40 YEARS SINCE MARUTI 800'S LAUNCH

The 'people's car' that changed Indian roads

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, December 14

AT THE BRAND centre of Maruti Suzuki India's headquarters in south Delhi, among the many modern vehicles on display, a tiny 40-year-old white car occupies a prominent space. It is no ordinary car, but the first customer unit of the M800 — popularly known Maruti 800 — which revolutionised personal mobility in India.

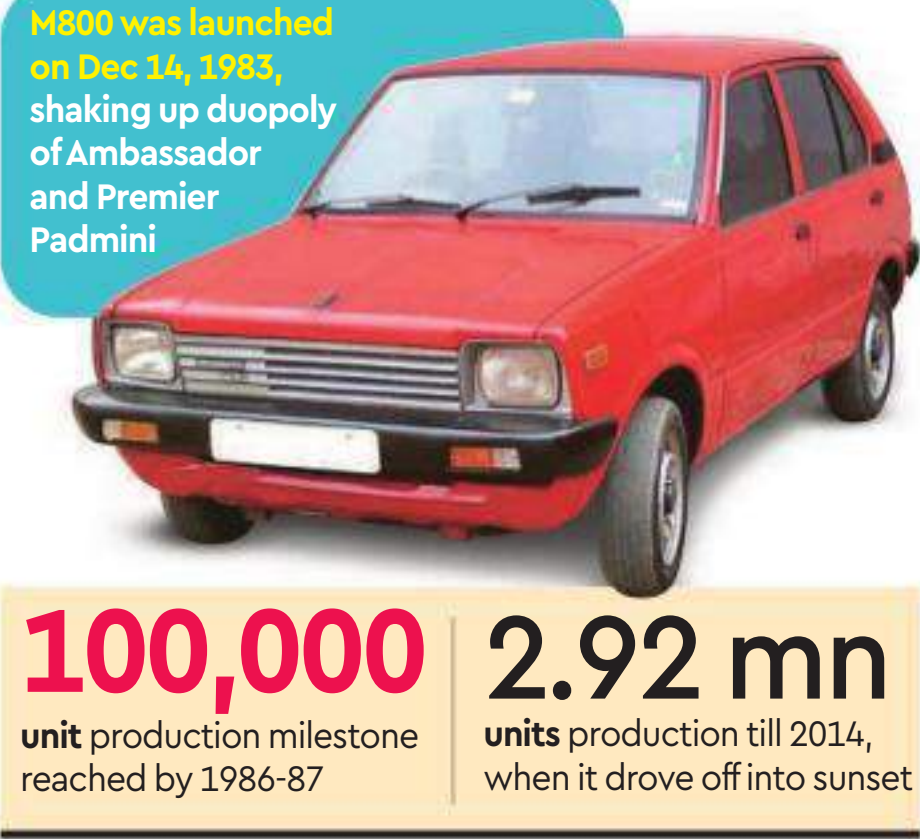

Launched on December 14, 1983, when India was still under the licence raj, M800 was a witness as well a beneficiary of the economic liberalisation when the country opened up in 1991, serving as a link between the old and new.

Lovingly referred to as the "people's car", M800 shook up the then sleepy passenger vehicles market in India, challenging the duopoly of Hindustan Motor's Ambassador and Premier Padmini.

It soon became the symbol of aspiration for millions of middle class Indians. From the handing over of the keys of the first unit to Harpal Singh, who won a lucky draw to become the first owner of M800 in 1983, the model went on to clock a cumulative 100,000 units production in 1986-87.

Equipped with far better technology from Suzuki compared to the other products available in the market at the

A DRIVE DOWN MEMORY LANE

2.92 mn units production till 2014, when it drove off into sunset

time, M800 soon crossed the 500,000-unit cumulative production milestone in 1992-93.

This doubled to one million units by 1996-97, subsequently crossing the 1.5-million unit milestone in 1999-2000, 2 million units in 2002-03 and 2.5 million units in 2005-06.

It reigned as the people's car, despite others like Tata Nano attempting to challenge it later.

However, nothing lasts forever. With newer technologies coming in and safety and emission norms becoming stringent, Maruti Suzuki India (MSI) had to take the hard call of driving into the sunset what was once its breadwinner.

From January 18, 2014, the company stopped production of the M800 completely. By then, the M800 had clocked a cumulative production of 2.92 million units.

Before that, since April 2010, MSI had stopped selling Maruti 800 in 13 cities, including Hyderabad, Bengaluru, Kanpur, and Pune. The sale of a total of 2.68 million units in the domestic market and exported 240,000 units.

M800 not only altered the course of personal mobility in

India, but was also the cornerstone on which the then Maruti Udyog, a public sector enterprise, went on to become a dominant force in the automotive industry — proving everyone wrong from what started out as an "accident" doomed to fail.

As MSI chairman RC Bhargava once said, at a time when Hindustan Motors and Premier were not even allowed to import technology, a public sector company was founded in such a low priority area and was asked to bring in foreign equity.

"Everybody thought or believed that this was a political project, which in a way it was. The same belief was known to all the carmakers the world over. When initially the government and then Maruti approached carmakers for collaboration and become joint venture partners, nobody was willing to put in 40% equity in cash," he had said in an interview last year.

Global manufacturers were offering only second-hand equipment, dyes and fixtures. Suzuki was the only one willing to invest, for which Osamu Suzuki was severely criticised in Japan, Bhargava had said.

On that backdrop, the success of M800 helped Maruti to successfully traverse a journey that was not a smooth one by any means. The mention of M800 continues to evoke nostalgia among many to this day.

Women voters set to equal men in 2024 polls

RUCHI BHATIA & SWATI GUPTA
December 14

THE GENDER GAP among Indian voters is narrowing with the participation of women set to constitute about half of the turnout in the 2024 general elections, according to a report by State Bank of India.

"Rising participation of women in India's political arena is one of the most significant stories of the last decade," the report published by the bank's economic research department said on Thursday. "Women voters are now playing a significantly bigger role in elections than ever before."

The total voter turnout at the current rate of polling could touch 680 million by next year, of which women voters could be 330 million, the report estimates. That number could outstrip registered male voters in the 2029 polls. In 2014, the gender gap between voters was 30 million more men.

For decades, voting in India has been a male-dominated enterprise. Now increasingly, women are turning out to be an important decision-making group as they become more literate and educated leading to political parties specifically targeting them.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi's attempts at luring the bloc through the women's reservation bill, cooking gas

subsidies, cheaper loans and cash handouts have paid dividends at the polling booth for him and his Bharatiya Janata Party. Recently, in the state of Madhya Pradesh, women-focused welfare plans were widely credited as the reason behind the BJP retaining power. —BLOOMBERG

DEVENDRA PANDEY
Mumbai, December 14

MS DHONI'S ICONIC No. 7 jersey won't be seen on any other India cricketer. Three years after he hung his boots as an international cricketer, the Indian cricket board, in a tribute to his contribution to the sport, has decided to "retire" the number sported by the World Cup-winning captain.

The only other cricketer bestowed a similar honour is Sachin Tendulkar; in 2017, his signature No. 10 jersey too was folded away for good.

It is learnt that the BCCI has informed players in the national team, especially debutants, that they don't have the option of numbers associated with Tendulkar and Dhoni.

"The young players and current Indian team players have been told not to pick MS Dhoni's Number 7 jersey. The BCCI has decided to retire Dhoni's T-shirt for his contribution to the game. A new player can't get No. 7, and No. 10 was already off the list of available numbers," said a senior Board official.

The BCCI's decision somewhat limits the choices for Team India players. As a rule, the ICC allows players to pick any number between 1 and 100, but in India, the options are limited. "At present, 60-odd numbers are designated to the regulars in the Indian team and those in contention. So even if a player is out of the team for about a year or so, we don't give away his number to a new player. That means a recent debutant has just 30-odd numbers to choose from," said a BCCI official.

Earlier this year, when 21-year-old opener Yashasvi Jaiswal was making his India debut, he was keen on No. 19, the number he has on his back when playing for Rajasthan Royals. However, since the number was designated to cricketer-turned-commentator Dinesh Karthik, no longer an India regular but still an active player, he went for No. 64.

Young players and current Indian team players have been told not to pick MS Dhoni's Number 7 jersey. The only other cricketer bestowed a similar honour is Sachin Tendulkar

Even at the junior level, there is a scramble for "iconic" numbers. During his U-19 days, the country's most-promising young batsman, Shubman Gill, couldn't get hold of the favourite No. 7 as it was already taken. He eventually settled for No. 77 and continues with the number even after graduating to the senior team.

Retiring jersey numbers of legendary players has been an old sporting tradition. For years now, no one at the Italian Serie A football club Napoli wears No. 10 since it was a number forever connected to their greatest player ever — Diego Maradona — who single-handedly won them the league titles in 1987 and 1990. The Chicago Bulls retired their No. 23 jersey for good after

Michael Jordan, arguably the greatest basketballer ever and the winner of six NBA titles, called it a day. The gesture was also an acknowledgment of the overwhelming emotion among the fans at Napoli and Chicago — that there can't be another Maradona or MJ, and thus, there can't be another No. 10 or No. 23.

This was also the thought when the BCCI first decided to retire Tendulkar's No. 10. Back in 2017, Mumbai fast bowler Shardul Thakur took the field wearing No. 10 and was promptly trolled by fans on social media. "Trying to be Sachin" was the trending hashtag then. The BCCI intervened and Thakur dutifully switched to 54.

Among the present India players with popular shirt numbers are Virat Kohli (18) and Rohit Sharma (45). Both have interesting back stories for their numbers.

"Eighteen started off just being a number that was given to me when I opened in that jersey for my first India Under-19. I never asked for it, it was just given to me. But then, it ended up becoming a very important number in my life. My debut came for India on August 18, 2008. My father passed away on December 18, 2006. Two of the most significant dates in my life happened to be 18," Kohli once told broadcaster Star Sports.

Sharma's reasons were different. "When I came to the Indian team, there were a lot of numbers already taken and I had asked my mother which number I should wear. She said 45 will be good for you and since then, I have been wearing it," Sharma told The Indian Express once. With 18 and 45 on the back of most fans when India plays, it wouldn't be a surprise if those jerseys are folded away in a post-Kohli and post-Rohit era.

40 YEARS SINCE MARUTI 800'S LAUNCH

The 'people's car' that changed Indian roads

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, December 14

AT THE BRAND centre of Maruti Suzuki India's headquarters in south Delhi, among the many modern vehicles on display, a tiny 40-year-old white car occupies a prominent space. It is no ordinary car, but the first customer unit of the M800 — popularly known Maruti 800 — which revolutionised personal mobility in India.

Launched on December 14, 1983, when India was still under the licence raj, M800 was a witness as well as a beneficiary of the economic liberalisation when the country opened up in 1991, serving as a link between the old and new.

Lovingly referred to as the "people's car", M800 shook up the then sleepy passenger vehicles market in India, challenging the duopoly of Hindustan Motor's Ambassador and Premier Padmini. It soon became the symbol of aspiration for millions of middle class Indians.

From the handing over of the keys of the first unit to Harpal Singh, who won a lucky draw to become the first owner of M800 in 1983, the model went on to clock a cumulative 100,000 units production in 1986-87.

Equipped with far better technology from Suzuki compared to the other products available in the market at the time, M800 soon crossed the 500,000-unit cumulative production milestone in 1992-93.

This doubled to one million units by 1996-97, subsequently crossing the 1.5-million unit milestone in 1999-2000, 2 million units in 2002-03 and 2.5 million units in 2005-06.

It reigned as the people's car, despite others like Tata Nano attempting to challenge it later.

However, nothing lasts forever. With newer technologies coming in and safety and emission norms becoming stringent, Maruti Suzuki India (MSI) had to take the hard call of driving into the sunset what was once its breadwinner.

From January 18, 2014, the company stopped production of the M800 completely. By then, the M800 had clocked a cumulative production of 2.92 million units.

Before that, since April 2010, MSI had stopped selling Maruti 800 in 13 cities, including Hyderabad, Bengaluru, Kanpur, and Pune. The model sold a total of 2.68 million units in the domestic market and exported 240,000 units.

M800 not only altered the course of personal mobility in

India, but was also the cornerstone on which the then Maruti Udyog, a public sector enterprise, went on to become a dominant force in the automotive industry — proving everyone wrong from what started out as an "accident" doomed to fail.

As MSI chairman RC Bhargava once said, at a time when Hindustan Motors and Premier were not even allowed to import technology, a public sector company was founded in such a low priority area and was asked to bring in foreign equity.

"Everybody thought or believed that this was a political project, which in a way it was. The same belief was known to all the carmakers the world over. When initially the government and then Maruti approached carmakers for collaboration and become joint venture partners, nobody was willing to put in 40% equity in cash," he had said in an interview last year.

Global manufacturers were offering only second-hand equipment, dyes and fixtures. Suzuki was the only one willing to invest, for which Osamu Suzuki was severely criticised in Japan, Bhargava had said.

On that backdrop, the success of M800 helped Maruti to successfully traverse a journey that was not a smooth one by any means. The mention of M800 continues to evoke nostalgia among many to this day.

Dhoni's iconic No. 7 jersey no longer up for grabs for players

DEVENDRA PANDEY
Mumbai, December 14

MS DHONI'S ICONIC No. 7 jersey won't be seen on any other India cricketer. Three years after he hung his boots as an international cricketer, the Indian cricket board, in a tribute to his contribution to the sport, has decided to "retire" the number sported by the World Cup-winning captain.

The only other cricketer bestowed a similar honour is Sachin Tendulkar; in 2017, his signature No. 10 jersey too was folded away for good.

It is learnt that the BCCI has informed players in the national team, especially debutants, that they don't have the option of numbers associated with Tendulkar and Dhoni.

"The young players and current Indian team players have been told not to pick MS Dhoni's Number 7 jersey. The BCCI has decided to retire Dhoni's T-shirt for his contribution to the game. A new player can't get No. 7, and No. 10 was already off the list of available numbers," said a senior board official.

The BCCI's decision somewhat limits the choices for Team India players. As a rule, the ICC allows players to pick any number between 1 and 100, but in India, the options are limited. "At present, 60-odd numbers are designated to the regulars in the Indian team and those in contention. So even if a player is out of the team for about a year or so, we don't give away his number to a new player. That means a recent debutant has just 30-odd numbers to choose from," said a BCCI official.

Earlier this year, when 21-year-old opener Yashvi Jaiswal was making his India debut, he was keen on No. 19, the number he has on his back when playing for Rajasthan Royals. However, since the number was designated to cricketer-turned-commentator Dinesh Karthik, no longer an India regular but still an active player, he went for No. 64.

Even at the junior level, there is a scramble for "iconic" numbers. During his U-19 days, the country's most-promising young batsman, Shubman Gill, couldn't get hold of the favourite No. 7 as it was already taken. He eventually settled for No. 77 and continues with the number even after graduating to the senior team.

Retiring jersey numbers of legendary players has been an old sporting tradition. For years now, no one at the Italian Serie A football club Napoli wears No. 10 since it was a number forever connected to their greatest player ever — Diego Maradona — who single-handedly won them the league titles in 1987 and 1990. The Chicago Bulls retired their No. 23 jersey for good after

Michael Jordan, arguably the greatest basketballer ever and the winner of six NBA titles, called it a day. The gesture was also an acknowledgment of the overwhelming emotion among the fans at Napoli and Chicago — that there can't be another Maradona or MJ, and thus, there can't be another No. 10 or No. 23.

This was also the thought when the BCCI first decided to retire Tendulkar's No. 10. Back in 2017, Mumbai fast bowler Shardul Thakur took the field wearing No. 10 and was promptly trolled by fans on social media. "Trying to be Sachin" was the trending hashtag then. The BCCI intervened and Thakur dutifully switched to 54.

Among the present India players with popular shirt numbers are Virat Kohli (18) and Rohit Sharma (45). Both have interesting back stories for their numbers.

"Eighteen started off just being a number that was given to me when I opened in that jersey for my first India Under-19. I never asked for it, it was just given to me. But then, it ended up becoming a very important number in my life. My debut came for India on August 18, 2008. My father passed away on December 18, 2006. Two of the most significant dates in my life happened to be 18," Kohli once told broadcaster Star Sports.

Sharma's reasons were different. "When I came to the Indian team, there were a lot of numbers already taken and I had asked my mother which number I should wear. She said 45 will be good for you and since then, I have been wearing it," Sharma told The Indian Express once. With 18 and 45 on the back of most fans when India plays, it wouldn't be a surprise if those jerseys are folded away in a post-Kohli and post-Rohit era.

Women voters set to equal men in 2024 polls

RUCHI BHATIA
& SWATI GUPTA
December 14

THE GENDER GAP among Indian voters is narrowing with the participation of women set to constitute about half of the turnout in the 2024 general elections, according to a report by State Bank of India. "Rising participation of women in India's political arena is one of the most significant stories of the last decade," the report published by the bank's economic research department said on Thursday. "Women voters are now playing a significantly bigger role in elections than ever before."

