Subject: Sticky Revenues Ahead: Digikore's Exclusive Netflix Team Goes Live

Sir/Madam,

We're thrilled to share a big milestone at Digikore. We've started a dedicated VFX team for Netflix—30 artists to begin with, growing to about 50 soon. This is a strong vote of confidence, and it sets us up for steady monthly revenue and faster growth.

Key update

- We have setup a team of 30 VFX artists working only on Netflix projects as an extension of team Netflix.
- This team will grow to ~50 artists in the coming weeks and could even touch ~75 to 100 artists in the coming months.

Why this is great for Digikore

- The VFX industry has bounced back; platforms like Netflix are booking teams long-term to deliver shows on time.
- This model gives us steady month-on-month revenue, better planning, and higher utilization of our artists.
- Close collaboration with Netflix means faster delivery and a stronger, long-term relationship.

What this means for the future

- With more shows restarting, we expect strong growth in the next few quarters.
- Our focus on episodic work, growing talent pool, and invisible VFX strengths will help us win more projects and improve profitability.
- We're excited to keep scaling and deliver world-class work for Netflix and other top clients.

Yours faithfully,
For Digikore Studios Limited
