Bill to ban online money gaming, regulate e-sports may be introduced

GAME OVER. If implemented in its current form, the Bill will be a death blow to the industry: Sources

Shishir Sinha
New Delhi

The government is likely to introduce a Bill in Parliament on Wednesday, which could place a blanket ban on all online gaming services in India.

The proposed law is also aimed at regulating e-sports and online social games. Sources confirmed that the Cabinet has approved the Bill. Significantly, the proposed law titled 'The Promotion and Regulation of Online Gaming Bill, 2025' could have a provision for blocking online money gaming services.

According to sources, the Bill is likely to focus on prohibiting offering, aiding and abetting of any online money gaming service and declaring it as an offence.

It is also expected to prohibit advertisement and transfer of funds.

The Bill is believed to have

FACING THE MUSIC. The Bill will have provision for penalty up to ₹1 crore or jail term up to 5 years or both. ISTOCKPHOTO provision for penalty up to ₹1 crore or jail term up to 5 years or both.

HUGE FINANCIAL LOSS There has been considerable criticism regarding online money gaming. It has caused huge financial loss resulting in crime. There is also a thinking that such gaming provides mechanism for money laundering.

There have been issues in terms of enforcement as many of the online money gaming companies have servers hosted or operated from outside India, said sources.

The Bill is also understood to have envisioned the creation of a central authority to promote competitive e-sports in the country, while ensuring overall compliance with the law.

The Centre will also recognise, categorise and register online social games with the authority and facilitate the development and availability of online social games for recreational and educational purposes.

Online social games may have an option to accept payment in the form of a subscription fee or access fee, as long as it is not in the form of a stake or wager.

NO REGULATION

Sources said that since there is no regulatory framework for e-sports and online social games, this has led to a fragmented policy environment, resulting in ambiguity for industry stakeholders and insufficient safeguards for users.

GAMING MARKET

With India emerging as one of the fastest-growing digital gaming markets, it is imperative to ensure that this growth is aligned with national interests, public safety and ethical business practices. A structured regulatory approach will help address critical concerns such as content moderation, age-appropriate access and addiction risks targeting vulnerable user groups, especially minors, said sources.

If the draft Bill is implemented in its current form, it will be a death blow to the online gaming industry in the country, which is projected to be a $9 billion market by 2029.

According to a report by FICCI and EY from March 2025, online gaming companies in India collectively earned a revenue of close to $2.7 billion in 2024.

Online real-money gaming firms fret over 'sin' GST rate

Our Bureau
Mumbai

The expectation of a sin GST rate of 40 per cent on online real-money gaming has pushed the sector to a corner even as the industry foresees a shift to offshore illegal gaming apps.

The shift to offshore illegal betting sites was more pronounced when rates were increased to 28 per cent. Now, domestic users are being wooed with offers such as 'no KYC', 'tax-free winnings', and 'no TDS/GST', among others.

INDIAN TRAFFIC

A recent industry study tracking Indian traffic to such sites counted 1.6 billion visits in the December quarter, with over 1,000 paid promotions on major social platforms funneling users to these operators.

That report attributes 42.8 million clicks directly to social ad placements. Shashank Shekhar Garuray, Chairman of online security platform Cyber Vidyapeeth, said the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology has blocked 1,410 sites between 2022 and early 2025; a Parliamentary disclosure in July indicated about 1,524 illegal betting and gambling sites/apps were blocked to date.

Since October 2023, legitimate platforms have paid 28 per cent GST on top of 30 per cent TDS on net prize money.

Several online gaming companies have reported tax outgo exceeding their top line platform fee, forcing price increase or reduced promotions, both of which nudge price-sensitive players to illicit alternatives promising no tax and big bonuses, he added.

The Advertising Standards Council of India's latest annual report shows offshore betting among the top ad violators in 2024-25, often running influencer-led and surrogate campaigns that blur lines between news, sports communities and outright betting funnels.

While a legal ₹100 deposit yields far less playable value after GST and TDS, illegal sites loudly promise "tax-free, higher bonuses" to attract users.

Users who shift offshore lose legal recourse amid heightened fraud risk.

