Wipro Statement

Bangalore, India– December 04, 2013: Wipro Ltd. (NYSE:WIT), a leading global Information Technology, Consulting and Outsourcing company today announced that after evaluating the changing market scenario and customer needs, it has decided to strengthen its position as a System Integrator and increase its focus on IT Solutions and Services. As a consequence, the company will discontinue manufacturing of Wipro branded desktops, laptops and servers.

Wipro will, however, be present in the PC market by providing suitable brands as a part of its solution offerings in large integrated deals.

Soumitro Ghosh, Sr. Vice President and Head, Wipro Infotech said, "Our vision is to strengthen our position as a leading System Integrator. Manufacturing our own PCs was not giving us a competitive differentiation in our System Integration solution offering."

Wipro will fulfill its warranty and AMC obligations as per the terms of the existing contracts. The company will execute all customer commitments and provide support services to the entire installed base as part of its regular managed services offering.

All affected employees will be redeployed in the company.
