DSI® Certifies Blue Star Infotech for Enterprise Mobility Implementation Services

Blue Star Infotech achieves certification for DSI's mobile enterprise platform as part of the DSI Select Services Partner Program

Mumbai, India – April 16, 2013 –DSI, a global leader in enterprise mobility, announced today that Blue Star Infotech Limited (BSIL) has achieved Platform Certification for the DSI Mobile Enterprise Platform as part of the DSI Select Services Partner (DSSP) program.

Headquartered in Mumbai, India, BSIL is the latest DSSP participant to qualify for Platform Certification. As a member of the DSSP program—a global network of business partners that specialize in implementing DSI's solutions—BSIL provides expert, regional support resources to help DSI manage the rising number of enterprise mobility projects worldwide.

"BSIL enhances our capacity to provide superior, responsive service to our customers throughout India, Singapore and other markets throughout the world," said Latecia Mills, Vice President of Global Services, DSI. "Their commitment to ongoing education, quality work and seamless integration with DSI's Global Services team helps both organizations ensure a consistent and successful implementation experience."

To qualify for DSI Platform Certification status, BSIL's consultants fulfilled rigorous certification requirements, including participation in multiple week-long training sessions and successfully completing numerous DSI-supervised implementation assignments.

BSIL now has increased access to DSI's implementation support materials, as well as expanded support from DSI's Global Support Center and the DSI Enablement Team. This increased integration into DSI's implementation and support organizations ensure that BSIL is up to date on the latest DSI software features, functions, tips and techniques which, in turn, means a superior service experience for customers.

"This achievement highlights our dedication to addressing the rising demand for mobile technology in our markets worldwide," said Santanu Banerjee, Vice President, Global Head Sales - PES & Emerging Business for Blue Star Infotech. "With our business know-how and DSI's innovative technology, we are able to provide our clients an end-to-end mobile solution that allows them to rapidly optimize their business processes and gain advantages over competitors."

BSIL is part of a growing community of DSI Business Partners located around the world with the expertise to provide DSI's enterprise Mobility Solutions to their clients.
