Diversification & Expansion initiatives through CAPEX and M&A

Diversification & Expansions

Craftsman has diversified its Revenue profile in last ~3 years through Capex/M&A..

Aggressive Capex Expansions were necessary...

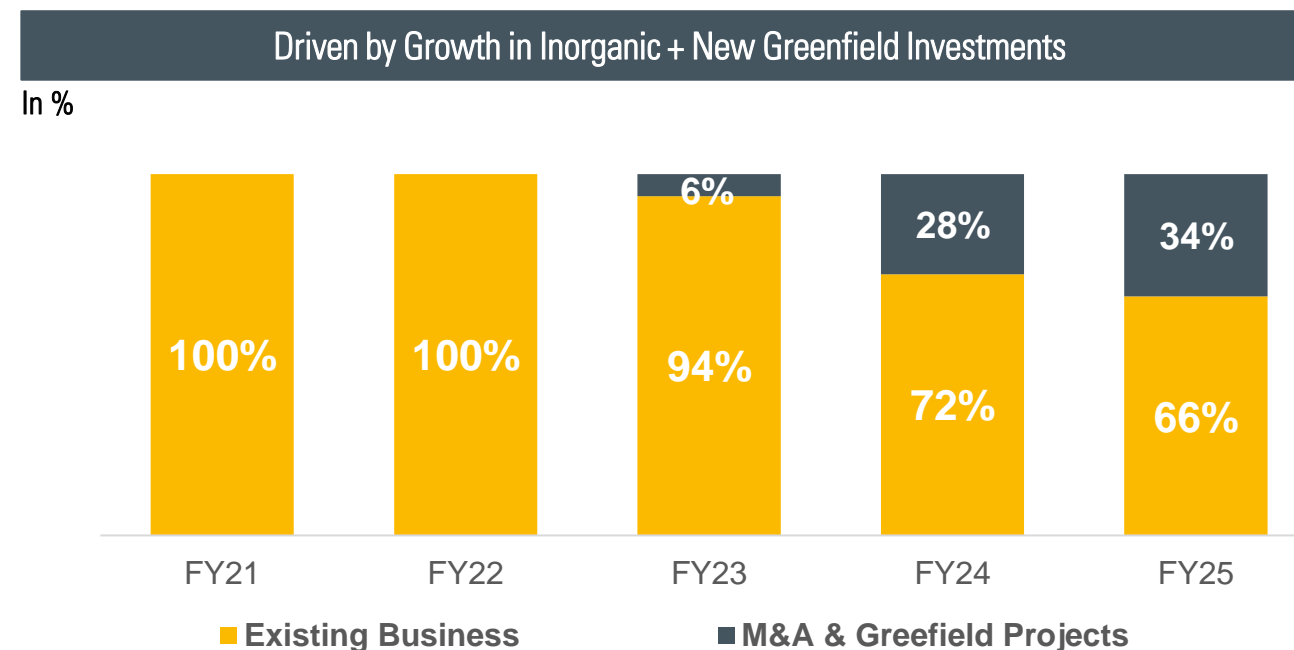

..to diversify the Revenue profile of the company

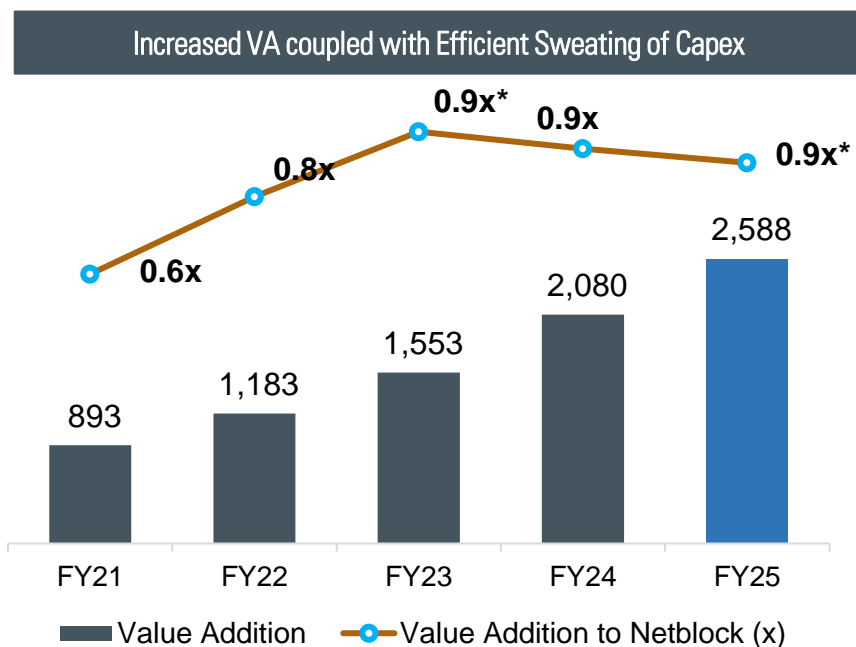

Recent Capex and M&A initiatives have diversified the business:

1. The Aluminium segment now contributes over 50% of revenues, up from ~20% 4 years ago, driven by the growing demand for light weighting and electrification.
2. Additionally, investments in the Fronberg and Kothavadi plants have enabled a foray into the iron castings segment for stationary engines, a high-growth segment fueled by the rapid adoption of stationary engines in data centers application due to usage of AI.

Translating into Revenue Growth by Diversification & Expansion

... Whilst maintaining solid Value addition & Profitability numbers

3.5x Growth in Revenues from FY21-FY25 Driven by:

- ❖ Acquisition of DRA India and Sunbeam to foray into aluminum components for PV & EV and expand presence in North India.
- ❖ Acquisition of Froberg to foray into iron castings for stationary engines.
- ❖ Growth across standalone powertrain, Aluminium, and industrial & engineering segments due to growth in overall 2W, PV, CV, and the automotive industry.

Note: *FY25 Annualized for impact of acquisitions

Aluminium Industry Market Share

Aluminium Castings: India is still scratching the surface and has a long way to go..

Aluminium Die-casting is a $3bn (~25,000 Cr) High growth Market in India

India's aluminium castings capacity is sub-scale to global peers

Growth Drivers

- Transition to EVs requiring advanced lightweighting materials
- Regulations on vehicle emissions and fuel efficiency
- Increase in Aluminium content per vehicle
- Other growing Industrial applications like Industrial, Engineering, Aerospace, Defense and Electronics requiring Castings.

Craftsman has aggressively scaled its aluminium castings capacity from ~30,000 TPA 5 years ago to 100,000+ TPA today, seizing this growth opportunity. There is still significant room for further expansion, positioning the company to compete on a truly global level.

