BuzzWorks Partners with Born Good to Integrate High-Performance, Plant-Based Cleaning Solutions Across its Managed Workspaces

Bengaluru, January 8, 2026: BuzzWorks, the managed office space vertical of Brigade Group, has announced a strategic partnership with Born Good, a leading high-performance, plant-based cleaning solutions brand to enhance its toxin-free and ESG focused facility management. The partnership comes at a time when sustainability and employee wellness have become core decision drivers for global corporations.

Commenting on the partnership, Siddharth Verma, Business Head, BuzzWorks India, said, “At BuzzWorks, sustainability is not a standalone initiative but a core operational principle. Partnering with Born Good allows us to integrate safer, high-performance, and more ESG-aligned cleaning solutions into our workspaces, reinforcing our commitment to long-term wellbeing for both people and the environment.”

Born Good specializes in creating professional-grade cleaning products that prove powerful results do not require the use of harsh, toxic chemicals. Unlike conventional industrial cleaners that often contain ingredients linked to respiratory issues and skin irritation, Born Good’s formulations are USDA Certified BioPreferred and independently lab-tested for biodegradability and safety.

Mohit Belani, Founder & CEO, Born Good said, “Great workspaces deserve great care. We're excited to work with BuzzWorks to prove that high-performance cleaning doesn't require harsh chemicals. Together, we're setting a new standard for what clean, safe, and comfortable workspaces should feel like.”

Through this collaboration, BuzzWorks is reinforcing its position as a forward-thinking managed office provider by adopting a comprehensive facility management range that covers surface care, specialty maintenance, and wellness solutions. This initiative aligns with global ESG standards and highlights the role of everyday operational choices in reducing the overall carbon footprint of a corporate campus.

About BuzzWorks: Brigade Group entered the flexible office space segment with the launch of BuzzWorks in 2019. The brand offers managed, customisable workspaces through two key formats: Built-to-Suit solutions for enterprises with specific design and operational needs, and Ready-to-Occupy offices for businesses seeking high-quality, immediately functional spaces. BuzzWorks primarily caters to large enterprises and growth-focused companies. Managed offices are increasingly seen as enablers of productivity, culture, and scale in today’s dynamic business landscape. With a sharp focus on experience, flexibility and scalability, the brand goes beyond workspaces; curating events, activations, and collaborative touchpoints that foster meaningful connections and enable professional and cultural exchange among its members.
