Jubilant signs a USD 33 million CRAMS contract with a US Life Sciences Company

Noida (UP) India, August 30, 2010

Jubilant Organosys Ltd, an integrated pharmaceutical industry player and the largest Custom Research and Manufacturing Services Company in India, today announced that it has signed a long term contract in CRAMS business with a US Life Sciences company. The total contract value is expected at US$ 33 mn for the initial term of four and a half years and the contract will be effective from August 2010. At the end of the initial term, Jubilant will have the first right of refusal for continuing the contract.

The product under this contract is based on an in-house developed technology, integrated with captively produced raw material resulting in competitive advantage both in terms of cost of production and capital investment.

The management is pleased to announce another long term CRAMS contract with a US Life Sciences Company. We expect this trend to strengthen further and going forward continue to see strong traction in the CRAMS business and expect to sign few more contracts during the year which will further drive the momentum in revenues and profitability.
