This is to clarify that the said news article is factually incorrect and misleading.

Hindalco has not halted operations of its Aluminium Extrusions business. The communication issued to Aluminium Extrusions customers follows a Force Majeure declaration by certain gas suppliers and was a routine business intimation regarding a potential supply disruption in a segment of the Extrusions business. The Aluminium Extrusions segment constitutes a small portion of Hindalco's production capacity, and the potential impact is currently limited to less than 0.1% of the Company's overall operations.

All other Downstream and Upstream operations including Primary Aluminium, continue to operate normally, supported by captive power and alternate energy arrangements.

In case there is an event that requires disclosure under Listing Regulations, the Company shall promptly make such disclosures.
