There are significant differences between Ind AS, Indian GAAP and IFRS. Our Company does not provide reconciliation of its financial information to IFRS. Our Company has not attempted to explain those differences or quantify their impact on the financial data included in this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus-I and it is urged that you consult your own advisors regarding such differences and their impact on our Company’s financial data. For details in connection with risks involving differences between Ind AS, U.S. GAAP and IFRS see “Risk Factors– 76. Significant differences exist between Ind AS and other accounting principles, such as U.S. GAAP and IFRS, which may be material to investors’ assessments of our financial condition.” on page 67. The degree to which the financial information included in this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus-I will provide meaningful information is entirely dependent on the reader’s level of familiarity with Ind AS, Indian accounting policies and practices, the Companies Act and the SEBI ICDR Regulations. Any reliance by persons not familiar with Indian accounting policies and practices on the financial disclosures presented in this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus-I should accordingly be limited. Further, any figures sourced from third-party industry sources may be rounded off to other than two decimal points to conform to their respective sources.

Certain figures contained in this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus-I, including financial information, have been subject to rounding adjustments. All decimals have been rounded off to two decimal points. In certain instances, (i) the sum or percentage change of such numbers may not conform exactly to the total figure given; and (ii) the sum of the numbers in a column or row in certain tables may not conform exactly to the total figure given for that column or row. However, where any figures that may have been sourced from third-party industry sources are rounded off to other than two decimal points in their respective sources, such figures appear in this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus-I as rounded-off to such number of decimal points as provided in such respective sources.

Any percentage amounts, as set forth in “Risk Factors”, “Our Business” and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Position and Results of Operations” on pages 24, 258 and 469, respectively, and elsewhere in this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus-I, unless otherwise stated or context requires otherwise, have been derived from Restated Consolidated Financial Information or non-GAAP financial measures as described below.

Non-Generally Accepted Accounting Principles Financial Measures

Certain measures included in this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus-I, for instance Net asset value per Equity Share, among others (the “Non-GAAP Measures”), presented in this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus-I are supplemental measures of our performance and liquidity that are not required by, or presented in accordance with Ind AS, Indian GAAP or IFRS. Furthermore, these Non-GAAP Measures, are not a measurement of our financial performance or liquidity under Indian GAAP, IFRS or Ind AS and should not be considered as an alternative to net profit/loss, revenue from operations or any other performance measures derived in accordance with Ind AS, IFRS or Indian GAAP or as an alternative to cash flow from operations or as a measure of our liquidity. Further, these Non-GAAP Measures and other statistical and other information relating to operations and financial performance should not be considered in isolation or construed as an alternative to cash flows, profit/ (loss) for the years/ period or any other measure of financial performance or as an indicator of our operating performance, liquidity, profitability or cash flows generated by operating, investing or financing activities derived in accordance with Ind AS, Indian GAAP or IFRS. In addition, these Non-GAAP Measures and other statistical and other information relating to operations and financial performance, are not standardised terms and may not be computed on the basis of any standard methodology that is applicable across the industry and therefore, may not be comparable to financial measures of similar nomenclature that may be computed and presented by other companies and are not measures of operating performance or liquidity defined by Ind AS and may not be comparable to similarly titled measures presented by other companies. Further, they may have limited utility as a comparative measure. Although such Non-GAAP Measures are not a measure of performance calculated in accordance with applicable accounting standards, our Company’s management believes that they are useful to an investor in evaluating us as they are widely used measures to evaluate a company’s operating performance. For further information, see “Risk Factors–76. Significant differences exist between Ind AS and other accounting principles, such as U.S. GAAP and IFRS, which may be material to investors’ assessments of our financial condition.” on page 67.

AUM from personal loans as a percentage of total AUM (C=A/B)	55.56%	48.98%	49.05%	43.33%	40.98%

Note:

A downturn or adverse trend in the personal loans sector whether due to regulatory changes, economic slowdown, rising non-performing assets, reputational concerns, or heightened competition could materially affect our business, results of operations, cash flows, and financial condition. For example, during periods of economic uncertainty, demand for personal loans may decrease and default rates may rise, impacting both revenues and asset quality. In India’s highly competitive environment, with fin-techs, traditional banks and NBFCs vying for market share, we face pricing pressures and the risk of lower profitability, especially if competitor offerings attract more borrowers. Consequently, any negative development affecting personal loans, from regulatory, economic or competitive sources, could significantly impact our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

3. As at December 31, 2025, December 31, 2024, March 31, 2025, March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023, our Gross NPA Ratio were 2.28%, 2.05%, 2.08%, 2.14% and 2.11%, respectively while our Net NPA Ratio were 0.87%, 0.79%, 0.73%, 0.85% and 0.93%, respectively. If our borrowers do not repay their loans on time, our non-performing loans may rise, which could negatively affect our business, results of operations, cash flows, and financial condition.

We operate a diversified lending portfolio across multiple product verticals, resulting in exposure to varying borrower segments and asset classes. If borrowers do not repay loans on time, our non-performing assets (“NPAs”) may rise, negatively impacting our business, results of operations, cash flows, and financial condition.

Defaults can be triggered by borrower-specific factors, or by wider macroeconomic, environmental, social, or political developments. Events such as loss of employment, sectoral liquidity or operational challenges, changes in policy, or environmental disruptions can lead to higher defaults across our product portfolio. Such defaults contribute to higher Gross NPAs (“GNPAs”) and Net NPAs (“NNPA”), which in turn require increased provisioning.

The table below sets forth details of our Gross NPA ratio and Net NPA Ratio as at the respective dates:

Particulars	As at December 31, 2025	As at December 31, 2024	As at March 31, 2025	As at March 31, 2024	As at March 31, 2023
Gross NPA Ratio ⁽¹⁾	2.28%	2.05%	2.08%	2.14%	2.11%
Net NPA Ratio ⁽²⁾	0.87%	0.79%	0.73%	0.85%	0.93%

Notes:

⁽²⁾ Net NPA Ratio (%): Net NPA ratio is Net NPA to total gross loans reduced by provisions on Gross NPA as at the last day of the specified period/ year. Net NPA is Gross NPA reduced by provision as on the last day of the specified period/ year. Net NPA ratio is calculated by subtracting provisions on Gross NPA from both the numerator (Gross NPA) and the denominator (Total Gross Loans).

Any sustained rise in Gross NPA Ratio and Net NPA Ratio, whether overall or within specific product categories, can reduce profitability, put pressure on capital adequacy, challenge our ability to meet regulatory norms, and erode stakeholder confidence. Continued deterioration in asset quality may also impede our future business growth and significantly impair our financial performance.

4. Our collection efficiency for the nine month period ended December 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, and years ended March 31, 2025, March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023, were 98.30%, 97.70%, 97.88%, 97.18% and 98.18%, respectively. Our collection efficiency may decline due to borrower delinquencies, fraud risks, or limitations in our recovery mechanisms, which may adversely affect our business, profitability, results of operations, cash flows, and financial position.

If we are unable to sustain high levels of collection efficiency, we are exposed to increased credit losses across our loan portfolio. This risk is heightened in situations where borrowers face challenges meeting repayment obligations throughout the tenor of their loans due to changes in their financial circumstances, intentional default, or as a result of fraud or misrepresentation during onboarding.

Our business relies on effective collections management systems including electronic mandates (e-NACH) and field-based monitoring as well as the use of data analytics for early warning on asset health. However, such systems may not always successfully predict or prevent delinquencies, nor assure recovery in cases where collateral realisation is unfeasible or insufficient. Efforts to improve or maintain high collection efficiency, including investments in technology, personnel, or third-party agencies may also increase our operating costs and thereby reduce profitability. While there have been no instances during the nine month period ended December 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, or year ended March 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, where we experienced a decline in our collection efficiency outside of our ordinary course of business, we cannot assure you that we will not experience any such decline including on account of factors which may be outside our control such as any pandemic or macroeconomic factors.

Collection Efficiency ⁽¹⁾	98.30%	97.70%	97.88%	97.18%	98.18%

Note:

(1) Collection efficiency is computed as: (current month demand collected + overdues collected during the month) / (Current month demand due for the month), without considering Discontinued Products as well the Gross Carrying Amount (Stage 3 loans).

A deterioration in our ability to recover dues through our collections or recovery mechanisms can lead to increased credit costs, lower profitability, and may adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows, and financial position.

5. 76.43%, 75.13%, 74.28%, 67.48% and 64.80% of our total gross loans as at December 31, 2025, December 31, 2024, March 31, 2025, March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023, respectively is comprised of unsecured loans, which exposes us to heightened credit risks and may increase our levels of non-performing loans and overall delinquency which may adversely affect our business, prospects, results of operations and financial condition.

A portion of our total gross loans is attributable to unsecured loans. The table below sets forth details of unsecured loans as a percentage of total gross loans as at the respective dates:

Unsecured loans (₹ in million) (A)	96,990.88	73,893.26	80,061.63	50,267.85	36,001.47
Total Gross loans ⁽¹⁾ (₹ in million) (B)	126,897.66	98,352.41	107,779.54	74,492.44	55,556.36
Unsecured loans as a percentage of Total Gross loans (C=A/B)	76.43%	75.13%	74.28%	67.48%	64.80%

Note:

(1) Total Gross Loans: The aggregate amount of gross loan receivables from customers before considering impairment allowances as at the last day of the specified period/year.

Unsecured lending is inherently more susceptible to borrower default and may result in increased levels of non-performing assets and overall delinquency. Any material increases in NPAs or delinquencies in our unsecured loan portfolio would adversely affect our asset quality, profitability, and capital adequacy, and could expose us to additional provisioning requirements. There can be no assurance that our credit assessment, monitoring processes, or risk management systems will adequately mitigate these risks in future periods. Deterioration in asset quality may also impact investor and lender confidence and credit ratings, potentially affecting our access to funding which may adversely affect our business, prospects, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

6. 35.04%, 70.75%, 69.68%, 82.33% and 69.66% of our disbursements for the nine month period ended December 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, and years ended March 31, 2025 March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023, respectively of our student loan portfolio is concentrated in the United States of America (“U.S.”). Any regulatory announcements or policy actions in the U.S. may adversely affect demand for student loans and, consequently, our business, results of operations, cash flows, and financial condition.

We provide student loans primarily to students pursuing postgraduate studies abroad in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics courses out of which a significant percentage is attributable to studies in the U.S. This concentration exposes us to risks arising from changes in the U.S. higher education sector, immigration and visa policies including recently announced H-1B visa restrictions, employability, regulatory environment, competitive intensity, and geopolitical relations. Any adverse changes such as the tightening of visa requirements, amendments to post-study work rights, changes in tuition fee structures, or the introduction of policies detrimental to international students could result in a decline in the number of Indian students choosing the U.S. as a study destination.

Regulatory announcements or actions by U.S. authorities or educational institutions, whether proposed or implemented as well as increased competitive intensity from alternative funding options, may materially reduce the demand for student loans for U.S.-bound students and negatively affect the credit outlook for new and existing borrowers. The ability of student borrowers to secure suitable post-study employment in the U.S. is a critical factor in their repayment capacity and, ultimately, our portfolio quality. Should employment prospects for international graduates in the U.S. weaken significantly, our asset quality, loan performance, and future growth could be adversely affected.

While we actively monitor sector trends and intend to diversify our portfolio, there can be no assurance that we will be able to fully offset any adverse developments in the U.S. market or fully mitigate concentration risk in our student loan product vertical. Any sustained decrease in demand for student loans focused on the U.S. may have an adverse effect on our AUM, growth outlook, asset quality, and operating results.

While investigating into the affairs of Amtek Auto Limited (a borrower pertaining to our legacy wholesale lending business), SFIO had sought some details and documents from our individual Promoter, Bhupinder Singh under Section 217(2) of Companies Act, 2013, regarding the dealings of Amtek Auto Limited with our wholly owned subsidiary, IFSL (in its capacity as a lender to Amtek Auto Limited) vide its notice dated November 3, 2023 (“Notice”). As part of their investigation, the Directorate of Enforcement officials, conducted a search at IFSL's corporate office on June 20, 2024 and subsequently Directorate of Enforcement served our Promoter, Bhupinder Singh with a summon dated May 29, 2025 under Section 50(2) and 50(3) of the PMLA in relation to production of loan documents indicating all credit facilities extended by our wholly-owned subsidiary, IFSL to Amtek Auto Limited and its group companies including outstanding amounts, details of charges etc. (“Summons”). IFSL and Bhupinder Singh have responded to the Notice and the Summons and necessary details and documents have been provided to SFIO and ED Gurugram, respectively. Subsequent to this, there has not been any further communication or queries from SFIO or ED Gurugram on this matter as on the date of this UDRHP-I.

Further, there are no pending litigation proceedings involving our Group Companies which will have a material impact on our Company.

We cannot assure you that any of these matters will be settled in favour of our Company, our Subsidiaries, Promoters, Directors, Key Managerial Personnel or Senior Management respectively, or that no additional liability will arise out of these proceedings. An adverse outcome in any of these proceedings may have an adverse effect on our business, financial position, prospects, cash flows, results of operations and our reputation. For further information, see “Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments” on page 517.

If any new developments arise, such as a change in Indian law or rulings against us by appellate courts or tribunals, we may need to make provisions in our financial statements that could increase our expenses and current liabilities. Any adverse decision in any of these proceedings may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Steps Taken to Mitigate Audit Observations and Impact on Business and Financials

The observations included in the auditors reports have been addressed as follows and have had no material adverse impact on our business or financial condition:

- For the year ended March 31, 2025 - Unpaid Professional Tax: The unpaid professional tax amounts relating to IFSL (₹0.07 million) and IFPL (₹0.52 million) as at March 31, 2025 have been subsequently paid in full, and no dues for the year ended March 31, 2025 remain outstanding as on date. This observation had no impact on our business or financial condition.
- For the year ended March 31, 2024 - Audit Trail Requirement: The audit trail requirement observation has been fully addressed, with the audit trail feature enabled since April 26, 2023. There have been no observations on this matter in subsequent years. This observation had no material adverse impact on our business or financial condition.
- Overdue Loans (for the year ended March 31, 2024 and for the year ended March 31, 2023): The overdue loans reported in the auditors' reports for Fiscal 2024 and 2023 relate to the ordinary course of the lending business conducted by our subsidiaries. Delays in loan repayments are inherent to the lending business, and the financial impact of such delays is already factored into our consolidated financial statements through Expected Credit Loss (ECL) provisioning in accordance with Ind AS 109. Such observations relating to overdue loans may recur in future periods as part of the ordinary course of our lending business. These observations had no material adverse impact on our business or financial condition.

All specific observations relating to professional tax and audit trail requirements have been fully addressed. Observations relating to overdue loans are inherent to the lending business and the financial impact continues to be appropriately reflected in our financial statements through ECL provisioning.

There can be no assurance that such observations will not be included in our financial statements going forward which may negative impact our reputation and financial condition.

10. We may enter into related party transactions in the ordinary course of our business, and we cannot assure you that such transactions will not have an adverse effect on our results of operations and financial condition.

We have engaged, and will continue to engage, in transactions with related parties, as per the Companies Act, 2013, in the ordinary course of business, on an arm's length basis. Our related party transactions include ICD taken, repayment of ICD taken (including interest), ICD given (including interest), repayment of ICD given (including interest), subscription to debentures, purchase of investments, proceeds from sale of investments and issue of debentures.

For further information on all our related party transactions, see "Related Party Transactions" on page 462. It is likely that we will continue to enter into such related party transactions in the future. While our related party transactions have been conducted on an arm's length basis and are in compliance with the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and other applicable laws, we cannot assure you that we could not have achieved more favourable terms had such transactions not been entered into with related parties. Although all related-party transactions that we may enter into will be subject to our audit committee, board of directors or shareholder approval, as may be required under the Companies Act, 2013 and the SEBI Listing Regulations, we cannot assure you that such transactions, individually or in the aggregate, will perform as expected/result in the benefit envisaged therein, or that we could not have undertaken such transactions on more favourable terms with any unrelated parties.

11. Our Material Subsidiary, InCred Financial Services Limited is subject to periodic inspections by the Reserve Bank of India. Non-compliance with the RBI's observations made during their inspections could expose us to penalties and restrictions as well as cancellation of our license, which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

As a NBFC, our Material Subsidiary, IFSL is subject to periodic inspections by the RBI which assesses various aspects including operational practices, risk management systems, internal controls, financial statements, regulatory compliance and credit monitoring systems, pursuant to which the RBI may issue observations, directions and monitorable action plans on issues related to, among other things, any operational risks and regulatory non-compliances. During the course of finalising inspections, the RBI inspection team may share its findings and recommendations and provide an opportunity to share additional documentation and issue additional clarification and if necessary, justification for position taken by us. Upon final determination by the RBI of the inspection results, IFSL is required to take actions specified therein by the RBI to its satisfaction.

We have in the past resolved most of the queries and observations raised by RBI in its inspections conducted for financial year ended March 31, 2024. RBI has in its annual inspection for financial year ended March 31, 2025, identified that for Default Loan Guarantee ("DLG") backed Specialised MSME loans aggregating to ₹143.70 million, IFSL invoked the DLG from partners to make recoveries but recorded these as recoveries from the borrowers. RBI observed that since the recovery was via guarantee invocation, the amounts should still be recognized as due from the borrowers. Consequently, the RBI has advised an adjustment of ₹143.70 million to the reported Gross NPA. Accordingly, the Gross NPA ratio was revised from 1.94% to 2.08%. However, this has no impact on net exposure/stage 3 loans, Net NPA, or ECL provisions. Additionally, RBI also reviewed the sale of an NPA asset from our discontinued wholesale lending book to another NBFC. It noted certain deviations from the Master Direction – Reserve Bank of India (Transfer of Loan Exposures) Directions, 2021 dated September 24, 2021 as amended from time to time and advised that the sale proceeds be adjusted from the Net Owned Funds. As a result, the CRAR has been revised from 26.11% to 25.73%. Further, RBI in its inspection for the financial year ended on March 31, 2025, identified systemic and procedural areas of improvement such as KYC and AML framework, information security and data storage, customer grievances classification and collection related complaints etc. We have submitted a detailed response to the RBI addressing these observations and, where applicable, outlining the corrective measures and monitorable action plans we intend to implement. As on the date of this UDRHP-I, there are no observations of the RBI in any inspection report that are yet to be responded to by our Company. While the RBI has not levied any penalty regarding the above observations and we have provided necessary clarifications or undertaken to ensure compliance with such observations, we cannot assure that such steps will be satisfactory and that the RBI will not have further observations in the future or will not impose any penalties for non-compliances, if any. Further, we cannot assure you that the RBI will not make any similar or other observations in the future.

Separately, in the past, RBI has imposed, by an order dated May 5, 2022, a monetary penalty of ₹0.50 million on IFSL, for non-compliance with the ‘Monitoring of Frauds in NBFCs (Reserve Bank) Directions, 2016’ issued by RBI. This penalty was imposed in exercise of powers vested in RBI under the provisions of clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 58 G read with clause (aa) of sub-section (5) of section 58 B of the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934, taking into account the failure of the company to adhere to the aforesaid RBI Directions. The penalty amount was paid by the IFSL on May 12, 2022. Subsequently, IFSL has strengthened its fraud monitoring and reporting systems to ensure full compliance with the RBI Directions, including implementation of enhanced internal controls, periodic review of fraud monitoring processes, and training of relevant personnel on fraud detection and reporting requirements. There have been no further penalties imposed by RBI since May 2022.

In the event we are unable to resolve deficiencies and other matters to RBI’s satisfaction, or are otherwise in non-compliance with RBI’s directions, RBI can take regulatory and supervisory action which may include charging penalties, restricting our activities as a NBFC or otherwise enforcing increased scrutiny and control over our operations, including by way of withholding approvals, or issuing conditional approvals. Imposition of any penalty or adverse finding by RBI during any future inspection may have an adverse effect on our reputation, business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

12. We have loans from banks, which may be recalled on demand. Failure to repay such loans in a timely manner may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

We have availed working capital demand loans from banks which are repayable on demand. The table below sets forth details of our working capital demand loans as at December 31, 2025, December 31, 2024, March 31, 2025, March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023:

While we have not faced instances where our loans were recalled during the nine month period ended December 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, or years ended March 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, we cannot assure you that we will not face any instances where our loans will not be recalled. Failure to repay such loans in a timely manner may have an adverse effect on the business, results of operations financial condition and cash flow of our Company. For further details of such loans, please see “Financial Indebtedness” on page 464.

13. Our collections bank account has been blocked or had restrictions placed on it in the past. Any such future blocks may adversely affect our business, cash flows and operations.

There have been three (3) instances during the nine month period ended December 31, 2025, or years ended March 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, where our collections bank account has been blocked or had restrictions placed on it.

On February 16, 2023, our collections bank account was frozen following instructions from the Cyber Cell, Office of the Senior Superintendent of Police Jalandhar (Punjab) as part of an investigation into an alleged cyber fraud complaint filed by a third party who was not our customer. The freeze was imposed as a precautionary measure pending investigation, and the account was subsequently unfrozen after we provided necessary clarifications and documentation to the authorities demonstrating that the funds in our account were legitimate customer repayments and not connected to the alleged fraud.

Subsequently, the same account was blocked again on October 25, 2023 based on instructions from Sahar Police Station, Andheri to the concerned ban in connection with a complaint by a customer. The block was lifted after we submitted relevant documentation and clarifications to the authorities establishing that the funds in our collections account were from legitimate lending operations. Most recently, on August 7, 2025, a lien was marked on the same collections account for ₹ 49,000 due to a customer complaint. We have duly submitted our representation, and the case is currently under investigation.

These incidents temporarily disrupted customer repayments being credited to us and affected the regular flow of funds. While we have taken necessary corrective measures and strengthened our internal processes, systems and controls to prevent the recurrence of such blocks in the future, any continued or future blocking, freezing, or restriction of our collections bank account may delay or prevent us from receiving repayments in a timely manner and could materially affect our cash flows, business and financial condition.

Further, penalties have been imposed and paid pursuant to regulatory actions initiated by Stock Exchanges. While such matters have been resolved and penalties if any, have been paid in full, any future adverse regulatory action may have a bearing on our reputation, business operations, and regulatory standing.

We continue to monitor regulatory developments and maintain robust governance practices to mitigate such risks. While we believe the penalty on such non-compliance will not be material, we cannot assure you that we will not be subject to any penalty imposed on us by any competent regulatory authority in this regard, which could have an adverse effect on our results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

15. We may experience difficulties in expanding our branch network into new regions and markets in India which may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

As part of our growth strategy, we continue to evaluate opportunities to expand our branch network into new regions and markets in India. The table below sets forth details of our branch network as at/for the periods / years ended:

However, we may encounter challenges such as understanding and adapting to diverse regional business practices, language barriers, recruiting and retaining skilled personnel, securing necessary licences or approvals, and establishing our brand presence in unfamiliar markets. Effective management of loan collections is particularly critical in new regions where we may not have historical experience with local borrower behaviour or established relationships with collection agents and partners. Any inability to efficiently collect or monitor repayments, or to implement our standard risk management and collection processes across a wider network, could adversely affect our asset quality and increase delinquencies or credit losses. Expansion may also require substantial investment in infrastructure, people, systems, and compliance processes, incurring costs that may not be recovered if our branch network does not achieve the anticipated scale or profitability.

If we are unable to execute our expansion strategy successfully, or if operational or collection difficulties arise in new regions, there could be a negative impact on our business, results of operations, cash flows, and financial condition. For further detail, see “Our Business – Our Key Growth Strategies - Scaling our existing product portfolio through channel and category expansion” on page 273.

16. One of our Directors has not been able to trace documents pertaining to his educational qualifications.

As on the date of filing of this UDRHP-I, one of our non-executive directors, Vivekanand P S, has not been able to trace any documents pertaining to his education qualification. While he has taken the requisite steps, he has been unsuccessful in procuring the relevant documents. Further, there can be no assurances that he will be able to trace the relevant documents in the future, or at all.

17. We may face asset-liability mismatches, which could affect our liquidity and consequently, may adversely affect our operations and profitability.

We face liquidity risk due to the varying periods over which our assets and liabilities mature. Asset-liability mismatches, which represent a situation when the tenure of assets and liabilities do not match, are a key financial parameter. Each of our financial assets has varying average tenure, average yield and average maturity and it may happen that maturity of assets does not match that of liabilities. As at December 31, 2025, we did not have negative mismatch in any of the buckets.

The table below provides a summary of maturity pattern of assets and liabilities of our Material Subsidiary, IFSL as at December 31, 2025:

For further information, see “Selected Statistical Information - Summary of maturity pattern of assets and liabilities of our Material Subsidiary, IFSL as at December 31, 2025” on page 370.

Any mismatch in the maturity profile of our assets and liabilities may lead to a liquidity risk and have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

18. 36.80%, 33.99%, 34.32%, 30.56% and 28.39% of our total assets under management (“AUM”) as at December 31, 2025, December 31, 2024, March 31, 2025, March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023, respectively, were sourced through our top 10 channel partners, including direct selling agents, connectors, education counsellors, and other partners (collectively “Channel Partners”). Any adverse developments affecting these channel partners may have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

A significant portion of our AUM is generated from loans originated through our Channel Partners, who market our products, refer customers, and facilitate application processing. Our continued growth and ability to reach new customer base is highly dependent on the performance, reach and reputation of these Channel Partners.

The table below sets forth details of AUM sourced from our top 5 and top 10 Channel Partners across our product portfolio as at the respective dates:

Particulars	As at December 31, 2025		As at December 31, 2024		As at March 31, 2025		As at March 31, 2024		As at March 31, 2023

We pay commissions to our Channel Partners for their services primarily based on the value of loans sourced, product type, and other commercial terms as agreed in our arrangements with them. Commission payments are subject to risks including potential disputes over commission calculations or payment terms, Channel Partners prioritising competitors offering higher commission rates, increased commission costs impacting our profitability and operating margins, and regulatory scrutiny or changes in regulations governing commission structures. Any material increase in commission rates to retain or attract Channel Partners, or any regulatory restrictions on commission payments in the future, could adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows, and financial condition.

Most agreements with Channel Partners are non-exclusive and are subject to renewal. Channel Partners may simultaneously work with our competitors, and there is a risk that they may materially reduce referrals, cease business with us altogether, or renegotiate terms on less favourable conditions. If one or more significant Channel Partners disengage or reduce their activity, we may experience declines in origination volumes and overall business growth. There is no assurance that we could promptly replace such partners or develop comparable alternative sourcing channels if these risks were to materialise. Also see “ – 57. We face the risk of our products being inappropriately marketed or misrepresented by employees, partners, agents, third parties, or through our technology platform, which may lead to regulatory actions, loss of reputation, customer grievances, and adverse financial impact.” on page 59.

The table below sets forth details of relationships terminated by us with our Channel Partners and relationships terminated by our Channel Partners with us for the period/ years indicated:

Relationships terminated by us	-	-	-	2	-
Relationships terminated by our Channel Partners	-	-	-	-	-

While these past terminations did not have a material impact on our business or financial condition, there can be no assurance that future changes or partner losses would not adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows, or financial condition.

19. 7.06%, 8.73%, 8.30%, 9.75% and 10.64% of our personal loans AUM as at December 31, 2025, December 31, 2024, March 31, 2025, March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023, respectively were from new-to-credit customers, which exposes us to elevated credit risk and may adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows, and financial condition.

A portion of our personal loans AUM comprises exposures to new-to-credit customers, meaning they have no or limited previous borrowing history with credit bureaus. The table below sets forth details of new-to-credit customers and the personal loans AUM generated from such customers as at the respective dates:

AUM from new-to-credit customers in the personal loans product vertical (₹ in million) (A)	5,663.65	4,907.25	5,123.29	3,816.93	2,644.90
Personal loans AUM (₹ in million) (B)	80,271.19	56,197.40	61,726.03	39,162.15	24,856.83
AUM from new to credit customers in the personal loans vertical as a percentage of personal loans AUM (C=A/B)	7.06%	8.73%	8.30%	9.75%	10.64%

These customers typically present higher credit risk as there is limited information available to assess their repayment behaviour, creditworthiness or financial stability. Unlike borrowers with established credit records, new-to-credit customers may lack prior experience managing financial obligations, increasing the potential for missed payments or defaults. As a result, any unexpected rise in defaults or delinquencies in this customer category could require us to increase our provisions for expected credit losses and could adversely impact our profitability, asset quality and cash flows.

Additionally, our ability to accurately price loans, and assess risk is more challenging for customers without credit histories. If economic or market conditions become unfavourable such as an economic slowdown, increased unemployment or elevated interest rates, new-to-credit customers may be disproportionately affected. Accordingly, any adverse developments affecting new to credit customers could adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

20. Our business is particularly vulnerable to interest rate risk, and volatility in interest rates could have an adverse effect on our net interest income, net interest margin, results of operations and cash flows.

Our results of operations depend significantly on our net interest income, as interest income constitutes our primary source of revenue. The table below sets forth details of our fixed rate and variable rate debt and borrowings (other than debt securities) at nominal amount as at the respective dates:

Particulars	As at December 31, 2025		As at December 31, 2024		As at March 31, 2025		As at March 31, 2024		As at March 31, 2023
	Amount (₹ in million)	Percentage of Total Borrowings	Amount (₹ in million)	Percentage of Total Borrowings	Amount (₹ in million)	Percentage of Total Borrowings	Amount (₹ in million)	Percentage of Total Borrowings	Amount (₹ in million)	Percentage of Total Borrowings
Fixed rate debt and borrowings (other than debt securities) (A)	48,365.94	47.43%	33,806.09	47.47%	38,937.94	46.39%	18,772.82	37.70%	13,445.05	35.46%
Variable rate debt and borrowings (other than debt securities) (B)	53,604.35	52.57%	37,411.96	52.53%	44,993.59	53.61%	31,026.99	62.30%	24,471.39	64.54%
Total Borrowings (C=A+B)	101,970.29	100.00%	71,218.05	100.00%	83,931.53	100.00%	49,799.81	100.00%	37,916.44	100.00%

Our funding profile is a mix of fixed and variable rate borrowings, which exposes us to fluctuations in market interest rates. In periods of rising interest rates, a significant share of variable-rate borrowings can increase our interest expenses unless we are able to promptly and proportionately reprice our loan portfolio. This challenge is particularly pronounced for longer-tenor retail products, such as student loans or loans against property, where, despite being floating rate products, market conditions or competitive pressures may limit our ability to pass on higher funding costs to customers.

Our ability to pass on rising interest rates to borrowers is sometimes limited, which may reduce both net interest income and margins. Higher rates may also make it harder for some customers to repay, potentially raising NPAs and credit costs. In contrast, if interest rates fall but our funding costs remain high, particularly if much of our funding is at fixed rates, our margins and profitability could be compressed.

Increased competition for low-cost funding could further constrain our ability to manage interest expense and maintain pricing flexibility, potentially weakening our market position. While we employ asset-liability management and risk monitoring to mitigate these risks, there is no assurance these measures will be effective in volatile markets. Significant changes in rates or mismatches in how quickly our assets and liabilities reprice could therefore increase our funding costs, impact asset quality, and adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

21. We may not be successful in implementing our growth strategies or sustain our historical growth, which could adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Our historical growth has been driven by the successful development of new products, expansion into additional market segments, and adoption of technology-led solutions across our lending platform. We continue to focus on broadening our customer base, diversifying our product portfolio, expanding branch and digital distribution, and leveraging innovation to improve operational efficiency and risk management.

However, there can be no assurance that we will be able to implement our planned growth strategies as intended or sustain the level of growth we have achieved historically.

The table below sets forth details of the growth in our total revenue from operations, total income, profit for the period / year, AUM and disbursements as at /for the relevant period / year:

Particulars	As at / for the nine month period ended December 31, 2025	As at / for the nine month period ended December 31, 2024	As at / for the year ended March 31, 2025	As at / for the year ended March 31, 2024	As at / for the year ended March 31, 2023

1. Total Income: Sum of total revenue from operations and other income for the specified period/year.
2. Profit for the period/ year: Profit before tax as reduced by total tax expenses for the specified period/year.
3. AUM: The aggregate outstanding of Total Gross Loans and assigned loan assets, as at the last day of the specified period/year.
4. Disbursements: The aggregate amount of loans extended to customers during the relevant period, excluding discontinued business such as supply chain financing and legacy wholesale lending book.

Our future success depends on a variety of internal and external factors, including but not limited to:

- The continued effectiveness of our operating model and risk controls in new or evolving sectors;
- Our ability to accurately assess and respond to shifting market trends, customer needs, and competitive pressures;
- Our ability to establish new products, address target markets effectively, and enter the right geographies;
- Regulatory changes that could affect our business models, product structures, or operational flexibility;
- The ability to attract and develop skilled talent across our businesses, technology, and risk management functions;
- Continued access to funding and capital at competitive rates to support growth and liquidity; and
- Macroeconomic factors or unforeseen events that could reduce demand for credit or impact borrowers' repayment capacity.

If we are unable to effectively implement our business plans, roll out new offerings, or expand geographically as planned, our growth may slow or decline. Increased costs, delays, or underperformance of new initiatives may limit our ability to achieve targeted results. Past growth, such as rapid loan or customer base expansion may not be sustained, especially in more competitive or regulated markets. Failure to achieve our growth objectives could adversely affect our business, reputation, results of operations, cash flows, and financial condition.

For more details on our growth strategies, see “Our Business – Our Key Growth Strategies” on page 273.

22. We operate in a highly competitive industry and our inability to compete effectively may adversely affect our business, reputation, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

The financial services industry in India is intensely competitive and characterised by the presence of banks, NBFCs, fintech firms, and other financial institutions (Source: CRISIL Report). We face competition from both established and emerging players. Many of these competitors may have greater resources, broader customer bases, more extensive distribution networks, longer operating histories, or other advantages over us. In addition, we may face competition in newer markets that we seek to expand our business into, which could increase our costs of expansion.

New entrants, evolving business models, and the rapid adoption of digital platforms further intensify market rivalry. Our current and potential competitors may launch new products, offer more competitive terms, leverage partnerships or advanced technologies, or benefit from economies of scale in a manner that could erode our market share or adversely impact our pricing and margins. Moreover, any inability to keep pace with changes in customer preferences, regulatory expectations, product innovation, or technology upgrades may impact our brand, market standing, and overall growth prospects. Intense competition could also lead to greater marketing expenses, lower yields, or higher credit risk in an effort to maintain or grow our market share.

While we strive to differentiate our offerings and enhance customer value through technology, risk management and tailored solutions, we cannot assure that we will always be able to react effectively to changes in customer preferences, product innovation, technology upgrades or other market developments or compete successfully which may have an adverse impact on our business, reputation, results of operations, cash flows, and financial condition.

23. We are dependent on our Promoter, Bhupinder Singh, and other Senior Management and Key Managerial Personnel to grow our business. For the nine month period ended December 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024 and years ended March 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, our overall attrition rate was 23.79%, 17.82%, 21.66%, 24.01% and 25.21%, respectively. The loss of, or our inability to hire, retain, train, and motivate qualified personnel could adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

Our ability to compete depends upon our ability to attract, motivate, and retain qualified personnel. We are dependent on the continued contributions of our Whole-time Director and Chief Executive Officer, Bhupinder Singh (also our individual Promoter), our Whole-time Director and Chief Financial Officer, Gaurav Maheshwari, as well as Prithviraj Chandrasekhar, Head – Consumer Finance, Saurabh Jhalaria, Head – Education & MSME lending, our Chief Technology Officer, Ashwin Sekar and our Chief Human Resources Officer, Kamlesh Dangi. In addition, we are also guided by other Senior Management with diversified experience. For further information on our management, see “Our Management – Brief profiles of our Directors” and “Our Management - Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management” on pages 330 and 344, respectively.

The inputs and experience of our Senior Management and Key Managerial Personnel are valuable for the growth and development of business and operations and the strategic directions taken by us. We cannot assure you that we will be able to retain these employees or find adequate replacements in a timely manner, or at all. The table below sets forth our employee attrition rate (on a consolidated level) as well as our KMPs, SMP and other employees (excluding KMPs and SMPs) attrition rate for the period / years indicated:

KMP Attrition Rate ⁽²⁾	-	25.00% ⁽³⁾	25.00% ⁽³⁾	-	-
SMP Attrition Rate ⁽⁴⁾	-	-	-	16.67%	-
Other Employees Attrition Rate ⁽⁵⁾	23.85%	17.84%	21.69%	24.07%	25.34%

Note:

The attrition experienced during the relevant periods was primarily due to a number of factors including but not limited to employees pursuing career opportunities outside the organisation, compensation considerations, relocation requirements, and other personal reasons.

Attracting and retaining qualified personnel is critical to our ongoing operations and growth, especially given intense competition for talent in India. Replacing key personnel may take time and require increasing compensation to remain competitive. Loss of key staff or delays in hiring suitable replacements could adversely impact our business, results of operations, cash flows, and financial condition. For details of changes in our key managerial personnel in the past three years, see “Our Management - Changes in the Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management in the last three years” on page 346.

- 24. Our Group Companies (i) InCred Capital Wealth Portfolio Managers Private Limited, is involved in ventures which are engaged in the same line of activity or business as that of our Company, i.e., merchant banking services and (ii) InCred Prime Finance Private Limited, is involved in ventures which are engaged in the same line of activity or business as that of our Material Subsidiary, IFSL, i.e., NBFC, although InCred Prime and IFSL target different segments of the NBFC lending market and have entered into a non-conflict agreement dated October 29, 2025 to avoid and/or resolve any conflict which may arise between them.

One of our Group Companies, InCred Capital Wealth Portfolio Managers Private Limited (“ICWPMPL”) is engaged in the merchant banking business and holds a SEBI registration for undertaking merchant banking business (“Merchant Banking Services”). ICWPMPL offers these services to independent third-party customers based on contracts entered with such third-party customers. Our Company and ICWPMPL have entered into a non-conflict agreement dated October 29, 2025 to avoid and/or resolve any conflict which may arise in relation to the Merchant Banking Services being provided by both the entities.

Further, one of our Group Companies, InCred Prime Finance Private Limited (erstwhile known as InCred Prime Finance Limited) (“InCred Prime”) is a middle-layer NBFC registered with RBI. InCred Prime focuses on providing loan against securities to customers who are looking for liquidity against investments in securities and margin funding and other secured products to body corporates, high net worth and ultra-high net worth individuals, while our Material Subsidiary, IFSL is a retail-focused, diversified, middle-layer NBFC registered with the RBI which offers a diversified lending portfolio across five principal product verticals comprising of personal loans, student loans, secured business loans (covering both loan against property and school financing), specialised MSME loans (including embedded financing and asset backed financing), and lending to financial institutions. While InCred Prime and IFSL target different segments of the NBFC lending market, they have entered into a non-conflict agreement dated October 29, 2025, in order to avoid and / or resolve any conflict which may arise between them.

For details see “Our Group Company - Common pursuits between our Group Company and our Company” on page 356.

- 25. An inability to recover outstanding amounts due under defaulted loans within our secured loan portfolio, from realisation of security due to factors such as declining asset value, legal or documentation risks, adverse market conditions or regulatory limitations could adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

Our secured loan portfolio exposes us to risks related to security realisation, mortgage documentation reliability, enforceability of security, and borrower creditworthiness. The value of security may decline due to market conditions, economic headwinds, or asset depreciation, limiting our ability to fully recover outstanding amounts in default situations. Our secured loan portfolio is vulnerable to inaccurate property valuations, defective or incomplete title deeds, historical disputes, local market conditions and potential fraud. Deficiencies or forgery in property documentation can delay, reduce, or prevent recovery, sometimes requiring protracted litigation or resulting in unexpected losses.

Borrowers may also appeal to the statutory or judicial authorities, which can further delay asset recovery by issuing stay orders; such proceedings can lead to litigation risks and negative publicity.

Total Secured Loans (₹ in million) (A)	29,906.78	24,459.15	27,717.91	24,224.59	19,554.89
Total Gross Loans (₹ in million) (B)	126,897.66	98,352.41	107,779.54	74,492.44	55,556.36
Secured Loans as a percentage of Total Gross Loans (A/B)	23.57%	24.87%	25.72%	32.52%	35.20%

While no enforcement failures have occurred during the nine month period ended December 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, or years ended March 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, enforcement and realisation of security for defaulted loans remains challenging, and delays or legal complexities could lead to credit losses and materially affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows.

26. Our student loan business is subject to significant seasonality, which may lead to fluctuations in our operating performance, cash flows, and financial condition.

Our student loan disbursements and originations are seasonal, with demand for disbursements concentrated around specific periods of the year, primarily in the months preceding the start of international academic sessions (typically August-September and December-January). This seasonality leads to pronounced peaks in loan volumes during these months and lower activity in others, which can cause fluctuations in our monthly and quarterly operational results, disbursement volumes, and cash flows that may not reflect our full-year performance. Accordingly, our results of operations and financial condition in one quarter may not accurately reflect the trends for the entire Fiscal.

If there are changes to academic calendars, delays in admission processes, policy changes affecting student mobility, or disruptions such as travel restrictions or geopolitical events, these could intensify or alter seasonal patterns, further impacting our financial results and asset quality. There is no assurance that the seasonality of our student loan business will not have an adverse impact on our results of operations and financial condition in the future.

27. We depend on our internal credit evaluation policy, data algorithms, and technology platform for credit decisions. Any inaccuracy or gaps in these processes could materially affect our business, prospects, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

We rely on internal credit policies, proprietary data algorithms, and our technology platform to assess creditworthiness and make lending decisions. Our evaluation combines inputs from credit bureaus, customer financial information, independent verification using machine learning and artificial intelligence, sales team observations, underwriting reviews, and collateral valuations amongst others.

This technology-driven approach depends heavily on the quality and reliability of both external and internal data, as well as the accuracy of our analytical models. Incomplete or erroneous data, or flaws in our algorithms, could lead to suboptimal lending decisions, increased non-performing assets, and unexpected credit losses, adversely affecting our profitability and financial condition. Moreover, our internal algorithms and analytical models may not always adapt rapidly to the latest market developments particularly in artificial intelligence and machine learning, may pose risks including potential system biases, challenges in maintaining leading-edge capabilities, and impacts on customer experience, which could further expose us to credit quality and operational risks. Furthermore, we are required to comply with the RBI Master Directions – Information Technology Governance, Risk, Control and Assurance Practices dated November 7, 2023 (the “IT Governance Directions”) in relation to the governance of information technology and the risks, assurance practices, control mechanisms and disaster management associated with IT and cyber security. The IT Governance Directions provide guidelines for strategic alignment, risk management, resource management, performance management and disaster recovery management. For further details, see “Key Regulations and Policies” on page 295.

Our dependence on third-party data providers and technology also means disruptions whether due to regulatory changes, contractual issues, or vendor problems could limit our ability to assess applicants effectively. Furthermore, we have progressively embedded artificial intelligence and machine learning capabilities across our customer lifecycle. This increasing dependence on AI-powered tools may expose us to risks arising from model degradation, data quality issues, third-party AI service disruptions, and evolving regulatory expectations around the use of artificial intelligence in financial services.

While we have not experienced any material failures or significant disruptions in our credit evaluation processes or technology platform during the nine month period ended December 31, 2025, or years ended March 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, there can be no assurance that such issues will not arise in the future. Any failure in our credit assessment or data-driven systems could lead to increased credit losses and materially affect our business, financial results, and operations.

28. We have a limited history of operating as a public company, which may affect investor assessment of our business and future prospects.

Our Company was originally incorporated as a private limited company under the Companies Act, 1956, pursuant to a certificate of incorporation dated January 3, 2011, issued by the RoC. Our Company was converted from a private limited company to a public limited company under the Companies Act, 2013, and a fresh certificate of incorporation consequent to the conversion was issued by the RoC on July 8, 2022. Further, pursuant to the Composite Scheme of Arrangement, the name of our Company was changed to InCred Holdings Limited, and a fresh certificate of incorporation was issued by the RoC on August 18, 2022.

As a result, we have a limited operating history as a public company. Prior to our conversion, we operated as a private limited company and were not subject to the same level of public disclosure, corporate governance requirements, and regulatory scrutiny applicable to public companies.

Following the completion of this Offer, we will be subject to additional regulatory requirements and public company obligations, including enhanced disclosure requirements, compliance with listing regulations, and increased scrutiny from investors, analysts, and regulators. We may face challenges in adapting our operations, internal controls, and governance practices to meet these requirements. Any failure or delay in implementing adequate systems and processes to comply with public company obligations could adversely affect our reputation, business, results of operations, financial condition, and cash flows.

29. Our contingent liabilities and commitments amounted to ₹ 2,418.46 million as at December 31, 2025, representing 5.75% of our net worth, which may affect the future cash outflows and liquidity.

As at December 31, 2025, our commitments amounted to ₹2,418.46 million, representing 5.75% of our net worth as at that date. While we have no litigations or proceedings that require provision or disclosure as contingent liabilities as per Ind AS 37 'Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets', we have classified certain commitments as contingent liabilities, which we may be required to pay in the future.

The following table set forth our commitments as at December 31, 2025, December 31, 2024, as at March 31, 2025, March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023 as per Ind AS 37 'Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets' derived from the Restated Consolidated Financial Information:

Particulars	Amount as at
	December 31, 2025	December 31, 2024	March 31, 2025	March 31, 2024	March 31, 2023
Undrawn committed credit lines (₹ in million)	2,382.74	4,706.69	3,908.26	4,964.11	3,455.53
Obligation on investments in partly paid up preference shares (₹ in million)	35.72	35.72	35.72	35.72	33.22
Capital commitments (₹ in million)	-	-	-	8.50	8.50

Notes:

- ¹ Undrawn committed credit lines- this pertains to sanctioned lines of loans partly disbursed with commitment to disburse the balance in the future. Does not include undrawn commitments which are unconditionally cancellable by the Company or improbable for future drawdowns. Such lines are not considered for impairment allowance testing.
- ² Obligation on investments in partly paid up preference shares- This pertains to investment in partly paid shares of third party companies, where the company may be called upon to pay the balance money in the future.
- ³ Capital commitments - This refers to the future amount which the company is obligated or contractually may be required to pay under specific agreements.

The largest component of our commitments as at December 31, 2025 is undrawn committed credit lines of ₹ 2,382.74 million, representing sanctioned loan facilities that have been partly disbursed with a commitment to disburse the balance amount in the future. We are obligated to disburse these committed credit lines to our customers upon fulfilment of specified conditions.

If we are required to fulfil these commitments or if these contingent liabilities materialise, it could result in significant cash outflows, adversely affecting our liquidity, cash flows, and results of operations. Additionally, any increase in our contingent liabilities and commitments in the future may further strain our financial resources and limit our ability to pursue growth opportunities or meet other operational requirements.

30. We may not successfully scale our loans against property ("LAP") portfolio, which could adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows.

We entered the LAP portfolio in 2021 and have made substantial investments in personnel, infrastructure, and branch expansion to support this growth. Our initial presence as at March 31, 2023 consisted of an AUM of ₹1,286.02 million across 9 branches. During the years ended March 31, 2024 and 2025, we cumulatively opened 109 additional branches, which enabled us to grow our LAP AUM to ₹ 3,813.64 million as at March 31, 2024 and to ₹ 5,869.19 million as at March 31, 2025. By December 31, 2025, our LAP AUM had further increased to ₹ 8,607.18 million, supported by a total network of 139 branches.

The future success of our LAP business depends on our ability to generate sustained demand, maintain robust asset quality, and compete effectively in a dynamic market. There can be no assurance that our LAP portfolio will achieve meaningful scale, operate profitably, or meet our strategic expectations. We have incurred, and expect to continue to incur, significant costs to develop and support the LAP portfolio. If borrower acceptance is limited, competitive pressures intensify, or regulatory and market conditions change unfavourably, we may be unable to grow this business as planned or recoup our investments. In such a case, our business, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows could be adversely affected.

31. Non-compliance with financial covenants or other conditions in our financing arrangements may result in acceleration or recall of our borrowings. Furthermore, we assign or securitise some portion of our loan assets to banks and other institutions. An inability to comply with repayment and other covenants in our financing agreements or any deterioration in the performance of any pool of receivables assigned or securitised to banks and other institutions may adversely impact our Company as well, given that IFSL is our Material Subsidiary and contributes significantly to our consolidated financial performance and operations.

Our Material Subsidiary, IFSL is subject to restrictive covenants, financial conditions, and other requirements under its financing arrangements. These typically include, but are not limited to, maintaining specified asset quality parameters, such as limits on NPAs, as well as meeting certain repayment or performance standards. A breach of these covenants, such as a significant increase in NPAs beyond agreed thresholds, or failure to comply with other repayment or performance obligations, may allow lenders to accelerate or recall outstanding borrowings, leading to immediate repayment obligations. In addition, some agreements require prior lender consent for actions such as changes to the capital structure of IFSL, changes to shareholding of IFSL, effecting changes in the promoter shareholding in IFSL (directly or indirectly), amendments to the constitutional documents, business activities, or management, as well as for amalgamations, reconstructions, or prepayments. Our Company itself has not availed any borrowings; however, our Material Subsidiary, IFSL, is subject to these requirements.

Any default by IFSL under its financing arrangements or failure to comply with its financial covenants may adversely impact our Company, given that IFSL is our Material Subsidiary and contributes significantly to our consolidated financial performance and operations.

As of the date of this UDRHP-I, our Material Subsidiary, IFSL has not experienced any breach or recall of borrowings under our financing arrangements. Except for the non-convertible debentures issued by our Material Subsidiary vide public issue with exclusive charge; all other secured borrowings are backed by pari passu charge by way of hypothecation over book debts, both present and future, including loan receivables.

As at the date of this UDRHP-I, IFSL, has received consents from all of its lenders required for the purposes of the Offer.

