EQT raises $15.6 bn for largest Asian PE fund

FE BUREAU
Bengaluru, April 21

SWEDISH PRIVATE EQUITY firm EQT, which has backed Indian companies such as HDFC's Credilla and Indira IVF, has raised $15.6 billion for its latest Asia-focused PE fund, marking the largest-ever fund dedicated to the region.

The fund, BPEA Private Equity Fund IX, was oversubscribed and closed at its hard cap (maximum amount of capital allowed from investors) with $14.9 billion in fee-generating assets under management. EQT said in a statement. The predecessor fund, BPEA VIII, had raised $11.2 billion in 2022.

The record fundraising comes after several challenging years for the Asian private capital market. Fundraising in the region fell to a 12-year low of $58 billion in 2025, declining sharply for the fourth consecutive year, according to a Bain & Company report. The region's share of global fundraising has also shrunk to just 5% from 12% in 2021, reflecting cautious investor sentiment and tighter capital allocation.

RASING THE BAR

■ The BPEA Private Equity Fund IX was oversubscribed with $14.9 bn in fee-generating assets under management

■ Sweden-based EQT has backed Indian companies such as HDFC's Credilla and Indira IVF in the past

■ The record fundraising comes after several challenging years for the Asian private capital market

JEAN ERIC SALATA,
CHAIRPERSON, EQT ASIA

In a highly competitive and selective fundraising market, our ability to deliver consistent realisations was a differentiator

EQT's ability to raise a record fund in this environment highlights a growing divergence in the market, where limited partners (LPs) are concentrating their commitments with large, established fund managers. The report also showed that top 20 closed funds formed half of the total capital raised, while the share of first-time funds closed fell to 4% from 10% in 2020.

The fund saw strong participation from both existing and new investors, attracting over 75 new investors. Commitments were broadly balanced across the Americas, Europe and the Middle East, and Asia Pacific. Pension funds and sovereign wealth funds were leading contributors. "In a highly competitive and selective fundraising market, our ability to deliver consistent realisations was a differentiator for our investors," said Jean Eric Salata, chairperson of EQT Asia, in a statement.

According to its year-end report, EQT announced a total gross fund exits of £19 billion and realised £14 billion for its co-investors, making 2025 its most active exit year ever.

The new fund, BPEA IX, will focus on control investments in companies across technology, healthcare, industrial technology, services, and technology services. EQT's Asia platform, built over nearly three decades, has deployed around $30 billion across more than 160 deals and currently holds stakes in about 65 companies.

BPEA IX is currently 5-10% invested, based on the actual fund size.

Despite fundraising headwinds, underlying market activity shows mixed signals. Bain notes that dealmaking in Asia-Pacific remained volatile in 2025, with total deal value declining by around 8%, even as exit activity rebounded for a second consecutive year.

Improving exits and liquidity have helped restore some investor confidence, with net cash flows to investors turning positive after three years of outflows.

India emerges as Canva's second biggest market riding on AI push

POULOMI CHATTERJEE
Bengaluru, April 21

DANNY WU,
HEAD OF AI, CANVA

We saw over 40% growth in revenue which honestly shocked me. And very significant portion of this is directly driven by AI and AI usage

CANVA'S PUSH to embed artificial intelligence deeper into its design stack is translating into measurable business gains with the company reporting over 40% revenue growth to $4 billion in annual recurring revenue, even as India has emerged as its second-largest market globally for AI usage, Danny Wu, head of AI at Canva, told FE.

The Australian design platform unveiled Canva AI 2.0 last week, which it described as its most significant product overhaul since inception in 2013. The update introduces a new architecture layer aimed at simplifying design creation through conversational prompts, automated editing and workflow integration. The changes are intended to reduce manual intervention and allow users to generate, edit and refine designs through natural language inputs.

"India is our second-biggest market in terms of AI usage," Wu said, adding that the country is also among its fastest-growing markets and ranks fourth overall. He said that user feedback from India has played a role in shaping product evolution.

Wu said the latest AI push builds on earlier machine learning capabilities but has been enabled by recent advances in generative AI. "We saw over 40% growth in revenue which honestly shocked me. And very significant portion of this is directly driven by AI and AI usage," he said. He added that the company had been working on the current iteration for over 18 months, with the idea of a unified, AI-led design interface predating the generative AI boom.