The total voter turnout at the current rate of polling could touch 680 million by next year, of which women voters could be 330 million, the report estimates. That number could outstrip registered male voters in the 2029 polls. In 2014, the gender gap between voters was 30 million more men.

For decades, voting in India has been a male-dominated enterprise. Now increasingly, women are turning out to be an important decision-making group as they become more literate and educated leading to political parties specifically targeting them.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi's attempts at luring the bloc through the women's reservation bill, cooking gas

subsidies, cheaper loans and cash handouts have paid dividends at the polling booth for him and his Bharatiya Janata Party. Recently, in the state of Madhya Pradesh, women-focused welfare plans were widely credited as the reason behind the BJP retaining power. —BLOOMBERG

40 YEARS SINCE MARUTI 800'S LAUNCH

The 'people's car' that changed Indian roads

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, December 14

AT THE BRAND centre of Maruti Suzuki India's headquarters in south Delhi, among the many modern vehicles on display, a tiny 40-year-old white car occupies a prominent space. It is no ordinary car, but the first customer unit of the M800 — popularly known Maruti 800 — which revolutionised personal mobility in India.

Launched on December 14, 1983, when India was still under the licence raj, M800 was a witness as well as beneficiary of the economic liberalisation when the country opened up in 1991, serving as a link between the old and new.

Lovingly referred to as the "people's car", M800 shook up the then sleepy passenger vehicles market in India, challenging the duopoly of Hindustan Motor's Ambassador and Premier Padmini.

It soon became the symbol of aspiration for millions of middle class Indians. From the handing over of the keys of the first unit to Harpal Singh, who won a lucky draw to become the first owner of M800 in 1983, the model went on to clock a cumulative 100,000 units production in 1986-87.

Equipped with far better technology from Suzuki compared to the other products available in the market at the time, M800 soon crossed the 500,000-unit cumulative production milestone in 1992-93.

This doubled to one million units by 1996-97, subsequently crossing the 1.5-million unit milestone in 1999-2000, 2 million units in 2002-03 and 2.5 million units in 2005-06.

It reigned as the people's car, despite others like Tata Nano attempting to challenge it later.

However, nothing lasts forever. With newer technologies coming in and safety and emission norms becoming stringent, Maruti Suzuki India (MSI) had to take the hard call of driving into the sunset what was once its breadwinner.

Before that, since April 2010, MSI had stopped selling Maruti 800 in 13 cities, including Hyderabad, Bengaluru, Kanpur, and Pune. The model sold a total of 2.68 million units in the domestic market and exported 240,000 units.

M800 not only altered the course of personal mobility in

India, but was also the cornerstone on which the then Maruti Udyog, a public sector enterprise, went on to become a dominant force in the automotive industry — proving everyone wrong from what started out as an "accident" doomed to fail.

As MSI chairman RC Bhargava once said, at a time when Hindustan Motors and Premier were not even allowed to import technology, a public sector company was founded in such a low priority area and was asked to bring in foreign equity.

"Everybody thought or believed that this was a political project, which in a way it was. The same belief was known to all the carmakers the world over. When initially the government and then Maruti approached carmakers for collaboration and become joint venture partners, nobody was willing to put in 40% equity in cash," he had said in an interview last year.

Global manufacturers were offering only second-hand equipment, dyes and fixtures. Suzuki was the only one willing to invest, for which Osamu Suzuki was severely criticised in Japan, Bhargava had said.

On that backdrop, the success of M800 helped Maruti to successfully traverse a journey that was not a smooth one by any means. The mention of M800 continues to evoke nostalgia among many to this day.

Dhoni's iconic No. 7 jersey no longer up for grabs for players

DEVENDRA PANDEY
Mumbai, December 14

MS DHONI'S ICONIC No. 7 jersey won't be seen on any other India cricketer. Three years after he hung his boots as an international cricketer, the Indian cricket board, in a tribute to his contribution to the sport, has decided to "retire" the number sported by the World Cup-winning captain.

The only other cricketer bestowed a similar honour is Sachin Tendulkar; in 2017, his signature No. 10 jersey too was folded away for good.

It is learnt that the BCCI has informed players in the national team, especially debutants, that they don't have the option of numbers associated with Tendulkar and Dhoni.

"The young players and current Indian team players have been told not to pick MS Dhoni's Number 7 jersey. The BCCI has decided to retire Dhoni's T-shirt for his contribution to the game. A new player can't get No. 7, and No. 10 was already off the list of available numbers," said a senior Board official.

The BCCI's decision somewhat limits the choices for Team India players. As a rule, the ICC allows players to pick any number between 1 and 100, but in India, the options are limited. "At present, 60-odd numbers are designated to the regulars in the Indian team and those in contention. So even if a player is out of the team for about a year or so, we don't give away his number to a new player. That means a recent debutant has just 30-odd numbers to choose from," said a BCCI official.

Earlier this year, when 21-year-old opener Yashasvi Jaiswal was making his India debut, he was keen on No. 19, the number he has on his back when playing for Rajasthan Royals. However, since the number was designated to cricketer-turned-commentator Dinesh Karthik, no longer an India regular but still an active player, he went for No. 64.

Even at the junior level, there is a scramble for "iconic" numbers. During his U-19 days, the country's most-promising young batsman, Shubman Gill, couldn't get hold of the favourite No. 7 as it was already taken. He eventually settled for No. 77 and continues with the number even after graduating to the senior team.

Retiring jersey numbers of legendary players has been an old sporting tradition. For years now, no one at the Italian Serie A football club Napoli wears No. 10 since it was a number forever connected to their greatest player ever — Diego Maradona — who single-handedly won them the league titles in 1987 and 1990. The Chicago Bulls retired their No. 23 jersey for good after

Michael Jordan, arguably the greatest basketballer ever and the winner of six NBA titles, called it a day. The gesture was also an acknowledgment of the overwhelming emotion among the fans at Napoli and Chicago — that there can't be another Maradona or MJ, and thus, there can't be another No. 10 or No. 23.

This was also the thought when the BCCI first decided to retire Tendulkar's No. 10. Back in 2017, Mumbai fast bowler Shardul Thakur took the field wearing No. 10 and was promptly trolled by fans on social media. "Trying to be Sachin" was the trending hashtag then. The BCCI intervened and Thakur dutifully switched to 54.

Among the present India players with popular shirt numbers are Virat Kohli (18) and Rohit Sharma (45). Both have interesting back stories for their numbers.

"Eighteen started off just being a number that was given to me when I opened in that jersey for my first India Under-19. I never asked for it, it was just given to me. But then, it ended up becoming a very important number in my life. My debut came for India on August 18, 2008. My father passed away on December 18, 2006. Two of the most significant dates in my life happened to be 18," Kohli once told broadcaster Star Sports.

Sharma's reasons were different. "When I came to the Indian team, there were a lot of numbers already taken and I had asked my mother which number I should wear. She said 45 will be good for you and since then, I have been wearing it," Sharma told The Indian Express once. With 18 and 45 on the back of most fans when India plays, it wouldn't be a surprise if those jerseys are folded away in a post-Kohli and post-Rohit era.

Women voters set to equal men in 2024 polls

RUCHI BHATIA & SWATI GUPTA
December 14

THE GENDER GAP among Indian voters is narrowing with the participation of women set to constitute about half of the turnout in the 2024 general elections, according to a report by State Bank of India.

"Rising participation of women in India's political arena is one of the most significant stories of the last decade," the report published by the bank's economic research department said on Thursday. "Women voters are now playing a significantly bigger role in elections than ever before."

The total voter turnout at the current rate of polling could touch 680 million by next year, of which women voters could be 330 million, the report estimates. That number could outstrip registered male voters in the 2029 polls. In 2014, the gender gap between voters was 30 million more men.

For decades, voting in India has been a male-dominated enterprise. Now increasingly, women are turning out to be an important decision-making group as they become more literate and educated leading to political parties specifically targeting them.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi's attempts at luring the bloc through the women's reservation bill, cooking gas

subsidies, cheaper loans and cash handouts have paid dividends at the polling booth for him and his Bharatiya Janata Party. Recently, in the state of Madhya Pradesh, women-focused welfare plans were widely credited as the reason behind the BJP retaining power. —BLOOMBERG

40 YEARS SINCE MARUTI 800'S LAUNCH

The 'people's car' that changed Indian roads

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, December 14

AT THE BRAND centre of Maruti Suzuki India's headquarters in south Delhi, among the many modern vehicles on display, a tiny 40-year-old white car occupies a prominent space. It is no ordinary car, but the first customer unit of the M800 — popularly known Maruti 800 — which revolutionised personal mobility in India.

Launched on December 14, 1983, when India was still under the licence raj, M800 was a witness as well as a beneficiary of the economic liberalisation when the country opened up in 1991, serving as a link between the old and new.

Lovingly referred to as the "people's car", M800 shook up the then sleepy passenger vehicles market in India, challenging the duopoly of Hindustan Motor's Ambassador and Premier Padmini. It soon became the symbol of aspiration for millions of middle class Indians.

From the handing over of the keys of the first unit to Harpal Singh, who won a lucky draw to become the first owner of M800 in 1983, the model went on to clock a cumulative 100,000 units production in 1986-87.

Equipped with far better technology from Suzuki compared to the other products available in the market at the time, M800 soon crossed the 500,000-unit cumulative production milestone in 1992-93.

This doubled to one million units by 1996-97, subsequently crossing the 1.5-million unit milestone in 1999-2000, 2 million units in 2002-03 and 2.5 million units in 2005-06.

It reigned as the people's car, despite others like Tata Nano attempting to challenge it later.

However, nothing lasts forever. With newer technologies coming in and safety and emission norms becoming stringent, Maruti Suzuki India (MSI) had to take the hard call of driving into the sunset what was once its breadwinner.

From January 18, 2014, the company stopped production of the M800 completely. By then, the M800 had clocked a cumulative production of 2.92 million units.

Before that, since April 2010, MSI had stopped selling Maruti 800 in 13 cities, including Hyderabad, Bengaluru, Kanpur, and Pune. The model sold a total of 2.68 million units in the domestic market and exported 240,000 units.

M800 not only altered the course of personal mobility in

India, but was also the cornerstone on which the then Maruti Udyog, a public sector enterprise, went on to become a dominant force in the automotive industry — proving everyone wrong from what started out as an "accident" doomed to fail.

As MSI chairman RC Bhargava once said, at a time when Hindustan Motors and Premier were not even allowed to import technology, a public sector company was founded in such a low priority area and was asked to bring in foreign equity.

"Everybody thought or believed that this was a political project, which in a way it was. The same belief was known to all the carmakers the world over. When initially the government and then Maruti approached carmakers for collaboration and become joint venture partners, nobody was willing to put in 40% equity in cash," he had said in an interview last year.

Global manufacturers were offering only second-hand equipment, dyes and fixtures. Suzuki was the only one willing to invest, for which Osamu Suzuki was severely criticised in Japan, Bhargava had said.

On that backdrop, the success of M800 helped Maruti to successfully traverse a journey that was not a smooth one by any means. The mention of M800 continues to evoke nostalgia among many to this day.

Dhoni's iconic No. 7 jersey no longer up for grabs for players

DEVENDRA PANDEY
Mumbai, December 14

MS DHONI'S ICONIC No. 7 jersey won't be seen on any other India cricketer. Three years after he hung his boots as an international cricketer, the Indian cricket board, in a tribute to his contribution to the sport, has decided to "retire" the number sported by the World Cup-winning captain.

The only other cricketer bestowed a similar honour is Sachin Tendulkar; in 2017, his signature No. 10 jersey too was folded away for good.

It is learnt that the BCCI has informed players in the national team, especially debutants, that they don't have the option of numbers associated with Tendulkar and Dhoni.

"The young players and current Indian team players have been told not to pick MS Dhoni's Number 7 jersey. The BCCI has decided to retire Dhoni's T-shirt for his contribution to the game. A new player can't get No. 7, and No. 10 was already off the list of available numbers," said a senior Board official.

The BCCI's decision somewhat limits the choices for Team India players. As a rule, the ICC allows players to pick any number between 1 and 100, but in India, the options are limited. "At present, 60-odd numbers are designated to the regulars in the Indian team and those in contention. So even if a player is out of the team for about a year or so, we don't give away his number to a new player. That means a recent debutant has just 30-odd numbers to choose from," said a BCCI official.

Earlier this year, when 21-year-old opener Yashasvi Jaiswal was making his India debut, he was keen on No. 19, the number he has on his back when playing for Rajasthan Royals. However, since the number was designated to cricketer-turned-commentator Dinesh Karthik, no longer an India regular but still an active player, he went for No. 64.

Young players and current Indian team players have been told not to pick MS Dhoni's Number 7 jersey. The only other cricketer bestowed a similar honour is Sachin Tendulkar

Even at the junior level, there is a scramble for "iconic" numbers. During his U-19 days, the country's most-promising young batsman, Shubman Gill, couldn't get hold of the favourite No. 7 as it was already taken. He eventually settled for No. 77 and continues with the number even after graduating to the senior team.

Retiring jersey numbers of legendary players has been an old sporting tradition. For years now, no one at the Italian Serie A football club Napoli wears No. 10 since it was a number forever connected to their greatest player ever — Diego Maradona — who single-handedly won them the league titles in 1987 and 1990. The Chicago Bulls retired their No. 23 jersey for good after

Michael Jordan, arguably the greatest basketballer ever and the winner of six NBA titles, called it a day. The gesture was also an acknowledgment of the overwhelming emotion among the fans at Napoli and Chicago — that there can't be another Maradona or MJ, and thus, there can't be another No. 10 or No. 23.

This was also the thought when the BCCI first decided to retire Tendulkar's No. 10. Back in 2017, Mumbai fast bowler Shardul Thakur took the field wearing No. 10 and was promptly trolled by fans on social media. "Trying to be Sachin" was the trending hashtag then. The BCCI intervened and Thakur dutifully switched to 54.

Among the present India players with popular shirt numbers are Virat Kohli (18) and Rohit Sharma (45). Both have interesting back stories for their numbers.

"Eighteen started off just being a number that was given to me when I opened in that jersey for my first India Under-19. I never asked for it, it was just given to me. But then, it ended up becoming a very important number in my life. My debut came for India on August 18, 2008. My father passed away on December 18, 2006. Two of the most significant dates in my life happened to be 18," Kohli once told broadcaster Star Sports.

Sharma's reasons were different. "When I came to the Indian team, there were a lot of numbers already taken and I had asked my mother which number I should wear. She said 45 will be good for you and since then, I have been wearing it," Sharma told The Indian Express once. With 18 and 45 on the back of most fans when India plays, it wouldn't be a surprise if those jerseys are folded away in a post-Kohli and post-Rohit era.

Women voters set to equal men in 2024 polls

RUCHI BHATIA
& SWATI GUPTA
December 14

THE GENDER GAP among Indian voters is narrowing with the participation of women set to constitute about half of the turnout in the 2024 general elections, according to a report by State Bank of India.

"Rising participation of women in India's political arena is one of the most significant stories of the last decade," the report published by the bank's economic research department said on Thursday. "Women voters are now playing a significantly bigger role in elections than ever before."

The total voter turnout at the current rate of polling could touch 680 million by next year, of which women voters could be 330 million, the report estimates. That number could outstrip registered male voters in the 2029 polls. In 2014, the gender gap between voters was 30 million more men.

For decades, voting in India has been a male-dominated enterprise. Now increasingly, women are turning out to be an important decision-making group as they become more literate and educated leading to political parties specifically targeting them.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi's attempts at luring the bloc through the women's reservation bill, cooking gas

subsidies, cheaper loans and cash handouts have paid dividends at the polling booth for him and his Bharatiya Janata Party. Recently, in the state of Madhya Pradesh, women-focused welfare plans were widely credited as the reason behind the BJP retaining power. —BLOOMBERG

40 YEARS SINCE MARUTI 800'S LAUNCH

The 'people's car' that changed Indian roads

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, December 14

AT THE BRAND centre of Maruti Suzuki India's head-quarters in south Delhi, among the many modern vehicles on display, a tiny 40-year-old white car occupies a prominent space. It is no ordinary car, but the first customer unit of the M800 — popularly known Maruti 800 — which revolutionised personal mobility in India.

Launched on December 14, 1983, when India was still under the licence raj, M800 was a witness as well as a beneficiary of the economic liberalisation when the country opened up in 1991, serving as a link between the old and new.

Lovingly referred to as the “people’s car”, M800 shook up the then sleepy passenger vehicles market in India, challenging the duopoly of Hindustan Motor’s Ambassador and Premier Padmini. It soon became the symbol of aspiration for millions of middle class Indians.