We also assign or securitise a portion of our loan receivables to banks and other financial institutions as part of our financing strategy. These transactions are based on our internal assessment of funding requirements and may involve providing credit support, including cash collateral, particularly in pass-through certificate transactions. A deterioration in the performance of any pool assigned or securitised, or changes in regulatory requirements, for instance, those prescribed by the RBI or the Government of India may require us to provide additional credit support or cash collateral, or may otherwise adversely impact these transactions. If losses increase under these transactions, guarantees may be called, or cash collateral may be enforced, which could have an adverse effect on our financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows.

Should we be unable to comply with financial covenants or secure sufficient financing or refinancing on commercially favourable terms, we may need to moderate loan origination, implement cost-control measures which may adversely affect our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

32. We may be required to increase or maintain our minimum ratios including capital ratio and liquidity coverage ratio that could have an adverse impact on our business, prospects, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

We are subject to the Reserve Bank of India (Non-Banking Financial Companies – Prudential Norms on Capital Adequacy) Directions, 2025 that require us to maintain a minimum Capital to Risk-weighted Asset Ratio (“CRAR”) comprised of Tier I and Tier II capital. This ratio must be at least 15% of our aggregate risk-weighted assets, including both on-balance sheet assets and risk-adjusted off-balance sheet items. Additionally, our Tier I capital must not fall below 10% at any time. We must also comply with regulatory minimums for our Liquidity Coverage Ratio, which requires us to hold a sufficient buffer of high-quality liquid assets to cover net cash outflows over a designated stress period. Furthermore, in order to comply with the principal business criteria (“PBC”) ratio prescribed by the RBI under the Reserve Bank of India (Non-Banking Financial Companies – Registration, Exemptions and Framework for Scale Based Regulation) Directions, 2025, NBFCs are required to maintain financial assets more than 50% of total assets (netted off by other intangible assets) and income from total financial assets more than 50% of gross income.

Notes:

⁽²⁾ CRAR – Tier II Capital (%) - Tier II capital computed basis the method provided by the regulator divided by risk weighted assets as at the last day of the specified period/ year. CRAR – Tier II Capital (%) pertains to the Material Subsidiary, IFSL.

⁽⁴⁾ Liquidity Coverage Ratio is calculated as simple average of daily observations over the trailing 90 days for the nine months period ended December 31, 2025. Number for March 31, 2025, December 31, 2024, March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023 are as at the reporting date. Liquidity coverage ratio pertains to the Material Subsidiary, IFSL.

While we have complied with the applicable regulatory requirements for our CRAR and LCR as at December 31, 2025, December 31, 2024, March 31, 2025, March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023, there is no assurance that we will be able to maintain these ratios within regulatory limits in the future. Any actual or perceived failure to comply with such requirements could subject us to penalties or regulatory action, potentially adversely affecting our business, results of operations, cash flows, and financial condition.

As our loan portfolio and asset base continue to grow, we may need to raise additional Tier-I and Tier-II capital and increase our liquid assets to meet applicable requirements. We intend to allocate ₹ [●] million from the Net Proceeds towards investment in our Material Subsidiary, IFSL, to support its capital base for future lending. For further details, see “Objects of the Offer – Details of the Objects – Investment in our wholly owned subsidiary InCred Financial Services Limited for augmenting its capital base. The Net Proceeds will be utilised to increase InCred Financial Services Limited’s Tier – I capital base, towards onward lending and improving InCred Financial Services Limited’s CRAR” on page 137. However, there can be no assurance that we will be able to raise additional capital or liquid assets as needed or maintain the required levels of financial assets and income to remain compliant with regulatory ratios.

The RBI may mandate higher capital adequacy ratios or risk weights for certain asset classes in the future, potentially requiring us to raise additional equity within prescribed timelines that may be difficult to meet. Any such changes could require us to adjust our business practices, accounting methods, or undertake other measures that could adversely affect our business and financial results.

33. Integration or discontinuation of products or businesses involves risks and may adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

As part of our growth and diversification strategy, we regularly evaluate opportunities to develop, acquire, or expand into new products, services, or business verticals. These efforts can occur through internal development or the acquisition of existing businesses. Similarly, we may discontinue certain lending products in response to shifting market conditions, performance outcomes, regulatory changes, or revised strategic objectives. However, both the introduction of new initiatives and the discontinuation of underperforming or non-strategic products are subject to significant execution, operational, commercial, and regulatory risks.

We have, in the past, discontinued certain lending products (as mentioned in the table below) based on factors including shifting market conditions, performance outcomes, regulatory changes, and revised strategic objectives. Discontinuation of products or business lines can involve operational complexities, resource reallocation, and the need to manage outstanding borrower obligations and customer communications. These actions may result in negative customer perceptions, disruption of client relationships, loss of recurring income, potential write-offs or impairments, and increased compliance or operational costs. There is also a risk of negative market or regulatory interpretation, leading to reputational damage or greater scrutiny. Similar factors may result in discontinuation of other products in the future.

The following table sets out our discontinued lending products and dates on which they were discontinued as well as the outstanding AUM as at December 31, 2025:

Discontinued Lending Product	Date of discontinuation	Outstanding AUM at December 31, 2025 (₹ in million)
Supply chain financing	August 1, 2025	149.37
Personal Loan – Line of Credit	November 15, 2024	95.03
Unsecured Business Loans (DSA sourced)	July 26, 2022	-
Legacy wholesale lending book	April 1, 2022	-
Two wheeler loans (DSA sourced)	October 4, 2021	-
Home loans	December 11, 2018	0.38

Similarly, acquisitions and the integration of new businesses may not always proceed as planned. Initiatives may be discontinued or called off before completion due to concerns, or misalignment with strategic goals. Even completed transactions can pose integration challenges, potentially preventing us from realising anticipated synergies, achieving operational efficiencies, or generating the expected financial benefits. Unsuccessful or discontinued initiatives may also result in significant costs, asset impairments, or management distraction. There can be no assurance that future initiatives will be completed or integrated successfully, or will achieve their intended benefits. If any of these risks materialise, they could adversely affect our business, reputation, results of operations, cash flows, and financial condition.

34. Our business requires funds regularly (we had a total borrowing of ₹ 101,637.64 million as at December 31, 2025), and any disruption in our funding sources on acceptable terms and at competitive rates would have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Our business and operational results rely on our ongoing ability to secure both debt and equity funding from diverse external sources, on terms and within timeframes that are favourable to us. Historically, we have met our funding requirements from diversified sources using a mix of instruments and channels including non-convertible debentures, commercial papers, demand loans, term loans, securitization and working capital lines from public and private banks, mutual funds and external commercial borrowings (“ECBs”).

Our capacity to raise or refinance funds on suitable terms may be influenced by several factors, including our business performance, credit ratings, regulatory guidelines, shifts in government policy, market liquidity conditions, financial health of our lenders, adequacy of eligible collateral, foreign exchange rates (particularly where ECBs are concerned), and accounting or regulatory changes impacting covenant calculations in our agreements. The capital and lending markets, particularly debt and money markets, are inherently volatile, and challenging economic environments may constrain our access to funding or increase the cost of borrowing. If we are unable to secure funding on competitive terms or refinance maturing obligations when due, we may incur higher financing costs or face liquidity pressures.

The table below sets forth details of our funding profile as at and for the period / years indicated:

Particulars	As at and for the nine month period ended December 31,		As at and for year ended March 31,
Total Borrowings ⁽¹⁾ (₹ in million)	101,637.64	70,973.12	83,585.10	50,171.54	38,643.69
Finance costs (₹ in million)	6,732.54	4,447.68	6,271.67	4,532.56	3,560.19
Total equity (₹ in million)	42,024.43	37,068.59	38,032.65	33,867.73	25,477.98

Note:

⁽¹⁾ Total Borrowings, which is a Non-GAAP measure, is the aggregate of debt securities and borrowings (other than debt securities) outstanding as at end of the relevant period/ year. For details on reconciliation, see “Selected Statistical Information - Reconciliation of GAAP to Non-GAAP Information – Non-GAAP and Operational Measures” on page 371.

While we have not faced any instances of disruption in our funding sources that led to any adverse effect on our business and operations during the nine month period ended December 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, or years ended March 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, we cannot assure you that such instances will not occur in the future. If we are unable to obtain adequate financing or refinance our existing debt in a timely manner or on terms satisfactory to us, our ability to grow or support our business and to respond to business challenges would be limited and our business, profitability, prospects, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations would be materially affected.

35. Any decline in value of our investments may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Our investments are subject to market and credit risk. The table sets forth details of our total investments and its percentage of total assets as at December 31, 2025, December 31, 2024, March 31, 2025, March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023:

Particulars	As at December 31,		As at March 31,
	2025	2024	2025	2024	2023
Investments (₹ in million) (A)	8,564.28	3,019.41	5,151.24	6,126.71	703.43
Total Assets (₹ in million) (B)	147,163.09	1,11,259.61	125,005.29	87,676.18	66,788.03
Investments as a percentage of total assets (C = A/B)	5.82%	2.71%	4.12%	6.99%	1.05%

The value of these investments and any future investments depends largely on the underlying credit quality and performance of the issuers or instruments, including their ability to meet repayment obligations and maintain prudent financial management. In addition, several factors beyond our control may affect investment values, such as domestic and international economic and political conditions, volatility in interest rates and securities markets, inflationary expectations, and the RBI's monetary policies. Any deterioration in the credit quality of our investments, or a general decline in investment values due to these external factors, may adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows, and financial condition.

36. Our Company (on a standalone basis) and certain direct and step-down Subsidiaries, have incurred losses in the past and may incur additional losses in the future which could adversely affect our financial conditions, cash flows and results of operations.

While our Company has been profitable on a consolidated basis during the nine month period ended December 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, having generated profit for the period / year of ₹2,901.45 million, ₹2,755.42 million, ₹3,731.50 million, ₹ 3,090.39 million and ₹ 1,090.64 million, on a standalone basis, our Company has experienced losses during the nine month period ended December 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024 and each of the year ended March 31, 2025, March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023. Furthermore, certain of our direct and step-down Subsidiaries have experienced losses in the past and may continue to incur losses going forward. While we continually monitor and support our subsidiaries, there can be no assurance that these entities will become profitable or that they will not face operational, market or regulatory challenges that may result in further losses.

The table below sets forth details of losses incurred by our Company, direct and step-down subsidiaries which have incurred losses (each after intercompany adjustments) during the nine month period ended December 31, 2025, December 31, 2024 and years ended March 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023:

⁽³⁾ With effect from July 11, 2023, InCred Techinvest Private Limited (formerly known as "Booth Fintech Private Limited") and InCred Premier Distribution Private Limited (formerly known as "mValu Technology Services Private Limited") ceased to be a subsidiary and a step-down subsidiary of our Material Subsidiary, IFSL, respectively, subsequent to transfer of entire shareholding to InCred Capital Financial Services Private Limited.

37. Any downgrade to our credit ratings could increase our finance costs and adversely affect our ability to borrow on a competitive basis thereby affecting our profitability and affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

The cost and availability of capital depends in part on our short-term and long-term credit ratings. Any downgrade to our credit ratings could weaken our relationships and negotiating power with our lenders, increase the average cost of borrowing, impact our ability to raise debt from certain categories of lenders, and cause our lenders to impose additional terms and conditions or charge higher premiums in respect of any financing or refinancing arrangements that we enter into in the future and further adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

Our Company has not availed any borrowings and accordingly is not required to be rated. As our Company does not have borrowings requiring credit ratings, we do not face direct risks related to credit rating downgrades at the Issuer Company level. However, any downgrade to the credit ratings of our Material Subsidiary, IFSL, could impact our consolidated financial condition, results of operations, and ability to support IFSL's growth and funding requirements.

CARE Ratings Limited	-	-	-	CARE A+/Stable, CARE PP-MLD A+/Stable, CARE A1+	CARE A+/Stable, CARE PP-MLD A+/Stable, CARE A+/Stable, CARE A1+

Our Material Subsidiary was formed by the demerger of the retail lending portfolio of erstwhile InCred Financial Services Limited (now renamed as InCred Prime Finance Private Limited and previously rated CRISIL A/Watch Positive) into KKR India Financial Services Limited (previously rated CRISIL AA/ Rating Watch with Negative Implications). Subsequent to this corporate reorganisation, the resultant entity was renamed as IFSL and its non-convertible debentures and commercial paper were rated CRISIL A+/Stable and CRISIL A1+ respectively, in August 2022. This was due to our transitioning out of the majority ownership and control by KKR Financial Investment Pte Ltd which was managing the legacy wholesale lending book.

Subsequently, IFSL has demonstrated strong operational and financial performance under the current management and ownership structure. This is evidenced by the upgrade in credit ratings to CRISIL AA-/Stable and assignment of ICRA AA-/Stable for long-term financial instruments as at December 31, 2025, December 31, 2024, March 31, 2025 and March 31, 2024. These ratings were achieved based on our Material Subsidiary's business and financial performance including strong capitalisation, comfortable earnings profile, experienced leadership team and a diversified loan portfolio.

There can be no assurance that we will not face instances of downgrade in the future, whether due to shifts in shareholding, changes in management, or broader market factors. Any adverse credit rating action could negatively affect our profitability, business operations, cash flows and financial condition.

38. If customers transfer their loans from us to other banks or financial institutions, our total gross loans and assets under management may decrease or fail to increase, which could adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and prospects.

A portion of our customers opt to refinance their existing loans through balance transfers to other financial institutions, including banks and non-banking financial companies. Such transfers are often driven by borrowers seeking lower interest rates, more favourable terms, or to manage increasing equated monthly instalments.

Each instance of a balance transfer reduces our outstanding loan book and may result in the loss of anticipated future interest income from loans that exit our portfolio. If the volume of such balance transfers increases, it could adversely impact our financial results and margins. There can be no assurance that competitive pressures will not intensify, or that further balance transfers will not occur at similar or greater rates in future periods.

39. We may face employee-related disruptions, misconduct, or integrity lapses that could adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Our ability to maintain high levels of service, regulatory compliance, and operational continuity depends significantly on our employees' conduct, engagement, and effectiveness. Although our business does not involve large-scale or unionised manual labour, we remain exposed to risks associated with workforce disputes, grievances, or collective actions that may disrupt our daily operations, impact morale, or result in increased employee costs. Such incidents, even if temporary or limited in scope, could divert management attention, require additional resources for resolution, and potentially reduce our operational efficiency.

Employee misconduct or integrity lapses pose a particularly material risk to financial services companies. Examples include entering into unauthorised transactions, breaching internal risk controls or limits, concealing incorrect or illegal activities, or misuse and disclosure of confidential or proprietary information (including client data). In addition, misconduct could involve breaches of applicable law or regulation, workplace discrimination, or other offences. These scenarios may expose us to financial losses, regulatory investigations, penalties, or sanctions, and can result in significant reputational damage, loss of customer trust, or operational disruption.

While we have adopted various Board approved policies such as Fraud Risk Management Policy and Technical Write-off Policy which set out guidelines with respect to identification, roles and responsibilities and reporting requirements pertaining to staff accountability and any such cases identified are governed by these policies and adequate action is taken and during the nine month period ended December 31, 2025, or years ended March 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, we did not encounter any employee disputes or incidents of misconduct that had an adverse effect on our business or operations, we cannot assure you that such events will not occur in the future. Any significant employee-related disruption or misconduct, if not promptly and effectively addressed, may negatively impact our business, operational outcomes, and financial condition.

40. Risk arising from compliance with Reserve Bank of India (Non-Banking Financial Companies – Credit Facilities) Directions, 2025 and the Reserve Bank of India (Non-Banking Financial Companies – Responsible Business Conduct) Directions, 2025 may adversely affect our business operations, product design, prospects, cash flows and financial position.

The RBI has issued comprehensive directions in relation to digital lending under the Reserve Bank of India (Non-Banking Financial Companies – Credit Facilities) Directions, 2025 and the Reserve Bank of India (Non-Banking Financial Companies – Responsible Business Conduct) Directions, 2025, dated November 28, 2025 (together, the “Master Directions”). These Master Directions consolidate existing guidelines and introduce new measures to address concerns in the digital lending ecosystem, such as the engagement of third parties, mis-selling, data privacy issues, unfair practices, excessive interest rates, and unethical recovery methods. The Master Directions are applicable to digital lending activities conducted by NBFCs, among others. The Master Directions also require regulated entities to assume full responsibility for all acts of their digital lending partners and prohibit mechanisms such as first-loss default guarantee arrangements unless they are in accordance with RBI's specified framework.

Our business model utilises a wide range of digital channels, technology platforms, and third-party partners for loan origination, servicing, and collections. Adhering to the Master Directions' requirements involves significant enhancements to our operational processes, compliance systems, technology integration, audit mechanisms, and customer interfaces. Failure to effectively implement or demonstrate compliance with these Master Directions could expose us to regulatory actions, including restrictions on our business operations, financial penalties, imposition of special audits, or requirements to unwind or re-engineer existing structures with partners. Also, compliance may increase our operating and technology costs, impact the speed of customer onboarding, restrict the use of certain business models, and reduce flexibility in responding to market needs.

AUM of digital personal loans as a percentage of total AUM (C=A/B)	1.15%	2.71%	2.11%	5.31%	9.20%

Note:

1. Total AUM: The aggregate outstanding of Total Gross Loans and assigned loan assets, as at the last day of the specified period/year.

Moreover, the RBI's digital lending directions are evolving and may be supplemented or amended periodically. Regulatory uncertainty and new obligations may require us to continuously adapt our systems, contracts, and policies creating execution, legal, and reputational risks. In particular, a rise in cybersecurity incidents in the sector could prompt the RBI to further tighten digital lending requirements, leading to additional obligations and compliance costs for market participants. Any failure, real or perceived, to comply with RBI's DLD framework including in relation to disclosures, data handling, fair lending, outsourcing, or partner management could adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows, and financial condition.

41. Our Registered and Corporate Office and all of our branches are operated on leased premises and our inability to renew such lease agreement may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

The table below sets out details of our Registered and Corporate Office, which is on a long-term lease for five years expiring on December 15, 2029:

Office name	Date of agreement	Duration / Valid until
Registered and Corporate Office	December 16, 2024	December 15, 2029

Furthermore, as at December 31, 2025, we had 158 branches, all of which operate from premises that have been leased by us. The term of the leases for our branches typically ranges from 11 months to nine years. While we have not faced major issues renewing the leases of our offices or branches during the nine month period ended December 31, 2025 and nine months ended December 31, 2024, or years ended March 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, in the event that the existing leases for our branches and registered and corporate office are terminated or not renewed on commercially acceptable terms, we may suffer a disruption in our operations. If alternative premises are not available at the same or similar costs, sizes or locations in a timely manner, our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations may be adversely affected. Furthermore, any regulatory non-compliance by the landlord or adverse development relating to the landlord's title or ownership rights to such properties, including as a result of any non-compliance by the landlord, may entail disruptions to our operations, especially if we are forced to vacate leased space following any such developments.

For further information see "Our Business – Real Properties" on page 293.

42. We are unable to trace certain of our historical corporate records and secretarial documents. We cannot assure you that no legal proceedings or regulatory actions will be initiated against our Company in the future in relation to such matters, which may adversely impact our financial condition and reputation.

We have been unable to locate certain challans in relation to certain past allotments of Equity Shares/Preference Shares in relation to the forms that have been filed with the RoC. We have also not been able to locate certain corporate records including (i) board resolution authorising the issuance of Equity Shares allotted on February 21, 2017, (ii) the board resolution and shareholder resolution authorising the issuance of Preference Shares allotted on June 5, 2012 and June 26, 2012, (iii) valuation reports, list of allottees and form filings in relation to buy-back of Equity Shares on June 21, 2012 and (iv) certain filings in relation to transfer of Equity Shares of our Company.

Further, we have been unable to trace certain Forms FC-GPR, FIRC's and RBI acknowledgments pertaining to certain past allotments of Equity Shares/Preference Shares filed with the RBI. Further, we have filed form FC-GPR with RBI for certain shareholders who were allotted compulsorily convertible preference shares pursuant to the Composite Scheme of Arrangement for which the RBI has provided conditional approval subject to submission of application for compounding to RBI regional office and we are in the process of submitting it. Additionally, there have been instances of delayed filings with the RBI in respect of certain allotments of Equity Shares/Preference Shares, for which the Company has paid late filing fees, as per applicable law. Although no regulatory action has been taken against the Company in the past in relation to such delays, there can be no assurance that no regulatory action will be initiated against the Company in the future or that fines or penalties will not be levied, which could adversely affect the Company's reputation and cash flows. Additionally, we were unable to trace certain award agreements, and grant letters in relation to certain of our RSU and ESOP allotments.

In relation to these missing records, we have also relied on the search report dated November 6, 2025 issued by Dipika Kataria, practicing company secretary (Membership No. F8708), engaged by our Company, who have independently carried out their search/inspection of documents available in the digital records maintained on the Ministry of Corporate Affairs portal at www.mca.gov.in and carried out a digital as well as a physical search of the documents filed by the Company with the RoC and viewed other records of the Company located at its registered office. Based on these procedures, Dipika Kataria, practicing company secretary (Membership No. F8708), has certified on November 6, 2025 that the corporate records and forms, as set out above are not traceable at the offices of the RoC, or available on the MCA portal or at the offices of the Company. We cannot assure you that the abovementioned records will be available in the future. While no legal proceeding or regulatory action has been initiated against our Company in relation to such untraceable records as of the date of this UDRHP-I and while we believe penalty on such non-compliances will not be material, we cannot assure you that such proceedings will not be initiated against our Company in the future or that such records will be available to us in the future.

43. There may be discrepancies between certain corporate filings made by us and our corporate records from time to time. We cannot assure you that regulatory proceedings or actions will not be initiated against us in the future and that we will not be subject to any penalty imposed by the competent regulatory authority in this regard.

We are required to make regulatory filings for certain corporate actions undertaken by our Company including for any allotment of shares in the ordinary course of business. In this regard, our corporate filings may have certain discrepancies. For instance, (i) in case of Form PAS-3 filed in relation to allotment of equity shares of ₹10 dated January 2, 2024, the details of issue price paid with respect to allotment of shares, as mentioned in the list of allottees attached to the form, was incorrectly entered in as ₹ 18 and ₹ 30 instead of ₹ 28 and ₹ 40, respectively and (ii) in relation to the equity shares allotted on September 7, 2020, the board resolution inadvertently mentions the consideration price taking into account the face value of equity shares allotted instead of the issue price. Additionally, the board resolution noting the allotment does not specify this allotment was under the RSU Plan. Instead, it inadvertently specifies that the allotment of equity shares was by way of an 'ESOP Scheme.' The correct consideration was included in the Form PAS-3 as well as the board resolution in relation to the allotment. Further, a few of the Form PAS-3 inadvertently reflects the names of only the first shareholder instead of the names of the joint shareholders. We cannot assure you that any such discrepancies in filings will be rectified, or if any regulatory proceedings or actions will be initiated against us in the future. While no penalty or fine has been levied by the appropriate authorities against us for such discrepancies and while we believe the penalty on such non-compliance will not be material, we cannot assure you that we will not be subject to any penalty imposed on us by any competent regulatory authority in this regard, which could have an adverse effect on our results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

44. Failure to appropriately stamp or register our key agreements, including rental agreements and loan or security documentation, may adversely affect our rights and ability to enforce such agreements.

The agreements we enter into such as rental agreements with landlords for our offices and branches must be stamped in accordance with applicable state stamp duty legislation and registered under the Registration Act, 1908, where required. If a rental agreement is not registered, it may be declared legally unenforceable. If it is insufficiently stamped, it may not be admissible as evidence in Indian courts, and we may have to pay additional stamp duty and penalties as assessed by the concerned authority. Any failure in stamping or registration may compromise our ability to enforce key terms, potentially causing disruptions to our operations or our ability to continue operating from particular premises.

In addition, we may face similar risks in relation to our loan agreements, mortgage deeds, or other forms of security documentation, particularly in states where stamping and registration requirements are complex or vary. If such documentation is not properly stamped or registered, in future, we may face difficulties in enforcing our rights against borrowers or enforcing security on default, which could adversely impact our recoveries, asset quality, and financial condition. While we believe liability on such insufficient stamp duty will not be material, non-compliance may also result in regulatory actions, penalties, and adverse findings against us.

We regularly review and seek to comply with the applicable legal requirements for stamping and registration of documents. However, we cannot assure you that all agreements will always be appropriately stamped or registered in a timely manner, or that inadvertent lapses will not occur.

45. We rely primarily on third-party insurance policies to insure our operations-related risks. If our insurance coverage is inadequate, it may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We maintain a comprehensive suite of insurance policies to safeguard our personnel, fixed assets, and business operations. This includes a directors' and officers' liability policy, which covers our directors and officers against claims arising out of legal and regulatory proceedings and monetary demands for damages. To protect our tangible assets, we hold policies covering fixed assets and laptops across India. We also maintain a cyber security insurance policy to mitigate risks arising from cyber incidents and potential liabilities. In addition, we have a keyman insurance policy for Bhupinder Singh. For our employees, we maintain group personal accident, Medclaim, and term life policies. These insurance policies are generally valid for one year and renewed annually.

The table below sets forth the insurance cover on our assets of the Company as at the relevant dates:

Particulars	As at December 31, 2025	As at December 31, 2024	As at March 31, 2025	As at March 31, 2024	As at March 31, 2023
Insurance coverage (₹ in million)	500.94	508.72	508.72	311.57	220.56
Gross value of assets (₹ in million)	680.27	615.01	621.45	514.08	379.84
Percentage of insurance coverage of gross value of fixed assets	73.64%	82.72%	81.86%	60.61%	58.07%

Notes:

- (1) Gross Value of assets includes building, computers and printers, furniture and fixtures, lease hold improvements, vehicles (excluding for IFSL) and office equipment & excludes intangible assets.
- (2) The insurance cover on vehicles included in the fixed assets of IFSL, have been obtained by employees of IFSL. As per the IFSL's car policy, the value of car is recovered from the employees of IFSL. Accordingly, the gross value of vehicles of IFSL are not included in the table above. The gross value of IFSL's vehicles of each financial year are as below:

Relevant Dates	Gross Value of Assets (₹ in million)
As at December 31, 2025	105.33
As at December 31, 2024	94.02
As at March 31, 2025	91.96
As at March 31, 2024	50.96
As at March 31, 2023	19.44

Our insurance policies may not be adequate to cover all losses or liabilities that may arise from our operations. Our insurance policies contain exclusions and limitations on coverage, and, accordingly, we may not be able to successfully assert claims for the full amount of any liability or losses. Additionally, there may be various other risks and losses for which we are not insured because such risks are either uninsurable or not insurable on commercially acceptable terms. There can be no assurance that in the future we will be able to maintain insurance of the types or at levels which we deem necessary or adequate or at premiums which we deem to be commercially acceptable. Furthermore, our claim records may affect the premiums which insurance companies may charge us in the future. If we are unable to pass the effects of increased insurance costs on to our members, the costs of higher insurance premiums could have a material effect on our costs and profitability.

While we have not made any insurance claims nor have our insurance claims been rejected during the nine month period ended December 31, 2025, or years ended March 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, some of our insurance claims may be rejected by the insurance agencies in the future and there can be no assurance that any claim under the insurance policies maintained by us will be honoured fully, in part, or on time. The occurrence of an event for which we are not insured, where the loss is in excess of insured limits or where we are unable to successfully assert insurance claims from losses, could result in uninsured liabilities. Any uninsured losses or liabilities could result in an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. Even if we are able to successfully claim insurance to cover losses arising from certain incidents, such incidents may damage our reputation and brand image which may adversely impact our business operations, financial condition and results of operations.

46. We have issued Equity Shares during the last 12 months, the price of which may be lower than the Offer Price.

We have, in the 12 months preceding the filing of this UDRHP-I, issued Equity Shares at prices that may be lower than the Offer Price, pursuant to exercise of ESOPs and pursuant to the Scheme of Amalgamation. For further information, please see “Capital Structure – Notes to Capital Structure – 4. Issue of specified securities at a price lower than the Offer Price in the last year” on page 119. The price at which our Company has issued the Equity Shares in the past is not indicative of the price at which they will be issued or traded.

47. Grants of stock options under our employee stock option schemes may result in a charge to our profit and loss account and, to that extent, affect our financial condition.

Our Company may, in the future, continue to issue Equity Shares, including under our InCred Holdings Limited – Employee Stock Option Plan 2022 (“ESOP Plan”), at prices that may be lower than the Offer Price, subject to compliance with applicable law. Grants of stock options result in a charge to our statement of profit and loss and affect our financial condition. Any issuances of Equity Shares by our Company, including through exercise of employee stock options pursuant to the ESOP Plan or any stock option schemes that we may implement in the future, may dilute your shareholding in the Company, thereby adversely affecting the trading price of the Equity Shares.

48. Exposure to NBFCs may result in credit risk during market downturns or sectoral distress which could impact our asset quality, profitability, and overall financial position.

We extend term loans to NBFCs regulated by the RBI for onward lending purposes. The performance of these loans is inherently linked to the financial health and operational stability of the NBFCs to whom they are extended.

A downturn in the NBFC sector, for example, due to economic slowdowns, contraction in funding sources, increased defaults within their loan portfolios, or regulatory/policy actions may impair the ability of these NBFCs to service their obligations. Additionally, prolonged liquidity challenges or a general credit crunch in the financial sector could increase the risk of default, delay in repayments, or greater provisioning requirements. This may adversely affect our asset quality, profitability, and overall financial position.

49. As a public limited company with a large and dispersed shareholder base, we may be unable to restrict the transfer of our Equity Shares and may be subject to regulatory scrutiny regarding the build-up of our equity capital since incorporation on account of our large shareholder base while being an unlisted company. Any adverse findings or compliance gaps could materially affect our Company's business, financial condition, and reputation.

As at the date of this UDRHP-I, our Company had 7,225 shareholders (based on beneficiary position statement available on May 1, 2026). This large and diverse shareholder base has resulted primarily from various allotments pursuant to ESOPs, preferential allotment, conversion of CCPS issued to holders pursuant to the Composite Scheme of Arrangement undertaken by our Company and subsequent secondary transactions by the shareholders including current and ex-employees of the Company and certain members of our Promoter Group. For further details, see “Capital Structure—Notes to the Capital Structure – 1. Share Capital history of our Company” on page 102. Following these issuances, recipients of such allotments have effected further transfers, and as a public limited company under Section 111 of the Companies Act, 1956 and Section 58 of the Companies Act, 2013, we are generally unable to impose restrictions on the transferability of our Equity Shares, except as permitted by law. Our Company has not participated in or controlled such secondary transactions.

Additionally, given the significant number of shareholders prior to an initial public offering, we may be exposed or subject to further regulatory inquiries or investigations regarding the build-up of our pre-Offer equity capital, including the validity and compliance of past transfers (whether as an unlisted or as a public company). Such inquiries could be initiated by authorities such as the Ministry of Corporate Affairs or the SEBI under relevant provisions, including Sections 206 and 207 or Chapter XIV of the Companies Act. Allotments made in the past by our Company have been made in compliance with Sections 64 and 67 of the Companies Act, 1956 and Section 42 of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable. For further details, see “Capital Structure - Notes to the Capital Structure – 1. Share Capital history of our Company – (a) Equity Share capital history of our Company” on page 102.

There can be no assurance that future inquiries, should they arise, will not result in an investigation or in findings of non-compliance. Any determination of non-compliance, even if inadvertent, may result in the imposition of penalties under Section 42 or other applicable provisions of the Companies Act, or in the initiation of enforcement or remedial action by a regulatory authority. Any such outcome could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, reputation, and ability to raise further capital.

50. Any actual or perceived breach of privacy or data security, or failure to comply with evolving data protection laws, could adversely impact our business, reputation, and financial performance.

As a technology-driven financial services platform, our operations require the regular processing and retention of significant volumes of personal, transactional and demographic data relating to customer, originator partners, investor partners, and other stakeholders. Our digital infrastructure, as well as data obtained and handled by us or through third-party providers and platform partners, is subject to privacy and cybersecurity risks. These risks include, but are not limited to, unauthorised access or data leakage, system intrusions, cyber-attacks, the improper use or sharing of confidential data by internal or external actors, and vulnerabilities within our own or third-party systems.

Failure to prevent, detect, or appropriately respond to data security incidents could result in the exposure of sensitive or confidential information, potentially damaging the trust of our customers and partners, and leading to reputational harm and regulatory scrutiny. We could also face service disruptions, legal claims, customer attrition, and significant costs associated with investigating, remediating, and responding to such incidents.

India has implemented the Digital Personal Data Protection Act, 2023 which establishes stringent standards regarding the collection, processing, transfer, and protection of personal data. The law introduces enhanced obligations for data fiduciaries (including requirements for securing data, obtaining consent, and timely breach reporting), cross-border data transfer limitations, and penalties for non-compliance, to be enforced by the Data Protection Board of India. In addition, we must comply with other applicable domestic and international data privacy laws and evolving industry standards.

While we have not experienced any material data security breaches or material lapses in privacy law compliance during the nine month period ended December 31, 2025, or years ended March 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, nor has any third party providers reported such instances, no assurance can be given that breaches or concerns will not arise in the future as digital threats and regulations continue to evolve. Our failure, or the failure of our platform partners, to comply with current or future data protection requirements or any incident involving unauthorised disclosure of personal information, whether actual or perceived could result in government investigations, regulatory actions or penalties, private claims or class actions, increased compliance costs, operational disruptions, and substantial reputational damage. Any of these outcomes could adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition, and cash flows.

51. Our Statutory Auditors and Previous Statutory Auditors have included an emphasis of matter in their auditors report describing the purpose and basis of preparation of our special purpose consolidated interim financial statements and audited financial statements for the nine month period ended December 31, 2025 and year ended March 31, 2023, respectively. There can be no assurance that going forward such emphasis or any similar observations will not be included by our statutory auditors in their audit reports, which could have an adverse impact on our reputation.

For the nine month period ended December 31, 2025, our Statutory Auditors have included an emphasis of matter in their auditors' report on our special purpose consolidated interim financial statements which describes the purpose and basis of preparation of the special purpose consolidated interim financial statements that have been prepared by our Company for the purpose of preparation of the restated consolidated financial information as required under the SEBI ICDR Regulations in relation to the proposed Offer. As a result, the special purpose consolidated interim financial statements may not be suitable for any other purpose.

For the year ended March 31, 2023, our Previous Statutory Auditors included an emphasis of matter in their auditors report on our audited financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2023. This related to the implementation of a scheme of arrangement concerning a demerger. In line with the scheme, effect was given in our books of account from the appointed date, rather than from the acquisition date prescribed under Indian Accounting Standard (Ind AS) 103 – Business Combinations (i.e., the date when actual control is obtained). The accounting for the demerger was carried out in accordance with Ind AS 103.

Although the auditors' opinion was not modified in respect of this matter, there can be no assurance that future audit reports will not include similar emphasis of matter paragraphs or other observations. Any such emphasis or observations by our Statutory Auditors could adversely impact the perception of our financial statements and harm our reputation.

52. We carry goodwill and other intangible assets on our balance sheet, which are subject to impairment testing. Any requirement to record an impairment loss could adversely affect our financial condition, results of operations and net worth.

Our Restated Consolidated Financial Information reflects the presence of goodwill and other intangible assets, including but not limited to, software and acquired rights, arising primarily from business combinations, purchase price allocations, and implementation of a composite scheme of arrangement. Such intangible assets, including the carrying value of goodwill, are subject to periodic impairment testing in accordance with applicable accounting standards and regulatory requirements.

The carrying amount of goodwill acquired in business combinations is summarised as follows as at the respective dates / for the relevant period / years:

Balance at the beginning of the year (₹ in million)	664.56	664.56	664.56	677.88	65.27

Particulars	As at / for the nine month period ended December 31, 2025	As at / for the nine month period ended December 31, 2024	As at / for the year ended March 31, 2025	As at / for the year ended March 31, 2024	As at / for the year ended March 31, 2023
Goodwill arising on account of business combination (₹ in million)	95.69	-	-	-	2,554.27
Impaired during the period/year (₹ in million)	(51.95)	-	-	(13.32)	(1,941.66)
Balance at the end of period/year (₹ in million)	708.30	664.56	664.56	664.56	677.88

Of the above, for the year March 31, 2023, goodwill amounting to ₹612.60 million (net of impairment) pertains to a subsidiary which arises due to the difference between purchase consideration and the net assets acquired on account of a composite scheme. The goodwill is supported by the potential realization of the sale of the underlying security (land). During the year ended March 31, 2025, there have been legal proceedings by the Directorate of Enforcement, Gurugram Zonal Office resulting in attachment of the said security. We are in the process of contesting the proceedings. For further details, please see “Outstanding Litigations - 2. Outstanding litigation proceedings initiated by our Subsidiaries - i. Material civil litigations.” on page 523. We have not made any adjustment to the carrying value of the goodwill, based on the opinion received from external legal counsel and internal assessment.

For the year ended March 31, 2024, we performed impairment tests and concluded that the fair value less costs of disposal exceeds the value in use. As a result of this analysis, we recognized an impairment charge of ₹13.32 million against the goodwill.

For the nine months ended December 31, 2025, the goodwill of ₹95.69 million accounted during the period is on account of the difference between purchase consideration and the asset (software) acquired on account of a business combination. The software would help reduce the external dependency of the subsidiary with respect to loan origination costs and would be economically beneficial for us. Based on management’s assessment as of the reporting date, no adjustment has been taken to the value of goodwill.

Further, during the nine months ended December 31, 2025, our Company completed the sale of its entire equity stake in its step-down subsidiary, InCred Finserv Private Limited. Consequent to this disposal and the resulting loss of control, the carrying amount of goodwill on consolidation attributable to the said subsidiary, amounting to ₹51.95 million, has been fully impaired and recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

Going forward, any requirement to record an impairment loss could adversely affect our financial condition, results of operations and net worth.

53. Our business is subject to statutory and regulatory licensing requirements, and any inability to obtain, maintain, or renew such approvals may negatively impact our revenue from operations, reputation, business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

Our business operations, require various statutory and regulatory licences, registrations and approvals from governmental and regulatory authorities in India, including but not limited to, the SEBI, RBI, Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India and other applicable central and state agencies. These authorisations are essential for us to lawfully conduct, expand and diversify our financial services businesses.

There can be no assurance that all required licences, approvals, permissions, or registrations will be granted, renewed, or maintained in a timely manner or at all. Any delay, denial, suspension, or revocation of these regulatory approvals whether due to inadvertent non-compliance, changes in regulations, increased scrutiny by authorities, or administrative delays could halt, restrict or disrupt our operations. In particular, any suspension or cancellation of IRDAI license could result in loss of revenue and accordingly adversely affecting our revenue from operations, reputation, business, financial condition and cash flows. For further information, see “Government and Other Approvals” on page 528.

Furthermore, changes to the regulatory framework or introduction of new compliance requirements may impose additional costs and burdens. If we fail to obtain, maintain, or renew any such licences or approvals, it may restrict our ability to offer certain financial products or services, expose us to penalties, sanctions or litigation, and adversely affect our business prospects, liquidity, financial condition, and results of operations.

54. We rely on a brand license agreement with our Promoter Group company, InCred Finserv Private Limited (formerly known as InCred Management and Technology Services Limited), to use the InCred logo. Any termination of our rights to use the InCred logo or any reputational harm to the InCred brand could materially and adversely affect our brand recognition, business, financial condition and results of operations.

We rely on a combination of trademarks, domain names, proprietary technologies and similar intellectual property to establish and protect our rights over our intellectual property. IFSL has registered  trademark under Class 36 under the Trademarks Act, 1999. For further details, see “Our Business—Intellectual Property” on page 291. Furthermore, our Company has filed an application under Class 36 under the Trademarks Act, 1999, to register ‘’. As on the date of this UDRHP-I, the status of the said application is ‘Formalities Check Pass’.

Furthermore, we have the right to use the InCred logo pursuant to a brand license agreement dated August 9, 2022, along with the deed of adherence dated November 6, 2025 to the brand license agreement dated August 9, 2022 as amended, with our Promoter Group company, InCred Finserv Private Limited for usage of the InCred logo. While we have the perpetual rights to use the InCred logo, however, any termination of our rights to use the InCred logo under the agreement or any reputational harm to the InCred brand could materially and adversely affect our brand recognition, business, financial condition and results of operations. Pursuant to the deed of adherence dated November 6, 2025 to the Brand License Agreement, our Company can use the ‘InCred’ brand on a standalone basis until the earlier of: (a) obtaining registration of a sub-brand (with a prefix and/or a suffix) by our Company from the relevant governmental authority or (b) 3 (three) years from November 1, 2025.

Further, our wholly owned subsidiary, IFSL has entered into a share purchase agreement dated October 29, 2025 with our Promoter, Bhupinder Singh (“Share Purchase Agreement”), pursuant to which IFSL sold 22,899,999 equity shares of InCred Finserv Private Limited for a consideration of ₹49.30 million to Bhupinder Singh. On the closing date of the Share Purchase Agreement IFSL ceased to be the holding company of InCred Finserv Private Limited. For further details, see “History and Certain Corporate Matters—Other Agreements” on page 319.

An intellectual property registration granted to us may not be sufficient to protect our intellectual property rights. Unauthorised use of our intellectual property rights by third parties could adversely affect our reputation. We may be required to resort to legal action to protect our intellectual property rights. Any adverse outcome in such legal proceedings or our failure to successfully enforce our intellectual property rights may impact our ability to use intellectual property, which could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. Intellectual property litigation is expensive and time-consuming and could divert management’s attention from our business. Any intellectual property claims or litigation, whether we ultimately win or lose, could damage our reputation and adversely affect our business, cash flows, financial condition and results of operations.

55. Adverse publicity including negative developments involving our Group Companies or Promoter Group Companies sharing the “InCred” name could damage our reputation and negatively affect our business operations, financial results and cash flows.

Negative public perception of the financial services industry overall, or specifically towards us, may adversely impact our reputation, ability to attract and retain customers, and may expose us to increased litigation or regulatory scrutiny. Negative publicity could arise out of actual or alleged misconduct by us or by our third-party service providers, as well as actions taken by regulatory authorities in response to such conduct. The rapid spread of inaccurate or misleading information online, including on social media platforms, could damage our business, reputation, prospects, financial condition, and operating results, regardless of the veracity of the information involved. Unverified or false statements about us published online or through other media channels, or any other harm to our brand or reputation, may cause existing customers to discontinue their relationship with us and deter potential new customers from engaging our services.

Furthermore, we share the “InCred” name with other eligible companies entities that are also promoted by or associated with our Promoter as set out in the Brand License Agreement. As a result, any adverse publicity, whether related to us or to these other companies, could impact our reputation and that of the broader InCred group. Similarly, any negative coverage concerning us may also have reputational consequences for other group entities. The close association through a common brand means that adverse developments affecting any part of the InCred group could erode stakeholder trust and confidence in us, lead to the loss of customers or business opportunities, and result in financial or operational challenges beyond our direct control. While we have not witnessed any material instances of negative publicity which impacted our business, results of operations and cash flows during the nine month period ended December 31, 2025 and years ended March 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, we cannot assure that we will not witness instances of negative publicity going forward in future considering the nature of industry that we operate in. Such occurrences can also increase our costs, lead to legal proceedings, and result in further adverse publicity, any of which could seriously harm our reputation and adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

56. Internal or external fraud or misconduct by our employees could adversely affect our reputation, results of operations and cash flows.

We may be subject to instances of fraud, misappropriation, unauthorised acts and misconduct by our representatives and employees which may go unnoticed for certain periods of time before corrective action is taken. Fraudulent or unauthorised conduct by our employees could also bind us to transactions that exceed the scope of authorisation and present significant risks to us. As a result, we may be subject to regulatory sanctions, brand and reputational damage or financial harm. Despite the precautions we have implemented, including our code of conduct for employees, annual training programmes, and a structured approval matrix for authorising transactions, it is not always possible to prevent all instances of fraud or misconduct by employees. While these systems are designed to deter and detect such activities, no system is foolproof and there may still be cases where such measures are not effective.

In addition, we may be subject to regulatory or other proceedings in connection with such acts by our employees in the future, which could adversely affect our goodwill. Such instances could also adversely affect our reputation, brand, business, results of operations financial condition and cash flows. Even when we identify such instances and pursue legal recourse or file claims with our insurance carriers, we cannot assure you that we will recover any amounts lost through such instances of fraud, misappropriation, unauthorised acts and misconduct by our representatives and employees. For details in relation to number of fraud instances, please see “ – 58. If we fail to maintain an effective system of internal controls, we may not be able to successfully manage, or accurately report, our financial risks. Despite our internal control systems, we may be exposed to operational risks, including fraud, petty theft and embezzlement, which may adversely affect our reputation, business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.” on page 59.

57. We face the risk of our products being inappropriately marketed or misrepresented by employees, partners, agents, third parties, or through our technology platform, which may lead to regulatory actions, loss of reputation, customer grievances, and adverse financial impact.

We offer a range of financial products. There is an inherent risk that our products may be promoted or sold to customers in a manner that is unsuitable, misleading, or lacks full disclosure of associated features, benefits, risks, costs, or obligations. Mis-selling may occur due to inadequate staff training, insufficient oversight and supervision, incentive structures, non-adherence to our internal guidelines or external regulatory requirements, errors or inaccuracies on our technology platform, or due to fraudulent or unintended actions by our representatives or third parties.

Instances of mis-selling could give rise to customer complaints, damage to our brand reputation, increased regulatory scrutiny, or sanctions all of which may negatively impact our operations, cash flows, and financial performance. While we have not experienced any cases of mis-selling resulting in material adverse effects during the nine month period ended December 31, 2025, or years ended March 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, we cannot assure you that such incidents will not arise going forward. The occurrence of mis-selling in any form or through any channel could have a serious impact on our business, results of operations, financial condition, and prospects.

58. If we fail to maintain an effective system of internal controls, we may not be able to successfully manage, or accurately report, our financial risks. Despite our internal control systems, we may be exposed to operational risks, including fraud, petty theft and embezzlement, which may adversely affect our reputation, business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

We rely on a robust system of internal financial controls to ensure the reliability of our financial reporting and to help prevent operational risks, such as fraud, theft, and embezzlement. Our management establishes and monitors these controls in accordance with relevant regulatory standards, including guidance from the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Effective internal controls are also essential for complying with regulatory requirements and supporting efficient business operations.

Despite these measures, no internal control system is infallible. We remain exposed to the risk of internal control deficiencies, which can arise from evolving business conditions, system limitations, or human error. Such lapses may allow certain types of misconduct including fraud by employees, contractors, or third parties to go undetected or to be identified only after causing significant financial or reputational harm.

During the nine month period ended December 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, and years ended March 31, 2025, 2024, and 2023, we have not identified any significant internal control issues which shall impact control over financial reporting. However, we cannot assure you that future deficiencies will not occur, or that losses from fraud or other operational risks will always be fully detected, prevented, or recovered. Our dependence on automated systems can also increase our vulnerability to technical flaws or manipulation.

The table below sets forth details of losses incurred due to instances of fraud, as reported by us to the RBI during the nine months ended December 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, and years ended March 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023:

Number of instances report	30	79	153	13	2
Losses incurred due to instances of fraud as reported to the RBI (₹ in million)	3.78	9.84	15.37	3.73	2.71

During year ended March 31, 2025, we conducted PAN and Aadhar linkage check based on the findings from frauds detected earlier. 138 cases were identified during this process out of 44,038 NPA cases as at March 2024. As a corrective measure company has started checking PAN and Aadhar linkage at the onboarding stage along with fetching details of PAN and Aadhar through Digilocker.

59. Any variation in the utilisation of the Net Proceeds would be subject to certain compliance requirements, including prior Shareholders’ approval. Further, our funding requirements and deployment of the Net Proceeds of the Offer are based on management estimates and have not been independently appraised. Our management will have broad discretion over the use of the Net Proceeds.

Our Company proposes to utilise the Net Proceeds towards investment in our wholly owned subsidiary, IFSL for augmenting its capital base. The Net Proceeds will be utilised to increase IFSL’s Tier – I capital base. Further, the Net Proceeds will be utilised towards onward lending and improving IFSL’s CRAR. For further information of the proposed objects of the Offer, see “Objects of the Offer” on page 135. At this stage, we cannot determine with any certainty if we would require the Net Proceeds to meet any other expenditure or fund any exigencies arising out of competitive environment, business conditions, economic conditions or other factors beyond our control. In accordance with Sections 13(8) and 27 of the Companies Act, 2013, we cannot undertake any variation in the utilisation of the Net Proceeds without obtaining shareholders’ approval through a special resolution. In the event of any such circumstances that require us to undertake variation in the disclosed utilisation of the Net Proceeds, we may not be able to obtain shareholders’ approval in a timely manner, or at all. Any delay or inability to obtain such shareholders’ approval may adversely affect our business or operations.

Furthermore, our Promoter would be required to provide an exit opportunity to Shareholders who do not agree with our proposal to change the objects of the Offer or vary the terms of such contracts, at a price and in such manner as prescribed by the SEBI. Additionally, the requirement on our Promoter to provide an exit opportunity to such dissenting Shareholders may deter our Promoter from agreeing to the variation of the proposed utilisation of the Net Proceeds, even if such variation is in the interests of our Company.

