TELANGANA appears to have become investment destination not only for Information Technology firms but also for food processing and other industries. The latest company to utilise the ideal conditions that the State offers for its business is Quadrant Resources, which will be setting up its centre at Madikonda IT Hub in Warangal.

The foundation stone for its centre would be laid by IT and Industries Minister KT Rama Rao on February 16. The facility will come up in 1.5 acres and will create jobs for about 500 local youth. Cylent and Tech Mahindra have already chosen Madikonda IT hub for their expansion.

In Govindpur, Sangareddy district, Hatsun Agro-Products Ltd will be setting up India's largest ice cream manufacturing facility. The company will commence its commercial production in October this year. Hatsun is investing ₹207 crore which will create direct employment to 250 youngsters and indirect employment for an equal number of people. Another added advantage is that it would benefit more than 4,000 dairy farmers in the region.

Rama Rao, during a review meeting with officials of IT and Industries Department at MCR HRD Institute on Wednesday, said it was heartening to note that the companies were preferring Hyderabad and Telangana to open their facilities.

AAP looks at bigger conquests, Kejriwal to take oath on Sunday

Amid jockeying for ministerial berths, CM indicates he'll retain the existing team

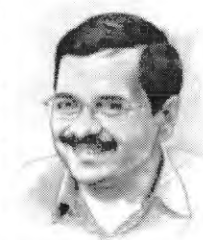

SIDDHANTA MISHRA @New Delhi

BUOYED by another thumping victory in the Delhi Assembly elections, the ruling Aam Aadmi Party is already eyeing the three municipal corporations in the city, the elections for which are two years away, even as the Bharatiya Janata Party and the Congress engaged in bitter internal bickering.

The reason for the AAP getting down to business quickly is because many of the promises made in its manifesto on sanitation and cleanliness can only be fulfilled if it has administrative control of the municipal bodies.

There are three civic bodies in Delhi, all of which are under the BJP's grip. "It is very important that we sweep the MCDs, too, as many of our promises made in the manifesto and the guarantees we gave are dependent on the civic bodies, which are not with us," said a party official.

The structure of Delhi is such that the Delhi government allocates funds to the MCDs. There has been a lot of friction over this. We will support the three municipalities financially for the next two years but control is the target," the official added.

Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal will take oath for the third time at the Ramlila ground on Sunday, the party announced on Wednesday. Party officials said plans were being drawn up to invite counterparts from other states for the event.

Kejriwal set the ball rolling for government formation in the morning, meeting all the newly elected lawmakers at his residence where he was chosen the leader of the legislative party. He later paid a courtesy visit to Lieutenant Governor Anil Bajjal. In the evening, Kejriwal met the L-G again to stake his claim to form the new government. Party sources said the CM was likely to retain all the sitting cabinet ministers.

While the AAP is readying to form the new government, the Congress was involved in a bitter and public spat. AICC in charge P C Chacko on Wednesday drew the ire of his party colleagues after he claimed that the party's downfall had started in 2013 under late chief minister Sheila Dikshit.

"The party's downfall started since 2013. It lost all the elections thereafter and the AAP took away the Congress vote bank," he said.

Many party leaders contested Chacko's claim, citing figures of the party's vote share in the 2019 Lok Sabha elections. He later clarified his remarks on Dikshit and resigned, which was accepted.

Chacko quits as Delhi in charge

AICC's Delhi in charge P C Chacko tried to shift the blame for the party's consecutive ducks in the polls on late chief minister Sheila Dikshit. He later resigned and it was promptly accepted by party chief Sonia Gandhi