From the handing over of the keys of the first unit to Harpal Singh, who won a lucky draw to become the first owner of M800 in 1983, the model went on to clock a cumulative 100,000 units production in 1986-87.

time, M800 soon crossed the 500,000-unit cumulative production milestone in 1992-93. This doubled to one million units by 1996-97, subsequently crossing the 1.5-million unit milestone in 1999-2000, 2 million units in 2002-03 and 2.5 million units in 2005-06.

It reigned as the people’s car, despite others like Tata Nano attempting to challenge it later. However, nothing lasts forever. With newer technologies coming in and safety and emission norms becoming stringent, Maruti Suzuki India (MSI) had to take the hard call of driving into the sunset what was once its breadwinner.

From January 18, 2014, the company stopped production of the M800 completely. By then, the M800 had clocked a cumulative production of 2.92 million units.

Before that, since April 2010, MSI had stopped selling Maruti 800 in 13 cities, including Hyderabad, Bengaluru, Kanpur, and Pune. The model sold a total of 2.68 million units in the domestic market and exported 240,000 units.

M800 not only altered the course of personal mobility in

India, but was also the cornerstone on which the then Maruti Udyog, a public sector enterprise, went on to become a dominant force in the automotive industry — proving everyone wrong from what started out as an “accident” doomed to fail.

As MSI chairman RC Bhargava once said, at a time when Hindustan Motors and Premier were not even allowed to import technology, a public sector company was founded in such a low priority area and was asked to bring in foreign equity.

“Everybody thought or believed that this was a political project, which in a way it was. The same belief was known to all the carmakers the world over. When initially the government and then Maruti approached carmakers for collaboration and become joint venture partners, nobody was willing to put in 40% equity in cash,” he had said in an interview last year.

Global manufacturers were offering only second-hand equipment, dyes and fixtures. Suzuki was the only one willing to invest, for which Osamu Suzuki was severely criticised in Japan, Bhargava had said.

On that backdrop, the success of M800 helped Maruti to successfully traverse a journey that was not a smooth one by any means. The mention of M800 continues to evoke nostalgia among many to this day.

subsidies, cheaper loans and cash handouts have paid dividends at the polling booth for him and his Bharatiya Janata Party. Recently, in the state of Madhya Pradesh, women-focused welfare plans were widely credited as the reason behind the BJP retaining power.

Women voters set to equal men in 2024 polls

THE GENDER GAP among Indian voters is narrowing with the participation of women set to constitute about half of the turnout in the 2024 general elections, according to a report by State Bank of India. “Rising participation of women in India’s political arena is one of the most significant stories of the last decade,” the report published by the bank’s economic research department said on Thursday. “Women voters are now playing a significantly bigger role in elections than ever before.”

The total voter turnout at the current rate of polling could touch 680 million by next year, of which women voters could be 330 million, the report estimates. That number could outstrip registered male voters in the 2029 polls. In 2014, the gender gap between voters was 30 million more men.

For decades, voting in India has been a male-dominated enterprise. Now increasingly, women are turning out to be an important decision-making group as they become more literate and educated leading to political parties specifically targeting them.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi’s attempts at luring the bloc through the women’s reservation bill, cooking gas

department said on Thursday. “Women voters are now playing a significantly bigger role in elections than ever before.”

Dhoni's iconic No. 7 jersey no longer up for grabs for players

DEVENDRA PANDEY
Mumbai, December 14

MS DHONI'S ICONIC No. 7 jersey won't be seen on any other India cricketer. Three years after he hung his boots as an international cricketer, the Indian cricket board, in a tribute to his contribution to the sport, has decided to “retire” the number sported by the World Cup-winning captain.

The only other cricketer bestowed a similar honour is Sachin Tendulkar; in 2017, his signature No. 10 jersey too was folded away for good.

It is learnt that the BCCI has informed players in the national team, especially debutants, that they don't have the option of numbers associated with Tendulkar and Dhoni.

“The young players and current Indian team players have been told not to pick MS Dhoni's Number 7 jersey. The BCCI has decided to retire Dhoni's T-shirt for his contribution to the game. A new player can't get No. 7, and No. 10 was already off the list of available numbers,” said a senior Board official.

The BCCI's decision somewhat limits the choices for Team India players. As a rule, the ICC allows players to pick any number between 1 and 100, but in India, the options are limited. “At present, 60-odd numbers are designated to the regulars in the Indian team and those in contention. So even if a player is out of the team for about a year or so, we don't give away his number to a new player. That means a recent debutant has just 30-odd numbers to choose from,” said a BCCI official.

Earlier this year, when 21-year-old opener Yashvi Jaiswal was making his India debut, he was keen on No. 19, the number he has on his back when playing for Rajasthan Royals. However, since the number was designated to cricketer-turned-commentator Dinesh Karthik, no longer an India regular but still an active player, he went for No. 64.

Even at the junior level, there is a scramble for “iconic” numbers. During his U-19 days, the country's most-promising young batsman, Shubman Gill, couldn't get hold of the favourite No. 7 as it was already taken. He eventually settled for No. 77 and continues with the number even after graduating to the senior team.

Retiring jersey numbers of legendary players has been an old sporting tradition. For years now, no one at the Italian Serie A football club Napoli wears No. 10 since it was a number forever connected to their greatest player ever — Diego Maradona — who single-handedly won them the league titles in 1987 and 1990. The Chicago Bulls retired their No. 23 jersey for good after

Michael Jordan, arguably the greatest basketballer ever and the winner of six NBA titles, called it a day. The gesture was also an acknowledgment of the overwhelming emotion among the fans at Napoli and Chicago — that there can't be another Maradona or MJ, and thus, there can't be another No. 10 or No. 23.

This was also the thought when the BCCI first decided to retire Tendulkar's No. 10. Back in 2017, Mumbai fast bowler Shardul Thakur took the field wearing No. 10 and was promptly trolled by fans on social media. “Trying to be Sachin” was the trending hashtag then. The BCCI intervened and Thakur dutifully switched to 54.

Among the present India players with popular shirt numbers are Virat Kohli (18) and Rohit Sharma (45). Both have interesting back stories for their numbers.

“Eighteen started off just being a number that was given to me when I opened in that jersey for my first India Under-19. I never asked for it, it was just given to me. But then, it ended up becoming a very important number in my life. My debut came for India on August 18, 2008. My father passed away on December 18, 2006. Two of the most significant dates in my life happened to be 18,” Kohli once told broadcaster Star Sports.

Sharma's reasons were different. “When I came to the Indian team, there were a lot of numbers already taken and I had asked my mother which number I should wear. She said 45 will be good for you and since then, I have been wearing it,” Sharma told The Indian Express once. With 18 and 45 on the back of most fans when India plays, it wouldn't be a surprise if those jerseys are folded away in a post-Kohli and post-Rohit era.

time, M800 soon crossed the 500,000-unit cumulative production milestone in 1992-93.

This doubled to one million units by 1996-97, subsequently crossing the 1.5-million unit milestone in 1999-2000, 2 million units in 2002-03 and 2.5 million units in 2005-06.

It reigned as the people's car, despite others like Tata Nano attempting to challenge it later.

However, nothing lasts forever. With newer technologies coming in and safety and emission norms becoming stringent, Maruti Suzuki India (MSI) had to take the hard call of driving into the sunset what was once its breadwinner.

From January 18, 2014, the company stopped production of the M800 completely. By then, the M800 had clocked a cumulative production of 2.92 million units.

Before that, since April 2010, MSI had stopped selling Maruti 800 in 13 cities, including Hyderabad, Bengaluru, Kanpur, and Pune. The model sold a total of 2.68 million units in the domestic market and exported 240,000 units.

M800 not only altered the course of personal mobility in

India, but was also the cornerstone on which the then Maruti Udyog, a public sector enterprise, went on to become a dominant force in the automotive industry — proving everyone wrong from what started out as an "accident" doomed to fail.

As MSI chairman RC Bhargava once said, at a time when Hindustan Motors and Premier were not even allowed to import technology, a public sector company was founded in such a low priority area and was asked to bring in foreign equity.

"Everybody thought or believed that this was a political project, which in a way it was. The same belief was known to all the carmakers the world over. When initially the government and then Maruti approached carmakers for collaboration and become joint venture partners, nobody was willing to put in 40% equity in cash," he had said in an interview last year.

Global manufacturers were offering only second-hand equipment, dyes and fixtures. Suzuki was the only one willing to invest, for which Osamu Suzuki was severely criticised in Japan, Bhargava had said.

On that backdrop, the success of M800 helped Maruti to successfully traverse a journey that was not a smooth one by any means. The mention of M800 continues to evoke nostalgia among many to this day.

Dhoni's iconic No. 7 jersey no longer up for grabs for players

DEVENDRA PANDEY
Mumbai, December 14

MS DHONI'S ICONIC No. 7 jersey won't be seen on any other India cricketer. Three years after he hung his boots as an international cricketer, the Indian cricket board, in a tribute to his contribution to the sport, has decided to "retire" the number sported by the World Cup-winning captain.

The only other cricketer bestowed a similar honour is Sachin Tendulkar; in 2017, his signature No. 10 jersey too was folded away for good.

It is learnt that the BCCI has informed players in the national team, especially debutants, that they don't have the option of numbers associated with Tendulkar and Dhoni.

"The young players and current Indian team players have been told not to pick MS Dhoni's Number 7 jersey. The BCCI has decided to retire Dhoni's T-shirt for his contribution to the game. A new player can't get No. 7, and No. 10 was already off the list of available numbers," said a senior Board official.

The BCCI's decision somewhat limits the choices for Team India players. As a rule, the ICC allows players to pick any number between 1 and 100, but in India, the options are limited. "At present, 60-odd numbers are designated to the regulars in the Indian team and those in contention. So even if a player is out of the team for about a year or so, we don't give away his number to a new player. That means a recent debutant has just 30-odd numbers to choose from," said a BCCI official.

Earlier this year, when 21-year-old opener Yashasvi Jaiswal was making his India debut, he was keen on No. 19, the number he has on his back when playing for Rajasthan Royals. However, since the number was designated to cricketer-turned-commentator Dinesh Karthik, no longer an India regular but still an active player, he went for No. 64.

Young players and current Indian team players have been told not to pick MS Dhoni's Number 7 jersey. The only other cricketer bestowed a similar honour is Sachin Tendulkar

Even at the junior level, there is a scramble for "iconic" numbers. During his U-19 days, the country's most-promising young batsman, Shubman Gill, couldn't get hold of the favourite No. 7 as it was already taken. He eventually settled for No. 77 and continues with the number even after graduating to the senior team.

Retiring jersey numbers of legendary players has been an old sporting tradition. For years now, no one at the Italian Serie A football club Napoli wears No. 10 since it was a number forever connected to their greatest player ever — Diego Maradona — who single-handedly won them the league titles in 1987 and 1990. The Chicago Bulls retired their No. 23 jersey for good after

Michael Jordan, arguably the greatest basketballer ever and the winner of six NBA titles, called it a day. The gesture was also an acknowledgment of the overwhelming emotion among the fans at Napoli and Chicago — that there can't be another Maradona or MJ, and thus, there can't be another No. 10 or No. 23.

This was also the thought when the BCCI first decided to retire Tendulkar's No. 10. Back in 2017, Mumbai fast bowler Shardul Thakur took the field wearing No. 10 and was promptly trolled by fans on social media. "Trying to be Sachin" was the trending hashtag then. The BCCI intervened and Thakur dutifully switched to 54.

Among the present India players with popular shirt numbers are Virat Kohli (18) and Rohit Sharma (45). Both have interesting back stories for their numbers.

"Eighteen started off just being a number that was given to me when I opened in that jersey for my first India Under-19. I never asked for it, it was just given to me. But then, it ended up becoming a very important number in my life. My debut came for India on August 18, 2008. My father passed away on December 18, 2006. Two of the most significant dates in my life happened to be 18," Kohli once told broadcaster Star Sports.

Sharma's reasons were different. "When I came to the Indian team, there were a lot of numbers already taken and I had asked my mother which number I should wear. She said 45 will be good for you and since then, I have been wearing it," Sharma told The Indian Express once. With 18 and 45 on the back of most fans when India plays, it wouldn't be a surprise if those jerseys are folded away in a post-Kohli and post-Rohit era.

Women voters set to equal men in 2024 polls

RUCHI BHATIA
& SWATI GUPTA
December 14

THE GENDER GAP among Indian voters is narrowing with the participation of women set to constitute about half of the turnout in the 2024 general elections, according to a report by State Bank of India.

"Rising participation of women in India's political arena is one of the most significant stories of the last decade," the report published by the bank's economic research department said on Thursday. "Women voters are now playing a significantly bigger role in elections than ever before."

The total voter turnout at the current rate of polling could touch 680 million by next year, of which women voters could be 330 million, the report estimates. That number could outstrip registered male voters in the 2029 polls. In 2014, the gender gap between voters was 30 million more men.

For decades, voting in India has been a male-dominated enterprise. Now increasingly, women are turning out to be an important decision-making group as they become more literate and educated leading to political parties specifically targeting them.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi's attempts at luring the bloc through the women's reservation bill, cooking gas

subsidies, cheaper loans and cash handouts have paid dividends at the polling booth for him and his Bharatiya Janata Party. Recently, in the state of Madhya Pradesh, women-focused welfare plans were widely credited as the reason behind the BJP retaining power. —BLOOMBERG

40 YEARS SINCE MARUTI 800'S LAUNCH

The 'people's car' that changed Indian roads

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, December 14

AT THE BRAND centre of Maruti Suzuki India's headquarters in south Delhi, among the many modern vehicles on display, a tiny 40-year-old white car occupies a prominent space. It is no ordinary car, but the first customer unit of the M800 — popularly known Maruti 800 — which revolutionised personal mobility in India.

Launched on December 14, 1983, when India was still under the licence raj, M800 was a witness as well as a beneficiary of the economic liberalisation when the country opened up in 1991, serving as a link between the old and new.

Lovingly referred to as the "people's car", M800 shook up the then sleepy passenger vehicles market in India, challenging the duopoly of Hindustan Motor's Ambassador and Premier Padmini. It soon became the symbol of aspiration for millions of middle class Indians.

From the handing over of the keys of the first unit to Harpal Singh, who won a lucky draw to become the first owner of M800 in 1983, the model went on to clock a cumulative 100,000 units production in 1986-87.

Equipped with far better technology from Suzuki compared to the other products available in the market at the time, M800 soon crossed the 500,000-unit cumulative production milestone in 1992-93.

This doubled to one million units by 1996-97, subsequently crossing the 1.5-million unit milestone in 1999-2000, 2 million units in 2002-03 and 2.5 million units in 2005-06.

It reigned as the people's car, despite others like Tata Nano attempting to challenge it later.

However, nothing lasts forever. With newer technologies coming in and safety and emission norms becoming stringent, Maruti Suzuki India (MSI) had to take the hard call of driving into the sunset what was once its breadwinner.

From January 18, 2014, the company stopped production of the M800 completely. By then, the M800 had clocked a cumulative production of 2.92 million units.

Before that, since April 2010, MSI had stopped selling Maruti 800 in 13 cities, including Hyderabad, Bengaluru, Kanpur, and Pune. The model sold a total of 2.68 million units in the domestic market and exported 240,000 units.

M800 not only altered the course of personal mobility in

India, but was also the cornerstone on which the then Maruti Udyog, a public sector enterprise, went on to become a dominant force in the automotive industry — proving everyone wrong from what started out as an "accident" doomed to fail.

As MSI chairman RC Bhargava once said, at a time when Hindustan Motors and Premier were not even allowed to import technology, a public sector company was founded in such a low priority area and was asked to bring in foreign equity.

"Everybody thought or believed that this was a political project, which in a way it was. The same belief was known to all the carmakers the world over. When initially the government and then Maruti approached carmakers for collaboration and became joint venture partners, nobody was willing to put in 40% equity in cash," he had said in an interview last year.

Global manufacturers were offering only second-hand equipment, dyes and fixtures. Suzuki was the only one willing to invest, for which Osamu Suzuki was severely criticised in Japan, Bhargava had said.

On that backdrop, the success of M800 helped Maruti to successfully traverse a journey that was not a smooth one by any means. The mention of M800 continues to evoke nostalgia among many to this day.

Women voters set to equal men in 2024 polls

RUCHI BHATIA & SWATI GUPTA
December 14

THE GENDER GAP among Indian voters is narrowing with the participation of women set to constitute about half of the turnout in the 2024 general elections, according to a report by State Bank of India.

"Rising participation of women in India's political arena is one of the most significant stories of the last decade," the report published by the bank's economic research department said on Thursday. "Women voters are now playing a significantly bigger role in elections than ever before."

The total voter turnout at the current rate of polling could touch 680 million by next year, of which women voters could be 330 million, the report estimates. That number could outstrip registered male voters in the 2029 polls. In 2014, the gender gap between voters was 30 million more men.

