'Bull' Sculptor Not Impressed by 'Fearless Girl'
The sculptor of Wall Street's 'Charging Bull' is accusing New York City of infringing on the copyright of his sculpture by extending the temporary installation permit for the 'Fearless Girl' statue. Arturo di Modica will hold a press conference to explain how he will challenge the city, which gave 'Fearless Girl' a permit to stay in front of the bull until Feb 2018. The artist said that having another bold presence changes the creative dynamic of his installation. 'Fearless Girl' was installed on International Women's Day by State Street Global Advisors as part of a campaign to pressure companies to add more women to their boards. After a petition and a lot of tourist as well as social media attention, New York City officials extended the permit until 2018. — BI

Agri Loan Waiver Fever may Land State Banks in ICU

UP's decision to waive farm loans will worsen the credit culture of rural India

Joel.Rebello@timesgroup.com

Mumbai: Uttar Pradesh government's ₹36,359-crore agriculture loan waiver has turned the spotlight on the steadily rising non-performing assets (NPAs) from this sector over the past few years as it has revived concerns about vitiating credit environment in rural India as other state governments may also announce waivers.

NPAs from agriculture and related activities have steadily increased from 3.3% of total banking loans to the sector in March 2011 to 6% in September 2016, according to the RBI's Financial Stability Report released in December 2016.

Some bankers attribute this rise to the periodic loan waivers by politicians which have vitiated the repayment culture in rural areas. They said the steady rise in agriculture NPAs started after the then finance minister P Chidambaram announced a jumbo ₹60,000-crore waiver for small and marginal farmers in the 2008-09 budget.

Agriculture NPAs for all large state-owned banks have risen in the last six years. SBI's NPAs have risen from 3% of loans in March 2010 to 6% in March 2016, while Canara Bank's NPAs from the sector have increased to 3.21% in March 2016 from 1.84% in March 2010. Punjab National Bank's NPAs have increased to 6% from 3.65% while Bank of Baroda's NPAs have risen the sharpest to 10.74% from 3.33%.

Fears are that other state governments may follow UP impacting credit culture. "The previous large farm loan waiver announced by the UPA government in 2008 had caused a sharp de-rating of PSU banks. If more such waivers are announced by other state governments, we don't rule out a de-rating of PSU banks even this time," said Suresh Ganapathy, research analyst at Macquarie Securities in a note last week.

He cited a Madras High Court order directing the Tamil Nadu government to waive loans and reports that the Maharashtra government is planning a partial farm loan waiver. RBI governor Urjit Patel said such waivers undermine honest credit culture.

Premium Tea Prices Rise on Low Yield

Sutanuka.Ghosal

Kolkata: Your morning cup of tea is set to become dearer as prices of new season quality teas from Assam and Doars have shot up by 25% and 23%, respectively, year-on-year due to less availability.

HUL, Tata Global Beverages and players from western India such as Wagh Bakri, Girnar are aggressively buying teas at the auctions to make these premium teas available for domestic tea drinkers.

Best quality new season Assam teas are fetching a price of ₹351 per kg at the auctions compared with ₹280 per kg for similar type of teas sold this time last year – a 25.35% increase. Similarly, teas from Doars region in West Bengal are fetching a 23% higher price and is being made available at a price of ₹271 per kg, compared with ₹220 per kg sold this time last year.

"This is a very early trend. Prices have shot up because this year's March production has been lower than last year's March – therefore, the availability is less. If this trend continues for the second flush, teas then will bring some relief to the premium quality tea producers. Last year, teas at the lower end fetched better prices while quality teas failed to get better prices," said Anshuman Kanoria, chairman, Calcutta Tea Traders Association. Production in March suffered due to drought in the first half and heavy rains in the second half of the month. India had produced 70.70 million kg of tea in March 2016.

Rubber Slips Despite Rise in Oil Prices

Prices in India are declining although it is a lean season for tapping

Krishnakumar.PK
@timesgroup.com

Kochi: Natural rubber (NR) prices are falling despite an uptrend in crude oil prices. However, taking a cue from the global markets, prices in India are declining although it is a lean season for tapping. Natural rubber futures on both Tokyo and Shanghai have dropped over the past few days. The September contract in Shanghai futures exchange hit a five-month low on Tuesday. Tokyo Commodity Exchange (ToCom) NR futures dropped to the lowest since December with a strong yen also playing a part.

International sheet rubber prices fell ₹13 this month to ₹145.67 per kg on Wednesday, almost the same level as the Indian price which stood at ₹145 per kg. The price difference has narrowed since January 31 when international prices touched ₹200 per kg on the back of short supply due to flood in Thailand, increased demand from China and rise in crude prices. It was ₹40 more than the Indian price on that day. International NR prices, which were below Indian prices for three years, started rising and went above the Indian price levels since last November.

