Coforge Positioned as a Leader Across Six Segments in NelsonHall's 2026 NEAT for AI-Enabled Cloud Infrastructure Management Services

Princeton, NJ, USA | Greater Noida, India | September 17, 2026 – Coforge Limited (NSE: COFORGE), a global AI-native engineering services leader, announced that it has been named a "Leader" in six evaluation segments within NelsonHall's 2026 Vendor Evaluation & Assessment Tool (NEAT) for AI-Enabled Cloud Infrastructure Management Services.

The report evaluated 19 global systems integrators to assess their AI-based cloud infrastructure management capabilities. The findings positioned Coforge as a Leader across multiple categories, including Amazon Web Services (AWS), Microsoft Azure, Google Cloud Platform (GCP), Cloud Management and Orchestration Services, Overall Cloud Infrastructure Management Services, and AI Capabilities.

The NelsonHall report analyzes the performance of vendors offering AI-enabled cloud infrastructure management services, allowing strategic sourcing managers to assess their capability across a range of criteria and business situations and identify the best performing vendors.

John Laherty, IT Services Research Director at NelsonHall, said "Coforge is investing in its EvolveOps.AI platform to support hybrid cloud services and enable clients to build, operate, analyze, and autonomously manage their hybrid cloud estates. It has further integrated GenAI and agentic AI capabilities into each layer of the operating model across cloud services. This is integrated with its agentic framework, which powers all Coforge solutions, including agentic-AI-powered operations and assistants, an AI agent factory, and AI-powered FinOps."

"We are honored to be recognized as a 'Leader' in cloud infrastructure management services by NelsonHall," said Ashish Kumar, Senior Vice President and Cloud Business Unit Head, Coforge. "This recognition reflects the strength of our cloud engineering capabilities, deep hyperscaler partnerships, and our ability to deliver complex cloud transformations at scale. We have invested heavily in building AI-powered operational platforms such as EvolveOps.AI that enable autonomous, self-healing cloud operations that deliver real business outcomes."

Coforge's cloud services portfolio combines advisory, migration, modernization, platform engineering, site reliability engineering, cloud operations, AI infrastructure services, and ServiceNow-led transformation capabilities. The company provides cloud services to more than 200 customers globally, leveraging agentic platforms and automation frameworks that improve resilience, efficiency, and performance across complex hybrid cloud environments.
