities in high-reliability electronics manufacturing, engineering support, quality systems, traceability and system-level integration.

The customer is a globally recognized company providing advanced test, measurement, instrumentation and certification solutions to technology-driven industries.

The pilot program is intended to qualify Aimtron as a potential manufacturing partner for the customer's newly developed product platform. Successful execution and qualification of the pilot program may position Aimtron for future commercial production opportunities, subject to customer validation, commercial requirements and future purchase orders.

This update is being shared in the interest of shareholders and stakeholders.