NR prices tend to move up with a rise in crude oil prices since it could increase demand for the commodity.

"There can be only two reasons for that not happening. One is that the industry feels that the largest producer Thailand may sell another tranche of stocks in May. The other could be that Chinese demand has slowed down with closure of some factories," said CP Krishnan, longtime director of Geofin Comtrade. Thailand had sold over 90,000 tonnes a couple of months ago which led to a plunge in global prices.

Onion Farmers Suffer ₹1,336-cr Losses as Prices Drop to Half

PUNE Onion farmers suffered losses of ₹1,336 crore in 2016-17 as prices fell more than half from the previous fiscal amid a 21% increase in production.

The all-India arrival of onion between April 2016 and March 2017 was 9.33 crore quintals, up from 7.71 crore quintals in the previous fiscal, according to the data with the National Horticultural Research and Development Foundation. Trade veterans said that an increase in plantation area coupled with excellent weather conditions led to increase in per acre productivity. Although the arrivals increased just over a fifth, average onion prices fell 52% to ₹7.66 per kg from ₹15.8 per kg in 2015-16. Even from the spurt in exports, which are set to touch record levels failed to support farm gate prices. — Our Bureau

Portfolio Managers' Assets up 18%

NEW DELHI The assets handled by portfolio managers have surged by a staggering ₹1.85 lakh crore to ₹12.30 lakh crore at the end of the past fiscal, mainly on the back of increase in number of clients. This also marks the sixth consecutive yearly rise in assets base of portfolio managers.

DEEP POCKETS India's funding ability moderate, with shallow pricing efficiency. Deeper capital markets in Asia can free $800b in funding annually: McKinsey

Right Policies can Unlock $100b of Fresh Funding

Atmadip.Ray@timesgroup.com

Kolkata: India can unlock $100 billion of fresh funding every year for corporates and core sector companies if policymakers take steps to deepen the country's capital markets, McKinsey & Co said on Wednesday.

The consulting firm pegged the size of India's capital markets at $140 billion, but termed India's ability at funding as moderate, with shallow pricing efficiency.

"If India is able to take right policy measures, the size of the market can rise to $240 billion in a year," Nitin Jain, senior expert at McKinsey, told ET.

McKinsey released a report analysing key performance metrics for 12 large Asian economies, including India. It observed that while Japan and Australia rank high, India needs to take steps to utilise its significant savings for productive purposes, helping accelerate economic growth and potentially lift millions out of poverty. The report suggested that deeper capital markets in emerging Asia could free a cumulative $800 billion in funding annually, mostly for mid- to large-sized corporations and infrastructure-building. Emerging economies, according to McKinsey, do not have access to predictable capital market funding at scale, and investors lack the financial instruments to deploy long-term savings. This has led to poor allocation resources, dragging growth prospects.

In India, the biggest challenge is to develop the corporate bond and securitisation markets. Emerging market issuers lack options to diversify funding and to match funding with their needs. The absence of a long-dated bond market reduces the flexibility of corporate borrowers to align funding structure with assets. McKinsey said the listing of government-controlled entities is a step in the right direction as it may entice investors to capital markets. It suggested mandating state-controlled entities to tap debt capital for funds instead of going for bank loans. Issuers in emerging markets face a more volatile and higher cost of capital compared with developed markets.

IDBI Federal Life to Sell Insurance via PoS Channel

Insurer expects to get Irda's approval this month; plans to run pilots in 7 cities

Our Bureau

Kolkata: IDBI Federal Life Insurance Co is planning to explore PoS (point of sales) channel to sell insurance policies and has filed for two such products to Insurance Regulatory & Development Authority (Irda), its chief executive officer said.

Irda allowed this channel a couple of years back to increase distribution footprint of the insurance sector. PoS distributors are allowed to sell simple, over-the-counter products where the risk of mis-selling is limited.

"We hope to get approval this month," said IDBI Federal Life CEO Vignesh Shahane.

The private insurer is planning to run pilots in seven locations to test response.

Irda does not allow insurance companies to sell complex products like unit-linked insurance plans and deferred annuity plans through this channel. Shahane said the insurer has raised new business premium of ₹820 crore in FY17 against ₹588 crore the previous fiscal. He said its asset under management crossed ₹6,000 crore versus ₹4,893 crore as on March 31, 2016.

"We have grown 25-30% per annum for last 3 years in a challenging environment. We hope to continue this in this financial year as well," Shahane said. About 78% of its business comes through bancassurance, with backing of its parent banks – IDBI Bank and Federal Bank.
