Spirit AeroSystems Recognizes Infosys as a Platinum Supplier

Infosys is the only services partner selected for excellence in providing value added engineering solutions and services

Wichita, Kan. and Bangalore, India, July 17, 2012 – Spirit AeroSystems, one of the world's largest independent suppliers of commercial airplane assemblies and components, has recognized Infosys, a global leader in consulting and technology, as one of its 2011 Platinum Suppliers.

The award recognizes Infosys for its ability to help Spirit AeroSystems rapidly innovate and accelerate the time to market through world-class engineering services. Spirit AeroSystems partners with Infosys for a wide range of engineering services including design verification and validation, computer-aided engineering, knowledge based engineering, and overall engineering support.

"Our long-term partnership with Infosys has provided Spirit the ability to deliver multiple aircraft designs for different original equipment manufacturers, or OEMs, at the same time," said José Rivera, senior manager, global engineering services at Spirit AeroSystems."

Throughout the duration of the partnership, Infosys has helped Spirit AeroSystems reduce product development cycle time and time to market through productivity improvements from smarter automated engineering initiatives.

"One of the foremost challenges faced by aerospace companies is effectively managing delivery on multiple programs, on time and within budget," said Sanjay Jalona, senior vice president of high-tech and manufacturing at Infosys. "Infosys is delighted to have partnered with Spirit AeroSystems to contribute toward this goal."
