XDuce Acquires Strategic Stake in Dev Information Technology; Establishes Strategic Alignment to Create a Global Digital Transformation Powerhouse

Mumbai – March 11, 2026 – Dev Information Technology Limited, (NSE – DEVIT, BSE - 543462 | INE060X01034), a global IT services company providing AI, Cybersecurity, Cloud Services, Digital Transformation, Enterprise Applications, and Managed IT Services, with products like AI enabled Talligence and ByteSigner, has announced that XDuce has acquired a strategic stake of approximately 24% in the company to strengthen its AI, Cybersecurity and global footprint.

This strategic investment establishes a long-term alignment aimed at accelerating global digital transformation business while preserving the independent operations and identity of both organizations.

The investment is designed to deepen collaboration between XDuce and DEV IT, combining XDuce’s client relationships and market leadership in North America with DEV IT’s large-scale engineering capabilities and global delivery infrastructure, enabling enterprises and SMBs to design, build, and deploy modern digital systems faster.

Complementary Strengths Driving Global Growth

The alliance will serve as a high-velocity catalyst for global growth, prioritising a robust physical presence and diversified revenue streams as the collaboration brings together complementary strengths:

- XDuce: Incorporated in the US and UK with a long physical presence across North America, with strong consulting-led engagements focused on AI innovation, Cybersecurity, digital engineering, strong presence in BFSI, healthcare, education, and public services sectors.
- DEV IT: Strong offshore delivery capabilities backed by robust governance, engineering expertise focused on emerging technologies, and cost-efficient scalable execution.

Ensuring Continuity and Operational Stability

The strategic collaboration has been structured to ensure continuity and stability for customers, partners, and employees. Existing management teams at both XDuce and DEV IT will continue in their current roles, with no structural changes to the organizations, and business operations will continue without disruption.

Focus on Next-Generation Digital Technologies

Looking ahead, XDuce and DEV IT will jointly focus on high-growth, next-generation digital transformation technologies, including:

- Artificial Intelligence
- Blockchain
- Cloud
- Cybersecurity
- Data & Analytics
- Data Centre Operations
- Enterprise Digital Platforms

Creating Long-Term Value for Stakeholders

This alliance creates a unique “Best of Both Worlds” scenario for all stakeholders. For clients, it offers access to end-to-end IT services, a broader talent pool and 24/7 global delivery cycles. For internal operations, integrating XDuce's market reach with DEV IT's proven technical execution eliminates traditional offshore barriers, ensuring high-velocity project success.

Ultimately, this strategic move strengthens the balance sheet, increase enterprise level customers, and provides a clear path to becoming a top-tier global IT player, uniquely positioned to dominate high-growth sectors and deliver superior digital outcomes worldwide.
