India seeks to strengthen defence ties with Five Eyes

New Delhi has some form of defence pacts with four of the grouping's members

SATAPRHA BHATTACHARYA
New Delhi, 17 March

India sought to strengthen its defence cooperation with the United States, New Zealand, and Australia through official engagements on Monday.

The US, New Zealand, and Australia are part of the Five Eyes intelligence-sharing alliance that includes Canada and the United Kingdom. India has agreements on critical and emerging technologies with the US and the UK. It now has some form of defence pact or association with four members of the Western grouping.

The signing of a new defence agreement with New Zealand and continued talks with Australia on maritime security are seen as measures India is taking to counter China's reach in the Indian Ocean region.

DURING HIS MEETING with US Director of National Intelligence Tulsi Gabbard in New Delhi on Monday, Prime Minister Narendra Modi warmly recalled his visit to Washington, DC, last month and his "extremely productive" discussions with President Donald Trump. The PM told Gabbard he was looking forward to welcoming him to India later this year. PHOTO: PTI

Prime Minister Narendra Modi held a meeting with his New Zealand counterpart Christopher Luxon, who is also in India to attend a security conference.

"Both sides noted the need for ensuring the safety and security of sea lanes of communication and agreed there needs to be regular dialogue to discuss enhancement of maritime safety," a joint statement released by India's Ministry of External Affairs said.

India and New Zealand are expected to hold military relations by holding joint exercises, staff training, and port calls by naval ships, the statement added. Tariq, an Indian Navy sailing vessel, went to New Zealand in December, while the frigate HMNZS Te Kaha will visit Mumbai. The statement said New Zealand expressed interest in joining the Indo-Pacific Oceans Initiative, an India-led forum.

Also on Monday, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh met US Director of National Intelligence Tulsi Gabbard in New Delhi to follow up on the earlier discussions held in Washington, DC, between Modi and US President Donald Trump. Singh and Gabbard talked of ways to enhance collaboration on defence innovation and emerging technologies, with the aim of advancing mutual strategic interests, a statement from India's Ministry of Defence said.

Singh and Gabbard "reviewed the significant strides made in the areas of military exercises, strategic cooperation, integration of defence industrial supply chains and information-sharing ties, especially in the maritime domain, between India and the US," the statement said.

Singh posted on X (formerly Twitter) that his meeting with Gabbard covered a host of topics, including information-sharing, to further deepen India-US relations. Gabbard told NDTV that "Trump and Modi were working towards strengthening 'shared objectives' for both countries. India also held the ninth edition of defence-policy talks with Australia in New Delhi on Monday. A statement from the Indian government said the two sides focussed on "cooperation priorities, including maritime domain awareness and reciprocal information-sharing, as well as military exercises."

"Both countries also explored the possibilities of (their) defence-industry collaboration," the statement added.

India, New Zealand call for boost in digital payments cooperation

SURABHAN CHAKRABORTY
New Delhi, 17 March

India and New Zealand have agreed to boost cooperation in digital payments and greater two-way trade and investment during the ongoing visit of New Zealand Prime Minister Christopher Luxon.

A day after both nations revived talks on a proposed free-trade agreement and a niche investment in India, accounting for $8.72 million of inward investments since 2000.

"By leveraging each country's strengths, addressing their respective concerns, and tackling challenges, a bilateral trade agreement can foster mutually beneficial trade and investment growth, ensuring equitable gains and complementarity for both sides," a joint statement released after the talks said.

The leaders committed to designating senior representatives to steer these negotiations towards resolution as soon as reasonably possible. Later in the day, Luxon stated that both economies stand to gain from major advancements in artificial intelligence, quantum technology, biotech, and advanced manufacturing while speaking at the Raisina Dialogue.

Both leaders also welcomed the signing of the Authorised Economic Operators Mutual Recognition Arrangement under the aegis of the Customs Cooperation Arrangement signed in 2024, which would facilitate easier movement of goods between the two countries.

Alter updating the bilateral air services agreement, both sides have also agreed to encourage their carriers to commence direct (non-stop) flight operations between the two countries.

The two nations have signed multiple memorandums of understanding.