Reduce GST on gold ornaments, urges Kerala merchants' body

V Sajeew Kumar
Kochi

The All Kerala Gold and Silver Merchants' Association has sought reduction of GST on gold ornaments from 3 per cent to 1 per cent with immediate effect, or through a phased approach, to ensure affordability, stimulate demand and protect the interest of small traders and artisans.

When GST was introduced in 2017, the average price of gold per sovereign (8 grams) was around ₹20,000, and the GST payable was approximately ₹600. Today, the market rate for the same quantity is above ₹75,000, pushing the GST burden to over ₹2,250 per transaction for consumers.

The steep increase in the absolute tax amount has hit affordability, affecting purchases for weddings and traditional events, said K Surendran, President, and S Abdul Nazar, General Secretary of the association. Jewellery sales volumes had fallen, impacting lakhs of artisans, retailers and small-scale manufacturers.

Besides, it was incentivising unorganised and parallel markets, reversing the positive shift towards formalisation that GST was meant to achieve, they said.

The gold and jewellery sector contributes approximately 8 per cent to India's total GDP, and it supports over 5 crore livelihoods, particularly in traditional clusters such as Kerala, Tamil Nadu, Gujarat, Rajasthan and West Bengal. The sector is one of the largest employers of skilled artisans in India, many of whom operate in the MSME and informal sectors.

MULTIPLIER EFFECT

Reducing GST on gold ornaments will, therefore, have a multiplier effect – increasing demand, formalising more trade, boosting tax compliance and preserving traditional occupations.

"We believe that the GST rate structure must reflect the ground reality, where high gold prices and fixed percentage tax regimes are stifling middle income consumers and small traders alike," they added.

Marriott International, Flipkart launch loyalty tie-up

Our Bureau
Mumbai

Marriott International and Flipkart on Tuesday entered into a loyalty programme partnership to drive better customer engagement and stickiness.

EARN, REDEEM POINTS

As part of the tie-up, Marriott Bonvoy members will be able to earn and redeem points when they shop on Flipkart and Cleartrip.

"We have made concerted effort to enrol every single guest and that is paying dividend. In India around 75 per cent of occupancy is driven by Bonvoy members, and in that count we are on a par with the US," said John Toomey, chief commercial officer, Marriott International for Asia Pacific region (excluding China).

Marriott-Flipkart partnership comes amid stiff competition among hotel chains to retain and reward customers. For instance, loyalty-driven revenue comprises over 40 per cent of Indian Hotels Company Ltd's total enterprise revenue, the company had said in March.

IHCL's Taj InnerCircle loyalty programme has over 10 million members who benefit from Tata Neu programme's diverse offerings.

More small and mid-sized GCCs prefer co-working spaces for flexibility and asset-light model: Experts

Rohan Das
Chennai

With India's Global Capability Centre (GCC) ecosystem growing rapidly year after year, so has the demand for high-quality office spaces to house these global clients. With long-term leases in large tech parks being impractical for small and mid-sized GCCs, co-working spaces have emerged as a suitable and more flexible alternative.

Industry players and analysts told businessline that co-working spaces are finding more takers from the GCC world as smaller GCCs are starting their journey in India by setting up in such shared spaces. As they scale, the GCCs either move to larger managed office spaces.

MINIMAL CAPEX

Explaining the growth, Rishi Das, co-founder & CEO, says that GCCs value ease of doing business, flexibility to scale and minimal capex commitment.

"Unlike traditional leases that are rigid and transactional, co-working spaces come with features like plug & play workspaces, customised solutions and tech-enabled workspace management services, allowing GCCs to focus on their core operations while the entire workspace management is taken care of."

IndiQube has over 300 GCC clients, which account for over 40 per cent of its overall portfolio, Das added. Some of the company's clients include Navex, GEP, Visionet and Perforce.

According to Gaurav Vasu, Founder and CEO, Uneath-Insight, in the previous decade, less than 5-10 per cent of GCCs would typically use a co-working or a co-branded working space.