For decades, voting in India has been a male-dominated enterprise. Now increasingly, women are turning out to be an important decision-making group as they become more literate and educated leading to political parties specifically targeting them.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi's attempts at luring the bloc through the women's reservation bill, cooking gas

subsidies, cheaper loans and cash handouts have paid dividends at the polling booth for him and his Bharatiya Janata Party. Recently, in the state of Madhya Pradesh, women-focused welfare plans were widely credited as the reason behind the BJP retaining power.

Dhoni's iconic No. 7 jersey no longer up for grabs for players

DEVENDRA PANDEY
Mumbai, December 14

MS DHONI'S ICONIC No. 7 jersey won't be seen on any other India cricketer. Three years after he hung his boots as an international cricketer, the Indian cricket board, in a tribute to his contribution to the sport, has decided to "retire" the number sported by the World Cup-winning captain.

The only other cricketer bestowed a similar honour is Sachin Tendulkar; in 2017, his signature No. 10 jersey too was folded away for good.

It is learnt that the BCCI has informed players in the national team, especially debutants, that they don't have the option of numbers associated with Tendulkar and Dhoni.

"The young players and current Indian team players have been told not to pick MS Dhoni's Number 7 jersey. The BCCI has decided to retire Dhoni's T-shirt for his contribution to the game. A new player can't get No. 7, and No. 10 was already off the list of available numbers," said a senior Board official.

The BCCI's decision somewhat limits the choices for Team India players. As a rule, the ICC allows players to pick any number between 1 and 100, but in India, the options are limited. "At present, 60-odd numbers are designated to the regulars in the Indian team and those in contention. So even if a player is out of the team for about a year or so, we don't give away his number to a new player. That means a recent debutant has just 30-odd numbers to choose from," said a BCCI official.

Earlier this year, when 21-year-old opener Yashvi Jaiswal was making his India debut, he was keen on No. 19, the number he has on his back when playing for Rajasthan Royals. However, since the number was designated to cricketer-turned-commentator Dinesh Karthik, no longer an India regular but still an active player, he went for No. 64.

Even at the junior level, there is a scramble for "iconic" numbers. During his U-19 days, the country's most-promising young batsman, Shubman Gill, couldn't get hold of the favourite No. 7 as it was already taken. He eventually settled for No. 77 and continues with the number even after graduating to the senior team.

Retiring jersey numbers of legendary players has been an old sporting tradition. For years now, no one at the Italian Serie A football club Napoli wears No. 10 since it was a number forever connected to their greatest player ever — Diego Maradona — who single-handedly won them the league titles in 1987 and 1990. The Chicago Bulls retired their No. 23 jersey for good after

Michael Jordan, arguably the greatest basketballer ever and the winner of six NBA titles, called it a day. The gesture was also an acknowledgment of the overwhelming emotion among the fans at Napoli and Chicago — that there can't be another Maradona or MJ, and thus, there can't be another No. 10 or No. 23.

This was also the thought when the BCCI first decided to retire Tendulkar's No. 10. Back in 2017, Mumbai fast bowler Shardul Thakur took the field wearing No. 10 and was promptly trolled by fans on social media. "Trying to be Sachin" was the trending hashtag then. The BCCI intervened and Thakur dutifully switched to 54.

Among the present India players with popular shirt numbers are Virat Kohli (18) and Rohit Sharma (45). Both have interesting back stories for their numbers.

"Eighteen started off just being a number that was given to me when I opened in that jersey for my first India Under-19. I never asked for it, it was just given to me. But then, it ended up becoming a very important number in my life. My debut came for India on August 18, 2008. My father passed away on December 18, 2006. Two of the most significant dates in my life happened to be 18," Kohli once told broadcaster Star Sports.

Sharma's reasons were different. "When I came to the Indian team, there were a lot of numbers already taken and I had asked my mother which number I should wear. She said 45 will be good for you and since then, I have been wearing it," Sharma told The Indian Express once. With 18 and 45 on the back of most fans when India plays, it wouldn't be a surprise if those jerseys are folded away in a post-Kohli and post-Rohit era.

● 40 YEARS SINCE MARUTI 800'S LAUNCH

The 'people's car' that changed Indian roads

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, December 14

AT THE BRAND centre of Maruti Suzuki India's headquarters in south Delhi, among the many modern vehicles on display, a tiny 40-year-old white car occupies a prominent space. It is not ordinary car, but the first customer unit of the M800 — popularly known Maruti 800 — which revolutionised personal mobility in India.

Launched on December 14, 1983, when India was still under the licence raj, M800 was a witness as well as a beneficiary of the economic liberalisation when the country opened up in 1991, serving as a link between the old and new.

Lovingly referred to as the "people's car", M800 shook up the then sleepy passenger vehicles market in India, challenging the duopoly of Hindustan Motor's Ambassador and Premier Padmini. It soon became the symbol of aspiration for millions of middle class Indians.

From the handing over of the keys of the first unit to Harpal Singh, who won a lucky draw to become the first owner of M800 in 1983, the model went on to clock a cumulative 100,000 units production in 1986-87.

time, M800 soon crossed the 500,000-unit cumulative production milestone in 1992-93.

This doubled to one million units by 1996-97, subsequently crossing the 1.5-million unit milestone in 1999-2000, 2 million units in 2002-03 and 2.5 million units in 2005-06.

It reigned as the people's car, despite others like Tata Nano attempting to challenge it later.

However, nothing lasts forever. With newer technologies coming in and safety and emission norms becoming stringent, Maruti Suzuki India (MSI) had to take the hard call of driving into the sunset what was once its breadwinner.

From January 18, 2014, the company stopped production of the M800 completely. By then, the M800 had clocked a cumulative production of 2.92 million units.

Before that, since April 2010, MSI had stopped selling Maruti 800 in 13 cities, including Hyderabad, Bengaluru, Kanpur, and Pune. The model sold a total of 2.68 million units in the domestic market and exported 240,000 units.

M800 not only altered the course of personal mobility in

India, but was also the cornerstone on which the then Maruti Udyog, a public sector enterprise, went on to become a dominant force in the automotive industry — proving everyone wrong from what started out as an "accident" doomed to fail.

As MSI chairman RC Bhargava once said, at a time when Hindustan Motors and Premier were not even allowed to import technology, a public sector company was founded in such a low priority area and was asked to bring in foreign equity.

"Everybody thought or believed that this was a political project, which in a way it was. The same belief was known to all the carmakers the world over. When initially the government and then Maruti approached carmakers for collaboration and become joint venture partners, nobody was willing to put in 40% equity in cash," he had said in an interview last year.

Global manufacturers were offering only second-hand equipment, dyes and fixtures. Suzuki was the only one willing to invest, for which Osamu Suzuki was severely criticised in Japan, Bhargava had said.

On that backdrop, the success of M800 helped Maruti to successfully traverse a journey that was not a smooth one by any means. The mention of M800 continues to evoke nostalgia among many to this day.

Dhoni's iconic No. 7 jersey no longer up for grabs for players

DEVENDRA PANDEY
Mumbai, December 14

MS DHONI'S ICONIC No. 7 jersey won't be seen on any other India cricketer. Three years after he hung his boots as an international cricketer, the Indian cricket board, in a tribute to his contribution to the sport, has decided to "retire" the number sported by the World Cup-winning captain.

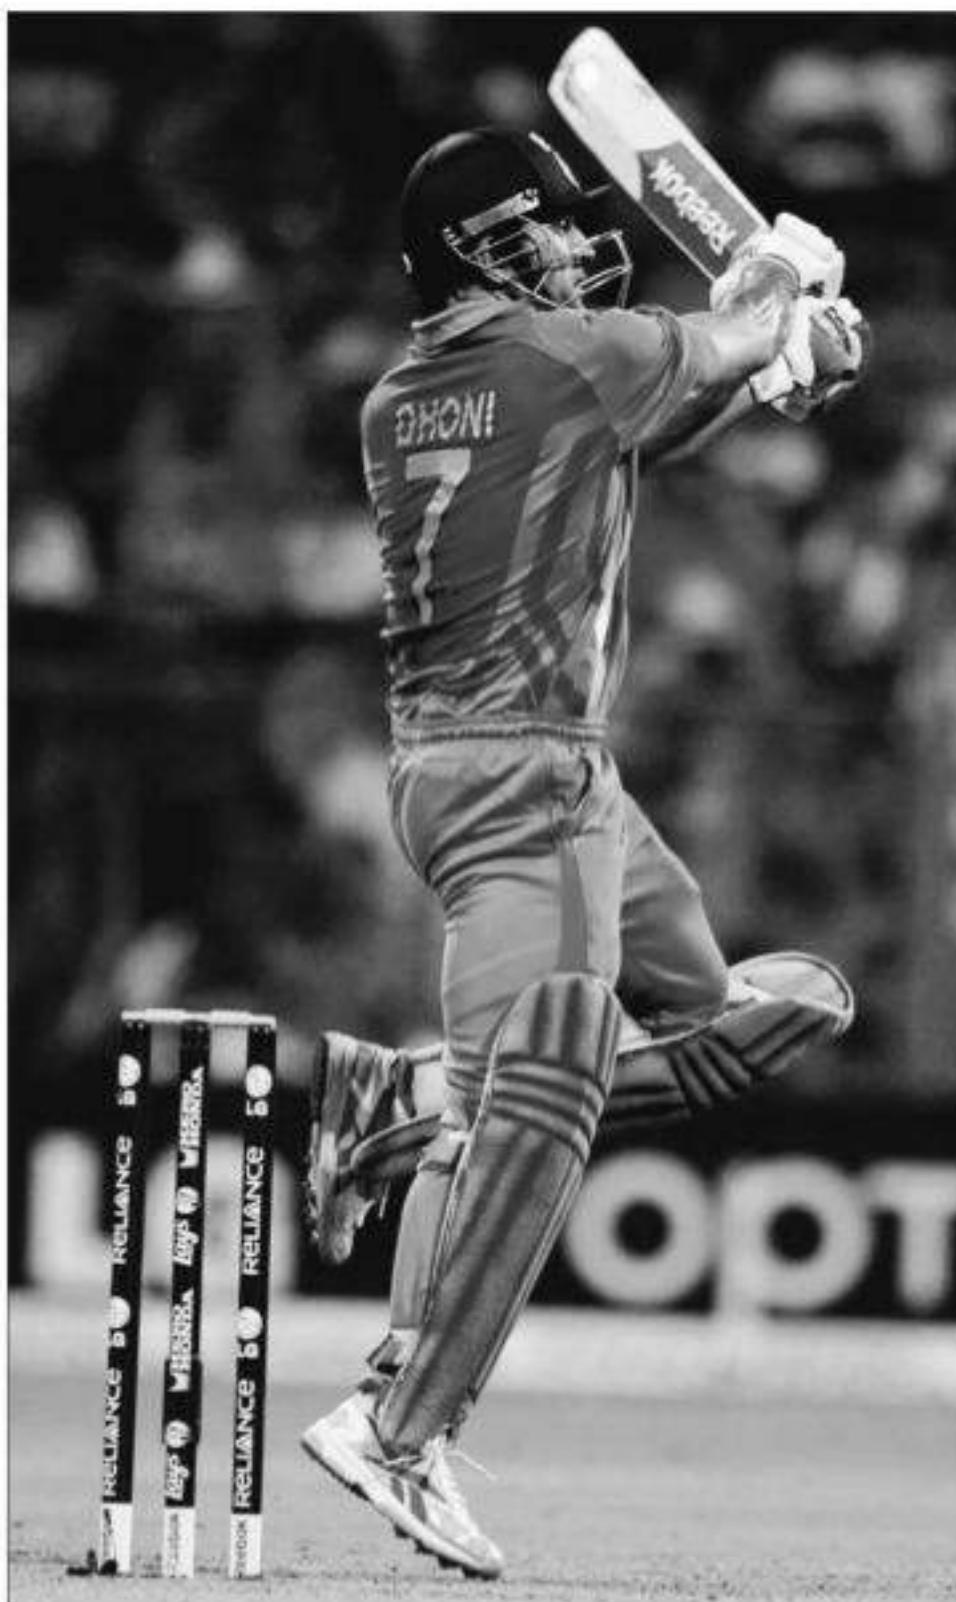

The only other cricketer bestowed a similar honour is Sachin Tendulkar; in 2017, his signature No. 10 jersey too was folded away for good.

It is learnt that the BCCI has informed players in the national team, especially debutants, that they don't have the option of numbers associated with Tendulkar and Dhoni.

"The young players and current Indian team players have been told not to pick MS Dhoni's Number 7 jersey. The BCCI has decided to retire Dhoni's T-shirt for his contribution to the game. A new player can't get No. 7, and No. 10 was already off the list of available numbers," said a senior Board official.

The BCCI's decision somewhat limits the choices for Team India players. As a rule, the ICC allows players to pick any number between 1 and 100, but in India, the options are limited. "At present, 60-odd numbers are designated to the regulars in the Indian team and those in contention. So even if a player is out of the team for about a year or so, we don't give away his number to a new player. That means a recent debutant has just 30-odd numbers to choose from," said a BCCI official.

Earlier this year, when 21-year-old opener Yashasvi Jaiswal was making his India debut, he was keen on No. 19, the number he has on his back when playing for Rajasthan Royals. However, since the number was designated to cricketer-turned-commentator Dinesh Karthik, no longer an India regular but still an active player, he went for No. 64.

Young players and current Indian team players have been told not to pick MS Dhoni's Number 7 jersey. The only other cricketer bestowed a similar honour is Sachin Tendulkar

Even at the junior level, there is a scramble for "iconic" numbers. During his U-19 days, the country's most-promising young batsman, Shubman Gill, couldn't get hold of the favourite No. 7 as it was already taken. He eventually settled for No. 77 and continues with the number even after graduating to the senior team.

Retiring jersey numbers of legendary players has been an old sporting tradition. For years now, no one at the Italian Serie A football club Napoli wears No. 10 since it was a number forever connected to their greatest player ever — Diego Maradona — who single-handedly won them the league titles in 1987 and 1990. The Chicago Bulls retired their No. 23 jersey for good after

Michael Jordan, arguably the greatest basketballer ever and the winner of six NBA titles, called it a day. The gesture was also an acknowledgment of the overwhelming emotion among the fans at Napoli and Chicago — that there can't be another Maradona or MJ, and thus, there can't be another No. 10 or No. 23.

This was also the thought when the BCCI first decided to retire Tendulkar's No. 10. Back in 2017, Mumbai fast bowler Shardul Thakur took the field wearing No. 10 and was promptly trolled by fans on social media. "Trying to be Sachin" was the trending hashtag then. The BCCI intervened and Thakur dutifully switched to 54.

Among the present India players with popular shirt numbers are Virat Kohli (18) and Rohit Sharma (45). Both have interesting back stories for their numbers.

"Eighteen started off just being a number that was given to me when I opened in that jersey for my first India Under-19. I never asked for it, it was just given to me. But then, it ended up becoming a very important number in my life. My debut came for India on August 18, 2008. My father passed away on December 18, 2006. Two of the most significant dates in my life happened to be 18," Kohli once told broadcaster Star Sports.

Sharma's reasons were different. "When I came to the Indian team, there were a lot of numbers already taken and I had asked my mother which number I should wear. She said 45 will be good for you and since then, I have been wearing it," Sharma told The Indian Express once. With 18 and 45 on the back of most fans when India plays, it wouldn't be a surprise if those jerseys are folded away in a post-Kohli and post-Rohit era.

Women voters set to equal men in 2024 polls

RUCHI BHATIA
& SWATI GUPTA
December 14

THE GENDER GAP among Indian voters is narrowing with the participation of women set to constitute about half of the turnout in the 2024 general elections, according to a report by State Bank of India.

"Rising participation of women in India's political arena is one of the most significant stories of the last decade," the report published by the bank's economic research department said on Thursday. "Women voters are now playing a significantly bigger role in elections than ever before."

The total voter turnout at the current rate of polling could touch 680 million by next year, of which women voters could be 330 million, the report estimates. That number could outstrip registered male voters in the 2029 polls. In 2014, the gender gap between voters was 30 million more men.

For decades, voting in India has been a male-dominated enterprise. Now increasingly, women are turning out to be an important decision-making group as they become more literate and educated leading to political parties specifically targeting them.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi's attempts at luring the bloc through the women's reservation bill, cooking gas

subsidies, cheaper loans and cash handouts have paid dividends at the polling booth for him and his Bharatiya Janata Party. Recently, in the state of Madhya Pradesh, women-focused welfare plans were widely credited as the reason behind the BJP retaining power. —BLOOMBERG

40 YEARS SINCE MARUTI 800'S LAUNCH

The 'people's car' that changed Indian roads

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, December 14

AT THE BRAND centre of Maruti Suzuki India's headquarters in south Delhi, among the many modern vehicles on display, a tiny 40-year-old white car occupies a prominent space. It is no ordinary car, but the first customer unit of the M800 — popularly known Maruti 800 — which revolutionised personal mobility in India.

