BID TO ACCELERATE GROWTH

PFRDA Eyes ₹100-L cr NPS Assets by 2040

Regulator taps banks, UPI platforms to widen pension coverage and drive enrolments

Our Bureau

Mumbai: The Pension Fund Regulatory and Development Authority (PFRDA) expects assets under management (AUM) of the National Pension System (NPS) to reach ₹100 lakh crore by 2040, from more than ₹18 lakh crore currently, as it looks to expand pension coverage through banks, digital payment platforms and a wider range of investment products.

PFRDA chairman S Ramann said the regulator was seeking to accelerate growth beyond the organic expansion of the economy by leveraging the banking system and Unified Payments Interface (UPI) infrastructure to bring more subscribers into the pension system.

"Today, we are sitting at something like above ₹18 trillion in terms of the AUM under NPS. In a growing economy, the kind of need for long-term savings gives us an estimation that in 2040 we will be at ₹100 lakh crores," Ramann said.The regulator is working with the National Payments Corporation of India (NPCI) to create a digital bridge connecting UPI providers, banks and the NPS system, enabling customers to initiate account opening through existing payment applications. The initial contribution required is ₹250. The model is designed to reduce customer acquisition costs for banks by using UPI platforms to trigger enrolments. "There is zero cost to a bank to acquire a customer," Ramann said, adding that the UPI provider would initiate the customer journey while banks would receive the accounts through existing infrastructure.

PFRDA is also making NPS distribution more attractive for banks through changes in the commission structure. The improved commission is now 0.2% of AUM annually and is shared between banks and another distribution partner, typically the UPI provider.

The regulator's assessment of the top 10 Points of Presence (POPs) showed that their revenues had increased four to five times compared with the previous year following the changes, Ramann said. Alongside distribution, PFRDA is seeking to improve subscriber servicing through NPS Central, which will facilitate transactions such as changes in names, addresses and nominees. Banks are being encouraged to integrate their platforms with the service.

The regulator is also looking to diversify pension fund investments beyond conventional securities. It has already facilitated investments in REITs and InvITs and launched the NPS Bharat Fund of Funds, with the first two alternative investment fund approvals granted.

Unconvincing Argument

He never gave them a convincing account of why America had to go to war with Iran, what victory would look like or why the resulting rise in prices was worth bearing. The war pushed up fuel costs. Tariffs made imports dearer.

Huge budget deficits kept demand buoyant while households were already struggling with high prices. You can argue about the contribution of each. At the petrol pump, voters paid the combined bill.

Will Trump change course? He is more likely to seek an exit from the Iran war than to abandon tariffs, a conviction he has held for decades. A settlement that restores normal Gulf shipping would be excellent news for India.

Cheaper oil would ease the import bill, relieve pressure on the rupee and give the Reserve Bank more room to manoeuvre. Indian exporters should still reckon with Trump's affection for tariffs.

On election day Trump said America would end roughly $4 billion a year in aid to Israel, arguing that Israel could afford to buy its own arms. He envisaged continued US arms sales, and Congress will have a say over the timing.

The announcement may signal a willingness to change the terms of a longstanding commitment. A settlement with Iran is a separate test.

This could mark the end of MAGA as the dominant force in Republican politics. Republicans tolerated much from Trump because they thought he could win elections they otherwise would lose. After Texas and Kansas, expect some to ask aloud how many seats his endorsements cost them. JD Vance, the obvious heir, now has to explain why Republicans should run in 2028 on a record that just cost them Congress. Vivek Ramaswamy, beaten by Amy Acton in the Ohio governor's race, has an even more immediate problem. A movement built around one man's supposed electoral magic will find succession considerably harder once his own party stops believing in it.

'States Have Power for Pre-GST Extra Levies'

Indu Bhan

New Delhi: Settling a nearly three-decade-old issue, the Supreme Court on Wednesday upheld states' power to levy additional tax, surcharge or cess calculated on existing sales or purchase tax under the pre-GST regime.

A comprising Chief Justice Surya Kant and Justices KV Viswanathan, SVN Bhatti, Joymalya Bagchi, NV Anjaria, Arun Palli and V Mohana held that the long-pending reference on the legislative competence of state legislatures to impose a surcharge, additional tax, levy or cess computed on the basis of a validly levied sales or purchase tax had been rendered infructuous.
