MAMATA ON 12-KM YATRA IN SOUTH KOLKATA AS CAMPAIGNING ENDS

Bengal roadshows like teerth yatra, says PM

ATRI MITRA & TANUSREE BOSE
Kolkata, April 27

CAMPAIGNING IN THE second and final phase of the West Bengal Assembly polls concluded on Monday after a fierce political battle dominated by exchanges over SIR, undocumented immigration, corruption, and unemployment.

From Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Union Home Minister Amit Shah to West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee, top leaders made their last-minute appeals and held roadshows even as a couple of incidents of pre-poll violence saw the convoy of a Trinamool Congress (TMC) come under attack and a CISF jawan get shot in the leg. At a roadshow in Kolkata later in the day, Shah announced that central forces would remain in the state for 60 days after the elections.

In the BJP camp, the day started with PM Modi addressing a public meeting in Jagatdal in North 24 Parganas district's Barrackpore area. "This is my last public meeting for this election. Given what I felt wherever I went in Bengal, I can say that after the May 4 results, I will now return for the (BJP government's) oath-taking ceremony," the PM said.

The poll roadshows, the PM said, were a "teerth yatra (pilgrimage)" for him and that he felt spiritually strengthened after these interactions. "These roadshows were not a political event for me, they were like a teerth yatra. I would often visit devotees of the Goddess Kali, and perhaps that is why I felt constantly energised. It's natural that one gets tired; there used to be tiredness 30-40 years ago. But this election is different. Even in such hot weather and after so many rallies, you do not feel tired at all," he said.

Modi said serving West Bengal and making it safer were his responsibilities. "This election in West Bengal is meant to change the fate of the entire eastern region of the country. In the past, the country had three strong pillars: Anga (Bihar), Banga (Bengal), and Kalinga (Odisha). When these three weakened, the country also suffered. Today, as India develops towards Viksit Bharat, it is important that Anga, Banga, and Kalinga become strong."

"Since 2013, before becoming the PM, I have said the country will move forward only when its east develops and rises. There are BJP governments in Bihar and Odisha. Now it is time for West Bengal. We promise to develop West Bengal and solve the issues of the refugees. The BJP government will fulfil the promise of Dr Syama Prasad Mookerjee," he said.

Banerjee, meanwhile, held a padayatra in south Kolkata from Jadavpur to her constituency Bhabanipur, covering a distance of more than 12 km. The TMC chief was accompanied by party Rajya Sabha MP Sagarika Ghose and candidates Aroop Biswas and Debasish Kumar from Tollygunge and Rashbehari, respectively. People lined up along the yatra route, waving at the CM, who greeted them with folded hands and walked briskly.

There were reports of violence in Bhatpara, where a CISF jawan part of the security detail of BJP candidate Pawan Singh was shot in the leg in an incident that occurred late Sunday night. Pawan Singh is the son of senior BJP leader Arjun Singh. The EC has sought a report on the incident, while the police said it had yet to be ascertained who fired the shot. The police said there was tension in the Jagaddal area since Sunday evening after a TMC worker was allegedly assaulted by a group of men while he was putting up party flags and banners.

On Monday, TMC Arambagh MP Mitali Bag's convoy came under attack in Hooghly district's Goghat area while she was on her way to the rally of party general secretary Abhishek Banerjee. While the EC sought a report on the matter, the BJP dismissed the TMC's allegation that its workers were behind the attack.

POLL POSITION

Calcutta HC: No 'biking in groups'

ADIVISION BENCH of the Calcutta High Court on Monday modified a single bench order on motorcycle riding on a challenge of the Election Commission-imposed restrictions on it to ensure free and fair polls. The division bench presided by Justice Shampa Sarkar tweaked the earlier order to the extent of inserting "biking in groups" into the April 20 order of Justice Krishna Rao. The division bench directed that no motorbike rally or biking in groups will be allowed from two days prior to the polling day and on the polling day on April 29. —PTI

Shah offers prayers at Gangasagar

AFTER A HECTIC election campaign in West Bengal, Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Monday visited Gangasagar, located at the sacred confluence of Hooghly River and the Bay of Bengal, and offered prayers for the bravehearts of the Indian Army. "I paid my respects to our brave soldiers who made the supreme sacrifice for the nation. Every Indian is proud of the courage of our security forces who lay down their lives for the country despite unimaginable challenges," he said at Gangasagar in South 24 Parganas. —PTI

Govt wants critical sector firms to use India-made cloud systems

SOUAMYARENDRA BARIK
New Delhi, April 27

CUTTING DEPENDENCE

AMID RISING GEOPOLITICAL and cybersecurity concerns, the government may require companies in critical sectors such as energy, telecom, and banking, to use made-in-India sovereign cloud systems, it has been learnt.

According to government officials, the move under discussion is aimed at reducing dependence on foreign cloud providers and strengthening data security. The government may be comfortable with tighter control over sensitive data and digital infrastructure, they said.

The consideration was prompted last year, when Microsoft suddenly blocked oil refiner Nayara Energy from its IT services. This prompted questions in New Delhi's policy circles around the dependence on Indian companies have on crucial digital infrastructure services offered by foreign companies, and the need for them to build resilience against potential disruptions in the future.

Cloud systems are on-demand, internet-based services that deliver computing resources—such as servers, data storage, databases, and soft-

■ Govt concern was triggered by Microsoft blocking Nayara Energy from its IT services

■ India doesn't yet have cloud providers that match scale, reliability and ecosystem of global giants

■ Firms such as Amazon, Microsoft & Google offer massive global infra, advanced AI & analytics tools ware—hosted in remote data centres rather than on local hardware. Instead of purchasing and maintaining expensive in-house IT infrastructure, businesses rent these resources.

Big businesses need cloud systems primarily for scalability and cost efficiency, allowing them to instantly scale IT infrastructure up or down to meet fluctuating demand without heavy capital investment.

"The Nayara block was a wake-up call. A big concern was that a foreign company could just cut off access to one of our companies' core digital infrastructure, and bring their operations to a grinding halt. We do not like that level of dependency on a foreign company," a senior government official said, requesting anonymity.

"So, we are discussing that companies in critical sectors should only host their digital infrastructure on a sovereign cloud. That way, we could ensure there are no sudden disruptions and to insure against geopolitical risks," the official said.

But this concern cannot overlook the fact that Indian-made products are not at the same level as their foreign counterparts yet. "The problem we are running into, and this has come up in discussions with the industry, is that we currently do not have good enough domestic cloud systems that can rival those from the US, so it is natural that companies are going for the more superior option. There has to be a push to produce such systems in India," the official said.

Queries sent to the IT ministry and Nayara Energy remained unanswered.

In July 2025, the European Union announced that it was sanctioning Nayara Energy, in which Russian oil giant Rosneft holds 49.13%, as part of its actions to force the Kremlin's hand to end the war in Ukraine.

Just days after, Microsoft suspended its tech support to the company in response to the sanctions, affecting Nayara's employees' Outlook and Teams accounts. This meant that Microsoft blocked Nayara Energy's access to its own data, proprietary tools, and products—despite these being acquired under fully paid-up licenses. Soon after, Nayara Energy sued Microsoft in the Delhi High Court, following which it restored services to the oil refiner.