Launched on December 14, 1983, when India was still under the licence raj, M800 was a witness as well as a beneficiary of the economic liberalisation when the country opened up in 1991, serving as a link between the old and new.

Lovingly referred to as the "people's car", M800 shook up the then sleepy passenger vehicles market in India, challenging the duopoly of Hindustan Motor's Ambassador and Premier Padmini. It soon became the symbol of aspiration for millions of middle class Indians.

From the handing over of the keys of the first unit to Harpal Singh, who won a lucky draw to become the first owner of M800 in 1983, the model went on to clock a cumulative 100,000 units production in 1986-87.

time, M800 soon crossed the 500,000-unit cumulative production milestone in 1992-93.

This doubled to one million units by 1996-97, subsequently crossing the 1.5-million unit milestone in 1999-2000, 2 million units in 2002-03 and 2.5 million units in 2005-06.

It reigned as the people's car, despite others like Tata Nano attempting to challenge it later.

However, nothing lasts forever. With newer technologies coming in and safety and emission norms becoming stringent, Maruti Suzuki India (MSI) had to take the hard call of driving into the sunset what was once its breadwinner.

From January 18, 2014, the company stopped production of the M800 completely. By then, the M800 had clocked a cumulative production of 2.92 million units.

Before that, since April 2010, MSI had stopped selling Maruti 800 in 13 cities, including Hyderabad, Bengaluru, Kanpur, and Pune. The model sold a total of 2.68 million units in the domestic market and exported 240,000 units.

M800 not only altered the course of personal mobility in

India, but was also the cornerstone on which the then Maruti Udyog, a public sector enterprise, went on to become a dominant force in the automotive industry — proving everyone wrong from what started out as an "accident" doomed to fail.

As MSI chairman RC Bhargava once said, at a time when Hindustan Motors and Premier were not even allowed to import technology, a public sector company was founded in such a low priority area and was asked to bring in foreign equity.

"Everybody thought or believed that this was a political project, which in a way it was. The same belief was known to all the carmakers the world over. When initially the government and then Maruti approached carmakers for collaboration and become joint venture partners, nobody was willing to put in 40% equity in cash," he had said in an interview last year.

Global manufacturers were offering only second-hand equipment, dyes and fixtures. Suzuki was the only one willing to invest, for which Osamu Suzuki was severely criticised in Japan, Bhargava had said.

On that backdrop, the success of M800 helped Maruti to successfully traverse a journey that was not a smooth one by any means. The mention of M800 continues to evoke nostalgia among many to this day.

Dhoni's iconic No. 7 jersey no longer up for grabs for players

DEVENDRA PANDEY
Mumbai, December 14

MS DHONI'S ICONIC No. 7 jersey won't be seen on any other India cricketer. Three years after he hung his boots as an international cricketer, the Indian cricket board, in a tribute to his contribution to the sport, has decided to "retire" the number sported by the World Cup-winning captain.

The only other cricketer bestowed a similar honour is Sachin Tendulkar; in 2017, his signature No. 10 jersey too was folded away for good.

It is learnt that the BCCI has informed players in the national team, especially debutants, that they don't have the option of numbers associated with Tendulkar and Dhoni.

"The young players and current Indian team players have been told not to pick MS Dhoni's Number 7 jersey. The BCCI has decided to retire Dhoni's T-shirt for his contribution to the game. A new player can't get No. 7, and No. 10 was already off the list of available numbers," said a senior Board official.

The BCCI's decision somewhat limits the choices for Team India players. As a rule, the ICC allows players to pick any number between 1 and 100, but in India, the options are limited. "At present, 60-odd numbers are designated to the regulars in the Indian team and those in contention. So even if a player is out of the team for about a year or so, we don't give away his number to a new player. That means a recent debutant has just 30-odd numbers to choose from," said a BCCI official.

Earlier this year, when 21-year-old opener Yashasvi Jaiswal was making his India debut, he was keen on No. 19, the number he has on his back when playing for Rajasthan Royals. However, since the number was designated to cricketer-turned-commentator Dinesh Karthik, no longer an India regular but still an active player, he went for No. 64.

Young players and current Indian team players have been told not to pick MS Dhoni's Number 7 jersey. The only other cricketer bestowed a similar honour is Sachin Tendulkar

Even at the junior level, there is a scramble for "iconic" numbers. During his U-19 days, the country's most-promising young batsman, Shubman Gill, couldn't get hold of the favourite No. 7 as it was already taken. He eventually settled for No. 77 and continues with the number even after graduating to the senior team.

Retiring jersey numbers of legendary players has been an old sporting tradition. For years now, no one at the Italian Serie A football club Napoli wears No. 10 since it was a number forever connected to their greatest player ever — Diego Maradona — who single-handedly won them the league titles in 1987 and 1990. The Chicago Bulls retired their No. 23 jersey for good after

Michael Jordan, arguably the greatest basketballer ever and the winner of six NBA titles, called it a day. The gesture was also an acknowledgment of the overwhelming emotion among the fans at Napoli and Chicago — that there can't be another Maradona or MJ, and thus, there can't be another No. 10 or No. 23.

This was also the thought when the BCCI first decided to retire Tendulkar's No. 10. Back in 2017, Mumbai fast bowler Shardul Thakur took the field wearing No. 10 and was promptly trolled by fans on social media. "Trying to be Sachin" was the trending hashtag then. The BCCI intervened and Thakur dutifully switched to 54.

Among the present India players with popular shirt numbers are Virat Kohli (18) and Rohit Sharma (45). Both have interesting back stories for their numbers.

"Eighteen started off just being a number that was given to me when I opened in that jersey for my first India Under-19. I never asked for it, it was just given to me. But then, it ended up becoming a very important number in my life. My debut came for India on August 18, 2008. My father passed away on December 18, 2006. Two of the most significant dates in my life happened to be 18," Kohli once told broadcaster Star Sports.

Sharma's reasons were different. "When I came to the Indian team, there were a lot of numbers already taken and I had asked my mother which number I should wear. She said 45 will be good for you and since then, I have been wearing it," Sharma told The Indian Express once. With 18 and 45 on the back of most fans when India plays, it wouldn't be a surprise if those jerseys are folded away in a post-Kohli and post-Rohit era.

Women voters set to equal men in 2024 polls

RUCHI BHATIA
& SWATI GUPTA
December 14

THE GENDER GAP among Indian voters is narrowing with the participation of women set to constitute about half of the turnout in the 2024 general elections, according to a report by State Bank of India.

"Rising participation of women in India's political arena is one of the most significant stories of the last decade," the report published by the bank's economic research department said on Thursday. "Women voters are now playing a significantly bigger role in elections than ever before."

The total voter turnout at the current rate of polling could touch 680 million by next year, of which women voters could be 330 million, the report estimates. That number could outstrip registered male voters in the 2029 polls. In 2014, the gender gap between voters was 30 million more men.

For decades, voting in India has been a male-dominated enterprise. Now increasingly, women are turning out to be an important decision-making group as they become more literate and educated leading to political parties specifically targeting them.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi's attempts at luring the bloc through the women's reservation bill, cooking gas

subsidies, cheaper loans and cash handouts have paid dividends at the polling booth for him and his Bharatiya Janata Party. Recently, in the state of Madhya Pradesh, women-focused welfare plans were widely credited as the reason behind the BJP retaining power. —BLOOMBERG

● 40 YEARS SINCE MARUTI 800'S LAUNCH

The 'people's car' that changed Indian roads

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, December 14

AT THE BRAND centre of Maruti Suzuki India's head-quarters in south Delhi, among the many modern vehicles on display, a tiny 40-year-old white car occupies a prominent space. It is no ordinary car, but the first customer unit of the M800 — popularly known Maruti 800 — which revolutionised personal mobility in India.

Launched on December 14, 1983, when India was still under the licence raj, M800 was a witness as well as a beneficiary of the economic liberalisation when the country opened up in 1991, serving as a link between the old and new.

Lovingly referred to as the “people’s car”, M800 shook up the then sleepy passenger vehicles market in India, challenging the duopoly of Hindustan Motor’s Ambassador and Premier Padmini. It soon became the symbol of aspiration for millions of middle class Indians.

From the handing over of the keys of the first unit to Harpal Singh, who won a lucky draw to become the first owner of M800 in 1983, the model went on to clock a cumulative 100,000 units production in 1986-87.

100,000 unit production milestone reached by 1986-87

2.92 mn units production till 2014, when it drove off into sunset

time, M800 soon crossed the 500,000-unit cumulative production milestone in 1992-93.

This doubled to one million units by 1996-97, subsequently crossing the 1.5-million unit milestone in 1999-2000, 2 million units in 2002-03 and 2.5 million units in 2005-06.

It reigned as the people’s car, despite others like Tata Nano attempting to challenge it later.

However, nothing lasts forever. With newer technologies coming in and safety and emission norms becoming stringent, Maruti Suzuki India (MSI) had to take the hard call of driving into the sunset what was once its breadwinner.

From January 18, 2014, the company stopped production of the M800 completely. By then, the M800 had clocked a cumulative production of 2.92 million units.

Before that, since April 2010, MSI had stopped selling Maruti 800 in 13 cities, including Hyderabad, Bengaluru, Kanpur, and Pune. The model sold a total of 2.68 million units in the domestic market and exported 240,000 units.

M800 not only altered the course of personal mobility in

India, but was also the cornerstone on which the then Maruti Udyog, a public sector enterprise, went on to become a dominant force in the automotive industry — proving everyone wrong from what started out as an “accident” doomed to fail.

As MSI chairman RC Bhargava once said, at a time when Hindustan Motors and Premier were not even allowed to import technology, a public sector company was founded in such a low priority area and was asked to bring in foreign equity.

“Everybody thought or believed that this was a political project, which in a way it was. The same belief was known to all the carmakers the world over. When initially the government and then Maruti approached carmakers for collaboration and become joint venture partners, nobody was willing to put in 40% equity in cash,” he had said in an interview last year.

Global manufacturers were offering only second-hand equipment, dyes and fixtures. Suzuki was the only one willing to invest, for which Osamu Suzuki was severely criticised in Japan, Bhargava had said.

On that backdrop, the success of M800 helped Maruti to successfully traverse a journey that was not a smooth one by any means. The mention of M800 continues to evoke nostalgia among many to this day.

subsidies, cheaper loans and cash handouts have paid dividends at the polling booth for him and his Bharatiya Janata Party. Recently, in the state of Madhya Pradesh, women-focused welfare plans were widely credited as the reason behind the BJP retaining power.

DEVENDRA PANDEY
Mumbai, December 14

MS DHONI’S ICONIC No. 7 jersey won’t be seen on any other India cricketer. Three years after he hung his boots as an international cricketer, the Indian cricket board, in a tribute to his contribution to the sport, has decided to “retire” the number sported by the World Cup-winning captain.

The only other cricketer bestowed a similar honour is Sachin Tendulkar; in 2017, his signature No. 10 jersey too was folded away for good.

It is learnt that the BCCI has informed players in the national team, especially debutants, that they don’t have the option of numbers associated with Tendulkar and Dhoni.

“The young players and current Indian team players have been told not to pick MS Dhoni’s Number 7 jersey. The BCCI has decided to retire Dhoni’s T-shirt for his contribution to the game. A new player can’t get No. 7, and No. 10 was already off the list of available numbers,” said a senior Board official.

The BCCI’s decision somewhat limits the choices for Team India players. As a rule, the ICC allows players to pick any number between 1 and 100, but in India, the options are limited. “At present, 60-odd numbers are designated to the regulars in the Indian team and those in contention. So even if a player is out of the team for about a year or so, we don’t give away his number to a new player. That means a recent debutant has just 30-odd numbers to choose from,” said a BCCI official.

Earlier this year, when 21-year-old opener Yashasvi Jaiswal was making his India debut, he was keen on No. 19, the number he has on his back when playing for Rajasthan Royals. However, since the number was designated to cricketer-turned-commentator Dinesh Karthik, no longer an India regular but still an active player, he went for No. 64.

Young players and current Indian team players have been told not to pick MS Dhoni’s Number 7 jersey. The only other cricketer bestowed a similar honour is Sachin Tendulkar

Even at the junior level, there is a scramble for “iconic” numbers. During his U-19 days, the country’s most-promising young batsman, Shubman Gill, couldn’t get hold of the favourite No. 7 as it was already taken. He eventually settled for No. 77 and continues with the number even after graduating to the senior team.

Retiring jersey numbers of legendary players has been an old sporting tradition. For years now, no one at the Italian Serie A football club Napoli wears No. 10 since it was a number forever connected to their greatest player ever — Diego Maradona — who single-handedly won them the league titles in 1987 and 1990. The Chicago Bulls retired their No. 23 jersey for good after

Michael Jordan, arguably the greatest basketballer ever and the winner of six NBA titles, called it a day. The gesture was also an acknowledgment of the overwhelming emotion among the fans at Napoli and Chicago — that there can’t be another Maradona or MJ, and thus, there can’t be another No. 10 or No. 23.

This was also the thought when the BCCI first decided to retire Tendulkar’s No. 10. Back in 2017, Mumbai fast bowler Shardul Thakur took the field wearing No. 10 and was promptly trolled by fans on social media. “Trying to be Sachin” was the trending hashtag then. The BCCI intervened and Thakur dutifully switched to 54.

Among the present India players with popular shirt numbers are Virat Kohli (18) and Rohit Sharma (45). Both have interesting back stories for their numbers.

“Eighteen started off just being a number that was given to me when I opened in that jersey for my first India Under-19. I never asked for it, it was just given to me. But then, it ended up becoming a very important number in my life. My debut came for India on August 18, 2008. My father passed away on December 18, 2006. Two of the most significant dates in my life happened to be 18,” Kohli once told broadcaster Star Sports.

Sharma’s reasons were different. “When I came to the Indian team, there were a lot of numbers already taken and I had asked my mother which number I should wear. She said 45 will be good for you and since then, I have been wearing it,” Sharma told The Indian Express once. With 18 and 45 on the back of most fans when India plays, it wouldn’t be a surprise if those jerseys are folded away in a post-Kohli and post-Rohit era.

Women voters set to equal men in 2024 polls

RUCHI BHATIA
& SWATI GUPTA
December 14

THE GENDER GAP among Indian voters is narrowing with the participation of women set to constitute about half of the turnout in the 2024 general elections, according to a report by State Bank of India. “Rising participation of women in India’s political arena is one of the most significant stories of the last decade,” the report published by the bank’s economic research department said on Thursday. “Women voters are now playing a significantly bigger role in elections than ever before.”

The total voter turnout at the current rate of polling could touch 680 million by next year, of which women voters could be 330 million, the report estimates. That number could outstrip registered male voters in the 2029 polls. In 2014, the gender gap between voters was 30 million more men.

For decades, voting in India has been a male-dominated enterprise. Now increasingly, women are turning out to be an important decision-making group as they become more literate and educated leading to political parties specifically targeting them.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi’s attempts at luring the bloc through the women’s reservation bill, cooking gas

subsidies, cheaper loans and cash handouts have paid dividends at the polling booth for him and his Bharatiya Janata Party. Recently, in the state of Madhya Pradesh, women-focused welfare plans were widely credited as the reason behind the BJP retaining power.

40 YEARS SINCE MARUTI 800'S LAUNCH

The 'people's car' that changed Indian roads

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, December 14

AT THE BRAND centre of Maruti Suzuki India's head-quarters in south Delhi, among the many modern vehicles on display, a tiny 40-year-old white car occupies a prominent space. It is no ordinary car, but the first customer unit of the M800 — popularly known Maruti 800 — which revolutionised personal mobility in India.

Launched on December 14, 1983, when India was still under the licence raj, M800 was a witness as well as a beneficiary of the economic liberalisation when the country opened up in 1991, serving as a link between the old and new.

Lovingly referred to as the “people’s car”, M800 shook up the then sleepy passenger vehicles market in India, challenging the duopoly of Hindustan Motor’s Ambassador and Premier Padmini. It soon became the symbol of aspiration for millions of middle class Indians.

From the handing over of the keys of the first unit to Harpal Singh, who won a lucky draw to become the first owner of M800 in 1983, the model went on to clock a cumulative 100,000 units production in 1986-87.

Equipped with far better technology from Suzuki compared to the other products available in the market at the time, M800 soon crossed the 500,000-unit cumulative production milestone in 1992-93.

This doubled to one million units by 1996-97, subsequently crossing the 1.5-million unit milestone in 1999-2000, 2 million units in 2002-03 and 2.5 million units in 2005-06.

It reigned as the people’s car, despite others like Tata Nano attempting to challenge it later.

However, nothing lasts forever. With newer technologies coming in and safety and emission norms becoming stringent, Maruti Suzuki India (MSI) had to take the hard call of driving into the sunset what was once its breadwinner.