In addition, our Promoter may not have adequate resources at their disposal at all times to enable them to provide an exit opportunity at the price prescribed by the SEBI. In light of these factors, we may not be able to undertake variation of the objects of the Offer to use any unutilised proceeds of the Offer, if any, or vary the terms of any contract referred to in this UDRHP-I, even if such variation is in the interests of our Company. This may restrict our Company’s ability to respond to any change in our business or financial condition by re-deploying the unutilised portion of Net Proceeds, if any, or varying the terms of contract, which may adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Subject to compliance with requirements under the Companies Act and the SEBI ICDR Regulations, our planned use of the proceeds of the Offer may change. These are based on current conditions and are subject to change in light of changes in external circumstances or costs or in other financial conditions or our business strategy. Further, our funding requirements and deployment of the Net Proceeds are based on internal management estimates based on current market conditions and have not been appraised by any bank or financial institution or other independent agency. In the absence of such independent appraisal, our funding requirements may be subject to change based on various factors which are beyond our control, such as interest or exchange rate fluctuations, among others. The deployment of the Net Proceeds will be at the discretion of our Board, subject to applicable laws and regulations. However, the deployment of the Gross Proceeds will be monitored by the Monitoring Agency. Accordingly, prospective investors in the Offer will need to rely upon our management’s judgment with respect to the use of the Net Proceeds. For details, see “Objects of the Offer” on page 135.

60. Our inability to comply with mandatory anti-money laundering, combating-terrorism financing and know-your-customer laws could expose us to liability which could have a material adverse impact on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

We are mandated to comply with anti-money laundering (“AML”), combating-terrorism financing (“CFT”) and KYC regulations in India. These laws and regulations require us, among other things, to adopt and enforce AML, CFT and KYC policies and procedures. Such policies and procedures require us to, among other things, establish or designate an anti-money laundering framework, conduct client identification in accordance with relevant rules, duly preserve client identity information and transaction records and report suspicious transactions to relevant authorities. While we have adopted policies and procedures aimed at collecting and maintaining all relevant AML, CFT and KYC related information from our customers in order to detect and prevent the use of our networks for illegal money-laundering and terrorism financing activities, there may be instances where we collected information that may be used by other parties in attempts to engage in money-laundering, terrorism financing and other illegal or improper activities. In addition, a number of jurisdictions (including India) have entered into, or have agreed in substance to, intergovernmental agreements with the United States to implement certain provisions of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, commonly known as FATCA. Pursuant to these provisions, as part of our KYC processes, we are required to collect and report certain information regarding U.S. persons having accounts with us.

During the nine month period ended December 31, 2025, or years ended March 31, 2025, 2024, and 2023, we have not had any instances of breach of applicable AML, CFT, or KYC regulations. We have established internal policies, processes, and controls to ensure compliance with applicable AML and KYC requirements, including Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (“FATCA”) obligations. Furthermore, as a holder of an IRDAI corporate agency licence, we are also required to maintain detailed records of borrowers, including Central KYC and politically exposed person status, in accordance with relevant IRDAI AML guidelines. While we believe our systems are adequate for compliance, it is not possible to fully eliminate the risk of potential or attempted violations by third parties. Accordingly, we may still be subject to regulatory actions, such as fines or penalties imposed by relevant authorities, including the Financial Intelligence Unit–India. Also see, “- 58. If we fail to maintain an effective system of internal controls, we may not be able to successfully manage, or accurately report, our financial risks. Despite our internal control systems, we may be exposed to operational risks, including fraud, petty theft and embezzlement, which may adversely affect our reputation, business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.” on page 59.

Our business and reputation could suffer if any such parties use or attempt to use us for money-laundering, terrorism financing or illegal or improper purposes and such attempts are not detected or reported to the appropriate authorities in compliance with applicable regulatory requirements. We are required to undertake customer due diligence procedures, including by verification of official valid documents and place of business/employment or residence, as applicable, in accordance with the Master Direction–Know Your Customer (KYC) Direction, 2025 issued by RBI, as updated from time to time. Such information includes representations with respect to the accuracy and completeness of valuation reports and title reports with respect to the property secured, as applicable. Any failure to comply with the applicable laws relating to Aadhaar or otherwise may expose us to penalties and regulatory scrutiny which may damage our reputation and lead to loss of customer confidence, which could have a material adverse impact on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

61. We rely on third-party vendors and service providers for undertaking activities related to our business including for legal, technical information technology related services and collections. Any lapse by such third-party vendors or service providers engaged by us may adversely affect our business, reputation, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

We rely on third-party vendors and service providers for undertaking activities related to our business, such as loan processing applications, collections, customer relationship management, as well as digital channels for online payments, which we use and access through agreements with these external vendors. To enhance our underwriting capabilities, we engage with third-party service providers to develop tools and integrate application programming interfaces to access supplementary information relating to our customers. This includes accessing fraud-related data, banking and investment records, PAN and Aadhar verification, taxation data and other additional KYC details of borrowers, in accordance with guidelines issued by the RBI.

Additionally, we have also entered into agreements with third-party service providers for managing cloud infrastructure, application development and testing, network and branch support and software-as-a-service based platforms, in accordance with applicable RBI guidelines.

The table below sets forth details of our other expenses as a percentage of total operating expenses for the nine month period ended December 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, and for the year ended March 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023:

Other expenses (₹ in million) (A)	2,221.79	1,394.16	2,137.89	1,210.00	918.44
Total operating expenses (₹ in million) (B)	5,642.27	3,954.63	5,714.23	4,042.84	2,973.90
Other expenses as a percentage of total operating expenses (C=A/B)	39.38%	35.25%	37.41%	29.93%	30.88%

While none of our key business activities is outsourced, we rely on third-party service providers for the aspects of our business described above. We are exposed to the risk that (i) external vendors or service providers may be unable to fulfil their contractual obligations to us (or will be subject to the same risk of operational errors by their respective employees); (ii) the vendors or their employees may be involved in any fraud or wilful default and (iii) the risk that their (or their vendors') business continuity and data security systems prove to be inadequate. Failure to perform any of these functions by our external vendors or service providers or any breaches associated to external vendors or service providers may expose us to liability under the governing laws, regulations and contracts. While we have not experienced any material lapse or default by the vendors or service providers during the nine month period ended December 31, 2025, or years ended March 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, any defaults or lapses in the future could result in an adverse effect on our business, reputation, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

62. The Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016 in India may affect our rights to recover loans from our customers which could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

The Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016, as amended ("IBC") offers a uniform and comprehensive insolvency legislation encompassing all corporate persons, partnership firms and individuals. For further details, see "Key Regulations and Policies" on page 295. In case insolvency proceedings are initiated against our customers or a customer file for voluntary insolvency, we may not have complete control over the recovery of amounts due to us.

Under the IBC, upon initiation of an insolvency resolution process, a committee of creditors is constituted by the interim resolution professional, wherein each financial creditor is given a voting share proportionate to the debts owed to it in relation to the financial debt owed by the corporate debtor. Any decision of the committee of creditors must be taken by a vote of not less than 66% of the voting share of all financial creditors. Any resolution plan approved by committee of creditors is binding upon all creditors and consequently by the adjudicating authority, even if they had previously voted against it. In case a liquidation process is opted for, the IBC provides for a fixed order of priority in which proceeds from the sale of the debtor's assets are to be distributed. Before sale proceeds are distributed to a secured creditor, they are to be distributed for the costs of the insolvency resolution and liquidation processes and debts owed to workmen. Further, under this process, wages and dues owed to unpaid employees followed by dues owed to the Central and State Governments rank below the claims of secured creditors (in the event such secured creditor has relinquished security as prescribed under the IBC). Moreover, other secured creditors may decide to opt out of the process, in which case they are permitted to realise their security interests in priority. Accordingly, if the provisions of the IBC are invoked against any of our customers, it may affect our ability to recover our loans from the customers and enforcement of our rights will be subject to the IBC.

63. We may not be able to identify, monitor and manage risks or effectively implement our risk management policies which could have a material adverse impact on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

The effectiveness of our risk management framework depends heavily on the reliability and timeliness of data available to us. We have dedicated substantial resources towards establishing and maintaining robust risk management policies and procedures, and we plan to continue investing in this area. Our risk governance encompasses various policies, including those related to risk management, credit, ICAAP, operational risk management, outsourcing, ECL, restructuring, model validation, fraud risk, liquidity and investment risk, treatment of wilful defaulter, new product initiatives, business continuity, information security and technology risk, know your customer ("KYC") and anti-money laundering protocols.

These policies are regularly reviewed and updated by our Board of Directors, Chief Risk Officer, Asset Liability Management Committee, and Risk Management Committee. Moreover, our information technology infrastructure plays a key role in supporting risk management activities, such as the conduct of periodic IT audits.

The table below sets forth our gross carrying amount (Stage 3 loans)%, Net Carrying Amount (stage 3 loans)% and Provision Coverage Ratio (Stage 3 Loans)% as at respective dates:

Particulars	As at December 31, 2025	As at December 31, 2024	As at March 31,
			2025	2024	2023
Gross Carrying Amount (Stage 3 loans)% ⁽¹⁾	2.28%	2.05%	1.94%	2.14%	2.11%
Net Carrying Amount (stage 3 loans)% ⁽²⁾	0.87%	0.79%	0.73%	0.85%	0.93%
Provision Coverage Ratio ("PCR") (Stage 3 Loans)% ⁽³⁾	62.34%	61.73%	63.02%	60.71%	56.52%

Notes:

⁽¹⁾ Gross Carrying Amount (Stage 3 loans) (%): Ratio of Gross Carrying Amount (stage 3 loans) to gross carrying amount of Total Gross Loans as at the last day of the specified period/ year.

⁽²⁾ Net Carrying Amount (stage 3 loans) (%): Ratio of Net Carrying Amount (stage 3 loans) to Total Gross Loans reduced by impairment loss allowances provided on stage 3 loans as at the last day of the specified period/ year. Net Carrying Amount (stage 3 loans) is gross carrying amount (stage 3 loans) reduced by impairment loss allowances provided on stage 3 loans as at the last day of the specified period/ year. Percentage of Net Carrying Amount (stage 3 loans) is calculated by subtracting impairment loss allowances (provisions) on stage 3 loans from both the numerator (Gross Carrying Amount of stage 3 loans) and the denominator (Total Gross Loans).

Despite these efforts, our processes for identifying, monitoring, and mitigating risk may not always achieve their intended effectiveness. Certain risk management processes are not fully automated and remain susceptible to human error, especially in areas like cash income assessment for loan applicants. In addition, many of our risk modelling techniques rely on historical market data, which may not accurately reflect future scenarios or adequately capture all potential risk exposures.

As we continue to grow and diversify our business operations, there is a corresponding challenge in ensuring our risk management policies and procedures evolve accordingly. Furthermore, our risk assessments depend on input data regarding market conditions, customer behaviour, and other factors, which might not always be entirely accurate, comprehensive, or timely.

Our financial performance is closely tied to our ability to effectively monitor changes in asset quality, manage concentrations of risk, apply sound valuation models, and maintain sufficient provisions for potential loan losses. If our assumptions, estimates, or methodologies prove to be erroneous or fail to predict outcomes accurately, we may experience greater-than-expected financial losses. Any failure to successfully implement or adapt our risk management policies could negatively affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

64. Concerns regarding product suitability and financial terms of product portfolio may expose us to regulatory, reputational, and business risks which could have a material adverse impact on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

We offer a range of financing products, including personal loans, student loans, secured business loans, specialised MSME loans and lending to financial institutions, which are designed to address the specific needs of our diverse customer base. In some cases, these products may feature interest rates and/or fees, which could potentially be perceived as excessive or exorbitant by customers, regulators, or courts. Certain loans may also carry shorter repayment periods, balloon payments, or prepayment penalties, which could add to borrowers' financial obligations or reduce their repayment flexibility. For further details of our products, see "Our Business – Description of our Business Operations" on page 275.

Our business and product offerings are subject to evolving regulatory requirements, including those relating to consumer protection, fair lending, anti-money laundering, and data privacy. These regulations may introduce new or revised criteria governing product suitability, disclosure obligations, interest rate caps, licensing, reporting, and other operational standards.

There is also a risk of negative publicity, social activism, or customer complaints if our lending terms or business practices are viewed as detrimental to our customers or the wider community. Such reputational impact could weaken trust among our stakeholders, reduce demand for our products and constrain our ability to access funding or sustain market share. Although we have not experienced any material adverse impact from regulatory actions, complaints, or publicity concerning our financial terms and product suitability requirements during the nine month period ended December 31, 2025, or years ended March 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, we cannot assure that such issues will not arise in the future.

65. Fraudulent impersonation of our Company's website and mobile application, misuse of our brand name and commission of fraud in the name of our employees could result in significant losses to our customers and could adversely affect our reputation, business and investor confidence.

We have, in the past, received complaints from individuals alleging that certain unidentified persons have fraudulently used our name, brand, logo, website, mobile application, documents, company seal and purported regulatory credentials, without our knowledge or consent to impersonate us and induce members of the public to part with money.

For instance, in January 2026, an individual addressed a complaint to us and marked a copy to SEBI ("Complaint") alleging that certain persons impersonating our employees, (collectively, "Accused") were falsely claiming association with our Company and operating unauthorised groups on instant messenger platforms and fraudulent websites, to perpetrate an alleged investment scam.

Upon becoming aware of such misuse, we undertook prompt remedial measures, including: (i) filing a criminal complaint with the Cyber Cell, BKC Police Station, Mumbai on January 6, 2026 against the Accused for, inter alia, offences punishable under the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita, 2023 and the Information Technology Act, 2000; (ii) issuing investor and public advisories on our official website cautioning investors and the general public against fraudulent schemes, unauthorised groups on instant messenger platforms and fake websites impersonating us, and clarifying that we do not solicit investments through such channels; and (iii) publishing a cautionary public notice in a widely circulated financial daily newspaper to alert investors and the public about the ongoing scam and to prevent further misuse of our brand. For details in relation to the criminal complaint dated January 6, 2026 filed by us against the Accused, please see "Outstanding Litigations and Material Developments - 2. Outstanding litigation proceedings by our Company - ii. Criminal proceedings" on page 518.

Notwithstanding the steps taken by us, there can be no assurance that such fraudulent or unauthorised activities will not recur in the future. Any continued or future misuse of our name, brand or reputation by third parties who maybe impersonating us or our employees, may result in reputational harm, loss of investor confidence, customer attrition, diversion of management time, increased costs towards legal proceedings and brand protection measures, and potential regulatory scrutiny. We may also be required to respond to complaints, inquiries or investigations initiated by law enforcement or regulatory authorities in connection with such incidents, which may consume significant time and resources.

Further, even though we are not associated with such fraudulent schemes, affected persons may seek to implicate us in legal proceedings or claims, and adverse publicity arising from such incidents could negatively impact our brand, goodwill and business prospects. If we are unable to effectively prevent, detect or respond to instances of impersonation, phishing, spoofing or other fraudulent activities carried out in our name, our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows could be adversely affected.

66. Industry information included in this UDRHP-I has been derived from the CRISIL Report, and any reliance on information from the CRISIL Report for making an investment decision in the Offer is subject to inherent risks.

Certain sections of this UDRHP-I include information based on or derived from the CRISIL Report, which was prepared by CRISIL Intelligence, a division of CRISIL Limited ("CRISIL") and exclusively commissioned and paid for by our Company for the purposes of the Offer pursuant to the technical proposal dated June 26, 2025. CRISIL is an independent agency and not related to our Company, our Promoter, our Directors, Key Managerial Personnel, Senior Management Personnel, Group Companies or the Book Running Lead Managers. A copy of the CRISIL Report is available on our website until the Bid / Offer Closing Date.

The CRISIL Report is subject to various limitations and based on certain assumptions that are subjective in nature. Statements in the CRISIL Report that involve estimates are subject to change, and actual amounts may differ materially from those included therein. The CRISIL Report uses certain selected methodologies for market sizing and forecasting and, accordingly, investors should read the industry related disclosure in this UDRHP-I in this context.

The financial numbers for peers presented in this UDRHP-I in basis for offer section is from the respective public filings of the listed companies. However, the financial numbers, and data, as set out in the CRISIL Report for peers (as included in the Industry Overview section on page 175) have been prepared by CRISIL using their own methodologies, assumptions, and formulae, which may differ from those reported in the basis for offer sections.

Accordingly, investors should note that there may be differences or inconsistencies between the financial numbers for peers as disclosed in basis for offer and those presented in the CRISIL Report. There can be no assurance that the financial information, and ratios, as provided by CRISIL accurately reflect, or are directly comparable with, the quantitative or qualitative information set out elsewhere in this UDRHP-I.

There are no parts, data or information (which may be relevant for the proposed Offer), that has been materially left out or changed in any manner. Industry sources and publications are also prepared based on information as of specific dates and may no longer be current or reflect current trends. Industry sources and publications may also base their information on estimates, projections, forecasts and assumptions that may prove to be incorrect.

67. Some of our listed peers are significantly larger in terms of revenue and therefore may not be directly comparable, and may also have better operating metrics.

Some of the listed peers identified for comparison purposes in this UDRHP-I differ in size and scale in terms of operating history, business model, capital resources, customer acquisition channels and stage of growth. Consequently, our listed peers may have access to greater financial and operational resources, established market presence, diversified product portfolios, and economies of scale that may not be available to us at our current stage of operations. The metrics of these larger entities may not be directly comparable to those of ours, and investors should exercise caution when making any comparisons. Our ability to compete effectively and achieve comparable growth or profitability cannot be assured. Also for performance of other listed comparable companies - see table “Basis For the Offer Price – Comparison of accounting ratios with listed industry peers” on page 144 and “Basis For the Offer Price – Comparison of KPIs with our listed peers in India” on page 150.

68. We have not declared dividends during the nine month period ended December 31, 2025 and years ended March 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023. Our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend on our earnings, financial condition, working capital requirements, capital expenditures and restrictive covenants of our financing arrangements.

Our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend on a number of factors including our earnings, financial condition, cash flow, working capital requirements, capital expenditure and restrictive covenants of our financing arrangements. Our Company has not paid dividends for the nine month period ended December 31, 2025 and years ended March 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023.

Our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend on our earnings, financial condition, cash flows, capital requirements and restrictive covenants of our financing arrangements. Any future determination as to the declaration and payment of dividends will be based on the dividend distribution policy and at the discretion of our Board. It will depend on factors that our Board deems relevant, including, among others, our liquidity, profits, present and future capital expenditure, financial commitments, accumulated reserves, capital restructuring, debt reduction, capitalisation of shares, crystallization of contingent liabilities, cash flows and other factors. We may retain all future earnings, if any, for use in the operations and expansion of the business. As a result, we may not declare dividends in the foreseeable future.

Accordingly, realisation of a gain on our Shareholders’ investments may depend on the appreciation of the price of the Equity Shares. There is no guarantee that our Equity Shares will appreciate in value. Further, our Subsidiaries are separate and distinct legal entities, having no obligation to pay dividends and may be restricted from doing so by law or contract, including applicable laws, charter provisions and the terms of their financing arrangements. We cannot assure you that our Subsidiaries will generate sufficient profits and cash flows, or otherwise be able to pay dividends to us in the future. For further information, please see “Dividend Policy” on page 358.

69. Any downturn in the macroeconomic environment in India could adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Our business is closely linked to the macroeconomic environment in India. Adverse developments such as declining GDP growth, high inflation, volatile interest rates, policy changes, or external shocks (for example, geopolitical tensions or global financial disruptions) can reduce credit demand, increase borrower defaults, and raise funding costs. This may weaken asset quality, compress margins, and require higher provisioning.

Periods of economic stress may bring greater competition, shifting customer behaviour, regulatory changes, and operational challenges, all of which can further strain our profitability and growth. Macroeconomic disruptions can also affect liquidity and capital markets, potentially limiting our access to new funding or making refinancing more difficult. There can be no assurance that our risk management measures will fully offset the impact of a severe or sustained economic downturn on our business, cash flows, and financial position.

70. Our Non-Executive Directors, Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management have interests in our Company in addition to their remuneration and benefits and reimbursement of expenses.

Certain of our non-executive Directors, Key Managerial Personnel and members of the Senior Management may be regarded as having interests in our Company other than the reimbursement of expenses incurred and normal remuneration or benefits. They may be deemed to be interested to the extent of Equity Shares held by them, directly or indirectly as well as to the extent of any dividends, bonuses, or other distributions on such Equity Shares. Additionally, certain of our non-executive Directors, Key Managerial Personnel and members of the Senior Management Personnel may also be interested to the extent of employee stock options granted by our Company under ESOP Plan 2022 and which may be granted to them from time to time.

For further details, see “Our Management – Interest of Directors” and “Our Management – Interest of Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management” on pages 344 and 346, respectively.

71. Some of our Directors may have interest in entities in same line of business, which may result in conflict of interest with us.

Conflicts may arise in the ordinary course of decision making by our Board. For example, (i) our independent director, Karnam Sekar who is a director on the board of Ugro Capital Limited and (ii) our independent director, Rupa Rajul Vora who is also on the board of Arohan Financial Services Limited and Saarathi Finance and Credit Private Limited. These associations could potentially result in conflicts of interest, as decisions made by these directors in their capacity with us may be influenced by their obligations to or interests in other entities. There is no assurance that our Directors and/or our key management personnel will not provide services or otherwise compete in business lines in which we are already present or will enter into in the future. For details in relation to directorship held by our directors in other entities, please see, “Our Management - Board of Directors – Other directorships” on page 328.

72. Debt securities of our Material Subsidiary, IFSL are listed on BSE and NSE Limited, and are subject to strict regulatory requirements with respect to such listed debt securities. Inability to comply with or any delay in compliance with such laws and regulations may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Our Material Subsidiary, IFSL has issued secured, redeemable, rated and non-convertible debentures (“NCDs”) which are listed on the debt segment of BSE and NSE. The debenture trust deeds entered into by our Company in relation to these NCDs include restrictive covenants that require us to, among other requirements, notify or obtain the consent of the debenture trustee or debenture holders before undertaking certain corporate actions. Further, we are required to comply with laws, rules and regulations applicable to our listed NCDs. IFSL is required to comply with various applicable rules and regulations including the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Issue and Listing of Non-Convertible Securities) Regulations, 2021, as amended and circulars issued thereunder and SEBI Listing Regulations in terms of the listed NCDs. In the event of non-compliance with such rules and regulations, IFSL may be subject to certain penal actions, inter alia, including restrictions on further issuance of securities and freezing of transfer of securities.

Any, inability to comply with or any delay in compliance with such rules and regulations may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. For instance, certain penalties pertaining to procedural matters were levied by (i) NSE on our Material Subsidiary, IFSL, vide letter dated October 3, 2023, for non-compliance with Regulation 60(2) of the SEBI Listing Regulations; (ii) BSE on our Material Subsidiary, IFSL, vide letter dated October 3, 2023 and March 27, 2026 for non-compliance with Regulation 60(2) of the SEBI Listing Regulations and letter dated December 16, 2022 for non-compliance with Regulation 57(1) of the SEBI Listing Regulations and (iii) RBI on our Material Subsidiary, IFSL, vide order dated May 5, 2022 for non-compliance with ‘Monitoring of Frauds in NBFCs (Reserve Bank) Directions, 2016’ issued by RBI. We have provided due representations to both NSE and BSE and have paid a fine pertaining to the same. Apart from this, there are no non-compliances with BSE and NSE in the nine month period ended December 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, and years ended March 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023.

73. We track certain operational metrics and non-generally accepted accounting principles measures with internal systems and tools. Certain of our operational metrics are subject to inherent challenges in measurement and any real or perceived inaccuracies in such metrics may adversely affect our business and reputation.

Certain of our operational metrics are prepared with internal systems and tools that are not independently verified by any third party and which may differ from estimates or similar metrics published by third parties due to differences in sources, methodologies, or the assumptions on which we rely. For further details, see “Certain Conventions, Use of Financial Information and Market Data and Currency of Presentation – Non-Generally Accepted Accounting Principles Financial Measures” on page 19. Our internal systems and tools could have a number of limitations in future and our methodologies for tracking these metrics may change over time, which could result in unexpected changes to our metrics in future, including the metrics we publicly disclose. If the internal systems and tools we use to track these metrics under count or over count performance or contain algorithmic or other technical errors in future, the data we report may not be accurate. While these numbers are based on what we believe to be reasonable estimates of our metrics for the applicable period of measurement, there are inherent challenges in measuring how our platform is used across large populations. Limitations or errors with respect to how we measure data or with respect to the data that we measure may affect our understanding of certain details of our business, which could affect our long-term strategies. If our operating metrics are not accurate representations of our business, if investors do not perceive our operating metrics to be accurate or if we discover material inaccuracies with respect to these figures, we expect that our business, reputation, financial condition, and results of operations would be adversely affected.

74. Some of our Directors do not have prior experience of holding a directorship in a company whose equity shares are listed on the Stock Exchanges which may subject us to adverse regulatory actions if we are not able to comply with applicable laws, resulting in an impact on the price of our Equity Shares.

Currently, our Board comprises seven (7) directors out of which four (4) are independent directors. Our independent directors namely, Saurabh Kant Singh and Ambika Bisla have never been appointed as a director or an independent director on the board of an equity listed company. While the aforementioned independent directors possess the required qualifications and appropriate skills, experience and knowledge required to act as independent director of our Company and are experienced in their respective fields, they may not have adequate experience in being a director of an equity listed company. Accordingly, our directors will need to familiarise themselves with the regulatory framework within which equity listed companies in India operate and to the extent that they are unfamiliar with such framework their ability to discharge their functions as independent directors could be adversely affected. Further, our wholtime directors i.e., Bhupinder Singh and Gaurav Maheshwari and our non-executive director Vivekanand P S have not been appointed as a director or an independent director on the board of any equity listed company.

As a listed company, we will be subject to increased scrutiny of our affairs by shareholders, regulators and the public at large that is associated with being a listed company and will also be subject to increased corporate governance requirements. Accordingly, the lack of experience of some of our directors of never having been directors of an equity listed company, may require them to divert their attention from our business concerns to understand the detailed operations of an equity listed company.

75. The weighted average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares for our Promoter Selling Shareholder and the Selling Shareholders may be lower than the Offer Price.

The weighted average cost of acquisition of our Promoter and the Selling Shareholders may be lower than the Offer Price.

For details, see “Basis for Offer Price” and “Capital Structure” on pages 141 and 101, respectively. The Offer Price is not indicative of the price at which our Company has issued the Equity Shares in the past or that will prevail in the open market following listing of the Equity Shares.

76. Significant differences exist between Ind AS and other accounting principles, such as U.S. GAAP and IFRS, which may be material to investors’ assessments of our financial condition.

The Restated Consolidated Financial Information included in this UDRHP-I have been derived from our special purpose audited financial statements as at and for the nine month period ended December 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024 prepared in accordance with Ind AS 34 and our audited financial statements as at and for each of the years ended March 31, 2025, March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023, prepared in accordance with Ind AS and restated in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations and the Guidance Note on “Reports in Company Prospectuses (Revised 2019)” issued by the ICAI, as amended from time to time. We have not attempted to quantify the impact of U.S. GAAP or IFRS on the financial data included in this UDRHP-I, nor do we provide a reconciliation of our financial statements to those of U.S. GAAP or IFRS. U.S. GAAP and IFRS differ in significant respects from Ind AS. Accordingly, the degree to which the Ind AS financial statements, which are restated as per the SEBI ICDR Regulations included in this UDRHP-I, will provide meaningful information is entirely dependent on the reader’s level of familiarity with Indian accounting practices. Any reliance by persons not familiar with Indian accounting practices on the financial disclosures presented in this UDRHP-I should be limited accordingly.

77. We may not be able to generate enough taxable profit to offset the outstanding Deferred Tax Asset (“DTA”) in our accounts.

The deferred tax assets of ₹ 1,654.45 million as at December 31, 2025 shall be available for set off against the future profits of our Material Subsidiary, IFSL. The future uncertainty may impact the profit and consequently we may not be able to absorb the Deferred Tax Assets in entirety and the same will impact the financial statements of our Material Subsidiary, IFSL. In the event, we are not able to utilize the deferred tax due to insufficient profits, the value of the Deferred Tax Asset will be impaired.

External Risk Factors

78. Our ability to raise foreign capital may be constrained by Indian law.

We raise debt capital in foreign currencies which are fully hedged. As at December 31, 2025, our ECBs were ₹9,653.03 million which represented 9.50% of our total borrowings. As an Indian company, we are subject to exchange controls that regulate borrowing in foreign currencies. Such regulatory restrictions limit our financing sources and could constrain our ability to obtain financings on competitive terms and refinance existing indebtedness. In addition, we cannot assure you that any required regulatory approvals for borrowing foreign currencies, including the regulatory approval requirement to borrow in foreign currencies in excess of (i) US$ 1 billion or (ii) total outstanding borrowing (external and domestic) up to 300% of net worth as per the last standalone audited balance sheet, whichever is higher, will be granted to us without onerous conditions, or at all. Limitations on foreign debt may have an adverse effect on our business growth, financial condition and results of operations.

79. Financial instability in other countries may cause increased volatility in Indian financial markets.

The Indian market and the Indian economy are influenced by economic and market conditions in other countries, particularly emerging market countries in Asia. Although economic conditions are different in each country, investors' reactions to developments in one country can have adverse effects on the securities of companies in other countries, including India. A loss of investor confidence in the financial systems of other emerging markets may cause increased volatility in Indian financial markets and, indirectly, in the Indian economy in general. Any worldwide financial instability could also have a negative impact on the Indian economy. Financial disruptions may occur again and could harm our business, our future financial performance and the price of the Equity Shares.

Ongoing geopolitical conflicts — including the Russia-Ukraine war, the Israel-Hamas conflict, and tensions involving the United States, Israel, and Iran — along with the ongoing tariff-related developments, have contributed to global economic uncertainty, inflationary pressures, supply chain disruptions, and volatility in or damage to, the worldwide financial markets and economy. Coordinated military operations on Iranian territory and heightened activity around the Strait of Hormuz — a critical maritime chokepoint for global crude oil and petroleum products — have further amplified risks to energy prices, insurance premia, and shipping costs. Any escalation of these conflicts, or the perception thereof, could reduce global market liquidity, restrict the ability of key market participants to operate in certain financial markets, and depress economic activity. Such developments could adversely affect our access to capital, business operations, financial condition, cash flows, results of operations, shareholders' equity, and the price of our Equity Shares.

80. Financial difficulty and other problems in certain financial institutions in India could adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

We are subject to the risks faced by the Indian financial system as a whole, which may be affected by the financial difficulties faced by certain Indian financial institutions because the commercial soundness of many financial institutions may be closely related as a result of credit, trading, clearing or other relationships. This risk, which may be referred to as “systemic risk”, may adversely affect financial intermediaries, such as clearing agencies, banks, securities firms and exchanges with whom we have lasting relationships and who may default on their obligations due to bankruptcy, lack of liquidity, operational failure or other reasons. Any such difficulties or instability of the Indian financial system in general could create an adverse market perception about Indian financial institutions and banks and hence, could adversely affect our business. Our transactions with these financial institutions and other non-banking financial institutions expose us to various risks in the event of default by a counterparty, which can be exacerbated during periods of market illiquidity.

81. Any adverse change in India’s credit rating by an international rating agency could materially adversely affect our business and profitability.

India's sovereign rating could be downgraded due to various factors, including changes in tax or fiscal policy or a decline in India's foreign exchange reserves, which are outside our control. Any adverse change in India's credit ratings by international rating agencies may adversely impact the Indian economy and consequently our ability to raise additional financing in a timely manner or at all, as well as the interest rates and other commercial terms at which such additional financing is available. This could have an adverse effect on our business and financial performance, ability to obtain financing for capital expenditures and the price of the Equity Shares.

82. India's existing credit information infrastructure may cause increased risks of loan defaults.

India's existing credit information infrastructure may pose problems and difficulties in running a robust credit check on our borrowers. We may also face difficulties in the due diligence process relating to our customers or to any security or collateral we take in relation to our loans. We may not be able to run comprehensive searches relating to the security and there are no assurances that any searches we undertake will be accurate or reliable. Hence, our overall credit analysis could be less robust as compared to similar transactions in more developed economies, which might result in an increase in our NPAs and we may have to increase our provisions correspondingly. Any of the foregoing may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

83. Geopolitical factors, trade disputes, natural or man-made disasters, fires, epidemics, pandemics, acts of war, terrorist attacks, civil unrest and other events could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

We are incorporated in India with all our assets in India, and derive all of our revenue from operations from India. All of our directors, Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management, except for one of our Independent Director, Rupa Rajul Vora, are located in India. Our business depends on a number of general macroeconomic and demographic factors in India which are beyond our control. Additionally, recessionary economic cycles, a protracted economic slowdown, a worsening economy, uncertain economic conditions, including in light of recent trade disputes among major economies, rising interest rates or other industry-wide cost pressures could have a material adverse effect on our Company. Natural disasters (such as flooding and earthquakes), epidemics, pandemics such as COVID-19 and man-made disasters, including acts of war, terrorist attacks and other events, many of which are beyond our control, may lead to economic instability, including in India or globally, which may in turn materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our operations may be adversely affected by fires, natural disasters and/or severe weather, which can result in damage to our properties and may require us to suspend operations. Any terrorist attacks or civil unrest as well as other adverse social, economic and political events in India or other countries could have a negative effect on us. Such incidents could also create a greater perception that investment in Indian companies involves a higher degree of risk and could have an adverse effect on our business and the price of the Equity Shares. A number of countries in Asia, including India, as well as countries in other parts of the world, are susceptible to contagious diseases and, for example, have had confirmed cases of diseases such as the highly pathogenic H7N9, H5N1 and H1N1 strains of influenza in birds and swine and more recently, the COVID-19 virus. Future outbreaks of the COVID-19 virus or a similar contagious disease could adversely affect the global economy and economic activity in the region. As a result, any present or future outbreak of a contagious disease could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition and the trading price of the Equity Shares. The short and long-term implications of Russia's invasion of Ukraine, the Israel-Hamas conflict, the Israel-Hezbollah conflict, the Iran-Israel conflict and military tensions between India and Pakistan are difficult to predict at this time. To date, we have not experienced any material interruptions in our business operations in connection with these conflicts.

We continue to monitor any adverse impact that the outbreak of war in Ukraine, the subsequent institution of sanctions against Russia by the United States and several European and Asian countries, and the conflict in the Middle-East may have on the global economy in general, on our business and operations, our customers and other third parties with whom we conduct business. To the extent such wars and conflicts may adversely affect our business as discussed above, it may also have the effect of heightening many of the other risks described herein.

84. Changing laws, rules and regulations and legal uncertainties, including adverse application of tax laws and regulations, may materially adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

The regulatory environment in which we operate is evolving and is subject to change. Governmental and regulatory bodies in India and other countries may enact new regulations or policies, which may require us to obtain approvals and licences from applicable governments and other regulatory bodies or impose onerous requirements and conditions on our operations. Consequently, our business and financial performance could be materially adversely affected by changes in the laws, rules, regulations or directions applicable to us and the non-banking financial companies, or the interpretations of such existing laws, rules and regulations, or the promulgation of new laws, rules and regulations.

The governmental and regulatory bodies may notify new regulations and/or policies, which may require us to obtain approvals and licences from the government and other regulatory bodies, impose onerous requirements and conditions on our operations, in addition to those which we are undertaking currently, or change the manner in which we conduct KYC or authenticate our customers. Any such changes and the related uncertainties with respect to the implementation of new regulations may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. In addition, unfavourable changes in or interpretations of existing rules and regulations including foreign investment laws governing our business, operations and investments in our Company by non-residents, could result in us being deemed to be in contravention of such laws and/or may require us to apply for additional approvals. We may incur increased costs relating to compliance with such new requirements, which may also require management time and other resources, and any failure to comply may adversely affect our business, results of operations and prospects.

Uncertainty in the applicability, interpretation or implementation of any amendment to, or change in, governing law, regulation or policy, including by reason of an absence, or a limited body, of administrative or judicial precedent, may be time-consuming as well as costly for us to resolve and may affect the viability of our current business or restrict our ability to grow our business in the future. For instance, the Supreme Court of India has in a decision clarified the components of basic wages which need to be considered by companies while making provident fund payments, which resulted in an increase in the provident fund payments to be made by companies. Any such decisions in future or any further changes in interpretation of laws may have an impact on our results of operations. Tax and other levies imposed by the central and state governments in India that affect our tax liability include central and state taxes and other levies, income tax, turnover tax, goods and service tax, stamp duty and other special taxes and surcharges that are introduced on a temporary or permanent basis from time to time. The final determination of our tax liabilities involves the interpretation of local tax laws and related regulations in each jurisdiction as well as the significant use of estimates and assumptions regarding the scope of future operations and results achieved, and the timing and nature of income earned, and expenditures incurred.

Moreover, the central and state tax scheme in India is extensive and subject to change from time to time. Any future increases or amendments could affect the overall tax efficiency of companies operating in India and could result in significant additional taxes becoming payable. If the tax costs associated with certain transactions because of a particular tax risk materializing are greater than anticipated, it could affect the profitability of such transactions. We are also subject to various labour laws and regulations governing our relationships with our employees and contractors, including in relation to minimum wages, working hours, overtime, working conditions, hiring and terminating the contracts of employees and contractors, contract labour and work permits. A change of law that requires us to increase the benefits to the employees from the benefits now being provided may create potential liability for us. Such benefits could also include provisions which reduce the number of hours an employee may work for or increase in number of mandatory casual leaves, which all can affect the productivity of the employees. Moreover, a change of law that requires us to treat and extend benefits to our outsourced personnel, and personnel retained on a contractual basis, similar to our full-time employees, may create potential liability for us. If we fail to comply with current and future health and safety and labour laws and regulations at all times, including obtaining relevant statutory and regulatory approvals, this could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

85. We may be affected by competition laws, the adverse application or interpretation of which could adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

The Competition Act, 2002, of India, as amended (the “Competition Act”), regulates practices having an appreciable adverse effect on competition in the relevant market in India (“AAEC”). Under the Competition Act, any formal or informal arrangement, understanding or action in concert, which causes or is likely to cause an AAEC, is considered void and may result in the imposition of substantial penalties. Further, any agreement among competitors which directly or indirectly involves the determination of purchase or sale prices, limits or controls production, supply, markets, technical development, investment, or the provision of services or shares the market or source of production or provision of services in any manner, including by way of allocation of geographical area or number of customers in the relevant market or directly or indirectly, results in bid-rigging or collusive bidding is presumed to have an AAEC and is considered void. The Competition Act also prohibits abuse of a dominant position by any enterprise.

On April 11, 2023, the Competition (Amendment) Bill 2023 received the assent of the President of India to become the Competition (Amendment) Act, 2023 (the “Competition Amendment Act”), amending the Competition Act and giving the Competition Commission of India (the “CCI”) additional powers to prevent practices that harm competition and the interests of consumers. It has been enacted to increase the ease of doing business in India and enhance transparency. The Competition Amendment Act modifies, among other things, the scope of certain factors used to determine AAEC, reduces the overall time limit for the assessment of combinations by the CCI and empowers the CCI to impose penalties based on the global turnover of entities, for anti-competitive agreements and abuse of dominant position.

The Competition Act aims to, among others, prohibit all agreements and transactions which may have an AAEC in India. Consequently, all agreements entered by us could be within the purview of the Competition Act. Further, the CCI has extraterritorial powers and can investigate any agreements, abusive conduct or combination occurring outside India if such agreement, conduct or combination has an AAEC in India. However, the impact of the provisions of the Competition Act on the agreements entered by us cannot be predicted with certainty at this stage. We may be affected, directly or indirectly, by the application or interpretation of any provision of the Competition Act, or any enforcement proceedings initiated by the CCI, or any adverse publicity that may be generated due to scrutiny or prosecution by the CCI or if any prohibition or substantial penalties are levied under the Competition Act, it would adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Risks relating to the Equity Shares and the Offer

86. Subsequent to listing of the Equity Shares, we may be subject to pre-emptive surveillance measures like Additional Surveillance Measure (“ASM”) and Graded Surveillance Measures (“GSM”) by the Stock Exchanges in order to enhance market integrity and safeguard the interest of investors.

The SEBI and the Stock Exchanges, in the past, have introduced various pre-emptive surveillance measures with respect to the shares of listed companies in India (the “Listed Securities”) in order to enhance market integrity, safeguard the interests of investors and potential market abuses. In addition to various surveillance measures already implemented, and in order to further safeguard the interest of investors, the SEBI and the Stock Exchanges have introduced ASM and GSM. ASM is conducted by the Stock Exchanges on Listed Securities with surveillance concerns based on certain objective parameters such as price-to-earnings ratio, percentage of delivery, client concentration, variation in volume of shares and volatility of shares, among other things. GSM is conducted by the Stock Exchanges on Listed Securities where their price quoted on the Stock Exchanges is not commensurate with, among other things, the financial performance and financial condition measures such as earnings, book value, fixed assets, net worth, and other measures such as price-to-earnings multiple and market capitalisation.

Upon listing, the trading of our Equity Shares would be subject to differing market conditions as well as other factors which may result in high volatility in price, and low trading volumes as a percentage of combined trading volume of our Equity Shares. The occurrence of any of the abovementioned factors or other circumstances may trigger any of the parameters prescribed by the SEBI and the Stock Exchanges for placing our securities under the GSM and/or ASM framework or any other surveillance measures, which could result in significant restrictions on trading of our Equity Shares being imposed by the SEBI and the Stock Exchanges. These restrictions may include requiring higher margin requirements, limiting trading frequency or freezing of price on upper side of trading, as well as mentioning of our Equity Shares on the surveillance dashboards of the Stock Exchanges. The imposition of these restrictions and curbs on trading may have an adverse effect on market price, trading and liquidity of our Equity Shares and on the reputation and conditions of our Company. Any such instance may result in a loss of our reputation and diversion of our management’s attention and may also decrease the market price of our Equity Shares, which could cause you to lose some or all of your investment.

87. Investors may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of capital gains on the sale of the Equity Shares and dividends paid on the Equity Shares.

Under current Indian tax laws and regulations, unless specifically exempted, capital gains arising from the sale of equity shares in an Indian company are generally taxable in India. Any capital gain exceeding ₹125,000, realized on the sale of listed equity shares on a recognized stock exchange, held for more than 12 months immediately preceding the date of transfer, will be subject to long term capital gains in India, at the rate of 12.5% (plus applicable surcharge and cess). This beneficial rate is, inter alia, subject to payment of Securities Transaction Tax (“STT”). Further, any gain realized on the sale of equity shares in an Indian company held for more than 24 months, which are sold using any platform other than a recognized stock exchange and on which no STT has been paid, will be subject to long term capital gains tax in India at 12.5%. Further, any capital gains realized on the sale of listed equity shares held for a period of 12 months or less immediately preceding the date of transfer will be subject to short term capital gains tax in India. Such gains will be subject to tax at the rate of 20% (plus applicable surcharge and cess), subject to STT being paid at the time of sale of such shares. Otherwise, such gains will be taxed at the applicable rates.

Capital gains arising from the sale of the Equity Shares will be exempt from taxation in India in cases where the exemption from taxation in India is provided under a treaty between India and the country of which the seller is resident.

Our Company may or may not grant the benefit of a tax treaty (where applicable) to a non - resident Shareholder for the purposes of deducting tax at source pursuant to any corporate action, including dividends. Additionally, the Union Cabinet, Government of India has recently approved the Income Tax Bill, 2025 which inter alia, amended and replaced the Income Tax Act, 1961. Any such future amendments may affect our ability to claim exemptions that we have historically benefited from, and such exemptions may no longer be available to us. There is no certainty on the impact of the Income Tax Bill, 2025, on tax laws or other regulations, which may adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows, results of operations or on the industry in which we operate. Generally, Indian tax treaties do not limit India's ability to impose tax on capital gains. As a result, residents of other countries may be liable for tax in India as well as in their own jurisdiction on a gain upon the sale of the Equity Shares. Similarly, any business income realized from the transfer of Equity Shares held as trading assets is taxable at the applicable tax rates subject to any treaty relief, if applicable, to a non - resident seller. Additionally, the Government of India announced the Union Budget for the Fiscal 2027 on February 1, 2026. Following this, the Finance Bill 2026 was introduced, which proposes to introduce certain changes including in respect of reduction of rate of minimum alternate tax, shifting from old to new regime for minimum alternate tax, reduction of rates of tax collected at source and taxation of consideration received on buy - back of shares as capital gains. The Finance Bill 2026 received the assent from the President of India and is notified as Finance Act, 2026 effective from April 1, 2026. We have not fully determined the effects of these recent and proposed laws and regulations on our business. Investors are advised to consult their own tax advisors and to carefully consider the potential tax consequences of owning, investing or trading in the Equity Shares. We cannot predict whether any amendments made pursuant to the Finance Bill would have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. Unfavourable changes in or interpretations of existing laws, rules and regulations, or the promulgation of new laws, rules and regulations including foreign investment and stamp duty laws governing our business and operations could result in us being deemed to be in contravention of such laws and may require us to apply for additional approvals.

Capital gains arising from the sale of the Equity Shares will not be chargeable to tax in India in cases where relief from such taxation in India is provided under a treaty between India and the country of which the seller is resident read with the Multilateral Instrument, if and to the extent applicable, and the seller is entitled to avail benefits thereunder. Generally, Indian tax treaties do not limit India's ability to impose tax on capital gains. As a result, residents of other countries may be liable for tax in India as well as in their own jurisdiction on a gain realised upon the sale of the Equity Shares.

The stamp duty for transfer of certain securities, other than debentures, on a delivery basis is currently specified at 0.015% and on a non-delivery basis is specified at 0.003% of the consideration amount.

Any dividends paid by an Indian company will be subject to tax in the hands of the shareholders at applicable rates. Such taxes will be withheld by the Indian company paying dividends. We may or may not grant the benefit of a tax treaty (where applicable) to a non-resident shareholder for the purposes of deducting tax at source pursuant to any corporate action including dividends. Investors are advised to consult their own tax advisors and to carefully consider the potential tax consequences of owning Equity Shares. Unfavourable changes in or interpretations of existing, or the promulgation of new laws, rules and regulations, including foreign investment and stamp duty laws governing our business and operations, could result in us being deemed to be in contravention of such laws and may require us to apply for additional approvals.

88. The ability of investors to acquire and sell Equity Shares is restricted by the distribution and transfer restrictions set forth in this UDRHP-I.

No actions have been taken to permit a public offering of our Equity Shares in any jurisdiction, other than India. As such, our Equity Shares have not and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act, any state securities laws or the law of any jurisdiction other than India. Further, our Equity Shares are subject to restrictions on transferability and resale. You are required to inform yourself about and observe these restrictions. Please see “Other Regulatory and Statutory Disclosures - Disclaimer in Respect of Jurisdiction” and “Other Regulatory and Statutory Disclosures – Eligibility and Transfer Restrictions” on 515 and 516, respectively. We, our representatives and our agents will not be obligated to recognise any acquisition, transfer or resale of our Equity Shares made other than in compliance with the restrictions set forth herein.

89. The determination of the Price Band is based on various factors and assumptions, and the Offer Price of the Equity Shares may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares after the Offer. Further, the current market price of some securities listed pursuant to certain previous issues managed by the Book Running Lead Managers is below their respective issue prices.

The determination of the Price Band is based on various factors and assumptions and will be determined by our Company in consultation with the BRLMs. Furthermore, the Offer Price of the Equity Shares will be determined by our Company in consultation with the BRLMs through the Book Building Process. These will be based on numerous factors, including factors as described under “Basis for the Offer Price” on page 141, and may not be indicative of the market price for the Equity Shares after the Offer. The market price of the Equity Shares could be subject to significant fluctuations after the Offer and may decline below the Offer Price. We cannot assure you that the investor will be able to resell their Equity Shares at or above the Offer Price resulting in a loss of all or part of the investment. The relevant financial parameters based on which the Price Band would be determined shall be disclosed in the advertisement to be issued for publication of the Price Band. For further details, see “Basis for the Offer Price” on page 141.

Furthermore, there can be no assurance that our key parameters shall become higher than our listed comparable industry peers in the future. An inability to improve, maintain or compete, or any reduction in such key parameters in comparison with the listed comparable industry peers, may adversely affect the market price of the Equity Shares. There can be no assurance that our methodologies are correct or will not change and accordingly, our position in the market may differ from that presented in this UDRHP-I. The disposal of Equity Shares by our Promoter or any of our Company’s other principal shareholders or the perception that such issuance or sales may occur, including to comply with the minimum public shareholding norms applicable to listed companies in India, may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares. We cannot assure you that our Promoter and other major shareholders will not dispose of, pledge or encumber their Equity Shares in the future. We cannot assure you that the disposal of the Equity Shares in the future, if any, by our Promoter or other major shareholders will not be at a price higher than the Offer Price.

In addition to the above, the current market price of securities listed pursuant to certain previous initial public offerings managed by the BRLMs is below their respective issue price. For further details, see “Other Regulatory and Statutory Disclosures – Price information of past issues handled by the Book Running Lead Managers (during the current Fiscal and two Fiscals preceding the current Fiscal)” on page 548.

The factors that could affect the market price of the Equity Shares include, among others, broad market trends, financial performance, results of our Company post-listing and other factors beyond our control. We cannot assure you that an active market will develop or sustained trading will take place in the Equity Shares or provide any assurance regarding the price at which the Equity Shares will be traded after listing.

90. Fluctuation in the exchange rate between the Indian Rupee and foreign currencies may have an adverse effect on the value of our Equity Shares, independent of our operating results.

On listing, our Equity Shares will be quoted in Indian Rupees on the Stock Exchanges. Any dividends in respect of our Equity Shares will also be paid in Indian Rupees and subsequently converted into the relevant foreign currency for repatriation, if required. Any adverse movement in currency exchange rates during the time taken for such conversion and repatriation transaction charges incurred, if any, may reduce the net dividend to foreign investors. In addition, any adverse movement in currency exchange rates during a delay in repatriating the proceeds from a sale of Equity Shares outside India, for example, because of a delay in regulatory approvals that may be required for the sale of Equity Shares may reduce the proceeds received by shareholders. For example, the exchange rate between the Indian Rupee and the U.S. dollar has fluctuated in recent years and may fluctuate in the future, which may have an adverse effect on the returns on our Equity Shares, independent of our operating results.

