The synergies that exist in terms of services and resources can be put to the best advantage of all stakeholders.

Re: Fairness opinion on the proposed swap ratios as recommended by the Independent Valuer for the respective mergers of Trinetra Cement Limited ("TCL") and Trishul Concrete Products Limited ("TCPL") into India Cements Limited ("India Cements" or "ICL" or "you" or "Company")

Dear Sirs,

We refer to engagement letter dated 24 February 2014 with Ernst & Young Merchant Banking Services Private Limited (hereinafter referred to as "EY" or "EYMBSP"), wherein ICL has requested us to provide fairness opinion on the proposed swap ratios recommended by RGN Price & Co. ("Independent Valuer" or "Valuer") for the respective merger of TCL and TCPL into ICL ("Transactions").

SCOPE AND PURPOSE OF THIS REPORT

We understand that the Board of Directors of ICL is proposing to merge TCL and TCPL respectively into India Cements. This merger is sought to be achieved by a composite scheme of arrangement and amalgamation under Sections 391 to 394 of the Companies Act, 1956 ("Act") and any other applicable provisions of the Act (hereinafter referred to as the "Merger Scheme").

We understand from the management that:

- TCL is a subsidiary of ICL Financial Services Limited which is a wholly owned subsidiary of ICL. ICL Financial Services Ltd holds 61.22 % stake in TCL. On account of the merger, equity shareholders of TCL (other than ICL Financial Services) would be issued equity shares of India Cements. As a part of the merger scheme, the shares held by ICL Financial Services (a wholly owned subsidiary of ICL) in TCL shall stand cancelled.
- TCPL is a subsidiary of ICL Financial Services Limited. ICL Financial Services Limited and another wholly subsidiary of ICL hold 88.37% and 0.09% stake respectively, in TCPL. We understand that on a fully diluted basis (on account of convertible debentures held by ICL Financial Services in TCPL) the effective shareholding on ICL in TCPL is ~97.41%. On account of the merger, equity shareholders of TCPL (other than ICL subsidiaries mentioned above) would be issued equity shares of India Cements. As a part of the merger scheme, the shares held by subsidiaries of ICL in TCPL shall stand cancelled.

- The proposed Appointed Date for both the Transactions is 1 January 2014.

ICL, TCL and TCPL have appointed RGN Price & Co. to recommend a fair and equitable equity share swap ratio for the Transactions mentioned above.

In this connection, the Management of ICL has engaged EY to issue a fairness opinion on the swap ratios proposed by the Independent Valuer for the Transactions, for the consideration of Board of Directors of ICL. Our scope of work includes commenting only on the fairness of the equity share swap ratio recommended by the Valuer. We are not attempting to review the absolute equity value of the Companies but only the swap ratio based on their comparative values. Further, we are also not commenting on the fairness or economic rationale of the Merger per se or the valuation methods used by the Valuer.

This Fairness opinion report is our deliverable for the same.

This report is subject to the scope, assumptions, exclusions, limitations and disclaimers detailed hereinafter. As such the report is to be read in totality, not in parts and in conjunction with the relevant documents referred to herein. This report has been issued only for the purpose of facilitating the respective merger of TCL and TCPL into India Cements and should not be used for any other purpose.

APPROACH – BASIS OF MERGER

Arriving at the fair basis for the Transactions would require determining the fair value of the equity shares of TCL and TCPL in terms of the fair value of the equity shares of ICL.

There are several commonly used and accepted methods for determining the fair value of the equity shares of a company/business. The application of any particular method of valuation depends on the purpose for which the valuation is done. While we have reviewed the workings of the Independent Valuer, we have also done our own analysis as well.

It should be understood that the valuation of any company or its assets is inherently subjective and is subject to certain uncertainties and contingencies, all of which are difficult to predict and are beyond our control. In performing our analysis, we made assumptions with respect to industry performance and general business and economic conditions, many of which are beyond the control of the Companies. In addition, this valuation will fluctuate with changes in prevailing market conditions, the conditions and prospects, financial and otherwise, of the Companies, and other factors which generally influence the valuation of companies and their assets.

The application of any particular method of valuation depends on the purpose for which the valuation is done. Although different values may exist for different purposes, it cannot be too strongly emphasized that a valuer can only arrive at one value for one purpose. Our choice of methodology of valuation has been arrived at using usual and conventional methodologies adopted for transactions of a similar nature and our reasonable judgment, in an independent and bona fide manner based on our previous experience of assignments of a similar nature.

We have considered the following methods:

Market Price method

The market price of an equity share as quoted on a stock exchange is normally considered as the fair value of the equity shares of that company where such quotations are arising from the shares being regularly and freely traded in, subject to the element of speculative support that may be inbuilt in the value of the shares. But there could be situations where the value of the share as quoted on the stock market would not be regarded as a proper index of the fair value of the share especially where the market values are fluctuating in a volatile capital market. Further, in the case of a merger/demerger, where there is a question of evaluating the shares of one company against those of another, the volume of transactions and the number of shares available for trading on the stock exchange over a reasonable period would have to be of a comparable standard.

In the present case, the shares of ICL are listed on BSE and NSE and there are regular transactions in its equity shares. The shares of TCL are listed on BSE however there are no regular transactions in its equity shares. The shares of TCPL are not listed. In these cases, the volume weighted average share price of ICL over reasonable periods, as deemed appropriate for the purpose of our valuation analysis, has been considered for determining the value of ICL under the market price methodology.