From January 18, 2014, the company stopped production of the M800 completely. By then, the M800 had clocked a cumulative production of 2.92 million units.

Before that, since April 2010, MSI had stopped selling Maruti 800 in 13 cities, including Hyderabad, Bengaluru, Kanpur, and Pune. The model sold a total of 2.68 million units in the domestic market and exported 240,000 units.

M800 not only altered the course of personal mobility in

India, but was also the cornerstone on which the then Maruti Udyog, a public sector enterprise, went on to become a dominant force in the automotive industry — proving everyone wrong from what started out as an “accident” doomed to fail.

As MSI chairman RC Bhargava once said, at a time when Hindustan Motors and Premier were not even allowed to import technology, a public sector company was founded in such a low priority area and was asked to bring in foreign equity.

“Everybody thought or believed that this was a political project, which in a way it was. The same belief was known to all the carmakers the world over. When initially the government and then Maruti approached carmakers for collaboration and become joint venture partners, nobody was willing to put in 40% equity in cash,” he had said in an interview last year.

Global manufacturers were offering only second-hand equipment, dyes and fixtures. Suzuki was the only one willing to invest, for which Osamu Suzuki was severely criticised in Japan, Bhargava had said.

On that backdrop, the success of M800 helped Maruti to successfully traverse a journey that was not a smooth one by any means. The mention of M800 continues to evoke nostalgia among many to this day.

subsidies, cheaper loans and cash handouts have paid dividends at the polling booth for him and his Bharatiya Janata Party. Recently, in the state of Madhya Pradesh, women-focused welfare plans were widely credited as the reason behind the BJP retaining power.

DEVENDRA PANDEY
Mumbai, December 14

MS DHONI’S ICONIC No. 7 jersey won’t be seen on any other India cricketer. Three years after he hung his boots as an international cricketer, the Indian cricket board, in a tribute to his contribution to the sport, has decided to “retire” the number sported by the World Cup-winning captain.

The only other cricketer bestowed a similar honour is Sachin Tendulkar; in 2017, his signature No. 10 jersey too was folded away for good.

It is learnt that the BCCI has informed players in the national team, especially debutants, that they don’t have the option of numbers associated with Tendulkar and Dhoni.

“The young players and current Indian team players have been told not to pick MS Dhoni’s Number 7 jersey. The BCCI has decided to retire Dhoni’s T-shirt for his contribution to the game. A new player can’t get No. 7, and No. 10 was already off the list of available numbers,” said a senior Board official.

The BCCI’s decision somewhat limits the choices for Team India players. As a rule, the ICC allows players to pick any number between 1 and 100, but in India, the options are limited. “At present, 60-odd numbers are designated to the regulars in the Indian team and those in contention. So even if a player is out of the team for about a year or so, we don’t give away his number to a new player. That means a recent debutant has just 30-odd numbers to choose from,” said a BCCI official.

Earlier this year, when 21-year-old opener Yashvi Jaiswal was making his India debut, he was keen on No. 19, the number he has on his back when playing for Rajasthan Royals. However, since the number was designated to cricketer-turned-commentator Dinesh Karthik, no longer an India regular but still an active player, he went for No. 64.

Even at the junior level, there is a scramble for “iconic” numbers. During his U-19 days, the country’s most-promising young batsman, Shubman Gill, couldn’t get hold of the favourite No. 7 as it was already taken. He eventually settled for No. 77 and continues with the number even after graduating to the senior team.

Retiring jersey numbers of legendary players has been an old sporting tradition. For years now, no one at the Italian Serie A football club Napoli wears No. 10 since it was a number forever connected to their greatest player ever — Diego Maradona — who single-handedly won them the league titles in 1987 and 1990. The Chicago Bulls retired their No. 23 jersey for good after

Michael Jordan, arguably the greatest basketballer ever and the winner of six NBA titles, called it a day. The gesture was also an acknowledgment of the overwhelming emotion among the fans at Napoli and Chicago — that there can’t be another Maradona or MJ, and thus, there can’t be another No. 10 or No. 23.

This was also the thought when the BCCI first decided to retire Tendulkar’s No. 10. Back in 2017, Mumbai fast bowler Shardul Thakur took the field wearing No. 10 and was promptly trolled by fans on social media. “Trying to be Sachin” was the trending hashtag then. The BCCI intervened and Thakur dutifully switched to 54.

Among the present India players with popular shirt numbers are Virat Kohli (18) and Rohit Sharma (45). Both have interesting back stories for their numbers.

“Eighteen started off just being a number that was given to me when I opened in that jersey for my first India Under-19. I never asked for it, it was just given to me. But then, it ended up becoming a very important number in my life. My debut came for India on August 18, 2008. My father passed away on December 18, 2006. Two of the most significant dates in my life happened to be 18,” Kohli once told broadcaster Star Sports.

Sharma’s reasons were different. “When I came to the Indian team, there were a lot of numbers already taken and I had asked my mother which number I should wear. She said 45 will be good for you and since then, I have been wearing it,” Sharma told The Indian Express once. With 18 and 45 on the back of most fans when India plays, it wouldn’t be a surprise if those jerseys are folded away in a post-Kohli and post-Rohit era.

Women voters set to equal men in 2024 polls

RUCHI BHATIA

December 14

THE GENDER GAP among Indian voters is narrowing with the participation of women set to constitute about half of the turnout in the 2024 general elections, according to a report by State Bank of India. “Rising participation of women in India’s political arena is one of the most significant stories of the last decade,” the report published by the bank’s economic research department said on Thursday. “Women voters are now playing a significantly bigger role in elections than ever before.”

The total voter turnout at the current rate of polling could touch 680 million by next year, of which women voters could be 330 million, the report estimates. That number could strip registered male voters in the 2029 polls. In 2014, the gender gap between voters was 30 million more men.

For decades, voting in India has been a male-dominated enterprise. Now increasingly, women are turning out to be an important decision-making group as they become more literate and educated leading to political parties specifically targeting them.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi’s attempts at luring the bloc through the women’s reservation bill, cooking gas

subsidies, cheaper loans and cash handouts have paid dividends at the polling booth for him and his Bharatiya Janata Party. Recently, in the state of Madhya Pradesh, women-focused welfare plans were widely credited as the reason behind the BJP retaining power.

वॉशिंग्टन : अमेरिकेचे अध्यक्ष जो बायडेन यांच्याविरोधात महाभियोग चौकशी करण्यास काँग्रेसचे कनिष्ठ सभागृह असलेल्या ‘हाऊस ऑफ रिप्रेझेंटेटिव्ह’ने बुधवारी २२१ विरुद्ध २१२ मताने मंजुरी दिली. डेमोक्रॅटिक पक्षाच्या बायडेन यांची चौकशी व्हावी अशी रिपब्लिकन पक्षाकडून एकजुटीने मागणी करण्यात आली. मात्र, बायडेन यांनी गैरवर्तन केल्याचे कोणतेही पुरावे रिपब्लिकन पक्षाने अद्याप सादर केलेले नाहीत.

ध्येय साध्य झाल्याशिवाय शांतता नाही!

मॉस्को : रशियाने ठरवलेले ध्येय साध्य झाल्याशिवाय युक्रेनमध्ये शांतता नांदणार नाही असे वक्तव्य रशियाचे अध्यक्ष व्लादिमिर पुतिन यांनी गुरुवारी केले. हे ध्येय अद्याप साध्य झाले नसल्याचेही त्यांनी सांगितले. वर्षाअखेर घेतल्या जाणाऱ्या पत्रकार परिषदेत पुतिन बोलत होते. या पत्रकार परिषदेच्या माध्यमातून पुतिन सत्तेवरील आपली पकड अधिक घट्ट करण्याचा प्रयत्न करत असल्याचे मानले जाते.

यावेळी बोलताना पुतिन यांनी

चौघांविरोधात ‘यूपीए’अंतर्गत गुन्हे

सुनियोजित कटाचा पोलिसांना संशय, सहाव्या संशयिताचा शोध सुरू

लोकसत्ता विशेष प्रतिनिधी

नवी दिल्ली : संसदेतील सुरक्षाभंग प्रकरणात अटक केलेल्या चौघा संशयितांविरोधात दहशतवादविरोधी कायद्याअंतर्गत (यूपीए) गुन्हे दाखल करण्यात आले आहेत. मनोरंजन डी, सागर शर्मा, अमोल शिंदे आणि नीलम देवी यांना एनआयए प्रकरणासाठी असलेले विशेष न्यायाधीश हरदीप कौर यांच्यासमोर हजर करण्यात आले. पोलिसांनी त्यांची १५ दिवसांची कोठडी मागितली. मात्र, न्यायाधीशांनी सात दिवसांची पोलीस कोठडी मंजूर केली.

या सुनियोजित कटामध्ये सहा जणांचा समावेश असून त्यांनी संसदेमध्ये गोंधळ माजवण्यापूर्वी रेकी केल्याचे प्राथमिक तपासमध्ये उघड झाल्याचे दिल्ली पोलिसांचे म्हणणे आहे.

संसदेच्या नव्या इमारतीतील लोकसभेच्या सभागृहामध्ये उडी मारून धुराची नळकांडी फोडणाऱ्या सागर शर्मा व मनोरंजन या दोघांना

नीलम देवी

सागर शर्मा

अमोल शिंदे

मनोरंजन डी, सागर शर्मा, अमोल शिंदे आणि नीलम देवी यांना विशेष न्यायाधीश हरदीप कौर यांच्या न्यायालयात हजर करण्यात आले. न्यायालयाने चौघांना सात दिवसांची पोलीस कोठडी सुनावली.

सभागृहामध्ये ताब्यात घेण्यात आले. संसदेच्या समोरील परिवहन भवनासमोर घोषणाबाजी करून धुराची नळकांडी फोडणाऱ्या अमोल शिंदे व नीलम देवी या दोन्ही साथीदारांना दिल्ली पोलिसांनी अटक केली. त्यांचा अन्य सहकारी विशाल शर्मा यालाही पोलिसांनी ताब्यात घेतले असून गुरग्राम येथील विक्रीच्या घरात सहाही संशयित

राहात असल्याचे पोलिसांचे म्हणणे आहे. सहावा संशयित ललितला पकडण्यासाठी विविध ठिकाणी छापे टाकण्यात आले आहेत. या सहा जणांविरोधात संसद मार्ग पोलीस ठाण्यात गुन्हे दाखल करण्यात आले आहेत.

अटक केलेल्या चौघांचा दहशतवादी संघटनांशी संबंध नसल्याचे प्राथमिक चौकशीतून स्पष्ट

बेरोजगारीमुळे नैराश्य

म्हैसूरमधील मनोरंजन हा कम्प्युटर इंजिनीअर असून सागर याने लखनौमधून पदवीचे शिक्षण पूर्ण केले आहे. लातूरचा अमोल शिंदे व नीलमही पदवीधर आहेत. हे चौघेही बेरोजगार असून नोकरी न मिळाल्याने वैफल्यग्रस्त झाले असल्याचे पोलिसांचे म्हणणे आहे. बेरोजगारी, महागाई आदी विषय केंद्र सरकारसमोर मांडण्यासाठी हे कृत्य केल्याचा दावा या चौघांनी केला आहे. समाजमाध्यमांद्वारे हे सहाही जण एकमेकांच्या संपर्कात आले होते.

झाले असले तरी, अधिक तपास केला जात आहे. पोलिसांना चकमा दिलेला ललित झा हा शहीद भगतसिंह यांच्या विचारांनी प्रभावित झाला होता.

लोकसभेच्या सभागृहामध्ये उडी टाकताना सागर शर्मा व मनोरंजन या दोघांनी ‘तानाशाही नही चलेगी’, अशी घोषणाबाजी केली होते. १३ डिसेंबर २००१ रोजी संसदेवर

दहशतवादी हल्ला झाला होता, त्याच दिवशी या चौघांनी संसदेमध्ये सुरक्षाभंग केला असल्याने पोलीस संभाव्य दहशतवादी संघटनांच्या संबंधांचा तपास करत आहेत.

या गुन्ह्यात सहभागी झालेल्या सहाही संशयितांनी सुनियोजितपणे हे कृत्य केले आहे. संसदेमध्ये धुराची नळकांडी फोडण्याचे कृत्य करण्यापूर्वी रेकीही केली होती. मनोरंजन व सागर यांनी यापूर्वीही जुन्या संसद भवनामध्ये जाऊन प्रेक्षक कक्षेतून अधिवेशनाचे कामकाज पाहिले होते. संसदेमध्ये प्रवेश करताना सुरक्षा व्यवस्थेचाही अंदाज घेतला होता.

गुरग्राममधील ललित झा याच्या घरी १० डिसेंबर रोजी सहाही संशयित भेटले होते. तिथेच त्यांनी १३ डिसेंबरला संसदेमध्ये गोंधळ माजवण्याचे ठरवले. त्यानुसार बुधवारी सकाळी नऊच्या सुमारास सागर शर्मा याने भाजपचे खासदार प्रताप सिन्हा यांच्या स्वाक्षरी असलेल्या पत्राच्या आधारे संसदेची प्रवेशिका मिळवली होती.

घटनाक्रम

- २०२२मध्ये ललित झा, सागर शर्मा आणि मनोरंजन डी यांची मैसूर येथे भेट
- या भेटीत देशाचे लक्ष वेधून घेण्यासाठी संसदेत घुसखोरीची योजना तयार
- नीलम देवी आणि अमोल शिंदे हेही नंतर सहभागी
- समाजमाध्यमावर चार वर्षे एकमेकांच्या संपर्कात राहिल्यानंतर फेसबुकवरील ‘भगत सिंग फॅन’ पेजचे सदस्य

- मुख्य सूत्रधार ललित झाच्या सूचनेवरून मनोरंजनने जुलैमध्ये पावसाली अधिवेशनादरम्यान संसद भवनाची रेकी केली
- या रेकीमध्ये, अभ्यागातांचे बूट तपासत नसल्याचे लक्षात आले
- पावडी जण रविवारी गुरग्रामचा रहिवासी विशाल शर्मांच्या घरी जमले, तिथेच मंगळवारपर्यंत राहिले

- बुधवारी सकाळी पाचहीजण संसद भवनाकडे निघाले. सागरने मैसूर-कोडागुचे भाजप खासदार प्रताप सिन्हा यांच्याकडून अभ्यागातांसाठी प्रवेशिका मिळवल्या होत्या.
- सागर आणि मनोरंजनने नवीन संसद भवनामध्ये प्रवेश केला आणि अभ्यागातच्या गॅलरीपर्यंत पोहोचले. दुपारी १च्या सुमाराला सागरने गॅलरीमधून लोकसभेत उडी मारली.

- मनोरंजननेसुद्धा उडी मारण्याचा प्रयत्न केला, तो गॅलरीच्या रेलिंगवर लटकताना दिसला.
- बुटामध्ये लपवून आणलेल्या पुंगळ्यांमधून पिवळ्या रंगाचा वायू सोडला, खासदारांनी त्यांना पकडून सुरक्षा रक्षकांच्या ताब्यात दिले.
- त्याच वेळी नीलम आणि अमोलने संसद भवनाच्या बाहेर त्याच प्रकारच्या पुंगळ्यांमधून वायू सोडला आणि घोषणाबाजी केली.
- त्यांच्याबरोबर असलेल्या ललितने त्यांचे चित्रीकरण करून इन्टरग्रामवर वित्प्रीत प्रसिद्ध केली.

- पोलिसांनी नीलम व अमोलला पकडले, ललित पळून जाण्यात यशस्वी
- सागर, मनोरंजन, नीलम आणि अमोलला संसद मार्ग पोलीस ठाण्यात नेण्यात आले, तिथे त्यांची चौकशी करण्यात आली.
- पोलिसांनी विशाल आणि त्याच्या पत्नीलाही गुरग्राममधून अटक केली.
- अनेक तास चौकशीनंतर पोलिसांनी सागर, मनोरंजन, नीलम आणि अमोलला यूपीएअंतर्गत अटक केली.
- पोलीस या प्रकरणी तपास करत आहेत आणि ललित झाचा शोध सुरू आहे.

कर्नाटक भाजप आमदारांची काँग्रेसच्या भोजनाला उपस्थिती

पक्षाकडून गंभीर दखल,

स्पष्टीकरण मागणार

पीटीआय, बेळगाव

कर्नाटकमधील भाजपच्या तीन आमदारांनी काँग्रेसने बुधवारी रात्री आयोजित केलेल्या भोजनाला उपस्थिती लावल्याची गंभीर दखल घेण्यात आल्याचे भाजपचे प्रदेशाध्यक्ष बी वाय विजयेंद्र यांनी गुरुवारी स्पष्ट केले. या आमदारांकडून स्पष्टीकरण मागितले जाईल असे त्यांनी सांगितले. बुधवारी काँग्रेसच्या विधिमंडळ पक्षाची बैठक झाली, त्यानंतर रात्रीचे भोजन आयोजित करण्यात

आले होते. त्याला ए सी सोमशेखर, शिवराम हेब्बर आणि सी एच विश्वनाथ यांनी हजेरी लावली. यापैकी सोमशेखर आणि हेब्बर हे विधानसभेचे तर विश्वनाथ हे विधान परिषदेचे सदस्य आहेत. दरम्यान, हे आमदार केवळ भोजनाला उपस्थित होते, विधिमंडळ पक्षाच्या बैठकीला नाही असे कर्नाटकचे काँग्रेस प्रदेशाध्यक्ष आणि उपमुख्यमंत्री डी के शिवकुमार यांनी सांगितले.

