IBC Bill won't encroach on SC domain: FM

The amendments are largely to clear the Code's legislative intent, says Nirmala Sitharaman

RUCHIKA CHITRAVANSHI
New Delhi, 29 July

The government's move to amend the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC) was largely to clear its legislative intent and not to encroach on the Supreme Court's domain, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said on Monday.

She was replying to a debate on the amendments to the code in the Rajya Sabha.

"In spite of the global headwinds, we have brought such reforms. It is not being done exclusive of the court and it is not certainly eroding into the court's domain," the minister said.

The Rajya Sabha later passed the IBC amendment Bill, which has been changed for the third time since its inception three years ago.

Sitharaman said the National Company Law Appellate Tribunal's (NCLAT's) interpretation in the Essar Steel case to treat secured lenders and operational creditors on a par defeated the spirit of the IBC.

She said the Supreme Court itself has said that economic laws require flexibility and experimenting. "If courts are saying this, why are we hesitating. We are using our legislative mandate... Amendments are being brought as we gain experience from time to time," Sitharaman said.

The NCLAT had recently ruled in the Essar Steel's case that the Committee of Creditors (CoC) had no role in distribution of claims and brought lenders (financial creditors) and vendors (operational creditors) on a par.

The Supreme Court had then ordered a stay on the NCLAT's ruling. The government has amended the Act in a timely and speedy manner to address "very serious interpretative problems," the minister said.

Battling for the IBC, the finance minister quoted the Supreme Court saying that "Defaulter's paradise has been lost to the IBC." She said that the code had given a new lease of life to companies in the ICU (intensive care unit). Around ₹1.24 trillion had been realised from the approval of 117 resolution plans.

The minister said financial creditors were getting on an average 43 per cent of claims against getting nothing if defaulting companies were never taken up under the IBC.

She said the IBC had turned out to be the most effective mechanism for cases under the Board for Industrial and Financial Reconstruction (BIFR). She said of the total 475 corporate insolvency cases which yielded to liquidation, 349 were earlier under BIFR.

Talking about the amendment to the timelines where a 330-day limit has now been introduced for resolution process to be finalised, including the time taken for litigation, the minister said several of the top 12 IBC cases have been pending for more than 600 days.

She also assured all bidders that no criminal proceedings will be taken up against the winning applicant and only the corporate debtor will be held liable for such proceedings.

Reiterating the stance of the government that a resolution plan will be binding upon the Centre, state and local authorities, Sitharaman asserted, "No further claim will be made by the government once a resolution plan has been approved."

Sitharaman told Parliament that a total of 6,079 cases got disposed of even before admission. "It meant an amount of ₹2.84 trillion being redressed. That's the indication of an effective mechanism," she said.

DAY IN PARLIAMENT

Lok Sabha passes Bill to scrap 58 archaic laws

The Lok Sabha on Monday passed a Bill to repeal 58 old laws which the government said are a source of inconvenience to people. Moving The Repealing and Amending Bill, 2019, Law Minister Ravi Shankar Prasad said that after the BJP-led government came to power "we have repealed 1,428 old and archaic Acts".

"Today we are (going to repeal) 58 old Acts," the minister said and noted that from 1950 to 2004, only 1,929 old laws were repealed. Most of these laws, he said, date back to the British era. Participating in the discussion, Congress leader Shashi Tharoor said that efforts of the government were laudable but expressed concern that "sometimes this government passes a bill in haste and then repeals it". Demanding that the law on marital rape should be changed, he said government should understand that it is not about sex but violence. He said that the initiative by the government was good but it should follow it logically.

National Medical Commission Bill cleared by Lower House

The Lok Sabha on Monday passed the National Medical Commission Bill for replacing the corruption-plagued MCI with a new body, in what was described by the government as one of the biggest reforms that will end 'inspector raj' in the medical education sector.

The Bill that seeks to repeal the Indian Medical Council Act, 1956, was passed by a voice vote, amid a walkout by the Congress, the DMK and the Trinamool Congress. The Bill also has a provision for making national standards in medical education uniform by proposing that the final year MBBS exam be treated as an entrance test for PG and a screening test for students who graduate in medicine from foreign countries. This exam, called the National Exit Test, would ensure that the proposed National Medical Commission moves away from a system of repeated inspections of infrastructure and focuses on outcomes rather than processes.

Parliament okays legislation to curb ponzi schemes

Parliament on Monday passed a Bill which seeks to put in place a mechanism to protect gullible investors from being duped by ponzi schemes and ensure that they get back their money. The Banning of Unregulated Deposit Schemes Bill, 2019, was passed by a voice vote in the Rajya Sabha after members, cutting across party lines, supported the legislation that had received the Lok Sabha's nod on July 24.

Replying to a debate on the Bill, which will replace an ordinance, Minister of State for Finance Anurag Singh Thakur appealed to all members to "bless" the legislation for protecting the interests of the poor and the innocent whose hard earned money is usurped through ponzi schemes. Elaborating on the provisions of the Bill, he said any deposit taker who solicits deposit in contravention of Section 3 shall be punishable with imprisonment of not less than one year and up to five years.

Over 36% of registered firms have 'closed' down

ABHISHEK WAGHMARE
New Delhi, 29 July

More than 36 per cent (680,000) of registered companies in India have "closed" down as per the latest numbers provided by the ministry of corporate affairs (MCA) in Parliament. There are around 1.9 million companies registered with the government, the data shows.

While the percentage has moved up only marginally since 2017-18, it is a big jump from the 20 per cent share that closed companies occupied in earlier periods.

The reason for the jump is the inclusion of companies not filing financial statements or annual returns for two years into the category of "closed" companies. The government identified such companies and declared them defunct under the Companies (Removal of Names of Companies from the Register of Companies) Rules (along with amended Rules 2019), coined under Section 248(1) of the Companies Act, 2013.

Maharashtra and Delhi lead the pack of states in terms of absolute number, with 142,425 and 125,937 closed companies, respectively. This data was presented by Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman in a reply to a question in Parliament earlier this month.

Four states — Maharashtra, Delhi, Tamil Nadu, and West Bengal — constitute more than half the universe of registered companies. However, their shares of closed companies differ.

After the re-categorisation of non-compliant companies as "closed", the share of closed companies in Maharashtra rose from nearly 15 per cent to 38 per cent. In Tamil Nadu, it rose from 24 per cent at the end of 2016-17 to 44 per cent in May 2019. The share of closed companies moved the slowest in West Bengal.

Apart from "closed" companies, the share of dormant companies, those under liquidation, and under the process of strike-off form less than 3 per cent of the universe.

Further, the MCA removed the names of nearly 220,000 and 110,000 companies from the list of registered companies in 2017-18 and 2018-19, respectively. These "shell" companies now cease to be part of the universe of registered corporates.

SAIL News

Steel Authority of India Limited's (SAIL) Bhilai Steel Plant has got the Necessary Works Approval Certificate from the Indian Register of Shipping (IRS) to manufacture special shipbuilding grade plates for making Diving Support Vessel (DSV) used by the India Navy. The plates will be supplied to Hindustan Shipyard Limited for making the vessels. These vessels are used for search, rescue & repair of undersea submarines & other vessels / structures by the Indian Navy. This certification requires stringent monitoring and review of the entire systems from steel-making to testing. Accordingly, the processes and procedures adopted in Steel Melting Shop (SMS), Plate Mill and related sections of Research and Control Laboratory including flat products, SMS and Metallography were reviewed and the coveted certification was accorded. This certification is a testimony to SAIL's commitment towards 'Make in India'.
