Myanmar won't allow its territory to be used against Indian interest

SHUBHAJIT ROY
New Delhi, June 1

MYANMAR PRESIDENT U Min Aung Hlaing assured Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Monday that Myanmar's territory "would not be permitted to be used against India's security interests".

In the past, India has repeatedly expressed concern over Northeast insurgent groups operating from within Myanmar.

Briefing reporters after the bilateral meeting, Foreign Secretary Vikram Misri underlined that "stability and peace in Myanmar is a major interest for India".

Min Aung Hlaing is visiting India from May 30 to June 3 — his first visit since taking over as President. The former chief of the military junta government was elected President on April 3, five years after he grabbed power in a coup, ousting an elected government.

Misri said talks between the two leaders discussed cooperation on defence and security, critical minerals and rare earth, and connectivity projects. Modi also raised the issue of Nobel laureate Aung San Suu Kyi, who is in detention in Myanmar since the military coup in 2021.

"The Prime Minister reaffirmed India's support for the sovereignty and territorial integrity of the Republic of the Union of Myanmar, and both sides underscored the importance of preventing the misuse of sovereign territory for activities inimical to their security interests. The President of Myanmar, in particular, reiterated the assurance that Myanmar's territory would not be permitted to be used against India's security interests," Misri said.

"The aspect of internal security is obviously the effort by the Myanmar State to bring all the ethnic armed organisations and groups onto a single platform to advance the peace process... this is something in which we obviously have an interest, because stability and peace in Myanmar is a major interest for India, not just for the security of the Northeast and the safety and security of people living along the 1,643-km-long border that we have with them, but also for our interests, such as connectivity to Southeast Asia," Misri said. "Security and stability in Myanmar is also important for the coherence of ASEAN as a whole, because Myanmar is an important and large country within the ASEAN framework," he said, outlining the regional dimension.

"Apart from that, there is the very important question of the activities of Indian insurgent groups in Myanmar close to our borders, and this is something that the Prime Minister raised with the President. The President once again reiterated his assurance that Myanmar was sensitive to these concerns, and would do everything necessary to ensure that there was action on these, and these don't become a cause of threat against the security of India," he said. Responding to questions on Suu Kyi, Misri said: "The Prime Minister did raise this matter with the President, and this was a discussion that was largely in the context of the peace process... in the context of the points that the Prime Minister was making on the need for... inclusion, the need to have all stakeholders at the table and to examine the points of views of all the interlocutors who have been part of this process... it was a bit of a freewheeling discussion on that issue, and that is where issues related to democracy were also raised."

Underlining that the engagement with Myanmar is "not intended to be a commentary on its internal political arrangements", Misri said: "We have always proceeded on the principle that sustained dialogue is what is important and... an imperative for India as a neighbour... the answer is clearly not disengagement... So we have consistently engaged, and while engaging, we have always put forward our thoughts on all of these issues related to democracy, the peace process, inclusion, and the absolute importance of having all stakeholders as part of the dialogue at the table."

"We have always believed that eventually the difficulties that face Myanmar will have to be sorted out by the people of Myanmar talking among themselves. This will have to be a Myanmar-owned solution and a Myanmar-owned solution," he said.

On defence cooperation, Misri said the focus is on "training", "capacity building", institution building, and UN peacekeeping. "...we have a 1,643-km-long border. There are important defence and security related interests in the context of that border, and that is also something that gets discussed when various mechanisms related to defence cooperation get together," he said.

Misri also said over the last year-and-a-half, over 2,400 Indian citizens have been repatriated from cyber scam compounds within Myanmar. "As of now, we have over 150-odd Indian citizens that we know of... who are still stuck in some of these cyber scam compounds... we are in touch with the Myanmar government to try and repatriate them as well."

Suwendu expands Cabinet by inducting 35 ministers

ATRI MITRA & TANUSREE BOSE
Kolkata, June 1

WEST BENGAL CHIEF Minister Suwendu Adhikari on Monday expanded the council of min by inducting 35 new members, taking the total strength to 41. This is said to be part of the BJP's effort to balance regional, caste, and gender representation in its first government in the state.

Of the 35 new ministers sworn in by Governor RN Ravi at the Lok Bhavan, 13 were inducted as Cabinet ministers, three as ministers of state with independent charge, and 19 as ministers of state.

The 294-member Assembly can have three more members in its Cabinet.

On Monday, thirteen leaders were sworn in as Cabinet ministers — Tapash Roy, Dipak Burman, Shankar Ghosh, Arjun Singh, Manoj Oraon, Gouri Shankar Ghosh, Jagannath Chattopadhyay, Swapan Dasgupta, Kalyan Chakraborty, Anup Kumar Das, Ajay Kumar Poddar, Sharadwat Mukhopadhyay, and Dudh

Burman, Shantanu Pramanik, Biraj Biswas, Amiya Kisku, Juyel Murmu, Bhaskar Bhat-tacharya, Dibakar Gharami, Sumana Sarkar and Nadiar Chand Bouri. Malati Rava Roy, Indranil Khan, and Rajesh Mahato took oath as ministers of state (independent charge).

