TALKS WERE ON TO ACQUIRE MAHINDRA SUSTEN FOR UP TO ₹6K CR

Brookfield's Plans to Buy Mahindra Arm in Trouble

Differences over deal terms, indemnities, valuations may scupper talks

Reghu Balakrishnan & Arijit Barman

Mumbai: Negotiations between Canadian asset manager Brookfield and the Mahindra Group to buy the Indian conglomerate's engineering, procurement and construction business, Mahindra Susten, along with 1,200 megawatts of solar assets, at an enterprise value of ₹5,500-6,000 crore have run into rough weather, people aware of the development said.

Differences over deal terms, indemnities and revised valuations have dragged the Mahindra-Brookfield discussions, months after the two sides signed a non-binding term sheet for exclusive negotiations. Such delays and dithering often lead to a formal termination of talks, the people said, unless there is a last-minute U-turn.

Several high-profile renewable energy transactions, including Petronas-Tata Power and CPPIB-SB Energy, have been called off in recent months due to sectoral headwinds and company-specific factors.

In January, Brookfield, had come from behind and pipped National Investment and Infrastructure Fund and KKR with a ₹2,400 crore equity offer for Mahindra Susten, together with its solar portfolio. Inclusive of debt and other liabilities, the deal value was estimated at ₹5,500-6,000 crore.

The other two had just bid for the assets.

Investment bank Rothschild and then EY were roped in by Mahindras for the asset sale through two separate divestment efforts. By April, Mahindra was keen to close out the agreements as Anish Shah, the new

Mahindra Susten develops, builds, owns and operates utility scale solar projects

Clients: SB Energy, Infosys, Airtel, Renew Power, JK Lakshmi, IIT Bombay, ITC, Hero, Hindustan Zinc

Key Milestones

- Feb '20 Sold 160 MW of solar projects to CLP India
- MAY '20 Starts asset sale with Rothschild managing director and Group chief executive, had identified Susten as a non-core portfolio company. The group has also been looking to exit the renewable business altogether.

With negotiations still not closing out, people in the know said, Mahindra may engage with the Adani Group that had evaluated this transaction earlier. ET could not independently ascertain if any re-engagement has happened just yet.

Brookfield and Mahindra Susten spokespeople declined to comment. An email to Adani did not generate a response till press time Tuesday.

CHANGING TERMS

The two sides, it is believed, have failed to reach a consensus on various issues including indemnities over past EPC liabilities. Mahindra Susten builds and sells solar power projects for clients and offers diversified services like operations and maintenance for companies like SB Energy, Renew Power, Engle, Hero and even ITC and Infosys across India, the Middle East and Southeast Asia. Typically, these third-party contracts have a significant tail. The challenge is who bears the burden of liabilities if there are any future claims or disputes over construction quality.

Moreover, like several power developers, Mahindra Susten too has been impacted by the recent apex court order around the endangered great Indian bustard (GIB), thereby impacting the financial viability of the projects.

The Supreme Court had ordered that overhead power lines need to go underground to protect the bird from getting electrocuted in the cables. This would translate to a ₹22,000 crore capital expenditure and needs a tariff hike of 10-15% if developers bear the entire cost, ET had reported in May.

Rajasthan has about 4,000 sq km priority habitat and 19,728 sq km of potential habitat identified for GIB in areas spanning Jaisalmer, Jodhpur, Bikaner and Barmer districts, according to the National Green Tribunal. Mahindra Susten has projects in the state, including a 362 MW MSPL project in Jodhpur, a 280 MW MSUPL project in Bikaner and another 362 MW in Jodhpur, all of which are under construction, according to the company website. Recently, the Rajasthan High Court had stayed Adani Power's 1,500 MW project over acquisition of land falling in the GIB conservation area.

LOOKS TO CROSS 50K MARK

VW Aims to Quadruple its Sales in India by 2022

Nehal Chaliawala @timesgroup.com

Mumbai: German carmaker Volkswagen is aiming for looking to quadruple its sales in India, albeit on a low base, and cross the 50,000-unit annual sales mark by 2022 as it launches new vehicles under its ambitious India 2.0 project.

"I'm looking at my doubling my sales volume in 2021 compared to the year 2020 and again doubling it in 2022," Ashish Gupta, brand director Volkswagen Passenger Cars India told ET. This is in line with the VV Group's target of achieving a 5% market share in India by 2025 under its

Automaker is also looking to increase its reach to 150 showrooms across the country from 140 at present

India 2.0 plan, which is being led by Skoda.

To be sure, the Volkswagen brand sold just about 15,600 cars in 2020 accounting for a market share of 0.6%. Experts attribute this to a lack of options from the brand in the market, something which the group looks to rectify with the launch of several new vehicles customised for India based on a new vehicle platform called MQB-A0-IN.

