Price reset, demand pulse drove cement’s strong Q2

Low base, premium mix and new capacity supported gains

PRACHI PISAL
Mumbai, 20 November

India’s top cement producers delivered a solid July-September quarter (Q2) in 2025-26 (FY26), lifted by firmer prices, higher sales volumes, and a favourable base. Seasonal weakness and maintenance outages did dent sequential performance, but the overall picture remained positive — and the road ahead looks steady.

“Realisations improved by ₹250-300 per tonne year-on-year (Y-o-Y), driven mainly by better cement prices, which helped companies lift their earnings before interest, tax, depreciation, and amortisation (Ebitda) per tonne compared to last year,” said Vijay Agrawal, managing director and sector lead-infrastructure at Equirus Capital.

Average all-India cement prices hovered at ₹355-365 per bag in Q2FY26, up from ₹330-335 in Q2 of 2024-25 (FY25). Last year’s demand was hit by lower government capital expenditure (capex), the general election, and weather disruptions, observed Akshay Shetty, research analyst at Mirae Asset Sharekhan.

Centrum Broking said management commentaries after results pointed to 4-5 per cent Y-o-Y demand growth in Q2 FY26 despite weather-related interruptions. Stronger rural activity and ongoing construction kept consumption buoyant. Industry-wide Ebitda per tonne rose to ₹932, a 41 per cent jump Y-o-Y.

JM Financial reported that industry volumes (like-for-like) grew 7 per cent Y-o-Y in Q2FY26. Adjusted for acquisitions, consolidated volumes at UltraTech Cement and Ambuja Cements also rose 7 per cent. JK Cement saw a 15.1 per cent increase, driven by capacity ramp-up and better utilisation.

Report card

Q2FY26 volume trends

Company	Volume (mt)	% chg (Y-o-Y)	Share price (₹)*	Target price (₹)
UltraTech Cement	33.9	15.3	11,755	13,824
Ambuja Cements	16.9	18.3	556	665
Shree Cement	7.9	4.2	26,475	30,540
JK Cement	4.9	15.1	5,630	6,616
Dalmia Bharat	6.9	2.8	2,013	2,386

*As on Nov 20, 25; mt: Million tonnes; Sources: Companies, JM Financial, Bloomberg

“The aggregate reported Ebitda of our coverage universe (about 75 per cent of industry capacity) rose 53 per cent Y-o-Y, largely on improved pricing,” JM Financial said.

The Y-o-Y gains were aided by a low base, new capacities (organic and inorganic), better utilisation, and a richer product mix with higher premium cement sales.

Sequentially, though, performance softened. The monsoon brought the usual demand dip, while an early festival season skewed buying patterns. The goods and services tax (GST) rate cut triggered transitional disruptions. Realisations and Ebitda weakened sequentially due to operating deleverage. JM Financial estimated that Ebitda for its coverage universe fell 24 per cent quarter-on-quarter (Q-o-Q) to ₹7,900 crore, mainly because of lower blended realisations. Blended Ebitda per tonne dipped 18 per cent to ₹952.

Industry-wide, realisation per tonne edged down 1 per cent Q-o-Q, and volumes fell around 8 per cent. Pan-Indian cement prices slipped 2.5 per cent, weighed down by seasonality and sharper declines in late September following the GST rate cut, said Sehul Bhatt, director, Crisil Intelligence.

On costs, BOB Capital Markets noted that aggregate cost per tonne rose about 2 per cent Y-o-Y in Q2FY26. Efficiency gains and a better fuel mix were offset by higher logistics and maintenance expenses. Petcoke prices climbed Y-o-Y, while monsoon-hit logistics and planned kiln shutdowns pushed costs up about 5 per cent Q-o-Q.

Agrawal added that the industry has finally posted more than 5 per cent organic Y-o-Y growth after nearly six quarters, improving capacity utilisation. A gradual revival in infrastructure demand — after a pronounced election-led slowdown — supported the pickup. With this, companies pushed through price hikes of ₹250-300 per tonne across regions, which should bolster Ebitda per tonne in the coming quarters.

Analysts expect the second half to remain strong, helped by post-monsoon recovery, steady private and public capex, and normalising construction activity. The GST rate cut should aid low- to mid-income housing demand, supporting long-term growth. Rural demand is also expected to stay firm.

October was soft due to festivals, extended monsoons, labour shortages, and restricted construction activity, but demand is expected to rebound in November and beyond. In the third quarter of FY26 so far (until November 17), pan-Indian cement prices are up 1 per cent Y-o-Y, according to JM Financial.

