EaseMyTrip Launches 'ReSave' to Bring Fare Savings Beyond the Point of Booking

Technology-led offering monitors booked flight itineraries for eligible fare drops and helps customers access applicable savings, strengthening EaseMyTrip's value proposition beyond the point of booking.

New Delhi, 18th August 2026: EaseMyTrip, one of India's leading online travel-tech platforms, is expanding its technology-led customer proposition beyond the point of booking with the introduction of ReSave, a new zero-cost flight add-on designed to help travellers benefit from eligible fare drops even after completing a booking. The offering monitors booked flight itineraries for eligible price reductions and helps customers access applicable savings, subject to the plan terms.

Flight fares can change even after a booking has been completed, creating uncertainty for travellers who may subsequently find a lower fare for the same journey. ReSave is designed to address this post-booking gap by continuing to monitor the booked itinerary and enabling customers to benefit from eligible fare reductions.

Unlike conventional fare-monitoring tools that require customers to independently track prices after making a booking, ReSave is integrated into the booking journey. It is being offered to EaseMyTrip customers as a zero-cost add-on, with 100% of the final eligible savings returned to the customer. This means that where an eligible fare reduction is identified and applicable under the plan terms, the entire net savings determined through the ReSave process is passed back to the customer, with no additional charges.

On the launch of 'ReSave', Rikant Pittie, CEO & Co-Founder, EaseMyTrip, said, "The evolution of travel technology is no longer limited to helping customers search faster or complete a transaction more efficiently. The next opportunity lies in using technology to create value across the entire travel lifecycle, including after a booking has been made. ReSave is built around this principle of extending our price proposition beyond the point of purchase and giving customers an opportunity to benefit when eligible fares decline subsequently. For the industry, this represents a broader shift from transaction-led technology towards technology that remains relevant throughout the customer journey. Our objective is to make pricing more transparent, the booking experience more reassuring and the value delivered to customers more enduring."

The initiative forms part of EaseMyTrip's broader technology strategy to create value across the entire travel lifecycle. The company is also advancing its Agentic AI capabilities, with a focus on making travel more intelligent, proactive and personalised, as it explores new ways of anticipating customer needs and supporting travellers across different stages of their journey.

With ReSave, EaseMyTrip continues to expand its technology proposition beyond the initial booking transaction, strengthening its focus on price transparency, customer value and technology-led engagement throughout the travel journey. The initiative reinforces the company's broader ambition to evolve from a platform that facilitates travel transactions into a technology ecosystem that can continuously create value for travellers.
