Higher crude muddies road for CV makers

Near-term risks rise even as utilisation peaks, freight stays firm

DEEPAK KORGANKAR & RAM PRASAD SAHU
Mumbai, 30 March

Shares of commercial vehicle (CV) makers Tata Motors and Ashok Leyland remained under pressure, falling up to 9 per cent on the BSE in Monday's intraday trade. Tata Motors slipped 9 per cent to ₹389.05, while Ashok Leyland skidded 6 per cent to ₹153.75. Both stocks recovered marginally by close, with Tata Motors ending down 7.7 per cent and Ashok Leyland shedding 5.4 per cent. By comparison, the Sensex and the BSE Auto index declined 2.2 per cent each.

With Monday's fall, Tata Motors has corrected 22 per cent from its 52-week high of ₹508.95 touched on February 27, 2026. Ashok Leyland is down 28 per cent from its 52-week high of ₹215.35 hit on February 11.

The BSE Auto index has corrected about 15 per cent since the start of the West Asia war on February 28. From a macro-economic perspective, the conflict has pushed Brent crude sharply higher — from $73 per barrel before the war to a peak of $120, and now hovering at $113.15, a rise of over 50 per cent. Brent's March contract was trading 3.36 per cent higher at $114.95 per barrel on the International Exchange.

A sharp spike in oil prices can have a cascading impact on inflation, gross domestic product (GDP) growth, the current account deficit, currency, and bond yields. Every $10 per barrel increase in crude raises India's current account deficit by 35-50 basis points (bps) of GDP, adds 20-25 bps to headline Consumer Price Index inflation, dampens GDP growth by 15-20 bps, and puts depreciation pressure on the rupee, according to ANS's research. The ongoing West Asia conflict also poses near-term risks to the CV demand cycle due to potential domestic disruptions. In the event of a prolonged war, higher inflation could narrow the room for any rate cuts the Reserve Bank of India might have otherwise considered, the report says.

Yes Securities observed some impact on enquiries, particularly from large fleet operators, as geopolitical tensions prompt a shift towards cash conservation. Even so, dealers remain confident of a quick return to normalcy, expecting disruptions to be short-lived. The government's stance on fuel price hikes will be a key factor to watch, as any sharp increase could weigh on current import. Meanwhile, updated freight demand and peak utilisation levels continue to support CV

MOTOR INSURANCE CLAIMS

Small lapses that can lead to costly rejections

SAMVEE SINHA

A recent ruling by the Delhi State Consumer Disputes Redressal Commission shows that even minor lapses can cost policyholders their insurance claims. In Ramesh Brij Lal v. New India Assurance, the Commission held that leaving a car key, even if it was damaged, inside a Maruti Vitara Brezza, which was then stolen, amounted to negligence. It ruled that the claim rejection was justified. Here's a look at routine oversights that can cause claims to be denied.

Drunk or drug-impaired
If an accident occurs while the driver is under the influence of alcohol or drugs, the insurer is likely to reject the claim. This violates both the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988, and policy terms. Driving under the influence impairs judgment and increases accident risk, justifying insurers' denial of liability, says Saxena.

Private vehicle used for commercial purposes
Using a private vehicle for commercial purposes, such as carrying passengers or making deliveries, violates the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988. "Motor insurance policies are issued based on declared usage, with premiums reflecting the associated risk. Commercial use increases risk and wear and tear. Insurers may deny claims, especially for cargo," says Paras Pasricha, head of motor insurance, PolicyBazaar.com.

Delay in informing the insurer
Insurance companies may reject claims, especially theft claims, if the policyholder delays filing a First Information Report (FIR) or informing the insurer. "Policy terms require immediate or prompt intimation to both the police and insurer. Delays are treated as a breach of contract. However, courts may allow genuine, well-explained delays, particularly if the FIR is filed promptly, ideally within 24 hours, even if the insurance company was notified later," says Shilpa Arora, co-founder and chief operating officer (COO), Insurance Samadhan. Ideally, the insurer should also be notified within 24 hours.

Unauthorised repairs before survey
Repairing a vehicle before an insurance inspection often leads to claim denial. "Only minimal or immediate repairs necessary to move the vehicle to a workshop are permitted before a survey. Insurers require a survey to verify the cause of damage, confirm policy coverage, and ensure that repair costs are reasonable," says Arora.

Undisclosed modifications
Undisclosed vehicle modifications can lead to denial of claim, especially for non-approved structural or fuel changes, increased risk exposure, and the illegality of modifications not certified by the Automotive Research Association of India (ARAI) or the RTCI, says Arora. Insurers should be informed of any modifications immediately about any modifications.

Consequential loss
Consequential loss refers to additional charges that follow an initial defect. "Claims may be rejected if the policyholder continues to use the vehicle despite warning signs, as this can be treated as negligence," says Shantay Agrawal, partner, BMR Legal.

Policy lapses before accident
If a policy lapses before an accident, the insurer has no liability because the contract was not valid at the time of loss. Policyholders should set reminders and renew their policies on time. "If the policy is not renewed on time, the vehicle may not be inspected before the policy is renewed after a break. Additionally, you may lose the benefit of no-claim bonus," says Abhishek Verma, general manager-motor underwriting, IFFCO-TOKIO General Insurance Company.

Loan rule changes in 2026: Faster scores, zero charges

A set of regulatory changes linked to lending, credit scores and nominations is taking effect. This implies lower exit costs, faster credit visibility, and more flexibility in managing loans.

No foreclosure charges
The most consequential change for retail borrowers is the removal of prepayment or foreclosure penalties on floating-rate loans. Effective for loans sanctioned or renewed from January 1, 2026, this applies across:

- Home loans
- Personal loans
- Car loans
- Education loans

Weekly credit score updates
Another significant shift is how frequently credit data is reported and reflected in credit scores. Lenders will move to weekly reporting cycles, with full implementation from July 1, 2026.

Up to four nominees
Separately, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has allowed up to four nominees for bank accounts and lockers, effective November 1, 2025.

Gold loan relief for jewellers: Indirect implications
For the jewellery business, repayment tenure for gold metal loans has been extended from 180 days to 270 days, effective April 1, 2026.
