Pingar Signs Agreement with CMC Limited to Establish First Indian Partnership

Solutions to manage unstructured data expected to improve business process optimization, quality and collaboration for enterprises

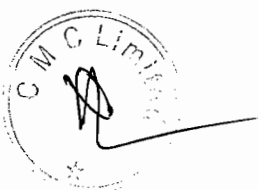

BANGALORE – February 10, 2012 – Pingar, a leading provider of unstructured data management solutions, today announced the expansion of its global partner network with the signing of an agreement with CMC Limited at the “Leap Forward: Transforming Information: Transforming Business.” event in Bangalore, India. The agreement, Pingar’s first partnership in India, will provide CMC and its enterprise clients with an increased ability to manage unstructured data to gain efficiency and improve the quality of business process, collaboration and content management programs.

R. Ramanan, CEO and Managing Director of CMC says; “Our client base demands that we provide technology for continuous improvements to business operations. Pingar’s ability to integrate with existing enterprise systems and extend their capabilities to gain efficiencies and strategic knowledge from unstructured data represents a rich area of value to CMC customers.”

The CMC agreement further validates the global enterprise need for unstructured data management solutions that integrate with existing content and database management systems. The agreement between the two companies represents an efficient reseller channel for Pingar, providing access to a vast network of clients in a number of regions worldwide in industries including: banking and financial services, insurance, government, manufacturing, energy resources and utilities, transportation, shipping, high tech and telecom, retail and fast moving consumer goods, defense and space, and education and training.

Peter Wren Hilton, CEO of Pingar says “CMC’s culture of high levels of service delivery and innovative solutions fits with Pingar’s emphasis on pioneering research and development. Their customer base aligns with our strategy to establish an early global footprint with feet on the ground in each major region.”

Pingar now holds significant reseller contracts in Asia, Australasia, Europe, India, and the United States.