91. Rights of shareholders of companies under Indian law may be more limited than under the laws of other jurisdictions.

Our Articles of Association, composition of our Board, Indian laws governing our corporate affairs, the validity of corporate procedures, directors’ fiduciary duties, responsibilities and liabilities, and shareholders’ rights may differ from those that would apply to a company in another jurisdiction. Shareholders’ rights under Indian law, including in relation to class actions, may not be as extensive and widespread as shareholders’ rights under the laws of other countries or jurisdictions. Investors may face challenges in asserting their rights as shareholder in an Indian company than as a shareholder of an entity in another jurisdiction.

92. Investors will not be able to sell immediately on an Indian stock exchange any of the Equity Shares they purchase in this Offer.

The Equity Shares will be listed on the Stock Exchanges. Pursuant to applicable Indian laws, certain actions must be completed before the Equity Shares can be listed and before trading in the Equity Shares may commence. Investors’ book entry, or ‘demat’ accounts with depository participants in India, are expected to be credited within one working day of the date on which the Basis of Allotment is approved by the Stock Exchanges. The Allotment of Equity Shares in the Offer and the credit of such Equity Shares to the applicant's demat account with depository participant could take approximately two working days from the Bid/Offer Closing Date and trading in the Equity Shares upon receipt of final listing, and trading approvals from the Stock Exchanges is expected to commence within three working days of the Bid/Offer Closing Date. There could be a failure or delay in listing of the Equity Shares on the Stock Exchanges. Any failure or delay in obtaining the approval or otherwise commence trading in the Equity Shares would restrict investors' ability to dispose of their Equity Shares. There can be no assurance that the Equity Shares will be credited to investors' demat accounts, or that trading in the Equity Shares will commence, within the time periods specified in this risk factor. We could also be required to pay interest at the applicable rates if allotment is not made, refund orders are not dispatched or demat credits are not made to investors within the prescribed time periods.

93. Our Company's Equity Shares have never been publicly traded and may experience price and volume fluctuations following the completion of the Offer, an active trading market for the Equity Shares may not develop, the price of our Equity Shares may be volatile or may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares after the Offer, and you may be unable to resell your Equity Shares at or above the Offer Price or at all.

Prior to the Offer, there has been no public market for our Equity Shares, and an active trading market may not develop or be sustained after the Offer. Listing and quotation do not guarantee that a market for our Equity Shares will develop or, if developed, the liquidity of such market for the Equity Shares. The Offer Price of the Equity Shares is proposed to be determined through a book building process and may not be indicative of the market price of our Equity Shares at the time of commencement of trading of our Equity Shares or at any time thereafter. Further, the price of the Equity Shares may be volatile, and the investors may be unable to resell the Equity Shares at or above the Offer Price, or at all. The market price of the Equity Shares may be subject to significant fluctuations in response to, among other factors, variations in our operating results, market conditions specific to the industry we operate in, developments relating to India and volatility in the Stock Exchanges and securities markets elsewhere in the world.

There has been significant volatility in the Indian stock markets in the recent past, and the trading price of our Equity Shares after this Offer could fluctuate significantly as a result of market volatility or due to various internal or external risks, including but not limited to those described in this UDRHP-I. The market price of our Equity Shares may be influenced by many factors, some of which are beyond our control, including:

- failure of security analysts to cover the Equity Shares after this Offer, or changes in the estimates of our performance by analysts.
- activities of competitors;
- future sales of the Equity Shares by us or our shareholders;
- investor perception of us and the industry in which we operate;
- our quarterly or annual earnings or those of our competitors;
- developments affecting fiscal or sectoral;
- the public's reaction to our press releases and adverse media reports; and
- general economic conditions.

Furthermore, a decrease in the market price of our Equity Shares could cause investors to lose some or all of their investment.

94. Under Indian law, foreign investors are subject to investment restrictions that limit our ability to attract foreign investors, which may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

Under foreign exchange regulations currently in force in India, transfer of shares between non-residents and residents are freely permitted (subject to compliance with sectoral norms and certain other restrictions), if they comply with the pricing guidelines and reporting requirements specified by the RBI. If the transfer of shares, which are sought to be transferred, is not in compliance with such pricing guidelines or reporting requirements or falls under any of the exceptions referred to above, then a prior regulatory approval will be required. Further, unless specifically restricted, foreign investment is freely permitted in all sectors of the Indian economy up to any extent and without any prior approvals, but the foreign investor is required to follow certain prescribed procedures for making such investment. The RBI and the concerned ministries/departments are responsible for granting approval for foreign investment. Additionally, shareholders who seek to convert Rupee proceeds from a sale of shares in India into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India require a no-objection or a tax clearance certificate from the Indian income tax authorities.

In addition, pursuant to the Press Note No. 3 (2020 Series), dated April 17, 2020, issued by the DPIIT, which has been incorporated as the proviso to Rule 6(a) of the FEMA Rules, investments where the beneficial owner of the Equity Shares is situated in or is a citizen of a country sharing a land border with India can only be made through the Government approval route, as prescribed in the Consolidated FDI Policy dated October 15, 2020, and the FEMA Rules. We cannot assure you that any required approval from the RBI or any other governmental agency can be obtained with or without any particular terms or conditions or at all. For further information, see “Restrictions on Foreign Ownership of Indian Securities” on page 590.

On March 10, 2026, the Government of India announced Union Cabinet approval of amendments to the foreign direct investment regime under Press Note 3. The amendments establish a definitive approval timeline for critical sector investments and incorporate definitions and criteria for determining "Beneficial Owner" as per the Prevention of Money Laundering Rules, 2005. Investors holding non-controlling beneficial ownership interests of up to 10 percent shall be permitted under the automatic route, subject to applicable sectoral caps and reporting requirements to the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade. The amendments are awaiting formal notification by the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade.

95. Any future issuance of Equity Shares or convertible securities or other equity-linked instruments by us may dilute your shareholding, and sale of Equity Shares by the Promoter may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

We may be required to finance our growth, whether organic or inorganic, through future equity offerings. Any future equity issuances by us, including a primary offering, convertible securities or securities linked to Equity Shares including through exercise of employee stock options, may lead to the dilution of investors' shareholdings in our Company. Any future equity issuances by us or disposal of our Equity Shares by the Promoter or any of our other principal shareholders or any other change in our shareholding structure to comply with minimum public shareholding norms applicable to listed companies in India or any public perception regarding such issuance or sales may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares, which may lead to other adverse consequences including difficulty in raising capital through offering of our Equity Shares or incurring additional debt. There can be no assurance that we will not issue further Equity Shares or that our existing shareholders including our Promoter will not dispose of further Equity Shares after the completion of the Offer (subject to compliance with the lock in provisions under the SEBI ICDR Regulations) or pledge or encumber their Equity Shares. Any future issuances could also dilute the value of shareholder's investment in the Equity Shares and adversely affect the trading price of our Equity Shares. Such securities may also be issued at prices below the Offer Price. We may also issue convertible debt securities to finance our future growth or fund our business activities. In addition, any perception by investors that such issuances or sales might occur may also affect the market price of our Equity Shares.

96. Qualified Institutional Buyers (“QIBs”) and Non-Institutional Bidders are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid, and Retail Individual Bidders are not permitted to withdraw their Bids after Bid/Offer Closing Date.

Pursuant to the SEBI ICDR Regulations, QIBs and Non-Institutional Bidders are required to block the Bid amount on submission of the Bid and are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid. Retail Individual Bidders can revise their Bids during the Bid/Offer Period and/or withdraw their Bids until the Bid/Offer Closing date, but not thereafter. While we are required to complete all necessary formalities for listing and commencement of trading of the Equity Shares on all Stock Exchanges where such Equity Shares are proposed to be listed, including Allotment, within three working days from the Bid/Offer Closing Date or such other period as may be prescribed by the SEBI, events affecting the investors' decision to invest in the Equity Shares, including adverse changes in international or national monetary policy, financial, political or economic conditions, our business, results of operations, cash flows or financial condition may arise between the date of submission of the Bid and Allotment. We may complete the Allotment of the Equity Shares even if such events occur, and such events may limit the investors' ability to sell the Equity Shares Allotted pursuant to the Offer or cause the trading price of the Equity Shares to decline on listing. Therefore, QIBs and Non-Institutional Bidders will not be able to withdraw or lower their bids following adverse developments in international or national monetary policy, financial, political or economic conditions, our business, results of operations, cash flows or otherwise between the dates of submission of their Bids and Allotment.

97. A third party could be prevented from acquiring control of us post this Offer, because of antitakeover provisions under Indian law.

There are provisions in Indian law that may delay, deter or prevent a future takeover or change in control of our Company, even if a change in control would result in the purchase of your Equity Shares at a premium to the market price or would otherwise be beneficial to you. Such provisions may discourage or prevent certain types of transactions involving actual or threatened change in control of our Company. Under the SEBI Takeover Regulations, an acquirer has been defined as any person who, directly or indirectly, acquires or agrees to acquire shares or voting rights or control over a company, whether individually or acting in concert with others. Although these provisions have been formulated to ensure that interests of investors/shareholders are protected, these provisions may also discourage a third party from attempting to take control of our Company. Consequently, even if a potential takeover of our Company would result in the purchase of the Equity Shares at a premium to their market price or would otherwise be beneficial to its stakeholders, it is possible that such a takeover would not be attempted or consummated because of the SEBI Takeover Regulations.

98. Holders of Equity Shares may be restricted in their ability to exercise pre-emptive rights under Indian law and thereby may suffer future dilution of their ownership position.

Under the Companies Act, 2013, a company having share capital and incorporated in India must offer its holders of equity shares pre-emptive rights to subscribe and pay for a proportionate number of equity shares to maintain their existing ownership percentages before the issuance of any new equity shares, unless the pre-emptive rights have been waived by adoption of a special resolution by holders of three-fourths of the equity shares voting on such resolution. However, if the laws of the jurisdiction the investors are located in does not permit them to exercise their pre-emptive rights without us filing an offering document or registration statement with the applicable authority in such jurisdiction, the investors will be unable to exercise their pre-emptive rights unless we make such a filing. If we elect not to file a registration statement, the new securities may be issued to a custodian, who may sell the securities for the investor's benefit. The value the custodian receives on the sale of such securities and the related transaction costs cannot be predicted. In addition, to the extent that the investors are unable to exercise pre-emption rights granted in respect of the Equity Shares held by them, their proportional interest in us would be reduced.

99. If our Company does not receive the minimum subscription of 90% of the Fresh Issue, the Offer may fail.

In the event our Company does not receive (i) a minimum subscription of 90% of the Fresh Issue, and (ii) a subscription in the Offer as specified under Rule 19(2)(b) of the SCRR, including through devolvement of Underwriters, as applicable, within 60 days from the date of the Bid Closing Date, or if the subscription level falls below the thresholds mentioned above after the Bid Closing Date, on account of withdrawal of applications or after technical rejections or any other reason, or if the listing or trading permission is not obtained from the Stock Exchanges for the Equity Shares being offered under the Red Herring Prospectus, our Company shall forthwith refund the entire subscription amount received in accordance with SEBI ICDR Master Circular. If there is a delay beyond four days, our Company and every Director of our Company who is an officer in default, to the extent applicable, shall pay interest as prescribed under applicable law.

100. Our Company is not, and does not intend to become, regulated as an investment company under the U.S. Investment Company Act and related rules.

We have not registered and do not intend to register as an investment company under the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “U.S. Investment Company Act”). Accordingly, unlike registered investment companies, we will not be subject to the vast majority of the provisions of the U.S. Investment Company Act, including provisions that require investment companies to have a majority of disinterested directors, provide limitations on leverage and limit transactions between investment companies and their affiliates. None of these protections or restrictions is or will be applicable to us.

If we were to become subject to the U.S. Investment Company Act because of a change of law or otherwise, the various restrictions imposed by the U.S. Investment Company Act, and the substantial costs and burdens of compliance therewith, could adversely affect our operating results and financial performance. Moreover, parties to a contract with an entity that has improperly failed to register as an investment company under the U.S. Investment Company Act may be entitled to cancel or otherwise void their contracts with the unregistered entity, and shareholders in that entity may be entitled to withdraw their investment.

We are relying on the exemption provided by section 3(c)(7) of the U.S. Investment Company Act to avoid being required to register as an investment company under the U.S. Investment Company Act and related rules. In order to help ensure compliance with the exemption provided by section 3(c)(7) of the U.S. Investment Company Act, our Company has implemented restrictions on the ownership and transfer of Equity Shares by any persons acquiring our Equity Shares in Offer who are in the United States or who are U.S. Persons (as defined in Regulation S under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended, which may materially affect your ability to transfer our Equity Shares. See “Other Regulatory and Statutory Disclosures – Eligibility and Transfer Restrictions” on page 537.

101. U.S. regulation of investment activities may negatively affect the ability of banking entities to purchase our Equity Shares.

The Volcker Rule generally prohibits certain “banking entities” from engaging in proprietary trading, or from acquiring or retaining an “ownership interest” (as defined therein) in, sponsoring or having certain relationships with “covered funds”, unless pursuant to an exclusion and exemption under the Volcker Rule. As we are relying on an analysis that our Company does not come within the definition of an “investment company” under the U.S. Investment Company Act because of the exception provided under section 3(c)(7) thereunder, our Company may be considered a “covered fund” for purposes of the Volcker Rule. The following would be considered a “banking entity” subject to the Volcker Rule: (i) any U.S.-insured depository institution, (ii) any company that controls a U.S.-insured depository institution, (iii) any non-U.S. company that is treated as a bank holding company for purposes of Section 8 of the International Banking Act of 1978 (that is, a non-U.S. company that maintains a branch, agency or commercial lending office in the U.S.) and (iv) any affiliate or subsidiary of any of the foregoing under the U.S. Bank Holding Company Act, other than a “covered fund” that is not itself a banking entity under clauses (i), (ii) or (iii), above.

There may be limitations on the ability of “banking entities” to purchase or retain our Equity Shares in the absence of an applicable Volcker Rule exclusion or exemption. Consequently, depending on market conditions and the “banking entity” status of potential purchasers of our Equity Shares from time to time, the Volcker Rule restrictions could negatively affect the liquidity and market value of our Equity Shares.

Each investor must make its own determination as to whether it is a “banking entity” subject to the Volcker Rule and, if applicable, the potential impact of the Volcker Rule on its ability to purchase or retain our Equity Shares. Investors are responsible for analyzing their own regulatory positions and none of our Company, the BRLMs or any other person connected with the Offer makes any representation to any prospective investor or holder of our Equity Shares regarding the treatment of our Company under the Volcker Rule, or to such investor’s investment in our Company at any time in the future.

102. There can be no assurance that we will not be classified as a passive foreign investment company, which could result in adverse U.S. federal income tax consequences to United States Holders of our Equity Shares.

We would be classified as a passive foreign investment company (“PFIC”) for any taxable year if, after the application of certain look-through rules, either: (i) 75% or more of our gross income for such year is “passive income” (as defined in the relevant provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended), or (ii) 50% or more of the value of our assets (generally determined on the basis of a quarterly average) during such year is attributable to assets that produce or are held for the production of passive income. For these purposes, cash and other that do or could generate passive income are categorized as passive assets, and the value of company’s goodwill and other unrecorded intangible assets is generally taken into account. Passive income generally includes, among other things, rents, dividends, interest, royalties, gains from the disposition of passive assets and gains from commodities and securities transactions. For purposes of this test, we will be treated as owning a proportionate share of the assets and earning a proportionate share of the income of any other corporation of which we own, directly or indirectly, at least 25% (by value) of the shares. Based on our anticipated market capitalization and the composition of our income, assets and operations, we do not expect to be a PFIC for U.S. federal income tax purposes for the current taxable year. However, this is a factual determination that must be made annually after the close of each taxable year. Moreover, the value of our assets for purposes of the PFIC determination may be determined by reference to the public price of our Equity Shares at this initial offering and the future price, which could fluctuate significantly. In addition, it is possible that the Internal Revenue Service may take a contrary position with respect to our determination in any particular year, and therefore, there can be no assurance that we will not be classified as a PFIC for the current taxable year or in the future. Certain adverse U.S. federal income tax consequences could apply to a United States investor if we are treated as a PFIC for any taxable year during which such investor holds our Equity Shares. United States investors should consult their tax advisors about the potential application of the PFIC rules to their investment in our Equity Shares.

Product-specific defences are central to our approach; these include guardrails such as collections routed through escrow accounts, financially strong co-borrowers, requirement for hard collateral, participation in government-backed credit guarantee schemes amongst others, thereby enhancing risk mitigation. Furthermore, dedicated collections strategy relying on digital enables and physical presence helps timely resolution of potential delinquencies. Together, these measures are designed to safeguard asset quality, mitigate credit losses, and help maintain controlled delinquency levels.

OVERVIEW OF MACRO-ECONOMIC SCENARIO

Overview of Global Macro-economic Scenario

According to the International Monetary Fund (“IMF”) (World Economic Outlook – January 2026), the global economy has demonstrated a remarkable resilience with global Gross Domestic Product (GDP) growth estimated to remain resilient at 3.3% in calendar year (“CY”) 2025. Despite the initial uncertainty relating to United States (U.S.) trade tariffs and concerns about its potential impact on global growth, the effects have been relatively contained. The agility and adaptability of the private sector, which rapidly adjusted its supply chains and trade flows mitigated the damage. The front-loading of imports in the first half of the year, as well as the swift reorganisation of supply chains to redirect trade flows, have helped to minimise the disruption.

Going forward, IMF projects the global GDP growth to remain resilient at 3.3% CY26 and at 3.2% in CY27. The surge in investment related to technology, including artificial intelligence (AI) as well as fiscal and monetary support is adding to the resilience.

In a notable event, on February 20, 2026, the U.S. Supreme Court invalidated President Donald Trump’s sweeping tariffs that he imposed under a law meant to be applicable only in case of national emergencies. Post the ruling, the President issued a new executive order imposing a 10% tariff from February 24, 2026, which he cautioned that it might be increased to 15% on most imports under Section 122 of the Trade Act of 1974. Section 122 permits tariffs of up to 15% and is not affected by the Court’s decision, although such tariffs must be confirmed by Congress within 150 days. The Supreme Court decision has opened the door to potentially billions of dollars in tariff refunds, while also injecting new uncertainty into the global trade landscape.

The global geopolitical landscape is undergoing a significant transformation, marked by rising tensions in West Asia and a shift in traditional power dynamics. Global conflicts can directly affect domestic indicators such as inflation, fiscal deficit and exchange rates. India's economy, however, is a “bright spot” with the National Statistics Office estimating a real GDP growth of 7.6% in fiscal year 2026 ending on March 31, 2026, driven by strong domestic demand, high infrastructure spending and improvements in manufacturing and services. India has mitigated external shocks, such as US tariffs due to diversified trade partnerships and robust foreign exchange reserves ($703 billion). The India-Europe FTA finalized on January 27, 2026, aims to reshape trade, with the EU dropping tariffs on 99.5% of Indian exports and India reducing tariffs on European luxury cars and wines. The deal serves as a strategic hedge to reduce dependency on China and the US.

On February 06, 2026, the US and India reached an interim trade deal, reducing US reciprocal tariffs on Indian goods to 18% from 50%. The agreement eliminates a 25% punitive tariff imposed due to India’s Russian oil imports and provides zero-duty access for Indian sectors like gems, jewellery, and pharmaceuticals. However, with the US reciprocal tariffs becoming invalid, India will now be subject to a lower global 10% tariff under section 122 rather than the negotiated 18% tariff.

Global inflation is expected to decline to 3.8% in CY26 and 3.4% in CY27. The US core inflation will likely return to its 2% target by 2027, while Australia and Norway will experience prolonged above-target inflation. In contrast, the UK's inflation will return to target by end-2026, Japan's will moderate in 2026, and the Euro areas will hover around 2%. Inflation in China is projected to rise from low levels, whereas in India, it is expected to return to near-target levels after a significant decline in 2025 driven by subdued food prices.

OVERVIEW OF MACRO-ECONOMIC SCENARIO IN INDIA

India Retains Top Spot as Fastest-Growing Major Economy

As of the January 2026 IMF World Economic Outlook update, India is projected to remain the world's fastest-growing major economy, with an estimated Real GDP growth of 7.3% in CY25, and a steady 6.4% in CY26 and CY27. Driven by strong domestic demand, robust consumption, and improved financial conditions, India's growth is significantly outperforming other major economies and emerging markets. The country's growth is fuelled by high consumer spending and positive investment sentiment, allowing it to outpace China's growth, which is projected to be around 5% in CY25-26 and 4.5% in CY26-27. This sustained growth trajectory reinforces India's position as a major contributor to global economic growth, poised to continue its upward momentum despite global uncertainties. The CPI inflation is expected to rise to 5% in the next fiscal year, up from an estimated 2.5% in the current fiscal year as food inflation normalizes. This forecast is in line with recent trends as CPI inflation rose to 1.3% in December 2025 from 0.7% in November 2025, still within the RBI target range of 2-6%. Given the uptick in inflation, Crisil Intelligence expect the RBI to maintain the current policy rates keeping a close watch on the evolving inflation trajectory.

Despite the elevated tariffs, the effect was less severe than anticipated. Consequently, growth forecasts have been revised upwards and inflation forecasts have been revised downwards. The National Statistics Office (NSO) projects India's real GDP to grow 7.6% in FY26 up from 7.1% in FY25. Additionally, the CPI is estimated to remain around 2.5% in FY26 and for FY27 it is expected to rise to around 5.0%.

Past GDP growth and projections

India's real GDP to grow 7.6% in FY26 up from 7.1% in FY25

Over the past three fiscals (Fiscals 2023 to 2025), the Indian economy has outperformed its global counterparts by witnessing a faster growth. Going forward as well, IMF projects that Indian economy will remain strong and would continue to be one of the fastest growing economies.

RBI cuts repo rate, supporting domestic growth against external headwinds

RBI reduces repo rate by 25 bps to 5.25%, maintains neutral stance

The Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) of the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) initiated a monetary policy easing cycle in 2025 through calibrated repo rate cuts to support economic growth. A 25-bps cut in February lowered the repo rate to 6.25%, followed by another 25-bps reduction in April, alongside a shift in policy stance to 'accommodative' from 'neutral'. In June, the central bank intensified easing efforts, with a 50-bps rate cut and shifting its policy stance to 'neutral'.

At its December meeting, the MPC had further cut the repo rate by 25 bps to 5.25% and maintained a 'neutral' stance, in line with market expectations marking the 4th rate cut of the year and a total reduction of 125 bps in CY25. This decision reflected low inflation risks due to a healthy monsoon and goods and services tax (GST) cuts, as well as a positive growth outlook, allowing the central bank to support growth while remaining vigilant on inflation.

The repo rate is expected to support the economy by allowing banks to maintain current softer lending rates, thereby encouraging borrowing and spending. It should also help sustain growth momentum of 7-8% for the current fiscal. In addition, the neutral policy stance suggests that the RBI is not inclined towards monetary tightening, which will help preserve liquidity and support growth.

The RBI's repo rate cut to 5.25% aims to boost economic growth. Non-Banking Financial Companies (NBFCs) will benefit from lower funding costs and improved liquidity. This will enable them to offer cheaper credit and lower EMIs to consumers. The move supports India's strong GDP growth, projected at 7.6% for Fiscal 2026 as per NSO, while inflation is expected at 2.5% for the same period. The rate cut will spur loan demand and fuel economic activity. Overall, it will benefit consumers and sustain the economic recovery.

While the US tariffs remain a risk to external demand, the RBI expects structural reforms, including GST streamlining, to partly offset these headwinds. Also, the standing deposit facility rate remains at 5%, while the marginal standing facility rate and the bank rate declined to 5.50%, supporting financial system stability.

CPI inflation to average at 2.5% in Fiscal 2026

Inflation based on the Consumer Price Index (CPI) accelerated to 1.3% in December 2025 from 0.7% in November and 0.3% in October, driven by slower deflation in food and beverages and pick-up in fuel and light inflation. As food-related base effect fades, headline CPI is likely to edge up. This fiscal, RBI expects CPI inflation to average 2.5% Fiscal 2026.

In Fiscal 2027, Crisil Intelligence projects inflation to rise for the first time since Fiscal 2023 but remain close to the decadal trend of 5.0% (average over fiscals 2016-2025), up from our estimate of 2.5% for Fiscal 2026. The rise in inflation will be led by a base effect, with other factors supporting benign prices.

GDP Growth Drivers

India has the world's largest population

As per Census 2011, India's population was ~1.3 billion and comprised nearly 187 million households. The population, which grew at nearly 1.5% CAGR between 2001 and 2011, is expected by Crisil Intelligence to have increased at 1.1% CAGR between 2011 and 2021 and reached 1.4 billion. The population is expected to reach 1.5 billion by 2031 from 1.4 billion in 2021, and the number of households are expected to reach to ~385 million in 2031 from 245 million in 2021, reporting a CAGR of 4.6% from Fiscal 2021 to Fiscal 2031.

Favourable demographics

India has one of the world's largest youth population, with a median age of 28 years. About 90% of Indians are below 60 years of age. In 2023, it was estimated that India had the highest share of young working population (15-30 years) compared to major developed and developing countries with the share of 26%. Crisil Intelligence expects that the large share of working population, coupled with rapid urbanisation and rising affluence, will propel growth in the economy.

India stands as the nation with the largest population globally, comprising a substantial segment of 381.5 million individuals aged between 15 and 29 years. This demographic presents immense potential for various sectors, including the education sector, to tap into a significant market and address the evolving needs of this dynamic age group. As the young population in India increases, the need for quality education and education infrastructure within the country is also estimated to expand.

Rising Urbanisation

India's urbanisation is expected to drive economic growth, investments in infrastructure, and job creation. The urban population has gradually shown a growth from 23% in Fiscal 1980 to 27.7% in Fiscal 2000 and further to 34.9% in Fiscal 2020. By Fiscal 2030, 40% of India's population is projected to live in urban areas, still lower than in developed nations. To address education challenges, India needs to prioritise urban planning, building more schools with adequate infrastructure and digital access. This will help bridge the digital divide, promote remote learning, and ensure equal access to education. Investing in education planning and infrastructure is crucial for India's human capital and economic development.

Rising Middle India population to help sustain economic growth

The proportion of “Middle India” (defined as households with annual income of Rs 0.2-1.0 million) has been on the rise over the past decade and is expected to continue increasing with rising GDP and household incomes. Crisil Intelligence estimates there were 103 million middle-income households in India in Fiscal 2022 and by Fiscal 2030, expects it to increase to 181 million households. A large number of households that have entered the middle-income bracket in the past few years are likely to be from semi-urban and rural areas.

Crisil Intelligence believes that improvement in literacy levels, increasing access to information and awareness, increase in the availability of necessities and improvement in road infrastructure have increased the aspirations of Middle India, which is likely to translate into increased demand for financial products and opportunities for providers of financial services providers.

Key structural reforms

- Pradhan Mantri Aavas Yojna (PMAY) was introduced in CY 2015 to provide affordable housing for all by the end of CY 2022. The PMAY aims to achieve housing for all, with a target of 49.5 million houses in rural areas by 2029 and completion of sanctioned urban houses by December 31, 2025. Under the scheme, eligible families receive financial assistance including Rs 0.25 million in urban areas and up to Rs 0.12 million in rural areas, along with concessional loans and additional support such as toilet construction assistance and liquified petroleum gas connections to support housing construction and upgradation.
- The GST regime has been stabilizing fast and is expected to bring more transparency and formalization, eventually leading to higher economic growth.

Digital Initiatives:

- Government launched the Digital India program, on 1st July 2015 with the vision of transforming India into a digitally empowered society and a knowledge-based economy, by ensuring digital access, digital inclusion, digital empowerment and bridging the digital divide. Some of the key initiatives include Unified Payment Interface (UPI), Unified Mobile Application for new age Governance (UMANG), Common Service Centres (CSCs) and related progress under Digital India.
- Digital Personal Data Protection Rules: The Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology has released the Draft Digital Personal Data Protection Rules, 2025. The rules provide a framework for obtaining consent, registering consent managers, and processing personal data. They also address security safeguards, breach notifications, and individual rights individual rights, including special provisions for children and individuals with disabilities.
- Digital Public infrastructure reforms by Government of India
The key idea for Digital Public Infrastructure (DPI) is not the complete digitisation of narrow public services but the establishment of a building block of digital modularity, which can be used modularly by both government and private players to create the specific digital infrastructure required.

The government has also launched the JAM trinity (Jan Dhan, Aadhar and Mobile) which aims to link Jan Dhan accounts, mobile numbers, and Aadhar cards of all Indian nationals to transfer cash benefits directly to the bank account of the intended beneficiary and avoid leakage of government subsidies.

India Stack, set of digital infrastructure including Aadhar, UPI, Digi locker, e-KYC and e-Sign has enabled many unbanked citizens to access formal financial services, promoting financial inclusion.

Open Credit Enablement Network (OCEN) was introduced as a step for promoting financial inclusion and democratization of credit in India. OCEN is set of open standards which facilitates interactions and collaborations among borrowers, lenders, lending service providers, and technology service providers.

The RBI launched the account aggregator system on September 2, 2021. These account aggregators would provide granular insights to lenders into customers' financial assets and their borrowing history centrally, based on customer consent.

Financial Inclusion on a fast path in India

India's financial inclusion has improved significantly over calendar years 2014 to 2021 as adult population with bank accounts increased from 53% to 78% (Source: Global Findex Database). This remarkable progress can be attributed to the Indian government's concerted efforts to promote financial inclusion through a range of initiatives, including the launch of Jan Dhan Yojana, the proliferation of mobile banking and digital payments, and the implementation of government subsidies and benefits such as the Direct Benefit Transfer (DBT) scheme. Moreover, advancements in financial technology have also contributed to the improvement in financial inclusion.

Digitisation aided by technology to play pivotal role in growth of economy

Technology is expected to play an important role by progressively reducing the cost of reaching out to smaller markets. India has seen a tremendous rise in fintech adoption in the past few years. Among many initiatives by the government, the Unified Payments Interface (UPI) is playing a pivotal role towards financial inclusion. It provides a single-click digital interface across all systems for smartphones linked to bank accounts and facilitates easy transactions using a simple authentication method. The volume of digital transactions has also seen a surge in the past few years, driven by increased adoption of UPI. Apart from financial services industry, digitisation in other industries like retail will also play an important role in the growth of economy.

Rise in 4G and 5G penetration and smartphone usage

India had 1,151 million wireless subscribers at the end of Fiscal 2025. The reach of mobile network, internet and electricity is continuously expanding the subscriber footprint to remote areas leading to rising smartphone and internet penetration in India. In Fiscal 2023, 5G was launched which led to conversion of 25 million subscribers to 5G. This shift was facilitated by offering 5G services at the price of 4G data plans, coupled with a surge in data demand and the accessibility of affordable handsets. In Fiscal 2026, Crisil Intelligence expects 5G subscribers to reach 314 million since data consumption will increase due to high usage on OTT platforms, in education services, banking services, healthcare, and the gaming industry.

OVERVIEW OF CREDIT SCENARIO IN INDIA

Significant retail credit gap exists in India, as compared to other nations

Retail credit gap has improved in India to 93% in CY23 and CY24 after the setback in CY20 owing to the pandemic. Significant retail credit gap still exists in India when compared to developed nations like Germany, China, United States and United Kingdom, as evident by the credit to GDP ratio of 139%, 198%, 143% and 138% respectively, as of CY24. With rising financial awareness, government's continuous efforts for financial inclusion and rising credit accessibility to the underserved population, credit penetration in India is expected to rise. The surge in credit penetration would be led by growth in retail credit.

Retail credit to lead overall systemic credit growth

Systemic credit in India grew at a CAGR of 11% in six years over fiscals 2019 and 2025 (from Rs. 124 trillion in Fiscal 2019 to Rs. 232 trillion in Fiscal 2025). Retail credit continues to lead the systemic credit growth in Fiscal 2025, supported by the focused approach of banks and NBFCs in increasing the retail portfolio. Going ahead, Crisil Intelligence projects systemic credit to grow at a 13%-15% CAGR between Fiscal 2025 and Fiscal 2028.

In Fiscal 2025, the retail and non-retail segments comprised 35% and 65% respectively, of the total systemic credit. Going forward, by Fiscal 2028, these proportions are expected to shift slightly, with the retail segment increasing to 36% and the non-retail segment decreasing to 64% as the retail credit growth continues to outpace the non-retail credit.

Share of NBFC credit in overall systemic credit expected to reach 24% by Fiscal 2028

In Fiscal 2025 NBFCs held the market share of ~21% whereas banks accounted for the remaining share of ~79%. Going forward, NBFCs share in overall systemic credit is expected to increase to 24% by Fiscal 2028.

Credit growth: Banks to trail NBFCs as deposit growth remains sluggish

Over the past six fiscal years, banks have trailed NBFCs in terms of credit growth, except for Fiscal 2022, when banks showed a steeper recovery post-pandemic disruptions, growing at 9.6% compared to NBFCs' 8.3% growth. This slower recovery for NBFCs was attributed to funding challenges due to higher gross NPAs. Despite this, NBFCs gained market share over banks, with a five-year CAGR of ~13.8% between fiscal 2020-25, compared to banks' credit growth at a CAGR of ~11.4% during the same period.

Systemic retail credit growth projected to be on a strong footing

Retail credit growth is projected to witness a CAGR of 14-16% between Fiscal 2025 and Fiscal 2028

The retail credit including small ticket loans for asset classes such as housing finance, vehicle financing, gold loans, education loans, consumer durables, personal loans, credit cards and microfinance, in India stood at Rs. 82 trillion, as of Fiscal 2025 which rapidly grew at a CAGR of 15.0% between Fiscal 2019 and Fiscal 2025 (from Rs. 35 trillion in Fiscal 2019). Retail credit grew at 13% in Fiscal 2025 supported by steady demand in underlying assets like housing, auto and growth in education loan and personal loans driven by consumption. The Indian retail credit market has grown at a strong pace over the last few years and is expected to grow further at 14-16% between Fiscal 2025 and Fiscal 2028 (Rs 122 trillion projected in Fiscal 2028). Moreover, the increasing demand and positive sentiments in the Indian retail credit market, presents an opportunity for both banks and NBFCs to broaden their investor base.

The retail credit sector has experienced steady growth, marked by a consistent upward trend in both banks and NBFCs' retail credit. However, growth of NBFC retail credit is accelerating at a faster rate, indicating a growing significance of NBFCs in the retail credit market.

Banks' retail credit has seen a steady annual increase, rising from Rs 26 trillion in Fiscal 2019 to Rs 60 trillion in Fiscal 2025. NBFCs' retail credit has also demonstrated an increasing trend, growing from Rs 9 trillion in Fiscal 2019 to Rs 22 trillion in Fiscal 2025.

The growth underscores the expansion of the overall retail credit market, driven by the consistent increases in both banks and NBFCs' retail credit.

Retail credit growth is projected to be stable between Fiscal 2025 and Fiscal 2028

Note: P: projected

Source: RBI, Crisil Intelligence

NBFCs have outpaced banks in terms of growth in credit outstanding, leveraging their segmental focus. NBFCs also benefit from their extensive branch network, which is spread across remote areas as well. These factors, along with high contribution from the digital platforms, kept the credit growth of NBFCs healthy, albeit tapered, leading to a 18.4% on-year increase in Fiscal 2025.

While the credit growth of banks increased at 11.0% on-year in Fiscal 2025, despite a high base, spurred by their aggressive focus on the retail loans segment in recent times. Banks typically focus on Tier 1 cities and salaried customers to maintain asset quality. However, recently, tech-enabled, retail-focused NBFCs that can leverage their cost of funds are also serving lower-salaried customers who do not meet the banks' underwriting criteria. These NBFCs are filling a market gap while preserving asset quality. With NBFCs growing faster than banks, Crisil Intelligence expects NBFCs to increase their market share further.

Household debt as % of GDP for India and Peer countries

Household credit to GDP ratio of India and peer countries (CY2020 - CY2024)

Note: Ratios as of December each year.

Source: Bank of International Settlements, Crisil Intelligence

Significant retail credit gap exists in India, as evident by India's household credit to GDP ratio of 42% as of CY2024, as compared to 60%, 69% and 76% for China, United States and United Kingdom, respectively. This signals a significant room for growth in credit penetration in the country. The surge in credit penetration would be led by growth in retail credit.

Rural and semi-urban India – Under penetration and untapped market presents a huge opportunity for growth of financiers

Bank credit to metropolitan areas has decreased over the past few years with its share decreasing from 66% as of March 31, 2019, to 60% as of March 31, 2025. Between the same period, credit share has witnessed a marginal rise in rural (7% as of Fiscal 2019 to 8% as of Fiscal 2025) and semi-urban areas (12% as of Fiscal 2019 to 14% as of Fiscal 2025). As of March 31, 2025, rural areas, which is estimated to account for 47% of GDP, received just 8% of the overall banking credit, which shows the vast market opportunity for banks and NBFCs to lend in these areas. With the government's increasing focus on financial inclusion, rising financial awareness, and greater smartphone and internet penetration, Crisil Intelligence expects the delivery of credit services in rural areas to increase. Furthermore, the use of alternative data to underwrite customers is also expected to help banks and NBFCs assess and better serve the informal segments of society in these regions.

Impact of digitisation on retail credit

India's shift towards a digital economy, driven by increased mobile and bank account penetration, has transformed the financial sector. Technology has enabled lenders to overcome geographical barriers, enhance underwriting, and make informed decisions. These advances have also improved customer experience by enabling faster onboarding and more effective fraud detection.

Digital lending models now address the financial needs of a wide range of customer demographics, including individuals who have historically been underserved or excluded from traditional banking systems. Key target segments include micro, small, and medium enterprises (MSMEs), which have faced challenges in accessing formal credit in the past. Digital lenders also serve salaried individuals, self-employed professionals, and small business owners seeking rapid, hassle-free credit solutions for purposes such as operational expenses, business expansion, or personal financial needs.

In addition, these models extend services to rural and semi-urban communities, where access to traditional banking remains limited. They also support gig economy workers, freelancers, and entrepreneurs who require flexible loan options tailored to their business needs. Digital lenders further reach customers with limited credit histories or those previously rejected by conventional lenders, offering opportunities to establish and improve their credit profiles.

By addressing the diverse needs of these segments, digital lending models help advance financial inclusion, foster economic development, and enhance the well-being of individuals and enterprises across India.

The key drivers for Growth of Digital lending in India include:

- Efficiency in catering to credit pan-India in remote / Tier-2+ regions: Digital lending has transformed credit access in India's remote and tier-2+ regions by leveraging data analytics, AI, and machine learning. This has enabled lenders to evaluate creditworthiness, streamline loan processing, and disburse funds quickly, resulting in customised loan products for marginal borrowers thereby advancing financial inclusion.
- Higher ability to cross sell with 360-degree view in customer lifecycle: Digital lending's advanced analytics and technology enable effective cross-selling to existing customers. A 360-degree customer view allows lenders to understand behaviour, preferences, and financial needs, identifying cross-selling opportunities and enabling timely, relevant product offers that enhance customer satisfaction and cross-selling success.
- Phygital network key for distribution + underwriting: Phygital networks combine physical and digital channels, enabling lenders to reach a wider audience, increase efficiency, and reduce costs. This hybrid approach leverages the strengths of both, providing a human interface for guidance and support while facilitating seamless onboarding, loan processing, disbursal and improve risk assessment.

Structural growth drivers of the Indian credit market

Factors supporting retail credit growth

Source: Crisil Intelligence

The Indian retail credit market is poised for significant growth, driven by increasing disposable incomes, changing lifestyles, and a shift towards discretionary spending. This trend is evident in both rural and urban India, with the share of discretionary items in consumption baskets growing between 2011-12 and 2023-24 (Household Consumption Expenditure Survey (HCES) 2023-24, Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation (MoSPI). As financial health improves, consumers are seeking credit to finance purchases such as vehicles and homes, creating a sizable market for lenders. The government's initiatives to promote digitalisation and financial inclusion have improved access to credit for underserved segments, including MSMEs and low-income households. Despite rapid growth, retail credit penetration remains low, presenting an opportunity for lenders to expand their customer base and increase market share. India's demographic dividend, with a large working-age population, is expected to drive consumption and credit demand, fueling the growth of the retail credit market. The young population's aspirations for a better lifestyle and increased access to credit will contribute to a sustained growth trajectory, offering lenders an opportunity.

FinTech Innovations

TReDS Platform

The TReDS platform connects MSMEs with financial institutions, enabling them to access financing at competitive interest rates. This platform ensures transparency and efficiency in the discounting process, allowing MSMEs to receive prompt payments against outstanding invoices. As a result, MSMEs have experienced improved cash flows, reduced working capital requirements, and enhanced financial stability and operational efficiency.

Digital Lending

Financial Institutions (FIs) have been innovating by incorporating digital technologies into the lending value chain, expanding their reach to underserved borrowers who lacked documentation, limited credit history, or faced geographical constraints. This has enabled FIs to cater to a broader range of customers, including MSMEs and individuals, by leveraging alternative data sources and digital channels.

Use of generative AI and new technologies increasing productivity

Generative AI (Gen AI) uses large data sets to produce content in response to prompts. In BFSI sector, it enables efficient conversational banking, enhances customer experiences, and saves time. Gen AI aids in fraud prevention and risk analysis, generating synthetic data for detailed insights and informed decision-making, ultimately transforming the BFSI sector.

Government Regulations for the Digital Finance economy

Implementation of data privacy law and potential impact on this industry: The Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology has released the Draft Digital Personal Data Protection Rules, 2025, which require financial institutions to obtain explicit customer consent and define data governance practices. The rules will impact the Indian Fintech industry, increasing transparency and accountability in data collection and processing, and making financial institutions more accountable for personal data security.

Account aggregator flow

1. FIU is any registered entity<sup>4</sup> which requires access to user data; once registered as an FIU, the entity will have access to data of all users registered on AAs (basis their consent); the consent will be valid for a period of time as permitted by the user
2. The user has complete control over his/her available FIP data which can be shared with FIU; for example, a user who has three bank accounts can decide to share data from only one bank account
3. The current details that can be sourced through AA portal/app are bank accounts, deposits, mutual funds, insurance policies and pension funds

Regulations and initiatives on credit by fintech

RBI has been actively supporting the growth of the Fintech sector in India by promoting innovation, financial inclusion, regulatory compliance, and consumer protection. To achieve this, the RBI has launched several key initiatives, including:

- Establishment of a Fintech Department: The RBI established a dedicated Fintech department in 2022 to promote innovation and growth in the sector. The department has been involved in initiatives such as pilot programs for central bank digital currencies, G20 events, and setting up digital banking units across India.
- Framework for Self-Regulatory Organisations: In 2024, the RBI introduced a framework for self-regulatory organisations in the Fintech sector, aimed at establishing a collaborative and structured regulatory approach. This framework enables self-regulatory organisations to oversee their members, promoting transparency, accountability, and fair competition.
- Fintech Repository: The RBI has launched the "Fintech Repository", a database that tracks financial technology developments in India. The repository aims to facilitate collaboration and knowledge sharing among stakeholders, including regulators and industry players, to promote a more informed and effective regulatory framework for the Fintech sector.
- RBI has also developed a Payments Infrastructure Development Fund (PIDF) scheme to subsidise deployment of payment acceptance infrastructure in tier-3 to tier-6 centres.

Credit Through UPI

The RBI recently announced a proposal to broaden the United Payments Interface (UPI) scope by allowing transfer to and from pre-sanctioned credit lines with banks. Previously to this announcement, only amounts held in bank deposits could be transferred through the UPI, this will allow overdraft accounts, credit cards and prepaid wallets to be eligible for linking to UPI. As per the announcement, this step enables the inclusion of credit lines as a funding account. RBI in its monetary policy meet held in December 2024 announced that it has allowed even Small Finance Banks to offer the credit line on UPI. This move is expected to further enhance the financial inclusion and access to formal credit by new to credit customers.

NBFC CREDIT LANDSCAPE IN INDIA

Classification and Scale based approach of NBFCs

NBFCs are classified based on liabilities into two broad categories: a) deposit-taking; and b) non-deposit-taking. Non-deposit-taking NBFCs with an asset size of Rs 5 billion and above were labelled as ‘systemically important non-deposit taking NBFCs’ (“NBFC–ND–SI”) and separate prudential regulations were made applicable to them.

On October 22, 2021, the RBI announced a new Scale-Based Regulation for NBFCs, which became effective from October 1, 2022. These regulations proposed a tighter regulatory framework for NBFCs by creating a four-tier structure with a progressive increase in regulation intensity.

As per the RBI’s Scale-Based Regulation for NBFCs framework, the regulatory framework of NBFCs should be based on a four-layered structure depending on their size, activity, and perceived riskiness: base, middle, upper, and top layers.

The RBI has taken a balanced view, and instead of going for a one-size-fits-all approach, it has opted for differential regulations based on the size and systemic importance of an NBFC. Furthermore, the importance of NBFCs in providing credit to underserved customers has been recognized. The RBI has not proposed imposition of Cash Reserve Ratio (CRR) and Statutory Liquidity Ratio (SLR) on non-deposit taking NBFCs, which would come as a relief to NBFCs.

Net owned fund

The RBI has specified Rs. 100 million as net owned fund required for below mentioned categories of NBFCs to commence or carry on the business of non-banking financial institution from October 01, 2022. Provided that the mentioned NBFCs having net owned fund of less than hundred million rupees, shall achieve the NOF of Rs.100 million as per the following.

| Net Owned Fund Requirement           |                                |                                |

RBI’s Master Direction on Scale Based Regulation of NBFCs, 2023

The RBI published the Master Direction on Scale Based regulation (SBR) of NBFCs to bring an end to the basic categorization of systemically important and non-systemically important NBFCs, while the classification based on acceptance of public deposits and specialization continues to be in force. In addition, considering the systemic importance, the SBR Master Directions has enhanced the corporate governance in middle layer and upper layer NBFCs. For instance, NBFCs that are part of a common Group or are floated by a common set of promoters shall not be viewed on a standalone basis. The total assets of all the NBFCs in a Group shall be consolidated to determine the threshold for their classification in the Middle Layer.

RBI tightens provisioning norms on Standard assets for NBFC Upper Layer

On June 6, 2022, the RBI released a circular aligning provisioning for standard assets by NBFCs in the upper layer as per RBI’s scale-based regulations with that prevalent with the banks, which was effective from October 1, 2022. (now part of Master Direction – Reserve Bank of India (Non-Banking Financial Company – Scale Based Regulation) Directions, 2023). The impact of the norms is unlikely to be material as most large NBFCs already maintain Stage 1 and Stage 2 provisioning, which is comfortably higher than the required levels. The below table shows the provisioning that NBFC-ULs are required to maintain in respect of standard assets for the funded amount outstanding:

Provisioning norms for standard assets for NBFC-ULs

NBFC Credit to grow faster than systemic credit

The credit growth of NBFCs which has trended above India's GDP growth historically, is expected to continue to rise at a faster pace. NBFCs have shown remarkable resilience and gained importance in the financial sector ecosystem, growing from less than ₹2 trillion AUM at the turn of the century to ₹50 trillion at the end of Fiscal 2025. Traditional banking system had many limitations for certain sections of the society with lower credit penetration and no credit score. NBFCs were able to bridge that gap, by opening branches in rural and semi urban areas, by not only providing credit but also other financial services. NBFCs could bridge the credit gap on account of their flexibility in assessing customers with lower/no credit score, unlike banks, they could provide customised services to retail and institutional customers and introduce newer credit products.

During Fiscal 2019 to Fiscal 2025, NBFC credit is estimated to have witnessed a growth at CAGR of 13.2%. NBFCs AUM as of Fiscal 2019 was approximately Rs. 24 trillion which has grown at a 6-year CAGR of 13.2% to ₹50 trillion as of Fiscal 2025. Rapid revival in the economy is expected to drive consumer demand in Fiscal 2026, leading to healthy growth in NBFCs.

NBFC credit to grow at 16-18% between Fiscal 2025 and Fiscal 2028

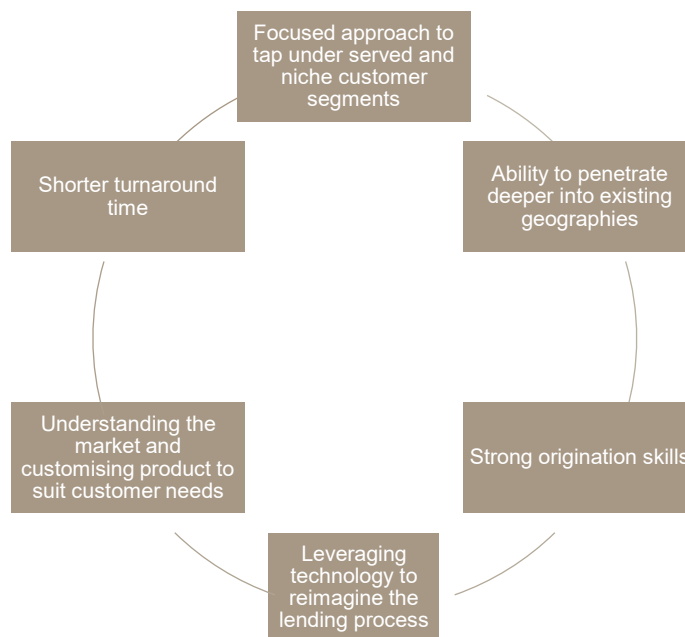

Note: P = Projected; HDFC is not considered while calculating overall NBFC Credit, Source: RBI, Company reports, Crisil Intelligence

Going forward, Crisil Intelligence expects NBFC credit to grow at 16-18% between Fiscal 2025 and Fiscal 2028 driven by growth across retail, MSME and corporate segments continuing to be the primary drivers.

