Mamata calls BJP a party of Dussasanas

Saffron MP dubs TMC govt 'shikhandis'

AGENCIES
Ranaghat

West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee on Tuesday called BJP a "party of Dussasanas" while a saffron party MP dubbed the TMC govt as 'shikhandis', as they invoked the epic Mahabharata in the political fight over the amended citizenship law.

Alleging that the BJP was trying to forcibly implement the Citizenship Amendment Act (CAA), the National Register of Citizens (NRC) and the National Population Register (NPR), Banerjee said these steps are like "black magic" and she would stop this "anyhow".

"The NPR, NRC and CAA are like black magic", she said, and urged the people of the country to unite to save the nation.

"We(TMC) are not a party of Dussasanas like the BJP. They are the offsprings of Muhammad-bin-Tughlaq and people must unite to save the country from them," Banerjee said while speaking at a public rally at Ranaghat in Nadia district.

Dussasana is the brother of Kaurava prince Duryodhana in the 'Mahabharata' while Muhammad-bin-Tughlaq" was the Sultan of Delhi from 1325-1351 and known for his eccentric decisions.

Banerjee also wondered whether the Modi government would throw her out of the country because she do not have her mother's birth certificate.

The chief minister said despite her assurances over 30 people have so far died in the state because of the panic over the proposed implementation of the citizens register.

In the Lok Sabha, BJP MP Dilip Ghosh used 'Shikhandi' barb against the Trinamool Congress government in West Bengal, as he alleged lack of action against violent anti-CAA protesters in the state.

West Bengal suffered the worst during the anti-CAA protests as trains were burnt and rail tracks uprooted by protesters, the West Bengal BJP president said. "Unfortunately, these 'shikhandis' are in power there. The police did nothing. It did not use its baton nor did it file an FIR, let alone firing bullets. I opposed it. Now I am being defamed. I am a patriot," Ghosh said. Shikhandi was a transgender warrior in Mahabharata epic. He was used as a human shield to kill Bhishma in the battle.

A reference to his name is often made to take a swipe at others for showing cowardice.

Woman dragged out of UP court as cops watch on

AGENCIES
Pilibhit

A woman was dragged out of a court compound by her family members in the presence of policemen, prompting the local superintendent of police to order a probe.

The video of the purported incident which surfaced on social media shows two men forcibly making her sit on a motorcycle with the policemen in the compound remaining mute spectators even though a lawyer objected to it.

Police said the woman was living with her lover for the past a few days and had come to the court for some work on Tuesday morning.

Taking note of the video, SP Abhishek Dixit said, "An explanation has been sought from the policemen seen in the video and a probe has been ordered into the entire episode."

He said so far no complaint had been received in this connection.

Objectionable slogans raised near Jamia

NEW DELHI: A group of men gathered near the Jamia Millia Islamia University and raised slogans on Tuesday. Carrying national flags, the men were heard shouting "Jai Shri Ram" and "goli maro..." Hafeez Azmi, a Jamia student protesting against the Citizenship (Amendment) Act (CAA) at the university, said, "The group came walking from the Sukhdev Vihar side and shouting slogans. They deliberately stopped at the barricade near gate no. 1, where the main protest is going on."

Nirbhaya case: HC order on govt's plea today

AGENCIES
New Delhi

The Delhi High Court will on Wednesday pronounce order on the Centre's plea challenging stay on execution of four convicts in the Nirbhaya gang rape and murder case.

Justice Suresh Kumar Kait had on February 2 reserved order on the Centre's plea after holding special hearings on Saturday and Sunday.

The Centre and the Delhi government challenged the trial court's January 31 order staying "till further orders" the execution of all the four convicts in the case -- Mukesh Kumar Singh (32), Pawan Gupta (25), Vinay Kumar Sharma (26) and Akshay Kumar (31), who are lodged in Tihar Jail. Earlier in the day, the parents of the victim urged the court to expeditiously decide the Centre's plea and were assured by the judge that the order would be passed at the earliest.

The trial court on January 7, had issued black warrants for the execution of all the four convicts in Tihar jail at 7 AM on January 22. However, they could not be hanged due to pendency of mercy petition of one of them.

Later, on January 17, the trial court fixed February 1, 6 AM as the hanging date and time.

On January 31, the trial court again stayed the execution as the counsel for three convicts -- Pawan, Vinay and Akshay -- urged it to adjourn the matter "sine die" saying their legal remedies were yet to be exhausted.

While the mercy pleas of Mukesh and Vinay have been rejected by the President, Pawan has not yet filed it. Akshay's mercy plea was filed on February 1 and is pending.

The Centre and Delhi government approached the high court on February 1, challenging the trial court's order staying the execution.

Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, representing them, had contended that it was a deliberate and calculated design of the convicts to "frustrate mandate of law" by getting their execution delayed and they were not entitled to any more time.

India to get military commands in 3 yrs, biggest restructuring ever

NEW DELHI

In three years from now, India will begin operationalising

The exact number of these Theatre Commands which would, for the moment, be led by the Army, has still not been decided. In addition to Commands which cover the land frontier against Pakistan and China, India would also have a Peninsula Command under the Navy, an Air Defence Command and Space Command under the Indian Air Force and a multi-service Logistics Command. Each Theatre Command would have an integral Air Force element and depending on the nature of the requirement, additional aircraft could be deployed.

Significant cost cutting in each Command would be achieved through common stores management, shared bases, maintenance stocks and through the utilisation of similar weapons. "In co-located stations, there is tremendous scope for the management of resources," General Rawat said.

Chief of Defence Staff (CDS) General Bipin Rawat (L), with Army Chief General Manoj Mukund Naravane (C) and Navy Chief Admiral Karambir Singh during a meeting at South Block, in New Delhi on Tuesday

Military Commands which integrate the operations of the Army, Air Force and Navy, in the biggest restructuring in India's military history.

In a select briefing, his first since he took over as India's first Chief of Defence Staff, General Bipin Rawat said it was his goal to "develop the services as an armed force," integrating capabilities, logistics and manpower within the new Military Commands. The goal is to bring down expenses, rationalise manpower and ensure that the armed forces fight as a cohesive unit.

While the number of commands has not been finalised, the Chief of Defence Staff is looking at the creation at proposals which would result in the creation of a Western Theatre Command, a Northern Command which could cover Ladakh to the border with Nepal and a separate Theater command for Jammu and Kashmir. An Eastern Theatre Command would likely cover the border areas to the East of Nepal.

Where is 'sedition' accused?

SACHIN GAAD AND NARSI BENWAL
Mumbai

A day after sedition charges were slapped on Urvashi Chudawala, a Tata Institute of Social Sciences student, and 50 others for purportedly raising slogans at Azad Maidan in support of Sharjeel Imam, the Mumbai Police said Chudawala was untraceable.

(Imam is a scholar of Jawaharlal Nehru University, who was picked from Bihar recently and booked for sedition. He had allegedly made remarks about how Muslims in could choke the Chicken Neck area in North East to snap the link between Assam and India.)

On Tuesday, a police team went to Urvashi's residence in Thane, where her mother Rina said her daughter was not at home. Rina was summoned to the Azad Maidan police station, where her statement was recorded. According to the police, Rina said she was not aware of her daughter's whereabouts, and that in her last conversation on the phone, all Chudawala told her was that she was safe.

Leaving the police station after her statement was recorded, Rina told reporters, "I am not in contact with her (Urvashi) since yesterday, and we are also looking for her. She is not at fault and I will ask her to cooperate."

Asked why her daughter may have raised the slogans, Rina said, "Someone could have tutored her".

Legal experts The Free Press Journal spoke with, however, felt that the sedition charges were unwarranted and would not hold up in court. "The students have only raised slogans in support of Sharjeel Imam and not against the government. In fact, there is a judgment of the apex court wherein it has held that only raising slogans cannot constitute sedition unless there is an implicit threat of violence. This section is being invoked and grossly misused against every person who holds an opinion against CAA etc," said senior counsel Aspi Chinoy.

Similarly, advocate Dr Sujoy Kantawala opined that merely raising slogans would not constitute valid grounds to prosecute the students for sedition. "I do not think that sedition is made out. For charges of sedition, there must be some positive act and proof as this is a serious charge. There must be some tangible evidence like planning, execution conspiracy etc. For instance, the students have not specified which dreams (of Sharjeel) they are supporting."

The police, meanwhile, said they had formed several teams to trace Chudawala, whose social media accounts were also found to have been deactivated. The police said they were aware of two mobiles numbers Chudawala has been using, but she did not answer calls placed to both numbers.

On Monday, the Mumbai Police registered a case against Chudawala and "50 others" under the relevant IPC sections dealing with the charge of sedition - imputations, assertions prejudicial to national integrity - and statement conducive to public mischief and acts done by several persons in furtherance of common intention.

The accused were among hundreds who took part in a rally, the Queer Azadi Mumbai (QAM) march, organised by various LGBT groups led by Humsafar Trust on February 1 at Azad Maidan.

The offence was registered after a video recorded at the event went viral in which Chudawala could be heard saying, "Sharjeel tere sapno ko, hum manzil tak pahuchaege (Sharjeel, We will realise your dreams)". In the short video clip, some could be seen holding Imam's picture.

