'Banking built on judgment, not just financial models'

CLEAR GOAL. Finance must serve a public purpose: RBI Deputy Governor J Swaminathan

Our Bureau
Chennai

As banking becomes increasingly digital and data-driven, the need for judgment, institutional discipline and responsibility becomes more critical, J Swaminathan, Deputy Governor of the Reserve Bank of India, said here on Thursday.

Digitisation of banking makes a lot of things easier, but also brings new questions to the fore around fair treatment of customers, clear accountability and assessment of new risks.

"These questions cannot be answered by technology alone; they require judgment," he said.

Swaminathan was speaking at the 12th G Ramachandran Memorial Lecture, organised by the Southern India Chamber of Commerce and Industry (SICCI),

Numbers tell a story, but one must learn to ask what lies behind them

J SWAMINATHAN
RBI Deputy Governor

in association with the Madras School of Economics.

LOOK BEYOND Institutions and firms cannot be understood only through reported numbers; numbers tell a story, but one must learn to ask what lies behind them, he advised students. "Credit requires not just analysis, but also a gut feel for people, market and institutions," he said.

His lecture tied three strands together — theory, practice and supervision — to argue that finance must ultimately serve a public purpose.

"In practice, the classroom helps us think clearly; the (bank) counter allows us to observe carefully and the supervision enables us to look beyond the immediate institution to the wider scene," he said.

SPEAKERS PANEL

The lecture also featured speakers including C Rangarajan, former Governor of the Reserve Bank of India and Chairman of the Madras

School of Economics; VN Shiva Shankar, Senior Vice-President, SICCI; and NR Bhanumurthy, Director, Madras School of Economics.

Rangarajan, in his address, reflected on the importance of balanced policymaking, noting that effective administrators must present both advantages and drawbacks of decisions to enable informed governance. He called for a regulatory approach that supports innovation without compromising on stability, cautioning against excessive regulation.

Shiva Shankar noted that the theme "Learning, Judgment and Public Purpose" is particularly relevant in today's dynamic economic landscape, where strong leadership, continuous learning and sound judgment are essential to ensure resilience and sustainable growth.

RELIEF FOR KARISMA KAPOOR' CHILDREN

HC Shields Heirs of Sanjay Kapur, Halts Asset Dilution by Stepmother

Induohan

New Delhi: In a relief to actor Karisma Kapoor's children, the Delhi High Court on Thursday restrained their stepmother, Priya Soobhag Kapur, from alienating, transferring and pledging assets left behind by her late industrialist husband Sanjay Kapur.

Justice Jyoti Singh, in an interim order, barred Priya, the third wife of late Sanjay, from creating third-party rights over his assets till the disposal of a partition suit filed by Karisma's children — Samaira (21) and Kiaan Raj (16) — seeking a share in their father's assets estimated at ₹30,000 crore. Further, Priya was restrained from changing the equity or shareholding of the Indian companies, including Sona HAVI Precision Forgings, of which Sanjay was the chairman at the time of his demise.

The court said that since the siblings and Sanjay's mother, Rani Kapur, have raised legitimate suspicions against the will of March 21, 2025, purportedly left by Sanjay, the onus is on Priya to prove its genuineness before the will is accepted as the final will of the late industrialist, who died on June 12 last year following a heart attack in the UK at the age of 53.

The genuineness of the will is now a matter for trial in light of the suspicious circumstances, and since the trial will take time, the assets should not be dissipated and should be preserved and protected, the judge said, adding that the children have made a prima facie case for the grant of an interim injunction.

The court also restrained Priya from withdrawing monies from three bank accounts, except to the extent of discharging liabilities towards the children under the decree of divorce between the deceased and the children's mother.

The court has also stayed the operation of the foreign bank accounts and the selling, transferring or, in any manner, dealing with any immovable property held by the late industrialist. However, it clarified that its order does not extend to immovable properties held by Sanjay abroad.

"I have restrained her (Priya) from withdrawing the provident fund amount, something that was consented to, I have also restrained her from alienating personal effects, artwork, etc., which too was consented to," Justice Singh said.

Samaira and Kiaan have urged the court to declare them Class I legal heirs and direct a partition of their father's estate, demanding a one-fifth share each. Being Class I legal heirs, the children said they were entitled to their respective shares in the personal assets of their father to accordance with inheritance laws. They also want the court to appoint a local commissioner to effect the partition of the assets.

The siblings, represented by their mother, have accused Priya of forging Sanjay's will in an attempt to seize complete control of the assets. Central to the dispute is a will dated March 21, 2025, which allegedly leaves Sanjay's entire personal assets to Priya. According to them, Priya had tried to "usurp full control" over Sanjay's estate to the exclusion of other legal heirs.

The petition submitted that Priya conspired with two others — Hrishabh Agarwal (who held the position of CFO and director of Aureus Investments Private Limited, the promoter company) and Nitin Sharma (a supposed friend) to fabricate one to the family on July 30, 2025.
