HBL enlarges its presence in defence electronics manufacturing with equity Investment in Tonbo Imaging

" HBL has agreed to invest up to INR 150 cr in Tonbo Imaging India Pvt Ltd, a leading Electro-optic solutions provider for defence applications, in the form of CCPS. HBL will also make a nominal investment in Tonbo Singapore. This investment is subject to the execution of agreements, spread over 3 tranches, linked to fulfilment of customary conditions precedents as well as closing conditions and is expected to be concluded over the next 6 months. Depending on the various parameters applicable to the valuation conditions, on final conversion, HBL will own 35.96% at floor valuation and 34.46% at cap valuation".

Tonbo Imaging is an Indian company that indigenously designs and manufactures electro-optics and imaging systems for surveillance, reconnaissance and targeting. The ability to see better at night and over longer ranges to effectively engage targets, is a much needed and sought-after technology. Tonbo is recognized as a supplier of advanced electro-optics systems with field proven deployments in over 25 countries. It is also a supplier to the Indian Ministries of Defence and Home Affairs.

Electro-optics and imaging subsystems are "the eyes" and "the brain" of surveillance platforms and weapon systems. Tonbo Imaging has been a pioneer in computational imaging and machine learning- driven image acquisition. Tonbo's technology combines fundamental innovations in the image acquisition process along with powerful computer vision algorithms to support superior imaging and scene interpretation for a wide range of applications. Tonbo leverages the computing power of consumer electronics hardware to build systems that outperform existing technology in size, weight, power and cost.

"HBL sees in Tonbo the intellectual property strategy and development capabilities that we have been searching for in the area of defence electronics", said Dr. AJ Prasad the founder and Chairman of HBL. "Tonbo's vision to be an OEM, in a technologically challenging domain where much bigger Indian companies are satisfied with being systems integrators, resonates with HBL's vision and strengthens both companies by enlarging the product range offered to customers".

Over the last 10 years, Tonbo Imaging has built a large portfolio of products addressing the needs of land, air, and missile systems. It counts among its customers, global military forces, special forces and international Tier I defense manufacturers supplying them with products ranging from tactical thermal sights to precision stabilized surveillance payloads and missile seekers. Tonbo's growth has been driven by increased demand from both developed and emerging markets that are looking to modernize their military equipment. Tonbo's products offer these markets the sophistication they need for today's modern battlefield. Tonbo has amongst its backers a marquee group of deep technology investors – Artiman Ventures, Celesta, Qualcomm and Edelweiss.

Dr Arvind Lakshmikumar, founder and CEO of Tonbo said: "Tonbo provides the complete stack of sensing and processing solutions to enable autonomy in defence operations. Tonbo will use the investment from HBL to continue expanding its global reach in defense markets and accelerate product innovation in large-scale end-platforms. In addition to the equity investment, HBL brings to the partnership its comprehensive manufacturing infrastructure for electronics, mechanical systems, assembly and testing. This will help Tonbo to deliver products to match the rapid growth in our order book".
