No Plans to Approach the Bombay HC for Relief

From Page 1

SDTT has no plans to approach the Bombay High Court for relief and will wait for the charity commissioner to grant relief to SRTT, officials close to the Trusts said.

Tata Trusts and Tata Sons did not comment.

Some trustees of Tata Trusts have approached the charity commissioner in their individual capacities seeking relief, officials said. The move is understood to stem from the view that SDTT cannot seek such relief on behalf of SRTT.

SRTT and SDTT together hold 51.54% of Tata Sons, with SRTT holding about 23.5% and SDTT about 28%.

The charity commissioner had issued the restraint under Section 36A(3) of the Maharashtra Public Trusts Act following complaints regarding the composition of the SRTT board and alleged non-compliance with Section 30A(3) of the Act.

The regulator had also directed the SRTT board to postpone its May 16 meeting and refrain from convening such meetings until submission of an inspector's report.

Section 36A(2) deals with the permissible number of perpetual or life trustees on the board. A recent amendment to the law introduced a statutory cap on the number of perpetual trustees that can serve on a public trust board. Section 36A(1) empowers the commissioner to pass directions on a trust.

CHANDRASEKARAN'S POSITION

The uncertainty over the AGM has also brought into focus the position of Tata Sons chairman N Chandrasekaran, who is liable to retire by rotation.

Officials familiar with the Articles of Association said that if the Tuesday meeting cannot be validly constituted because of lack of quorum, Chandrasekaran would continue as a director until a valid AGM is held, at which his reappointment can be considered.

Prem Rajani, managing partner of law firm Rajani Associates, said that unless the Articles of Tata Sons expressly require the presence of representatives of SDTT and SRTT to constitute the quorum, under the Companies Act, Tata Sons may proceed with the AGM so long as the requisite quorum under the Companies Act is present.

"Nevertheless, during the pendency of the order of the charity commissioner, Tata Sons may consider seeking approval of the Registrar of Companies for an extension of convening the AGM for another three months, unless SRTT receives permission from the charity commissioner to participate in the Tata Sons AGM..., or the order of the charity commissioner is set aside by an appropriate authority," he added.

Under the Companies Act, a director liable to retire by rotation continues in office until the relevant AGM, where shareholders are required to either reappoint the director or fill the vacancy. The law, however, does not expressly detail the consequences where an AGM itself cannot be validly convened because of lack of quorum.

The interpretation of Tata Sons' Articles and the legal implications of an AGM that fails to meet the prescribed quorum are consequently being examined by Tata Trusts, people familiar with the matter said.

Chandrasekaran joined the Tata Sons board in October 2016 and became chairman in January 2017. He requires reappointment as a director to continue on the board, with his position as chairman legally contingent on his continuing as a director.

Chandrasekaran has already communicated that he will not seek reappointment when his current term ends in February 2027.

REGULATOR'S STAND

SRTT had approached the Maharashtra Charity Commissioner seeking easing of the curbs. The letter also stated that the Trust retained the right to challenge the commissioner's order, if deemed necessary.

People in the know said the charity commissioner's office had not responded to the request as of August 14.

The communication seeking relief did not specifically mention SRTT's participation in the Tata Sons AGM on Tuesday, the people said.

"The charity commissioner's office has also not been apprised of some subsequent developments, including the stepping down of trustees (Vijay Singh) or the resignation of Chandra. Under the Maharashtra Public Trust Act, the charity commissioner acts as a guardian to the trusts and all the decisions are taken keeping (in mind) the interest of the trusts," explained an official.

The Bombay High Court is the appellate authority for orders passed by the Maharashtra Charity Commissioner.

1989 SHARE TRANSFER

Separately, the charity commissioner's office in June received an email from Vijay Singh, who stepped down as a trustee of SRTT, seeking an inquiry into allegations concerning the transfer of 833 Tata Sons shares from Navajbai Ratan Tata Trust to Naval H Tata in 1989.

The charity commissioner subsequently sought a response from Noel Tata, chairman of Tata Trusts, and a trustee of Navajbai Ratan Tata Trust. Tata is understood to have replied last week, denying the allegations.

The charity commissioner's office is examining the response and the material placed before it before deciding on the next course of action, people familiar with the matter said.

Non-responsive Ailerons

Airbus has not prescribed any pilot action for such a situation, as it considers simultaneous malfunction of all three hydraulic systems impossible.

While the captain is separately under scrutiny after testing non-negative for psychoactive substances, the initial assessment from the recorders does not indicate any human action as a cause of the incident. Aircraft Accident Investigation Bureau (AAIB), which is investigating the incident, has already interviewed the pilots. The A320 has three independent hydraulic systems — colour-coded Green, Blue and Yellow — designed so that failure of one does not result in loss of aircraft control.

In the Air India flight, all three hydraulic gauges registered a pressure drop within one second, causing the elevators and ailerons to briefly stop responding to pilot commands. The two ailerons, located on the outer parts of each wing, normally move in opposite directions — reducing lift on one side while increasing it on the other — to roll the aircraft left or right. The elevators, on the horizontal tail at the rear, control the aircraft's nose up or down.

In this case, the ailerons moved in the same direction, generating extra lift that pushed the aircraft's nose upward steeply without any pilot input. The autopilot disengaged, as it is designed to do in abnormal conditions. The first officer took manual control and pushed the nose down sharply, causing a rapid downward acceleration that threw passengers and cabin crew upward, leading to the injuries.

Five seconds later, pressure was restored across all three systems, the flight control computers reconnected, and the aircraft began responding to pilot commands again. The captain told the DGCA in his post-flight report that he was standing behind the first officer's seat discussing the aircraft's air conditioning system when the situation emerged. The pilots did not divert to the nearest airports — Varanasi or Lucknow — and continued to Delhi, around two hours away, despite reports of injuries on board.

NATO's Italian Fighter Jet Shoots Down UAV in Latvian Airspace

Rugaji: An Italian fighter jet, part of a NATO mission, shot down a drone of unknown origin that entered the airspace of NATO and EU member Latvia on Friday during Ukrainian attacks on Russian ports, the defence pact and Latvian authorities said.

Latvian soldiers were searching for debris from the drone around midday in a wooded area near the village of Rugaji—around 33 km from the Baltic nation's border with Russia—which was identified as a potential crash site.

"We can't give information about the origin of the drone as the area is not yet searched," Latvian military spokesperson Iveta Berzina told broadcaster LSM.

Two Italian Eurofighter jets took off from Lithuania and two Turkish F-16s were scrambled from a base in Estonia, NATO spokesperson Allison Hart said.

One of the Eurofighters identified and shot down the drone.

"All aircraft were operating under NATO command. An investigation is ongoing and NATO is in close contact with the Latvian authorities," Hart said.

"NATO is ready and able to react to any potential threats, 24/7, to safeguard our territory and protect our people." Reuters