NBFC's share in systemic credit is estimated to have increased from 12% in Fiscal 2008 to 13% in Fiscal 2014 and further to 21% in Fiscal 2025.

Going forward, NBFCs are expected to continue to gain market share over other lenders due to their ability to provide flexible lending solutions and tailored services, focused approach to tap under-served and niche customer segments, ability to penetrate deeper into geographies, leveraging technology to reimagine the lending process, strong origination skills and shorter turnaround time.

With high focus on retail loans, NBFCs are driving financial inclusion

While banks are the primary institutions for banking in India, retail loan portfolio forms only 36% of the overall banking credit as of Fiscal 2025. Compared to that of banks, NBFC credit to retail segment forms 44% of its portfolio as of Fiscal 2025 indicating larger focus on retail customers. Lower presence of banks in the retail space has created an opportunity for NBFCs to penetrate the segment which has also led to greater financial inclusion as NBFCs also cater to riskier customer profiles with lower income. NBFCs help fill gaps in the availability of financial services with respect to products as well as customer and geographic segments. A strong linkage at the grassroots level makes them a critical cog in the financial machine. They cater to the unbanked and underbanked masses in rural and semi-urban India and lend to the informal sector and people without credit histories, thereby enabling the government and regulators to realize the mission of financial inclusion.

The number of NBFCs as well as the size of the sector have grown significantly, with several players with heterogeneous business models starting operations. The increasing penetration of neo-banking, digital authentication, and mobile phone usage as well as mobile internet has resulted in the modularization of financial services, particularly credit. Overall NBFC credit during Fiscal 2019 to Fiscal 2025, is estimated to have witnessed a CAGR of ~13.2% which was majorly led by retail segment. While NBFC non-retail credit is estimated to have witnessed a growth of ~11.3% during the same time period.

MSME, Housing and Auto Financing contributed ~48.8% to overall NBFC credit in Fiscal 2025

In Fiscal 2025, NBFC credit grew at 18.4%, a modest decrease from the 20.2% recorded in Fiscal 2024, partly due to a change in the pace of unsecured lending, which is being carefully managed by RBI to ensure sustainable growth. Though infrastructure accounts for the highest share in NBFC credit (28.0%) as of fiscal 2025, its share in the overall NBFC credit outstanding has come down over the past years from 33.1% in Fiscal 2019. Retail and MSME segments are expected to experience higher growth in the upcoming fiscals. MSME credit accounted for 22.1% share as of fiscal 2025, witnessing a rise in its market share from 15.7% in fiscal 2019. Housing and auto segment constitute ~15.2% and ~11.5% share in overall NBFC credit as of fiscal 2025.

In fiscal 2025, the retail segment's share in the lending mix declined marginally to 44.7%, while the wholesale segment's share increased to 55.3%. By fiscal 2028, the share of retail is expected to increase to 46.5% driven by education, gold loans and consumer durable loans.

The retail loan growth rate is expected to increase moderately to 18-19% in fiscal 2026, driven by gold, auto, personal and consumer durable loans. While housing loans are expected to grow at a rate of 12-13% compared to 14.6% in fiscal 2025.

In contrast, the wholesale segment's growth rate is projected to decline slightly, mainly due to an expected slowdown in infrastructure disbursements. Nevertheless, MSME and corporate and real estate loans are expected to continue to see an uptick.

Banks' exposure to NBFCs to gain momentum in medium term post reversal of risk weights

Share of bank's lending to NBFCs have almost doubled during last 10 years. Going forward, Crisil Intelligence believes that funding access would gradually improve for NBFCs who are able to demonstrate strong performance. Reliance on bank funding is estimated to remain at 48% as of fiscal 2025. Crisil Intelligence expects the bank exposure to NBFCs to gain momentum in medium term as RBI has restored the risk weights on bank loans to NBFCs to 100% from 125%, effective from April 1, 2025.

Bank borrowings expected to remain primary source of funds for the NBFCs, apart from NCDs

Note: The analysis is based on the data of 100+ NBFCs (including HFCs), which collectively accounted for loans and advances of Rs 30,600 billion as on March 31, 2025. These NBFCs account for more than 80% of the total loans and advances outstanding of the NBFC sector. The above set excludes PFC and REC.

Asset Quality

Asset quality for NBFCs is influenced by various factors such as economic cycle, target customer segment, geographical exposure, and local events. Within the NBFC universe itself, it is observed that various asset classes tend to exhibit heterogeneous behaviour. For example, the asset quality in small business loans and personal loans tends to be highly correlated with the macroeconomic environment. This is because asset quality is more influenced by domestic factors, events that have wide ranging repercussions such as demonetisation and COVID-19 and relative leverage levels amongst borrowers.

Improving asset quality of NBFCs gives more comfort for mid-term growth

Note: The analysis is based on the data of 100+ NBFCs (including HFCs), which collectively accounted for loans and advances of Rs 30,600 billion as on March 31, 2025. These NBFCs account for more than 80% of the total loans and advances outstanding of the NBFC sector. The above set excludes PFC and REC.

Source: RBI, Crisil Intelligence

Asset quality metrics improved in Fiscal 2023 for two reasons. Firstly, the RBI decision to defer the implementation of the NPA upgradation norm until September 30, 2022, as announced in its circular dated February 15, 2022, provided a crucial breathing space for NBFCs. The deferment allowed NBFCs a reasonable transition time to recalibrate processes, revamp their collection infrastructure and teams, and persuade borrowers to align with the new dispensation. Second is the improvement in macro-economic activity, which acted as a tailwind.

Asset Quality for NBFCs improved in Fiscal 2024 on account of normalisation of economic activity and improved collection efficiency across segments with the gold segment being an exception. The asset quality of NBFCs continued the improvement trend till March 2024. In Fiscal 2025, asset quality improved for all retail segments (including housing, personal loan, vehicle and gold loans) except for microfinance where overleveraging of underlying borrowers was the key reason for deterioration.

Benefits of product diversification of NBFCs

NBFCs are increasingly focussing on product diversification to mitigate individual asset class-related credit risk and expand their customer base. This diversification enables NBFCs to cater to a broader range of customers, thereby enhancing their market presence and competitiveness. As NBFCs continue to build their competencies in underwriting and customer sourcing, they can serve underserved customer segments effectively. NBFCs have also been able to offer customised product offering thus meeting specific criteria of each customer segment. NBFCs have diversified their products and services on account of following factors:

- To expand customer base: NBFCs have focused on building their product portfolio by diversifying into related asset classes, such as home loans and loans against property. To facilitate this expansion, NBFCs have leveraged digitisation, from customer onboarding to credit underwriting and customer servicing. Unlike traditional banks, which often avoided lending to riskier segments due to higher credit risk and operational challenges, NBFCs have established a strong last-mile network and utilized digitisation to expand their customer base, thereby offering newer, customised products.
- To achieve large scale profitability: Through diversification of products NBFCs have been able to increase their overall revenue scale. Higher yielding products like microfinance loans have helped scale revenue of NBFCs, however the risk associated with higher yielding products also increases. Many NBFCs today have diversified into secured, lower yielding products to protect their asset quality and actively build their portfolio.
- Common Teams: NBFCs can benefit from product diversification through common teams, which offers cost savings, increased efficiency, and improved resource utilization. This approach eliminates redundant roles, streamlines processes, and minimises training costs. Additionally, a common team can facilitate knowledge sharing, best practice adoption, and cross-selling opportunities, leading to increased revenue and profitability.
- Capitalizing on lower credit risk across cycles: Diversification of products helps NBFCs lower credit risk across various economic cycles by helping spread risk exposure across various customer segments, asset classes and cities. During an economic downturn, certain asset classes may face higher asset quality concerns while other asset classes remain relatively stable or counter cyclical. By diversifying the products and services provided by NBFCs, they are not overly reliant on one particular asset class and can cushion the impact of sector-specific slowdowns.

- Synergize across products: Diversification of products offer NBFCs various cross selling opportunities to the same customer base. NBFCs today offer multiple products including third party insurance products, investment services etc, thereby increasing customer retention and build customer trust and relationship. Customer underwriting data can help NBFCs offer more than one product to the same customer.

Personal loans

Personal loans financing market

Personal loans can be broadly categorized into two distinct types: higher ticket size loans and lower ticket size loans. Higher ticket size loans, which often come with longer tenures and lower interest rates, can be utilized for a variety of purposes, including home renovations, medical expenses, starting a business, weddings, and vacations. In contrast, smaller ticket size loans have gained significant traction in recent times, driven by the ease of borrowing, innovative products such as “travel now, pay later” (TNPL) and no-cost equated monthly instalments (EMIs), as well as the rising demand for lifestyle financing. These smaller loans typically have shorter tenures and higher interest rates. Broader factors also include demographic shifts, especially the younger demographic, formalisation of economy, evolution of fintechs, adoption of digital-payment systems, influence of the India Stack and digital footprints, along with broader coverage of credit bureaus. Personal loans are unsecured in nature with minimal or no end-use monitoring.

On the supply side, banks and NBFCs have sharpened their focus aggressively on the retail segment, including housing, retail, auto and unsecured personal loans. For personal loans, better availability of information and technology has helped improve the underwriting capabilities of banks and NBFCs (including fintechs), which has been the primary growth driver for the segment. Personal Loans at banks (both public and private) grew 19% on-year as of March 2024, the growth then moderated to 5% on-year as of March 2025. In 9M fiscal 2026, the personal loans outstanding has increased to ₹15.92 trillion exhibiting an annualised growth of 11.83% vs 9% in fiscal 2025. While the growth has not accelerated, Crisil Intelligence expects the portfolio to grow at 14-16% till fiscal 2028 basis positive sentiments based on income tax relief, anticipated increase in disposable income and rationalisation of GST.

The amount of personal loans outstanding has increased from ₹4.24 trillion in Fiscal 2019 to ₹14.62 trillion in Fiscal 2025 at a CAGR of ~22.91%, driven by the rise in new age lenders, increasing lender focus on Tier 1 customers and beyond and a structural shift to a consumption driven economy.

The personal loans segment was marked by post-pandemic exuberance in fiscal 2023 and the first half of fiscal 2024, even as lenders — both banks and NBFCs — preferred retail loans to wholesale loans. Multiple factors were at work, including the granularity of the retail loan book against legacy asset-quality issues in the wholesale segment, leveraging of technology to achieve scale, changing consumption patterns and alleviation of income-related risks after the pandemic. The RBI’s risk weight hike on unsecured loans in second half of Fiscal 2024 slowed personal loan growth, but the subsequent reversal in Fiscal 2025 has enabled lenders to loosen liquidity and boost disbursements. The personal loan industry is poised to sustain its steady growth trajectory into fiscal 2026, with a moderate acceleration anticipated due to the income tax relief under the tax regime introduced in the Union Budget 2025-26. This relief is expected to boost retail consumption, driving the overall credit growth of the industry to a projected 14-16% in the Fiscal 2028.

Personal loans Outstanding stood at ₹15.92 trillion as of 9M Fiscal 2026

Note: P – Projected, Source: CRIF Highmark, Crisil Intelligence

This growth is likely to be driven by healthy momentum in banks supported by their higher customer base in tier-1 cities. Parallely, NBFCs also continue to display aggressive growth in their personal loans book. NBFCs build their retail book through lower-ticket-size personal loans and focus on growth in tier-1 cities who are not served by banks, low salaried employees with good RTR, tier-2 and beyond cities. Banks focus on the salaried middle-age group borrowers and have a higher share in tier-1 cities as compared with NBFCs.

Ticket size <₹1-5 lakhs (NBFCs) witnessed CAGR of 27.97% between Fiscal 2019 and Fiscal 2025

Note: Loans not classified under any ticket size have not been represented in the table but considered in the calculation of market share, Source: CRIF Highmark, Crisil Intelligence

The market share for high value ticket size (10L+) has increased overall from 8% as at March 2019 to 13% as at December 2025, which is being offset by moderation in market share of ₹1L-5L ticket size from 56% to 45% for the same time period. However, for ticket size of ₹1L-5L NBFC players still lead the market share with 45%, indicating that the target market for NBFCs has remained unchanged and shows opportunities as other lenders are moving towards a higher ticket size market.

The market share of high value ticket size has increased in Tier III and beyond from 16% in Fiscal 2021 to 35% in 9MFiscal 2026. However, the mix of ticket size ₹1L to Rs. 5L has remained one of the highest across all tiers for the same time period with higher concentration in Tier II cities. Also, for ticket size ₹1L-5L, NBFCs have shown a higher growth rate than banks exhibiting the strong presence and resilience to the external factors.

Lender-wise Market Share

The personal loans market has become highly competitive due to aggressive competition from banks and NBFCs. Banks currently dominate the market, leveraging their wide presence, large customer base, and lower interest rates to maintain their position.

While NBFCs providing higher ticket size loans charge higher rates than banks, while ensuring diligent credit underwriting to maintain customer quality, smaller NBFCs and fintech companies offer personal loans to customers with lower or no credit score, charging higher interest rates to compensate for the risk. They have introduced innovative products, such as short-tenure loans, check out financing, tie-up with card companies and pay-as-you-go financing, to stay competitive. Additionally, they cross-sell personal loans to existing customers with good repayment records, helping them remain relevant despite higher interest rates.

NBFCs have grown faster than banks in credit outstanding, leveraging their specialized focus and branch network to reach remote areas. Banks still saw healthy 19% credit growth in fiscal 2024, driven by retail demand, and benefited from a salaried customer base resulting in better asset quality while in fiscal 2025, growth slowed down to ~5%. In 9MFiscal 2026, banks moved their focus from unsecured lending, leaving behind opportunities for NBFCs to expand in this segment.

Crisil Intelligence expects NBFCs to increase their market share in the coming years, driven by their aggressive strategy and low base. NBFCs are growing faster than banks and are expected to sustain this pace, capturing market share from banks.

However, in Fiscal year 2026 and onwards, NBFCs are proactively adjusting their strategies to drive growth in their personal loans portfolio, with a focus on salaried income borrowers and a commitment to responsible lending practices. This segment offers superior asset quality compared to other borrower groups, making it an attractive target for NBFCs. Notably, the average ticket size of personal loans disbursed by lenders stood at ~ ₹63,000 as of 9M fiscal 2026. Meanwhile, banks have substantially scaled back their personal loan portfolio expansion, creating an opportunity for NBFCs to gain market share in the near term. Market share of Banks, both public and private are estimated to reduce and set off by the NBFC share.

Lender wise average ticket size

In Fiscal 2025, the average ticket size increased sharply from Fiscal 2024 for banks whereas NBFCs employed filters into their personal loan book amid a slowdown in disbursements in the second half. They focused on quality borrowers to curb the building stress on asset quality. Further, the proportion of very low and low-risk borrowers rose. As of December 2025, the average ticket size was ~₹27,007 for NBFCs and ₹6,65,818 for public sector banks compared with an overall industry average of ~₹63,103. Lenders may be adopting certain practices, such as rolling over loans and netting off new disbursements against existing dues, which the RBI has noted may not fully reflect underlying credit quality, and has therefore advised lenders to ensure that outstanding balances are fully settled before extending new credit. Meanwhile, NBFCs and Fintechs are expanding in the personal loans segment, offering small-ticket and short-tenure loans to low-income customers through alternative scorecard-lending models. NBFCs/Fintechs have been rapidly expanding their base in the personal loans segment by offering smaller-ticket and short-tenure loans to younger, low-income and digital-savvy customers with insufficient credit history through alternative scorecard-lending models.

NBFCs right to win:

NBFCs are poised to excel in the technology-driven underwriting space, driven by their agility, customer-centric approach, and ability to leverage alternative data sources. Key strengths include agility and flexibility, allowing them to adapt to changing market conditions as well as a customer-centric approach that enables personalized loan products. Lower operational costs also enable them to offer competitive interest rates and terms, while the strategic partnerships provide a level playing field and access to the latest technologies and innovations. Ability of NBFCs to form partnerships and collaborations with fintech companies and other industry players is also a significant factor. These partnerships enable them to leverage the latest technologies, such as artificial intelligence to improve their underwriting processes and customer experience. Furthermore, NBFCs are increasingly using data analytics and machine learning to drive their decision-making processes, enabling them to make more informed lending decisions and reduce the risk of defaults.

NBFC/Fintechs provide the advantage of better customer experience and shorter turnaround time (TAT) for disbursements. They focus on the scorecard-based lending model, which is based on a borrower's cash flow, primarily relying on non-conventional and alternative sources of information such as a customer's mobile phone data for underwriting loans. Algorithms track and analyse mobile phone data for specific insights on a customer's liquid cash flow and repayment history, along with spending habits. Third-party applications and databases are used for KYC authentication, credit-history checks and fraud detection. This, along with the government's focus on digitalisation through the National Financial Reporting Authority and Digi Locker has enabled quicker TATs for disbursements and lower operating costs. Risk-management processes and data analytics capabilities of NBFCs and fintechs have evolved over the years, along with underwriting norms and monitoring mechanisms.

In Fiscal 2025, given the RBI scrutiny, lenders have focussed on giving personal loans to customers with a good credit history.

Technology-led underwriting practices raise data privacy concerns, as they involve collecting and analysing vast amounts of personal and sensitive data with the use of advanced algorithms and machine learning models. This can lead to unauthorized access, misuse, or exploitation, and perpetuate biases and discrimination, resulting in unfair treatment of certain borrowers. The lack of transparency and explainability in algorithmic decisions can exacerbate these risks, causing financial harm to individuals, reputational damage to lenders, and erosion of trust in the financial system.

In context of rapid growth in unsecured lending in a rising interest rate environment, the RBI began engaging with lenders in late fiscal 2023 to discuss potential implications and encourage prudent practices in the unsecured lending segment.

In November 2023, the RBI introduced the circular on risk weights. As per the circular, the risk weights of all consumer loans for both banks and NBFCs (including credit card receivables) was increased 25%, excluding housing, vehicle, education and gold loans. In addition, the risk weight for exposure by banks to NBFCs, where the extant risk-weight of the NBFC was below 100%, was also increased by 25%. However, the recent reversal of 25% increase in risk weights taking it to existing levels is expected to boost credit growth for NBFCs.

Banks faced an ~85 bps impact on capital adequacy due to the circular, whereas the impact for key NBFCs operating in the consumer lending segment was as high as 200-400 bps. Such an increase in the cost of funds drove demand for securitisation and co-lending, accelerating capital raising by entities for managing loan-book growth, while ensuring adequate capital buffers are maintained.

Asset Quality

In past few years, high inflation, coupled with stagnant income, deterred borrower's repayment capability. Moreover, the rise in personal loans was also driven by overleveraging borrowers in addition to tapping new customers. This overleveraging augmented asset-quality vulnerability. Further, any macroeconomic event, impacting the income levels of households, would lead to a sharp increase in GNPA (90+ DPD) across lenders and would continue to be a key monitorable. That said, the granularity of loans provides some comfort.

Public Sector banks had the lowest GNPA (90+ DPD) ratios among major lender groups at 1.7% as of 9M fiscal 2026. Private sector banks had the second-best asset quality at 3.8% as of 9M fiscal 2026. NBFC's GNPA (90+ DPD) although moderated in 9M fiscal 2026 at 9.6% from 10.0% in fiscal 2024, still stands high.

Ticket size of ₹1L-5L is performing better than lower ticket size up to ₹1L. The higher GNPA (90+ DPD) as compared to high value ticket sizes are compensated by higher ROIs charged by NBFCs along with processing fees by certain lenders.

Furthermore, at 90+ POS at MOB 12 for the loans disbursed in Q3FY25, InCred's delinquency rate stood at 1.76%, while the industry average was 4.26% for the same period.

Key Growth Drivers

Changing lifestyles and spending habits

Favorable consumer demographics, rising incomes, and higher aspirations, coupled with increasing comfort in availing loans to meet funding needs augur well for the personal loans market. This has been one of the prominent factors in personal loans growth. With the rise in disposable incomes and favorable consumer demographics, this trend is expected to continue going forward.

Reduction in turnaround time (TAT)

Customer preference for financial institutions is driven by TAT. Tech-savvy salaried individuals prefer digital interfaces for quick and paperless experiences. The advanced technologies enable instant loan approvals, but disbursements may take 2-3 days for necessary checks. NBFCs offer faster TAT compared to banks.

Increasing usage of non-traditional data in credit decision-making, enhancing the comfort level of lenders

Digital lending has significantly reduced the document collection time, streamlining the entire lending process. The introduction of paperless procedures in India has revolutionized loan applications. Credit assessments can now be conducted without the need for physical documentation. Moreover, there is a growing trend of utilizing alternative data, such as mobile phone usage, payment behavior, and social interactions, for credit decision-making.

NBFCs and fintechs are at the forefront of leveraging mobile phone data as a valuable source of customer information. This data provides valuable insights into customer location, travel habits, income and expenditure patterns, available cash flow, and repayment history.

Customised offerings

NBFCs offer customised personal loans to cater to individual needs. These loans can be customised to fit individual financial situations, including income, expenses, and credit history. With customised personal loans, borrowers can enjoy competitive interest rates and repayment terms that suit their needs.

Threats and challenges

Unsecured nature of loans may lead to asset quality concerns

Personal loans, being unsecured, pose significant risk for lenders with high default rates, leading to difficulties in loan recovery and elevated NPAs. This impacts lenders' profitability, necessitating caution for non-bank lenders due to elevated GNPA's (90+ DPD). With rapid growth in unsecured loans, lenders must be careful in approving loans for weaker credit profiles to avoid deteriorating asset quality. Additionally, inflation and stagnant income levels may hinder borrowers' repayment capacity.

RBI increases risk weight on assets for unsecured lending – encompassing personal loans and credit card loans

The RBI has increased the risk weight for unsecured consumer loans to 125%, aiming to moderate growth in consumer credit and monitor NBFCs' reliance on bank borrowings. This adjustment will significantly affect banks, NBFCs, and FinTech companies. While banks are well-capitalized and may not see a material impact on their Capital Adequacy Ratio (CAR), they could potentially raise lending rates for personal loans and experience a slight impact on loan growth. Fintech players are urged to enhance underwriting models, which could result in increased operating expenses, reduced loan origination in unsecured personal loans segments, and the need to raise capital to maintain CAR levels. RBI has restored the risk weights on bank loans to NBFCs to 100% from 125%, effective from April 1, 2025.

The exuberant growth and entailing risks

The surge in demand for personal loans is fuelled by factors such as easy borrowing, innovative products like travel now, pay later (TNPL), and no-cost EMIs, as well as increasing lifestyle expenses. Enhanced underwriting capabilities of banks, NBFCs, and fintechs, driven by improved access to information and technology, have been key growth enablers for personal loans. However, the absence of collateral makes personal loans inherently risky for lenders, impacting their ability to recover funds in case of borrower default. The rise in personal loans is also attributed to borrowers overleveraging and targeting new customer segments, further increasing asset quality risks.

RBI regulations impacting personal loans:

RBI follows up with the circular on risk weights after striking a cautious note: In November 2023, the RBI introduced the circular on risk weights as a deterrent to the growth of unsecured loans. As per the circular, the risk weights of all consumer loans for both banks and NBFCs (including credit card receivables) was increased 25%, excluding housing, vehicle, education and gold loans. In addition, the risk weight for exposure by banks to NBFCs, where the extant risk-weight of the NBFC was below 100%, was also increased by 25%. However, in February 2025 RBI has again issued notification, pursuant to which (i) RBI reduced the risk weight for microfinance loans in the nature of consumer credit from 125% to 100%; and (ii) the risk weights for bank loans to NBFCs rated A and above were reduced by 25 percentage points in cases where the extant risk weight as per external rating of NBFCs was below 100%, thereby reversing the increase in risk weightage in terms of the NBFC Notification. The revised risk weight provisions notification shall be operational from 1 April 2025.

Overview of Student Loan Industry

In India, the overall education market in calendar year 2025 is estimated at ~₹ 20.0-21.0 trillion, which includes both the overseas education market and the domestic education market. The overseas education market involves students pursuing education in a foreign country, while the domestic education market comprises education within one's own country.

The Overseas education market (expenditure incurred by students going abroad) in India has been experiencing significant growth in recent years and is estimated to reach ₹4.5 trillion in CY2025. The growth in this market can be attributed to an increasing number of Indian students seeking international exposure, high-quality education, and the rising cost of attendance. The overseas education market is projected to grow at a ~14.3% CAGR to reach ₹7.7 trillion by end of CY2029.

Overview of Overseas Education Market in India

India has long been a significant contributor of international students, with a rising number of Indian students opting for higher education abroad. The surge in Indian students going abroad for studies is fuelled by the growing aspirations of students for education in foreign universities, alongside the increasing trend of Indian students choosing to study abroad for a better lifestyle and earning capability.

The recent change in visa regulations imposed by both the US and Canadian government, restricting inflow of foreign nationals (including professionals and students), is expected to have an impact of Indian student offtake in the US and Canada. Given that these two are the largest markets in terms of offtake of Indian students, these restrictions can act as a headwind to student loan offtake. However, increase preference for destinations such as Australia are compensating to an extent for lower student offtake to US and Canada.

According to the Ministry of External Affairs, Government of India, over 1.9 million Indian students were pursuing studies overseas as on January 2025. The top 15 destinations for Indian students during the past five years were the US, Canada, the UK, the UAE, Australia, Germany, Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, Qatar, Oman, Singapore, Bahrain, the Russian Federation, Ireland and Kyrgyzstan. These 15 countries together account for 90.5% of the total Indian students abroad as on January 01, 2025.

Crisil expects the number of students going to overseas countries for education will increasingly explore alternative locations such as Germany, France, Spain, Italy, Ireland, and New Zealand between calendar years 2025 and 2029, driven by advantages like favourable policies and increasing acceptance of Indian students. Moreover, increasingly stricter student visa regulations across US and Canada along with reduced international student intake and higher funds requirement is expected to make alternative locations favourable.

Growth drivers for overseas education market

Crisil expects the number of Indian students studying abroad to increase due to factors such as the expanding student population in India, rising competition, limited prestigious university seats locally, and a rising preference among students for global exposure, higher salary, and emigration for a better quality of life. Additional factors include, rising awareness among Indian students and parents about the benefits of studying abroad, rising disposable incomes, and the proliferation of English-language institutions in non-English-speaking countries are also contributing to the growth of overseas education market. Below are the factors, which will continue to drive the prospects of the overseas education market in India:

- Better quality of education: Foreign universities ensure a higher standard of teaching, innovative methods of imparting knowledge, diversified courses, and various exchange programs. They also lay emphasis on practical and experiential learning which enable students to apply their knowledge in real-life situations.
- Better career opportunities: Studying abroad can enhance career prospects by providing access to a wider range of industries, networks, and job opportunities. Students view international experience as an asset in the global job market.
- Visa policies and immigration: Favourable visa policies, including post-study work opportunities and permanent residency encourage Indian students to choose certain countries for their higher education.
- Rising globalisation: As the world becomes increasingly interconnected, there is a growing recognition of the value of international exposure and education. Indian students now seek to broaden their horizons via overseas education.
- Availability of overseas-education financing: India's population is largely comprised of low- and middle-income families who find it difficult to pursue overseas education due to shortage of funds. Further, tuition fees for international students are significantly higher than domestic students, hence there is a huge dependency on availability of financing options for funding their overseas spends. NBFCs play a crucial role in expanding access to overseas education loans, especially for students who may not meet traditional bank criteria. They offer flexible collateral free loans, faster processing and customised repayment options tailored to student profiles and helps in driving the overseas education loan market.
- Growing popularity of international board schools in India: The growing popularity of international education through International Baccalaureate/International General Certificate of Secondary Education schools offering globally recognised curricula, serve as a funnel for students preferring an international educational experience.
- Quality of Infrastructure: In India, not a large number of Universities in India have access to high quality Infrastructure & cutting-edge technology, which act as a driver for students to go abroad.
- Research opportunities: Pursuing research opportunities and aspiration to work with some advanced technology drive students to seek admissions in STEM (science, technology, engineering, and mathematics) courses abroad which have higher employment opportunities and job security than other courses.
- Parental aspirations: Many Indian parents prioritise their children's education and are willing to invest in sending them abroad for better academic and career prospects.
- Information accessibility: Increased access to information through the internet, social media and education consultants have enabled students to explore overseas education options and make informed decisions. Further, the large Indian diaspora in several countries ensures convenience and ease of settling abroad for Indian students.

In addition, the acceptance of Indian students in overseas markets is a multifaceted phenomenon driven by mutual benefits for both the students and the host countries. Some of the drivers are as follows:

- Ageing of local population: Countries facing challenges with ageing local populations leads to a smaller workforce and a lower number of domestic students entering higher education. International students from countries such as India help fill this gap thereby supporting the local economy
- Enrolment saturation in local country: Enrolments in higher education universities in several countries are either stagnant or declining due to various factors, including demographic changes. International students provide a crucial source of enrolment, helping maintain and enhance the vitality and diversity of educational institutions
- Talent shortage: Many sectors globally are experiencing a shortage of skilled talent in areas such as IT, engineering, healthcare, and research. Indian students, who often pursue degrees in these fields, are highly sought-after to fill these gaps. Their academic and professional contributions help drive innovation and growth in the host countries.

- Diversity of students is an important parameter for overseas Universities, abroad and therefore they are looking to increase proportion of international students while they are composing their class/ batch profile.
- Fees paid by international students is a major source of revenue for those educational institutions. The students also contribute to the economy of the countries by spending on accommodation, food, transportation, and consumer goods.

Lower gross enrolment ratio provides opportunity for growth and expansion

The United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organisation (UNESCO) defines gross enrolment ratio (GER) as the total enrolment in a specific level of education, regardless of age, expressed as a percentage of the eligible official school-age population corresponding to the same level of education in a given school year. A GER below 100 means a gap in access to education, whereas a GER above 100 means inclusion of over-aged or under-aged students and grade repetition. As per the World Bank, India has a low GER compared with Australia, the US, Canada, the UK, China, and South Africa. At the tertiary education level, India has a lower GER than most of the countries. This implies reduced participation of the Indian population in pursuing education compared with other countries.

Limited impact of macro events on visa issuances to Indian students

Further, historical trends suggest that visa issuances and immigration of Indian students have remained unaffected even during peak geopolitical uncertainties, elections, change in government and the Covid-19 pandemic. The Immigration Indices and Visa Issuance Trends provided below for US, UK and Canada reveals trends in visa issuance and immigration of Indian students in respective countries since January 2019. The trends in these countries show that visa issuance and immigration of Indian students remained unaffected by covid-19 pandemic, geo-political tensions such as US-China Trade War, the Russian invasion of Ukraine, the Israel-Hamas conflict and tightening of trade tariffs by US, etc., and elections. As of calendar year 2024, Indians were the third largest nationals after Great Britain and Brazil, securing 1631 O-1 Visas.

Average cost of education for students studying abroad

The average cost of education for studying abroad can vary significantly depending on the country, level of study, institution, duration of the programme and typically includes tuition fees, living expenses, accommodation, travel costs, insurance, and other miscellaneous expenses. For example, studying in the US can range from $27,000 to $70,000 per year for tuition fees alone, not including living expenses. In countries such as Germany and Norway, public universities may offer tuition-free education for international students, but students still need to spend on living expenses. The table below shows the average tuition fee and cost of attendance (which includes tuition fee, room, boarding, meals, and other expenses borne by students) in the top 15 countries pursued by Indians.

Many students who pursue overseas education often face significant financial challenges, including tuition fees, living expenses, and other costs associated with studying abroad. To help mitigate these expenses, a large number of students take on part-time or side jobs to supplement their finances. The average hourly salaries for part-time workers vary across different countries. In the United Kingdom (UK), part-time workers can expect to earn an average hourly salary of £8-12, which is approximately $10-$15 USD. In contrast, part-time workers in the United States (US) earn an average hourly salary of $10-$15. Australia offers average hourly salary of AU$18-25, which is approximately $12-$18 USD. Meanwhile, in Canada, part-time workers can expect to earn an average hourly salary of CAD 12-18, which is approximately $9-$14 USD. They can explore a variety of part-time job opportunities, including roles such as food service staff, retail sales associates, laboratory assistants, research assistants, data entry clerks, customer service representatives, and tutors. These part-time jobs are available across multiple industries, including retail, hospitality, healthcare, education, and administrative services, providing students with flexible and diverse employment options to help fund their studies abroad.

Addressable market (cumulative spending on overseas education) for financiers between CY2026 and CY2029 estimated at ₹25-28 trillion

Basis cumulative spending of students, Crisil Intelligence estimates the addressable market, which is the potential available for a lender focused on providing education loans to students going abroad, to be ₹25-28 trillion between 2026 and 2029. The overseas education expenditure is currently estimated at approximately ₹4.5 trillion annually in 2025 and projected to log a CAGR of ~14.3% to reach ₹7.0-8.0 trillion by 2029. This market is expected to be driven by the increase in the number of students opting for education abroad and the rising cost of attendance. In the past, Universities have systematically raised course fees for international students above the rate of inflation.

The rising cost of education and limited university scholarships have created a surge in demand for educational loans. Financing has become crucial for Indian students to pursue overseas education, given the significant disparity between education costs and average income levels. To bridge this gap, education loans, scholarships, and other financial products have emerged as essential solutions, enabling students from diverse backgrounds to access higher education and manage financial requirements over time, while also offering tax benefits.

Going forward, Crisil Intelligence projects the average annual tuition fee to grow at 5.0-6.0% (including currency depreciation) between 2025 and 2029, while non-education expenses (room, boarding, meals and other expenses) are estimated to surge ~5% (including currency depreciation) during the same period.

Profile of students and households opting for overseas education

Students and households interested in overseas education tend to be motivated by a desire for academic excellence, cultural exposure, career opportunities and personal growth. They often possess the necessary academic qualifications, language proficiency, finance, and family support to pursue overseas education. A general profile of such students and households:

- Middle class: Students from these households typically prefer STEM courses owing to higher employability and often rely on scholarships, financial aid, or education loans from commercial banks/NBFCs in India to fund their studies overseas. On the lines of student loan programmes in various countries, the education loans offer low interest rates and defer repayment until securing employment after the completion of the course.
- Upper middle class and the affluent: This group is more inclined towards funding its overseas education either fully or partially to induce financial discipline, set up financial goals, build credit score, obtain tax benefits, and reduce pressure on savings. These set of people are also open to explore courses beyond STEM and business disciplines and are also open to emerging educational destinations such as Germany for engineering, Ireland for technology programmes and other European (notably Italy and France) and Asian countries (such as Japan and Korea). However, the cost of non-STEM education has risen significantly over the years, making it challenging for students to afford without financial aid. With limited scholarships and grants available, students often rely on loans, leading to a growing dependence on education loans, even among affluent families, to fund courses in non-STEM disciplines resulting in growing dependence on debt.

Sources of funding for overseas education

The sources of funding can vary in availability and accessibility depending on individual circumstances, academic achievements, and the chosen destination for education.

Below are some of the common sources of funding explored by students for pursuing education abroad:

- Personal savings and family support: Families may save up over the years to fund their children's education abroad from their regular income, investments, or dedicated education funds. Some students receive financial support from their families, relatives, or sponsors to pursue education abroad.
- Government sponsorship/ scholarships and grants/ employer sponsorship: Students may apply for scholarships and grants offered by foreign universities, governments, non-profit organisations, and private institutions, to offset tuition expenses. In certain cases, government-sponsored programmes or employer scholarships may be available to support students pursuing higher education abroad, particularly in fields deemed critical or strategic.

- Education loans: Many students, to cover tuition fees, living expenses and other related costs, opt for collateral and non-collateral-based education loans from banks or financial institutions. In the former, financiers typically accept property as collateral, while in the latter, underwriting is mainly based on the student's academic profile, parents' income, university, and the student's prospect of placements/ earning potential. These loans often have favourable terms and repayment options. Crisil estimates 14-15% of students who pursue overseas education use such financing and going forward, Crisil projects, such penetration in the overseas education market to increase to ~17.0-19.0% by the end of 2029.

Changes in Policies

In USA, share of visa issuance to Indian students increased rapidly, from 7.6% in 2018 to 13% in 2024 owing to rise in number of F1 visas issued to Indian students for pursuing academic studies, J1 visas for practical training and M1 visas for vocational studies. The O-1 visa is gaining popularity across various industries in the US for individuals demonstrating extraordinary ability. While primarily for professionals, not students, its regional appeal is high in tech hubs like Silicon Valley and cultural centres like New York city. Indian professionals are increasingly securing O-1 visas, showcasing exceptional talents in STEM, arts, cybersecurity and business fields, their propensity to gain these visas stem from strong academic backgrounds, significant professional achievement, and innovative contribution in their respective domains. A significant increase in the number of Indian students traveling to the US for education was observed in CY2022 and CY2023. This surge was driven by the accumulation of deferred plans from previous years, which were put on hold due to COVID-19-related challenges, including travel restrictions, delayed visa processing, and uncertainty surrounding in-person classes. The number of visas issued to Indian students for studying in the US grew from 56,000 to 89,000, reflecting a robust CAGR of 10% between CY19 and CY24.

The US issued approximately 89,000 visas to Indian students in CY24, a significant decline from the 139,000 visas issued in CY23. This drop is attributed to several factors including administrative delays, increased scrutiny of applicants, including social media checks, and temporary suspensions of new interview appointments, amid the Trump administration's stricter policies and visa processing challenges like ongoing freeze in visa appointment slots and sudden spike in visa rejection rates.

However, recent developments in US like, the introduction of a $250 visa integrity fee from July 2025, will increase the financial burden on Indian students. Stricter visa scrutiny, including social media vetting, has led to delays and rejections. There is also a proposal to limit student visas to fixed periods instead of the traditional “duration of status” which could force students to re-apply for extensions during their studies to maintain legal status. As a result, between October 2024 to September 2025, the F1 visas issued to Indian students fell to 14,697 from 25,990 visas as compared to same period last year, indicating a decline of 43.5%.

Change in policies:

The Canadian government has introduced regulatory restrictions since mid-2023 to improve the quality of international students and address the housing crisis in metropolitan cities. The measures include a proposed 35% reduction in international student visa grants by Calendar Year 2026, which is expected to primarily affect diploma students, especially those studying at public-private partnership (PPP) universities. Other changes include the discontinuation of the Student Direct Stream (SDS) program in November 2024, which expedited study permits for students from 14 countries, to promote equal access for all applicants resulting in longer visa processing times. The Canadian government has also introduced measures to support master's and doctoral students, reserving approximately 12% of study permit allocations for them, recognizing their contributions to the labour market.

Change in Policies

The United Kingdom has emerged as a prominent destination for Indian students, offering a robust university ecosystem with a wide range of undergraduate and postgraduate programs in both STEM and non-STEM fields. Between CY19 and CY25, the number of visas issued to Indian students by the UK witnessed significant growth, increasing from 26,000 to 95,244, with CAGR of 24%. The growth can be attributed to several factors, including the availability of post-study work visas, strong employment prospects, and the relatively affordable cost of PG courses.

The UK implemented new visa regulations in 2023, aimed at enhancing the quality of incoming international students. The regulations restrict the issuance of dependent visas for students, allowing international students to bring dependents only if they are pursuing PG at a specific level. As a result, the number of visas issued to Indian students in the UK decreased significantly, dropping from 124,000 in Calendar Year 2023 to 89,000 in Calendar Year 2024. This decline is a direct consequence of the new rules, which have limited the ability of international students to bring their families with them to the UK.

While USA has long been a preferred destination for Indian students; Other countries are gaining ground

According to an Open Doors report, the number of Indian students studying in the US increased 35% to an all-time high of 331,602 in calendar year 2024, accounting for 25.4% of total students visiting the US for education. Despite the steep cost of education, appeal of the US as a preferred destination for Indian student continued due to its strong reputation for STEM courses and well-funded research.

The trend of Indian students opting for overseas education is undergoing a significant shift, with countries like Germany, France, UAE, New Zealand, Singapore, and Ireland emerging as attractive destinations. These countries are drawing Indian students with their competitive education standards, welcoming immigration policies, and post-study work opportunities.

The appeal of these emerging hubs lies in their ability to offer Indian students a broader range of options for pursuing higher education. With advantages such as financial incentives, global recognition of degrees, and access to research opportunities, these countries are becoming viable alternatives to traditional destinations. Indian students are now opting to study in these emerging countries, taking advantage of the unique blend of academic and professional opportunities. This shift is driven by the desire for a more diverse and affordable international education experience, with the potential for long-term career benefits and global recognition.

Germany has emerged as a highly sought-after destination for Indian students pursuing higher education abroad. Indian students constitute the largest group of international students in Germany, with a significant number of approximately 49,008 enrolled in the country as of 2024. This surpasses the enrolment numbers from other countries, with China ranking second at 38,687 students and Turkey third at 18,084 students, as per the Germany International Student Statistics for 2025. Germany is gaining popularity for its engineering and technology programs, which are often offered at public universities with lesser tuition fees. The country's high quality of education and low tuition fees are its main draw for Indian students, with 17 German universities ranked in the Top 500 tier of the QS 2025 World University rankings.

France, another popular destination, boasts the same number of highly ranked universities and has set a goal of welcoming 30,000 Indian students by 2030. It has issued long-stay visas to Indians, with 52.8% being student visas, and saw an 11.1% increase in total visa issuances in CY24 indicating a rising interest in France as a destination for Indian students and other long-stays according to the France Ministry.

The UAE is also becoming a hub for international education, with universities from the UK, USA, and Australia establishing campuses there. It is experiencing a significant surge in international student applications particularly from those who are reevaluating their plans to study in the US due to visa uncertainties. UAE universities are introducing attractive initiatives, including scholarships, streamlined visa processes, and global transfer options, to draw in international students and establish the UAE as a premier global education hub.

Ireland: Ireland's higher education sector has seen a strong post-pandemic recovery, driven by rising demand from international students, particularly from India. Indian students now make up the largest international group, growing 50% in CY24, while American and Chinese students saw a 10% increase. Student flows from India to Ireland have nearly doubled since pre-pandemic levels, with an 80% growth between CY20 and CY24.

New Zealand: New Zealand, meanwhile, is attracting Indian students with its high quality of life, lively student communities, ample job opportunities, and strong support systems, including numerous scholarships such as the New Zealand Excellence Awards. New Zealand approved 13,447 Indian student visas in July 2024 to July 2025 period, significantly higher than 5,235 visas approved in July 2021 to July 2022 period. The country's appeal to Indian students can be attributed to its English-speaking environment, post-study work policies, affordable education, streamlined visa processes and strong ties with Indian institutions, making it a popular alternative for the Indian students seeking international education.

Russia, too, remains a popular choice for Indian students, particularly for its medical, engineering, and aviation programs. According to Indian government data, the number of Indian students is rising in these destinations, indicating a growing awareness and openness among Indian students to explore new horizons for their academic pursuits, beyond the traditional destinations like US, UK, and Canada.

Overview of the Overall Overseas Education Loans Market in India

Growth in overall education loans accelerated with increased demand for higher education and overseas education

Higher education has been gaining importance in India over the years with a visible increase in students opting for courses - both at home and overseas - and with it, an explosion in demand for student loans. This offers a huge opportunity to the domestic education loan industry, as recent trends bear out. The education loan market in India witnessed tepid growth at 8% and 4% on-year in Fiscal 2020 and 2021, respectively, because of the Covid-19-induced lockdowns worldwide. The easing of restrictions in the second half of fiscal 2022 led to double-digit credit growth of 12% on a lower base. In fiscal 2023, the outstanding loan portfolio grew at a robust 23%, driven by a significant jump in NBFC credit, coupled with meaningful growth in banks. Growth momentum continued in fiscal 2024 as the overall educational loan portfolio reached ₹2,165 billion in fiscal 2025 from ₹1,717 billion in fiscal 2024, recording a strong on-year growth of 26%. Healthy momentum is expected to continue in the coming fiscals as well. Expansion in education loans in fiscals 2023 and 2024 can be attributed to factors, such as opening of overseas borders for on-campus education, increase in applications for higher education, strong demand from tier 1 and 2 cities and pent-up post-pandemic demand. With a steep rise in spending on education and more students opting for overseas education, the education loan market has expanded.

Overall education loan portfolio witnessed robust growth between fiscals 2022 and 2025

Opening of overseas borders for on-campus education and rising cost of education in foreign universities have led to exponential growth in overseas-education loans in India. Overseas-education loan portfolio grew at a 34.5% CAGR between Fiscal 2022 and Fiscal 2025 to reach ₹1,247 billion despite a slump during the pandemic. Crisil Intelligence expects growth momentum of overseas-education loans to continue going forward. Between calendar years 2023 and 2029, average tuition cost and average cost of non-education spending is estimated to log a CAGR 5-6% (including currency depreciation). In turn, the overseas-education loan portfolio is expected clock a 25-27% CAGR during the period.

Education Loans focused NBFCs have a differentiated distribution approach with a higher degree of reliance on education counsellors, DSAs, and digital channels as compared to a physical branch network which is predominantly required for other traditional loans such as mortgages, MSMEs and LAP. On the other hand, banks also leverage education counsellors, DSAs, and digital channels for sourcing students, however the reliance on branches to acquire customers is relatively higher for banks.

Further, in terms of product, banks typically prefer collateral-based loans, whereas NBFCs disburse non-collateral-based loans for overseas education.

Some of the other factors that have enabled NBFCs to grow in the market are:

- Customised loan products: NBFCs often offer specialised loan products tailored specifically for funding education abroad. These products may include features such as higher loan amounts, lower collateral requirements and more flexible repayment terms catering to the unique needs of students studying overseas.
- Faster processing and quick TAT: NBFCs often have streamlined processes and quicker TAT for loan approval and disbursement compared to banks. This agility can be beneficial for students who need timely financing to secure admission and meet visa requirements.
- Specialised underwriting: NBFCs have customised loan options available based on future income assessment of students, unlike banks, making it easier for students with limited credit history or unconventional financial backgrounds to qualify for the loans. Further, education loan focused NBFCs on account of their niche focus have exhibited better underwriting capabilities as compared to Banks, which is witnessed in their asset quality as well. Their specialized focus allows for a deeper understanding of the education loan market, enabling more accurate credit risk assessments and informed lending decisions. This targeted approach has led to improved asset quality, characterized by lower non-performing assets and higher loan recovery rates.
- Personalised customer service: NBFCs typically offer more personalised customer service compared to large banks, providing dedicated support and guidance throughout the loan application and repayment process. This level of attention can be particularly valuable for students and their families navigating the complexities of international education financing.
- Innovative financing options: NBFCs are known for their innovation in financial products and services. They may offer innovative financing options such as co-financing arrangements, providing alternative solutions for students seeking funding for their education abroad.
- Streamlined documentation process: NBFCs provide a more simplified loan application process for students, requiring minimal documentation and paperwork compared to traditional banks. By adhering to all regulatory requirements, NBFCs can streamline the process, thereby reducing the administrative burden on students and their families, and facilitating easier access to funds.
- Value-added services: NBFCs facilitate various value-added services through their partners, such as visa approvals, counselling, pre-sanction loan for students wanting to study abroad, financing the cost of living, and other costs such as that of books and laptops
- Differentiated distribution approach: Distribution approach of NBFCs in education loans lays more emphasis on non-physical touchpoints such as education counsellors, DSAs, and digital channels than the physical branch network.

Role of education counsellors in overseas education

Education consultants and counsellors serve as trusted advisors and advocates for students pursuing overseas education and help them navigate the complexities of studying abroad to achieve their academic and personal goals. Their roles comprise:

- Providing information and advice: Counsellors provide information to students about various study options abroad, including universities, courses, and countries, in addition to advice on academic requirements, application procedures, visa regulations and cultural considerations based on students' interest and financial profile.
- Student assessment and matching: Counsellors assess students' academic backgrounds, interests, and career goals to help them choose the most suitable study programme and institution. They align students with universities that will help them with their aspirations and capabilities.
- Application assistance: Counsellors assist students throughout the application process, from filling out forms to preparing supporting documents and writing personal statements. They offer guidance on how to meet application deadlines and fulfil admission requirements.
- Financial planning: Counsellors help students understand the cost of studying abroad and explore available funding options, such as scholarships, grants, and education loans. They advise them on obtaining the necessary financial documents required for visa applications.
- Visa and immigration support: Counsellors guide students through the visa application process, explaining the requirements, procedures, and documentation. They help with accurate completion of visa applications and preparation for visa interviews as well.

- Pre-departure preparation: Counsellors help students prepare to live in a new country by providing information about its culture, customs, and lifestyle. They offer guidance on accommodation options, travel arrangements, health insurance and other practical matters.
- Emotional support: Counsellors provide emotional support to students who may experience anxiety or stress, reassure them by addressing their concerns, answering questions, and motivating them throughout the transition process.

