Business & Operations Highlights:

aurionPro demonstrated strong financial performance during the first half of our 2012-2013 fiscal year despite challenging global economic conditions. This time period was highlighted by a pair of strategic acquisitions, continued investment in product development and advancement, and operational streamlining activities that were initiated earlier in the calendar year.

Commenting on the performance during the previous two quarters, Samir Shah, aurionPro's Global COO, observed, "This is an exciting time for aurionPro as we focus on getting the most out of our businesses through corporate streamlining activities and by identifying investment opportunities that will enable aggressive expansion possibilities as we emerge from the global recession."

The aurionPro executive team has made considerable progress in rationalizing several corporate functions based on the restructuring activities that commenced in early 2012. The first such initiative, focused on centralizing aurionPro's delivery processes, has started to show the intended results of optimizing resource management across all business lines while increasing delivery efficiencies. This program is also expected to improve IP reuse across the Practices while ensuring consistent delivery of software deployments.

Secondly, a team of Enterprise Account Managers has been formed to improve our ability to focus on key accounts and enable cross-sales opportunities. This initiative has already started to bear fruit, especially in bringing primarily U.S.-focused services to our client base in the Asia Pacific region. Regional sales teams have also been successfully positioning aurionPro products and services in a highly competitive environment. One specific area to highlight is our continued expansion into Southeast Asia. Among several other recent client wins in the region, VietinBank, one of Vietnam's largest Banks with more than 150 branches and 1500 ATMs in 62 provinces and cities, selected aurionPro's industry-leading Loan Origination product suite, SmartLender, to drive their credit processing operations.

In addition to achieving organic growth through our existing Sales organizations and our newly formed Enterprise Account Management team, two strategic acquisitions were completed during the second quarter that will strengthen aurionPro's geographic reach as well as the capabilities offered by our business lines. Enline plc, the leading U.K.-based Oracle Identity Management systems implementer, was acquired as a natural extension to our aurionPro SENA division and will support our position across the Oracle ecosystem. The Enline business includes infrastructure solutions and managed services offerings that the organization will also benefit from. Enline with its team of 35 professionals in UK will also act as a base of aurionPro's European expansion plans.

Soon after the purchase of Enline, aurionPro signed an agreement to acquire SEEinforbiz Private Ltd., a Mumbai-based technology solutions company that delivers complex e-statements and unified customer communication solutions to the Banking, Telecom, Insurance & Logistics industries. This transaction expands aurionPro's software product portfolio while also adding an enviable list of BFSI and Telecom customers to our substantial client base.

aurionPro's investment focus on organic and inorganic growth is supported by our continued commitment to extend, enhance, and innovate our software product offerings. Two strategic areas, cloud and mobile solutions, have been the primary focus during the first half of this fiscal year. Our aurionPro SENA division has released two cloud-based solutions and two mobile offerings during the previous quarter in preparation for Sales and Marketing activities during Oracle's OpenWorld annual conference. Providing a SaaS-based delivery model of Oracle's Identity Management and WebCenter software product suites, while also offering access through Mobile Apps to each, is quite innovative in the industry and has fostered a significant amount of interest in our products, as well as in our expertise to be able to successfully deliver these types of solutions. Cloud and mobile efforts across our Supply Chain Management and Banking business lines also continue to progress as planned. These offerings will be released to our clients in subsequent quarters and will help to maintain our leadership positions in those respective industries.

Commenting on future, Mr. Amit Sheth, Managing Director, said "aurionPro's first half of 2012-2013 fiscal year has been punctuated by a number of strategic activities that have taken a tremendous amount of focus and commitment to accomplish. The acquisitions completed, the organizational streamlining activities initiated, and our continued commitment to invest in each of our product lines will all help to drive aurionPro forward successfully well into the future."
