It's official: Cong, Left to partner for Bengal polls

The Congress on Thursday formally approved its electoral alliance with the Left parties for the assembly elections in West Bengal, party's state unit chief Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury announced.

The West Bengal PCC had earlier recommended an alliance in favour of the Left parties.

The Left parties had also favoured an alliance with the Congress for the state elections. "Today the Congress high command has formally approved the electoral alliance with the Left parties in the impending election of West Bengal," Chowdhury said on Twitter.

The Left and Congress did not contest the Lok Sabha elections in Bengal together. The two parties are also pitted against each other in Kerala. The West Bengal assembly elections are due by March-April next year.

Karnataka withdraws night curfew order

In a U-turn, the Karnataka government on Thursday withdrew its night curfew order, hours before it was to come into effect.

The decision to impose night curfew for nine days from 11 pm to 5 am starting from Thursday was taken on Wednesday in line with the Centre's advice, amid concerns over a new Covid-19 variant spreading in the UK. The decision to impose night curfew had drawn flak from the ruling as well as the Opposition parties.

Delhi CM says ready to vaccinate 5.1 million

The Delhi government is fully prepared to receive, store and administer Covid-19 vaccine to 51 lakh priority category persons in the city in the first phase of vaccination, Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal said on Thursday.

He said his government is all set to start the vaccination drive as soon as it gets the vaccine from the Centre, and registration is underway for people in three priority categories who will receive it first. The government is yet to take decision regarding the charges.

Positive UK returnee flees Delhi; isolated

A Covid-19 positive woman, who allegedly managed to give the slip to authorities in New Delhi after her arrival from the UK recently and reach Andhra Pradesh by train, has been picked up from Rajamahendravaram and admitted to a hospital along with her son, officials said. Meanwhile, Delhi Health Minister Satyendar Jain said the city government will approach airport authorities over a report that two Covid-positive flyers from the UK had slipped out from the airport.

Technology...

Security
The rise of remote computing and cloud will inevitably require more robust security. The next evolution of cybersecurity will be about users rather than organisations. "Cybersecurity mesh essentially allows for the security perimeter to be defined around the identity of a person or thing," says a Gartner report. Remote device security will be the highest growth category. "Enterprises have been slow to secure mobile devices but will pay more attention to this because they have had to rely on mobile devices during lockdown and new security threats are emerging. We forecast that spend on mobile security will grow at 17 per CAGR (compound annual growth rate) between 2019 and 2025 to reach almost $13 billion," says research firm Analysys Mason.

Regulation
After the European Union, the US is also going after big tech companies. A suit to break up the monopolies will be an important dimension of new regulatory environment for technology. Issues around accountability and legal liability of technology products and services will dominate regulatory efforts across the world. The need for ethical AI and clear rules for use of blockchain has been felt in industry and government alike. Some efforts have been made but expect multilateral and global coordination to set some standards on use of technology. As digital markets transcend boundaries, countries will have to create common rules of operation.

Connectivity
National economic power in 2021 will rest on the foundations of tech and digital infrastructure. Between the aggressive behaviour of China and the impact of Covid-19, countries, including India, are investing in digital infrastructure with the same approach as boosting their border defences. The roll-out of 5G services will have a cascading effect of connected technologies. Remote healthcare, education and enterprise management will be far smoother. After many false starts, 2021 will be the year of 5G. About "3.5 billion 5G subscriptions forecast by the end of 2026 -- estimated to account for more than 50 per cent of mobile data traffic at that time", according to an estimate by Ericsson. Much of this will be triggered in 2021.

India's promise to bring connectivity to its citizens will be driven through the public Wi-Fi (WANI) project. Public Wi-Fi hotspots are expected to rise from 350,000 to 10 million by the end of 2021.

'We are...'

Add to that, Serum, Gavi, and the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation have collaborated to ensure fair and equitable access to future Covid vaccines. Through the association, we have received an additional $300 million from the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation. For now, we are not raising additional capital through private equity.

You have deferred producing some pipeline vaccines. When these come on stream, how do you plan to expand?
We have deferred producing some of our other vaccines. That said, we were quick to adapt and were able to navigate these unprecedented situations owing to our capacity planning. We re-assessed our operations to ensure that we meet our commitment to our other vaccines as well.

How long do you think the demand for Covid-19 vaccines would last?
While full-coverage immunisation will certainly aid in containing the spread of the virus, it is impossible to say when the disease will go. It will be take two-three years to get the world's population vaccinated.

Being a two-dose vaccine, how do you plan the logistics to ensure one gets the right dosages?
This vaccine will be given with a gap of 28 days. Distribution lies with government bodies and the health ministry.

Do you expect any supply crunch for vials in 2021?
Considering the demand initially there could be some crunch. However, I am certain most vial makers must be readying their capacities.

India ...

Hence, the government's liability in the case would have come to around ₹75 crore.

Some experts believe that the government's move would send a wrong signal to foreign investors, while others say investors would have to evaluate their decisions since the Bilateral Investment Treaty (BIT) now does not have tax disputes in its domain.

Mukesh Bhutani, managing partner, BMR Legal, said the nuanced approach of the government appeared to be that in its quest for foreign investment, India could not be considered to have waived its rights to evaluate and adopt an independent policy outlook, including tax laws. "It is premature to conclude on the outcome of the present events at this stage. Nonetheless, the decisive action of the government not accepting the award is progression, and not the deviation, which was expected by many. It exudes India's confidence that it continues to have faith in its revised BIT model, which excludes tax policy," he said. New foreign investors, therefore, need to take a calibrated decision and factor in the dynamic tax environment while evaluating their return options, Bhutani said.

AAI...

Similar communication was sent in regard to Lucknow and Ahmedabad airports.

However, an Adani Group spokesperson termed the charge "baseless", saying the company had adhered to the terms of the agreement.

"We are a responsible business organisation and we maintain utmost due diligence in adhering to the terms of the CA with our stakeholders. The AAI sought some clarification regarding on-site branding, which is being duly responded to in line with the terms of the agreement. The legal names of