Applicant evaluation by NBFCs for overseas education loans

NBFCs play a significant role in the overseas education loan category in India, providing alternative funding options to students seeking higher education abroad. They follow a comprehensive underwriting process to assess the creditworthiness of applicants and mitigate risks associated with financing education abroad by assessing:

- Applicant's profile: NBFCs evaluate the applicant's academic background, including transcripts, standardised test scores, such as GRE, GMAT, TOEFL, or IELTS, and admission status to a recognised institution abroad.
- Applicant's financial stability: NBFCs assess the financial stability of the applicant and their co-borrowers or guarantors (if applicable). This includes evaluating income sources, assets, liabilities, and credit history to determine the borrower's ability to repay the loan. The NBFCs also assess the future income potential of the student based on the university and the course selection which aids in better underwriting and credit quality.
- Course and institution selection: NBFCs may have specific eligibility criteria regarding the course and institution selected by the applicant. They may prioritise financing for courses and institutions with a strong track record of employment outcomes and academic reputation.
- Loan amount and terms: NBFCs determine the loan amount based on the cost of education, including tuition fees, living expenses, travel costs and other related expenses. They also establish the loan terms, including interest rates, repayment period and any collateral requirements.
- Risk mitigation measures: Depending on the borrower's profile and the loan amount, NBFCs may require a collateral or co-signers in few cases as risk mitigation measures. Collateral could include tangible assets such as property, fixed deposits, or liquid securities.
- Digital tools and solutions: NBFCs utilize advanced technologies, including Machine Learning (ML) algorithms, Artificial Intelligence (AI), data analytics, and digital verification, to assess student profiles for education loan eligibility. These technologies enable informed decisions on loan terms by analysing large datasets to predict repayment likelihood, considering factors such as academic performance and credit history. AI and ML analyse digital footprints, including social media and online behaviour, to evaluate creditworthiness. Data analytics identifies trends and patterns, while digital verification technologies like e-KYC streamline the verification process, reducing the need for physical documentation and enhancing the overall loan evaluation process.
- Documentation and legal compliance: NBFCs ensure that all necessary documentation, including application forms, KYC documents, income proof, academic transcripts, admission letters and loan agreements, are completed accurately and in compliance with regulatory requirements.
- Loan disbursement and monitoring: Upon approval, NBFCs disburse the loan amount directly to the educational institution or the borrower as per the agreed terms. They may also have mechanisms in place to monitor the progress of the borrower's studies and ensure timely repayment. They can utilize various tools to monitor student performance, including Learning Management Systems and Academic Analytics Tools. These platforms enable real-time tracking of students' academic progress and performance, allowing for the identification of trends and patterns. Additionally, AI-powered chatbots can engage with students, provide personalized feedback, and facilitate early intervention. By leveraging these tools, NBFCs can effectively monitor student performance, detect early warning, and offer targeted support to ensure academic success.

Threats & Challenges for Financiers in the Overseas Education loan market:

Financiers in the overseas education loan market face several risks, which typically include the following:

- Student Mobility: Stringent Visa norms can restrict the number of students who travel abroad for education, thereby affecting the demand for overseas loans.
- Regulatory Risk: Changes in regulations in either the home country or the host country can create an uncertainty and affect future planning for both students and financiers. For instance, changes in post-study work policies can impact the student's ability to repay loans.

- Currency Risk: Exchange rate fluctuations can affect the value of repayments, especially if loans are disbursed in one currency and repayments are made in another.
- Economic Risk: Economic downturns in the country of education can affect both the borrowers' ability to find employment and repay loans, and the financier's ability to collect loans.

Asset quality of overseas education loans steady

Despite high growth of overseas education loans, the asset quality in this asset class has remained benign so far, with low level of NPAs on account of the protective structural features underpinning these loans. Adequate risk classification of foreign universities (institute- and course-wise) and structured loan repayment terms have helped lenders to control NPAs.

For NBFCs, inherent structural features of the business model include compulsory co-borrower (a parent in most cases), focus on science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) courses that have better track record of employability, and structured repayment terms, with loans typically moving to full equated monthly instalment towards the end of the course and coinciding with job placement. These have supported the asset quality of the education loan portfolio of NBFCs so far, with the GNPA (90+ DPD) below 0.5% even during the peak of the pandemic.

Borrower risk profile suggests lower probability of default in overseas education loans

In overseas education, the employment opportunity/placement of students is relatively better, which bolsters the economic profile of the student and, hence, the ability to repay the loan.

Crisil Intelligence estimates that a student typically earns ₹0.8-1.0 million per annum after completing a graduate programme in India. However, upon completion of a post graduate course overseas, the earning potential rises 3-4 times, with these students potentially earning ₹3.5-4.0 million. This has led to lower default rates among students studying abroad. Below table indicates the median wages of top three markets of the US, Canada, and the UK:

Median wages in the US, Canada, UK and Australia in CY2023

| Country   | Median wages (₹) |
|-----------|------------------|
| US        | 4.0-4.5 million  |
| Canada    | 3.5-4.0 million  |
| UK        | 2.5-3.0 million  |
| Australia | 5.0-5.5 million  |

Owing to this, lenders are keen to pursue growth in the overseas education loan category, as the borrower risk profile is better, and the probability of default is very low in this category.

Some of the factors that contribute to the relatively low default rate in overseas education financing are:

- Strong credit evaluation processes: Financial institutions and loan providers often have stringent credit evaluation processes for international students, considering factors such as co-signers, collateral, and repayment capacity, to minimise the risk of default

- Aspirational students: Overseas education loan borrowers are students aspiring to gain global exposure, higher salary and settle abroad.
- Parents/guardian are co-borrowers: Students applying for overseas education loans need a co-borrower. The eligibility criteria for even the co-borrower have been put in place by lenders, such as the co-borrower should be an earning Indian citizen, parent, or guardian of the student, and must have a bank account in India.
- Higher earning potential: Graduates from reputable international institutions often command higher salaries, making it easier for them to repay their educational loans or debts.
- Stringent admission criteria: Many overseas universities have a rigorous admission process, ensuring that students admitted are academically capable and motivated to succeed, reducing the risk of dropout or default
- Career support services: Foreign universities often provide robust career support services, including job placement assistance, internships, and networking opportunities, which increase the graduate's employability and ability to repay their loans.
- International student support: Many universities offer support services specifically tailored to international students, including financial counselling, part-time job opportunities and assistance with visa regulations, helping students effectively manage their finances.
- Customised financing options: Students going abroad have the option to customise their education loans with flexible repayment options to meet their unique financial needs. Apart from education loans, they also have access to scholarships, grants, and sponsorships, which reduces the likelihood of default due to financial constraints.

Micro Small and Medium Enterprises (MSME) Loans

Overview of MSME Sector in India

The RBI has adopted the definition of MSMEs in line with the Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises Development (MSMED) Act, 2006. This definition is based on investments in plant and machinery in the manufacturing and services sectors. To bring in more enterprises under the ambit of MSMEs and widen the definition of MSMEs considering inflation over the past few years, in June 2020, the Government revised the MSME investment limit across each category and introduced an alternate and additional criterion of turnover buckets to the definition. It further removed the difference between the definition of manufacturing based and services based MSMEs.

In June 2021, the Indian government has included retailers and wholesalers under the MSMEs definition to extend the benefits of priority sector lending to traders as well. The move is structurally positive from a long-term perspective, as it will enable entities operating in the segment to register on Government's Udyam portal, participate in government tenders and avail financing options/benefits available to the category.

In February 2025, the government increased the investment and turnover limited for classification of MSME by 2.5 and 2.0 times, respectively.

New MSME classification effective April 01, 2025

| ₹ million          | Investment |         | Turnover |         |
|--------------------|------------|---------|----------|---------|
|                    | Previous   | Revised | Previous | Revised |
| Micro enterprises  | 10         | 25      | 50       | 100     |
| Small enterprises  | 100        | 250     | 500      | 1,000   |
| Medium enterprises | 500        | 1,250   | 2,500    | 5,000   |

**The previous limits were effective from July 01, 2020*

Source: Budget documents, Crisil intelligence

This revised classification ensures better financial access, ease of doing business, and support for MSMEs to scale up without losing benefits due to a rigid classification system

As of March 31, 2022, there are approximately 70 million MSMEs in India contributing to a substantial portion of the national GDP and total workforce. The MSME sector contributes to India's socio-economic development by providing huge employment opportunities in rural and backward areas, reducing regional imbalances, and assuring equitable distribution of national wealth and income. The Government expects that MSMEs' contribution to GDP to increase from 29.2% in FY2022 to 40-50% by FY2030. As per the Economic Survey 2025-26 report, MSMEs accounted for approximately 35.4% of manufacturing, around 48.5% of exports, and 31.1% of GDP. Furthermore, with over 74 million enterprises employing over 328 million persons, the sector holds its position as the second-largest employer after agriculture.

MSME segment accounts for ~29% of Indian GDP

According to the National Sample Survey's 73rd round dated June 2016, micro segment accounted for as much as approximately 99.47% of total estimated number of MSMEs in India. Small and medium sector accounted for 0.52% and 0.01%, respectively of the total estimated MSMEs. At a region level, rural regions accounted for marginally higher share of 51% as compared to urban region. Out of 63.05 million micro MSMEs, 51% micro MSMEs are present in rural areas. MSMEs units are largely dominated by bigger states including Uttar Pradesh, Rajasthan, Tamil Nadu, Maharashtra, and Gujarat.

In terms of constitution, close to 94% of the entities in the MSME universe in India are estimated to be sole proprietorship firms, wherein a small business undertaking is run and managed by the business owner and the business, and the owner can virtually not be separated.

As of July 2024, micro enterprises accounted ~97.1% of total registered MSMEs in India. Small and medium enterprises accounted for 2.6% and 0.3%, respectively of the total registered MSMEs. Maharashtra, Tamil Nadu and Uttar Pradesh account for the highest number of registered MSMEs in the country, with Maharashtra accounting for 17%, followed by Tamil Nadu and Uttar Pradesh accounting for 10% each.

In terms of constitution, close to 94% of the entities in the MSME universe in India are estimated to be sole proprietorship firms, wherein a small business undertaking is run and managed by the business owner and the business, and the owner can virtually not be separated.

The share of MSMEs in the country's Gross Value Added (GVA) increasing from 27.3% in FY2020-21 to 29.6% in FY2021-22 and 30.1% in FY2022-23 highlights its growing role in national economic output

Behavioural shift in MSMEs

Due to various initiatives and schemes by the Government, MSMEs have witnessed a behavioural shift which is expected to help them in gaining more access to credit.

Formalization of MSMEs - Around 38% of total estimated number of MSMEs in India are registered under Udyam system

There has been a large push for formalization of MSMEs in recent years with an exponential increase in the number of MSMEs registered on the Udyam portal (similar government portals) from FY2016 to FY2025. Udyam certificate is required by MSMEs for taking benefit of any scheme of the Central government. The Udyam portal is also integrated with the Government e-Marketplace (“GeM”) and the Trade Receivables and Discounting System (“TReDS”) so that enterprises can participate in government procurement and have a mechanism for discounting their bills.

MSME Credit Gap

High risk perception and prohibitive cost of delivering services physically have constrained formal lending to MSMEs. The emerging self-employed individuals and micro, small and medium enterprise segment is largely unaddressed by lending institutions in India. The MSME sector in India faces a significant and growing credit gap. This gap, estimated at ₹58.4 trillion in 2017, is projected to have expanded to approximately ₹117.4 trillion by FY2025.

An IFC report titled Financing India’s MSMEs (November 2018) estimated the MSME credit demand at ₹69.3 trillion in Fiscal 2017, of which only approximately 16% of demand was met through formal financing and consequently, the MSME credit gap (defined as the gap between the demand for funds amongst MSMEs and the supply from formal financiers) was estimated at ₹58.4 trillion. This gap was met through informal sources including moneylenders, chit funds and personal sources from friends and relatives. The interest rate for these sources generally ranges between 30-60% per annum.

The addressable credit demand was at ₹36.7 trillion after removing demand from new MSMEs, commercially unviable MSMEs and micro MSMEs that do not seek formal financing as these types of MSMEs voluntarily go for informal source of credit on account of the process being much faster, some MSMEs are quite young with no operational track record to prove their credit worthiness to the lender and MSMEs which are estimating near term bankruptcy.

Out of the total addressable credit demand of ₹36.7 trillion in Fiscal 2017, formal source accounted for ₹10.9 trillion taking potentially addressable credit demand gap to ₹25.8 trillion (Fiscal 2017) which represented MSME credit gap that could have been addressed by Financial Institutions in the near term. The credit gap is estimated to have further widened over the last 4 years due to slower economic growth in FY20, followed by the COVID-19 pandemic in Fiscal 2021. In Fiscal 2021, the nationwide lockdown to contain the spread of the COVID-19 pandemic disrupted economic activity, hurt demand, impacted working capital needs and supply chain along with future investments and expansions. Furthermore, government schemes post the COVID-19 pandemic such as the ECLGS scheme provided relief only to MSME units with existing loans from a formal financial institution.

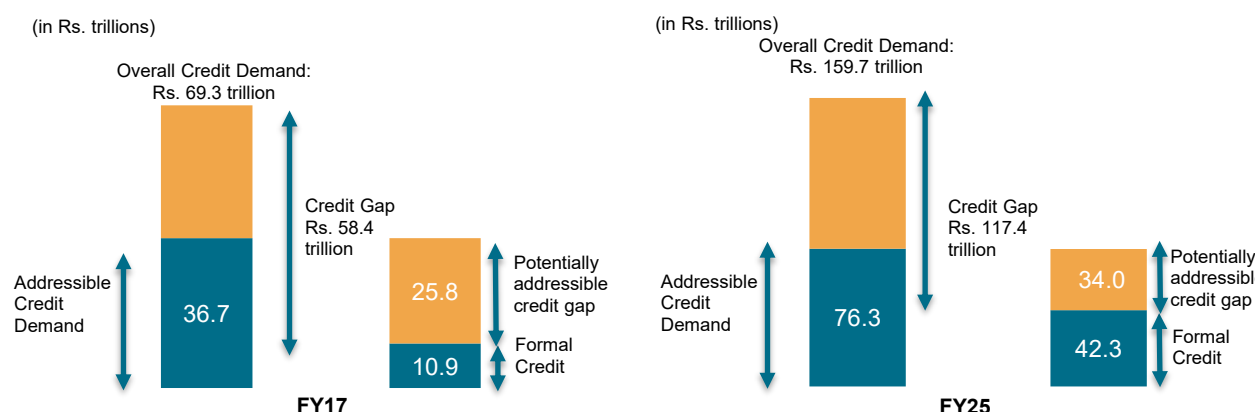

As of March 31, 2025, the estimated MSME credit demand in India was approximately ₹160 trillion, with only 26% of this demand being met through formal financing channels. Assuming an increase of around 10% annually in the demand for credit and the availability of credit from formal sources, CRISIL Intelligence estimates the credit gap to have increased to ₹117 trillion as of March 31, 2025.

Crisil Intelligence estimates that as of March 31, 2025, the total addressable credit demand was ₹76.3 trillion, while current formal financing amounted to ₹42.3 trillion leaving a potentially addressable MSME credit gap of ₹34.0 trillion to be fulfilled by financial institutions. CRISIL Intelligence expects that this increase in total addressable credit demand is attributed to factors such as greater support from bank, favourable government policies and increased lender focus on tailored products and technological advancements. Technology and use of various data sources are helping lenders analyse cash flow for NTC (New to Credit) MSME customers faster and bring many MSMEs into the formal financing network. Further, this demand is expected to grow as the Government expects MSMEs' contribution to GDP to increase in the coming years.

Despite increase in MSME loans outstanding, large credit gap still exists

The MSME sector in India faces a significant and growing credit gap. This gap, estimated at ₹58.4 trillion in Fiscal 2017, is projected to have expanded to approximately ₹117.4 trillion by Fiscal 2025.

MSME Credit Demand

Smaller enterprises relatively more starved of credit

The smaller enterprises are much more starved of institutional credit, and therefore, they primarily depend on promoter contribution for working capital and fund requirements. While the access to funding has improved in the last few years, credit remains out of bounds for large swathes of the MSME population in India.

Modes of funding for MSMEs

MSMEs need credit for various purposes including term loan for expansion of business and working capital for daily operational activities. These credit needs are being fulfilled by banks and NBFCs (including Fintech companies).

Additionally, there are several schemes by the Government and institutions like NABARD and SIDBI which are offered to MSMEs for supporting them in their businesses. Such schemes support MSMEs by facilitating collateral free loans, subsidies on term loans for setting-up and/or expanding the business, promotion of innovation, marketing assistance, technology enhancements, etc.

Banks and NBFCs offer various credit products based on the need of MSMEs. Such products include Loan against property, Supply chain financing, Inventory funding, Unsecured business loans, etc.

Overall MSME Credit Outstanding

CRISIL Intelligence estimates the total size of MSME lending market across ticket sizes and various player groups (banks, NBFCs, small finance banks, and other formal lenders) to be around ₹42 trillion as of March 31, 2025. This market size includes loans taken by MSMEs across various constitution types (sole proprietorships, partnership firms, private and public limited companies, and co-operatives) and the ticket size spectrum, and includes loans extended in the name of the firm/entity/company as well as the individuals in case of micro enterprises or entrepreneurs.

The two pandemic waves were particularly tough for the MSMEs on account of no or fewer economic activities. The pandemic led frequent lockdowns and restrictions interrupted supply chains, demand and hence profitability of the MSMEs. During FY2023, the Indian economy normalised, with industrialisation and urbanisation picking up pace. As a result, revenue increased by 20% for corporate India, while SMEs revenue grew 11%. In line with the overall growth, aggregate MSME credit grew 25% in FY2023. In FY2024, overall MSME credit grew by 30% on the back of higher credit demand from MSME's, higher focus of lenders on the asset class leading to higher disbursements.

In FY25, the credit growth in the MSME segment has moderated to 20% as compared to 29% in Fiscal 2024 given the overall market environment and regulator's view on overleveraging and asset quality concerns.

Growth drivers for MSME Credit

- Large and increasing credit gap in the MSME segment

As per estimates, less than 15% of approximately 70 million odd MSMEs have access to formal credit in any manner as of March 31, 2022. High risk perception and the prohibitive cost of delivering services physically have constrained traditional institutions' ability to provide credit to underserved or unserved MSMEs and self-employed individuals historically. As a result, they resort to credit from informal sources. This untapped market offers huge growth potential for financial institutions. As stated earlier, the credit gap was estimated at around ₹58.4 trillion as of March 31, 2017 (Source: IFC report named Financing India's MSMEs released in November 2018) and is estimated to have widened further to around ₹117.4 trillion as of March 31, 2025.

- Credit Guarantee Fund Scheme extended to cover NBFCs

One of the major reasons why MSMEs are credit-starved is the insistence by banks or financial institutions for the provision of collateral against loans. Collaterals are not easily available with such enterprises, leading to a high-risk perception and higher interest rates for these MSMEs. To address this issue, the government launched the Credit Guarantee Fund Scheme under the aegis of the Credit Guarantee Fund Trust for Micro and Small Enterprises (CGTMSE) in order to make collateral-free credit available to micro and small enterprises. In January 2017, the scheme was extended to cover systemically important NBFCs as well. CGTMSE provides credit guarantee for collateral-free loans up to ₹10 crore to eligible MSEs providing coverage of up to 85% for micro-enterprises (loans up to ₹5 lakh) and 75% for others. As of March 31, 2025, the Trust has sanctioned a cumulative guarantee coverage of ₹9.34 lakh crore, benefiting over 1.15 crore MSEs.

- Increased data availability and transparency

With increased digital initiatives by the MSMEs, the shift towards their formalisation and digitisation has created a plethora of data points for lenders that would help improve the efficacy of credit assessment and gradually enable provision of credit to hitherto underserved customer segments. This has created a digital footprint of customers, which can be potentially used for credit decision making, along with other relevant parameters such as customer demographics, business details, credit score, and personal situation of the borrower. Demonetisation and GST have further accelerated formalization of the Indian economy.

- Increasing access and faster TAT

Due to availability of multiple data points and technology solutions, the lending process involving documentation, verification and processing of the transactions has evolved and now takes much lesser time. Technology led enhancements such as use of big data analytics and social media campaigns to acquire customers, use of direct and derived variables for underwriting, automated processes, minimum documentations, Aadhar based e-KYC, Account aggregators, flexible repayment options due to simplified real-time digital payments system, have helped in reducing hassles, increasing access to credit for borrowers and faster TAT.

- Growth in branch network of players offering MSME loans

Over past few years, players offering MSME loans have expanded their branch network with the intent to serve a larger customer base. Share of borrowers from top cities in India has been on a declining trend indicating that lenders are shifting their focus on MSMEs in rural and semi urban areas. In the future also, CRISIL Intelligence expects lenders with a strong focus on MSME lending and healthy competitive positioning to continue to invest in branch expansion. With increasing branch network, customer acquisition and credit penetration, share of MSME loans is also expected to increase.

- Increasing competition with entry of new players and partnerships between them

Lenders are increasing the use of digital platforms to help automate and digitise loan sanctioning process however the borrower is required to possess documents for the initial clearance as stated by the banks. Incumbent traditional lenders will increasingly leverage the network of their partners and/or digital ecosystem to cross-sell products to existing customers, tap customers of other lenders, and cater to new-to-credit customers. This will expand the market for MSME loans.

- Robust government support

The government has special focus on the MSME sector on account of its economic contribution to the economy and number of people employed in the sector. MSMEs in India come under the purview of Government of India, Ministry of MSME, Khadi Village and Coir Industries Commission (KVIC). The government launched Udyam Assist Platform (UAP) on 11th January 2023 to enhance formalization of the economy. As of March 31, 2024, 26 million informal micro enterprises have joined UAP to come under the formal economy. Government of India has also introduced a new scheme called 'PM Vishwakarma' aiming to improve the quality of products and services of small artisans and craftsman and ensure that their companies are a part of national and global supply chain. The scheme was launched on 17th September 2023. The initial amount to be disbursed under the scheme is ₹13,000 crores for five years from FY23-24 to FY27-28.

- Relaxation in the threshold under SARFAESI Act from ₹5 million to ₹ 2 million for NBFCs

In the Union Budget 2021-22, for NBFCs with a minimum asset size of ₹1 billion, the minimum loan size eligible for debt recovery under the Securitisation and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest Act (SARFAESI) Act, 2002 was proposed to be reduced from the existing level of ₹5 million to ₹ 2 million. The objective of this move is to improve credit discipline while continuing to protect the interest of small borrowers. This relaxation is expected to facilitate recovery from stressed books, help the NBFCs to improve their ability to recover smaller loans and strengthen their overall financial health. More importantly, it acts as a deterrent to default and enhances the enforceability of collateral for players focused on the medium ticket size LAP segment with loans of ₹ 2 million – ₹5 million.

- Inclusion of retail and wholesale trade under MSME category

In July 2021, the Ministry of Micro, Small and Medium enterprises decided to include Retail and Wholesale trade as MSMEs for the purpose of Priority Sector Lending, and they would be allowed to be registered on Udyam Registration Portal. The move is structurally positive from long-term perspective, as it will enable entities operating in the segment to register on Government's Udyam portal, participate in government tenders and avail financing options/ benefits available to the category. This move will also aid in the formalization of India's retail trade and enable financial support to small and mid-sized retail businesses. By widening the scope of MSME to cover wholesale as well as retail trade, this move also creates an additional opportunity for MSME lenders to increase their penetration and business.

- Prime Minister's Employment Generation Programme (PMEGP) providing margin money to MSMEs
PMEGP is a credit linked subsidy scheme to provide employment opportunities by establishing new micro enterprises in the non-farm sector where margin money is provided to MSMEs availing loan from banks to set up new enterprises. The maximum margin money provided under the scheme for setting up a new project is ₹5 million for manufacturing sector and ₹2 million for service sector. Geo-tagging for the products and services of the units set up under this scheme has been initiated. This will help the enterprises with creating market linkages.

Other government initiatives addressing structural issues in the MSME market

Some of the other government and regulatory initiatives are detailed below:

- Stand-up India: It facilitates bank loans between ₹1 million and ₹10 million to at least one scheduled caste or scheduled tribe borrower and at least one-woman borrower per bank branch for setting up a greenfield enterprise.
- Make in India: Launched with an intention to make India a global manufacturing hub, which in turn will provide employment to numerous youths in India
- Mudra loans: To fulfil funding requirement of MSMEs who were earlier left out by financial institutions; credit guarantee support also offered to financiers.
- 59-minute loan: Online marketplace that provides in-principle approval to MSME loans up to ₹10 million in 59 minutes.
- Unified Payments Interface 2.0 (UPI 2.0): Real-time system for seamless money transfer from account
- Trade Receivables Discounting System (TReDS): Institutional mechanism to facilitate financing of trade receivables of MSMEs from corporates and other buyers through multiple financiers.
- In an amendment to Factoring Regulation Act, 2011, the Lok Sabha passed the Factoring Regulation (Amendment) Bill in July 2021, which is expected to support more participation from NBFCs.

Further, there have been several schemes by the government such as Scheme for Promotion of Innovation, Rural Industries and Entrepreneurship, Scheme of Fund for Regeneration of Traditional Industries, Micro and Small Enterprises-Cluster Development Programme, MSME Champions Scheme, etc.

Digital penetration

The lenders have been increasingly leveraging technology solutions and alternative data to source and underwrite MSME loans. Such changes in MSME lending have been driven by

Digital/technological changes:

- E-commerce platforms (B2C and B2B): Connecting buyers and sellers
- Introduction of digital lending focused NBFCs: Use of technology to provide MSME lending
- Low-cost internet data availability: Facilitating increase in internet penetration

Government led initiatives:

- Introduction of UPI: Simplified real-time digital payments
- GST implementation: Simplified business taxes, Improved formalization of businesses
- Aadhaar based e-KYC: Reduced documents requirements, faster TAT, Aadhaar-PAN linkage facilitating lenders to verify information
- ONDC: Facilitated adoption of e-commerce through open protocol

RBI-led initiatives:

- TReDS: TReDS is an electronic platform for facilitating the financing/discounting of trade receivables of MSMEs through multiple financiers
- Account aggregators: Act as a common platform which enable sharing and consumption of data from various entities with user consent

Above are some of the broad initiatives in the market which are assisting lenders to facilitate growth in MSME lending market by leveraging technologies and alternate data points.

Additionally, such technological changes have led to innovative, simple, and cost-effective processes.

Customer acquisition/Sourcing: Lenders can use big data analytics, social media campaigns, partner with various stakeholders such as e-commerce platforms, provide multilingual chatbots, mobile apps, etc. to generate leads, and acquire customers. This makes the application process convenient and quick and increases the success rate of customer onboarding.

Underwriting: Lenders can use alternative data points (direct and derived variables) to assess creditworthiness of borrowers. Usage of advanced algorithms to identify risk profiles and repayment ability of borrowers can lead to sanctioning of loans to underserved and new-to-credit customers within minutes.

Through proprietary scorecard model-based underwriting system for MSME rural loans, lenders assess a borrower's income-earning capacity by evaluating customers' asset documentation, cash flows, and income and non-income-related documents. Additionally, lenders also conduct reference checks within the borrower's local community, including their trading ecosystem, friends, family, and neighbours. This approach goes beyond traditional metrics such as documentation and credit scores typically used by banks and financial institutions, enabling a more holistic and tailored assessment of creditworthiness.

Collection: Flexible repayment options can be provided with initiatives such as e-NACH, UPI and other digital payment options which make the collection process easier and increase collection efficiency.

With all these changes in the lending process, penetration of digital lending has been increasing in the past few years with lenders trying to provide all the services digitally to customers.

Key success factors for NBFCs offering MSME Loans

- Ability to dive into deeper geographies with a strong branch network: Players need to have a clear and deeper understanding of their target customer segment, the markets they operate in and develop a strong local network. The deeper understanding and presence of inhouse sales team for direct sourcing within the segment also leads to lower customer churn.
- Focused approach to tap underserved niche borrower segments: MSME focused lenders need to build a portfolio with deep understanding of the target segment and market. Specific tailor-made lending products for MSMEs with easier data availability to help lenders take a focused approach.
- Strong underwriting capabilities: MSMEs tend to generally be more impacted by vagaries of the business cycle given their limited financial wherewithal and/or reliance on larger buyers. On account of limited data to support credibility of the MSME borrower, lenders are now using alternate methods of underwriting like cash flow analysis to strengthen their underwriting capabilities.
- On-the-ground presence to manage collections and maintain portfolio quality: Additionally, given that players in the segment also cater to a relatively riskier profile, a strong focus on collections and monitoring risk of default at customer level is vital to manage asset quality. Direct Sourcing allows control over the quality of customers and processes involved for disbursement, which can lead to better asset quality, as compared to other methods of customer acquisition.
- Collateral risk management: Properties that are used as collateral for MSME loans sometimes lack proper property titles, especially in the outskirts of large cities, semi-urban and rural areas.

Key Industry Parameters

In absolute terms, the aggregate size of extending secured MSME loans is estimated to be around ₹14.5 trillion as of December 31, 2025. With growth in number of MSMEs and increasing requirement of credit for scaling their businesses, Crisil Intelligence believes that secured MSME lending would provide a huge opportunity for lenders to grow their loan book. There are various kind of players serving this segment including Banks, NBFCs and Small Finance Banks that offer loans to MSMEs, self-employed individuals and businesses.

In the secured MSME segment, NBFCs focused on secured MSME lending typically achieve the highest yield compared to other lenders like Banks, SFBs and HFCs, even with the highest cost of borrowing it maintains the highest spread and ROA among the other lenders. These NBFCs offer an average ticket size ~ 2.3 million, with a repayment tenor of 60 to 96 months.

Within NBFCs, there are players that operate at relatively higher ticket sizes and offer both secured and unsecured business loans. These NBFCs offer loans at the most competitive rates among other NBFCs, target customers that are relatively better in terms of credit profile and have lower cost of borrowings compared to other NBFCs. Compared to these, NBFCs that have singular focus on business loans or have significant proportion of business loans in their unsecured portfolio and operating at lower ticket sizes offer loans at a higher rate due to much riskier customer profile. Fintech firms with NBFC license and SFBs are other players that operate in the MSME loans landscape.

Loan against Property (LAP)

Overall Loan Against Property Portfolio Outstanding

Loans against property (LAP) is availed by mortgaging a property (residential or commercial) with the lender. LAP is a secured loan, as it provides collateral to the financier in the form of the property. Its interest rate is lower than personal or business loans. It could be used for either business or personal purposes. It can be availed by both salaried and self-employed individuals. For all these reasons, LAP has become popular among borrowers in recent years.

LAP Financing market

The overall Loans against property segment market size has expanded from ₹4.9 trillion as of Fiscal 2019 to ₹12.8 trillion as of Fiscal 2025, growing at a CAGR of 17.3%. The growth in this segment is attributed to increasing financial penetration and an increase in the number of players in the targeted market. The LAP portfolio for banks (public and private) slowed to 19.0% in fiscal 2025 as they focused on higher yielding products to earn better lending margins. On the contrary, LAP portfolio for NBFCs and HFCs grew at 38.4% and 26.3% year on year respectively as they focused on secured lending to safeguard asset quality. Moreover, few HFCs focused on LAP loans to earn better yields compared to home loans, supporting the LAP loan book growth.

LAP portfolio (₹1.0-1.5 million) to grow at 18-20% CAGR overs FY25-FY28

Note: P: Projected Source: CRIF Highmark, Crisil Intelligence

Going forward, Crisil Intelligence expects the portfolio of secured MSME loans with ticket size ₹ 1.0-1.5 million to grow at 18-20% CAGR over FY25 and FY28 aided by increasing focus and higher penetration lenders for such loans, enhanced availability of data thereby increasing lender comfort while underwriting such loans, enhanced use of technology, newer players entering the segment, and continued government support. LAP loans have been relatively a well-protected segment compared to the stress seen in the unsecured loan segment.

NBFCs/HFCs have the highest share of LAP portfolio (₹ 1.0-1.5 million) outstanding, which increased from 35.5% in FY19 to 45.8% in FY25. NBFCs/HFCs have established a significant presence in MSME loans by prioritizing customer needs, ensuring quick turnaround times, delivering excellent customer service, and expanding their geographic reach. Over time, the MSME portfolio of NBFCs has shown faster growth compared to the overall MSME portfolio at a systemic level. CRISIL Intelligence expects the competitive positioning of NBFCs to remain strong, given their strong target customer and product focus.

Asset Quality Metrics

Private sector banks have the best asset quality among major lenders with 90+ DPD at 1.2% followed by NBFCs/HFCs at 3.3% as of December 31, 2025

Asset quality for all lenders deteriorated in FY21 due to the pandemic where income of the borrowers was impacted which led to rise in GNPA (90+ DPD) numbers. With continued improvement in economic activity, better collection efficiency and strong credit growth, GNPA (90+ DPD) level started improving. In 9MFY26, the GNPA (90+ DPD) ratio for LAP portfolio improved to 3.6% from 3.8% in FY25. Private sector banks and public sector banks exhibited better asset quality compared to the industry level in 9MFY26. NBFCs performed better than public sector banks in 9MFY26.

Profitability of LAP financing NBFCs

Key growth drivers:

- Greater transparency in the system: Demonetization, GST, and the government's strong push for digitisation have led to higher transparency in the system. This will keep pushing up loan amount eligibility of borrowers. Formalization will also help many new borrowers come under the ambit of formal lending channels.
- Rising penetration of formal channels: Increase in financial penetration and availability of formal credit in Tier 2 and Tier 3 cities will reduce the share of informal credit. On account of NBFCs having a higher on ground presence in these regions, they are expected to grow faster compared to other lenders.
- Higher comfort for lenders: Lenders are comfortable disbursing LAP loans, as they offer favorable risk-return characteristics, compared with unsecured loans. They also offer higher recovery in case of default (supported by the Securitization and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Securities Interest Act, 2002) and better asset quality.

Threats and Challenges

- Insufficiency of data for credit appraisal and Collateral Fraud: In the LAP industry, lenders face significant challenges in assessing borrowers' creditworthiness in few cases due to the lack of formal income documentation. This increases the risk of lending to individuals who may not be able to repay their loans. Key risks in this sector include the borrower's ability to repay, potential errors in documentation and processing, and fraudulent activities, slow process of legal recovery through SARFAESI /NCLT etc. Furthermore, borrowers may face individual challenges, such as business setbacks, which can impact their repayment capacity. To mitigate these risks, lenders must implement effective risk management strategies, including rigorous credit evaluations, robust operational controls, and comprehensive assessments of borrowers' financial situations. There is a need of centralised and digitised system related to document verification, property documentation by the government to fasten the credit sanctioning process for borrowers, enabling them to access funds more quickly and efficiently.
- Economic, Interest rate and Property-related risks: In the LAP loan industry, significant risks encompass property-related issues such as overvaluation, legal disputes related to unclear titles or ownership issues complicating loan recoveries, and market value fluctuations affecting the collateral's value, impacting the loan to value (LTV) ratio, along with interest rate variability affecting repayment capacity. Economic factors like downturns and sluggish real estate markets also pose threats. Effective risk management requires accurate property valuation, legal due diligence, monitoring interest rates, and staying attuned to economic conditions.

School Financing in India

Currently, there are insufficient schools for secondary and higher secondary education

Source: UDISE reports, Crisil Intelligence

Total number of schools have marginally increased in Fiscal 2024 with majority schools run by government (includes state as well central government).

Currently, the overall Gross Enrolment ratio (GER) is less than 100% indicating not all eligible children are able to access the educational system. Also, the GER drops after elementary education. More institutions providing secondary and higher secondary education can be developed.

Educational institution loans typically refer to financial assistance provided by banks and financial institutions to schools, colleges and other educational institutions. These comprise loans towards infrastructure and working capital needs of such educational institutions. Such loans aim to support the expansion and improvement of educational facilities to meet the growing needs of the population for more such institutions and expansion within existing institutions. The end-use of such loans generally involves construction, renovation, equipment purchase, and other infrastructure-related expenses. These loans play a crucial role in enhancing access to quality education and fostering educational development across the country and typically come with several features tailored to meet the specific needs of educational institutions.

In addition, the educational institutions also seek working capital loans for covering short-term operational expenses, such as payroll, utilities, maintenance, and supplies. Many financial institutions offer working capital loans tailored to the needs of educational institutions, providing flexible repayment terms and competitive interest rates.

Growth drivers for School Financing Market

Crisil expects that increasing demand for education, government support, technological advancements, private sector participation, and favourable investment climate would contribute significantly to the growth of school financing in India. Some of the factors which is likely to aid the market are as follows:

- Rising Demand for Education and Capacity Building: The growing population, increasing awareness and demand for education are driving the need for expanded education infrastructure, including schools, colleges, and training centres. To meet this increasing demand, educational institutions require growth capital to fund construction, renovation, or expansion projects, enabling them to increase student intake and provide a comfortable learning environment.
- Government Initiatives: Government initiatives such as the "Education for All" campaign and schemes like Sarva Shiksha Abhiyan (SSA), Rashtriya Madhyamik Shiksha Abhiyan (RMSA), and Atal Tinkering Labs (ATL) aim to improve access to quality education and promote infrastructure development in the education sector, providing opportunities for funding through loans.
- Urbanization, Infrastructure Development and Expectation of Superior Infra Facilities: Rapid urbanization and infrastructure development in tier 2 and 3 cities are driving demand for new educational institutions and expansion of existing ones, leading to increased demand for School Financing. Private schools are expected to provide high-quality education and superior infrastructure, resulting in higher capital expenditure. This creates opportunities for financiers to offer school financing, tapping into the growing demand for quality educational facilities.
- Technological Advancements: The integration of technology in education, such as e-learning platforms, smart classrooms, and digital libraries, requires investments in infrastructure and technology upgrades, driving the need for funding through school financing.
- Private Sector Participation: The involvement of private players in the education sector, including corporate-run schools, universities, and coaching institutes, has led to increased investment in education infrastructure, with many institutions opting for loans to finance their projects.

Threats & Challenges in Educational Institutions loan for the Financiers:

Financiers providing loans to educational institutions face several risks, which include the following:

- Construction and Project Risk: For loans used to fund an institution's infrastructure projects, there is a risk of cost overruns, delays, or project failures that can affect the institution's ability to repay the loan.
- Market Risk: Shifts in the education market, increased competition, or changing demand for certain types of education, can impact the institution's revenue streams.
- Natural Disaster Risk: Institutions may be affected by natural disasters, which can disrupt operations, damage infrastructure, and impact financial stability.

Specialized MSME Loans

Asset Backed Financing

Equipment leasing allows business to acquire the use of assets without incurring upfront capex for the purchase of equipment. IT assets (like laptops, desktops, servers etc), office equipment (furniture and fitouts) and other movable asset leasing allows borrowers to use the equipment and repay the lender with interest over time, thereby spreading the cost / cash outflow across the lease term which usually ranges from 3 to 5 years.

In the context of asset backed financing, the credit assessment is done on and loan is booked in the name of the end-user, who has leased the asset / equipment from the end-user. The leasing company, in lieu of leasing the asset to the end-user, is contractually obliged to receive fixed lease payments from the end-user and these are in turn assigned by the leasing company to the lender, which are used to repay the loan. This leasing structure offers benefits to all parties involved. The equipment seller receives immediate payment for the equipment, while the leasing company can offer the equipment to the end-user on a long-term lease who can use it without having to incur a large upfront capital expenditure. The lender, meanwhile, earns interest on the loan and has the security of the lease receivables and hypothecation over the asset to back the loan. This arrangement streamlines the financing process, reduces administrative burdens, and provides an added layer of convenience and efficiency for all parties involved. By lending to asset leasing companies backed by lease receivables, lenders can provide financing to businesses while minimizing their risk exposure.

The benefits for equipment lease financing for the lender are:

1. High returns: For lenders like banks and NBFCs, equipment financing requires relatively less manpower as origination is generally done by the leasing companies plus documentation and other procedures are standardised and in pre-agreed form and again taken care of by the leasing companies. Thereby the product generally has a lower operating cost per loan, and the net profit is higher, leading to a higher return on asset.
2. Secured business: Since the equipment acts as tangible collateral, the loans are secured. This reduces credit risk and supports a higher lending capacity and risk adjusted returns for the lender.
3. Resale value of equipment: For IT equipment and other standardised equipment which are moveable in nature, the resale value is relatively higher leading to faster recovery in case of a default by the end customer.

Growth drivers for asset backed financing

1. Low interest rates: Due to the secured nature of business, the interest rate is generally lower as compared to unsecured lending and acts as a catalyst for increasing the demand of equipment financing.
2. Technology and IT adoption: Growing digital transformation across industries coupled with rising remote and hybrid work models increases the demand for IT hardware like laptops, servers, etc. India's digital economy is expected to grow to nearly 1/5th of national income and twice as fast as the overall economy by 2029-30 as Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology. This in-turn increases the demand for equipment leasing and can act as a potential growth driver for asset backed financing.
3. Growing SME Sector: The growth of small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs) is a significant driver of equipment financing, as these businesses often require financing to expand their operations and increase productivity.

Risks

1. Credit risk: Credit in equipment financing is cyclical in nature, during business downturns, the risk of default by borrowers increases. Understanding the cyclical nature of business and its cash flow can help mitigate risk.
2. Residual value risk: The equipment might lose resale value after a certain period and may not return the desired yield to the lender / leasing company in case the lender / leasing company regains possession of the asset at the end of the lease term. However, this is a risk that is usually borne by the leasing company and not by the lender.

Embedded Finance

One of the key advantages of e-commerce is that it provides sellers with access to a wider audience, greater geographical reach, and valuable data for analytics and advertising. Embedded finance gives these sellers access to credit while also providing the lender with the opportunity to access differentiated data sources for credit risk assessment.

Embedded finance allows the e-commerce seller to access financing from an NBFC/bank. When a customer purchases a product from the seller on the e-commerce platform, the payment, net of platform commission, is credited to an escrow account. The EMI is then deducted and paid to the lender while the remaining amount is processed and sent to the e-commerce seller. This not only allows the lender to have direct visibility on use of proceeds by monitoring sales but also helps them customise their loan offerings as per the customer.

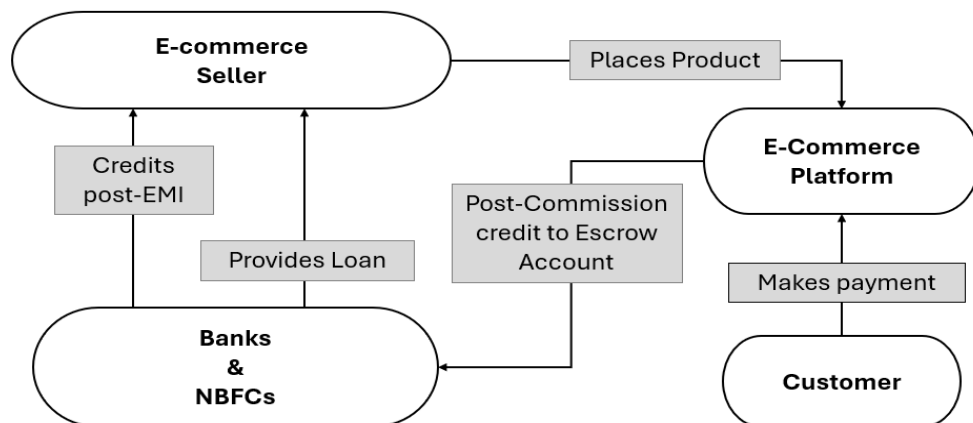

Growing number of banks and NBFCs are partnering with e-commerce platforms to provide financing to sellers to enhance customer experience. These lenders are also leveraging new-age technology and integrating with technology partners to enhance speed, accuracy and overall experience. With the growing digital economy, embedded finance is a medium of financial inclusion and credit disbursement.

Benefits for the e-commerce seller

1. Ease of availing loans: In most cases, the vendor can apply for loans directly via the lender's portal with an online KYC, thereby saving considerable time and effort.
2. Generally collateral-free: Such embedded finance e-commerce loans are generally collateral free

Benefits for the lender

1. Since sale proceeds are routed via escrow, the credit risk is reduced.
2. Availability of data such as monthly sales, reviews, prepaid sales, delivery data to assess the risk profile of the borrower.

Growth Drivers

1. Growth of e-commerce

Significant growth in penetration e-commerce across geographies, along with increasing digital literacy, is supporting financial institutions in targeting new segments by cross-selling — to travel service providers, for instance.

Growing tech stack (including UPI, Digi Locker, account aggregator, etc.) has increased the digital footprint of borrowers, enabled better credit evaluation, and helped extend financing to borrowers considered ineligible earlier.

2. Surge in online payments

Between fiscal 2018 and fiscal 2025, the volume of digital payments transactions increased from 14.6 billion to 222 billion, growing at a CAGR of ~47.5%. During the same period, the value of digital transactions has increased from Rs 1,370 trillion in fiscal 2018 to Rs 2,862 trillion in fiscal 2025 at a CAGR of ~11.1%.

3. Large market potential due to volume of sellers in e-commerce platforms

Amazon India currently reports having over 14L+ sellers on their platform, Swiggy reported having 238k+ average monthly transacting restaurant partners, Flipkart also reports having 14L+ seller community. Of these sellers, only a limited number have access to formal organized credit. Embedded finance addresses the funding needs of these sellers.

4. Government Credit Guarantee Scheme

The government Credit Guarantee Scheme for Micro and Small Enterprises (CGTMSE) aims to provide credit access to MSEs by providing credit guarantees to Member Lending Institutions (MLIs) for credit support up to ₹10 crore extended by the MLIs. 211 banks and 62 NBFCs are recognized as MLIs by the government.

Risks and Challenges

- Regulatory landscape: The current regulatory landscape around embedded lending is still developing. Frameworks like India's Account Aggregator system lays a foundation for consent driven data sharing but there still exists complexities around licensing, compliance, and accountability.

- Data privacy and security: A major concern relating to embedded loans is that of data privacy and security since such loan processes typically includes the exchange of sensitive personal information and sensitive financial data. The DPDP bill, which was released in 2023, aims to responsibly identify and safeguard sensitive data and its processing.

Lending to Financial Institutions

Financial institutions play a crucial role in mobilizing savings and channelling them into productive sectors. Broadly, these institutions can be categorized into banking and non-banking financial institutions.

When financial institutions lend to other financial institutions it helps in enhancing credit mobility within the financial ecosystem. Larger players with access to low-cost capital lend to smaller players who in turn tap into segments that traditional banks and NBFCs find inviable due to operational, and risk related issues.

NBFCs play a pivotal role in the Indian financial architecture. With their growing popularity, especially in rural areas, due to their role in last-mile credit delivery to unbanked and underbanked segments, they ultimately push towards financial inclusivity. NBFCs focus on the informal sector, especially individuals with a higher-risk profile, had made them an indispensable part of India's financial ecosystem.

Diverging credit channels – How NBFC size dictates access to funding

Note: The analysis is based on the data of 100+ NBFCs (including HFCs), which collectively accounted for loans and advances of Rs 30,600 billion as on March 31, 2025. These NBFCs account for more than 80% of the total loans and advances outstanding of the NBFC sector. The above set excludes PFC and REC.

Others include refinance from National Housing Bank and inter-corporate borrowings

Source: Company reports, Crisil Intelligence

From a scale perspective, large NBFCs (with loan book >Rs 500 billion) can tap capital markets and raise bonds and debentures for their funding requirements more easily. This is on account of a strong market presence, larger scale of operations and better ratings. However, due to an elevated interest rate environment, the share of bonds in the borrowing mix declined from 39% in fiscal 2022 to 34% in fiscal 2024. Correspondingly, the share of bank borrowings continued to increase. In FY25, bank borrowings are expected to decline as a proportion of the borrowing mix, driven by the risk weight circular and high domestic interest rates. In fiscal 2026, with the circular repealed and interest rates easing following the central bank's rate cut in February, April, June and December 2025. These reduced interest rates will create a favourable environment for bond market issuances, providing an alternative funding avenue.

Meanwhile, small and medium-sized NBFCs depend on term loans from banks and larger NBFCs as the principal source in their borrowing mix. In addition, the share of deposits is lower since a higher share of small and medium-sized NBFCs are non-deposit taking. With limited access to capital markets compared with large NBFCs, impacted further during the liquidity crisis, small and medium-sized NBFCs have become more dependent on banks and financial institutions for funding. Hence, the share of term loans has increased rapidly at these NBFCs after the crisis.

This growing share of term loans was traditionally funded by banks, but there has been a steady and fast increase in loans extended by NBFCs to NBFCs due to the very nature of their risk appetite, growing demand, hesitation of traditional banks to extend loans to the end-consumers of NBFCs products, easier credit access, improvement in credit quality and profitability, satisfactory capital buffers and the growing size of NBFC balance sheets.

The factors contributing to the NBFC-to-NBFC lending:

- Access to new customer segments – Larger NBFCs lend to smaller NBFCs which have reach in rural or semi-urban areas. This facilitates indirect access to high-growth, underpenetrated borrower segments. This also allows larger NBFCs to leverage the smaller players understanding of localized credit behaviour, repayment patterns and sector-specific risk dynamics which enables the larger NBFCs to better calibrate their risk-taking and diversify their portfolio.
- Capital light expansion – Lending to smaller NBFCs to grow efficiently and effectively without setting up distribution networks, allowing for scalable and strategic expansion. As of fiscal 2024, interest expense contributed to 59% of total expenditure while other expenses including operating expenses made up the remainder, highlighting the need for cost efficient growth strategies.
- Risk sharing – Smaller NBFCs act as intermediaries for high-risk borrowers and therefore lending to smaller NBFCs shifts operational risks for larger NBFCs while earning high returns.
- Securitization opportunities – After lending to smaller NBFCs, the receivables can be securitized for capital relief.

An overview of gross credit flow to NBFCs from Banks and NBFCs

Note: P – projected

Source: RBI Trends and Progress Report, Crisil Intelligence

The gross credit to NBFCs is the total credit by banks-to-NBFCs and by NBFC-to-NBFC. At an overall level, the total credit to NBFCs from banks and NBFCs has seen a growth from Rs 7.6 trillion in FY20 to Rs 17.1 trillion in FY25 and a CAGR of 17%. The y-o-y overall credit saw a steep growth of 31.7% in FY23 and further moderated at 13.9% in FY24 and 7.7% in FY25. The year-on-year deceleration in growth can be attributed to various factors including the RBI circular which asked banks to increase the risk weight assigned to NBFCs, thereby making banks cautious while lending to NBFCs. However, this slowdown in growth is not expected to continue especially after the recent reversal of the 25% increase in risk weights on bank exposure to NBFCs and other factors like RBI's priority sector lending guidelines to banks which allows them to classify loans to eligible NBFCs as indirect PSL, and lower lending rates are expected to boost credit growth from banks to NBFCs.