Cast Iron Foundry for Large Engines

Iron Castings for Gen-sets is a large market, an exclusive supplier club with high-entry barrier

Iron Castings for Stationary Gen-sets is a USD ~4bn global opportunity

Gen-sets/Power Systems Market (USD bn)

Key Sectors Driving the Growth

Data Centres	Fast Growing	Rising Demand for AI and Cloud Computing
GCC	Fast Growing	Capability centres needing robust power backups
Oil & Gas/Mining	Moderate Growth	Remote locations needing demand for generators
Telecom	Moderate Growth	Expansion of telecom networks in developing regions needing power backup
Healthcare & Commercial	Moderate Growth	Hospitals, Malls, Educational Institutes investing in Power generators

Highly Concentrated OEM market...

And An Exclusive Club of Engine Suppliers catering to them

Craftsman through the acquisition of Fronberg has entered this "exclusive" supplier club to serve a high-growth segment

Risk mitigants through Diversifications and Expansions

- Craftsman's overall product portfolio across cast-iron and aluminium expands considerably. Positions itself well in the road to become a leading cast-iron and aluminum machined products player on a global scale.

- Along with the earlier DR Axion acquisition, Craftsman through Fronberg and Sunbeam, widens & materially diversifies its customer base to include stationary engines, passenger vehicles and two wheelers, to complement its historical CV relationships.

- Brings in valuable & new customer relationships, in addition to export customers for Sunbeam and Fronberg. Further strengthens the existing relationships.

- Helps in sustaining growth momentum and revenue stability by diversifying away from the Powertrain segment. This also helps in reducing customer concentration risk present in the Powertrain and Aluminum segments.

- Craftsman has demonstrated prudent use of capital to acquire critical component supplying companies with significant customer stickiness buffeted by business cyclicality, and erstwhile owners seeking to exit, at reasonable valuation.