मथुरेमधील कृष्णजन्मभूमी मंदिराला लागून असलेल्या शाही इदगाह परिसराचे न्यायालयाच्या देखरेखीखाली सर्वेक्षण करण्यास अलाहाबाद उच्च न्यायालयाने गुरुवारी परवानगी दिली. मशिदीच्या सर्वेक्षणावर देखरेख ठेवण्यासाठी वकील आयुक्तांची (अॅडव्होकेट कमिशनर) नियुक्ती करायला न्यायालयाने सहमती दर्शवली. या वादासंबंधी असलेल्या सर्व याचिका उच्च न्यायालयाने मे महिन्यात स्वतःकडे वर्ग करून घेतल्या होत्या. कृष्ण जन्मभूमी मंदिर परिसरातील मंदिर पाडून त्याजागी

मुघल बादशाह औरंगजेबने मशीद बांधल्याचा याचिकाकर्त्यांचा दावा आहे. हे सर्वेक्षण कशा प्रकारे करावे यासंबंधी १८ डिसेंबरला होणाऱ्या सुनावणीत चर्चा केली जाईल असे न्यायालयाने सांगितले. अॅड. विष्णू शंकर जैन यांनी दिलेल्या माहितीनुसार, उच्च न्यायालयात सादर करण्यात आलेल्या अर्जांमध्ये असे नमूद करण्यात आले आहे की,

मशिदीच्या परिसरात हिंदू मंदिरांचे वैशिष्ट्य असलेले कमळ्याच्या आकाराचे स्तंभ आहेत तसेच तिथे शेषनागाची प्रतिमाही आहे. या स्तंभाच्या तळाशी हिंदू धार्मिक प्रतीके आणि खोदकाम असल्याचा दावाही न्यायालयासमोर करण्यात आला आहे.

गेल्या काही महिन्यांमध्ये मंदिर-मशीद वादामध्ये उच्च न्यायालयाने सर्वेक्षणाला मंजुरी देण्याचे हे दुसरे प्रकरण आहे. यापूर्वी वाराणसीमधील काशी विश्वनाथ मंदिरालगतच्या ज्ञानवापी मशीद संकुलामध्ये सर्वेक्षण करण्याचा आदेश अलाहाबाद उच्च न्यायालयाने दिला आहे.

इलेक्ट्रॉनिक उपकरणे जप्तीसंबंधी नियमावलीवर विचारमंथन सुरू

पीटीआय, नवी दिल्ली

गुन्ह्यांच्या तपासादरम्यान व्यक्तींकडून विशेषतः माध्यमाशी संबंधित लोकांकडून मोबाइल फोन आणि लॅपटॉपसारखी इलेक्ट्रॉनिक उपकरणे जप्त करण्यासंबंधी नियमावली तयार करण्यासाठी

चर्चेच्या अनेक फेऱ्या झाल्या आहेत, अशी माहिती केंद्र सरकारने सर्वोच्च न्यायालयाने गुरुवारी दिली. ‘फाउंडेशन फॉर मीडिया प्रोफेशनल’ आणि अन्य एका याचिकाकर्त्यांनी यासंबंधी सर्वोच्च न्यायालयात दाखल केलेल्या याचिकांवर ही सुनावणी झाली.

यासंबंधी नवीन मार्गदर्शक तत्त्वे निश्चित केली जाईपर्यंत, केंद्रीय तपास यंत्रणा अशा उपकरणांची झडती आणि जप्ती यासंबंधी सीबीआयच्या नियमावलीचे पालन करतील असे केंद्रातर्फे सर्वोच्च न्यायालयाला सांगण्यात आले. अतिरिक्त महान्यायअधिकर्ता

(एएसजी) एस व्ही राजू यांनी केंद्र सरकारची बाजू मांडताना न्या. संजय किशन कोल आणि न्या. सुश्रांशु धुलिया यांच्या खंडपीठाला सांगितले की, संबंधित अधिकाऱ्यांनी प्रस्तावित नियमावलीबद्दल अनेक वेळा चर्चा केली आहे.

सर्वोच्च न्यायालयाने ७ नोव्हेंबरला केंद्र सरकारला यासंबंधी मार्गदर्शक तत्त्वे ठरवण्यास सांगितले होते. कोणत्याही नियमांचे पालन न करता लोकांकडून उपकरणे जप्त करणे ही गंभीर बाब असल्याचे न्यायालयाने नमूद केले होते.

लोकसभेत बुधवारी झालेल्या घटनेनंतर, संसदभवनाच्या आवारात गुरुवारी कडकोट सुरक्षा व्यवस्था ठेवण्यात आली.

संसदेच्या आवारातील सुरक्षा अधिक कडक

लोकसभा सचिवालयातील

८ सुरक्षा जवान निलंबित

लोकसत्ता विशेष प्रतिनिधी

नवी दिल्ली : संसदेच्या सुरक्षेमध्ये झालेल्या त्रुटीला जबाबदार धरत लोकसभा सचिवालयातील ८ सुरक्षा जवानांना गुरुवारी निलंबित करण्यात आले. संसदभवनाच्या प्रवेशद्वारावर हे सुरक्षा जवान बुधवारी तैनात होते. त्यांच्या हलगर्जीपणामुळे दोन व्यक्ती बुटांमध्ये धुराची नळकांडे लपवून लोकसभेच्या प्रेक्षकगृहात व सभागृहात घुसल्या होत्या. संसदेच्या सुरक्षाभंगाच्या प्रकरणात सचिवालयाने केलेली ही पहिली मोठी काव्याई आहे.

या प्रकरणाची लोकसभा सचिवालयाने तसेच, केंद्रीय गृह मंत्रालयानेही उच्चस्तरीय चौकशी सुरू केली आहे. केंद्रीय राखीव पोलीस दलाचे प्रमुखांच्या देखरेखीखाली गृह मंत्रालयाकडून चौकशी केला जात आहे. पंतप्रधान मोदींच्या गुरुवारी झालेल्या बैठकीनंतर केंद्र सरकारनेही

सुरक्षा व्यवस्थेपुढील आव्हाने

संसदभवनातील सुरक्षा व्यवस्थेची पूर्ण जबाबदारी संसदेच्या सुरक्षा यंत्रणेकडे असते. पण, या विभागाकडे मनुष्यबळाची कमतरता असून २०१४ पासून या विभागामध्ये सुरक्षा रक्षकांची भरती झाली नसल्याचे सांगितले जात आहे. या विभागाकडून भरतीची मागणी करण्यात आल्याचेही समजते. पूर्वी एका संसदभवनात सुरक्षा करावी लागत असे. आता दोन्ही संसदभवनामध्येही सुरक्षा पुरवावी लागत असल्याने मनुष्यबळ विभागले जाते.

चौकशी समिती नियुक्तीचा निर्णय घेतला आहे.

खासदार, त्यांचे स्वीय सचिव व पत्रकार यांनाच संसदेच्या आवारात प्रवेश दिला जात होता. त्याव्यतिरिक्त अन्य लोकांना प्रेक्षक दिला जात नसल्याने संसदेच्या आवारात तुलनेत शांतता होती. नव्या इमारतीच्या मुख्य प्रवेशद्वार असलेल्या मकरद्वारातून फक्त खासदारांना आत जाण्यास मुभा देण्यात आली होती.

केंद्राविरोधात केरळ सर्वोच्च न्यायालयात

मुख्यमंत्री पिनराई

विजयन यांची माहिती

पीटीआय, कोट्टायम

केंद्र सरकारच्या आर्थिक उपाययोजना ‘घटनाबाह्य आणि बेकायदा’ असल्याचा आरोप करत केरळ सरकारने त्याविरोधात सर्वोच्च न्यायालयात धाव घेतली आहे. राज्याचे घटनात्मक अधिकार परत मिळवण्यासाठी हे पाऊल उचलल्याची माहिती राज्याचे मुख्यमंत्री पिनराई विजयन यांनी गुरुवारी दिली.

भाजपच्या नेतृत्वाखालील केंद्र सरकारच्या ‘घटनाबाह्य आणि

बेकायदा’ आर्थिक उपाययोजनांमुळे राज्य कमालीच्या आर्थिक अडचणीत सापडल्याचे पिनराई विजयन म्हणाले.

‘केंद्राच्या भेदभावपूर्ण कृतींविरोधात राज्य सरकारने वारंवार संवाद साधूनही केंद्राने आपल्या सुडात्मक कारवाया सुरूच ठेवल्या, त्यामुळे केरळला तग धरणे कठीण झाले’, असा आरोप विजयन यांनी केला. केंद्राने राज्याच्या आर्थिक स्वायत्तेवर अतिक्रमण करणे थांबवावे अशी विनंतीही त्यांनी केली. केंद्राने आपले अतिक्रमण थांबवले नाही तर केरळ आर्थिक संकटात सापडेल असा इशाराही त्यांनी दिला.

म्हैसूरमधील मनोरंजन हा कम्प्युटर इंजिनीअर असून सागर याने लखनौमधून पदवीचे शिक्षण पूर्ण केले आहे. लातूरचा अमोल शिंदे व नीलमही पदवीधर आहेत. हे चौघेही बेरोजगार असून नोकरी न मिळाल्याने वैफल्यग्रस्त झाले असल्याचे पोलिसांचे म्हणणे आहे. बेरोजगारी, महागाई आदी विषय केंद्र सरकारसमोर मांडण्यासाठी हे कृत्य केल्याचा दावा या चौघांनी केला आहे. समाजमाध्यमांद्वारे हे सहाही जण एकमेकांच्या संपर्कात आले होते.

दहशतवादी हल्ला झाला होता, त्याच दिवशी या चौघांनी संसदेमध्ये सुरक्षाभंग केला असल्याने पोलीस संभाव्य दहशतवादी संघटनांच्या संबंधांचा तपास करत आहेत.

या गुन्ह्यात सहभागी झालेल्या सहाही संशयितांनी सुनियोजितपणे हे कृत्य केले आहे. संसदेमध्ये धुराची नळकांडी फोडण्याचे कृत्य करण्यापूर्वी रेकीही केली होती. मनोरंजन व सागर यांनी यापूर्वीही जुन्या संसद भवनामध्ये जाऊन प्रेक्षक कक्षेतून अधिवेशनाचे कामकाज पाहिले होते. संसदेमध्ये प्रवेश करताना सुरक्षा व्यवस्थेचाही अंदाज घेतला होता.

गुरग्राममधील ललित झा याच्या घरी १० डिसेंबर रोजी सहाही संशयित भेटले होते. तिथेच त्यांनी १३ डिसेंबरला संसदेमध्ये गोंधळ माजवण्याचे ठरवले. त्यानुसार बुधवारी सकाळी नऊच्या सुमारास सागर शर्मा याने भाजपचे खासदार प्रताप सिम्हा यांच्या स्वाक्षरी असलेल्या पत्राच्या आधारे संसदेची प्रवेशिका मिळवली होती.

- मुख्य सूत्रधार ललित झाच्या सूचनेवरून मनोरंजनने जुलैमध्ये पावसाळी अधिवेशनादरम्यान संसद भवनाची रेकी केली
- या रेकीमध्ये, अभ्यागातांचे बूट तपासत नसल्याचे लक्षात आले
- पावडी जण रविवारी गुरग्रामचा रहिवासी विशाल शर्मांच्या घरी जमले, तिथेच मंगळवारपर्यंत राहिले

- बुधवारी सकाळी पाचहीजण संसद भवनाकडे निघाले. सागरने मैसूर-कोडगुचे भाजप खासदार प्रताप सिम्हा यांच्याकडून अभ्यागतांसाठी प्रवेशिका मिळवल्या होत्या.
- सागर आणि मनोरंजनने नवीन संसद भवनामध्ये प्रवेश केला आणि अभ्यागतांच्या गॅलरीपर्यंत पोहोचले. दुपारी १च्या सुमाराला सागरने गॅलरीमधून लोकसभेत उडी मारली.

- मनोरंजननेसुद्धा उडी मारण्याचा प्रयत्न केला, तो गॅलरीच्या रेलिंगवर लटकताना दिसला.
- बुटामध्ये लपवून आणलेल्या पुंगळ्यांमधून पिवळ्या रंगाचा वायू सोडला, खासदारांनी त्यांना पकडून सुरक्षा रक्षकांच्या ताब्यात दिले.
- त्याच वेळी नीलम आणि अमोलने संसद भवनाच्या बाहेर त्याच प्रकारच्या पुंगळ्यांमधून वायू सोडला आणि घोषणाबाजी केली.
- त्यांच्याबरोबर असलेल्या ललितने त्यांचे चित्रीकरण करून इन्टरग्रामवर वित्प्रीत प्रसिद्ध केली.

- पोलिसांनी नीलम व अमोलला पकडले, ललित पळून जाण्यात यशस्वी
- सागर, मनोरंजन, नीलम आणि अमोलला संसद मार्ग पोलीस ठाण्यात नेण्यात आले, तिथे त्यांची चौकशी करण्यात आली.
- पोलिसांनी विशाल आणि त्याच्या पत्नीलाही गुरग्राममधून अटक केली.
- अनेक तास चौकशीनंतर पोलिसांनी सागर, मनोरंजन, नीलम आणि अमोलला यूपीएअंतर्गत अटक केली.
- पोलीस या प्रकरणी तपास करत आहेत आणि ललित झाचा शोध सुरू आहे.

कर्नाटक भाजप आमदारांची काँग्रेसच्या भोजनाला उपस्थिती

पक्षाकडून गंभीर दखल, स्पष्टीकरण मागणार पीटीआय, बेळगाव

कर्नाटकमधील भाजपच्या तीन आमदारांनी काँग्रेसने बुधवारी रात्री आयोजित केलेल्या भोजनाला उपस्थिती लावल्याची गंभीर दखल घेण्यात आल्याचे भाजपचे प्रदेशाध्यक्ष बी वाय विजयेंद्र यांनी गुरुवारी स्पष्ट केले. या आमदारांकडून स्पष्टीकरण मागितले जाईल असे त्यांनी सांगितले. बुधवारी काँग्रेसच्या विधिमंडळ पक्षाची बैठक झाली, त्यानंतर रात्रीचे भोजन आयोजित करण्यात

आले होते. त्याला ए सी सोमशेखर, शिवराम हेब्बर आणि सी एच विश्वनाथ यांनी हजेरी लावली. यापैकी सोमशेखर आणि हेब्बर हे विधानसभेचे तर विश्वनाथ हे विधान परिषदेचे सदस्य आहेत. दरम्यान, हे आमदार केवळ भोजनाला उपस्थित होते, विधिमंडळ पक्षाच्या बैठकीला नाही असे कर्नाटकचे काँग्रेस प्रदेशाध्यक्ष आणि उपमुख्यमंत्री डी के शिवकुमार यांनी सांगितले.

गेल्या काही महिन्यांमध्ये मंदिर-मशीद वादामध्ये उच्च न्यायालयाने सर्वेक्षणाला मंजुरी देण्याचे हे दुसरे प्रकरण आहे. यापूर्वी वाराणसीमधील काशी विश्वनाथ मंदिरालगतच्या ज्ञानवापी मशीद संकुलामध्ये सर्वेक्षण करण्याचा आदेश अलाहाबाद उच्च न्यायालयाने दिला आहे.

यासंबंधी नवीन मार्गदर्शक तत्त्वे निश्चित केली जाईपर्यंत, केंद्रीय तपास यंत्रणा अशा उपकरणांची झडती आणि जप्ती यासंबंधी सीबीआयच्या नियमावलीचे पालन करतील असे केंद्रातर्फे सर्वोच्च न्यायालयाला सांगण्यात आले. अतिरिक्त महान्यायअधिकर्ता

नवी दिल्ली : संसदेच्या सुरक्षेमध्ये झालेल्या त्रुटीला जबाबदार धरत लोकसभा सचिवालयातील ८ सुरक्षा जवानांना गुरुवारी निलंबित करण्यात आले. संसदभवनाच्या प्रवेशद्वारावर हे सुरक्षा जवान बुधवारी तैनात होते. त्यांच्या हलगर्जीपणामुळे दोन व्यक्ती बुटांमध्ये धुराची नळकांडे लपवून लोकसभेच्या प्रेक्षकगृहात व सभागृहात घुसल्या होत्या. संसदेच्या सुरक्षाभंगाच्या प्रकरणात सचिवालयाने केलेली ही पहिली मोठी काव्याई आहे.