The new release includes features such as agentic orchestration, which interprets user intent and deploys relevant tools automatically, alongside connectors that integrate third-party platforms like Gmail, Google Drive and Slack into the design workflow. Canva has also introduced an in-house foundational model trained on its proprietary design data to enable editable, multi-layered outputs across formats such as presentations, social media and websites.

The developments come amid intensifying competition in the AI-driven design space, with new tools impacting valuations of incumbents. Wu acknowledged the disruption but said it was prompting adaptation. "It's just forcing us to adapt and leverage the technology in a way that adds significant and unique value to users," he said.

Canva has also pursued acquisitions, including Simtheory and Ortto, to strengthen its AI and collaboration capabilities, while deepening partnerships with firms such as Anthropic to integrate design tools with external AI platforms.

Nestle delivers double-digit..

Earnings before interest tax depreciation and amortisation (Ebitda) grew 27.6% year-on-year to ₹1,772 crore versus a consensus estimate of ₹1,498 crore. Ebitda margins stood at 26.3%, ahead of 25.2% reported last year.

"Total sales and domestic sales for the quarter increased by 23.4% and 23.1%, respectively. Encouragingly, all product groups contributed to this performance," Manish Tiwary, chairman & MD, Nestle India, said. "Penetration and premiumisation, combined with disciplined resource allocation and strong execution, have been key in driving growth," he added. The company will focus on four key priorities including consumer centricity, penetration-led volume growth, reinvestment behind brands and capacity, and accelerating tech-led sales and operations, he said.

The company declared a final dividend of ₹5 per share with a face value of ₹1 each.

On a consolidated basis, revenue rose to ₹6,766.24 crore from ₹5,679.87 crore in the same quarter last year. Consolidated profit rose 11.3% to ₹1,110.90 crore, the company said.

The maker of Kitkat said that its confectionery product group grew at a high double-digit pace in both value and volume underpinned by strong underlying transaction growth across its powerhouse brands. Prepared dishes and cooking aids, which includes Maggi, posted strong volume-driven growth in Q4, fuelled by engaging urban consumers and expanding rural reach, leading to gains in both market share and penetration.

It also noted high double-digit growth in its powdered and liquid beverages, which includes Nescafe, driven by increased coffee penetration, accelerated premiumisation, and deeper category relevance across consumer segments, supported by strong brand equity and an expanded footprint. Milk products and nutrition, the company said, showed resilience, delivering steady growth. Portfolio accessibility in milk products and nutrition was increased by introducing new and larger pack sizes, it said.

"We continued to execute an omni-channel strategy aligned to the evolving retail ecosystem, scaling e-commerce and quick commerce, strengthening modern trade and chain pharmacy. We sustained growth through general trade across semi-urban and rural markets," Tiwary said.

Commenting on coffee prices, the company said it expects rates to continue to trend lower, supported by a favourable crop in Vietnam and the forthcoming crop in Brazil. However, it pointed to higher edible oil prices, in tandem with global crude oil prices, supported by increased diversion to biodiesel. Unseasonal rains have impacted wheat production, resulting in a delayed harvest and lower quantity and quality, it added.

AI has cut content cost by 95%: Pocket FM

Bengaluru, April 21

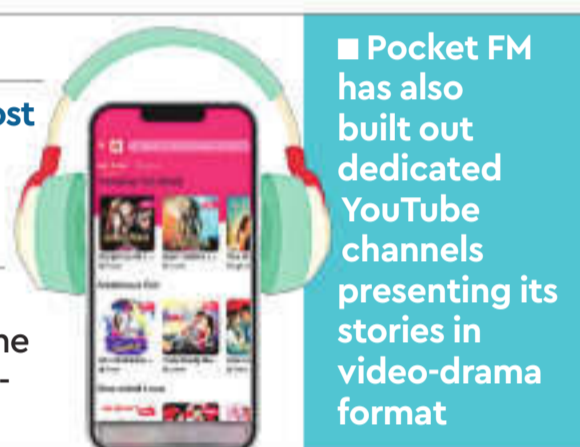

AUDIO SERIES PLATFORM Pocket FM has slashed the cost of producing content from roughly $1,000 per hour to between $50-60 by integrating artificial intelligence across its entire production chain — a reduction of more than 95% that the company says has been key to its turning Ebitda-positive, newly appointed Chief Operating Officer Lalit Gangwar told FE.

Pocket FM's serialised audio shows typically run over 150 hours per series and used to take Gangwar drew a sharp distinction between Pocket FM's long-form audio model and the growing crowd of short-drama platforms entering the market.