Rlys Shortlists 9 Bidders for CSMT Redevelopment

Kallash.Babar@timesgroup.com

Mumbai: Indian Railway Stations Development Corporation (IRSDC), the nodal agency for station redevelopment in the country, has shortlisted nine bidders for the proposed redevelopment of the iconic Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj Terminus (CSMT) Railway Station in South Mumbai.

Godrej Properties, Anchorage Infrastructure Investments Holdings, Oberoi Realty, ISQ Asia Infrastructure Investments, Adani Railways Transport, Kalpataru Power Transmission, GMR Enterprises, Moribus Holdings, and BIF IV Infrastructure Holding DIF are the companies that have been shortlisted.

"Nine firms have qualified the RFQ (request for quote) stage for the redevelopment of CSMT station. As the next steps, IRSDC will float a request for proposal (RFP) soon to the qualified bidders. CSMT railway station redevelopment is one of our most ambitious projects and we at IRSDC are committed to transforming the railway station into a state-of-the-art transport hub," said SK Lohia, managing director, IRSDC.

Indian Railways had invited RFQs in August 2020 after receiving in-principle approval of the Public-Private Partnership Appraisal Committee (PPPAC) to redevelop CSMT railway station and transform it into an iconic city centre.

In January, IRSDC opened the RFQ applications, having received an overwhelming response from 10 developers despite the Covid-19 pandemic. Nine of those applicants have qualified for the next stage.

The bidding is a two-stage process consisting of RFQ and request for Proposal (RFP). The selected bidder at the RFP stage is expected to take up the redevelopment of the railway station. IRSDC will shortly invite RFPs from the nine shortlisted bidders.

The project has already received in-principle approval of the PPPAC, comprising representi-ves from the ministries of finance, law and railways, and NITI Aayog, as per the central government's guidelines for PPP projects.

For providing better passenger services and amenities, railway stations will be on licence with concessional rates for 60 years. Pre-determined user charges from railway station users as in practice at airports will be an additional revenue stream.

The project involves up to 99 years for residential real estate or mix-use format development and 60 years for non-residential formats and up to 254,000 sq metres of built-up area is permitted for commercial development.

IRSDC will be a single window for approval of master plan and building plans in consultation with local authorities. The redevelopment cost of the station, including the cost of financing and contingency, is estimated at ₹1,642 crore.

Bigger Homes in Demand as WFH Continues

Sales of 3 BHK units up 19% across top seven cities in Q1 of 2021: PropEquity report

Falzan.Haldar@timesgroup.com

New Delhi: Sales of 3 BHK housing units increased by 19% across top 7 cities in India during the first quarter of 2021 to 30,169 units versus 25,307 units sold in the corresponding period last year, according to a report by real estate state data analytics firm PropEquity.

Many of the working population in India are now looking at buying larger homes as corporations are still following the work from home (WFH) model driven by central and state government recommendations and also the high Covid-19 infection rates.

"This trend of buying larger homes will continue in India as complete vaccination of the eligible Indian population is still some time away. There is also expectation of a third wave, which effectively means that WFH is here to stay," said Samir Jasuja, founder and managing director at PropEquity. Bengaluru, Chennai, Hyderabad, MMR, NCR and Pune witnessed a sales growth in Q1 2021 versus Q1 2020 at 10%, 43%, 14%, 54%, 13% and 34%, respectively.

Mumbai, where smaller size homes are more in demand due to high cost, saw the maximum increase in demand for 3-bhk homes.

"Since the onset of the pandemic there has been a shift in demand for bigger spaces across all segments. Anyone who can afford is looking to upgrade to bigger spaces given the fact that they are spending more time at home. The Covid-19 has reinforced the significance of spacious homes for comfortable living and also as a stable investment," said Karan Kumar, CMO, DLF.

However, the new supply or launches of housing units decreased by 30% in the same period to 20,848 in Q1 2021 units from Q1 2020 at 29,836 units as developers cleared earlier stock and resized home offerings.

"The extended work-from-home culture and the e-learning period are likely to stay and people will continue to demand more spacious homes that incorporate dedicated study rooms, workspaces, and workout and entertainment zones with modern amenities that match their opulent lifestyle," said Pan-kaj Bansal, Director, M3M. Bengaluru witnessed a rise of 10% in home sales in Q1 2021 at 5,794 while Chennai recorded a 43% increase in home sales in Q1 2021 at 2,387.

"Work from home culture is the new normal. Post Covid and the first lockdown last year, people wanted larger homes as even schooling for their children from home needed a dedicated space along with working space for the parents. Many of the queries that we are receiving for several months now are for larger sized units, or to set up one room as a home office. We believe this trend to continue in 2021 as well," said Ankush Kaul, President (Sales & Marketing) - Ambience Group.

Covid-19 has pushed buyers to make perceptive decisions in home-buying.

"The consumer demands are rapidly changing in the pandemic and the emerging trends have enabled developers to demonstrate best offerings with modern infrastructure upgrades like hi-tech security & surveillance systems, functional spaces, among others in big residential spaces," said Santosh Agarwal, CFO and executive director, Alphacorp.
