Banka BioLoo Recognized and Supported by United Nations Agencies and Others

The past few months have been exciting, encouraging and reassuring for Banka BioLoo Limited.

The fiscal year began on a strong note, when, in April 2020, the Company was placed 259th in The Financial Times ranking of Asia-Pacific High-Growth Companies (www.ft.com/high-growth-asia-pacific-ranking-2020).

In May 2020, Banka BioLoo's Chairman joined Heads of States, Governments, leaders from United Nations agencies, International Financial Institutions, Civil Society Organizations, Foundations, Academia and Private Sector leaders, calling for the prioritization of water, sanitation and hygiene in the response to COVID-19 (<https://www.sanitationandwaterforall.org/about/our-work/world-leaders-call-action-covid-19>).

In June 2020, the United Nations Global Compact launched the "Leadership for the Decade of Action" report in collaboration with Russell Reynolds Associates. They carried out in-depth interviews and background analysis on a group of close to 60 sustainability pioneers - CEOs and board members from across continents and industries, with a notable track record of focusing on, and making progress towards sustainability goals in tandem with commercial results. From India, were chosen Anand Mahindra (Chairman of Mahindra Group) and Sanjay Banka (Chairman of Banka BioLoo). The report can be accessed here:

In July 2020, Business Call to Action (BCtA), supported by United Nations Development Programme and international Aid agencies, released the impact assessment report on Banka BioLoo. BCtA had initiated, in 2019, Impact Champions Programme, and Banka BioLoo was selected one of the 25 Impact Champions. The comprehensive report is available on their site (www.businesscalltoaction.org/news/impact-champion-case-study-banka-bioloo).

In August 2020, Banka BioLoo presented at Women & Gender Constituency's "Advocacy for Gender Just Climate Action" virtual event; and at Innovate 4 Water - Asia-Pacific, an event held in Brisbane, Australia. In the coming days, the Company has been invited to showcase at the "SDG6: From Here to There", virtual event by RELX Group.

Apart from the above major recognitions, Banka BioLoo continues to grab national and global headlines through its pioneering work in water, sanitation and hygiene (WaSH), and its contribution to Sustainable Development Goal 6.
