REGIONALISATION A KEY STRATEGY, SAYS MD & CEO

Asian Paints looks to up local play to stay ahead

VIVEAT SUSAN PINTO Mumbai, February 24

ASIAN PAINTS IS counting on a sharper regionalisation strategy to revive growth as competition from rivals Birla Opus and JSW Paints heats up.

The company is pushing regional colour preferences and introducing water-proofing solutions in regional packs across 8-9 states, Managing director & CEO Amit Syngle told analysts recently.

The initiative, now in the early stages, will soon be rolled out in more states, as the firm looks to defend market share, Syngle said. "Regionalisation is something we are making very big. We believe that today this is a kind of a strategy which will give us a lot of strength and a lot of brand equity from the point of view of customer centricity," Syngle said.

The latest move comes at a time when Birla Opus is increasing distribution to 8,000 towns, backed by 137 depots, according to analysts. Asian Paints is estimated to have a distribution reach of 8,500 towns, backed by about 145-150 depots. Birla Opus' market share is estimated

Asian Paints is promoting region-specific colour preferences

It is also rolling out initiatives across 8-9 states initially, with plans to expand further

The market leader is also launching waterproofing solutions in regional packs

The company will also prioritise topline growth over margins

AMIT SYNGLE, MD & CEO, ASIAN PAINTS. We want to spend a large amount (marketing spends) on our (painting) services. At the same time, the focus on premiumisation will continue at about 5-7% in two years, while Asian Paints remains the market leader with an over 50% share in decorative paints.

To maintain its lead in decorative paints, Asian Paints will also step up marketing intensity and push its presence in home decor and business-to-business paints, Syngle said.

The company is also expected to prioritise topline growth over margins as input prices such as titanium dioxide, a crude derivative, remain benign for now. The company delivered operating margins of 20% in Q3FY26, higher than the 19% number reported a year ago.

"We want to spend a large amount in terms of (marketing spends) on our (painting) services, so that we can make it stronger. At the same time, the focus on premiumisation will continue. A lot of energy will go into some of the newer products in our portfolio; what we would like to launch in the market and create the required excitement for it," Syngle said.

Heses volume growth staying in the 8-10% band in Q4, while margins are expected to remain in the 18-20% band. "With the kind of competitive intensity we are seeing, we will continue with our brand-build initiatives," he said.

Trai backs sale of all available spectrum

OJASVI GUPTA New Delhi, February 24

THE TELECOM REGULATORY Authority of India (Trai) on Tuesday recommended that all available spectrum across bands ranging from 600 MHz to 26 GHz be put on the block. The allocation should be for a validity period of 20 years and carried out at the licensed service area (LSA) level, it said.

Trai has also asked the Department of Telecommunications (DoT) to initiate steps to take back spectrum held by telecom service providers undergoing insolvency proceedings, and include those airwaves in the upcoming sale.

The recommendations come on a reference received from DoT on May 15, 2025, seeking Trai's views on reserve prices, band plans, block sizes, quantum of spectrum and auction conditions across key bands. The regulator subsequently released a consultation paper on September 30, 2025.

Trai has also proposed lowering the net worth requirement for new entrants to ₹50 crore per licensed service area or ₹100 crore earlier. For Jammu & Kashmir and the North East, the threshold has been further reduced to ₹25 crore.

The easing of entry norms is aimed at attracting new players and improving competition in a market that has lately seen consolidation.

Trai has also proposed special provisions for the 600 MHz band, which is considered critical for expanding coverage. These include auctioning it in 2x5 MHz blocks with a minimum bid of one block, flexible payment terms, a moratorium on payments, and deferred roll-out obligations, along with a longer validity period than the standard 20 years.

On the 6 GHz band, seen integral for 5G evolution and potential 6G services, Trai has taken a fine-tuned approach by recommending that it be earmarked for telecom use but not auctioned at this stage.

For the band, 6425-6725 MHz and 7025-7125 MHz—the regulator has suggested that a final decision be taken after the World Radiocommunication Conference in 2027, when global harmonisation and ecosystem development are expected to be clearer.

Air India glitches at 14-mth high

REUTERS New Delhi, February 24

TECHNICAL INCIDENTS SUCH as engine oil and fuel leaks affecting Air India flights reached their highest rate in at least 14 months in January, a company document shows, underscoring growing strain on the carrier's revamp ambitions.

The country's second-largest airline has come under scrutiny from the country's safety regulator since a crash last year killed 260 people. It has since reported many safety lapses and in December admitted there was a "need for urgent improvements in process discipline, communication, and compliance culture".

In January, Air India recorded 1.09 technical incidents per 1,000 flights, quadrupling from levels of just 0.26 in December 2024, according to a document reviewed by Reuters that the carrier submitted to the Indian government in February. It did not provide earlier data.

Air India operated over 17,500 flights in January and recorded 23 technical incidents on its international and domestic flights, according to the document, which is not public. At least 21 of those incidents were investigated formally by the airline. "Systemic improvements (are) being introduced across flight ops, training, engineering quality, and procedural oversight to prevent recurrence," the Air India document said.

Stricter rules for charter planes

YARUQHULLAH KHAN New Delhi, February 24

THE DIRECTORATE GENERAL of Civil Aviation (DGCA) on Tuesday introduced mandatory safety measures for non-scheduled operators after a high-level meeting that examined the recent increase in aviation accidents involving charter flights.

The regulator said it found that the rising accidents in the sector were mainly due to non-compliance of standard procedures, poor flight planning and gaps in training, and announced the new rules that implement a strict zero-tolerance policy for safety issues.

"This high-level interaction follows a comprehensive review of accident data from the past decade, which identifies non-adherence to Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs), inadequate flight planning, and training deficiencies as the primary causative factors in aircraft accidents," the aviation regulator said in a statement.

Non-scheduled operators will now be required to publicly disclose safety information on their websites, including aircraft age, maintenance history, and pilot experience. The DGCA will also publish a safety ranking mechanism for all charter operators on its website, allowing customers to assess operator standards before booking flights.

The DGCA plans to complete Phase 1 of a special safety audit of non-scheduled operators in early March 2026. Phase 2 will cover the remaining operators, followed by a physical workshop on safety after the completion of the current intensive audits.

The DGCA said safety must take precedence over commercial considerations, charter commitments, or VIP movements.

DGCA grounds four Learjet planes of VRS Ventures

THE DIRECTORATE GENERAL of Civil Aviation on Tuesday grounded four Learjet aircraft operated by VRS Ventures after a special safety audit revealed non-compliance after the January 28 crash that killed Maharashtra Deputy CM Ajit Pawar and four others. VRS Ventures operates a fleet of 17 aircraft, including seven Learjet 45s, five Embraer 135BJ, four King Air B200s, and one Pilatus PC-12. FE BUREAU
