TGBS Semester III Orientation Program begins by transforming “Aspirations into Reality”

Thakur Global Business School (TGBS) conducted a two-day Orientation Program for Semester III students (Batch 2025–27) on 21st and 22nd July 2026 under the theme “From Aspirations to Reality.” Organized for students returning from their Summer Internship Program (SIP), the initiative aimed to bridge corporate exposure with academic learning and placement preparation. The theme reflected the journey of transforming aspirations into achievements through continuous learning, industry exposure, and professional development.

The program commenced with an address by Dr. Shuchi Gautam, Director, TGBS, who encouraged students to build on their internship experiences for academic and professional growth. This was followed by the HOI address and Subject Orientation, where faculty members outlined the Semester III curriculum and academic expectations.

An engaging Placement Session was led by Mr. Rahul Mehta, Placement Head, TGBS, covering the placement process, recruiter expectations, and career planning. Students also participated in an Industry Preparedness Session, followed by Group Discussion rounds and Mock Interviews, providing hands-on exposure to the campus recruitment process and valuable feedback on their performance.

The programme concluded by motivating students to strengthen their professional competencies and prepare confidently for the upcoming placement season.

TGBS Guest Session Highlights Careers in Wealth Management

Thakur Global Business School (TGBS) hosted Mr. Nikunj Sharma, Director, Centre for Investment Education and Learning (CIEL), for a session on “Career Opportunities in Wealth Management and Investment Advisory.”

Mr. Sharma explained that wealth management begins with understanding money and helping people use it wisely. He noted that individuals earn and save but do not know how to manage or grow their wealth. As India moves up the income pyramid, rising disposable incomes are expected to increase investment participation and create demand for wealth managers and investment advisers.

He added that succeeding in this field requires financial knowledge and the ability to understand and communicate with clients. According to him, sales is 85 per cent psychological and 15 per cent technical, and should be viewed as helping people rather than selling products. He advised students to keep ego aside, handle rejection positively and step beyond fear.

Mr. Sharma noted that the best fund managers combine expertise with communication and presentation skills. Encouraging students to approach careers with courage, he said success demands risk, grit, determination and hard work. He concluded by urging them not to judge others and to ensure that every resumé claim reflects their character.