Forged signatures: TMC expels two MLAs

ATRI MITRA
Kolkata, June 1

AMID THE ONGOING CID probe into alleged forged signatures of TMC MLAs in a letter to the West Bengal Assembly Speaker, the party on Monday expelled two MLAs — Ritabrata Bandyopadhyay and Sandipan Saha — for anti-party activities.

The TMC announced its decision minutes after Chief Minister Suwendu Adhikari told mediapersons that the two TMC MLAs had filed complaints alleging the party forged signatures of TMC MLAs in a letter to the Speaker endorsing Sobhandeb Chattopadhyay as the leader of Opposition.

Countering the Opposition's charge of political vendetta as the CID summoned TMC general secretary Abhishek Banerjee in connection with the forged signature probe, the chief minister said, "It may seem like vengeance to some, but we do not want to do any such thing since the party (TMC) is already defunct."

Annamalai set to resign from BJP

ARUN JANARDHANAN
Chennai, June 1

K ANNAMALAI, THE former Tamil Nadu BJP president and one of the party's most visible faces in the South, is likely to submit his resignation from the BJP and formally convey this decision to party chief Nitin Nabin in Delhi Monday, according to multiple senior BJP sources.

Reliable sources in the BJP said he has already made up his mind and that the Delhi visit is intended not merely as a political meeting, but also as a gesture of gratitude towards a party with which he spent the last six years of his public life. "He wants to thank the leadership for the opportunities, experiences and political journey the BJP gave him after he resigned from the IPS," a top source familiar with the discussions said.

The development, if confirmed formally Tuesday, would mark one of the most significant political departures in Tamil Nadu since actor-turned-politician C Joseph Vijay's electoral victory reordered the state's political landscape and triggered fresh questions inside almost every major political formation.

Several leaders familiar with internal conversations said his message to the party's national leadership had effectively narrowed to two options: Restore him to a position where he could lead the BJP in Tamil Nadu with long-term autonomy and authority — for at least seven years — or allow him to pursue a different political path.

May GST receipts rise 3.2% despite war impact

THE GROSS collection in May comprises Central GST (CGST) of Rs 37,397 crore, State GST (SGST) of Rs 45,143 crore, and Integrated GST (IGST) of Rs 51,990 lakh crore. The gross domestic revenue stood at Rs 1.34 lakh crore, recording a contraction of 2.6%.

Gross GST revenue from imports stood at ₹59,654 crore, up 19.1%, reflecting resilience in trade flows despite ongoing global uncertainties and West Asia related geopolitical headwinds. Government sources said the bulk of import growth is driven by raw materials and intermediate inputs that feed India's industrial production chain. A granular review of the data confirms that the surge is driven overwhelmingly by industrial raw materials and energy inputs, government sources said.

Mahesh Jaising, partner & indirect tax leader, Deloitte India, said the relatively softer domestic performance in May also needs to be seen in the context of the strong April base; however, GST 2.0 led rate rationalisation and simplification measures appear to be supporting underlying consumption and demand without materially diluting revenues.

The sources also stated that the taxable supply data for goods sectors in April (reported in the returns for May) shows strong and broad-based growth of 26.9% year-on-year to ₹40.10 lakh crore. This growth is not concentrated in any single segment but spans agriculture, manufacturing, chemi-icals, metals, electronics, and consumer goods simultaneously.

"The domestic economy is therefore experiencing genuine demand expansion, which was the intent of the GST rate rationalisation carried out in September last year," sources said.

The government had announced GST rate cuts on 375 items, including essentials, electronics, and automobiles, on September 3, with the changes taking effect from September 22, the first day of Navratri. Following the rate rationalisation, the GST compensation cess ceased to exist effective February 1, and new rates of excise duty on tobacco products and health and national security cess on pan masala came into effect.

Manoj Mishra, partner and tax controversy management leader, Grant Thornton Bharat, said collections have remained close to the ₹2 lakh crore mark even without an extraordinary revenue support this year, underscoring the growing maturity and stability of the GST regime.

Ikesh Nagpal, lead- AKM Global, said that despite rising geopolitical tensions in West Asia and concerns around energy prices and global trade, May 2026 GST collections remained close to the Rs 2 lakh crore mark, highlighting the resilience of domestic economic activity.

"Import GST collections grew over 19%, reflecting strong trade activity, although part of the increase may be attributable to higher crude prices, supply-chain disruptions arising from the Iran conflict, and a stronger US dollar," he added.