या प्रकरणाची लोकसभा सचिवालयाने तसेच, केंद्रीय गृह मंत्रालयानेही उच्चस्तरीय चौकशी सुरू केली आहे. केंद्रीय राखीव पोलीस दलाचे प्रमुखांच्या देखरेखीखाली गृह मंत्रालयाकडून चौकशी केला जात आहे. पंतप्रधान मोदींच्या गुरुवारी झालेल्या बैठकीनंतर केंद्र सरकारनेही

पीटीआय, कोट्टायम

केंद्र सरकारच्या आर्थिक उपाययोजना ‘घटनाबाह्य आणि बेकायदा’ असल्याचा आरोप करत केरळ सरकारने त्याविरोधात सर्वोच्च न्यायालयात धाव घेतली आहे. राज्याचे घटनात्मक अधिकार परत मिळवण्यासाठी हे पाऊल उचलल्याची माहिती राज्याचे मुख्यमंत्री पिनराई विजयन यांनी गुरुवारी दिली.

भाजपच्या नेतृत्वाखालील केंद्र सरकारच्या ‘घटनाबाह्य आणि

बेकायदा’ आर्थिक उपाययोजनांमुळे राज्य कमालीच्या आर्थिक अडचणीत सापडल्याचे पिनराई विजयन म्हणाले. ‘केंद्राच्या भेदभावपूर्ण कृतींविरोधात राज्य सरकारने वारंवार संवाद साधूनही केंद्राने आपल्या सुाडत्मक कारवाया सुरूच ठेवल्या, त्यामुळे केरळला तग धरणे कठीण झाले’, असा आरोप विजयन यांनी केला. केंद्राने राज्याच्या आर्थिक स्वायत्तेवर अतिक्रमण करणे थांबवावे अशी विनंतीही त्यांनी केली. केंद्राने आपले अतिक्रमण थांबवले नाही तर केरळ आर्थिक संकटात सापडेल असा इशाराही त्यांनी दिला.

चौघांविरोधात ‘यूपीए’अंतर्गत गुन्हे

सुनियोजित कटाचा पोलिसांना संशय, सहाव्या संशयिताचा शोध सुरू

लोकसत्ता विशेष प्रतिनिधी

नवी दिल्ली : संसदेतील सुरक्षाभंग प्रकरणात अटक केलेल्या चौघा संशयितांविरोधात दहशतवादविरोधी कायद्याअंतर्गत (यूपीए) गुन्हे दाखल करण्यात आले आहेत. मनोरंजन डी, सागर शर्मा, अमोल शिंदे आणि नीलम देवी यांना एनआयए प्रकरणासाठी असलेले विशेष न्यायाधीश हरदीप कौर यांच्यासमोर हजर करण्यात आले. पोलिसांनी त्यांची १५ दिवसांची कोठडी मागितली. मात्र, न्यायाधीशांनी सात दिवसांची पोलीस कोठडी मंजूर केली.

या सुनियोजित कटामध्ये सहा जणांचा समावेश असून त्यांनी संसदेमध्ये गोंधळ माजवण्यापूर्वी रेकी केल्याचे प्राथमिक तपासामध्ये उघड झाल्याचे दिल्ली पोलिसांचे म्हणणे आहे.

संसदेच्या नव्या इमारतीतील लोकसभेच्या सभागृहामध्ये उडी मारून धुराची नळकांडी फोडणाऱ्या सागर शर्मा व मनोरंजन या दोघांना

मनोरंजन डी, सागर शर्मा, अमोल शिंदे आणि नीलम देवी यांना विशेष न्यायाधीश हरदीप कौर यांच्या न्यायालयात हजर करण्यात आले. न्यायालयाने चौघांना सात दिवसांची पोलीस कोठडी सुनावली.

सभागृहामध्ये ताब्यात घेण्यात आले. संसदेच्या समोरील परिवहन भवनासमोर घोषणाबाजी करून धुराची नळकांडी फोडणाऱ्या अमोल शिंदे व नीलम देवी या दोन्ही साथीदारांना दिल्ली पोलिसांनी अटक केली. त्यांचा अन्य सहकारी विशाल शर्मा यालाही पोलिसांनी ताब्यात घेतले असून गुरग्राम येथील विक्रीच्या घरात सहाही संशयित

राहात असल्याचे पोलिसांचे म्हणणे आहे. सहावा संशयित ललितला पकडण्यासाठी विविध ठिकाणी छापे टाकण्यात आले आहेत. या सहा जणांविरोधात संसद मार्ग पोलीस ठाण्यात गुन्हे दाखल करण्यात आले आहेत.

अटक केलेल्या चौघांचा दहशतवादी संघटनांशी संबंध नसल्याचे प्राथमिक चौकशीतून स्पष्ट

बेरोजगारीमुळे नैराश्य

म्हैसूरमधील मनोरंजन हा कम्प्युटर इंजिनीअर असून सागर याने लखनौमधून पदवीचे शिक्षण पूर्ण केले आहे. लातूरचा अमोल शिंदे व नीलमही पदवीधर आहेत. हे चौघेही बेरोजगार असून नोकरी न मिळाल्याने वैफल्यग्रस्त झाले असल्याचे पोलिसांचे म्हणणे आहे. बेरोजगारी, महागाई आदी विषय केंद्र सरकारसमोर मांडण्यासाठी हे कृत्य केल्याचा दावा या चौघांनी केला आहे. समाजमाध्यमांद्वारे हे सहाही जण एकमेकांच्या संपर्कात आले होते.

झाले असले तरी, अधिक तपास केला जात आहे. पोलिसांना चकमा दिलेला ललित झा हा शहीद भगतसिंह यांच्या विचारांनी प्रभावित झाला होता.

दहशतवादी हल्ला झाला होता, त्याच दिवशी या चौघांनी संसदेमध्ये सुरक्षाभंग केला असल्याने पोलीस संभाव्य दहशतवादी संघटनांच्या संबंधांचा तपास करत आहेत.

या गुन्ह्यात सहभागी झालेल्या सहाही संशयितांनी सुनियोजितपणे हे कृत्य केले आहे. संसदेमध्ये धुराची नळकांडी फोडण्याचे कृत्य करण्यापूर्वी रेकीही केली होती. मनोरंजन व सागर यांनी यापूर्वीही जुन्या संसद भवनामध्ये जाऊन प्रेक्षक कक्षेतून अधिवेशनाचे कामकाज पाहिले होते. संसदेमध्ये प्रवेश करताना सुरक्षा व्यवस्थेचाही अंदाज घेतला होता.

कर्नाटक भाजप आमदारांची काँग्रेसच्या भोजनाला उपस्थिती

पक्षाकडून गंभीर दखल, स्पष्टीकरण मागणार पीटीआय, बेळगाव

कर्नाटकमधील भाजपच्या तीन आमदारांनी काँग्रेसने बुधवारी रात्री आयोजित केलेल्या भोजनाला उपस्थिती लावल्याची गंभीर दखल घेण्यात आल्याचे भाजपचे प्रदेशाध्यक्ष बी वाय विजयेंद्र यांनी गुरुवारी स्पष्ट केले. या आमदारांकडून स्पष्टीकरण मागितले जाईल असे त्यांनी सांगितले. बुधवारी काँग्रेसच्या विधिमंडळ पक्षाची बैठक झाली, त्यानंतर रात्रीचे भोजन आयोजित करण्यात

आले होते. त्याला ए सी सोमशेखर, शिवराम हेब्बर आणि सी एच विश्वनाथ यांनी हजेरी लावली. यापैकी सोमशेखर आणि हेब्बर हे विधानसभेचे तर विश्वनाथ हे विधान परिषदेचे सदस्य आहेत. दरम्यान, हे आमदार केवळ भोजनाला उपस्थित होते, विधिमंडळ पक्षाच्या बैठकीला नाही असे कर्नाटकचे काँग्रेस प्रदेशाध्यक्ष आणि उपमुख्यमंत्री डी के शिवकुमार यांनी सांगितले.

मथुरेमधील कृष्णजन्मभूमी मंदिराला लागून असलेल्या शाही इदगाह परिसराचे न्यायालयाच्या देखरेखीखाली सर्वेक्षण करण्यास अलाहाबाद उच्च न्यायालयाने गुरुवारी परवानगी दिली. मशिदीच्या सर्वेक्षणावर देखरेख ठेवण्यासाठी वकील आयुक्तांची (अॅडव्होकेट कमिशनर) नियुक्ती करायला न्यायालयाने सहमती दर्शवली. या वादासंबंधी असलेल्या सर्व याचिका उच्च न्यायालयाने मे महिन्यात स्वतःकडे वर्ग करून घेतल्या होत्या. कृष्ण जन्मभूमी मंदिर परिसरातील मंदिर पाडून त्याजागी

मुघल बादशाह औरंगजेबने मशीद बांधल्याचा याचिकाकर्त्यांचा दावा आहे. हे सर्वेक्षण कशा प्रकारे करावे यासंबंधी १८ डिसेंबरला होणाऱ्या सुनावणीत चर्चा केली जाईल असे न्यायालयाने सांगितले. अॅड. विष्णू शंकर जैन यांनी दिलेल्या माहितीनुसार, उच्च न्यायालयात सादर करण्यात आलेल्या अर्जांमध्ये असे नमूद करण्यात आले आहे की,

मशिदीच्या परिसरात हिंदू मंदिरांचे वैशिष्ट्य असलेले कमळ्याच्या आकाराचे स्तंभ आहेत तसेच तिथे शेषनागाची प्रतिमाही आहे. या स्तंभाच्या तळाशी हिंदू धार्मिक प्रतीके आणि खोदकाम असल्याचा दावाही न्यायालयासमोर करण्यात आला आहे.

गेल्या काही महिन्यांमध्ये मंदिर-मशीद वादामध्ये उच्च न्यायालयाने सर्वेक्षणाला मंजुरी देण्याचे हे दुसरे प्रकरण आहे. यापूर्वी वाराणसीमधील काशी विश्वनाथ मंदिरालगतच्या ज्ञानवापी मशीद संकुलामध्ये सर्वेक्षण करण्याचा आदेश अलाहाबाद उच्च न्यायालयाने दिला आहे.

इलेक्ट्रॉनिक उपकरणे जप्तीसंबंधी नियमावलीवर विचारमंथन सुरू

पीटीआय, नवी दिल्ली

गुन्ह्यांच्या तपासादरम्यान व्यक्तींकडून विशेषतः माध्यमाशी संबंधित लोकांकडून मोबाइल फोन आणि लॅपटॉपसारखी इलेक्ट्रॉनिक उपकरणे जप्त करण्यासंबंधी नियमावली तयार करण्यासाठी

चर्चेच्या अनेक फेऱ्या झाल्या आहेत, अशी माहिती केंद्र सरकारने सर्वोच्च न्यायालयाने गुरुवारी दिली. ‘फाउंडेशन फॉर मीडिया प्रोफेशनल’ आणि अन्य एका याचिकाकर्त्यांनी यासंबंधी सर्वोच्च न्यायालयात दाखल केलेल्या याचिकांवर ही सुनावणी झाली.

यासंबंधी नवीन मार्गदर्शक तत्त्वे निश्चित केली जाईपर्यंत, केंद्रीय तपास यंत्रणा अशा उपकरणांची झडती आणि जप्ती यासंबंधी सीबीआयच्या नियमावलीचे पालन करतील असे केंद्रातर्फे सर्वोच्च न्यायालयाला सांगण्यात आले. अतिरिक्त महान्यायअधिकर्ता

(एएसजी) एस व्ही राजू यांनी केंद्र सरकारची बाजू मांडताना न्या. संजय किशन कोल आणि न्या. सुधांशू धुलिया यांच्या खंडपीठाला सांगितले की, संबंधित अधिकाऱ्यांनी प्रस्तावित नियमावलीबद्दल अनेक वेळा चर्चा केली आहे.

सर्वोच्च न्यायालयाने ७ नोव्हेंबरला केंद्र सरकारला यासंबंधी मार्गदर्शक तत्त्वे ठरवण्यास सांगितले होते. कोणत्याही नियमांचे पालन न करता लोकांकडून उपकरणे जप्त करणे ही गंभीर बाब असल्याचे न्यायालयाने नमूद केले होते.

लोकसभेत बुधवारी झालेल्या घटनेनंतर, संसदभवनाच्या आवारात गुरुवारी कडकोट सुरक्षा व्यवस्था ठेवण्यात आली.

संसदेच्या आवारातील सुरक्षा अधिक कडक

लोकसभा सचिवालयातील

८ सुरक्षा जवान निलंबित

लोकसत्ता विशेष प्रतिनिधी

नवी दिल्ली : संसदेच्या सुरक्षेमध्ये झालेल्या त्रुटीला जबाबदार धरत लोकसभा सचिवालयातील ८ सुरक्षा जवानांना गुरुवारी निलंबित करण्यात आले. संसदभवनाच्या प्रवेशद्वारावर हे सुरक्षा जवान बुधवारी नैनात होते. त्यांच्या हलगर्जीपणामुळे दोन व्यक्ती बुटांमध्ये धुराची नळकांडे लपवून लोकसभेच्या प्रेक्षकगृहात व सभागृहात घुसल्या होत्या. संसदेच्या सुरक्षाभंगाच्या प्रकरणात सचिवालयाने केलेली ही पहिली मोठी काव्याई आहे.

या प्रकरणाची लोकसभा सचिवालयाने तसेच, केंद्रीय गृह मंत्रालयानेही उच्चस्तरीय चौकशी सुरू केली आहे. केंद्रीय राखीव पोलीस दलाचे प्रमुखांच्या देखरेखीखाली गृह मंत्रालयाकडून चौकशी केला जात आहे. पंतप्रधान मोदींच्या गुरुवारी झालेल्या बैठकीनंतर केंद्र सरकारनेही

सुरक्षा व्यवस्थेपुढील आव्हाने

संसदभवनातील सुरक्षा व्यवस्थेची पूर्ण जबाबदारी संसदेच्या सुरक्षा यंत्रणेकडे असते. पण, या विभागाकडे मनुष्यबळाची कमतरता असून २०१४ पासून या विभागामध्ये सुरक्षा रक्षकांची भरती झाली नसल्याचे सांगितले जात आहे. या विभागाकडून भरतीची मागणी करण्यात आल्याचेही समजते. पूर्वी एका संसदभवनात सुरक्षा करावी लागत असे. आता दोन्ही संसदभवनामध्येही सुरक्षा पुरवावी लागत असल्याने मनुष्यबळ विभागले जाते.

चौकशी समिती नियुक्तीचा निर्णय घेतला आहे.

खासदार, त्यांचे स्वीय सचिव व पत्रकार यांनाच संसदेच्या आवारात प्रवेश दिला जात होता. त्याव्यतिरिक्त अन्य लोकांना प्रेक्षक दिला जात नसल्याने संसदेच्या आवारात तुलनेत शांतता होती. नव्या इमारतीच्या मुख्य प्रवेशद्वार असलेल्या मकरद्वारातून फक्त खासदारांना आत जाण्यास मुभा देण्यात आली होती.

केंद्राविरोधात केरळ सर्वोच्च न्यायालयात

मुख्यमंत्री पिनराई विजयन यांची माहिती पीटीआय, कोट्टायम

केंद्र सरकारच्या आर्थिक उपाययोजना ‘घटनाबाह्य आणि बेकायदा’ असल्याचा आरोप करत केरळ सरकारने त्याविरोधात सर्वोच्च न्यायालयात धाव घेतली आहे. राज्याचे घटनात्मक अधिकार परत मिळवण्यासाठी हे पाऊल उचलल्याची माहिती राज्याचे मुख्यमंत्री पिनराई विजयन यांनी गुरुवारी दिली.

भाजपच्या नेतृत्वाखालील केंद्र सरकारच्या ‘घटनाबाह्य आणि

बेकायदा’ आर्थिक उपाययोजनांमुळे राज्य कमालीच्या आर्थिक अडचणीत सापडल्याचे पिनराई विजयन म्हणाले.

‘केंद्राच्या भेदभावपूर्ण कृतींविरोधात राज्य सरकारने वारंवार संवाद साधूनही केंद्राने आपल्या सुाडत्मक कारवाया सुरूच ठेवल्या, त्यामुळे केरळला तग धरणे कठीण झाले’, असा आरोप विजयन यांनी केला. केंद्राने राज्याच्या आर्थिक स्वायत्तेवर अतिक्रमण करणे थांबवावे अशी विनंतीही त्यांनी केली. केंद्राने आपले अतिक्रमण थांबवले नाही तर केरळ आर्थिक संकटात सापडेल असा इशाराही त्यांनी दिला.