However, in the last 5-10 years, as more mid-market and smaller GCCs have entered the country, about 20-30 per cent of GCCs are choosing co-working spaces. As per a recent report from UneathInsights, the total addressable market for GCC workplaces in India stood at $4.32 billion in 2025, and the country is adding 80 to 120 thousand new GCC seats annually.

Amit Ramani, Chairman & MD, Awfis Space Solution Ltd said that co-working spaces offer agile speedy solutions to workplace needs, which are crucial for GCCs who scale in weeks not months.

He added that the asset-light, opex-driven spaces and premium tech-enabled, sustainable offices now define the GCC workplace strategy. Awfis' clientele includes GCCs and multinational corporations such as Meltwater and ABC Fitness. The company has a presence in 18 cities, including nine Tier-2 locations.

NOT JUST A STOP-GAP

As GCCs start to scale its operations and expand its workforce, it would not be wrong to assume that they would move to larger tech parks.

However, founders believe GCCs are not viewing co-working spaces merely as a short-term solution, but are increasingly weaving them into their long-term strategy. "Several of our GCC clients have grown substantially with IndiQube over the years. For example, Enphase Energy in Bengaluru began with 67,000 sq.ft. of office space, and within 4 years, they expanded to 143,000 sq.ft. Moreover, nearly 20 per cent of our portfolio is housed within tech parks, providing GCCs with a smooth entry point into the flexible workspace environment while retaining the advantages of a tech park," said Das.

Ramani mentions that while GCCs start with co-working as a quick entry strategy, they are increasingly building a long-term presence in flexible spaces. In fact, several mid-sized GCCs have expanded multiple cities with co working centres

'US tariff will have no impact on NALCO, company eyeing UK market'

Press Trust of India
Bhubaneswar

Asserting that the recent tariff hike by the US will have no impact on its business, the National Aluminium Company Limited (NALCO) on Tuesday said it is focusing on the trade with the UK which has zero duty. Addressing a press conference here, NALCO chairman-cum-managing director Brijendra Pratap Singh said the company's standalone net profit soared 77 per cent to ₹1,064 crore in the first quarter of the current financial year against ₹601 crore recorded in Q1 of last year. Revenue from operations stood at ₹3,807 crore in the first quarter of FY26, he added.

'STRONG MARKET'

"The UK has a strong market for electric vehicles and solar panel manufacturing, both of which rely heavily on aluminium. This presents a significant opportunity for us to expand our presence in the country," Singh added.

"The US tariff hike will in no way impact the business of Nalco. Rather, we are exploring the opportunities in the UK, which has zero duty," the CMD said.

In the first quarter of the 2025-26 fiscal, NALCO registered the highest-ever domestic sale.

IIT-M, FedEx launch SMART centre for logistics solutions

Our Bureau
Chennai

Indian Institute of Technology Madras (IIT-M) has partnered with Federal Express Corporation (FedEx) to launch the FedEx SMART Centre (Supply Chain Modelling, Algorithms, Research and Technology Centre) in Chennai to develop sustainable, technology-driven logistics solutions.

The centre, backed by a $5 million grant from FedEx, will combine research, advanced digital tools and industry expertise to reimagine supply chain solutions.

TALENT OUTREACH

It will drive interdisciplinary projects spanning carbon-neutral operations, autonomous delivery systems, EV infrastructure, predictive analytics and AI-driven worker safety.

PAN-INDIA IMPACT. IIT-Madras and FedEx representatives during the launch of FedEx SMART Centre in Chennai. SUPPLIED PIC

The SMART Centre will also aim to drive pan-India impact through talent outreach, internships and research projects.

"Sound and efficient logistics define the economy of a nation; the joint efforts taken by IIT-Madras and FedEx will not only solve complex problems in logistics and supply chain but also address important human resources-related issues and related infrastructure," said V Kamakoti, Director, IIT-Madras, in a statement.

"This centre is more than just a hub for research. It's a space where technology and talent come together with a shared purpose to shape what's next," said Kami Viswanathan, President, Middle East, Indian Subcontinent and Africa (MEISA), FedEx.

"By combining deep academic insight and global industry expertise, we can build smarter, more sustainable supply chains that create meaningful impact far all stakeholders," she added.
