In 24 hrs, cracks on Badrinath highway widen by around 3 ft

Spot On Highway Has A History Of Subsidence, Says Official

Gaurav.Tahwar@timesgroup.com

Dehradun: Subsidence on a 70m stretch of Badrinath highway between Pursari and Maithama that started on Thursday morning increased significantly on Friday.

Local residents said that in the past 24 hours, parts of the road had sunk by as much as 3ft.

As reported by TOI earlier, the affected stretch is around 50km away from Joshimath, which is facing substantial subsidence too.

Traffic continued to move on the right side (hill side) of the road on Friday, even as National Highways and Infrastructure Development Corporation Limited (NHIDCL) personnel started repair work on the damaged part.

Shailendra Kumar, DGM, NHIDCL, told TOI, "This spot on the highway has a history of subsidence. As part of the treatment work, a retaining wall was made beneath the road on the valley side five years ago. That wall seems to have weakened due to a rise in the water level of Alaknanda river this rainy season, causing the present sinking of the highway." He added that traffic is being allowed to move through 'a stable part of the highway' but if the situation worsens, NHIDCL will write to the administration to close the highway for traffic movement.

Though temporary repair work is being carried out to make the road safe for vehicles, authorities said that if the situation continues to worsen, traffic will soon have to be diverted "Temporary repair work is being carried out to make the road safe for vehicles. This spot needs proper treatment that will be done subsequently," he said.

Traffic inspector of Chamoli, Praveen Alok, added, "We will review the situation and if found dangerous, traffic would be diverted through an alternate route — Chamoli-Nandprayag bypass road."

Meanwhile, residents expressed concern at the widening of cracks. Atul Sati of citizens' collective, Joshimath Bachao Sangarsh Samiti, that has been agitating for speedy rehabilitation of those affected by the subsidence in Joshimath, said that a possible reason for the cracks could be the construction work undertaken for the Char Dham all-weather road project.

"The point on the highway where the subsidence has occurred was widened under the all-weather project after 2019. Within few years, the road and the protection work have failed."

Road gone, pregnant woman carried across gorge to hosp

Tanmayee.Tyagi@timesgroup.com

Dehradun: After landslides and heavy rain wreaked havoc in Chamoli this week, locals of Ban village in Dewal area lost access to the only motorable road they had. So when Kiran Devi, 29, began getting labour pains, a group of men placed her on a plastic chair, hoisted her up on their shoulders and carried her over gorges and mountain-sized debris to a primary health centre.

Though it was all worth it in the end — Kiran delivered a ruddy baby boy late Thursday night — a video of the journey has shocked viewers at the nature and magnitude of the devastation caused in the already fragile landscape.

"The Dewal primary health centre is almost 30km from our village but the heavy downpour the last two days left us with no road. Over 3km of this stretch has now become almost impossible to traverse. The men carrying Kiran had to cross a deep gorge with a river gushing below as they balanced themselves and their load on pipes and tree trunks placed between two point," said Khilaf Singh, a local resident. "What choice do we have?" Singh added that the village has not seen "destruction of this scale" in the last 55 years.

Chief medical officer at Chamoli, Dr Rajeev Sharma said, "Thankfully, Kiran as well as her child are both doing well. An Asha worker was with the mother all along."

Chamoli district information officer, Ravendra Singh, said that major damage in the area was caused on the night of August 13. "Nine bridges, including two motorable ones, are gone. Even the temporary bridge that was built at the local tehsil level was swept away."

DEL PWD WORKER KILLED AFTER SUV RAMS HIS STATIONARY GOODS VEHICLE: A 32-year-old PWD worker was killed after a speeding SUV rammed his stationary goods vehicle in the Shastrī Park area of New Delhi, officials said.

According to the officials, the deceased was identified as Sohan, a staffer with the Public Works Department who owned the goods carrier.

Sharing further details of the accident, police said that the victim was installing a sign indicator notice board on a pole placed on a road divider when the speeding SUV hit his parked goods carrier from behind, squashing the PWD employee to death.

India, China hold talks on CBMs to prevent clashes at eastern Ladakh

New Delhi: India and China on Friday conducted two separate mid-level military talks to strengthen confidence-building measures along the frontier in eastern Ladakh, especially at the face-off sites of Depsang and Demchok as well as the buffer zones, to prevent any clashes between the rival troops deployed there.

The talks were held at Daulat Beg Oldie and Chushul, headed by Major Generals at both the places from the two sides, which were at a level lower than the marathon dialogue held between the rival corps commanders (Lt-Generals) on August 13-14. The two sides discussed a whole host of CBMs to reduce the trust deficit and ease tensions between the two armies ranged against each other with over 50,000 troops each and heavy weapons in the region for three years now, the sources said.