Bank lending to NBFCs has a CAGR of 17.3% for FY20-25 and forms 95.9% of the overall credit to NBFCs from banks and NBFCs. NBFCs lending to NBFCs have a CAGR of 21.6% for FY20-25 and form 4% of the overall credit. The overall CAGR estimated for FY28 is in the range of 12-15%.

The Split between Bank lending to NBFC V/s NBFC lending to NBFC reflects dominance of the Banking sector to lend to NBFCs. However, y-o-y growth of NBFC lending to NBFC has remained strong and is expected to have a CAGR of 16-18% for the period of FY25-28

Overall credit to NBFC (Rs billions)

Y-o-Y growth

While banks share to the overall credit is at 95.9%, the bank funding to NBFCs sector forms only 9% in FY25 of the total bank exposure across sectors. The share of NBFCs in bank credit exposure in fiscal 2025 is driven by dynamic management of banking liquidity, which led to higher lending rates among banks and was further compounded by the RBI's risk weight circular. Many NBFCs, particularly large and highly rated, resorted to overseas and capital market borrowings, which brought down their reliance on funding from banks.

NBFCs saw their share in overall credit increasing from 2.7% in fiscal 2020 to 3.75% in fiscal 2024 as the larger NBFCs with better credit access were lending to smaller NBFCs. The smaller/unrated NBFCs could become viable borrowers in an impact driven or specialized lending ecosystems. Unlocking this segment with targeted credit enhancement structures could deepen India's financial inclusion and credit penetration. Hence, the untapped segment presents a challenge as well as an opportunity for credit markets to become more inclusive while ensuring risk containment

Trend of Bank Vs NBFC lending to NBFCs:

- Dominance of Bank Lending continues – Banks remain the primary source of credit for NBFCs. This is due to their surplus liquidity position and lower cost of funds.
- Gradual rise of NBFC-to-NBFC lending – Although a small portion, NBFC-to-NBFC credit has shown an increase in absolute terms (₹126.92 billion) and year-on-year growth of 26.6% in FY24. This indicates a growing trend of intra-sector collaboration, where larger NBFCs with better access to capital lending to smaller NBFCs.

NBFC-to-NBFC Lending – A Deep Dive

NBFCs lend to various segments and the most prominent recipients are Retail Loans and Industry categories with consistent year-on-year growth for retail loans being 28% in FY23 and 31% in FY24. Similarly, for the industry category the Y-o-Y growth at 14% in FY23 and 18% in FY24.

Among the various credit deployment categories, NBFC-to-NBFC lending stands out due to its sharp y-o-y growth of 41.1% and 26.6% in fiscal 2023 and 2024 respectively.

Reasons of NBFC-to NBFC Exposure:

An NBFC (Non-Banking Financial Company) might lend to another NBFC for several reasons, including operational reasons, or strategic investments.

A) Liquidity Management:

NBFCs, like any financial institution, need a steady flow of funds to lend to their customers. If an NBFC has a strong demand for loans but limited access to traditional funding sources, it might borrow from another NBFC with surplus funds in form of traditional funding.

Traditional Instruments used in NBFC-to-NBFC lending –

- Term Loans – These are fixed tenure loans which are used for business expansion or for managing working capital needs.
- Commercial Papers (CPs) – These are unsecured, short term debt instruments generally used for managing working capital needs.
- Non-Convertible Debentures (NCDs) – These are medium to long term debt instruments with fixed returns and carry relatively lower risk as compared to other options.
- Inter-Corporate Deposits (ICDs) – These are short term loans from one corporate to another, common among group NBFCs.

B) Diversification:

- NBFCs may diversify their funding sources to reduce reliance on any single lender and improve their financial stability.
- NBFCs may also need to borrow from other NBFCs to meet regulatory requirements, such as maintaining a certain level of capital or liquidity. In cases where the other sources of lower cost borrowing such as bank or debt market sources are exhausted, they resort to higher cost options to meet liquidity norms of regulatory bodies.

C) Other Scenarios:

- Subsidiary or Associate Company:
An NBFC might lend to a subsidiary or associate company that is also an NBFC, potentially as part of a group financing strategy.
- Tied-up NBFCs:
NBFCs with strong ties to banks or other financial institutions might borrow from each other as part of a broader relationship.

In essence, lending between NBFCs can be driven by a variety of factors, including the need for funding, strategic partnerships, and regulatory compliance.

Risk and concerns associated with NBFC-to-NBFC lending –

- Concentration risk – Overdependence on few borrowing NBFCs can expose lenders to defaults.
- Opaque end use – Unless routinely tracked, funds can be used for high-risk lending or asset liability mismatches.
- Contagion risk – A financial shock in one NBFC can ripple through interconnected lending chains.

- Regulatory oversight – RBI is increasing scrutiny due to fears of indirect excessive leverage.

Banks -to-NBFC Lending – A Deep Dive

Banks lend to NBFCs in two major ways:

- Direct term lending – This includes secured or unsecured term loans for a defined tenure. They are often structured with cash flow monitoring and asset liability matching.
- Refinancing lines / Working Capital limits – Banks extend revolving credit limits or overdraft facilities to NBFCs for on-lending.

Reasons for slowdown in Bank Credit to NBFCs –

- Regulatory tightening by RBI – The growth of bank credit to NBFCs was impacted in fiscal 2024, primarily due to the RBI's risk weight circular. This circular aimed to increase the risk weights on exposures to NBFCs by 25% (over and above the risk weight associated with the given external rating) in all cases where the extant risk weight as per external rating of NBFCs is below 100%.
However, the growth of bank credit to NBFCs is expected to recover in fiscal 2026. The primary driver of this expected growth in fiscal 2026 is the RBI's decision to roll back the risk weight circular, which is to be implemented from April 1, 2025. This rollback is likely to ease the regulatory pressures on banks and encourage them to increase their lending to NBFCs, thereby supporting the growth of the sector.
- Limited risk appetite of banks, especially with regards to rural and underbanked segments, which are usually the end-consumers of smaller NBFCs makes smaller NBFCs a riskier lending segment for banks. However, since larger NBFCs have shown resilience in credit quality when it comes to lending to such sectors, there has been an uptick in smaller NBFCs seeking credit from larger NBFCs.
- Shift to market-based funding – Many NBFCs, especially larger NBFCs, are shifting towards debenture issuance, commercial papers (CPs) and securitization instead of directly borrowing from the bank due to cheaper cost of borrowing. The weighted average lending rates on outstanding rupee loans for banks increased from 8.72% in April 2022 to 9.75% in March 2025. The hardening of bank lending rates in relation to other funding avenues, such as domestic capital markets and ECBs, made funding from banks less appealing to NBFCs in fiscal 2025. However, bank borrowings are likely to rebound next fiscal year as the effects of interest rate cuts are passed on to borrowers, making bank lending more competitive.

Challenges in Bank to NBFC lending –

- Higher capital charges – The increase in risk weights made bank funding more expensive. This affected the viability of lending to NBFCs, especially those focused on unsecured credit products like personal loans.
- Lender Concentration norms – Regulatory bodies mandate that banks should reduce their exposure to individual NBFCs to avoid systemic concentration risk. This includes the flow of credit to even well rated NBFCs, especially in times of market stress.
- Focus on credit quality – With increasing defaults in, banks have tightened their underwriting for NBFCs operating in such segments.

Bank to NBFC vs NBFC to NBFC lending

While bank to NBFC lending continues to remain the most sought after means of financing for NBFCs, NBFC to NBFC lending has also been on the rise. A quick comparison between the two is as follows:

| Bank to NBFC lending                                                                 | NBFC to NBFC lending                                                                                                                   |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Stringent compliance and multiple layers of approval make access to credit slow      | Lending to NBFCs to grow efficiently and effectively without setting up distribution networks, allowing for scalable and strategic expansion. |
| Standardised products with little scope for customisation                            | Highly customisable with products tailored to meet the borrower's profile.                                                                    |
| Conservative risk profile makes banks wary when lending to smaller, lower rated NBFC | NBFCs focus on targeting underserved and niche players for higher yields.                                                                     |

Merchant Banking

Investment Management business through alternate investments such as AIFs

Alternate Investments in India including Alternative Investment Funds (AIFs) have seen increasing adoption. While the market is still developing, India's investment environment continues to attract private capital with increased institutional participation.

Peer Comparison

In this section, CRISIL Intelligence has benchmarked the overall performance of the Company with 6 Diversified NBFC's having a substantial presence in the personal loans segment. Further, to facilitate a more nuanced comparison at segmental level, we have also considered the segmental metrics of these diversified peers. The benchmarking is also done with 8 other NBFC's (3 in Education loans, 4 in MSME loans and a single player in Personal loans) whose scaled-up monoline businesses operate in the respective segments specifically:

- For Personal Loans, CRISIL Intelligence has drawn comparisons with the personal loan segments of diversified peers, as well as SBI Cards, the only listed personal lending player, despite differences in sourcing and customer segments. CRISIL has excluded digital personal loan players from this comparison due to their distinct digital sourcing models, smaller loan ticket sizes, and differing borrower credit profiles.
- In the Student Loans segment, CRISIL Intelligence has compared InCred with monoline players, which specialise in overseas education loans and are therefore more comparable to InCred's offerings.
- For MSME Loans, CRISIL Intelligence has compared InCred's performance with that of monoline players which operate in the MSME segment.

The segments and the peers considered are detailed in the table below.

Overview

Our Company is registered as a merchant banker with the Securities and Exchange Board of India (“SEBI”), and also acts as an investment manager to a SEBI-registered alternative investment fund. Our Company is engaged in fee-based businesses, including syndication for third parties, debt arrangement, debt advisory, corporate consultancy, fund raising through debt, and referral services. Our Company’s primary focus is on the syndication of rated, unrated, listed and/or unlisted bond issuances in the wholesale debt market, offered to participants and investors on a private placement basis.

Our Company generates the majority of its revenue, and conducts its business activities primarily through our Material Subsidiary, InCred Financial Services Limited (“IFSL”), which is a retail-focused, diversified, middle-layer non-banking financial company (“NBFC”) registered with the Reserve Bank of India (“RBI”). We offer a broad suite of loan products tailored to the diverse needs of our customers, supported by a risk-first approach, a technology-driven platform, a robust multi-channel distribution network, and an experienced management team.

As at March 31, 2025, our assets under management (“AUM”) stood at ₹125,850.74 million. For the year ended March 31, 2025, we reported a profit for the year (“PAT”) of ₹3,731.50 million and achieved a return on AUM (“ROA”) of 3.45%. Between March 31, 2023 and March 31, 2025, our AUM and PAT grew at a compound annual growth rate (“CAGR”) of 44.04% and 84.97%, respectively. This positions us as the fastest growing diversified player in terms of PAT CAGR and the second fastest in terms of AUM CAGR among the Diversified Peers<sup>1</sup> over this period (Source: CRISIL Report). As at December 31, 2025, our AUM was ₹144,478.59 million while our profit after tax for the nine months period ended December 31, 2025 was ₹2,901.45 million.

Our Promoter, Bhupinder Singh commenced our lending business in 2017 through InCred Finance, to address the credit requirements of customer categories underserved by traditional banking channels in India. Building on this foundation, we have created a diversified product portfolio reaching across a broad spectrum of borrowers. Since inception, our business has grown through a focus on understanding the distinct credit needs of underserved customer categories, strengthening our underwriting and risk management frameworks, establishing a scalable technology driven operational platform, recruiting experienced personnel, and developing robust customer support and on-ground collections capabilities.

We have strategically entered select credit verticals that offer large scale and high growth potential. This is evidenced by robust industry expansion across targeted markets. For example, personal loan outstanding in India increased from ₹4.2 trillion in the year ended March 31, 2019 to ₹14.6 trillion in the year ended March 31, 2025, reflecting a CAGR of 22.9%, and is projected to reach ₹22.0 trillion to ₹23.0 trillion by the year ended March 31, 2028 at a CAGR of 14% to 16% (Source: CRISIL Report). The overseas education market in India is anticipated to grow from ₹5.9 trillion in the year calendar year 2025 to approximately ₹10.0 trillion by the calendar year 2029 at a CAGR of around 13.6% (Source: CRISIL Report). Additionally, the loan against property portfolio is expected to expand at a CAGR of 15% to 17% between the year ended March 31, 2025 and the year ended March 31, 2028, rising from ₹12.8 trillion to between ₹19.0 trillion and ₹ 21.0 trillion (Source: CRISIL Report). These industry trends underscore the significant growth opportunities within the verticals we have prioritised.

We offer a diversified lending portfolio across five principal product verticals, each designed to address a broad spectrum of customer needs. These verticals comprise: Personal Loans, Student Loans, Secured Business Loans (covering both loan against property and school financing), Specialised MSME Loans (including embedded financing and asset backed financing), and Lending to Financial Institutions.

This strategic diversification across product verticals strengthens our resilience to challenges in any specific vertical and enables us to proactively scale opportunities in unaffected areas. This approach supports stable performance across credit cycles, while driving cost optimisation and operational synergies through a unified team structure spanning across key functions such as technology, finance, marketing, human resources, and compliance. We believe this also leads to accelerated learning through cross-business experiences, a stronger employer-brand, higher volumes for channel partners and data suppliers leading to tighter vendor-costs, among others.

The table below provides an overview of the key features of each product vertical as at December 31, 2025:

Our lending philosophy is anchored in a risk-first approach, which guides our decision-making across all products and customer verticals. We implement a robust risk management framework that includes careful customer selection, tailored underwriting criteria for each product type including the use of financial and qualitative checks to determine creditworthiness, supported by our technological platform incorporating machine learning to improve credit evaluation accuracy and strengthen fraud detection capabilities. Our framework incorporates product specific safeguards such as risk-based pricing, co-borrower requirements, escrow mechanisms, and coverage under credit guarantee schemes to further mitigate losses. Throughout the loan lifecycle, we maintain strong post-disbursal monitoring and early warning systems, complemented by proactive collections strategies.

<sup>(2)</sup> Net Carrying Amount (stage 3 loans)(%): Ratio of Net Carrying Amount (stage 3 loans) to Total Gross Loans reduced by impairment loss allowances provided on stage 3 loans as at the last day of the specified period/ year. Net Carrying Amount (stage 3 loans) is gross carrying amount (stage 3 loans) reduced by impairment loss allowances provided on stage 3 loans as at the last day of the specified period/ year. We have built our operations on a modern, integrated technology platform, incorporating advanced tools and digital solutions at various stages of the lending lifecycle from customer sourcing and risk assessment to loan disbursal, post-disbursal operations, collections, and customer service. This platform enables us to streamline processes, enhance data-driven decision-making, and support scalable growth. We have progressively embedded artificial intelligence and machine learning capabilities across this platform, deploying AI-driven underwriting models, autonomous AI agents for customer origination and collections, and AI-powered tools across our technology team to accelerate software development. Throughout our operations, we use a variety of sophisticated tools and solutions including scorecard-based credit evaluation systems, workflow automation platforms, and advanced data analytics applications to support consistency, reliability, and efficiency in the delivery of our products and services. We believe this artificial intelligence (“AI”) enabled technology foundation, combined with an optimised team sizing, allows us to scale operations and revenue without proportional increases in headcount, contributing to expanding operating leverage.

We leverage a multi-channel distribution network to source customers across diverse categories. Our digital presence is anchored by the “InCred” mobile & web applications enabling our customers to apply for loans through a streamlined digital process that reduces the need for physical paperwork and conveniently access their loan documents, statements, balances, payment history, and due dates. As on December 31, 2025, our mobile applications had an installed base of over 4.5 lakh users. Complementing our digital platform, we operate through a network of 158 branches located in 152 cities across 19 states and union territories in India, as at December 31, 2025, further strengthening our customer reach.

Our multi-channel distribution network enables us to reach customers both through our dedicated sales team and an extensive network of channel partners including direct selling agents (“DSA”) and connectors, education counsellors and other partners (collectively, “Channel Partners”) across our product verticals, ensuring broad geographic reach and customer access while offering both flexibility and scalability in customer acquisition. This diversified approach enables us to connect with a varied customer base whether through in-person interaction, digital engagement or partner relationships, and to adapt to evolving market opportunities and customer preferences. As at December 31, 2025, our distribution network (inclusive of direct channels and Channel Partners) provided presence in over 17,000 unique pin codes in India, enabling us to serve customers nationwide.

Our operations are led by our individual Promoter, Chairman, CEO and Whole-time Director, Bhupinder Singh, who has over two decades of experience in the financial services sector, and by our Whole-time Director and Chief Financial Officer, Gaurav Maheshwari, who has over 27 years of experience in the financial and corporate sector. We maintain a prudent approach to treasury management, supporting our growth through a carefully managed mix of debt and equity, with a continued focus on strong capitalisation and sound asset-liability management with cumulative gaps across all tenors aligned with prescribed compliance frameworks. Our lender base is well-diversified across 51 public sector banks, private sector banks, mutual funds, financial institutions, development financial institutions, and small finance banks, as at December 31, 2025, which reduces funding risk and strengthens our resilience against market fluctuations. Our capital adequacy ratio (“CRAR”) (including both CRAR – Tier-I capital and CRAR – Tier-II capital) stood at 24.97% as at December 31, 2025, as against the regulatory requirement of 15.00%. ## Our Competitive Strengths

Retail-Focused Lending Business with a Diversified Product Portfolio and Strong Growth in a Large Addressable Market

Operating primarily through our Material Subsidiary, IFSL, we are recognised as India's fastest-growing diversified NBFC in terms of PAT CAGR and the second fastest in AUM CAGR between years ended March 31, 2023 and March 31, 2025 (Source: CRISIL Report). We combine a broad, customer-centric product portfolio with disciplined risk management to meet the evolving financial needs of individuals, small businesses, and financial institutions. By offering a balanced mix of personal loans, student loans, secured business loans, specialised MSME loans, and loans to financial institutions, we optimise our risk-return profile while targeting high-growth market categories. Our disciplined underwriting framework allows us to tailor credit criteria for the specific risk profiles of each customer category, supporting consistent asset quality and healthy profitability across economic cycles.

Our diverse customer base includes salaried professionals, self-employed individuals, students, small businesses, schools and other NBFCs. As at December 31, 2025, we served 504,190 active customers across our loan products, including 467,767 customers in the personal loans portfolio, 9,520 student loan customers, 8,148 secured business loans customers; 13,503 specialised MSME and Mid-Corporate customers; and 114 financial institutions.

The diversity in our customer base helps us to distribute credit risk and foster greater financial inclusion by extending credit to borrower categories that often have limited access to traditional banking channels. Our balanced mix across product types and customer categories not only supports resilience and adaptability under varying market conditions, but also enables us to sustain robust growth while keeping overall credit cost under control. As a result, for the year ended March 31, 2025, we achieved the second lowest credit costs amongst our Diversified Peers (Source: CRISIL Report). We also operate with a common corporate function model, leveraging shared teams across our business divisions such as technology, finance, marketing, human resources, and compliance. This approach promotes operational efficiency and cost optimisation across the organisation. In addition, our diversified model creates opportunities for synergies across product verticals, which we believe enhance our ability to respond to evolving market dynamics and customer requirements.

The following table sets forth details of our AUM split across our product verticals as at December 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, March 31, 2025, March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023:

The retail lending market in India is poised for significant expansion, with growth projected at a CAGR of 14% to 16% between the year ended March 31, 2025 and the year ended March 31, 2028, increasing from ₹82 trillion to ₹122 trillion, being fuelled by rising consumption, greater adoption of digital financial services, and increasing financial inclusion across the country (Source: CRISIL Report). We believe that we are strategically positioned to capitalise on this opportunity by serving a diverse set of customer bases, many of whom remain underserved by traditional banking channels.

Risk First Approach Resulting in Healthy Asset Quality

We operate with a “risk-first” approach, where risk management takes precedence over all business considerations and is deeply embedded across our organisation, guiding decision-making at every level and function.

Our risk management approach is holistic and integrated across the entire product value chain with processes tailored for each business vertical. It starts with careful customer selection and robust underwriting, feeding into our pricing models, extending through to post-disbursal monitoring and the use of early warning systems to control delinquencies. Product-specific defences are central to our approach; these include guardrails such as collections routed through escrow accounts, financially strong co-borrowers, requirement for hard collateral, participation in government-backed credit guarantee schemes amongst others, thereby enhancing risk mitigation. Furthermore, dedicated collections strategy relying on digital enables and physical presence helps timely resolution of potential delinquencies. Together, these measures are designed to safeguard asset quality, mitigate credit losses, and help maintain controlled delinquency levels.

Personal Loans Risk Minimisation Framework

In our personal loans vertical, we primarily focus on salaried customers, as stable income stream helps to minimise repayment risk. Our personal loan underwriting is powered by a proprietary suite of machine learning-based models designed to evaluate the applicant’s risk profile with precision. These statistically validated models leverage a diverse set of internal and external data sources, including credit bureau data, digitised bank statements, behavioral signals from our app, residence verification, employment stability through EPFO records, and fraud detection systems targeting document tampering and location spoofing. The models are trained on over eight years of internal data and are continuously improved through a “Champion vs. Challenger” testing framework wherein the existing model is tested against an updated model suite. Inputs in the models include both intuitive variables such as prior delinquency, existing loan service commitments and advanced features like analysis of variability of bank account usage.

Reflecting the effectiveness of our prudent credit approach, 76.17% of our personal loans disbursements for the nine month period ended December 31, 2025 were to customers with credit bureau scores above 730, demonstrating our selective focus on high-quality borrowers and ongoing commitment to robust risk selection.

While model-driven, the process is reinforced by subject matter experts, including manual reviews for flagged cases. Post-loan disbursal, repayment behaviour are continuously tracked to enable proactive customer management and early warning signals. The entire model-suite, along with the linked credit policies and risk-based pricing framework, is independently validated, and governed by our Risk Management Committee, ensuring that our credit policies remain agile, effective, and responsive to changing market dynamics. Our collection process is anchored by NACH mandates in almost all cases supported by a structured, multi-stage collections framework following missed payments which include both tele and field collections.

Student Loans Risk Minimization Framework

Under our student loans vertical, we serve Indian students primarily pursuing science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (“STEM”) and Business courses in North America and Europe. STEM courses accounted for 75.28% of our student loan disbursements for the nine month period ended December 31, 2025 and 85.30% for the year ended March 31, 2025. Our internal scorecard-based underwriting model uses a well-defined matrix of approved colleges and eligible courses to provide a holistic assessment of each applicant. Students are evaluated across several factors, including college and programme rankings, standardised examination scores such as Graduate Record Examination, prior academic performance, previous employment history, and future employability potential.

To further strengthen risk mitigation, we as a practise require two co-borrowers, typically the student’s parents or guardians, ensuring greater accountability and repayment capacity. For the release of the second and subsequent tranches of the loan, we assess the student’s continued academic progress through documentary evidence including invoices, and transcripts, amongst others. Our floating interest rate structure allows us to adjust pricing in response to broader movements in interest rates by the RBI.

Out of 9,520 student borrowers as on December 31, 2025, we had 21 instances of NPAs which demonstrate the effectiveness of our internal risk management framework, reinforcing our ability to maintain strong asset quality and minimise credit losses.

The table below sets out student loan disbursements by country, presented both by amount and as a percentage of total student loans disbursements, during the relevant period / years:

Secured Business Loans Risk Minimisation Framework

For LAP, we follow a cash flow based underwriting framework which utilises multiple formal documents such as income tax returns and other surrogate methods such as banking transaction records. Our risk evaluation process includes bureau checks to analyse repayment behaviour, delinquency patterns, and overall creditworthiness. In addition, field investigations and detailed site visits by our branch credit managers help verify the borrower's residence, business operations, cash flows, collateral adequacy, and physical infrastructure. We require technical valuation reports to assess property value and condition, mandating dual valuations for higher-value loans, while legal title search reports from empanelled vendors confirm clear property ownership. Furthermore, we perform robust external due diligence, covering litigation screening, political and criminal disclosures, mortgage searches, and online and offline reputation checks, to proactively identify potential fraud or compliance risks. We maintain a strong collateral profile with 87.15% of our LAP disbursements made from April 1, 2022 until December 31, 2025, backed by residential and mixed usage property and the remaining secured against commercial assets. To ensure healthy margin of safety, average loan-to-value limit for these loans was maintained at 48.54%. Post disbursement, portfolio quality is rigorously monitored on a monthly basis by the hindsighting procedures and on-field audits by dedicated team.

Under school financing, we primarily offer loans to privately operated K-12 schools in semi-urban and rural areas that typically meet certain underwriting parameters. For instance, our portfolio as on December 31, 2025 has an average operational vintage of 17 years and average student strength of typically 1,600. Financing is focused exclusively on brownfield projects, such as the addition of playgrounds, science laboratories or infrastructure upgrade, which may include constructing hostel blocks. Security for these loans consists of the school property being financed and personal guarantees provided by the principal trustees.

Specialised MSME Loans and Lending to Financial Institutions Risk Minimisation Framework

Our risk mitigation strategy for specialised MSME loans involves tailored approaches depending on the loan type. Embedded finance uses partner platforms and marketplaces to access verified borrower histories and sales/transaction data while strengthening risk defences by enhanced cash flow visibility by routing sales through escrow accounts, which strengthens our risk assessment. Additionally, 41.84% of our embedded finance portfolio as at December 31, 2025, is covered by government credit guarantee schemes such as the credit guarantee fund trust for micro and small enterprises and the credit guarantee fund for micro units. These schemes offer partial credit guarantees to lenders such as us, further de-risking our portfolio and covering credit risk, more pronounced during macroeconomic shocks. Additionally, we also have risk sharing coverage with select partners covering 37.46% of our embedded finance AUM as on December 31, 2025. Combined coverage through government credit guarantee schemes and risk sharing amounts to 79.30% of our embedded finance portfolio as at December 31, 2025. Under ABF, we finance lease receivables against movable assets such as IT equipment and office furniture, securing our exposure through the financed asset. We perform rigorous credit underwriting to determine loan pricing according to risk profile, financial analysis, exposure, and historical payment behaviour. In addition, post disbursement borrower performance is continuously analysed to identify early warning signs through regular management information system ("MIS") reporting. Monitoring of transaction data is specifically applied in the case of embedded finance.

For loans to financial institutions, credit risk is assessed at the institutional level using both quantitative factors such as financial ratios, portfolio quality, and qualitative factors such as management and promoter background and governance practices. Collateral requirements are evaluated as part of the risk mitigation strategy and security is created which includes combination of charge on underlying receivables, cash collateral, and personal or corporate guarantees. Post disbursement, portfolio is continuously analysed across various parameters such as sector concentration, top borrowers, rating downgrades amongst others. Portfolio monitoring includes regular MIS and branch visits to track repayment performance and identify early warning signs.

Across all our products, these in-built measures ensure controlled delinquencies, even during periods of economic or borrower stress. This disciplined approach has yielded strong asset quality, with our Gross Carrying Amount (stage 3 loans) well-managed across reporting periods.

Collections

Maintaining control over asset quality is reinforced by the strong collection efficiency we achieve across our diverse product portfolio. Our dedicated collections team, consisting of 327 personnel and operating from 38 locations nationwide as at December 31, 2025, ensures broad reach and swift responsiveness. To sustain high repayment levels, we also leverage technology, data analytics, and proactive borrower engagement. Depending on the stage of default, we implement a multi-channel collection strategy, which may involve instant messaging communication application, tele-calling, issuing legal notices, and deploying experienced field collection agents or trusted vendor partners for in-person follow-up. These coordinated efforts consistently address challenges to timely collections and support our strong track record in safeguarding the health and sustainability of our loan book.

In-House Developed, AI-Enabled Technological Platform Across Entire Customer Value Chain

Our primary operations are underpinned by a proprietary technology platform, developed to manage the entire lending lifecycle right from origination and credit assessment to ongoing account management and collections. Since inception, technology has been central to our strategy, demonstrated by ongoing investment in our technology function, which grew from 114 professionals as at March 31, 2023 to 152 as at December 31, 2025. We have progressively embedded artificial intelligence and machine learning capabilities across this platform, deploying AI-driven modules at multiple stages of the customer value chain including origination, underwriting, verification, servicing, and collections.

We have established a closely integrated technology and operations structure, fostering an ‘AI-first automation’ approach. Continuous feedback loops between these teams facilitate the rapid identification and implementation of process enhancements, supporting scalable and efficient operational execution. This approach has enabled the development of AI-augmented solutions that improve turnaround times, enhance decision accuracy and contribute to operational resilience as the business grows.

Our in-house platform is designed around four foundational pillars, which collectively underpin our technology-led scalability and operational effectiveness as highlighted in the below infographic:

- Mobile-first philosophy: Both customers and sales teams benefit from anytime, anywhere access via our “InCred” mobile & web applications, available on major app stores, with dedicated interfaces for direct selling agents and internal field staff. Our primary emphasis is on delivering seamless and comprehensive service across channels, ensuring that users can engage with us effectively through both mobile and web channels.

- Custom workflows and flexible API framework: We enable rapid product launches and seamless integration with third-party providers, such as those used for collections, giving our business the ability to grow and move quickly. Our technology is designed to facilitate adding new features or making improvements with the goal of minimizing disruption to our services. This flexible framework also enables us to deploy AI-driven capabilities, such as intelligent document processing, automated verification, and predictive scoring into any product workflow rapidly and without rebuilding underlying systems.
- Modern scalable architecture: The system is designed for complex, large-scale operations, supporting multiple product lines and workflows, a growing customer base and ensuring business continuity as we scale. This architecture is inherently AI-ready, enabling us to integrate machine learning models and AI agents into production workflows with minimal incremental infrastructure investment.
- Centralised data repository: Our platform integrates data lake and warehouse capabilities, providing broad company-wide data access to enable informed, near real-time decision-making. This unified data layer also serves as the training and inference foundation for our machine learning models, supporting continuous model refinement using production data across all product verticals.

Leveraging these pillars, our platform underpins a variety of lending products, each supported by tailored digital processes with AI capabilities embedded at key decision points:

- Personal loans: The personal loan journey of our customers is supported by technology. This includes the initial loan application through the InCred iOS and Android mobile application, the machine-learning based underwriting process, guidance to keep the customer moving through the journey, disbursals, EMI repayment and on-going customer relationship management. Machine learning-based predictive analytics and automated workflows enhance efficiency, while AI-driven modules strengthen verification of banking, residence, and employment details. The workflow is personalised and number of steps a particular customer has to undertake depends upon the risk category they fall into, i.e., lesser number of checks for more credit-worthy customers enhancing their overall experience. On internal capability enhancement, our tech team works very closely with the analytics team to provide capabilities for running completely randomised and independent A/B tests for various experiments and sensitivity analysis, optimising risk and conversion. Our tech journey also includes intervention by skilled credit, fraud control or fulfillment professionals when the journey analytics triggers such a requirement and therefore facilitates a higher and more nuanced level of decision-making and customer experience.

The infographic sets forth a snapshot of our “InCred” mobile application:

- Student Loans: An in-house web interface manages loan applications and servicing. A scorecard-based underwriting engine, automation of essential data fields (such as college rankings and eKYC), and digital tools for both students and counsellors ensure swift processing with minimal manual intervention.

The infographic below sets forth a snapshot of our student loans journey:

- Secured Business Loans: In the Secured Business Loan vertical, technology plays a pivotal role in streamlining sourcing and credit assessment processes. Customer acquisition is facilitated through a native iOS and Android application, enabling our large frontline sourcing workforce to engage prospective customers efficiently in the field. This eliminates the need to rely on web-based platforms or for field personnel to return to branch offices, allowing for greater flexibility and productivity. The platform is integrated with account aggregator frameworks and digital vendor systems, which speeds up data collection and enables seamless access to verified information for onboarding. Artificial intelligence-driven “scan and auto fill” features support rapid extraction of details from unstructured documents and images, helping to accelerate KYC checks, reduce manual entry errors, and secure higher first-time-right rates. For address data, the application captures GPS coordinates of the property being provided as security and saves these coordinates with the loan record for reference and audit. Moreover, data entered by the frontline sourcing workforce is instantly transmitted to our loan origination system (LOS), providing credit managers with real-time access to new applications. This direct integration facilitates prompt risk assessment and credit decision-making, supporting quicker turnaround times without compromising the quality or robustness of due diligence. Through these focused technological enhancements, we continue to drive greater scalability, consistency, and transparency in our Secured Business Loans vertical.
- Specialised MSME Loans: We use technology across the value chain right from customer acquisition to escrow reconciliation, to post disbursement monitoring. Our API framework enables customised integration to consume data from partner platforms and marketplaces, enabling bespoke offers to sellers on such platforms based on their transactional data. Customer onboarding is digitised enabling native journey within partner ecosystem including KYC verifications, e-sign, e-Stamping, and fraud checks, amongst others. Post disbursement, unique virtual accounts are created for each customer, providing holistic visibility of seller's online transactional data on the platform such as sales, cash on delivery, and prepaid orders amongst others. Daily cash flow monitoring systems enable us to push our top ups to customer with growth trends and take early measures for sellers where business is declining. Our multi escrow reconciliation capability enables monitoring of multiple marketplace cash flows of the same customer, giving an edge to our early warning system. Automated same day refund mechanism ensures that the seller receives the sales proceeds from marketplaces on the same day post we debited the dues, if any.

Our centralised data platform provides near real-time access for multiple business needs, including compliance, upselling, and collections. It also enables continuous enhancement of credit risk performance by capturing operational experience and regularly refining our machine learning models and policies. This infrastructure helps our in-house teams make timely, informed decisions and deliver personalised customer experience.

Continuous investment in technology has empowered us to develop and deploy advanced machine learning models, optimise conversion rates, deliver fast turn around times, manage risk, inform pricing, dynamically calibrate loan sanction amounts, continually improve customer experience all helping to drive operating leverage. We have begun deploying autonomous AI agents at key points across the customer lifecycle. In origination, AI-powered voice and conversational agents handle lead qualification, inbound queries, and initial customer engagement, supplementing our telesales teams and enabling the function to scale without proportional headcount increases. In collections, we are deploying AI voice agents to execute pre-due reminders and early delinquency follow-ups, enabling a “shift-left” collections strategy that addresses potential delinquency earlier in the cycle, with the objective of improving recovery outcomes while reducing per-account collection costs. These deployments are being scaled progressively, with rigorous measurement of recovery rates and customer experience at each stage. This continued investment in technology helps us deliver healthy risk-adjusted returns across product verticals. As a full-stack lending platform, our technology and analytics teams work closely with business teams to ensure systems can quickly adapt to new opportunities or evolving customer preferences. This collaborative approach enables us to create or modify features in response to market demands, rather than being held back by legacy technology.

We have also invested in AI-augmented software development practices to amplify the capabilities of our technology team. Beyond AI-powered coding assistants deployed across all engineers and product managers, we have developed specialised AI agents that encode domain knowledge of our platform architecture, quality assurance standards, and testing protocols. These agents operate as autonomous participants in our software development lifecycle conducting architecture reviews, generating and executing test suites, and enforcing code quality standards, enabling our engineering pods to maintain high velocity and rigorous quality standards simultaneously. This approach allows a technology team of 152 professionals, as at December 31, 2025, to deliver output and maintain platform capabilities typically associated with significantly larger teams, contributing to favourable operating leverage in our technology function.

Throughout the loan lifecycle, AI-enabled collection methods are central to maintaining portfolio performance. These methods include automated payment instruments such as E-NACH or UPI Autopay for all Personal Loans facilitating timely repayments; auto-dialler-based telecalling which increases connect rates and ensures effective call coverage; GPS-based tracking of field agent visits providing verifiable data for on-the-ground activity; machine learning-driven optimisation of field agent deployment; AI-powered classification and prioritisation of collection cases; autonomous AI voice agents for pre-due and early-stage delinquency calling; and structured A/B testing of strategies, such as offering customised settlement proposals to maximise net collection rates.

Multi-Channel Distribution Network Driving Accessibility and Customer Engagement

We have adopted a multi-channel distribution strategy across our products, enabling customers to access our services through multiple touchpoints and supporting a strong presence as well as extensive reach across diverse geographies. Our distribution network is designed to offer convenience, flexibility, and personalised support, with channel mixes tailored to each product category to leverage their unique strengths.

The infographic below highlights our multi-channel distribution network:

Personal loans are sourced both directly through our mobile application and website, and also through our channel partners (DSAs, connectors, digital lending service providers, and embedded channels). Student loans are distributed through partnerships including educational consultants, test preparation centres, and student portals, as well as direct marketing and referrals from existing and former borrowers.

For Secured Business Loans, we employ a localised, cluster-based branch-led approach. As at December 31, 2025, this network comprised 158 branches across 19 states and union territories in India, with a focus on economically active areas where formal credit access is limited. Sourcing takes place primarily through our in-house feet-on-street (“FOS”) sales team. These teams supplement our branch network and ensure personalised customer engagement.

In embedded finance, lead generation happens through our partnership with business aggregator platforms and marketplaces such as food delivery and e-commerce platforms which provide sales and operational data to identify prospective customers. Our asset backed financing facilities are originated through self-sourced corporate leads as well as partnerships with leasing companies. Financial institution loans are originated and managed by our internal relationship management team.

By combining digital channels, partnerships, channel partners, and a robust, strategically optimised cluster-based branch structure, we efficiently meet diverse customer needs while expanding our reach across India. As at December 31, 2025, our distribution network, inclusive of direct and partner channels, enabled us to serve customers across over 17,000 unique pin codes nationwide.

Robust and Diversified Funding and Liability Management

We maintain a robust and well-diversified liability profile, which is instrumental in supporting our growth strategy and ensuring financial stability. We focus on diversifying our funding sources across a broad range of lenders, borrowing instruments, and tenors and implement robust ALM policies with the aim of further optimising our borrowing costs and help expand our net interest margin. Our lender base comprises not only banks, but also mutual funds, development financial institutions, corporates, and retail investors. We maintain a balanced product mix, which includes term loans, pass-through certificates, non-convertible debentures, market-linked debentures, inter-corporate deposits, co-lending arrangements, and commercial paper, among others. We believe this prudent and comprehensive approach to funding diversification enhances our resilience, optimises our cost of funds, and supports sustained business growth. Our total borrowings amounted to ₹ 101,637.64 million comprising primarily of term loans of ₹ 67,759.93 million, non-convertible debentures of ₹ 17,788.27 million, and other borrowings of ₹ 16,089.44 million as on December 31, 2025.

Our ongoing focus on enhancing our credit ratings has significantly strengthened our funding capabilities and expanded our access to a broad, diverse lender base. As at December 31, 2025, we maintained borrowing relationships with over 51 lenders, including public sector banks, private sector banks, mutual funds, development finance institutions, financial institutions, small finance banks, and non-banking financial companies. Our credit rating profile has strengthened over the reviewed periods, highlighted by a rating upgrade from CRISIL A+ / Stable for March 2023 to CRISIL AA- / Stable from March 2024 onward. As at December 31, 2025, we are assigned CRISIL AA- / Stable by CRISIL Ratings and our credit rating from ICRA Limited is ICRA AA- / Stable. These improved ratings reflect enhanced financial health. Furthermore, our asset portfolio comprises a balanced mix of short-term and medium-term assets that generate regular liquidity, resulting in cumulative positive gaps across all tenors within our structural liquidity buckets. This prudent approach underpins our financial stability and operational flexibility.

Our Key Growth Strategies

Our Board of Directors have approved the following growth strategies pursuant to a resolution dated May 6, 2026.

Scaling Our Existing Product Portfolio Through Channel and Category Expansion

We intend to drive growth across our multi-product platform by expanding our distribution channels, geographic presence, and customer categories. Our strategy is to deepen our presence in established channels while actively pursuing new avenues for customer engagement and acquisition. For personal loans, we will expand across categories and geographies with focus on engaging with specific customer sub-groups, such as self-employed professionals, and reaching new postal codes for broader coverage. We will also continue to focus on customer acquisition through various channels such as cross sell and new channel partnerships while optimising better conversions through risk innovations.

In the student loans business, we intend to broaden our sourcing channels by increasing the number of channel partners and by selectively expanding support for a wider range of academic and professional programmes (beyond traditional STEM fields), and beyond our current geographic focus. For secured business loans, while strengthening our recently opened branches, we will further expand our branch footprint and gradually enter new locations, particularly tier II and III towns, subject to evaluation of risk parameters and growth potential. Under Specialised MSME loans and lending to financial institution businesses, we will continue to add new partnerships and relationships, enabling access to diverse cash flow streams to support credit performance.

Introduce New Products and Verticals Through a Structured Product Development Process

We intend to strengthen our long-term growth trajectory by adopting a structured and disciplined product development process for introducing new products and verticals into our portfolio. Our approach involves identifying promising market opportunities, dedicating time to careful validation and development, and establishing robust operational frameworks and specialist teams before scaling up. For instance, our LAP business followed this approach and, after an initial phase of measured rollout, now benefits from a network of branches and established processes that support its continued expansion. We launched LAP in 2021 and followed a calibrated approach for first couple of years till we achieved product market fit. As a result, as at March 31, 2023, we had an AUM of ₹1,286.02 million through 9 branches. Once the framework was established, we significantly expanded our footprint by opening 109 branches during years ended March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2025, which enabled us to scale our AUM to ₹3,813.64 million as at March 31, 2024, and further to ₹5,869.19 million as at March 31, 2025. As at December 31, 2025, our LAP AUM stood at ₹8,607.18 million, supported by 139 branches. In line with this strategy, we may evaluate entering new product verticals through both organic and inorganic opportunities.

Continue To Develop Our Risk Management Processes Through Technology-Enabled Solutions and Improve Our Operating Efficiency

We intend to enhance our risk management framework to build greater resilience, efficiency, and adaptability across all aspects of our operations. Our strategy focuses on continuously refining risk assessment, underwriting, and monitoring processes by leveraging data analytics, artificial intelligence, and machine learning to improve credit evaluation accuracy and strengthen fraud detection capabilities. These tools help enable early identification and mitigation of potential risks and support a robust portfolio during varying market conditions. For instance, for personal loans, we plan to use multi-bureau scorecard and additional data points such as annual information statement and financial assets of the borrower to further enhance our underwriting. For Student Loans, while we recalibrate our internal scorecard model to better predict student's future employability potential, we will continuously monitor the evolving geo-political and macro-economic landscape to decide on our expansion strategy. For LAP, we will continue to focus on portfolio monitoring through measures such as hindsighting, audits and inter-branch reviews. Furthermore, technology will continue to serve as a key enabler for operational efficiency by streamlining loan origination, disbursement, and ongoing monitoring processes.

Through these targeted process and technology enhancements, we intend to proactively address emerging risks, adapt to dynamic market challenges, and achieve sustainable operational efficiencies, while attaining our broader risk management objectives.

Further Diversify Our Sources of Borrowings with a Prudent Approach to ALM

With a prudent approach to ALM, we maintain a well-diversified liability profile and have maintained a broad spectrum of lending relationships across banks and financial institutions. As part of our growth strategy, we are focused on strengthening and broadening our liability management practices by expanding and diversifying our borrowing base both in terms of number of lending relationships and different type of borrowing products. Furthermore, we intend to maintain a prudent mix of long and short term borrowings within our overall funding mix, which will provide stability and predictability to our financial position, thereby supporting sustained business growth and resilience. To further diversify our liability profile, we will continue to seek funding from a wide range of sources while maintaining a disciplined focus on the cost of borrowing.

Continue our Focus on Talent Acquisition, Capability Building, and Employee Retention

To sustain organisational growth, we remain committed to attracting and retaining talented employees, while continuously building their capabilities to meet evolving business needs. Our strategy includes providing targeted training and development programmes, designed not only to strengthen essential skills but also to keep employees informed about the cyber security best practices reflecting our positioning as a technology-driven company. These initiatives not only foster a culture of continuous learning but also ensure that our employees remain agile and ready to adopt new technological advancements. We further support motivation and long-term alignment by offering competitive incentives, including the continued award of ESOPs to eligible team members. Underpinning these initiatives is our strong focus on shaping and maintaining a culture rooted in our core values of high performance, continuous improvement, ownership, and integrity of our employees. By investing in our employees, we aim to deliver an enhanced customer experience and drive sustained business performance.

Principal NBFC lending business and products

A. Personal Loans

▪ Product Overview and Key Features

We offer personal loans primarily to creditworthy but underserved salaried individuals such as sales executives, teachers, and nurses amongst others, with a monthly income of typically more than ₹ 15,000 and average monthly income of more than ₹ 40,000. These are unsecured term loans with a fixed interest rate, which are repaid by equated monthly instalment (“EMIs”) over a defined tenure. While we offer a wide spectrum of loan ticket sizes, our average is typically ₹ 2 lakh with an average tenure of 45 months. The end use of the loan proceeds is typically to fund high-involvement but low-frequency use cases like home renovations, emergency medical treatments, family celebrations such as weddings, amongst others.

▪ Sourcing/ Origination

We follow a multi-channel approach for sourcing, i.e. an applicant seeking a loan can approach us either directly through the InCred website or mobile application (available on iOS and Android both) or through digital and analogue channel partners (including DSAs, connectors, digital lending service providers and embedded channels). Furthermore, our market offering is risk based, i.e., the underwriting and verification processes that are used to determine loan eligibility, and subsequently the fulfilment and disbursement processes, are basis customer risk profiling. Each of these channels is constantly re-evaluated to ensure that they provide the optimal balance of appropriately risked leads at an economical cost.

▪ Underwriting/Risk Management

Our personal loans vertical relies on a suite of proprietary machine-learning based underwriting models to assess the loan applicant's risk profile. These are robust statistically validated models that consume credit bureau data, digitised bank statement data, behavioural data from our InCred application that generates insight throughout the customer journey, data sources that assesses the applicant's ID quality, external data sources that assess the residence, employment stability verification through active EPFO account and credits, as well as fraud detection tools that detect document tampering, location spoofing, and other signs of adverse applicant intent. These models are trained and validated on more than eight years of relevant history.

The variables used in these models are machine-generated, but sanity checked by technical experts before being taken into production. The variables include not only simple intuitive signals like prior delinquency, text mining features to identify salary credits in the bank statement, but also complex variables such as variability of bank account usage, which signals the applicant's financial engagement. In addition to these variables, customers are also appraised basis quantitative parameters such as fixed obligation to income ratio ("FOIR") to ensure prudent repayment capacity. These models and the related data sources are continuously refreshed and revalidated, as a "Champion (existing)" model-suite is always being tested against a "Challenger (updated)" model-suite. These models are linked to the credit policy and product assignment framework based on a risk-based-pricing approach, which offers more attractive terms to lower risk loan applicants.

This analytical underwriting framework has steadily become more powerful, as the tools available have become more capable and as the underlying dataset have become both deeper and richer. This model is supported by traditional reviews and verifications by credit professionals, to address cases where the models flag risks that can be mitigated with skilled personalised interventions. Models that can use the customer's repayment behaviour with us are even more powerful than acquisition stage models in splitting risk and serve as powerful targeting and early-warning signals for collections and customer management.

The model-suite and the associated policies and processes are designed and developed by a qualified internal team, reviewed and validated by an independent function, and supervised by the Risk Management Committee.

The infographic highlights the key processes of our personal loans underwriting / risk management framework:

▪ Up-Selling

We offer existing high-quality customers, i.e., customers with a demonstrated track record of timely repayments, the opportunity to access additional loan financing through our upsell program. Leveraging our data analytics capabilities, we are able to deliver personalised loan recommendations with negligible incremental acquisition cost and within a rapid turnaround timeframe. As we have sharpened our focus on this program, upsell disbursements have grown significantly, rising from 6.74% for the year ended March 31, 2023 to 14.40% in the nine months period ended December 31, 2025. This data-driven approach is also reflected in the credit quality of our upsell portfolio as Gross Stage 3 loans for upsell customers stood at 1.29% as of December 31, 2025, compared to 2.79% for the overall Personal Loans portfolio, thereby underscoring the lower risk profile inherent in lending to pre-qualified, high-performing customers.

▪ Disbursement/Collections Process

Upon approval, an in-principle loan offer, containing key terms, is generated based on risk categories and upon execution of the digital loan agreement (including electronic signature), we disburse funds directly into the borrower's verified bank account, generally within two days. Setting up a NACH mandate for monthly repayments is mandatory for almost all disbursements.

▪ Collections Process

Our loans are supported by a NACH instrument in nearly all instances. The majority of collections are based on the presentation of the NACH instrument on the EMI due date (scheduled for the 5th of each month in majority of the cases). EMI payments through the InCred app, and advance EMI payments for up to five days before the EMI due date, are also enabled. If the EMI payment on the due date fails, an intensive Collections process starts working to ensure that the payments are received as soon as possible.

The Collections process starts with pre-due digital communications to remind the customers that the EMI payment is coming up. This is supported by targeted pre-due live calling, to maximise the number of accounts with a successful EMI payment. Subsequently, the customer is contacted through the tele-collections. This national capability includes both in-house and specialised vendor tele-calling teams that are equipped with dialer systems and lead tracking and management processes. Our calls are on recorded lines and are audited by a specialised team for both effectiveness and compliance.

Subsequently, field collection agencies are tasked with contacting the customer to prompt repayment. These are typically local agencies with a deep knowledge of the area. They are allocated leads through our internally managed software and are supervised by an experienced management team of 256 professionals as at December 31, 2025. The same agencies also manage post NPA Collections, which can include litigation to recover dues from borrowers who have the ability to repay, but not the intent.

B. Student Loans

Loans are available for amounts ranging primarily from ₹ 1 million to ₹ 10 million, offered typically at floating interest rates between 11% and 14%. Interest rates are risk graded, with stronger academic profiles and higher-ranked colleges and courses qualifying for more favourable rates. Loan tenures vary from 7 to 15 years, including a moratorium that covers the full study period plus an additional up to 12 months, with partial interest servicing typically required during this time. The loan covers tuition fees (in tranches as per fee schedule), living expenses, travel, books, laptops and related study expenses.