SUPER TOPUPS IN HEALTH INSURANCE

Match deductible with the base policy sum insured

SANJEEV SINHA

With health insurance premiums rising sharply, the government is in talks with various stakeholders on ways to curb the surge, according to news reports. Policy changes may take time, but customers need immediate strategies to manage rising costs. One widely recommended approach is combining a base health policy with a super top-up.

Super topup vs topup

Rising medical costs require stronger financial protection. “Top-up and super top-up plans offer the additional safeguards many customers seek,” says Bhaskar Nerurkar, head -health administration team, Bajaj General Insurance (formerly known as Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Company). A super top-up covers cumulative medical expenses across multiple claims in a policy year. “A top-up plan provides coverage only when a single claim crosses the threshold limit. Multiple claims that individually fall below the limit do not trigger the cover,” says Siddharth Singhal, head of health insurance, Policybazaar. For instance, with a deductible of ₹10 lakh and four claims of ₹5 lakh each (totalling ₹20 lakh), a standard top-up pays nothing, while a super top-up covers the remaining ₹10 lakh once total expenses cross the deductible.

Cost advantage

A super top-up provides large coverage at a lower cost. For example, instead of paying ₹20,000-40,000 annually for a ₹1 crore cover, a ₹20 lakh base plan plus an ₹80 lakh super top-up would cost ₹12,000-15,000. “This structure remains far more cost-efficient while providing large coverage,” says Nerurkar. Super top-ups usually offer cashless at network hospitals. “If you choose a non-network hospital, you may need to go for reimbursement, which involves paperwork and waiting time,” says Nerurkar.

What to check before buying

The sum insured should be adequate. “Pick a sum insured that realistically covers major hospitalisation costs in your city. Check for network hospitals nearby,” says Sanjiv Bajaj, joint chairman and managing director, Bajaj Capital.

“Ensure there are no room rent restrictions. Coverage should allow access to preferred hospitals. Check waiting period for pre-existing diseases (PED),” says Shilpa Arora, cofounder and chief operating officer, Insurance Samadhan. Review exclusions, copayments, day-care cover, pre- and post-hospitalisation cover, and ambulance support.

“Look for useful features such as reinstatement benefits, no-claim bonuses, and minimal sub-limits,” says Adhil Shetty, chief executive officer, BankBazaar.com. Also, ensure the plan offers lifetime renewability.

Same insurer offers convenience

Buying super top-up from the same insurer (as the base policy) simplifies claims and reduces paperwork. “Choosing a different insurer can give better premiums or fewer limits, though claims may involve more coordination. Pick the same insurer for convenience; explore others if cost and coverage are your priority,” says Shetty.

“When base and super top-up are from different insurers, the second insurer may insist on reimbursement,” says Arora.

Claims: Dos and don’ts

Customers should track when the deductible is crossed and retain all bills. “Inform both insurers at the time of admission if your base and super top-up plans are from different firms. Submit all documents, including reports and discharge summaries, in one complete set to speed up approval,” says Bajaj.

Common mistakes

The biggest one is choosing the wrong deductible. “It should ideally match your base sum insured, or you may end up paying more out of pocket,” says Bajaj.

Other errors include ignoring higher city-wise medical costs and failing to check if modern procedures are covered.

“Always disclose your medical history to prevent claim issues, and don’t buy the plan just for tax benefits,” says Shetty.

Inheritance guide: What heirs must know about claiming money, assets

When a family member passes away, the question of how to access their financial assets often arises. From property and deposits to insurance and investments, each requires a different process. Understanding these steps can save heirs from unnecessary legal hurdles.

Basic documents needed

- The death certificate is the cornerstone of all claims. The next step is to check if the deceased has left behind a will.
- If there is a will, the person named as executor must get a probate from a court to validate it.
- In the absence of a will, heirs will have to apply for a succession certificate or a letter of administration.

Accessing money in banks, FDs and PPF

- If the deceased had a joint account or had a nominee, the process is simple.
- If there is no nominee, bank will release the funds only after verifying the heir’s rights. For Public Provident Fund accounts, the nominee can approach the institution.

For bank lockers

- In the case of a bank locker, the bank will need the death certificate, and KYC of the claimant.

Transferring property

- For real estate, ownership can be transferred once legal formalities are complete. Experts advise individuals to regularly update nominations and draft a valid will to ensure their assets reach the intended beneficiaries without delay or dispute.