Chudawala, a second-year student of TISS, is pursuing MA in media and culture, and she is also associated with TISS Queer Collective.

Rename schemes to shut down India, sit down India, shut up India: Tharoor

AGENCIES
New Delhi

Congress leader Shashi Tharoor on Tuesday attacked the government in Lok Sabha for "partition of India's soul" in 2020 and slammed its "failures" on various fronts, saying it should name its schemes "sit-down" "shut-down" and "shut-up India".

Alleging a fundamental assault on democratic and secular structure of the country, he claimed that the government was dividing the country into "Hindus Vs Muslims", "us Vs they", "Ramzade Vs I won't say". The present dispensation was abrogating its moral responsibility of dealing with the "constitutional and political crisis" facing the country, Tharoor said while participating in the debate on the Motion of Thanks to the President's address. Wondering who actually was the 'tukde tukde gang', the Thiruvananthapuram MP said in 1947 India witnessed partition of its soil and in 2020, the government is giving "partition of India's soul".

Taking a swipe, he said government schemes should really be named as "sit-down India, shutdown India and shut-up India" "Lip service" was paid to Skill India, Digital India and Startup India and no mention was made of Standup India as "you are so busy banning stand-up comedians", he said referring to the airline ban on stand-up comedian Kunal Kamra. It was up to the people to decide whether the "new India" should be for all or for some. He also said that that the people will have to decide that the new India should stand for unity or be divided by hatred. He alleged that the government has criticised institutions such as the CAG and

Unnecessary delay in deciding TN MLAs disqualification: SC

NEW DELHI

Citing inaction and unnecessary delay, the Supreme Court on Tuesday asked the Tamil Nadu Advocate General to tell it, by February 14, when will the Assembly Speaker decide on disqualification petitions filed in March 2017 against Deputy Chief Minister O Panneerselvam and 10 other MLAs for defying the whip and voting against the EK Palaniswami government in the February trust vote.

A bench, headed by Chief Justice SA Bobde and comprising Justices BR Gavai and Surya Kant queried the state's top law officer to tell when the Assembly Speaker will take a call on the matter. "Tell us what you propose to do," the bench asked Advocate General Vijay Narayan, representing the Assembly Secretary. The bench added that the Speaker should have decided the matter. "Notice should have been issued. There is no reason for not to decide it. It is inaction. Delay is unnecessary..." said the Chief Justice citing the three-year delay on the process on the disqualification pleas. "There is a judgment by this court now, which says the Speaker should decide within three months... But apart from this judgment, the Speaker cannot hold on to disqualification proceedings as long as three years," he added.

Bullet Train is 'white elephant', needs rethink: Thackeray

AGENCIES
Mumbai

Targeting Prime Minister Narendra Modi again, Maharashtra Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray on Tuesday called for a rethink on the upcoming Bullet Train project between Ahmedabad-Mumbai, terming it as a "white elephant".

The Rs 100,000-crore plus project is considered a dream project of Modi, which was put under a 'review' weeks after the Maha Vikas Aghadi government came to power on November 28, 2019, amid strong criticism from opposition Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP).

"We need to prioritise the developmental works needed in the state. We have to consider the financial implications before implementing such huge projects," Thackeray said. His comments came in the second-part of his ongoing interview after taking over as CM, with the Shiv Sena-run newspapers, 'Saamana' and 'Dopahar Ka Saamana' Executive Editor and MP Sanjay Raut.

The National High Speed Rail Corporation Ltd is executing the mega-project through a soft loan from Japan.

"Just because someone gives us an interest-free loan or with minimal interest, it does not mean that we just take it, snatch lands from our farmers for the project. After all this is like a white elephant which we don't need at all," Thackeray declared.

Calling for a rethink, the CM said the 508-km-long project must be discussed threadbare across the table before deciding to go ahead with it considering the financials involved.

"We need to find out who will really benefit from the Bullet Train project? How many businesses or industries really stand to gain from it. Please explain, then we will go before the public and then decide what needs to be done," Thackeray said.

On how it is said to be the PM's 'dream project', Thackeray said: "It may be a dream project, it is not our dream. But once you wake up, the reality is right before you. That reality is not the dream."

The Bullet Train will have 13 stations en route including Bandra Kurla Complex, Thane, Virar, Boisar (in Maharashtra), Vapi, Billimora, Surat, Bharuch, Vadodara, Anand, Ahmedabad and Sabarmati (in Gujarat).

It will run 350.53 km in Gujarat, 2 km in Union Territory of Dadra & Nagar Haveli, and the remaining 155.65 km in Maharashtra, passing through Palghar, Thane and Mumbai.