Disbursements are made in Indian Rupees primarily through two modes i.e., either to our empanelled forex vendors who in turn remit the tuition fees to colleges or to the student's debit freeze bank account in case funds are required to get reflected in student's bank account for getting visa approvals.

The table below sets forth details of disbursement by course type, both by amount and by percentage, during the relevant periods / years:

▪ Sourcing/origination

We source prospective borrowers through a combination of partner-driven leads and direct channels. Major lead generators include educational consultants, test preparation centres, and student portals as well as our own marketing campaigns and referrals from existing and former borrowers. The customer journey is enabled digitally, covering application, document upload, assessment, approval, disbursement, and ongoing account monitoring. Borrowers can track their application and loan status via an online dashboard. An in-house sales representative engages with and provides assistance to each applicant as well as the channel partner through the loan life-cycle. Living expenses are provided to students via forex card or remittance to their overseas account following documentation and compliance checks.

▪ Underwriting/risk management/collections

Our underwriting is centred around the academic merit of the borrower, the quality of the intended program of studies and the co-borrowers' financial profile. Supported by deep domain expertise and analytics, the student loan underwriting model is well diversified to cater to a host of different destination countries and universities, and comprises:

- Scorecard based holistic evaluation of the borrower - Students are evaluated across several factors including higher secondary and undergraduate performance, standardised examination scores such as Graduate Record Examination or Graduate Management Admission Test, English proficiency, previous employment history, amongst others.
- Comprehensive database-driven classification of programs of study - Our internal databases capture an internal risk rating of each study course, thereby providing a clear indication of the inherent risks to the underwriters.
- Future cash-flow based assessment - Our academic scorecards and internal program ratings combine to predict a projected income for each borrower post course-completion. Derived from internal and public data, this predictive model ensures that our borrowers are not over indebted.
- Co-borrower coverage - As a practice, each application includes two co-borrowers, typically the student's parents or guardians, whose financial strength is assessed as an additional credit comfort over and above the student's academic credentials and program ranking.

Standard due diligence includes KYC, bureau checks and academic and financial verification. Collateral is generally not required, except for high exposure cases or select programmes. For release of the second and subsequent tranches of the loan, we assess student's academic progress through documentary evidence of continued enrolment including class registration proof, invoices, demand letters, statement of accounts, transcripts etc. We follow risk-based pricing with interest rates assigned according to assessed risk. Repayments generally begin after the moratorium. Borrowers may accelerate repayment upon employment. The platform monitors repayments and provides ongoing customer service throughout the loan tenure.

C. Secured Business Loans

We offer a range of secured business loan products designed to support the diverse financial needs of small businesses and educational institutions. Our LAP product provides property-backed term loans to small businesses such as retail traders, shopkeepers, and manufacturers across 13 States and Union Territories in India as at December 31, 2025, enabling them to access working capital or finance business expansion. Additionally, our school financing solutions are tailored for affordable private K-12 schools, particularly in Tier-II and Tier-III cities, supporting infrastructural development and growth.

a. Product Overview / Key Features

Our LAP product is a secured term loan backed by residential (primarily) or commercial property and is typically availed for working capital, business expansion, or other productive purposes. Our typical borrower includes micro and small enterprise owners such as retail traders, shopkeepers, manufacturers, and salaried individuals with informal or semi-formal income. These customers often do not have audited financials but demonstrate viable business activity, ownership of immovable property, and consistent cash flow patterns. The LAP product is specifically designed to meet the credit requirements of these cash-generating but underserved customer categories, especially in Tier-II and Tier-III cities. As at March 31, 2025, our LAP portfolio AUM stood at ₹5,869.19 million, compared to ₹3,813.64 million as at March 31, 2024 representing 53.90% growth on year-on-year basis backed by increase in employee base (604 net hire during year ended March 31, 2025) and expansion in branch network (109 new branches opened during year ended March 31, 2025). Our LAP AUM as at December 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024 were ₹8,607.18 million and ₹4,887.05 million.

b. Sourcing/origination

As at December 31, 2025, our LAP business operated across 13 states and union territories, through a network of 139 branches focused on LAP sourcing. The table below sets forth region wise break-up of our branches as at December 31, 2025:

| Region | No. of branches |
|---------------|------------------------|
| North India   | 35                     |
| West India    | 21                     |
| Central India | 16                     |
| South India   | 66                     |
| East India    | 1                      |
| Total  | 139             |

Each LAP branch operates with a structured setup comprising:

- Branch Manager: Responsible for overall business delivery, portfolio collections, and branch administration. All Sales Officers report to the Branch Manager.
- Credit Manager: Handles credit appraisal, personal discussions, and customer due diligence. The Credit Manager reports to Area Credit Manager/Central Credit Manager within a separate hierarchy and is fully independent in credit decisions. The credit manager does not report to the branch manager, supporting robust credit governance.
- Sales Officers: Manage sourcing, documentation, and relationship management.

c. Sourcing Mix

Sourcing happens through a mix of direct and DSAs depending upon the branch location. Direct sourcing takes place through door-to-door campaigns, referrals, and local SME outreach initiatives. As reflected in our sourcing data, LAP disbursements directly sourced through our branch network stood at ₹3,104.00 million for the nine month period ended December 31, 2025, ₹1,201.04 million for the nine month period ended December 31, 2024, ₹2,353.76 million for the year ended March 31, 2025, ₹756.02 million for the year ended March 31, 2024 and ₹260.71 million for the year ended March 31, 2023. We have been focussing on increasing direct sourcing through our branch network. Directly sourced disbursements as a percentage of total disbursements contributed 84.33% and 71.29% for the nine month period ended December 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, respectively and 74.98%, 41.33% and 29.55% for the years ended March 31, 2025, March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023, respectively.

d. Cluster Branch Approach

Local branch presence enables stronger underwriting, shorter turnaround, and a better customer experience. Our decentralised credit structure empowers field teams with well-defined approval matrices. We follow a cluster based approach wherein branches are grouped into regional clusters, each managed by a cluster manager. Clusters typically comprise three to six branches. Branches operate within defined geographic limits to prevent overlap and drive accountability for specific areas.

Cluster management responsibilities include the following:

- Monitoring credit quality and turnaround time;
- Oversight of profitability and cost controls;
- Ensuring compliance and upholding credit standards;
- Conducting training and supporting team productivity; and
- Managing delinquency and collections.

e. Underwriting, risk management and collections

We follow a cash flow based underwriting framework that extends beyond reliance on formal documents such as income tax returns, audited financials, or bank statements to include surrogate income validation wherein income is triangulated through various means such as supplier and debtor reference checks, neighbourhood enquiries, and peer feedback from customers operating in similar trades. Multiple other elements are taken into consideration to assess the income of the borrower such as operational assessment including review of stock levels and electricity consumption patterns, analysis of banking transactions including cheque return history and cash deposit / withdrawal patterns, cross checking of GST returns, digital payment trails, and household and lifestyle evaluation. Every loan application undergoes a mandatory personal visit by a credit manager, ensuring direct verification of business activity, household stability, and borrower intent. This field-based approach enables us to assess repayment capacity with high accuracy, even where traditional income proofs are limited or unavailable. In addition to the above, our risk evaluation process for LAP incorporates thorough bureau checks to analyse repayment behaviour, delinquency patterns, and overall creditworthiness. We enforce a comprehensive risk control framework involving extensive field diligence both before and after disbursement ensuring meticulous verification of borrower residences, collateral adequacy, and physical infrastructure with risk control unit coverage for every proposal. To confirm property market values and condition, technical valuation reports are mandated, with dual evaluations required for higher-value loans. Legal title search reports from empanelled legal vendors validate clear ownership and property titles. Additionally, robust external due diligence, including legal litigation screening, political and criminal disclosures, mortgage searches, and online reputation assessments is rigorously conducted to identify potential fraud or compliance risks. To ensure healthy margin of safety, average loan-to-value limits for loans disbursed from April 1, 2022 till December 31, 2025 was maintained at 48.54%. Post disbursal, continuous early warning system tracking and fraud control through dashboards are performed to minimise delinquencies. Portfolio booking quality is rigorously monitored on a monthly basis by the hindsighting procedures and on-field audits by dedicated team. These teams conduct thorough cross-checks of all files to verify adherence to credit policies and carefully evaluate the justification for any deviations. Furthermore, infant delinquent cases are subject to on-site visits to detect any underwriting or procedural gaps. Based on these insights, timely corrective measures are implemented to ensure continuous improvement and upholding of high-quality standards. Periodic revaluation of collateral is carried out to validate its current market value, and maintain the overall quality and reliability of the collateral portfolio. Portfolio collections are handled by the branch manager and overdue cases are handled through legal and collections team via mechanism such as recourse through SARFAESI Act for eligible cases.

f. Strategic focus priorities

To ensure sustainable growth alongside robust asset quality, our LAP strategy is guided by several pillars and execution priorities:

|---------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Sales Productivity Optimisation | Track login rejections, strengthen first-time-right ratios, conduct regular branch-level reviews        |
| Branch Profitability            | Implement risk-based pricing, optimise sourcing, and control costs                                      |
| Credit Excellence               | Regular credit audits, post-disbursal quality checks, and inter-branch reviews                          |
| Tech Enhancement                | Ongoing digital upgrades to improve customer experience, turnaround times, and strengthen risk controls |

2. School Financing:

a. Product Overview / Key Features

Under the school financing product, we offer secured term financing primarily to privately operated K-12 schools in Tier-II and Tier-III cities for infrastructural expansion purposes such as addition of playgrounds, science laboratories or constructing hostel blocks. Our lending is backed by mortgages on land and buildings actively used by the institution. The product empowers institutions with predictable fee-based cash flows and established track records to finance their brownfield requirements, such as facility modernisation.

b. Sourcing and Origination

Our dedicated sales and credit teams based in major urban centres within eight key states/union territory (Delhi NCR, Haryana, Rajasthan, Gujarat, Andhra Pradesh, Telangana, Karnataka, and Tamil Nadu) proactively engage with educational institutions typically within an approximately 250 km radius of major cities. This centralised yet geography focused model supports efficient coverage, faster decision making and deep sectoral specialisation.

c. Underwriting, Monitoring and Collections

Our credit appraisal involves a robust underwriting process which includes in depth personal discussions by experienced credit teams, independent property valuations and legal due diligence, and evaluating institutional track record. We incorporate education sector specific validations to assess sustainability and repayment capacity of the institutions. Schools are evaluated against various parameters as per credit policy and accordingly disbursement is made. For instance, our portfolio as on December 31, 2025 had an average operational vintage of 17 years and average student strength of typically 1,600. Underwriting is based on cash flow assessments of borrower institutions derived basis fee flows and staff expenses across academic cycles through assessing various parameters such as student strength (attendance register, marksheets and fee collection receipt), fee structure, comparable fee levels in the catchment area, school amenities and facilities and infrastructure. The disbursed funds are tracked to confirm end-use for sanctioned purposes and post disbursal periodic reviews capture student enrolment updates, fee collections, and operational surpluses, supplemented by on-site inspections. These feed into the early warning systems and regular MIS dashboards for ongoing risk monitoring and proactive action. This integration of rigorous underwriting, proactive monitoring, and flexible collections enforces strong asset quality as the portfolio scales.

D. Specialised MSME Loans

We offer a suite of specialised loan products to address the unique needs of MSME and Mid-Corporate operating in multiple sectors. Our embedded financing solution provides working capital to vendors active on e-commerce marketplaces, restaurants partnered with food delivery platforms, and direct-to-consumer brands, enabling them to manage operational requirements and growth opportunities. Additionally, our asset backed financing loans are aimed at SME and Mid-Corporates, primarily sourced via asset leasing companies, and are secured against movable assets backed by lease receivables. These tailored offerings reflect our commitment to supporting the evolving financial needs of MSME and Mid-Corporates in emerging and technology-enabled industries.

1. Embedded Financing

a. Target customers/key features

We provide business loans primarily to MSME merchants operating on business aggregator platforms and marketplaces such as food delivery and e-commerce platforms. Eligible borrowers include digitally enabled enterprises, direct-to-consumer brands, and technology companies.

b. Sourcing/origination

Eligible customers receive financing offers via their respective business aggregator or marketplace dashboards. Platform integrations enable pre-approved offers based on cash flows using operational data. The lending process relies on an integrated technology infrastructure, including API connectivity with aggregator platforms for real-time sales and transaction data. Customers are presented with offers detailing loan amount, pricing, and tenure. On acceptance, onboarding is completed through digital verification, e-signature, and e-stamping of loan documentation. Disbursals are processed quickly, usually within 24 hours, offering borrowers prompt access to funding.

c. Underwriting, Risk and Collections

We employ vertical-specific scorecards for credit assessment, incorporating factors such as business verticals, transaction history, repayment behaviour, and other risk indicators. Our partnerships with aggregator platforms allow for underwriting based on alternative data, including sales volatility, customer feedback and ratings, repeat purchase frequency, and product return rates. For certain borrower types, we also consider metrics such as equity raise history, cash burn, operational runway, recurring revenues, growth rates, and working capital cycles. Our relationship managers validate applicant credentials and eligibility through comprehensive, data-driven approach supporting tailored eligibility assessments and loan terms. Repayments are structured as monthly EMIs, typically collected through escrow and direct debit arrangements via NACH integration. Post disbursal, borrower performance is continuously monitored through analytics and transaction data from aggregator platforms. Collections for initial delinquencies is handled by the tele-collections team with later buckets handled through a specialised legal and collections team.

One of the key risk defences that we have in the embedded finance vertical is escrow structure for select aggregator platforms and marketplaces. Our arrangements with aggregator platforms enable us to establish a lien on future sales on these platforms, allowing loan repayment directly from ongoing business revenues. This structure offers security by tying repayment to the merchant's business performance. Real-time performance monitoring allows for early identification of potential stress and supports proactive engagement with borrowers if business volumes decline. Enhanced visibility also enables timely credit limit increases for merchants demonstrating growth. Another risk mitigation here is coverage under government guarantee schemes such as the Credit Guarantee Fund for Micro Units and the Credit Guarantee Fund Trust for Micro and Small Enterprises for eligible portfolio. As at December 31, 2025, 41.84% of our embedded finance portfolio is secured under these schemes. Additionally, we also have risk sharing coverage with selected partners covering 37.46% of our AUM as at December 31, 2025. Combined coverage through government credit guarantee schemes and risk sharing amounts to 79.30% of our embedded finance portfolio as at December 31, 2025.

2. Asset Backed Financing ("ABF")

a. Product overview/key features

Under this vertical, we finance lease receivables (primarily against movable assets) for companies with asset-backed revenue streams. Here, we provide lease financing facilities in which we discount lease rentals between the borrower and leasing company. Security is generally created over business assets such as IT equipment and furniture & fixture. Tenures generally range from 12 to 60 months and loans are repayable through monthly or quarterly amortisations.

b. Sourcing/origination

Origination is through self-sourced corporate leads as well as partnerships with leasing companies. Applicants are engaged through dedicated relationship managers. After submitting financial and business information, they proceed through credit assessment, documentation, disbursement, and periodic repayments, with support from account management teams.

c. Underwriting/risk management/collections

All loans undergo detailed credit and risk assessments, including financial analysis, collateral valuation, portfolio stress testing, and compliance checks. We apply a rigorous credit assessment and require security over qualifying assets. Upon approval, funds are disbursed following execution of security and loan documentation. Here rate of interest is determined by risk profile, exposure, and historical payment behaviour. Repayments are typically structured on a monthly or quarterly basis, automated through standing instructions or direct debit mechanisms. Missed payments are managed with a defined collection protocol, including reminders and legal action, when needed.

E. Loans to Financial Institutions (“FIs”)

a. Product overview/key features

We offer secured term loans to RBI regulated NBFCs to support their onward lending across multiple categories such as consumer, vehicle, gold, business loans and loans against property among others. FI loans are structured as term loans, typically with fixed interest rates and tenures mostly ranging from 6 to 36 months. Ticket sizes and tenure are determined based on the borrowing institution’s business model, asset profile, size, and cash flow patterns.

b. Sourcing/origination

All FI loans are directly sourced by an internal team of relationship managers who engage, assess, and manage institutional client relationships.

c. Underwriting/approval process

The underwriting process is institution-centric and involves comprehensive evaluation of the quantitative factors such as prospective borrower’s financial statements, portfolio quality, capital adequacy, and qualitative aspects such as promoter and management background and governance practices. Portfolio analytics, stress testing, and borrower-level exposure analysis form part of the credit appraisal process. Interest rates are risk-graded and aligned with market benchmarks to reflect the institution’s credit profile and prevailing market conditions. Security is created by a combination of cash collateral, underlying receivables, and personal or corporate guarantees for appropriate credit protection and alignment of interests. Upon approval and completion of loan agreements and security documentation, funds are disbursed directly into the NBFC’s operating account. Periodic reviews of exposures, sector concentrations, and portfolio diversification are carried out to maintain prudent risk management practices and support sustainable portfolio growth. Portfolio monitoring includes regular management information system reporting, audits, and branch visits to track repayment performance and identify early warning signs.

Our Collections Operating Framework

Collections is a core part of our operating model, and we have structured collections to serve all products and business verticals under the supervision of the national Head of Collections. Our operating model includes distinct verticals within Collections for each product, supported by central collections, which manages legal matters, technology systems, quality control, training, and compliance across these verticals. Management spans National, Zonal, City, and Branch levels, with operational teams composed of both in-house staff and accredited tele-collections and field-collections agencies. We operate tele-collections from three zonal hubs in Greater Mumbai, Bengaluru, and Delhi/NCR, which cover the West, South, North, and East regions and meet language requirements as needed. Most collections are completed via digital payments options such as NACH, payment gateway, UPI, and bank transfers. Our process covers pre-collections (reaching out to customers before the EMI due date), tele-collections, field-collections, recoveries, and litigation. We oversee and monitor the full collections process using technology: our calls with customers are recorded, and field visits are tracked with the collections app, which also issues immediate payment receipts. We use several artificial intelligence-powered scorecards to manage Collections, drawing on repayment histories, credit bureau data, contact information, and feedback from earlier interactions. For accounts classified as non-performing assets, our focus is on maximising recovery through all available legal and reporting processes, including repossession of collateral, arbitration, and legal actions under the SARFAESI Act, the Negotiable Instruments Act 1881, and the Payments and Settlement Act 2007. Central Collections is responsible for training of all personnel, monitoring calls and visits, managing settlement offers and agency billing, and maintaining necessary infrastructure.

The infographic below provides a summary of our collection framework:

Risk Management

Risk management is a core aspect of our operations and strategic oversight. Given the nature of our business and the operating environment, we are exposed to a range of risks, including credit, market, operational, liquidity, cybersecurity, interest rate and regulatory risks. Our Board of Directors, assisted by the Risk Management Committee, including sub-committees of Senior Management - Integrated Risk Committee covering ICAAP, Operational Risk, Fraud Risk and other risks, Finance Committee, IT Security and IT Steering Committee), Audit Committee, Asset Liability Committee (“ALCO”), Customer Grievance Management Committee and Wilful Defaulters Review Committee supervise our risk identification, monitoring, and mitigation activities.

We have established documented risk management policies and procedures that we review and update to comply with regulatory requirements, including RBI guidelines for NBFCs. Our framework involves structured assessments of key processes and outcomes, with regular internal and external audits to ensure compliance. Liquidity risk is managed under our asset-liability management and resource planning policies, with ALCO responsible for monitoring asset and liability profiles and maintaining financial stability. Risk Management Committee of our Board also has oversight on the liquidity risk management and ensures identification, control and mitigation of liquidity risks through review of integrated risk systems, operational procedures, strategies and mechanisms. As at December 31, 2025, our risk management team consisted of 33 employees, led by Chief Risk Officer of our wholly owned subsidiary IFSL, Mallika Mittal.

We continuously evaluate our risk management systems. Our Board and committees oversee ongoing assessments, and independent auditors review risk controls and business processes. The Audit Committee reviews the risk management framework and discusses the findings of the risks, and we implement any necessary actions, if required. Observations from external and regulatory bodies are monitored as part of our governance framework. Our risk management architecture supports timely identification and response to risks, maintaining a capital adequacy ratio above regulatory requirements and supporting business growth.

Risk Management Framework

Our risk management framework covers identification, assessment, mitigation, monitoring, and reporting of key risks which amongst others include fraud, operational, internal capital adequacy assessment process, regulatory and compliance risk, legal risk, technology and information security risk, strategic risk and reputation risk. We apply governance mechanisms under relevant policies, based on regulatory and internal standards. Risk management is embedded in our transactions and activities.

We follow the three lines of defence model to structure our risk management:

- First line of defence – Implementation: Business units have primary accountability for recognising and managing operational, credit and compliance risks, and for implementing necessary corrective actions. These units include sales, credit underwriting, product, technology and operations, treasury, analytics and collections. (“Pillar 1”);
- Second line of defence – Identification, monitoring, and control: The second line includes risk management, operational risk including outsourcing risk, policy management, credit risk management including portfolio monitoring, risk analytics, model governance, information security, finance and compliance. This group coordinates and oversees the first line. (“Pillar 2”); and
- Third line of defence – Independent assurance: The internal audit function is independent of both business and risk functions, and it performs evaluations and assessments of the first two lines of defence, using results to further develop our audit approach. (“Pillar 3”).

Our Risk Management Policy, along with other board-approved policies, governs key risk areas including:

Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk of default on debt that may arise from a borrower failing to make required payments. In the first resort, the risk is that of the lender and includes lost principal and interest, disruption to cash flows, and increased collection costs. All credit risk relating to any product/ exposure is governed by the respective Credit Policy. The Credit Policy outlines types of products, customer categories, target customer profile, credit approval process, exposure limits etc. The Credit Policy is approved by the Board of Directors or by delegated authority by Risk Management Committee / Board. Similarly, the authority matrix for approval of credit limits is approved by the Board of Directors or by any committee or by any official(s) to whom the Board of Directors may delegate such authority. The health of the credit portfolio is monitored and presented to Risk Management Committee.

Internal capital adequacy assessment

We follow the ICAAP as required under the RBI’s framework for NBFCs. The process identifies and measures all applicable risks and assesses overall capital adequacy. ICAAP covers credit and operational risk (Pillar 1) and, through quantitative and qualitative assessments, other risks such as liquidity, market, compliance, strategic, reputation, information technology, and model risk (Pillar 2). We continuously monitor risk appetite thresholds and perform ICAAP half yearly and report to the Risk Management Committee on periodic basis. Detailed ICAAP document outlining capital adequacy of the Company under normal and stressed scenarios based on audited financials and board approved projected financials are reviewed and approved by the Board on Annual basis before submission for RBI review. The Risk Management Committee monitors ICAAP outcomes and advises the Board on capital planning. Risk management is governed through a policy and further risk-related policies.

Operational risk

Operational risk refers to the risk of loss arising from inadequate or failed internal processes, systems, people (including human error), or from external events. We track loss events and conduct thorough analyses to assess risk. Our assessments evaluate control effectiveness and identify any gaps or inefficiencies. Continuous monitoring involves self-assessments and key risk indicators. We enhance controls, automate processes, and deliver regular staff training. New products or product modifications undergo review by a dedicated New Product Committee. Additionally, outsourced activities are regularly evaluated in accordance with our outsourcing policy. The entire process of operational risk management is governed by our Board approved Operational Risk Management Framework and applicable RBI guidance note.

Reputational risk

Reputational risk refers to potential negative impacts on our public image or brand. We evaluate internal and external factors that may affect reputation through monitoring of risk thresholds under the ICAAP framework and other governance procedures. We use data analysis and sentiment monitoring tools to track public opinion on social media, in customer feedback, and in media coverage, so that issues can be identified and addressed promptly.

Strategic risk

Strategic risk is the risk to our long-term objectives from changes in market or regulatory conditions, customer preferences, or strategic decision-making. Senior Management uses a risk management framework to identify, assess, and prioritise these risks, supported by market analysis and internal reviews. Each financial year, we present an Annual Operating Plan to the Board that sets out our strategy and projections.

Technology and information security risk

This includes information and system risks that may impact confidentiality, integrity, or availability. We identify, assess, and prioritise these risks and update our response strategies as needed. We routinely report technology and cybersecurity matters to the Risk Management Committee and IT Strategy Committee, including outages, security compliance, preventive tools/ techniques and security systems and manpower and incident response. We use monitoring tools to detect threats and incidents in real time.

Regulatory and compliance risk

Regulatory risk refers to the risk of non-compliance with legal or regulatory requirements. We identify this by monitoring regulatory changes, audit findings, and compliance breaches. The Chief Compliance Officer disseminates regulatory guidelines and oversees compliance. We analyse compliance risks in all products and processes, with enhanced monitoring during new product launches. Internal audits and external legal reviews support compliance. Compliance reports are presented quarterly to the Risk Management Committee and Board. Compliance and regulatory risk are governed under the Risk Management Policy.

Legal risk

Legal risk results from potential legal actions or non-compliance with laws. We assess this risk by reviewing case outcomes, contract terms, and ongoing litigation. We manage legal risk with contract reviews, legal consultations, and standard documentation. Significant matters are reviewed by the Board or management as needed.

Fraud Risk

Fraud prevention uses teams and technology to detect and limit fraud. Our framework includes screening, sampling, quality monitoring, fraud detection patterns, enterprise de-duplication, data velocity rules, digital KYC, and contact point verification including geography and market reference-based intelligence checks and other evolving techniques tools implemented from time to time. We apply early warning systems, root cause analysis, staff accountability checks and corrective action outcome of fraud investigation process and incorporate learnings in our policy and sourcing. Reported frauds go through the Fraud Review Committee, which then refers them to the Integrated Risk Committee.

Technology Platform

We operate a fully cloud-based technology platform ensuring a secure, scalable and integrated experience. Our systems are modular and distributed, so we can adjust server capacity within minutes as business needs change. By building on modern architecture from the start, we did not face issues linked to older legacy systems. This architectural foundation has also positioned us to integrate artificial intelligence capabilities natively across our platform and workflows, rather than retrofitting AI onto legacy infrastructure.

We use a ‘Lego brick’ approach for our technology modules, where each module can be combined or reused as needed for various products and services. Our core technology platform is built, managed, deployed, and maintained by our own engineering team while we utilise several third-party vendors for specific functionalities such as calling their APIs to acquire data and process it within our workflows. This platform leverages a mix of proprietary, open-source, and managed services hosted on an outsourced cloud platform. When we need to launch a new product or workflow, we build or edit the required processes using a graph database and deploy within days, supporting multiple types of products on the same platform. This composable architecture enables us to rapidly embed AI-driven capabilities, such as intelligent document ingestion, automated verification, and predictive analytics into any product workflow without rebuilding underlying systems.

For data handling, we use a ‘delta lake’ foundation. This lets us avoid the delays and manual steps found in traditional data systems and gives us close to real-time access. Risk policies and controls are managed directly by our risk teams, with all approved changes reflected right away. This real-time data infrastructure also serves as the foundation for our machine learning models, enabling continuous model training and refinement using production data.

Our proprietary technology stack supports end to end loan workflow from application to underwriting and verifications to disbursal to post disbursal functions such as payment processing, documentation and data management, customer service or partner interactions.

We build, deploy, and update systems through automated pipelines for continuous integration and deployment. This lets us make changes and release updates quickly, without affecting ongoing operations. We have accelerated our software development lifecycle by deploying AI-powered coding assistants across our entire technology team, encompassing both engineers and product managers. We are continually optimising our software development life cycle (SDLC) using pull request (PR) cycle time i.e., the total duration from the moment work begins on an issue (status changed to in progress) until the task is marked as done as our metric and expect it to further improve leveraging AI technologies.

Between March 31, 2025, and December 31, 2025, our active customers increased from 424,886 to 504,190, and our AUM grew from ₹125,850.74 million to ₹144,478.59 million. Concurrently, our technology headcount reduced from 165 as of March 31, 2025, to 152 as of December 31, 2025. We believe that this business growth, achieved alongside a leaner technology team is attributed to the increased integration of AI-led solutions across our processes. Finally, engineers are also responsible for maintaining their own code in production by providing “tech support”. This approach means teams see and resolve real-world issues directly, which supports ongoing improvement via fast feedback loops.

The infographic set forth below highlights certain key aspects of our technology platform:

Note: App downloads and ratings as on the date of this UDRHP-I.

We organise our technology team into small teams called “pods”. Each pod has a specific business impact or objective that they are asked to deliver, and they do it by developing new feature or making enhancements to parts of our systems. Management is responsible for deciding which pods are formed, their objective and assigning staff and resources to them, based on business priorities. After this alignment, the pod can act in an empowered manner and move as fast as possible. This structure speeds up time to market by pushing decision-making down the organisation wherever possible and appropriate. We have adopted a strategy of maintaining disciplined team sizes while amplifying individual productivity through AI tooling, enabling our technology function to scale output in line with business growth without proportional headcount increases. Every engineer, regardless of which pod they are in, is responsible for both the architecture (which ensures security, stability, scalability, and maintainability of the platform) and for building new features and enhancements. This structure means responsibility for quality and improvements is shared across the whole technology team. This, along with the requirement to provide tech support, ensures a high degree of accountability and ownership by the pod for what it delivers.

Since our operations require regular processing and retention of significant volumes of data, our digital infrastructure is subject to privacy and cybersecurity risks such as unauthorised access or data leakage, system intrusions and cyber-attacks. Hence, security is built into our platform. We use a layered security approach, such as automated vulnerability scans and code analysis, cloud network separation, multi-factor authentication, and web application firewall protections. We conduct regular penetration tests to drive continuous improvement in our security. We encrypt sensitive data both at rest and in transit, control access tightly, and monitor threats around the clock using our security operations centre.

For further details in relation to risks associated with our technology platform see “Risk Factors – 50. Any actual or perceived breach of privacy or data security, or failure to comply with evolving data protection laws, could adversely impact our business, reputation, and financial performance.” on page 55.

We regularly benchmark our platform’s operations through both internal and external reviews with our cloud partners and cost checks across services, actively measuring unit costs to identify improvement opportunities. We have also begun deploying AI-driven approaches to optimise platform operations and increasing operations productivity multifold in some instances and reduce reliance on or replace commoditised third-party SaaS tools by selectively building equivalent capabilities in-house, contributing to continuous cost compression. Innovation comes from both structured processes and the willingness to experiment with new trends, while frugality helps us optimise both costs and performance.

We review our technology, operations, and security posture regularly through monthly, quarterly, and half-yearly meetings involving leadership and specialist councils. Each pod develops six-month operating plans, and we maintain governance through committees involving our board and key leaders.

Finally, the integrated structure of the technology team (comprising engineers, quality assurance engineers, designers, and product managers), operations, and customer service further ensures a focus on driving continuous improvement of processes. It ensures fast feedback about the customer experience and any issues, allowing us to address them promptly. Below is an illustrative summary of our team size as at December 31, 2025, December 31, 2024, March 31, 2025, March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023:

Treasury Operations and Funding

Our treasury operations are mainly focused on raising funds for meeting our debt requirements and managing short term surpluses. We maintain a well-diversified funding profile driven by our commitment to prudent ALM. We have maintained a broad spectrum of lending relationships across public sector banks, private sector banks, multi-national banks, NBFCs, mutual funds and corporate treasuries. This helps mitigate risks related to liquidity, maturity mismatches, interest rate and concentration, and ensures access to liquidity to meet our financing needs. Our treasury team plays an important role in supporting our strategic growth by actively managing liquidity and sourcing cost-effective funding. Through robust relationship management and ongoing engagement with lending partners, the team has successfully expanded our pool of lenders from 33 as at March 31, 2023 to 51 as at December 31, 2025. This broadening of our lender base has enhanced funding diversity, optimised borrowing costs, and supported business growth objectives. The table below sets forth details of instrument wise total borrowings as a percentage of total borrowings as at the particular date:

Advertising and Marketing

With the varied product and customer categories that we cater to, our marketing approach strikes a balance across both digital and traditional methods to reach a wider audience and achieve diverse marketing goals that support our brand strategy and expansion efforts in the competitive financial services market. Our efforts include identifying the right opportunities for brand visibility, creating tailored digital campaigns for customer acquisition and retention, supporting on-ground sales events and leveraging social media platforms among others. By utilising sophisticated division, targeting, and positioning techniques, we are able to tailor products and communications to varied demographic categories, including both urban and semi-urban customers. We have also engaged in content-driven outreach, publishing educational material to raise awareness about financial solutions and responsible borrowing, while building customer trust and confidence.

Our recent marketing initiatives includes the announcement of our association with cricketer Shreyas Iyer as our brand ambassador, and the launch of our long-term brand positioning campaign called ‘Ask InCred’ to promote financial literacy.

Multi-Channel Customer Access and Support Infrastructure

We operate a centralised customer service infrastructure across all primary interaction channels, including voice calls, emails, live chat, and social media. Customers can contact us through several designated touchpoints: call centre, branch walk-ins, mobile application, instant messaging apps, and our website.

Our regional support teams provide assistance in local languages, so customers in different states can communicate in their preferred language. We issue all key customer communications including welcome letters, and loan agreements in major regional languages for clear understanding.

Technology-driven service management and quality assurance

Our Customer Relationship Management (“CRM”) system logs and categorises all customer queries, requests, and complaints. Each interaction receives a unique ticket number and an automated acknowledgement.

We use Generative Artificial Intelligence to classify inbound emails in real time, which allows for early identification and prioritisation of complaints. We monitor customer satisfaction through Customer Satisfaction surveys.

We apply quality assurance protocols for voice and email interactions to monitor service quality and identify points for improvement.

Hierarchical grievance redressal and regulatory compliance

We apply a multi-level grievance redressal process, overseen by a Principal Nodal Officer and supported by regional nodal touch points in the North, West, and South of India. This structure supports escalation and closure of customer grievances.

Under RBI requirements, all rejected complaints are reviewed by an internal ombudsman, with routing managed by our CRM system. Our service and grievance handling frameworks follow the Fair Practice Code and guidelines issued by regulatory bodies.

We have a unit within the customer service function to attend to queries from lending service providers to ensure compliance and resolution.

Customer engagement

We offer self-service options at all times through our mobile application, interactive voice response system, chatbots, and email bots. These tools allow customers to generate documents such as statements of account and repayment schedules. In addition, we have multiple payment channels, including NACH-based payments, payment gateways, Unified Payments Interface, and virtual accounts. Communications are sent to customers throughout their journey, including welcome letters, loan agreements, periodic reminders, KYC reminders, and fraud awareness messages. Customers meeting defined eligibility requirements may access specific pre-approved loan facilities through our mobile application.

Competition

We face competition from a variety of financial services companies, including other non-banking finance companies, fintech lending platforms, private unorganised lenders, traditional banking institutions, any of which may also be affiliates of established brands and conglomerates. We aim to ensure that the interest rates and other terms and conditions of our loan products are competitive against the terms offered by our competitors, which vary by product, market as well as target borrower. Our ability to understand customers helps us determine pricing of these products, which in our opinion sets us apart from our peers. Our current interest rates fairly compensate for the risks associated with this sector.

Furthermore, certain competitors may have advantages in accessing lower-cost funding, adopting innovative technologies, and achieving operational efficiencies, all of which may strengthen their ability to compete effectively against us.

For further information, see “Risk Factors – 22. We operate in a highly competitive industry and our inability to compete effectively may adversely affect our business, reputation, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition” on page 41.

A company categorized as an NBFC is required to have a net owned fund of ₹2.5 million or such other amount, not exceeding ₹1,000 million, as the RBI may, by notification in the official gazette, specify from time to time. Further, NBFCs are required to obtain a certificate of registration from the RBI prior to commencement of the business as a non-banking financial institution.

3. Key regulations applicable to all NBFCs

Master Direction – Reserve Bank of India (Non-Banking Financial Companies - Registration, Exemptions and Framework for Scale Based Regulation) Directions, 2025 (“Scale Based Regulations”)

The Scale Based Regulations divide NBFCs into four layers based on their size, activity, and perceived risk. The lowest layer is the base layer (NBFC-BL), followed by the middle layer (NBFC-ML), upper layer (NBFC-UL) and top layer (NBFC-TL).

- Upper layer – The upper layer comprises the top ten NBFCs in terms of asset size, irrespective of any other factor and certain other NBFCs specifically identified by the RBI based on parameters set out in the Scale Based Regulation.
- Top layer – The Master Directions require the top layer to remain empty unless, in the opinion of the RBI, there is a substantial increase in the potential systemic risk from specific NBFCs in the upper layer. Such NBFCs will be moved from the upper layer to the top layer.

Our Company is classified as NBFC-ML.

Under the Scale Based Regulations, all regulations applicable to an NBFC-BL are also applicable to an NBFC-ML, unless specified otherwise. Further, from October 1, 2022, all references to NBFC-ND (i.e., non-systemically important non- deposit taking NBFC) shall mean NBFC-BL and all references to NBFC-D (i.e., deposit taking NBFC) and NBFC-ND-SI (systemically important non-deposit taking NBFC) shall mean NBFC-ML or NBFC-UL, as the case may be.

The rate of interest, the approach for gradations of risk and rationale for charging different rate of interest to different categories of borrowers are required to be disclosed to the borrower or customer in the application form and communicated explicitly in the sanction letter.
- ii. The rates of interest and the approach for gradation of risks are also required to be made available on the website of the NBFCs or published in the relevant newspapers. The information published on the website or otherwise published is required to be updated whenever there is a change in the rates of interest.
- iii. The rate of interest must be annualised rate so that the borrower is aware of the exact rates that would be charged to the account.

Although rates of interest charged by NBFCs are not regulated by the RBI, rates of interest beyond a certain level may be seen to be excessive. Board of directors of NBFCs shall lay out appropriate internal principles and procedures in determining interest rates and processing, penal and other charges. In this regard, the guidelines indicated in the Fair Practices Code about transparency in respect of terms and conditions of the loans are to be kept in view.

Accounting Standards

Accounting Standards and guidance notes issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India are required to be followed by NBFCs insofar as they are not inconsistent with any of the provisions of the Directions on the Presentation and Disclosures of the Financial Statements. NBFCs that are required to implement Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) as per the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 shall prepare their financial statements in accordance with Ind AS notified by the Government of India and shall comply with the regulatory guidance specified in these directions. The Responsible Business Conduct Directions prohibit regulated entities, which include NBFCs, from introducing any additional component to the rate of interest and stipulate that all NBFCs shall formulate a Board approved policy on penal charges or similar charges on loans. The quantum of penal charges shall be reasonable without being discriminatory within a particular loan or product category. In addition to being displayed on the NBFCs’ website, the quantum and reasons for penal charges shall be clearly disclosed by the NBFCs to the customers in the loan agreement and the key fact statement.

Reset of Floating Interest Rate on Equated Monthly Instalments (EMI) based Personal Loans

At the time of sanction of EMI based floating rate personal loans, NBFCs are required to take into account the repayment capacity of borrowers to ensure that adequate headroom is available for elongating the tenor or increasing the EMI. In order to address consumer grievances related to elongation of loan tenor or increases in the EMI amount, the notification requires NBFCs to put in place appropriate policy frameworks to meet the following requirements:

- i. at the time of sanction, clearly communicating to the borrowers about the possible impact of change in interest rate on the loan that can lead to changes in the EMI and/or the tenor. Subsequently, any increase in the EMI / tenor or both on account of the above shall be communicated to the borrower immediately through appropriate channels;
- ii. at the time of the reset of interest rates, providing the option to the borrowers to switch over to a fixed rate as per their Board approved policy;

The Declaration of Dividend Regulations also prescribe to the board of directors of the NBFCs to consider the decision to roll out dividends in light of certain definite factors, such as, (i) supervisory findings of the RBI on divergence in classification and provisioning of NPAs, (ii) qualifications in the auditors report to the financial statements; and (iii) long term growth plans of the NBFC. In terms of the RBI KYC Directions, NBFCs shall duly adopt a KYC policy which is duly approved by the board of directors or a duly constituted committee thereof. The KYC policy formulated in terms of the RBI KYC Directions is required to include four key elements, namely, customer acceptance policy; risk management policy; customer identification procedures; and monitoring of transactions. All NBFCs are required to ensure compliance with the KYC policy through specification of who constitutes ‘senior management’ for the purpose of KYC compliance; allocation of responsibility for effective implementation of policies and procedures; independent evaluation of the compliance of KYC and anti-money laundering policies and procedures; concurrent/internal audit system to verify the compliance with KYC and anti-money policies and procedures; and submission of quarterly audit and compliance to the audit committee. The RBI KYC Directions further require that such programmes shall include adequate safeguards on the confidentiality and use of information exchanged, including safeguards to prevent tipping-off. The RBI KYC Directions have also issued instructions on sharing of information while ensuring secrecy and confidentiality of information held by NBFCs. The NBFCs must also adhere to the reporting requirements under Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act and Common Reporting Standards and ensure compliance with requirements/obligations as per applicable provisions of the Unlawful Activities Prevention (“UAPA”) Act, 1967. In the accounts opening procedure by NBFCs, in case a person who desires to open an account is not able to produce documents, NBFCs may at their discretion open accounts subject to certain conditions, including monitoring of the account.

The RBI KYC Directions require NBFCs to undertake enhanced due diligence measures for non-face-to-face onboarding of customers, without meeting the customer physically or through V-CIP, through use of digital channels such as CKYCR, DigiLocker, equivalent e-document, etc., and non-digital modes such as obtaining copy of officially valid documents certified by additional certifying authorities as allowed for NRIs and PIOs. Additionally, RBI KYC Directions also instruct on ensuring meticulous compliance with Weapons of Mass Destruction and their Delivery Systems (Prohibition of Unlawful Activities) Act, 2005 as well as the recent amendments to the Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002 and the Prevention of Money-Laundering (Maintenance of Records) Rules, 2005. The RBI KYC Directions also instruct in relation to wire transfers (including (i) information requirements for wire transfers, and (ii) responsibilities of regulated entities effecting wire transfers), and to align the guidelines contained in the RBI KYC Directions with the relevant recommendations by the Financial Action Task Force. The RBI KYC Directions require NBFCs to obtain additional or updated information from any customer, to furnish the updated information to Central Know Your Customer Record Registry ("CKYCR") within seven days of the commencement of the account-based relationship. NBFCs are mandated to ensure periodic updation of KYC. For low-risk individual customers where periodic KYC is pending, transactions may be permitted provided the update is finalized by the earlier of one year from the due date or the finalized cut-off of June 30, 2026. Lastly, NBFCs must send at least three advance notices (including one intimation by letter) before the KYC due date and three reminders (including one reminder by letter) if KYC remains incomplete, clearly outlining the process, escalation matrix, and consequences.

The Directions apply to a wide spectrum of NBFCs and require the board to adopt comprehensive, board-approved credit policies covering digital lending (including arrangements with lending service providers), lending against gold and silver collateral, microfinance lending, project finance, housing finance, and demand or call loans. to Credit Information Companies and the Reserve Bank.

The framework explicitly regulates Default Loss Guarantee (“DLG”) arrangements, permitting such structures only under explicit contractual arrangements, subject to a quantitative cap of 5% of the specified loan portfolio, and without substituting sound credit appraisal standards. The Directions further prescribe prudential caps and safeguards across credit products, including loan-to-value (“LTV”) ceilings of 85%, 80% and 75% for consumption loans against gold and silver collateral depending on ticket size, a ceiling of 50% of household monthly income on aggregate repayment obligations for microfinance borrowers, a cap of ₹1 crore per borrower on IPO financing, and an LTV cap of 50% for loans against listed shares for eligible NBFCs.

In the context of capital markets, Partial Credit Enhancement (“PCE”) exposure by an NBFC is capped at 50% of a bond issue, with aggregate PCE exposure limited to 20% of Tier I capital, and subject to minimum pre-enhancement credit ratings. Collectively, these Directions are aimed at ensuring prudent risk management, quantitative discipline through explicit caps, enhanced transparency and consumer protection, and the orderly growth of NBFC credit within the Indian financial system.

Reserve Bank of India (Non-Banking Financial Companies – Securitisation Transactions) Directions, 2025

Securitisation involves transactions where credit risk in assets are redistributed by repackaging them into tradeable securities with different risk profiles which may give investors of various classes access to exposures which they otherwise might be unable to access directly. While complicated and opaque securitisation structures could be undesirable from the point of view of financial stability, prudentially structured securitisation transactions can be an important facilitator in a well-functioning financial market in that it improves risk distribution and liquidity of lenders in originating fresh loan exposures.

The RBI, to regulate the issuance of securitisations, introduced the STA Directions to be applicable to all Scheduled Commercial Banks (including Small Finance Banks but excluding Regional Rural Banks), all All-India Term Financial Institution and all NBFCs (including HFCs). These directions enunciated the assets which were eligible for securitisation and provided for skin-in-the-game requirements by way of specifying Minimum Retention Requirement(s) (“MRR”) for any lender who transfers from its balance sheet a single asset or a pool of assets to a Special Purpose Entity (“SPE”) as a part of a securitisation transaction and would include other entities of the consolidated group to which the lender belongs.

Moreover, in order to ameliorate the stress being faced by smaller non-bank finance companies (NBFCs) and micro-finance institutions

Our Company, (formerly known as KKR Capital Markets India Private Limited), Bee Finance Limited, erstwhile InCred Financial Services Limited (“Pre-demerger IFSL”) and KKR India Financial Services Limited (now known as “InCred Financial Services Limited” or “IFSL”) filed a composite scheme of amalgamation and arrangement under Section 230 to 232 of the Companies Act, 2013 (“Composite Scheme of Arrangement”) before the National Company Law Tribunal, Mumbai. Under this Composite Scheme of Arrangement, (i) Bee Finance Limited, the holding company of Pre-demerger IFSL merged into our Company, and the resulting company was renamed as InCred Holdings Limited and (ii) pursuant to the merger, the Pre-demerger IFSL was demerged into IFSL (formerly known as KKR India Financial Services Limited) on a going concern basis. Further, pursuant to the Composite Scheme of Arrangement, the demerged undertaking including Retail NBFC Business (as defined in the Composite Scheme of Arrangement) of Pre-demerger IFSL is merged with IFSL. The remaining NBFC business of unsecured loans continued to be carried out by Pre-demerger IFSL (now known as InCred Prime Finance Private Limited). The Composite Scheme of Arrangement was approved by the Hon’ble National Company Law Tribunal (“NCLT”), Mumbai Bench on May 6, 2022, and the certified true copy of order was received on June 6, 2022. The ‘Appointed Date’ for the Composite Scheme of Arrangement is April 1, 2022. The Composite Scheme of Arrangement was made effective by the Board of Directors of the Company, InCred Prime Finance Private Limited and IFSL at their meetings held on July 26, 2022, effective from July 26, 2022, and the relevant filings were done with the Registrar of Companies, Maharashtra at Mumbai on July 26, 2022.

The objective of the Composite Scheme of Arrangement was to consolidate the non-banking financing business related to retail and SME lending and ancillary financing activities undertaken by Pre-demerger IFSL with the non-banking financing business of IFSL, our wholly owned subsidiary to achieve greater economies of scale, operational rationalisation and organisational efficiency, wider market reach and customer base, pooling of knowledge and expertise and reduce redundant cost. The Composite Scheme of Arrangement was intended to aid future growth of the financing business of pre-demerger IFSL by leveraging on the strength and capabilities of IFSL due to creation of single unified entity with a wider and stronger capital and asset base, having greater capacity for conducting its operations more effectively and competitively. Bee Finance Limited merged into our Company to streamline the post Composite Scheme of Arrangement shareholding structure by reducing the number of layers of shareholding to optimise the value to the shareholders.

Pursuant to and in accordance with the Composite Scheme of Arrangement, compulsorily convertible preference shares were allotted as per the below mentioned share exchange/share entitlement ratio:

- For the merger: 4,500 (Four thousand and five hundred) fully paid-up CCPS of the Company of ₹ 10 each for every 1 (One) share of Bee Finance Limited of USD 1 (One US Dollar) each fully paid up
- For the demerger: 194 (One Hundred and Ninety Four) fully paid up CCPS of the Company of ₹ 10 each for every 100 (One Hundred) fully paid up equity shares of ₹ 10 each and for every 100 (One Hundred) fully paid up convertible preference shares (which is convertible into equity shares in the ratio of 1:1 as per existing terms) of ₹ 10 each of Pre-demerger IFSL.

The conversion ratio of shares in consideration of the Composite Scheme of Arrangement have been determined on basis of the valuation report dated September 3, 2021 (“Composite Scheme of Arrangement Valuation Report”) issued by CA Vikrant Jain, registered valuer. ## RECONCILIATION OF GAAP TO NON-GAAP INFORMATION

Non-GAAP and Operational Measures

This section includes certain Non-GAAP financial measures and other statistical relating to our operations and financial performance (together, “Non-GAAP Measures” and each a “Non-GAAP Measure”) and certain operational information, as presented below.

These Non-GAAP and operational measures are not required by or presented in accordance with Ind AS. Furthermore, these Non-GAAP Measures and operational measures are not a measurement of our financial performance or liquidity under Ind AS and should not be considered in isolation or construed as an alternative to cash flows, profit for the period / years or any other measure of financial or operational performance or as an indicator of our operating performance, liquidity, profitability or cash flows generated by operating, investing or financing activities derived in accordance with Ind AS. In addition, these Non-GAAP Measures and operational measures are not standardised terms, hence a direct comparison of these Non-GAAP Measures and operational measures between companies may not be possible. Other companies may calculate these Non-GAAP Measures and operational measures differently from us, limiting their usefulness as a comparative measure. Although such Non-GAAP Measures and operational measures are not a measure of performance calculated in accordance with applicable accounting standards, we believe that they are useful to an investor in evaluating us as they are widely used measures to evaluate a company’s operating performance. For further information, see “Risk Factor - 73. We track certain operational metrics and non-generally accepted accounting principles measures with internal systems and tools. Certain of our operational metrics are subject to inherent challenges in measurement and any real or perceived inaccuracies in such metrics may adversely affect our business and reputation” on page 66.
