Modi & Putin lunar summit

PRICE TO MOON

SHANKAR RAJ | WASHINGTON

In a way it may look like a friendly race to the moon. Just when India's Chandrayaan-3 is preparing to touch down on the moon's surface, Russia launched a spacecraft on Friday for the first time in nearly half a century. It is expected to land on the lunar surface on August 21, two days ahead of India's mission.

Though India launched Chandrayaan-3 on July 14, much ahead, Russia's Luna-25 mission has used a much more powerful Soyuz rocket to dash to the moon in a short span of 10 days.

Incidentally, Russia's robotic lander will attempt a touchdown in the moon's South Pole - the same region which India is also eyeing. This is an area suspected to have repositories of frozen water - a discovery made by India's earlier lunar-orbiting missions. The Luna-25 objective is to scoop samples of moon rock and dust. The samples are crucial to understanding the moon's environment ahead of building any base there.

Though the mission has been 'work in progress' for years before Russia invaded Ukraine, the timing is significant and analysts say it is President Putin's move to reclaim Russia's great power status.

The Luna is to reach the moon and enter orbit on August 16, and then attempt to land on the surface as early as August 21. Meanwhile, India's Chandrayaan-3 is expected to reach a 100 km orbit around the Moon by August 16 after which the Propulsion Module will separate from the Lander for the latter's final landing approach in the days that follow. The primary objective of Chandrayaan-3 is to demonstrate a safe and soft landing on the lunar surface and to operate a rover for approximately one lunar day, or 14 Earth days.

Congratulations, Roscosmos on the successful launch of Luna-25. Wonderful to have another meeting point in our space journeys for both missions to achieve their goals. -BHO tweet

TACT UNDERSTANDING

Whether there was some kind of tacit understanding between India and Russia on the lunar 'race' is yet to be confirmed. Some analysts say the 'lunar rendezvous' a meticulously drawn script by President Putin and close friend PM Modi. President Putin is looking at the moon launch as a mature test of the country's ability to chart a new path. Moreover, it helps dispel the impression that Western sanctions and the war have starved the country of foreign capital and technology. "The Russian government is looking for any victory, not how much they don't care about sanctions," said Denis Shiryayev, a Russian blogger who writes about technology. The dividends for PM Modi in the run-up to the general elections would be huge - he can deftly hype the lunar landing as a springboard to India's ambition to colonise the space. "Seemingly, for the moment, it is just a muted space race between Russia and China, but when both the Russian and the Indian missions land on the moon's crust, it will emit a very different picture of two super-powers and the long-term between two allies - a message that both China and US need to take more seriously."

Doctors can now refuse treatment to abusive, violent patients: NMC

AGENCE ANS

Taking a major step toward curbing the ongoing intransigence of patients against doctors, the National Medical Commission (NMC) has issued a circular to all registered medical practitioners (RMP) in India. The circular, dated August 10, 2023, states that doctors can now refuse to treat abusive, violent and violent patients. The RMP who tends to the patient will be fully accountable for his/her actions and entitled to the appropriate fees in case of abusive and violent patients or relatives. The RMP can document and report the behavior and refuse to treat the patient. Such patients should be referred for further treatment elsewhere. The notification mentioned under the duties of RMPs to wards their patients said, "These new regulations will replace the Medical Council of India (MCI) Code of Medical Ethics 2002. This is for the first time when doctors will have the right of refusal of patient treatment to the unruly and violent patients. The move is aimed at discouraging violence against doctors."

RMP is free to choose whom he will serve, except in case of a life-threatening emergency. Having accepted a case, the RMP should neither neglect the patient nor withdraw from the case without giving adequate notice to the patient and his family. If a change of RMP is needed (for example, the patient needs a procedure done by another RMP), consent should be obtained from the patient himself or the guardian.

Judge denying stay to Rahul among 23 HC judges to be transferred

OUR BUREAU NEW DELHI

The Supreme Court collegium has recommended transfer of 23 judges of different high courts, including Gujarat High Court Justice Hemant M Prachhalkar who was dismissed on July 7 Congress leader Rahul Gandhi's plea seeking a stay on his conviction in a 2019 criminal defamation case over his 'Modi surname' remark.

The collegium, headed by Chief Justice of India (CJI) D Y Chandrachud and comprising Justices Sanjay Kishan Kaul, Sanjiv Khanna, B R Gavai and Surya Kant, in its meeting held on August 3 recommended transfer of nine judges of the Allahabad High Court.

According to a collegium resolution uploaded on the apex court website, out of these nine names, four were from the Gujarat High Court while four are from the Punjab and Haryana High Court. The other judge is from the Allahabad High Court.

The collegium has recommended transfer of Justice Prachhalkar from the Gujarat High Court to the Patna High Court, the resolution said.

While dismissing the plea, Justice Prachhalkar had noted that Gandhi was already facing 10 criminal cases across India, adding that the order of the lower court was 'just, proper and legal' in handing over to a two-year jail term to Gandhi for his remarks.

Later on August 4, the Supreme Court had stayed Gandhi's conviction in a 2019 defamation case over his Modi surname remark, paving the way for revival of his Lok Sabha membership.

According to the collegium resolution, the other judges of the Gujarat High Court - Justices Alpesh Y Kogte, Kumar Gita Gopi and Samir J Dave - have been recommended to be transferred to the high courts of Allahabad, Madras and Rajasthan respectively.
