Dear Sir,

a. The relevant news item does not relate to Apollo Hospitals Enterprise Limited and concerns a matter relating to Indraprastha Medical Corporation Limited, New Delhi ("IMCL") which is a separate listed company. However, based on the letter received from the Exchange we have checked with the officials of IMCL .We have been informed that the concerned person is not an employee of IMCL and happens to be a personal staff member of a doctor.

b. Further, IMCL had issued a Press release on 3rd June 2016 as follows, a copy of which had been shared with the Company as well.

Indraprastha Apollo Hospitals
PRESS STATEMENT
3rd June 2016

We are co-operating and providing all information required to help the police in their investigation pertaining to the alleged kidney sale racket.

The police in their investigation has identified secretarial staff of some doctors, who have been accused of being involved in the alleged racket. We reiterate that these are not employees of the hospital. While all due precautions were conducted, the use of fake and forged documents was used for this racket with a criminal intent. The hospital has been a victim of a well-orchestrated operation to cheat patients and the hospital. We urge the police to take the strictest of action against all those involved. This matter is of grave concern and our teams are extending all support to the Police.

The hospital, in order to ensure compliance with the law and diligence in process has an independent body with external members also for according consent for any transplant surgery. This Committee goes through all documents necessary to ensure that requirements under the Act are complied with. Further, the hospital has ensured that all due process as per the law has been followed.

Indraprastha Apollo Hospitals has always abided by the law with utmost care and diligence and shall continue to do so.

c. We are unable to express any comments on market related price movements relating to the Company's scrip and we are not aware of any developments that might have had a bearing on the price movement as quoted in your letter.

Thanking you
Yours faithfully
For APOLLO HOSPITALS ENTERPRISE LIMITED
