PRESS RELEASE

HCL Technologies Launches CataLOG™

The one-stop Supply Chain Platform for SME's powered by eBizNET Solutions

Sunnyvale, CA/Noida, India – February 17, 2011 – HCL Technologies, a leading global IT services provider today announced the launch of CataLOG™, a one-stop Supply Chain platform , jointly developed with eBizNET Solutions Inc. , a leading provider of software-as-a-service (SaaS) supply chain execution solutions. This innovative solution will cater to the unique business needs of the SME segment across the supply chain ecosystem by offering a basket of pre-configured services on a subscription based model.

CataLOG™ is a web-based platform that can be seamlessly accessed by users across the world. The solution ensures a high degree of visibility and transparency into operations as demanded by customers, by leveraging the benefits of a hosted offering along with flexible billing and pricing models.

"We are delighted to launch CataLOG™ as part of our Supply Chain services portfolio", says Amit Gupta, Vice President and Global Head, Transportation Vertical at HCL Technologies. "While the logistics industry recovers from a downturn, companies today face the challenge of tight budgets and limited resources for technology investment. Our 'One Stop Supply Chain Platform' enables customers to focus on their core business, paying only for services that they need, with minimal capital investment."

"CataLOG™ enables significant reduction of freight and operational costs by leveraging eBizNET's expertise in distribution, transportation, reverse logistics & aftermarket services," said Sitaram Geddam, Founder and CTO, eBizNET Solutions. "Further aided with flexible pricing models, the scalable solution will help customers optimize resource utilization and maximize business."

CataLOG™ is powered by the in-depth logistics expertise of HCL and a proven, scalable, supply chain execution layer from eBizNET Solutions. Importantly, CataLOG™ provides SME customers with a ready-to-go, on-demand, supply chain solution that is completely flexible, can scale up to varying business complexity and be made operational in less than a month.