Comparable Companies' Multiple (CCM) method

Under this method, value of the equity shares of a company is arrived at by using multiples derived from valuations of comparable companies, as manifest through stock market valuations of listed companies. This valuation is based on the principle that market valuations, taking place between informed buyers and informed sellers, incorporate all factors relevant to valuation. Relevant multiples need to be chosen carefully and adjusted for differences between the circumstances.

We have considered the appropriate operating profitability / income / capacity based valuation multiples of comparable listed companies for the purpose of our valuation analysis. To arrive at the total value available to the equity shareholders of each of the Companies, the values arrived above under the CCM method for the Companies are adjusted for, inter-alia, the value of loans, cash, surplus / non-operating assets/liabilities as deemed appropriate for the purpose of our valuation analysis. The total value for equity shareholders is then divided by the current number of equity shares of the respective companies in order to work out the value per equity share of the Companies.

Net Asset Value (NAV) Methodology

The asset based valuation technique is based on the value of the underlying net assets of the business, either on a book value basis or realizable value basis or replacement cost basis. This valuation approach is mainly used in case where the firm is to be liquidated i.e. it does not meet the "going concern" criteria or in case where the assets dominate earnings capability. A Scheme of Arrangement would normally be proceeded with, on the assumption that the companies/businesses merged/demerged as going concerns and an actual realization of the operating assets is not contemplated. The operating assets have therefore been considered at their book values. In such a going concern scenario the relative earning power is of importance to the basis of merger/demerger, with the values arrived at on the net asset basis being of limited relevance.

To estimate the net asset value of the equity shares of ICL, TCL and TCPL at book value, appropriate adjustments have been made to the value of their investments to reflect fair value of the investment, with due consideration to the materiality concept and also considering the availability of information.

Discounted Cash Flows (DCF) Method

Under the DCF method, the projected free cash flows from business operations are discounted at the weighted average cost of capital. The sum of the discounted value of such free cash flows is the value of the business.

Using the DCF analysis involves determining the following:

Estimating future free cash flows:

Free cash flows are the cash flows expected to be generated by the company that are available to all providers of the company's capital- both debt and equity.

Appropriate discount rate to be applied to cash flows i.e. the cost of capital.

This discount rate, which is applied to the free cash flows, should reflect the opportunity cost to all the capital providers (namely shareholders and creditors), weighted by their relative contribution to the total capital of the company. The opportunity cost to the capital provider equals the rate of return the capital provider expects to earn on other investments of equivalent risk.

We have not used the DCF method in the current analysis as the forecasts were not readily available with management of the Companies.

INDEPENDENT VALUER'S RECOMMENDATION

It has been proposed by the Independent Valuer

- that upon the merger of TCL into ICL, 2 equity shares (of ₹ 10/- each fully paid up) of ICL would be issued in lieu of every 9 equity shares (of ₹ 10 each fully paid up) held by the equity shareholders of TCL.
- that upon the merger of TCPL into ICL, 7 equity shares (of ₹ 10/- each fully paid up) of ICL would be issued in lieu of every 3 equity shares (of ₹ 10 each fully paid up) held by the equity shareholders of TCPL.

OUR COMMENT ON INDEPENDENT VALUER'S RECOMMENDATION

The fair basis of merger of TCL and TCPL into ICL would have to be determined after taking into consideration all the factors and methodologies mentioned hereinabove. It is however important to note that in providing a fairness opinion, we are not attempting to review the absolute equity value of the Companies but the swap ratio based on their comparative values.

The fairness opinion has been prepared based on the Independent Valuer's report, our relative analysis under various methods, various qualitative factors relevant to each company/business and the business dynamics and growth potentials of the businesses of the Companies, having regard to information base, management representations and perceptions, key underlying assumptions and limitations.

Further, as informed to us, there would be no change in the share capital and/or the shareholding pattern of the Companies till the Scheme becomes effective.

In the ultimate analysis, analysis/review will have to be tempered by the exercise of judicious discretion and judgment taking into account all the relevant factors. There will always be several factors, e.g. quality and integrity of the management, present and prospective competition, yield on comparable securities and market sentiment, etc. which are not evident from the face of the balance sheets but which will strongly influence the worth of a share. This concept is also recognized in judicial decisions. For example, Viscount Simon Bd in Gold Coast Selection Trust Ltd. vs. Humphrey reported in 30 TC 209 (House of Lords) and quoted with approval by the Supreme Court of India in the case reported in 176 ITR 417 as under:

"If the asset takes the form of fully paid shares, the valuation will take into account not only the terms of the agreement but a number of other factors, such as prospective yield, marketability, the general outlook for the type of business of the company which has allotted the shares, the result of a contemporary prospectus offering similar shares for subscription, the capital position of the company, so forth. There may also be an element of value in the fact that the holding of the shares gives control of the company. If the asset is difficult to value, but is nonetheless of a money value, the best valuation possible must be made. Valuation is an art, not an exact science. Mathematical certainty is not demanded, nor indeed is it possible."

In the light of the above and on a consideration of all the relevant factors and circumstances, we believe that the proposed swap ratio of

- 2 equity shares of ICL of ₹ 10/- each fully paid up, in lieu of every 9 equity shares of TCL of ₹ 10/- each fully paid up for the proposed merger of the TCL into ICL, in our opinion, is fair.
- 7 equity shares of ICL of ₹ 10/- each fully paid up, in lieu of every 3 equity shares of TCPL of ₹ 10/- each fully paid up for the proposed merger of the TCPL into ICL, in our opinion, is fair.

It should be noted that we have examined only the fairness of the equity share swap ratio for the shareholders and not examined any other matter including fairness or economic rationale of the merger per se or accounting and tax matters involved in the proposed merger exercise.
